Fulton's Steady Growth Is Evenly Balanced

Nothing bespeaks Fulton's steady growth more eloquently than its ideal location, its natural blessings and far reaching benefits. Fulton has three banks and the progressive Building & Loan Association. The deposits of these banks at this season of the year are approximately a million and a half dollars, and the total resources are about two millions. The population of Fulton is conservatively estimated at seven thousand, which shows the per capita wealth in the banks and Building and Loan Association to be more than three hundred dollars, or in other words, more than three hundred dollars for every man, woman and child, both white and colored in the city limits. This will give you some idea of the wealth of Fulton in dollars and cents only.

This money represents the savings of the citizens of the county and territory who patronize these financial institutions and should be considered over and above their investments in real estate, live stock and other property. This money is available at all times along with the Federal reserve, for financing and for the promotion of various enterprises in the city and country. These strong financial institutions are an index to the prosperity and systematic development of the city and trade territory, and indicative of the thrift of the community and countryside.

This community is fairly evenly balanced in every way. No matter from what point of view Fulton is considered it will measure up fully to all expectations, whether it be along financial lines or that of industry, from point of educational advantages, moral tendencies, or from civic beauty, it will not be found wanting, but will prove to be far ahead of many cities its size and equal to some of the larger ones in the great commonwealth of Kentucky. Fulton in her past prosperity has not overlooked the important fact that no matter how prosperous a community may be, its growth can never be maintained nor its prosperity be made permanent unless at the bottom of it all lies a solid foundation of moral and intelligent citizenship, and to that end the community has established parallel to its industrial, commercial and financial achievements a strong and progressive system of educational institutions; places of worship, and a live-up-to policy of social and civic government, based upon moral character and a broad public sentiment.

BUSINESS CHANGE

Guy Farmer, son of Mrs. M. L. Farmer, has purchased the retail business of Hornbeak Bakery Co., and has taken charge of the business. Mr. Farmer is one of Fulton's most popular young business men and we predict for him every success.

Mr. Paul Hornbeak will continue in charge of the wholesale department of the Hornbeak Bakery Company. Clement West, who has been a valuable employee of the company many years, will assist Mr. Hornbeak in conducting the bakery which does a large wholesale business in Fulton and throughout this entire territory.

Mr. Alf Hornbeak, partner of Hornbeak Bakery company, is spending the winter in Florida and will engage in the real estate business while in the Southern State.

LCN N. BROWN BUYS R. C. WHITNELL FARM, WEST OF FULTON

Moss & Bushart, Fulton real estate dealers, closed a deal Jan. 2, for the R. C. Whitnell farm of 194½ acres, three miles west of town, for LCN. N. Brown. In the deal, Mr. Whitney gets the nice dwelling of Mr. Brown's on State Line. His is one of the best improved farms in this vicinity. On the property is a splendid two-story eight-room dwelling with modern improvements; two tenant houses, three tobacco barns, and one of the best stock barns in the country, also outbuildings for all purposes.

This is one of the largest real estate deals made by Moss & Bushart for the new year. They are live wire real estate dealers and have several large deals pending.

Edgewood Cut-Off

Construction of the Edgewood cut-off which has begun as previously stated in this paper, the line will be 166 miles in length, extending in almost a straight line from Edgewood, Ill., to Fulton.

It is not often the case, we are told, that the grades of a railroad can be reduced by shortening the line, yet the new line has been so located and arranged as to reduce the grades from 42 feet to 16 feet per mile and yet save 22 miles in distance, compared with the length of the existing line. Hence it is properly called a cut-off. The curvature will also be reduced from the present maximum of five degrees to two degrees, and all told, there will be a reduction of 2,780 degrees in curvature and 700 feet in rise and fall. These results, we are informed, are made possible by departing widely from the present route, as the new line will parallel the existing one at a distance of about 20 or 25 miles to the east, and opening up a good deal of new territory, and with short branch line construction, it will have access to the extensive coal mining district in Franklin County, Ill., affording marked advantages in the haul to Chicago and other northern points over the routing from this locality over the present line.

Details of the construction features have previously been published. One of the remarkable features about this construction, is three tunnels through rock, one exceeding a mile and a half in length and another upwards of 3,000 feet. Another feature, is that the new line will have no grade crossings with other railroads crossed, and crossings with public highways at grade will be largely avoided.

About twenty-two years ago the existing line was double-tracked, so when the new line is completed, the Illinois Central will have practically a three track road covering 166 miles. Such an arrangement affords an improved route one way for the tonnage trains or fast passenger traffic, and the old route may be retained for service.

Trainloads of dump cars for the construction of this line are arriving, and we feel quite sure that construction will be pushed forward with double-time speed.

FIRE RATE REDUCED

Efficiency of Fire Department in 1924 Leads to Better Rate

The Fulton fire department shows by the annual statement issued that during the year 1924, 76 alarms were answered during the past twelve months and the loss for the year averaged $21,139.

Due to the efficiency of the city fire department the classification of the city has been reduced, which means that a reduction in the fire rates will be assured and also a refund made to the ones who had paid their premiums in advance on the three year plan. It is understood that the reduction will amount to as much as 10 percent on the residential property.

SPLENDID RECORD

In our rounds this week we took occasion to interview Chief of Police Ed Drysdale, and learned a good many things that we didn't know before. A record of every arrest made during his term of office with the amount of fines and costs were neatly kept in a book. In another book a detailed record is kept of every one arrested for bootlegging, the amount of whisky captured and the names of witnesses at its destruction. Another record showed in detail each hobo arrested, the amounts of their fines, etc. In fact, the chief of police of Fulton keeps the most complete set of records we have ever looked at and is to be commended on his efficient work.

We believe that Fulton is as well protected as any city for its size with as few men to do the work, and they all keep their eyes open and alert to their duties. The "Weary Willys" have scented this before they reach town, therefore, few hobos stop here if they can possibly get by. During the month of April, 1924, seventy-six hobos were arrested in Fulton with fines assessed $10.00 and down. At this time Supt. J. E. Rankin of the water works was putting down water mains and conveniently used each of said hobos on the job, with guards furnished by Chief Drysdale, saving the city in labor a large sum of money. In case of any one being arrested who cannot pay their fines they are worked on the streets.

Chief of Police Drysdale is ably assisted in the day time by Police Shelton Hart and at night by Policemen Harve Hart and Fred Dun.

Fulton County Man Arrested

Gilbert Goodman Accused of Complicity in Killing of Policeman

Hickman, Ky.—Gilbert Goodman, who lives eight miles east of Hickman, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff John Wright in connection with the slaying of Will Moss, policeman, who was killed in Union City, Tenn., fifteen miles from here several weeks ago.

Wright arrested L. Brown, negro of Hickman, as a suspect in the slaying and turned him over to the Union City officers. After twelve hours' quizzing the negro is said to have confessed and implicated two white men—Goodman and a man named Elliott, both of this county. The negro confessed, it is said, that the trio were transporting whisky when Moss stepped upon the running board of the car and asked what they had. Elliott fired a bullet through his right ear. Brown said. They put the dead man in the car and carried him to the negro section where they left the body. Brown said they took the officer's pistol, shot it three times and put it down by his body to indicate suicide. They burned the car and overcoat, he said, to hide the blood.

