FULTON, KY., FRIDAY

ENING, JULY 15, 1910.

The Local Option League.

Matter in this department published under auspices of the committee having the conduct of the Local Option campaign in charge.

LOCAL OPTION CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE:

We, the undersigned committee forty men, acting upon the solicitation of the friends of the temperance cause, hereby consent to act as the campaign committee for the city of Fulton, in the campaign against the return of the open saloon to this city, the election to be held July 21, '10. In assuming this task we are actuated by no other motive except to see the cause of temperance prevail, believing it is for the best interests of our city and country to keep the saloons out. We, therefore, call upon all home - loving, God - fearing, law-abiding citizens, regardless of politics, religion, or color, to stand with us in

We have opened up headquarters on the second floor of the City National Bank Building, where we shall be glad to have all of the friends of the temperance cause call at any time, and advise with us concerning any phase of the campaign:

Joe Browder, Boyd Bennett, R. T. Rudd, W. K. Hall, P. H. Weaks, D. W. Hughes, R. E. Stilley, Thomas Mercer, J. J. Owen, G. L. Majors, J. C. Cheek, J. R. Luten, T. H. Irby, E. Cosgrove, R. N. Phipps, Horace Luten, M. P. McDowell, U. H. Scott, I. H. Reed, R. H. Wade, Ed Webb, M. F. Demyer, J. A. Underwood, M. L. Farmer, H. F. Oliver, J. T. Stubblefield, W. P. Murrell, J. T. Bard, W. P. To the Voters of Fulton.

In as much as we are not allowed to vote on the saloon question we in his power to bring the saloon elewant to appeal to those who do vote against the open saloon, you may say it would be better for the town, and we think that is a mistake, but we and other officers have been unseatdo know it would be worse for us. ed, and the state is in possession of There is not one-tenth as much row- the town. dvism and trouble in the country without the saloons as with them. And those of us who have tenants don't have near the trouble with our men we would have if they could get all the scenes of that city. the whisky they want. Then too our wives and children can go to town not if you had open saloons. But of the land. May God help us to no one will deny for one moment that face of the earth. strong drink degrades, destroys and you might say they can let it alone and it won't bother them. That is the very thing the whisky folks don't want, you oculd not run 10 or 12 saloons in Fulton without the country informed in glowing terms of the trade, so we appeal to you who have frineds in the country to look over the list of 200 or more names or more have been published and see if you friend to you, then put it this way, can't find one or omre who is a true "will I go back on my friend and vote an evil on him to please some one who has never done me a favor and never will."

We have about 100 more names to petitions against the saloon, that have not been published and we could get twice as many more. e erect to have the whole list published later. Now friends we beg you in of all that is good stand by us in this thing. We have been building churches, school houses and homes and spending our omney to keep them now please don't bring something in to tear all these down. You know the saloon stands for the very opposite of the church, school home. We have been solicited by the many signers of these petitions to make this appeal, so this is equal to the voice from at least 300 home. Will you heed, will you help

Committee.

So we have it now that the whiskey element of this and other states, and that element of this city, are out in open excuse and defense of the law? lessness of the mob that lynched the young officer of the law in Newark, down and out and they know it. They even cite to us a long editorial from the Courier-Journal, the whiskey organ of this state, in defense of the action of the mob, and trying to lay that 'dastardly the anti-saloon league of ast to what ends the whiskey this country will go is

The Work of Mr. Story.

In last night's Leader, on the liqour page of that paper, we were work of Mr. Story at the Vendome Opera House neight before last. Now it occurs that we have the facts in that ease and here they are:

There were about 130 people out to hear Mr. Story.

About 10 of these were from Cairo and Paducah, (saloon keepers, etc.) About 50 were from Tennessee. About 12 or 15 were negroes. Some 20 of these were local op-

Short Range.

We would no go before the judgment throne of God with the stain of a saloon vote on our hands for all this world's goods. And that is the way the best people in this city feel.

WANTED—We are told that the liquor interests of this city, and those of this country brought in here, are sadly in need of enthusiasm. With all their imported oratory, and the liquor talent, and the call they have sent out for reinforcements from Cai ro and Paducah, they are "down in Atherton, mayor, resigned his office the mouth." What Wil They Do Next?

What do you supose will be the next step the local optionists will take in this fight which the yare vainly waging?

First they have said that the ne gro who is not going to vote as they would have him vote should be disfranchised; next they run out of town a decent, law abiding, colored school beasher who was brought here for the purpose of explaining to his own nace the real benefits of high license as opposed to the present rule of lo-

These are a pretty lot of men to be talking of "law and order," now arn't they, these men who send a delegation to a peacable black man whose errand is one of basiness and who was neither troublesome or imprudent for the puropse of intimidating him so that he leaves the city for fear of his own life. This colored man was a graduate of Howard University, of Washington, and while his skin wa sblack, was intelligent and just the man to teel his own people things which white men might not know how to convey to tehir minds as well as he.

