Fulton Chamber of Commerce Live Organization

The Chamber of Commerce meeting held last Tuesday night was a most successful one both in point of attendance and accomplishments.

A lively discussion of the membership campaign which will close on February 10, at the annual election of officers, brought out a number of interesting talks and a unanimous pledge from all present to bring into the fold a large number of Fulton business men.

"Squire Shankle was emphatic in his statements that 'mine host' Ford would have to hump himself and the 'blues' if they wanted to keep from paying for the feed, and very generously offered to 'loan' either Brother Freeman or Brother Warren from his team to say grace at the banquet.

When Chairman Lowe of the Hospital Committee made his report on the recent visit of Doctor J. J. Ezell, of LaFayette Ky., who came here to look over the field for a hospital, every member wanted to talk, and the enthusiasm for such an institution was genuine and spontaneous.

Mr. Lowe stated that Dr. Ezell was a surgeon of splendid ability well recommended by such men as Dr. Frank Boyd of Paducah, had been with the Mayo Brothers at Rochester, Minn., studied in Europe, and was a regular attendant at all of the big clinics held in New Orleans for the past few years. He has a private hospital at his home town, but desires a larger field for his labors, and has selected Fulton as his choice of locations and will locate if proper inducements are made.

Brother Warren, Squire Shankle, Gus Bard, Walter Butt, Dr. Scruggs, Warren Graham, Ernest Fall and others made short but pointed talks on the many benefits to Fulton that would follow the installation of an up-to-date hospital here. The idea was stressed that it should not be on too great a plane to start with, but was thought better to start in a modest way and gradually grow to the proportions that it is bound to reach within a very few years.

Dr. Cohn was, naturally, the principal speaker, being better posted on the requirements of such an institution, and was applauded frequently for confirmation or explanation.

When the time came for appointing a committee and Dr. Cohn was about to be appointed in the same it was made known that he was not a member of the Chamber, so, on proper motion the rules were suspended and he was unanimously elected a member, and appointed on the committee.

The committee, which will have the work of obtaining a hospital for Fulton is composed of D. F. Lowe, Dr. Seldon Cohn, G. G. Bard, Brother Warren and Walter Butt. Viewed from the point of past accomplishments of the individual members of this committee, it hardly seems possible that it can fail in its mission, and with the cordial cooperation of the business men and the numerous churches and civil and fraternal organizations of Fulton, it should not be long till we have a thoroughly equipped hospital in our city.

President Murphy of the Lions Club was present and pledged the support of that body to the cause, and it is certain that the Rotary Club will also put its shoulder to the wheel and help to make it a success.

The first thing that the committee will undertake is to obtain options on desirable locations, that is, buildings that can be rented for a term of years, as it is not believed desirable to try to build a home at the present time.

Several of the members emphasized the fact that the present seemed particularly opportune for the procuring of a hospital, as Fulton had been selected by a man who was thoroughly competent to handle the surgical cases that might be brought to it, and the fact that he had himself selected Fulton as the place which he wished to make his future home was a compliment to our city that should be appreciated to its fullest extent.

Charge Vaught Slew Brother

Reelfoot Lake Game Warden Placed in Hickman Jail

Hickman, Ky.—Hubert Vaught was placed in jail here charged with the murder of his brother, M. Vaught, who disappeared from his parents' home about the middle of last October and whose body was found in an isolated spot five miles from here a short time later. Hubert Vaught was arrested on a warrant sworn to by County Judge C. D. Nugent. The prisoner, a deputy game warden on Reelfoot lake, was arrested near Union City, Tenn. it was said. Officials disclosed that suspicion had been directed toward the prisoner for some time but that an arrest had been postponed, pending the uncovering of additional evidence, the nature of which was undisclosed.

M. Vaught, 17, carried a $2,000 life insurance, payable to Hubert and on which Hubert paid the premiums, officials said. The policy carried a double indemnity clause, paying $4,000 to the beneficiary in case the insured died from violence or accident. His body was found with a bullet hole in the back of the head and tracks nearby indicated a wagon had been used to move the body to the place it was found. Five hundred dollars reward had been offered for the boy's slayer.

The Big Sale

IS NOW ON AT JONES & FREEMAN

The big sale inaugurated Thursday, Jan. 15, by Jones & Freeman, with stores at Fulton and Hickman, is attracting the attention of economical buyers. The high class merchandise offered and the prices quoted is almost unbelievable, but a visit to the stores tell the true story of the greatest value-giving event in many years. Men who know values, men who appreciate high class wearing apparel are supplying their needs. The handsome suits which they are selling at $14, $19 and $29 and the splendid overcoats at $19.75 are all of fashionable models well worth double the price. In fact "it's money saving time on men's fine suits—and everything else men wear." It means much to the buying public—more than one can fully realize until you see the fine quality and fine style associated with the low prices. But you should hurry if you expect to get the choicest selections.

Step Lively!!

Railroad News

In a statement recently made public by Mr. C. H. Markham, President, Illinois Central System, on the outlook for business for the near future, Mr. Markham said:

"In four major respects, the outlook for the railroads is especially encouraging. First, their properties are at present in better condition than ever, due largely to the extensive expenditures that have been made in recent years for improvements and extensions. Second, they have devised and instituted drastic economies in the operation of their properties and the good effect of these economies will continue in the future. Third, business promises to be good, and better business for the country means greater traffic and larger gross earnings for the railroads. Fourth, there has been a material improvement in the friendly relation that should exist between the railroads and the public they serve.

"The railroads have made records in the prompt and efficient handling of traffic during 1923 and 1924 which have been of incalculable benefit to the country. If transportation shortage in a period of increased business activity imposes losses upon the public and retards prosperity—and it must be generally agreed that it does—it follows that plentiful transportation in such a period as we have been going through in the last two years is a contribution of great magnitude to general prosperity.

WINTER NIGHTS ARE ON US. HOW ARE YOU SPENDING THEM?

Sitting around the fireside and scrapping over crossword puzzles until you don't want to speak to each other at the breakfast table, or do you lecture each other on 'the soy bean crop of 1921? Or stories about the brave rabbit that defended his haunts against the ravenous wolves? Or are you going to sit around and play Mah Jongg, Chin Lee, Ping Chow, and the rest of the laundry games?