Goodman came here early next morning and bought a new car.

"A GENTLEMAN OF THE EARLY DAYS"

By VICTOR CAVENDER

Once within his scanty hovel, the Jew quickly fell into an old chair; since he felt slightly fatigued from his hasty journey. But he had enjoyed his rest only a moment or two when he suddenly arose, and tiptoeing over to the door, carefully placed his ear at the keyhole. When he had convinced himself that no one was near, he quietly withdrew from the portal. Now he hastily stepped over to the window and drew together the blinds with scarcely little if any noise at all. These precautions taken, he made his way to the middle of the room where he remained standing for several moments in absolute silence.

In this state of death-like stillness he had been for quite a little while when he drew from his coat the precious passport. Carefully and slowly he read it to himself. Again he read it, to be sure that it was named on its face. Again and again he read it, to convince himself that it was for the son of Israel, and for no other. When he had satisfied his anxiously inquisitive mind, he returned the paper to his coat. Having felt of the document from the outside of his pocket, that there might be no mistake as to its being safe and secure, he folded his hands behind his head and stood for several moments thinking. Suddenly, and of somewhat of a surprise to himself, he laughed out aloud, as he dropped his hands to his sides. "Ha! ha! ha! thou, the Administrator of the Office of Passports! and the Representative of a mighty Government! a son of Abraham on this occasion stands thy superior. A young Jew, a poor Jew, a helpless Jew, a miserable looking Jew and a Jew as insignificant as a scrawny worm!—yes, yes. But a dead Jew—ha! ha! ha! ha! never! never! Only a poor Jew seeking a passport. Ah! thou son of Japhet, thou, the offspring of Alaric, a penniless on this day has proved thy better."

"Now for Bremen, now for Bremen, that dear old free city of Bremen."

Up with the bright and early morning, the young Jew, happy in his good fortune, yet conscious of the many difficulties still staring him in the face, soon found himself trodding on his way to that free city which he so anxiously desired to enter. Often, as he moved forward through the country, he found it necessary to stop and to make answer to some question hurled at him by a passer-by.

"How now! how now!" called a big Brandenburg. "Whither goes a Shylock on this beautiful morning?"

"To Bremen, sir! to Bremen, sir!" replied the Jew, "he goeth to Bremen to see his kin."

"Tut-tut-tut—I say kin! He goeth to collect some shekels. That is the purpose for which the Jew goeth."

"No indeed, sir! no indeed, sir!" returned the Jew, "he goeth to visit—"

"Telleth me not! telleth me not!" sternly remarked the "Burger." "With him it is the same old trade, usury, usury, usury! Besides, to enter the city of Bremen a passport is required, and I know he possesseth none."

"O yes he doth, sir! O yes he doth, sir!" and he paid for it in gold, too."

"In gold! In gold!" exclaimed the "Burger."

"Yes sir, in gold!" answered the Jew, somewhat proud.

"And how much did he pay?" inquired the stranger.

"Forty marks, sir! forty marks, sir!" said the Jew bravely.

"That cannot be! that cannot be!"

LOOKING A YEAR AHEAD

What will the year 1926 mean to this town, to this community, to this people? What will be your personal attitude toward the making of a better town, a more prosperous community, a more open hearted people. The efforts of the individual citizen may accomplish something. The cooperation of a collective people will produce notable results. Collective cooperation is only possible where confidence and good will exist, and where there is a determination to utilize this combination to the ultimate good of all. The man who holds a grudge against his neighbor cannot successfully pull in harness with that neighbor so long as that grudge exists. Lose the grudge. The man who disparages and undermines the reputation of another cannot expect the community in general to think well of the assassin of character. Speak gently and use the soft pedal. The man who says "go ahead" cannot expect to keep pace with the hustler who says "come on." Step lively and get there. And one man who says "I will," is worth a hundred of those who say "I can't." This is the time of the year when the hopper of time is filled with new resolutions. But it is more profitable to act than to resolve. Let us make this a year of action, of deeds, and of results. Let us make this more than a collection of individuals. Let us make a community of people with one aim, one ambition, and one great purpose in life, and let us make that purpose the good of man and woman-kind in general and of this community in particular. If we work collectively and earnestly and energetically we will achieve success, but if we labor individually we will accomplish but little. The road of life is long, and stormy, and barriers bar our way. But many hands make light work of the heaviest burdens, and collective might roll the heaviest barriers away. We may each pursue our own chosen vocations, and yet all labor in the common cause of a better and more prosperous town and countryside. Two horses pulling in one direction will get the load there. But when one pulls and the other balks the load stands still. Will 1926 find us a community of loyal pullers, or a divided aggregation of pullers and balkers who accomplish nothing but to stand still? Nineteen twenty-six will tell the story, and you will put the words in the mouth of the teller. What are those words going to be? Will they be loyalty, cohesion, aggressiveness, success? Or will they be disloyalty, suspicion, disintegration, disaster? A year of promise is ahead, but promise never makes good unaided and alone. We each must grasp the opportunities with which nature has provided us, and turn those opportunities to individual and collective weal. To do otherwise will be to stand still while others march on to victory and to success. Shall we stand, or shall we march? You tell.

The days, weeks and years slip away like water in a running stream. Time's great clock never loses a moment. Relentlessly, surely, the moments pass, and our eager hands are not able to detain them. We cannot keep back the flying years, but we can and should keep the blessings they bring. Hold fast to the lessons they have taught. Keep the memory of their joys. Enrich every day of life with the garnered wealth of the days behind.

WHERE IS THE TRUTH?

People who read some of the large city dailies, and especially the Washington dispatches, are becoming somewhat befuddled over the conflicting news from day to day. One correspondent sends out a story that all is peace and harmony between the administration and congress and the same day another writer has them on the brink of an unbridged chasm. It is so with much that we read. It is one thing today, another tomorrow, and the day after neither is correct. Truth occasionally slips in, but we are unable to recognize it when we see it. We never know what to believe. It is becoming a common occurrence for people who think to read a news dispatch and then cast it aside with but one thought—"newspaper bunk." The trouble is with a large proportion of the city population as it is with the managing editors of the big papers—possibly more so. A plain, dignified statement of fact no longer satisfies the public. It wants thrills, excitement, sensations. If there is nothing of a "spicy" nature in a paper the sheet is too tame—not worth reading. Managing editors are up against this modern degeneracy of human nature. They have no choice. It is a case of furnishing what the public demands or quit printing a newspaper. Reporters and correspondents must dish up what the editors require to satisfy the public craving—or hop off the payroll. And reporters and correspondents—and also editors—have appetites that must be appeased. They cannot masticate empty pay envelopes. It is all rather disconcerting to people who respect right and justice, who believe in truth and veracity. The possession of scrambled brains flavored with the spice of life may be very satisfying to some people—even to many of them—but there are a few who dissent? Where is truth? Far in the rear, trying to keep pace with bunk.