But they ran him out of town, these "law and order" men, just like the bown, or the old time white cappers. Down at Reelfoot Lake Capt. Ranking and Col. R. Z. Taylor were ordered to leave the lake regions several times and, just as it was told to this unoffending negro school teacher, it was here to defeat their cause. told to them by the Night Riders that their lives were in danger. They stayed on; one was hanged ignominiously, the other escaped after the most harrowing experiences which fall to the lot of man and not actually die. The whole country was sickened by the outburst of plain anar-

And now a species of this anarchy erops out in Fulton. Are the people of town going to uphold such actions at the polls on the 31st? Most emphatically not, That was the last straw. Itspr and to the gaze of all their true colors, made unmistakable t their's is the red flag of anarchy and of fanaticism. The local option eause wil hot get fifteen negro votes on the 21st and it ought not to get Neither ought it to get five white votes. Because this man's skin was black is no reason why such an act of lawlessness should not have its effect mon us of white color also. The only reason these red shirt local optionists don't warn high license workers of all classes to leave town under penalty of death is because they dont' dare. The ywould if htey dared do

Its high time to put a stop to them and their unscrupulous methods and underhand work. The climax will culminate next week and the voters of the polls, to well to be disputed. Fulton are going to wipe these fanatice off the face of the earth by an overwhelming majority for high hi-

Pertinent Points.

It is no unusual thing for the local optionists to misquote us deliberately in their department of the Leader. We call the attention to this We call the attention to this as illustrating more of their underhand methods of conducting this The spirit of grath is not with them, they would discard truth as a mere matter of detail, regard it lightly. We write one thing, they tell you we write another, aborting just enough of the substance matter of our articles to make it appear that there is no sequence or logic to our argument. Again we tell you that they know nothing of the spirit of Forget your troubles, people of Fulton, long enough to adopt the sanitation precaution which may prevent typhoid in this town this sum-Spread lime liberally, all over the manure piles about your stables, and in the stalls of your stable. Use lime about the other outhouses. Cut the weeds closedown. Clean out your refrigerator frequently and let it air. Boil your milk before using. Be wer yeareful about your drinking water; and above all keep the flies away from oyur food stuffs. government authorities are sending out phampets all over this country urging upen everyone the necesity of adopting measures to eliminate the hens fly. These phamplets tell you, as any good doctor will tell you, that only through the house fly can typhoid be spread. Hence the advice as to lime about outhouses and stables. Plies cannot breed in sunlight; their principle breeding places are about outhouses and in the damp places of your stables, An ounce of prevention is better than a pound of der that typhoid may not find a victim in your ohme.

The local optionists would have the franchised because he is against them in this fight. They first tried to get the vote of both, and, failing in this, they would not allow them to vote atall. Such is the doctrine of prohibition; selfish, unreasonable, preju diced, and wrong. The issue in Fulton is such that the majority of law abiding citizens realize high license to be better for the morals of the town, discarding all other features, than the reign of bootlegism. The hypocrisy and cant of the "pro" will avail them nothing at all,

The local optionists circulated rupors all over town this morning that Mr. Sidney Story had returned to New Orleans and would make no further addresses here in favor of high license. The rumors were, of course false, and started by the local optionists just as they start any and everything of a ridiculous nature to try stand. Quite a goodly number to stem the swelling tide of popularity which the high license cause is gaining day by day. Mr. Story is here Night Riders would run a man out of to stay until July 21st unless, as he hipself expressed it, he is carried give many of their hard earned dolars if he would leave, but their's is a false hope. He's here to stay and

Registration Tells Tale.

The tale the registration of yes erday told was a sad one to the optionists; today there are longer faces than usual in their midst and the spirit of defeat is writ upon their countenances in lines of worry and despair.

141 voters registered in both ward the fact that every known method of intimidation was employed by the local optionists crowded about the them by further serving them notice that their registration qualifications would be probed before County Judge Naylor on the 19th. This move, of course, amounts to nothing at all

The local optionists are a sore lot be. The tale of yesterday's registration is a staggering one to them. It foretells the tale of the 21st, when high license will be triumphant at

More of Their Methods.

The local optionists leaders tried in every way possible all day long it was their belief that the voters were going to vote for high license.

At an early hour yesterday morning they attempted to take possession of both registering booths, the East wanderers but those herein referred Ward registration room and the to do confirm the accuracy of our West Ward registration room. They attempted to take possession bodily efforts of the officers of election that an inducement to amny to bootleg, in themselves. At first they went inside hishing her quoto, most all of whom of the places of registration, a clear violation of the law, placed chairs and that the number thereby ruined for themselves and halted every man wanting to register merely upon their ed on account of the licensed saown perogative. If the man were a "dry" voter he was sent along without questioning; if he were a "wet" voter he was manhauled until he felt like he had a touh of the famous Third Degree.

"It is the intention of the prohibi tionists to take this election whether or not the vote favors high license They are determined to win, by fair means or foul, the latter, means no ways being disliked by them. But the prohibitionists are up against the hardest proposition of all their lives when they think they are going to run away with this election. It will be a fair and square election if it is neces. sary to call out the state militia, and not a single voter is going to be intimidated because he is for high license. Not a single negro voter is going to be bulied or threatened into staying away from the polls. The Business Men's League will protect everyone, and it will also see to it that votes are the only thing that wins the

But take notice of the methods of these would be "law and order" workers. These are the men who are cry-cure; use the prevention now in or- ing out to you that they are "saving" the town! The voter is not hood winked. He knows who is for law and order and who is not red shirted fanaticism and anarchy. And on negro and the poor white man dis- the 21st he'll vote for law and order and the peace and prosperity of Fulton by voting for high license