Why not brave the winds, go out to the picture show and treat yourself to a good picture from 3 to 6 times a week?

The Orpheum rarely ever fails to have a splendid program for you. You must always get more and the better kind of entertainment for your money at the Orpheum.

TOBACCO ASSOCIATION MAKES MUCH NEEDED IMPROVEMENT

A receiving barn is now under construction and when finished will be an ideal receiving station. The building will be 140 feet wide and 150 feet long. A 15-foot driveway on the east side of the building will allow one wagon to pass another, thus leaving the floor 130 by 150 feet, or 19,500 square feet of floor space. This will make it possible for each grade of tobacco to be placed in a row and with skylights in the roof, such as this building will have, a uniform light through the building will aid the buyers when looking at the tobacco. It is probable that the building will be extended to cover the entire lot, and a hydraulic press installed. With such an arrangement tobacco could be trucked from receiving station to prizer, and save the cost of drayage and bulk-ing.

The Tobacco Association at Fulton handled four and one-half million pounds of the 1922 crop and five million of the 1923 crop, and is starting out nicely on the 1924 crop. With the new facilities they will be able to give better service to the members and can handle the business cheaper than heretofore.

Fulton may look with pride upon this factory and thanks the farmers of the community for its erection.

It has been wisely said that "no town was any more prosperous than the community around it." Let every business man of Fulton lend his cooperation to the farmer in his effort to put the marketing of his tobacco on a business basis.

The policy of the Association is right. Believing this to be true, the big bankers and the big business men, yea, the Federal Reserve Banks, has made it possible for the Association to advance as first payment to the farmer, 60 per cent of the loan value of the crop. This is a much better advance than the farmers received on the 1923 crop.

McGINNIS IS NOT MARRIED

The Fulton correspondent to The Martin Progress reported that Mr. McGinnis of the American Cigar Company, returned to Fulton with his bride.

Mr. McGinnis did spend the holidays with his parents at Lima, Ohio, and enjoyed his visit immensely, but it is only a joke about him returning to Fulton with his bride, because he has never been married.

Announcement

To the People of Fulton County:

I wish at this time to announce my candidacy for reelection to the office of County Attorney of Fulton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, to be held in August of this year.

In view of the fact that I am known personally to practically every voter in Fulton County, I deem it unnecessary to go to any great length in making my announcement.

In the outset, I wish to say the people of this county have been extremely nice to me in years past, for which I wish to thank you to the depths of my heart, and, regardless of how this campaign may terminate, I shall never cease to be grateful to the people of this county for the generous support that I have already received at your hands.

The people of Fulton County owe me nothing; you are under no obligation to me, but on the contrary, I am under a lasting obligation to you for what you have already done for me, and although I might write an announcement as long as the moral law extolling my virtues and concealing my vices, yet, were I to adopt such a course, I would not be able to deceive a single person in the county but by so doing I would only be indulging in self praise, a thing that I know to be extremely disgusting to every person in the world that possesses a semblance of modesty or refinement. In my humble way I have tried to faithfully and impartially perform my duty, whether or not I have succeeded in that is a matter for the people to decide.

In conclusion let me say that if you see proper to support me for re-election I shall be deeply grateful for such support, but if you do not see proper to do so, I assure you, that although it may make me sad, it will not make me mad; for the offices of the county belong to the people and not to the candidate, and they have a perfect right to give them to whomsoever they wish.

LON ADAMS.

Mrs. Jessie McDade Carter

"The end of life is but the opening wide
Of some shut door through which there flows
The muted music of the universe
The breath of Eden, perfumed like a rose,
The onward journey is not long nor lone,
The Realm of Rest lies nearer than we think."

Died, at her home in our city, Mrs. Jessie McDade Carter, 35, beloved wife of W. L. Carter and daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McDade.

Seldom has it been our duty to record so sad a death. A dark gloom was spread over the whole community when it was whispered from one to another Thursday morning, January 15th, that "Jessie was gone."

She was of an affectionate disposition, bright and winning in her ways, so that friendship's circle was to her a large one. Indeed, it may be said of her that "none knew her but to love her."

Only a few years ago she was married to W. L. Carter.

Today the eternal springtime with everlasting glories belongs to the departed. Her life was a rare jewel, her spirit as gold refined in the fire ready for heaven. Her journey of life here was a path marked with deeds of kindness and cheer. Flowers, not thorns; sunshine, not shadow, did she scatter everywhere. With these she was lavish. Truth was the inspiration of her life, and by kindness she exemplified its great worth. Was not her life full of God-likeness?

And there was reason for this. When the bloom of childhood was blooming into the blush of refined womanhood, she had sought the pearl of great price and made it chief among the jewels of her youthful hopes. The intervening years have been full of consistent plan and wise action. This was the fountain of the maturity of her character. For upon the white canvas of her life she drew no uncertain lines which needed to be erased. And with the hand of a master she delicately spread the colors of life and made them blend with promise.

She was a consistent member of the First Methodist church and her beautiful Christian life should be an inspiration to us. She is survived by her husband and two step-sons, Gordon and Linden, two sisters, Mrs. W. C. Hogg, of Paducah; Mrs. Gus Browder, near Fulton; one brother, G. R. McDade, of Troy, Tenn. an aunt, Mrs. W. D. Swiggart, of Fulton, and other relatives and many friends. We join a large circle of friends in sympathy for the devoted husband and loved ones left to mourn her loss.

Funeral services will be held from the First Methodist Church Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, interment following at Fairview Cemetery.

AFFIRM SENTENCE OF FULTON SLAYER

Frankfort, Ky.—The court of appeals affirmed the 21 year penitentiary sentence given Jim Wimmis in the Fulton circuit court for the murder of Ben Johnson. Mimms' counsel appealed for a new trial on ground that the trial court refused him a continuance of his case.