BRIEF SHOTS

Some people kick about high prices and then rush in and get the most expensive things they can buy. A correspondent complains that a great many American business men are losing their commercial honor. If it is only commercial it is probably not worth keeping. When a woman sets out to make a name for herself she generally ends by letting the preacher do it. Yes, we've heard a lot about Adam eating the forbidden apple, but never a word of whether he peeled it or took it whole. As positive proof that this country is full of brave men, just scan the list of marriage licenses. If you want to go far on the river of life, just paddle your own canoe. The other fellow's may sink. Requiring women to serve on juries may be all right, but we fear its effect upon the legal profession. Not all lawyers are experts at determining the brand of candy to take into court. The Advertiser is waking up some of the dormant minds in Fulton that needed resurrecting. Some people make their funniest remarks when attempting to be serious. The fellow who doesn't like loafing has probably never tried working. Some men are eternally getting something for nothing. They are henpecked. Female vamps seldom angle these days. They grab. Doctors have again been warning us against the germs that collect on paper money. That ought to be some consolation to the fellow who is busted. The luck of some people isn't back at all. It is merely energy and perseverance regulated by good old horse sense. It isn't wise to drift through life copying other people. The world recognizes the imitation as quickly as it does the original.

EMPLOYEES HIT BY INCOME TAX RULE

WORKERS ON WATER AND TROLLEY COMPANIES MUST PAY.

MANY CASES ON FILE

Government Issues Ruling Touching Income Taxes of Municipally-Owned Utilities Not Serving Governmental Uses.

Washington.—All employees of municipally-owned institutions acting in institutions acting in a proprietary capacity rather than serving governmental purposes, such as water, light and street railway companies, are subject to income tax on their compensation. They will have to pay taxes on their incomes as far back as 1918 and the bureau of internal revenue has notified collectors of internal revenue to compel the filing of returns over those years. The ruling, far-reaching in its application, is based on court decisions in several sections of the country which have held, in effect, that such institutions as were named were competing with private enterprise and should occupy a similar footing with respect to certain taxation features. Officials of the bureau declined to be definite in their application of the ruling which was made by Solicitor Nelson T. Harston, and the problem of enforcement has been left in the hands of internal revenue collectors. There are a dozen or more cases, involving similar questions, pending before the bureau and it was the opinion of officials that final adjudication of these will aid materially in constraining and applying the law. None of the officials knew how many persons would be affected, but the consensus of opinion was that the return to the government will be small even in the aggregate. The collector's ruling made these specific statements: "In deciding whether or not any particular activity in which a state or municipality may be engaged is a governmental function, the attitude of the federal rather than the state authorities should govern. The compensation received for services rendered in connection with a municipally-owned water system is not exempt from income tax." In addition the collector ruled on two other questions along the same line, holding that the manager and employees of a cafeteria conducted in connection with public schools or by school boards, must pay a tax on their compensations. "In general," the opinion added, "the rule that exemptions from taxation are to be strictly construed should be applied and no intendment should be taken in favor of the taxpayer in doubtful cases." This declaration was not construed at the bureau as making the ruling apply to every sort of municipally-owned institution. It was reiterated that the wide divergence of state laws and the manifold methods of handling the city or state-owned services made it probable that hundreds of cases will have to be decided on their merits. As a result of the ruling and the anticipated decision of other similar questions in like fashion, every city or state or other political subdivision operating such quasi-public institutions, it is expected will find it necessary to go through its records and furnish the collector of their respective districts with full information about their employees, present and past. From these, the collectors will be able to trace down the persons who hitherto had filed no returns, believing that they were not subject to the federal income because they were employees of institutions exempt by law. Knowledge of the bureau's ruling came upon a request by Senator Shortridge of California, who sought to obtain from Commissioner Blair reasons for the assessment of taxes on employees of the municipally-owned water and light system of Riverside, Cal. The commissioner's letter to Senator Shortridge resulted in the bureau making public the ruling.

20,000 Men, 14 Trucks, 17 Plows At Work.

New York.—The 11½ inches of snow which covered the metropolis will cost the city $1,500,000 to remove, it was estimated. A rise in temperature caused streets to become deep with slush, which greatly slowed up traffic. During the day the force of the municipal snow shovellers was increased to 20,000 with 140 trucks and 17 snow plows.

Farm For "Mr. Zero."

New York.—Upham J. Ledoux, friend of the jobless, announced that he had accepted an offer of a 125-acre farm in Ulster County, New York, as an unemployed men's community farm. Ledoux said the offer was made to him Christmas Day by the Rev. Charles L. Clist of New Brunswick, N. J., a 69-year-old Congregational minister, who is also a union carpenter and printer.

Fulton Water

Unsurpassed

Sparkles With a Bluish White of Exceptional Quality

The water of a city is one of its most important considerations. In this respect Fulton is probably unexcelled. The supply of its water is not only ample to meet the city's present needs, but the future needs of the city have been anticipated many years. The quality of the water is unsurpassed and sparkles with a bluish white of exceptional purity. Analysis of this water made by the bacteriologist of the Kentucky State Board of Health shows that it is pure—is absolutely free from any organic impurities and the percentage of sodium chloride, sodium sulphate, calcium carbonate, calcium sulphate and magnesium carbonate contained in the Fulton water make it very wholesome for drinking purposes. No diseases like typhoid fever, or others that are caused by impure water, have occurred in Fulton since the city erected and began operating its excellent water works.

The Fulton Water Works represents an investment in the neighborhood of $100,000.00, and is owned by the city. The pumping capacity is 2,786,000 gallons daily; consumption 1,922,302 gallons.

J. E. Rankin is superintendent and a more efficient man could not be found. With the turning lathe installed at the plant, he makes his own piston rods, valve stems, turns up old ones, makes his own rings for pumps and does many other odd and end jobs, saving the city hundreds and hundreds of dollars. In fact, he is a natural born mechanic and well suited for the position he occupies.

The new well completed on January 31st, 1924, has an average capacity of 1,400 gallons found in any city of this class.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL RAILROAD COMPANY

Office of Superintendent

Fulton Ky., Dec. 31, 1924.

To the Patrons of the Illinois Central:

We are having a good deal of live stock struck and killed on our right-of-way each year, by reason of farmers allowing their stock to run at large. I am sure that our patrons are interested in decreasing this waste and are now making a greater effort to cooperate with the railroad in its effort to prevent this unnecessary killing of live stock.

We find that it is the practice of some people to allow stock to run loose during the winter and spring months, which causes a number of stock being killed by our trains. The killing of live stock on the railroad is not only very expensive for the railroads, but results in a needless waste of wealth already produced, and creates a very great hazard to the lives and limbs of our employees and passengers and in many instances, damage to our property. I feel that the friendly relations that exists between our patrons and the railroad, will justify me in soliciting your close cooperation, along this line as well as your influence where possible, with neighbors and friends to keep live stock off of the right-of-way and the tracks of the railroad.

