BENTON, KY., APRIL 23.

The Murray Ledger says: Samuel Dawson, a leading farmer of Trigg county, has announced as a democratic candidate for lieutenant governor. He is a member of the alliance and expects to receive the solid support of this element of his party.

The con. con. has adjourned and still the Courier-Journal is not happy. The Frankfort people, having read their title clear to future possession of the capital, are in good spirits and will probably roll up a big vote for the new constitution by way of reciprocity.

An old gentleman in Crittenden county has eighteen children now living—number 18 having made its appearance a few days ago. If he is as zealous in complying with the balance of the scriptures as in fulfilling the multiplication clause no one can doubt his title to the skyward mansions.

PADUCAH lost a valuable citizen last week by the death of Hon. Meyer Weil. Mr. Weil was a good and true man. He filled many official positions with credit to himself, his city and county, and made legions of friends, all over the state, who admired him for his sterling honesty and fidelity to duty in every emergency of life.

"Jones of Binghampton," lieutenant governor and noted as a manufacturer of scales, is said to be a probable democratic candidate for governor of New York. Mr. Jones is a well balanced man. In politics he tips the beam about right and stands on a good platform. He will probably get the nomination as he always "pays the freight."

It is to be devoutly wished that the first congressional district will solidly support John D. Shaw, of Trigg county, for clerk of the court of appeals. Mr. Shaw is thoroughly qualified for the position. He has had a large experience as a prothonotary and is surely worthy of the united instructions of the counties composing the Gibraltar district. Marshall, we believe, will not refuse to speak out for this estimable citizen of our neighbor, Trigg, and we hope other counties will cheerfully give him a lift.

ELD. J. W. HOLSAPPLE, of this place, has issued the prospectus of the "South Kentucky Christian," a religious weekly which will make its appearance on or about June 1. The prospectus states that the headquarters of the paper "will be in the town or city in South Kentucky offering the best inducements and facilities for the accomplishment of the end in view." The Tribune hopes that the new venture will succeed beyond the most sanguine expectations of its promoter.

The state board of equalization adjourned last week. Over $26,000,000 added to the valuations of the last tax year, making a total taxable valuation of the state nearly $536,000,000. The following increase and deductions were made on the assessed valuation of property in the following counties: Caldwell, 2 per cent added on land and personality; Calloway, 10 per cent deducted on town lots; Carlisle, 3 per cent added on land; Fulton, 4 per cent added on land and personality; Graves, 3 per cent added on land and personality, and 5 per cent on town lots; Hickman, 3 per cent on town lots added; Lyon, 5 per cent added on land and personality; Madison, 10 per cent added on land and town lots; Trigg, 3 per cent on town lots; Marshall, no change; no change in the other counties.

The sub-treasury plan would, in the opinion of the Vicksburg Commercial-Herald, make a gigantic pawn-shop of the government.

As the printing of the new constitution was let to the highest bidder, the state ought to get a good job of work.—Louisville Post.

HON. S. B. DISMAN, Mayor of Barbourville, is the latest announced candidate for the democratic nomination for attorney general.

P. T. BARNUM, the great showman, is dead, at the age of eighty years. His success in the show business exceeded that of any man that ever lived.

Dawson Horner: A Miss Short, of Marshall county, has just finished a quilt containing 6,666 pieces. There is evidently nothing short about her, but her name.

A Princeton Banner correspondent says: "Dr. Sullivan is burning a well in his yard."—Murray Ledger. The doctor should see that it does not "die a burning."

At the city election, in Mayfield, J. W. Hocker was elected judge and W. J. Webb, city attorney. Charles McNutt, as usual, captured the marshalship, fairly mopping up the earth with his competitors.

The oft recurring report, that the enemies of postmaster Hugh Mulholland, of Paducah, are after his official scalp, is once more in circulation. Col. Mulholland has good staying qualities. His enemies may begin the fight as soon as they wish. He will be with them when it ends. Somebody may get scalped, once the skirmish is on, but it will not be Mulholland. The Tribune is betting high that his capillary attachments will stay with him. When the other fellows start after him they had better leave their own scalps at home.

Dr. CLARDY does not seem to be gaining much strength at present, over the state in his canvass for gubernatorial honors. The alliance people have almost dropped him because he is a candidate, subject to the action of the democratic party. He has lost strength among the organization democrats because of his continual mutterings against the action of the state central committee. So it can be seen, he had as well be between the devil and the deep blue sea, as between the alliance force and the great democratic party. Before he can be elected governor, he will learn how hard it is to serve two masters.

The grand lodge of knights of honor elected the following officers: grand dictator, Rev. A. J. Hess, Columbus; grand vice dictator, O. W. Short, Greenville; grand assistant dictator, W. E. Bell, Lawrenceburg; grand reporter, J. A. Demaree, Louisville; grand treasurer, T. E. Dennis, Louisville; grand chaplain, Andrew Offutt, Lebanon; grand guide, Wm. Hall, Mayfield; grand guard, Apollon Dillon, Hickman; grand sentinel, Thomas Cheek, Louisville; Dr. H. C. Miller, of Louisville, was recommended for appointment for state medical examiner; grand trustees, S. M. Bernard, Louisville; A. Caldwell, Louisville; E. G. Boone, Paducah.

There's Nothing in a Name. It is said the blackest man in Glynn county, Ga., is named Brown, the tallest man is named Lowe and the largest man Small.

AS TO A NEW PARTY.

We make the following extract from a long and able article in the Farmers' Home Journal, written by Judge Henry F. Turner, of Henderson. We commend it to the thoughtful attention of our alliance readers:

"All power in this country is in the people. It is the people who constitute the 'old parties' and if party platforms have been made that don't suit them, or men have been nominated and elected to office who have made bad laws, it is their fault; it is because they have failed to take the proper interest in political matters. They have let a few manage and control the party conventions and make the nominations of unworthy candidates for office when it was in their power to prevent it. Now that the evil has become so great that it can be borne no longer, people rise in their might and say, 'We will not be managed by a few men, but we will manage ourselves.'" home at their plows, or in their work shops on the days when their party conventions are to be held, but turn out in numbers, according to their strength. Let them go to the conventions in squads of fives, tens and one hundred if necessary, and go early, with the determination that they will devote one day to the service of themselves and their country, and they can have the party platform to suit themselves, they can nominate for office men honest and true, identified with them in principle and interest, and then go to the polls on election day and vote and they will elect them.

If the people will do this they will give the country all the relief that is wanted. If they don't do it they are at fault, and ought not to say that the "abylocks" control the "old parties." This inaction and "staying at home" on the part of the masses, is what has brought ruin on the country and it will continue whether they have old or new parties.

"Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," and it is now the duty of every man in this country, who loves freedom and who would have this government administered by men in interest and sympathy with the people, to turn out and see that such are nominated for office, that the true principles of relief are set forth in the platforms of the "old parties," and that dishonest politicians and those who manipulate conventions so as to defeat the will of the people, should be foiled in their schemes."

Rheumatism is like sand in the bearings of machinery. Sarsaparilla is the great lubricant which cures the disease.

Makes the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes that tired feeling, creates an appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, gives great bodily, nerve, mental and digestive strength.

Fagged Out
"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. There is nothing like it." R. C. BRIGGS, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

"I derived very much benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took for general debility. It built me right up, and gave me an excellent appetite." ED. JENKINS, Mt. Savage, Md. N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy anything else instead. Insist upon having