Cayce News

Miss Nina Kimbro, principal of Cayce High School, spent the week end in Fulton with her sister, Mrs. Ray C. James. Rev. Gooch conducted a Bible study class at the Baptist church last week. A great deal of interest was manifested by the young people. The prize, a nice Bible, was awarded to Miss Hazel Mayfield for making the highest average. However, out of a class of six there were four hundreds made on the final examination. Rev. Gooch reports that since he has been in this work, no student has made a hundred before. This speaks well for the boys and girls of our town. The play, "The Dust of the Earth," presented by the people of Palestine Community, here Friday night, was one of the best of the season.

The P. T. A. held its regular meeting at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. Four new members were enrolled. This organization, under the leadership of Mrs. A. W. Fowler, has continued to be a source of inspiration and assistance to our school. Among the achievements of this scholastic year are: A new sidewalk, which cost approximately $200; a new Brunswick phonograph, gas light plant, furnishings for rest room, playground equipment, books for library, chemicals for laboratory, and pictures.

Miss Kimbro organized a Boys' Glee Club last week. The boys are greatly interested.

The music classes are growing under the direction of Mrs. Fowler and Miss Bondurant.

The P. T. A. of Taylor community will present the play, "Home Acres," here Friday night.

Two new pupils have been enrolled in our high school since the holidays. This makes a total of 55. What town the size of Cayce can show an enrollment greater than ours in high school?

Miss Alla Mae Sugg, intermediate teacher at Jordon, spent the week end with Clarice Bondurant.

Our high school has a real athletic association composed of some genuine athletes.

We have a booming basketball team of which the school is very proud. We have been defeated a few times but it was by schools much larger than ours. Our boys are handicapped by not having an indoor court. Come out to see a game and encourage the boys.

POOL FILES SECOND SUIT AGAINST HOBSON IN GRAVES COUNTY

The Mayfield Messenger says: The Dark Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association filed suit in Graves circuit court Jan. 12th, against John B. Hobson, prominent planter of Sedalia, alleging that Hobson is attempting to "dump" about 7,000 pounds of tobacco grown on his farm this year.

Hobson, a member of the Association, was sued by the organization ten days ago for $1,000 as damages and attorneys' fees for the selling of 15,000 pounds of the 1923 crop outside of the pool, as charged by the cooperative body.

Beelerton News

Miss Mary Swan Bushart spent last Thursday night with Misses Eva Fay and Lucile Hicks.

Mrs. John Pharis was called to the bedside of her daughter, Mrs. Clay Piper, last Thursday, on account of Mrs. Piper's illness.

An interesting meeting of the Parent-Teachers Organization of Beelerton was held last Thursday evening at the school building. A splendid program consisting of music, readings and one-act playlets, was given. Judge Flatt of Clinton, Kentucky, was present and made a splendid talk. Other talks were given by Mr. E. J. Bennett, Rev. E. S. Hicks and Mr. John Kirksey, relative to education and its progress in our community.

This organization is an important factor in the school spirit and work, and credit should be given to the President, Dr. R. L. Bushart, and the group of ladies who form the program committee for the work that is being accomplished.

Miss Maude Cook, who has been ill for the past week, is able to resume her duties this week as teacher of the primary department in Beelerton school. Mr. E. J. Bennett was a visitor at school during Chapel period Monday morning and spoke to the student body, telling them the need and value of an education. He also impressed the younger students with the fact that the ones who said "I will try," were usually the ones who passed into higher grades at the close of the school term.

PARTICEPS CRIMINIS

The history teacher was giving her pupils some special instruction, and incidentally asked the question what was the approved system of training of a lawyer or barrister in England. The star pupil of the class lifted his hand and was told to rise and proceed. "He read law," said the star pupil, "and then started practice for himself or hooked up as an accomplice in some established firm of lawyers."

LETTER FROM DR. S. W. PARIS

West Plains, Mo.
Jan. 5, 1925.

Friend Williams:

I thank you very much for the copies of your paper which you sent to me by Cookie. I spent all yesterday afternoon in reading them, ads and all. It was like a good long letter from my old home town, in fact I enjoyed them so much that you will find enclosed by check for one year's subscription; put me on your mailing list—right now.

When I last saw you, I surmised that the newspaper lure would soon get you. Now it has, and I wish for you and yours all the good things in the world. Our town has 3 newspapers, and the owners live in the best houses and drive the biggest cars in town, so go to it.

Ah! old fellow! in reading your papers yesterday I was forcefully impressed with the onward sweep of time, and the changes it brings; children, when I left, are now marrying and setting up homes. Other children coming into the world, and all the time Death is taking his toll. Within past 5 years there has been, among others in Fulton, who have gone to their reward, a number of my warm personal friends, "Uncle" Tom Mercer and "Mandy," as I used to call her. Mrs. Hargrove, "Pete's" mother, and Dr. Marshall Alexander, whom I loved even more than a brother, Mrs. Joyner and others. But let's quit this line of thought.

I notice the Commercial club is on the upgrade, and as I was somewhat connected with it in its early struggle, I am glad. The organization was made Feb. 12, 1913, in parlors of the Meadows Hotel. One dozen members at first. I infer from your "write up" however, that there are still a number of Fultonites who have maintained and are still claiming that it is of no benefit to the town or county. What a pity! and that in the face of such a number of achievements.

Then the report of the Building & Loan Association. She is some baby, the pet of Ernest Fall, Tom Franklin and Aubrey Nugent. May she prosper!

My friend Walter Butt is still reporting for the Health & Welfare Association. Joe Browder appears to be still in a hurry. Let up a bit Joe.

What memories were aroused in the article, "A Backward Glance at Our Public Schools." That $15,000 bond issue! How well I remember it. 33 votes were cast against it. I could call the names now of more than half of them. Those bonds bear the names of P. H. Weeks as chairman of the board, and myself as secretary. Great times, but it served as a starter.

Joe Davis is still talking good roads, and it is much needed in West Kentucky. It is not much of a job to drive "Lizzie" from here to Bird's Point, 210 miles but deliver me from the 38 from Wickliffe to Fulton!

Our state, as you are doubtless aware, is putting on a great road program. The next 5 years will find old Missouri second to none in that respect. And take it from me it is worth every cent it costs.