Our engineers are now making stops frequently, to avoid killing stock, and we shall be very grateful for any action taken by our friends with a view of decreasing, if not entirely eliminating this needless waste of wealth already produced. With your full cooperation, we hope to completely eliminate the killing of stock on our right-of-way.

Lesson for January 11

THE JUDGMENT OF THE NATIONS

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 25:31-46.
GOLDEN TEXT—Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me.—Matt. 25:40.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Kindness Pleases.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Christ's Picture of Judgment.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Practical Christianity.

The subject selected for the lesson committee is "The Last Judgment," but this is an error. According to legitimate textual and contextual significance it is the judgment of the living nations which still lies in the future (v. 32). The idea of a general judgment which is of such frequent occurrence in religious literature and teaching is a fundamental error. It is not once found in the Bible, neither the idea which it is intended to convey. Doctor Pentecost most truthfully says, "It is a mischievous habit that has led the Christian world to speak of the judgment as being one great event taking place at the end of the world when all human beings, saints and sinners, Jews and Gentiles, the living and the dead, shall stand up before the great white throne and there be judged. Nothing can be more wide of the Scriptures." The Bible speaks of several judgments, different in respect to the subjects to be judged, the place of judgment, the time of judgment and the result of judgment.

I. The Judge (v. 31).

It is the Son of God who came and died to redeem the human race. He is now seen clothed with majesty and power sitting upon His throne acting as Judge. Those who accept Jesus Christ now as their Savior shall not come into judgment (John 5:24).

II. The Time (v. 31).

This judgment will take place when the Lord comes in His glory accompanied with a retinue of glorious angels. This will take place after He has gathered the elect remnant of Israel. There will be no resurrection in connection with this judgment.

III. The Place (v. 31).

The prophecy of Joel, the third chapter, and Zechariah 14:3-5, show that it is to be in or near Jerusalem. The angel said to Mary, "Thou shalt call His name Jesus. He shall be great and shall be called the Son of the Highest, and the Lord God shall give unto Him the throne of His father David. And he shall reign over the house of Jacob forever; and of His kingdom there shall be no end." (Luke 1:31-33). As David was a literal king and reigned in a literal place, there shall be a literal judge occupying a literal place of judgment.

IV. The People Judged (vv. 32-45).

These will be the living nations upon earth after the church has been translated (I Thess. 4:16, 17). These are nations to whom the gospel of the Kingdom shall be preached just prior to the coming of the end. "And this gospel of the Kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come." (Matt. 24:14). This gospel is distinct from the grace of God, which is now being preached. The preachers of this gospel will be the Jews (see Revelation 7 and Romans 11). These are the brethren of the Lord in the flesh who move among the nations of the world with the startling message of the news of the Lord's approaching kingdom. Some of the nations will gladly receive the message and kindly receive the kingdom messengers, giving them clothing, food, shelter, etc. Others will persecute them, thrusting them into prison. Here the first will visit the messengers of the King and provide for their wants. At this time the Judge will separate the nations, placing the sheep on the right and the goats on the left hand. The sheep are those who have given proper treatment to Christ's brethren. The goats are those who have rejected and mistreated his brethren. If these three classes, the sheep, the goats and the brethren be kept separate, all confusion will be avoided.

V. The Issue of the Judgment (v. 46; Cf. vv. 34-41).

1. The Sheep Entering into the Inheritance of a Prepared Kingdom.

2. The Goats Going Into Everlasting Fire Prepared for the Devil and His Angels (v. 46). This judgment shall determine their destiny.

Have Not Yet Seen Him

The fact that none saw Christ after His resurrection except those who loved Him is suggestive that His enemies have not yet seen Him and do not know Him—Echoes.

American Cigar Company

To our Employees:

This is our home town—it is the place which furnishes us with the necessities and many of the comforts of life. Our own personal future is so closely related to what the future of this city may be or will be, according to our interest in it, that it is well for a few moments to consider our duty to our city.

Most every person resents being told where to spend their money—money that they earn through their own ability and effort—but on the other hand it is necessary to keep alive the business section of the city that provides the opportunity to give you work that you now enjoy.

We would like to have you purchase everything that you can here. Give the merchants a chance to show you what they have for sale. If they haven't it in stock, let them order it for you if convenient.

Because of your known loyalty to this city we do not want you to take anything that you feel you can purchase elsewhere at a saving. No good merchant can expect your support if he does not give you proper treatment—but with everything else being equal we would like to have you support the Home Merchant whenever possible.

The persons who spend their money out of town for goods that can be bought at home, may some day have to go out of town to hunt for another job, meaning that if all the money is sent out of a community, there will be none left to carry on business at home.

This letter is just a little personal message to you, to ask that you still further prove your loyalty to our city, as you have in the past, by doing all that you personally can to make our city a better place in which to live and that can be done in a large way by buying at home.

You should remember that the citizens of this noble city have provided this beautiful plant for your comfort and livelihood and deserve your patronage in return for their kindness.

If, after you have made a purchase in town, it is not as represented, come to us personally and tell us and we will endeavor to straighten matters out to your entire satisfaction.

Very truly yours,

AMERICAN CIGAR CO.

LOSES FIGHT FOR DRAINAGE WATER

HIGH COURT LIMITS DRAW FROM LAKE MICHIGAN

IS A CRISIS FOR CHICAGO

Present Flow of 10,000 Cubic Feet From Lake Per Second Must Be Reduced—City Limited to 250,000 Cubic Feet Per Minute.

Washington.—The supreme court affirmed the decision of the federal district court at Chicago restraining the sanitary district from withdrawing from Lake Michigan water in excess of the 250,000 cubic feet a minute allowed by the secretary of war.

In a sweeping decision the court recognized the full and complete authority of the federal government and declared that those interested in maintaining the present volume of lake water (100,000 cubic feet a minute) must look to Congress or the secretary of war for permission. To prevent any arbitrary action the court announced its decision would not be given effect for 60 days, and that it was made without prejudice to any permit which the secretary of war might issue according to law.

Immediately after the announcement of the decision, the Illinois congressional delegation summoned into conference, adopted two resolutions, one authorizing Representative Madden to invite such persons into conference as he might deem advisable, and the other pledging the delegation to stand united behind any proposals which might be considered to the best advantage of the state.

Referring to the "gravity and importance" of the question presented to the large expenditures which had been made and which might be necessary in the future, as well as to its bearing upon "the welfare of millions of men" the decision, prepared by Justice Holmes and read by Chief Justice Taft in his absence, stated that such considerations, aside from adding to the solemnity of its duties did not increase the difficulty of a decision. The law on the subject was clear and the material facts presented were few, it stated.

In the controversy, the court continued, the United States was asserting its sovereign power to regulate commerce and to control the navigable waters within its jurisdiction. In addition to its right to remove obstructions to interstate and foreign commerce, the federal government was also bound to carry out treaty obligations to a foreign power.