Last, but not least, the Church news. Especially the Baptist church. The building had just started when I visited Fulton last. May she go steadily up, and fulfill every worthy ambition. I am not going to go into reminiscences on this phase of my memories of Fulton, because some one would accuse me of being homesick, which is not true, but suffice to say, that within that body I formed ties of friendship and love which shall abide through eternity.

Presuming that a few of my friends would like a little personal news, I will say that in a business way I am doing very nicely. Health of entire family is good.

In addition to my bottling business, I operate ice plant and ice cream factory in West Plains. Have an ice plant at Cabool, Texas county. My son, Samuel, W., Jr., is married, living there, and managing that plant. The younger son Henry is in University of Missouri at Columbia, taking a special course in Milk Engineering, because, as I see it the dairy industry is coming to be the big thing in this part of the country and I want him ready for it. The people are as fine as you will meet anywhere. My banker friends are native Kentuckians and the finest ever.

Again wishing you, and old Fulton all kinds of peace, prosperity and happiness, I am the same old

Coats and Other Clothes for Woman Who Is Stout

"Winter coats, at best, are heavy, thick things that make one look as broad as one is long," you can hear a plump woman sigh as she makes her way into the "stylish stouts" section.

But here she finds, to her relief, that there are coats much less cumbersome than she had imagined. In fact, if she is wise in her selection, she may be quite as "willowy" in her winter coat as she was in some one-piece summer-time concoction.

The first thing the stout woman should consider in choosing her winter coat is line. Since she needs to add height, instead of breadth, to her figure, a long coat should be satisfactory from more than one point of view. The short, "boxy" jacket which so graciously fills out the thin woman's spare figure does disastrous things to the stout woman's lines. However, the coat should be fairly loose, especially over the hips if they have any tendency to be too prominent.

The stout woman's coat should be rather plain and whatever ornamentation it does have should be perpendicular in line. Horizontal effects are to be avoided throughout; and the "straight up and down effect" every plump woman loves can be achieved by the cut of the coat itself, as well as by the trimming. Plaids and overfullness, for instance, are to be avoided. And a V-shaped neckline is slenderizing. The beltless coat seems especially designed for the stout woman, since any belt at all, no matter how happily it is placed, tends to cut her height and to broaden her figure.

Sleeves are an important consideration. Never should they border on the full, leg-of-mutton type, regardless of style. The longer and more slender they are in effect, the better. The sleeves should either be quite without ornament or they should have only a little braiding, or similar trim, applied in up-and-down effect.

The stout woman should remember this general rule as she selects her winter coat: Any part of the figure that is too prominent should not be accentuated by ornamentation. The correctly proportioned part, rather, should be brought into prominence and the others subdued.

Straightline Unbelted Coat Dress Is Favored

The straightline unbelted coat dress, button-closed at the front or lapping in wide double-breasted effect, is a predestined favorite for autumn, says the Philadelphia Ledger. These smart-tailored frocks are all provided with close-fitting wrist-length sleeves and finished high at the neck, either cut high or finished with choker or high rolling shawl or notched collars. Smooth surface wool fabrics in plain, overcheck or fine stripe effects are accepted materials, as well as plaid and fancy flannels, and some of the heavier plain silks. Smart effects in these coat dresses are in black satin, with white satin panels, vestees, collars and cuffs. Buttons in matching and contrasting color are extensively used for trimming.

Kentucky News Cullings

An epitome of the most important events transpiring throughout the state

Frankfort—Nine freight cars were derailed on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad near Jettis, Franklin County. No one was injured. Traffic was blocked through the day.

Paducah—Commanding Frank Wagner, grocer, was held up by his hands but to lay them on the counter, two bandits held him up in his grocery store and escaped with $55 from the cash register.

Maysville—The Rev. J. E. Barbee, pastor of the Christian Church here, formerly of Louisville, was awarded an automobile costing $1,000 as the most popular man in Maysville. The award was made by a vote of the citizens.

Frankfort—Governor Fields appointed Curran Pope, Louisville, head of the Board of Charities and Corrections for the next four years. To succeed Robert Winn of Winchester, Ky., resigned.

Frankfort—With an estimated indebtedness of $2,515,864.45 in excess of the anticipated revenues for the present fiscal year, the State Highway Commission asked State Auditor W. H. Shank to issue warrants for the amount against the road fund, and he in turn asked Attorney General Frank E. Daugherty for a ruling as to the legality of such a move.

Glasgow—John Harrison, 6 years old, son of Less Richardson, near Hardsville on the Jackson Highway, was run over by the school truck. The child was rushed to the infirmary at this place, but died shortly after reaching here. The little fellow and about forty other children were being carried from the consolidated school to their homes when he fell from the truck and the wheel passed over his body.

Frankfort—There has been put into operation since June 18, 1924, under regulation of the State Highway Commission, 185 bus lines, operating between termini, operating 309 cars, making 1,706 trips, covering 33,174 miles daily, according to Griffith Kelly, supervisor of bus lines. "This does not include something like 100 five-passenger cars, that have paid their fees, and are operating under the highway commission," he said.

Paris—As a result of a collision between a motor bus and a Ford car of the Paris and Lexington road, Misses Olive and Ethel Fisher, daughters of Dr. C. C. Fisher, president of the Millersburg College, received wounds about the head and face. The bus struck the Ford car, knocking it across the interurban tracks, and but for a telephone pole would itself have been overturned on the track. Interurban traffic was suspended for an hour.

Owensboro—The will of the late W. E. Whitely, business man, capitalist and farmer of this city, involving an estate of more than $300,000 was set aside by a jury in Circuit Court. The will was contested by Mrs. W. E. Whitely, her son, Loren Whitely, and his wife, Mrs. Mary Whitely, on the ground that he was mentally unbalanced and that in his will Mr. Whitely had practically disinherited his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mary Whitely, for whom he had always shown deep affection and devotion.

Frankfort—Joseph Murrell, county school superintendent of Leslie County, and the five members of the County Board of Education, were ordered to appear before the State Board of Education January 20, 1925, to show cause why they should not be ousted. McHenry Rhoads, superintendent of public instruction, said following a meeting of the State Board of Education: "There are about five county boards being investigated," he said. He had before him report of J. C. Mills, auditor and inspector in the department, showing "a deplorable condition" financially. Professor Rhoads said.

Winchester—The Appalachian Highway Association was organized here at a road booster's meeting, with delegations from the states of Kentucky, Ohio, Virginia and Tennessee uniting on a program to bring to a speedy completion a thru highway from the lake ports to Cincinnati, thru Kentucky and on to Atlantic seaboard. Kentucky's portion of this highway, the Kentucky-Virginia route, will be completed before 1925 expires, a delegate quoted Major E. S. Helburn, member of the State Highway Commission, as saying. Fifty miles thru the counties of Knott, Perry and Breathitt are yet to be completed.

Hopkinsville—The valuation committee, composed of bankers appointed to fix the loan valuation on the tobacco of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, completed its work after working for two full days. The committee is composed of Casselberry Dunkerson, Henry Anderson, Allison Graves and J. C. Engelhardt, of Louisville, and J. J. Heftray, of Clarksville, Tenn. The committee's valuation will permit the association to advance to members, on delivery of their crops this year, 60 per cent of the last valuation.

Hazard—The jury in this case, in John Vermillion, Lett's Creek merchant, returned a verdict of acquittal. Vermillion was charged with killing Charlie Lynch, coal operator, formerly of Tennessee, on Lett's Creek.

Paris—Douglas Hildreth, 68, one of the best known men in Paris, fell on the icy sidewalk on Main street and suffered a fracture of the hip. Due to his advanced age and his present poor physical condition, apprehension is felt for his recovery.

Hopkinsville—Roth Boyd, sawmill operator, was seriously injured when he was caught under a log. He was helping unload the log and his heavy glove caught, causing the log to roll over part of his body. His head was hurt and one finger badly mangled.

Columbia—Judge Oscar Fair, county Judge of Casey County, lost his residence by fire at Liberty, which originated in M. K. Humphrey's drug store and destroyed several other business houses. This is the second residence that Judge Fair has lost by fire since he was elected county judge three years ago.

St. Sterling—Ed Hewitt, deputy tax commissioner, Bath County, and Chell Johnson went over a long embankment near Slate Creek on the Preston road when the steering wheel of their car broke. The machine turned over twice and landed in a creek, which was very high. The men jumped and escaped with slight bruises. The car was badly damaged.

Paducah—Moody Wilson, a young white man, was arrested here today by Sheriff Roy Stewart on a warrant from Paris, Tenn., which charged him with stealing an automobile from that place. The automobile was recovered, Sheriff Stewart stated. Wilson was placed in the county jail pending the arrival of officers from Paris to take him back to Tennessee for trial.

Louisville—Louisville's tax rate for 1925 will be $2.05 on a valuation of $100, based on an estimated assessed valuation of $350,000,000. This is five cents higher than the rate obtaining in 1924, and five cents lower than the rate that obtained prior to the adoption, three years ago, of the $2 flat rate. The estimated assessed valuation is on lands, improvements, personal property and franchises.

Frankfort—The Pomeroy Salt Association, an Ohio corporation, lost its suit in the Court of Appeals to recover $100,000 from the J. B. Speed & Co., a Kentucky corporation, and W. S. Speed, Fred M. Sackett, Henry S. Gray and Paul H. Creel, of Louisville. The suit grew out of a contract dated May, 1921, by which the Speed Company and the other defendants took over the management of the salt association with Gray as president and Creel as manager. The salt association alleged that "thru negligent and careless management it had suffered damages to the extent of $100,000."

Paducah—Mrs. Nell Tyree, wife of Clint Tyree, asks a judgment for $10,000 damages in her second suit filed against Dr. E. B. Goodloe, Paducah physician. She alleges that Dr. Goodloe instigated, or caused to be instigated against her, an action which subjected her to a lunacy trial before a jury, which returned a verdict that she was of sound mind. The plaintiff alleges that lunacy proceedings subjected her to "humiliation, shame, and mental anguish," and damaged her in the estimation of her friends and acquaintances. Clint Tyree also has a $10,000 damage suit pending against Dr. Goodloe.

Paducah—Suit for an injunction has been filed in McCracken County Circuit Court by the Dark Tobacco Growers' Association against George Gontley, a tobacco grower and member of the pool, and George Wooley, his tenant, to prevent delivery of their tobacco crop, produced in 1923, to any buyers other than the association. Gontley is willing to deliver to the association, the petition states, but alleges that Wooley has actual possession of the crop and has refused to deliver it. Both defendants are obligated to deliver to the pool by virtue of the Bingham co-operative marketing act, the petition alleges.

Frankfort—At a meeting of the State Railroad Commission here the application of the Southern Railway Company to abandon its Turgin route from Harrodsburg to Baraga was passed to the Interstate Commerce Commission. A similar case has just been adjudicated before the Interstate Commerce Commission and by the Federal Court of Colorado involving the validity of an order of the Interstate Commerce Commission. In that case the court held that the Interstate Commerce Commission had the power to authorize the abandonment of a line intrastate if a part of an interstate line was shown to be losing money.

Frankfort—With a liberal use of the paring knife, the state highway commission entered upon details of its retrenchment policy, recently begun with announcement of suspension of contract lettings for a year and one-half, and shutdown of road work. It cut anticipated expenses of the state highway department radically. "The only work in 1925 will be the barest maintenance work to keep the road from deteriorating," M. E. S. Posey executive secretary said. "That will constitute the entire program."

TOO MUCH ATHLETICS

Athletic sports appear to be about the most important thing in college life of the average young man of today.

If he doesn't go in for the round of sports he is apt to be termed a grubworm and find himself more or less isolated from the companionship of his fellows.

If he becomes an enthusiastic sportsman he is in danger of neglecting his studies to the detriment of his education and his future.

The promotion of athletics is desirable up to a certain point but the tendency of the day is to ignore that point and go the limit, even to the sacrifice of educational proficiency in lines that are necessary in modern commercial life.