Halt Work on Tomb
Carlo.—A deadlock has been reached in the negotiations which it was hoped would lead to resumption of work in excavating King Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb. Howard Carter, discoverer of the tomb in the Valley of the Kings, claims half the contents for the estate of the late Earl of Carnarvon, who financed his explorations.

The executors of the Carnarvon estate abandoned this claim last year and the Egyptian government refuses to consider it from Carter. If he persists, the government expects to take the matter to the courts, where it anticipates no difficulty in winning. When asked if work would be resumed in the near future, Carter replied: "I am afraid the near future is far distance."

Footprints: 10,000,000 Years Old.
Washington.—Dinosaur tracks made approximately 10,000,000 years ago during the Triassic Age, probably the first foot prints of this geological period found in the Rocky Mountains area, have been identified on the Navajo Indian Reservation in Arizona, near the Grand Canyon National Park.

An announcement by the Interior Department said the tracks occur in a thin layer of rocks about seven miles from Tuba City. The foot prints measure 16 inches in length with a spread of 13 inches. The stride is shown to be 53 inches. The toes bore sharp claws, indicating the animal belonged to the bipedal carnivorous dinosaurs. Identifications were made by Dr. C. W. Gilmore of the Smithsonian Institution who visited the peak for the national park service.

Debt Cut a Million.
The treasury has shaved almost a billion dollars off the vast public debt in the past twelve months, and by so doing has cut the obligations of the United States more than one-fifth since they reached their peak.

New York.—A gift of $100,000 from members of the McAlpin family to the Union Theological Seminary was announced by Dr. Arthur G. McGiffert, president of the board of directors of the seminary.

WINS TEST VOTE ON POSTAL PAY VETO

THOSE FAVORING OVERRIDING FALL TWO VOTES SHORT

TO SUSTAIN PRESIDENT

On Motion to Recommit Veto Bill Opposition to Coolidge Musters 52 Votes, Which is Short of the Two-Thirds Needed.

Washington.—President Coolidge's veto of the postal pay increase bill will be sustained in the Senate if administration leaders can hold the strength they were able to develop on the first test vote. They are confident they can do so.

The test came on a motion by Chairman Sterling, of the post office committee, to recommit the pay measure which received executive disapproval last June. That motion was voted down, 30 to 52, but the 30 votes cast for recommitment were more than the two-thirds necessary to prevent the measure becoming a law without presidential sanction.

If the president is sustained, the House will not be called upon to act, the pay raise measure having originated in the Senate. In its place will be advanced the administration's combination pay and postal increase bill introduced last week by Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, who failed in an effort to place it before the senate prior to consideration of the veto.

Under the unanimous consent agreement, which became operative, the Senate must vote on the veto not later than 4 p. m. tomorrow.

Under the parliamentary situation now existing, the pay and rate advance measure cannot be brought up immediately and there were free predictions by senators speaking for the overriding of the veto, that the bill would not be passed at this session.

ACCUSED MAN SHIFTS BLAME FOR KILLING

Says Another Fired Shot. Two Moved From Hickman.

Hickman, Ky.—A second alleged confession in connection with the murder of Officer Will D. Moss of Union City, Tenn., and the spitting out of Hickman of two men accused of the crime featured the developments in a thorough investigation of the case.

Gilbert Goodman, accused in the alleged confession of Eddie Brown James, negro, of firing the fatal shot, confessed his part in the crime. Sheriff J. O. West said, but declared that Forrest Arnold, who is held in jail with him, was the man who shot Mr. Moss to death when the officer approached their limousine at Union City the night of Dec. 15.

Goodman and Arnold were shipped out of town and it had not been learned where they were placed in jail. Various rumors had them at Nashville, Jackson, Dyersburg or Paducah.

The men did not spend last night in the jail, officers fearing that an effort might be made to remove them. Deputies removed them and kept them out until this morning, handcuffed together in an isolated spot. Officers left here with them this afternoon in an automobile. It is understood they caught a train several miles below here.

Bob McCain, sheriff of Obion County, Tenn., and J. O. West, sheriff of this county, were in charge of the prisoners.

In his reported confession Goodman said that Officer Moss did not make an attempt to draw his gun or start any trouble and that he was smiling when he approached the car.

Reports here were the Eddie Brown James, negro and Gilbert E. Holt were still held at Union City.

Leviathan Laid Up.

Washington.—The liner Leviathan has been withdrawn from service for extensive repairs. The Fleet corporation announced that after preliminary work at New York, the ship will be placed in drydock at Boston. It will be two months before the ship again is in service.

Pikeville, Ky.—Ruth Potter and Mollie Luster appeared in police court on a minor charge, in knickers, but it cost both of them ten hours in jail. Judge J. P. Mays looked at the long coats each girl wore skeptically and ordered the coats removed. When the knickers were revealed, Judge Mays decided it was contempt of court and handed out the punishment.

Denies Journey Divorce

Chicago.—Mrs. Helen Journey, wife of R. C. Journey, a North Carolina college professor, was denied a divorce on her application charging cruelty. At the same time Superior Judge Jos. Sabath took under advisement the husband's cross bill asking a divorce on grounds of desertion, and naming Oscar Harrison, a student in the college at which Journey is an instructor.

IN MEMORY OF J. A. HARRISON

John Alvin Harrison was born Nov. 14, 1903, died Dec. 8, 1921. Age 21 years. Professed faith in Christ at the age of 16 years. Joined Liberty Baptist church and was baptized by Bro. Dennington. Enlisted in navy, Sept. 13, 1922, and served until the time of his death.

He leaves mother and father, four sisters, one brother, grandfather and grandmother and a host of relatives and friends to mourn his loss. A loss it is, for our earthly home ties are broken, our future hopes are blighted, all of our plans came to a sudden halt, for we had a long home for Alvin to make a visit.

We had hoped in every way that could be thought of, that he had escaped death, and would be spared to make the visit we so desired. He came, but, oh, in quite a different way to what we had expected. We cannot understand why this is so; the more we try to solve the mystery, the more puzzled we are. If we could only become reconciled to the fact that it is for the best, or he would not have been taken from us. God knows we are still human beings and our hearts are crushed and crying but why this sad blow. Perhaps sooner or later we will come to realize that it is best the little flower covered mound has been made. There we can visit, grow beautiful flowers, and water with our tears. His captain wrote of the good record he had made in the service of his country. This means much to us. We are more than proud of this record, and the loving expressions of those who made a home for him while away, tell us they too, loved him, he was a good brother, a loving son, he is free from all trials of this life. As we write we are thankful for the hope we have of meeting with him some day, we do not know how soon. Where or how, we will be called upon to pay the debt we owe. May Alvin's death be not in vain; may it be a warning to us to be ready when the summons will have come.

By one who loved him.

Beelerton News

Miss Lucile Hicks has returned from a visit with friends near Bandana, Kentucky.

After a few days spent in celebrating the Christmas holidays, the Beelerton School opened last Monday morning. All thoroughly enjoyed the few days rest and seem ready to go to work with a new earnestness.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bushart entertained with a six o'clock dinner. Those enjoying their hospitality were Misses Maude Cook, Pauline Thompson, Lucile Hicks, and Mary Swan Bushart; Messrs. Ray Brown, Ward Bushart, Glynn Bushart, John Kirksey and Harry Bushart and Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Bushart. After dinner a party, attended by the young people of the community, was thoroughly enjoyed.

Misses Kathleen and Adelaide Shelton of Mayfield, Kentucky are the guests of Miss Mary Swan Bushart.

Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Bushart entertained the young people of this community with a party. Each one declared he had a wonderful time and thanked Dr. and Mrs. Bushart for making so joyous an event possible.

Prof. W. D. Croft, wife and son of Franklin, Kentucky, visited Beelerton School. Mr. Croft was former teacher in the school and in a talk to the student body spoke of the changes that had taken place in a few years. He also urged that each High school student should think seriously of the future, that he should decide his life's work and then prepare for it. We thank Mr. Croft for his message, and wish him success in the High School at Franklin, over which he is principal.

A miscellaneous shower was given at Beelerton School in honor of one of the former pupils, Miss Allie V. Heathscott, whose wedding to Mr. David Allison of Detroit, Michigan, took place on last Friday evening. Quite a number of useful gifts were presented to the honoree. Games and contests were enjoyed thoroughly until a late hour, and all departed, wishing Miss Heathscott and Mr. Allison much happiness.

FLAPPERS WOULD BE PAN-CAKE FLIPPERS

The much discussed flapper is actually showing more interest in the kitchen than in the cabaret, and enjoys the frying pan even more than the rouge pot. This is the inference which may be drawn from the recent report of the United States Bureau of Education which says that the increase of student enrollment in home economics exceeds that of any other subject in the curriculum.

This ambition on the part of American girls to learn more about the scientific management of their homes is reflected in the great number of home service department with their lectures, cooking classes and radio talks which have been installed during the past year by the gas companies of the United States.

Nearly 8,000 high schools in this country now give courses in domestic science, with a total enrollment of about 400,000 girls and 3,000 boys. This compares with only 1,350 schools ten years ago. The enrollment of girls taking these courses in grades 5, 6, 7 and 8 of the elementary schools approximates 3,700,000. This means that there are well over 4,100,000 children of school age learning how to cook and keep house according to the most modern principles.

KU KLUX KLAN CELEBRATE NEW YEAR'S EVE

Fulton Local Organization Enjoys Banquet and Oratorical Feast

At 6:10 p. m., New Year's eve, Fulton County Klan No. 45, erected a huge electrically illuminated fiery cross on the top of their Klavern and one hour later, a long line of white robed figures issued from the doorway of the Klavern and marched solemnly, with arms folded through the principal streets of the city, and back to the Klavern.

Everything went off peacefully, and there was no disturbance of any kind; the head man carried "Old Glory," the emblem of the "Home of the Free and the brave," as a symbol of the things for which they stand.

After the parade, an immense crowd gathered in the Klavern for a social program, the women of the Ku Klux Klan being honored guests. After the invocation, several very able speakers delivered addresses containing the choicest morsels of oratory, with wit and humor abundant. At 9:30 a feast fit for a king, composed of fried oysters, turkey, oyster dressing, barbecued lamb and barbecued pig, with all the accessories to match; and any number of delicious home made cakes with suitable inscriptions and emblems; coffee, coca-cola and hot chocolate were to be had, and there was plenty of variety for the most fastidious dietician.

After the banquet two oratorical feasts were enjoyed.

During the program, one of the ladies presented a large box with the inside carpeted with fern leaves, in which were imbedded the letters, "K. K. K." made with red carnations. The program was spiced here and there by snappy music rendered by a very able band, as well as songs and instrumental piano selections. At a few minutes before midnight, taps was given—the funeral of the year 1924 was solemnized—revels were sounded, and 1925 given a hearty welcome.

CONFIDENCE IN THE PUBLIC

Proof that the railroads have confidence in the continued fairness of the public in railway regulation lies in the fact that they are now planning to raise and spend 1 billion 100 million dollars for improvements and expansions in 1925. C. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central System said in a recent statement. In 1923 and 1924 a total of 2 billion 136 million dollars was spent by the railroads for improved facilities, in addition to large maintenance expenditures.

By making these extensive investments for better service, the railroads are striving to merit the public confidence indicated by the result of the November election. Mr. Markham asserted. Although they handled in the last two years, the greatest volume of traffic ever known, with practically no shortage of facilities, and are now in better condition than ever before in their entire history, the railroads are planning to be able to provide still better service in the future. They must keep pace with the growth of business, because their capacity is a limitation upon the prosperity of the country.

John Thompson, who made an excellent race in the last Democratic primary election for the office of Sheriff, was a pleasant caller at The Advertiser office recently. When asked if he would make the race this year, he said yes, and with renewed energy to capture the nomination. Judging from past records it will take a good man to beat him.

The friends of Clarence Henry, county court clerk, will regret to see him give up the office when his term expires. Clarence is serving his second term and has given the people a splendid service.

Bailey Huddleston says he will make the race for sheriff this year in the Democratic primary. Bailey has served the county as sheriff one term and made a splendid record for himself. Bailey is well qualified for the office but we believe he would make a live wire candidate for the office of county court clerk.

Goalder Johnson, who made a record for himself when sheriff of the county, is being urged by his friends to enter the race this time. Goalder has a large following and is very popular throughout the entire county.

Tobe Jackson, the popular county jailer, will throw his hat in the political arena soon for re-election. Tobe has made a record for being one of the best jailers Fulton county ever had and may not have any opposition.

Since being elected county attorney, Lon Adams has exerted every effort to serve the county faithfully. He will no doubt enter the race this time.

for re-election and it will take a good man to beat him.

It was rumored some time ago that Sheriff J. O. West would make the race for county court clerk, but J. O. tells us that it is only a rumor.

No doubt but what Judge Charles Nugent will make the race this year for re-election. The Judge has made an excellent record and has added new friends and cemented the friendship of old acquaintances.

Tom Hales says he will make the race for Sheriff this year. Tom has many friends who would be glad to see him land the plum and are urging him to make an early start.

Walter L. Shupe says he will make the race again this year for sheriff. It will be remembered that he made an excellent race the last time and has added many new friends and acquaintances to his list since then.

Friends of Atkins Cole continue to urge him to enter the race for county court clerk. Atkins is very popular throughout the county. He has the ability and all the good qualifications to fill the office with credit to himself and voters.

We understand that a very popular young woman will enter the race for county court clerk. She is not only popular but is a typical Kentucky beauty.

The Advertiser has just received 100,000 candidate cards to distribute among the candidates who enter the race this month.

Hand us a dollar bill and we will get your name on the Advertiser list as a regular subscriber.

LABOR

Successor: They laid Samuel Gompers to rest in a grave in Sleepy Hollow Cemetery at Tarrytown, beside the Hudson. As the coffin was lowered, the white lambskin apron of a Master Mason was dropped upon it. There they left him, not far from the earthly remains of Andrew Carnegie, William Rockefeller, John D. Archbold.