This is not an age when young men may learn to read and write and add and subtract and then go out into the world and compete for success.

Employers are becoming more exacting each day. They require something more than a football or a stroke record from their employees. They insist upon stability, common sense and an ability to "produce the goods."

There are many noted critics have little confidence in the ability of the average college graduate.

When shrewd employers place a value of $10 a week upon the services of young men just out of college there would seem to be something wrong with the system under which these young men have been trained.

Too much athletics may become as detrimental to the individual as none at all.

CIVILIZATION AND SAVAGERY

The prevalence of divorces in "civilized" countries is becoming a peril to the morality of the Caucasian race.

In a certain savage country a woman goes and lives with a man a year or two "on trial." If both are satisfied they then are married according to the regular tribal custom. If they are not satisfied with each other, they go their separate ways and try again with other mates.

In "civilization" it is slightly different. They go to a minister and have a few words said over their bowed heads. They say, too, try it out. If not satisfied, they go to a judge, tell a few harrowing stories, possibly a few lies, and are legally authorized to go out and try again with other mates.

Very simple, isn't it? Not so much difference between civilization and savagery, is there?

We look down upon and pity the poor savage in his ignorance and superstition.

We contribute large sums that he may become "civilized" and in line for our own particular line of debauchery.

In our superior bigotry we chronicle the shortcomings of inferior races, unmindful of the fact that morality in some of those countries is far in advance of our own.

Without doubt there are occasions upon which divorce is preferable from a moral standpoint to long living together.

But unquestionably a large percentage of divorces are granted upon flimsy excuses and perjured testimony.

If the party at fault in such an action were forbidden to ever marry again we might have fewer divorces and a greater number of reasonably contented homes.

If people could be brought to realize that the remedy is sometimes worse than the disease, they might be induced to see a brighter light and make the best of a bad bargain.

"Civilized" morality is tottering in the balance, with the scales tilting in the wrong way.

SLASH AGAIN

Short skirts for women have been vindicated.

Hurrah! Cut off another foot or two!

Statistics gathered in Chicago show that the short skirt is responsible for reducing the number of accidents to women in boarding and alighting from street cars and trains.

"Before the advent of the short skirt innumerable falls were caused by women stepping on their own skirts. Now the short skirts are cutting down the number of accidents," says the statistician.

Hurrah again! Off with still a little more!

We men will look the other way—when our wives are around.

A Chicago judge says that "we have hit the bottom of hard times and from now on business is going up hill." But how long is the hill?

Are mothers-in-law becoming more amiable, less numerous, or is the editorial fraternity getting cold feet? At any rate few jokes are cracked at their expense now that they have the right to vote.

Of course, it is a little early yet to decide whether it is to be a season of professional baseball or unprofessional grafting.

We spend $1,300,000,000 on cigars and cigarettes. When the good ladies oust the weed there will be a tidy sum to spend on face powders and hair dyes.

If people who advocate war were required to do the actual fighting the world over, there would be fewer advocates and no wars at all.

An exchange says that nine people are killed every hour in American accidents. Boiled down to fractions, that means that every five minutes some poor hick is three-fourths dead.

FAVORS HOUGHTON FOR AMBASSADOR

COOLIDGE ATTACKS TASK OF FILLING DIPLOMATIC GAPS.

MANY CHANGES PROBABLE

Gore Must Retire From Cabinet to Become Governor of West Virginia—Only Four of Harding Government Left.

Washington—Having accepted the resignation of Secretary of State Hughes and selected Ambassador Kellogg at London as his successor, President Coolidge will give attention now to the task of filling the vacancies in the diplomatic corps resulting from these changes in his cabinet on March 4.

Meanwhile the senate will give consideration to two appointments by the chief executive of equal importance, those of Harlan F. Stone, of New York, to be an associate justice of the supreme court and of Charles B. Warren, of Michigan, to succeed him as attorney general. Favorable action on both is expected.

In line with the promotion of Ambassador Kellogg, the president is understood to have in mind the advancement of Ambassador Houghton at Berlin to the Court of St. James. With such a policy carried to a logical conclusion, there would be a general advancement of those in the diplomatic service.

Although Ambassador Herrick at Paris might be considered next in line for the London post, the understanding here is that he prefers to remain at the French capital, where he has had many years of service. Moreover, his desire for early retirement from the diplomatic corps has been reported.

Besides Ambassador Houghton, several others are mentioned in connection with the ambassadorship to Great Britain.

Before March 4 other changes in the cabinet are in prospect. Secretary of Agriculture Gore must retire to become governor of West Virginia, to which office he was elected last November, and Secretary of Labor Davis has asked to be retired at that time, although he may accede to the executive's request that he remain.

With the retirement of Secretary Hughes, there will remain only four of the ten cabinet officers who began service in the Harding administration—Will H. Hays, Albert B. Fall, Edwin Denby, Harry Daugherty and Henry C. Wallace, the latter having died while in office.

Whether this senate will be asked to pass upon the appointment of former Senator Kellogg to be secretary of state remains to be determined. Since he does not take office until the expiration of the present congress, it may be that the president will submit his nomination to the new senate, giving him a recess appointment in the meantime.

SEAMANSHIP AT LOW EBB.

International Union Head Deplores Condition On American Vessels.

Washington.—Efficiency of the crews on American vessels is at its lowest ebb, Andrew Furuseth, president of the International Seamen's Union, told the House committee investigating the shipping board.

The witness declared the lack of skill among the crews was deplorable and that this condition was brought about by the sea service bureau of the board consistently refusing to select and keep the best seamen. The bureau's activities, he asserted, tend to drive the best seamen from the sea.

Sailors ship on American vessels, Mr. Furuseth said, because of opportunities afforded to smuggle aliens, narcotics and other contraband. He scored the practice of hiring Chinese as members of American crews, declaring they were the most active smugglers and in some instances had paid as high as $1,000 for the privilege of shipping under the United States flag.

Rabbit Ears As Money.