Candidates: Next day in Manhattan, the Executive Committee of the American Federation of Labor met and chose a successor to serve Mr. Gompers' unexpired term of office. There were three candidates: James Duncan, who was Mr. Gompers' lieutenant for 30 years; Matthew Woll, President of the International Photo-Engravers Union; William Green, Secretary and Treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America. All were vice-presidents of the Federation and hence of the Executive Committee which chose the President.

It was stated at the conference that in view of the fact that Mr. Duncan was 67 years of age and a veteran who deserved recognition before his retirement, that he should be chosen for the place. It was not, however, contemplated that should he be chosen, that he would be re-elected at the annual convention next fall. Friends of Mr. Woll pointed out that he was youthful, that of all of the candidates he had been closest to Samuel Gompers. It was known, further, that Mr. Gompers had wished that Mr. Woll should succeed him, although the latter belongs rather to the radical wing of the organization. William Green was the candidate of the mine workers and the carpenters the two largest groups of the Federation. He belongs rather to the conservative wing although not to the extreme conservatives.

President Green. Before the election was held, its result had practically been determined. Besides the support of the miners and the carpenters, Mr. Green had that of seven of the ten members of the Executive committee.

When the meeting opened, Mr. Duncan suggested that by virtue of his long service, he himself deserved the Presidency to round out his career. Then someone nominated Mr. Green, saying that it was necessary to choose a man who might be re-elected by the convention of the federation. No other nomination was made, and eight votes were cast for William Green (he and Duncan not voting.) Then Mr. Duncan offered his resignation as Vice President, saying that he intended to retire.

William Green, native and resident of Coshocton, Ohio, son of English and Welsh parents, a miner at 16, active in the miners' organization since that time (except for four years in the Ohio Senate), is ruddy, big-chested, broad-shouldered, medium in size. Moreover, he is only 51. He has six children, five of them girls.

He is a Mason, an Elk, an Odd Fellow, a Baptist, a Democrat. For over ten years he has been Secretary-Treasurer of the United Mine Workers. He is quiet and rather retiring. His policy is nearer to that of Mr. Gompers than is that of Mr. Woll. Mr. Gompers' own protege. He does not favor a third party or labor party. He has been active against communist propaganda and the extreme radicals in the labor movement. He has leaned to the progressive group in promotion of a Workers' Educational Bureau and in support of Government ownership of railways. But, on the whole, he is in the middle ground with a leaning toward the conservative wing.

Kentucky News Cullings

An epitome of the most important events transpiring throughout the state

Owensboro—Hiram Lamb, 23, was laid over to the grand jury when he was arrested on a charge of larceny.

Mayfield—George McGinnis, of Fulton, who was arrested charged with stealing an automobile, was adjudged insane and sent to the Lexington hospital.

Mayfield—Due to a defective flu, the handsome dwelling of W. B. Sander and his contents were consumed by fire in the county. Loss was $11,000 with no insurance.

Frankfort—Oscar Marcum, convicted in Letcher County on the charge of carrying concealed a deadly weapon, fined $100 and sentenced to serve ten days in jail, was given a full and free pardon by Gov. W. J. Fields.

Bowling Green—Thieves entered the jewelry store and with a pistol held open the main door and the back from a steel gun rack. Twenty-eight pieces, valued at $20 each, were taken. Eight of the pistols were left. The pistols were Col. automatic.

Danville—At a meeting of 200 members of the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association in the court house here a resolution asking the directors of the association to change the sales policy of the organization in the marketing of this year's crop was voted down three to one.

Hartsville—Miss Hannah Carey, 20 years old, teacher in Blennerhassett School, near here, drew a fine of $20 and costs in County Court before Judge Ben Allen, on a warrant sworn out by Hartford Lane, charging her with cruelty in whipping his son, Arthur Lane, a pupil aged eleven.

Lancaster—John S. Moreham, farmer, had a narrow escape from death while driving a wagon loaded with tobacco through a narrow gateway. At the time he was walking and was caught between the wagon and the gateway and terribly crushed, receiving four broken ribs and otherwise painfully injured.

Danville—The Old's Beautiful Buick, an imported bull, has been purchased from James T. Short, of Louisville, for use of the recently organized Boyle County Jersey Breeders Association. The purchase was made by C. E. Miller, county agent, at a private price. The bull has taken many prizes in Jersey shows throughout the country.

Frankfort—J. P. Byers, committeeman of public institutions under Kentucky's nonpartisan Board of Charities and Corrections, has accepted an invitation to speak before the Indiana Society for Mental Hygiene. Mr. Byers, who is known nationally as a prison authority, will be on a program with experts from many different states.

Paducah—Stolen from a garage within a few moments after it had been placed there and locked up, the automobile of John W. Orider, Paducah councilman, was discovered in flames on the Houser road, eight miles from Paducah. Police are investigating the case, believing the thief either accidentally set fire to it or deliberately caused it to burn. The machine is a wreck and the loss only partly covered by insurance.

Louisville—A verdict for $5,180 was returned by a jury in Judge Thomas R. Gordon's Court for Edward A. Neff who sued Armour & Co. and the Kentucky Crameries, 2019 East Main street, for $10,000 for alleged personal injuries. Neff claims that while employed as a laborer for defendants on June 14, 1923, he was injured when a large number of egg cases fell upon him in the defendants' plant. Edwards, Ogden & Peak were attorneys for Neff.

Glasgow—The trusty "wing" of a plucky woman, plus a convenient supply of suitably sized rocks, prevented a jail delivery at Edmonson, Ky. Ed Jennings, awaiting trial on charges of horsebreaking and attempted highway robbery, had removed two bars from his cell window and was almost out when he was discovered by Mrs. C. T. Garrett, wife of the jailer. Entirely ignorant, apparently, of the fact that women can not throw and hit anything, Mrs. Garrett began pelting the escaping prisoner with rocks. Her control was perfect and her speed ample. After the third "direct hit," Jennings changed his mind and began to scramble back into the jail.

Frankfort—Fixing Friday, February 13, as the date for the electrocution of Leonard Griffin, or Harlan County Sid Davis and Alex Gibson, of Fayette County, Gov. W. J. Fields saved Charley Bryant, of Breathitt County, from death in the electric chair by commuting his sentence to life imprisonment. Bryant killed his wife Annie Bell Bryant, and Sam Lyons the double killing taking place in a store in Jackson, where the convicted man found his wife in the company of Lyons whom he charged with breaking up his home.

Caden—A flying eluder struck J. D. Manning, freight conductor on the Cumberland Valley Division in the left eye and destroyed sight of that optic.

Whitesburg—D. D. Braden, 35, formerly of Tennessee, was killed in the mines of the Blue Diamond Coal Company at Blue Diamond when he came in contact with a mine-cutting machine. Braden lived a few hours after the accident.

Owensboro—Robert E. Gagner, 53, employee at government dam No. 40 at Owensboro, died as a result of injuries sustained when a large piece of timber fell and struck him on the head, fracturing his skull. He was a native of Hancock County.