Beloit, Kan.—Jack Rabbit ears are accepted as legal tender in Mitchell County, it was revealed here when Clarence Granger, a hardware merchant of Glen Elder received $100.50 bounty from the county clerk. Granger accepts jack rabbits as payment for ammunition at the mandatory bounty rate, he said. He brought to the courthouse 1,775 rabbit ears, 100 crow heads and 100 gopher heads.

CREDIT A NATIONAL CURSE

Every nation has its curse.
Ours is the overworked credit system as applied to the ordinary expenditures of life, and especially to the matter of living expenses.

If every business and professional man in this community were asked if he would rather sell for cash with considerable discount in price, or continue the credit system, we believe the vote would be unanimous in favor of cash and reduced profits.

The credit system is a nuisance. It is a national curse.

Wherever the credit system prevails there you will find the usual number of slow pays and dead beats.

The merchant pays for his goods, and in turn someone pays him. He cannot live on wind, hope or expectations. It is a case of "no cash, no live."

Every merchant who extends credit gets taken in by the dead beats. He loses not only his profits, but the most of his goods as well.

And what then does he do? Just what you or any sensible person would do—raise the price sufficiently on his wares to protect him against such losses. And the man who pays his own bills also pays the bills of the deadbeat.

If a person can pay at the end of every week or thirty days it would require but little retrenchment and sacrifice to enable him to reach the point where he can pay cash where he goes.

When the merchant carries your account he virtually lends you his money, and this should not be. The bank is the proper place for such transactions.

By paying cash for his goods the dealer can get a substantial discount from the wholesaler, and this discount coupled with the saving of the usual deadbeat losses would make a material reduction in the cost of supplies. But he can hardly stand the strain of a cash transaction himself when he extends ninety days' credit to Dick, Tom and Harry, and all of the little Harrys.

"Give us relief," is the cry. "Give yourself relief," we say. To a great extent the remedy is in your own hands.

Some of you are wedded to the mail order habits because you get a cent or two off here and there—but you pay it back in the freight!

Is your credit good with the mail order concern? Not in a thousand years.

Do you hand over your cash before you get your goods? You bet—every time—and you keep what you get, whether it stings or not.

You expect your home merchant, who extends you credit and carries your account indefinitely, to make the same price on goods he guarantees that the mail order man makes on goods he does not guarantee, and for which he demands his pound of flesh in advance.

Is this fair? It is just to the home merchant, or even to yourself?

Now why can't the people of this community get together with the merchants and inaugurate a strictly cash system in every line of business? Why can't we stamp out the credit curse? It is simply a breeder of high prices, in which everybody suffers.

Buying for cash would mean more goods for your money, less worry, and a better community generally.

BRIEF SHOTS

The girl who has many strings to her bow is probably partial to jazz.

Even the chickens, now, are partial to dandelions.

America is becoming commercially rich in everything that makes it morally poor.

"Hitting the ball" in the business world is commendable, but busting the bat is a crime that is never forgiven.

It is considered quite an honor to march at the head of the procession, but the fellow at the tail end can see most of it.

When a fellow passes on to the next world he probably realizes how little he really amounted to in this one.

"Love thy neighbor as thyself," says the book book—but don't let her husband get wise to it.

Some men who respect the law do not always observe it—when thirsty.

A word from the wise is not always one of wisdom.

No one can expect to make a hit when they aim at nothing.

No man ever remembers the first lie he ever told, and the last one is even easier to forget.

All men make mistakes. A few admit them.

The fellow who tells all he knows seldom knows much to tell.

Diplomacy might be aptly described as a combination of dignity and duplicity.

Never mind what the rest of the world thinks of you. Old St. Peter is the boy who will decide whether or not you enter the golden gate.

It is best to throw the mantle of charity over the mistakes of your neighbor. You may need a circus tent to cover your own.

"First see that you are right and then go ahead," is good advice—provided you know when to stop.

Planting trees in memory of our soldier dead is a commendable act, but why not a little of the fruit for those who were only half killed?

Fulton is a good town. It will continue to be good as long as its people are good citizens. Let's have no other kind.

CONCESSIONS BY UNITED STATES

ARMY COST PAYMENTS SPREAD OVER 20 YEARS.

$350,000,000 CLAIM CUT

Smaller Sum Finally Agreed Upon. Allies Rejoice That America Becomes Interested Party to Indemnity.

Paris.—General satisfaction that the United States, through the agreement reached at the conference of allied ministers, has become "one of the contracting parties to the Dawes plan and the general reparations questions," was expressed by all the European delegations in the informal conversations among the representatives of the powers. The European statesmen convened here hold that from mere unofficial observers the Americans have become "interested actors" in the solution of the reparation problem.

The experts committee spent an entire day unraveling the mass of figures bearing on the Ruhr occupation, the Belgian priority payments and the total German deliveries in kind. The committee must prepare resolutions which will be presented for ratification to the plenary session of the conference.

Despite the screen of secrecy behind which the delegates are working, details of the terms of the agreement are gradually leaking out from sources worthy of credence. The delegates find it difficult to smother their exultation or hide their disappointment, according to the success or failure of their efforts to have their point of view accepted by their colleagues. Thus from British sources it was learned that the Anglo-American agreement the army cost payments will spread over a period of twenty years, dating from the Wadsworth agreement of May, 1923. This seems to be considered a success for the British. The payment of the American reparation claim will extend over the whole period of the Dawes annuities in the form of a fixed percentage—the figure not being disclosed pending the receipt of Washington's approval—beginning from the extinction of Belgian priority late in 1926.

The American figures of $350,000,000 for the total American war damage were not accepted by the British and the compromise agreement is said to provide for an annual percentage of the Dawes annuities, the capital value of which is less than the original figure demanded by the Americans.

Again information is volunteered that the United States will receive no interest on the capital amount of her claims except on arrears as between May, 1923, the date of the Wadsworth agreement, and the beginning of the payments to the United States under the Dawes plan.

The American delegation when requested either to confirm or deny these details emanating from British sources remarked that the entire matter was up to Washington. The delegates in Paris, they added, were bound to keep the character of the solution a secret until they had been approved by Washington.