Frankfort—James Williams, of Somerset, has been appointed secretary of the State Game and Fish Commission, a position to an announcement by George C. Wagoner, executive agent. Williams will assume his duties January 1. He will succeed Joan Dillon, of London.

Paris—Mrs. Ann Stephenson, aged mother of A. L. Stephenson, and Mrs. Frank Buchanan, of Clintonville, Bourbon County, suffered a broken hip when she fell at the home of her daughter. Due to her advanced years much apprehension is felt over her condition.

Mayfield—Mrs. Zoraida Cochran who resigned the postmastership had a narrow escape from being badly burned when the blaze from a gas stove flashed in her face. The collar on her dress was entirely consumed, her face, neck and hands were slightly burned and her eyebrows singed.

Whitesburg—During wild shooting in the darkness on Dry Fork, several miles from here, at a box supper, Finley Sexton received a stray shot and a quite seriously injured. The ball took effect in Sexton's arm. The grand jury, at its next sitting, will probe the shooting.

SHYLOCK IS FRENCH CHARGE

WAR DEBTL FLURRY CAUSES BITTER FEELING.

TCHITCHERIN CHIMES IN

America Is Compared, in One News Paper, to "the Rich Man Who Coveted Everything, Even to Poor Vineyards."

Paris—News that Finance Minister Clementel in his note to United States Ambassador Herrick had made over the semblance of an offer for a 10 year moratorium of the French war debt brought the wrath of the Conservatives down on his head. The note, handed to Ambassador Herrick last week, suggested a final payment at the end of the period commensurate with the British settlement.

Washington's request for a definite proposition on the funding of the French debt which brought M. Clementel's tentative offers evoked bitter comment in La Liberte by Jacques Bainville, who declared that "Shylock is a senator and lives in Washington." America is compared by him to the rich man who coveted everything even to poor vineyards.

"Bible lovers have forgotten the Bible," the article concludes bitterly after the strongest attack against America that has been printed for years in Paris.

The foreign office, which is anxious not to start another discussion between Washington and London as to who comes first, hastily denied that Clementel spoke for the government in suggesting even the idea of a moratorium. The French government is merely calling the move unofficial until it proves good, but this has not prevented a torrent of abuse which is directed at once against the Herrick government and the United States.

Ancaste Chauvin, who is an equally venomous attacker, supports Clementel in the Journal des Debats, however, in a desire to come to terms with Britain and America together but Bainville sees in the whole affair only an American shylock demanding his pound of flesh. He spurs President Coolidge, who he says is trying to hold back the demagogues of the Senate, and declares the British would settle with France but for interference from Uncle Sam. He says Britain would like to settle by cancellations as she did with Austria after the Napoleonic wars, but the United States refuses to permit such action.

Charges of shylocking and imperialism are made against the United States in an interview given in Moscow by George Tchitcherin, the soviet foreign minister, to the correspondent of the Petit Parisien.

"The United States was the only nation deriving any real benefit from the war," the Bolshevik leader is quoted as saying. "Consequently the economic pressure they are exerting upon European nations is increasing daily and on many points is approaching a crisis. Such a situation of inequality cannot contribute toward the general welfare or a happy solution of the difficult problems before the European nations."

URGES HOUSE TO PUT U. S. IN WORLD COURT

Rep. Fish Offers Resolution On Adherence.

Washington—Prompt adherence by the United States to the permanent court of international justice would be sought under a resolution introduced by Representative Fish, New York, a Republican member of the House foreign affairs committee.

Mr. Fish explained he was aware the House had not constitutional power to negotiate treaties, but in adhering to the court protocol he believed the power of the House "would be obviously involved."

Annual appropriations, he said, would be sought for this purpose and adherence also might necessitate legislation, such as reduction of armament and refusal in some instances to declare war, in which the concurrence of both House and Senate would be required.

"It therefore seems appropriate," he said, "that the House consider the expediency of adopting such an innovation, before ratification by the Senate and express or withhold its approval when it will have some effect on subsequent proceedings."

All members of the House, Mr. Fish pointed out, have been elected since adherence to the court was proposed by President Harding and can testify regarding the attitude of the public.

not be!" loudly returned the Brandenburg. "a passport costs only ten marks."

"In the name of heaven!" cried the Jew, "you do not say so."

"Indeed I do," sternly replied the stranger, "by the law only ten marks can be charged for a passport in Germany."

At this the Jew turned pale, he dropped his head on his breast, his whole body shook with agony and he swooned and would have fallen on the ground had not his consciousness been suddenly pricked by the sharp words of the following tirade:

"Mindeth he not! mindeth he not!" thundered forth the big 'Burger, as he scowled at him with meanness and contempt, "no pranks out of a low Jew, a leech of humanity that he is. Lucky be it for him if he land not in some prison before night-fall."

Having thus excoriated the son of Moses, the husky stranger went on his way.

The poor Jew, stunned, bewildered and alone upon the great highway, stood wholly disconsolate. Many were the thoughts that pressed upon his brain. But there was only one that touched his heart.

"My marks! my marks! my marks!" he moaned to himself, as he gazed longingly in the direction of the German capital.

But being unable to undo the past, he again set out on his way in the pursuance of his one objective—Bremen.

"May the rod of Aaron strike these devilish, meat-eating sons of Goliath!" angrily cried out the Jew, as he bore on his way. "And they robbed a son of Israel of his hard-earned marks! What is it these boasting Philistines will not do? And Brandenbursers, too. Very well! very well! just let me pass another Brandenburg on this highway. I will make him feel the strength that is in my arm. He shall know what it means to impose upon a son of Israel."

"Good morning, sir! good morning, sir! Mr. Brandenburg, good morning, sir!" politely called out the Jew, as he lifted his turban high in the air, his face being all smiles, "yes sir! yes sir! he goeth on his way to Bremen to see his kin."

"Get you gone! get you gone!" sharply returned the stranger, as he looked at him with horror, "the chains of some dungeon will have you before the sun sets."

Again the Jew took up his step, but not without the sting of the harsh words spoken to him.

ton, to Mr. Henry James Brubaker of New Carlisle, Ohio at Louisville, Jan. 1, was a surprise to a large circle of friends and admirers of the bride in this city.

The bride is the charming and talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Bynum and was reared in Fulton and at the time of her marriage was teaching music in the public schools.

MRS. MCCOY DIES IN TEXAS

The remains of Mrs. Nelah McCoy, who died in Wharton, Texas, Jan. 4, was brought to Fulton, her old home for burial.

All the care and love that skilled physicians and loved ones could do in the Lone Star states were brought into play, but the fiat of Him who rules our incomes and outgoings had been issued and after a long struggle, despite the prayers and entreaties of all who knew and loved her, their appeals were overruled and this good woman's spirit passed into the far beyond to join her helpmate who was called before her. Mrs. McCoy was a devout Christian woman and will be missed in her home circle. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. A. D. Pittman and Miss Lola McCoy, and one son, Robert McCoy.