The British attach the greatest importance to the agreement which brings the United States officially into the reparation pool, with the right to a percentage like the allies. Belgium will receive her full eight per cent reparations payments during the first Dawes year and possibly during the second, if necessary to distinguish her priority. The exact amount due Belgium has not been ascertained, and the experts are at work on the figures.

A Senate Bill Provides Cash After Three Years.

Washington.—An amendment to the soldier bonus act to permit World War veterans to obtain cash for insurance certificates at their current value at the end of three years was introduced by Senator Jones, Democrat, New Mexico.

Cash value of the certificates would be figured on the basis of ordinary tables in use by old line insurance companies. Under the law at present policies cannot be cashed until 20 years after the date of issuance.

Getting Local Color. New York.—Attaches of the traffic court are wondering whether Wm. C. Sanger, 21-year-old poet and novelist, who lives in a fashionable apartment in Brooklyn, was seeking local color for a new story, when he drove his automobile the wrong way on a one-way street.

MARY GARDEN TO SING IN MEMPHIS

MEMPHIS' $1,000,000 AUDITORIUM FORMALLY OPENED

OVER 250 PERSONS IN CAST

Chicago Civic Opera Company to Open Grand Opera Season in Memphis February 26, 27 and 28.

Memphis, Tenn.—With the impetus of a guarantee of $227,000 behind the organization the Memphis Civic Music League has inaugurated the campaign for the grand opera season to be given by the Chicago Civic Opera Company at the new municipal auditorium, Feb. 26, 27 and 28. The business men who made up the pledge have agreed to be called upon to the extent of $1,000 each in the event of a deficit. It is estimated that the engagement will cost $60,000 so that the big response makes the amount to be made up proportionately small in the event of a deficit, which now seems remote.

MARY GARDEN

Assurances have come from a wide area that the Memphis engagement will attract a patronage from as far as Chattanooga on the East to Tulsa, Oklahoma on the West, St. Louis on the North and New Orleans on the South.

The Memphis Auditorium opened when scarcely finished in October will appear in its final completion with decorations and interior as well as stage mechanism. Elevators to the gallery and the like will be in place. The acoustic properties, pronounced wonderful when the big structure first opened, it is said will be enhanced with the completion of the interior, mural hangings and decorations.

Of the several halls in the massive structure the North Hall, that part to be utilized for opera is the big, best and most imposing auditorium in the mid-south. It will seat with a perfect view of the stage 6,300 persons.

The boxes surmounting the arena or ground floor, 36 in number, practically most all are sold. There is a section known as the dress circle immediately back of the boxes and equally good for a superior view. The gigantic arena, balcony and gallery surmounting, afford places for every class of opera lover, from the patron who can pay but a dollar for a seat to the person who prefers to occupy higher priced locations.

Nowhere in the south, therefore will music lovers be privileged to hear the glorious Mary Garden, the round of Rosa Raisa, the gigantic intonations of the world's greatest singer, Feodor Chaliapin, Olga Forina, heralded the ideal Brumby and the thirty other stars, orchestra and chorus as in the new Memphis Auditorium. More than 250 persons are in the cast.

HOUSE PASSES BILL TO CURB FLOODS

ITEM INCLUDED IN ARMY BILL AS PASSED

NOW GOES TO SENATE

Forty Millions Included for Rivers and Harbors Work, While Total Appropriation for War Department is $331,000,000

Washington.—Accepting the challenge of the senate to speed up action on appropriation bills the house completed consideration of the war department supply bill, carrying $331,000,000, of which $40,000,000 would be available for expenditures during the coming fiscal year on river and harbor improvements already authorized.

Approval was given to items of $10,000,000 for flood control on the Mississippi and $500,000 for similar work on the Sacramento River in California.

Passage of the army budget, which provides for continuance of the regular army at its present strength, brought the house total of appropriations bills disposed to six. The senate has cleared its calendar of three of them, now in conference.

The house, after disposing of the army measure, took up the McFadden banking bill, and intends to put the $29,000,000 rivers and harbors authorization bill to a vote before beginning consideration of another budget, that for independent offices, including the Veterans' Bureau and shipping board, which will be reported by the appropriations committee.

"MIXING" CAUSES RACE RIOT.

Police Quell Clash in Chicago Gymnasium in Basket Ball Game.

Chicago.—Two hundred high school boys milled in the gymnasium of the Lindblom Technical High School over the result of a basket ball game. Seventeen detective bureau squads and police from a dozen South Side stations were rushed to the school.

A dozen black eyes and as many tapped noses were the only casualties, although it was reported that several razors and a revolver were flourishing.

Wendell Phillips High team, composed of negro boys and accompanied by about 300 rosters, came to the Lindblom gymnasium at 62nd and Lincoln streets.

In both games between the whites on one side and the negroes on the other there was intense partisanship shown, and much rough playing. The referee, R. E. Brauman, came under fire for his decisions.

AIR NOW CONQUERED.

Wherever There Is Air, Planes Can Go, Say Fliers.

Washington.—The world's flight proved that "wherever there is air, airplanes can go." Lieut. John R. Harding and Leif Wade told the house aircraft investigating committee, which earlier in the day had heard an appeal by Dwight F. Davis, assistant secretary of war, for development of commercial aviation as the "salvation of the aircraft industry."

The endurance and reliability of the all-American planes used in the world flight were enthusiastically described by the two fliers.

"The liberty motor stands as the most wonderful engine used in quantity in the world," declared Lieut. Wade.

BARUCH GIVES $10,000 TO U. D. C.

Fund Will Help to Teach the North the Facts.

New York.—Bernard Baruch has made a gift of $10,000 to the United Daughters of the Confederacy to endow a biennial prize of $1,000 to be offered to northern universities for research in Confederate history. Mrs. Livingston Rowe Schuyler announced.

The prize is named after Mr. Baruch's mother, Mrs. Simon Baruch, who for many years was an honorary sustaining member of the organization.

Scalped By Red Skins.

Tecumseh—Allen Edwards, who died at his home in Waukegan, Wis., a few days ago, was shot with arrows and scalped by Indians when he was a resident of Tecumseh, more than 50 years ago. The day of his death Edwards had a bare place on the top of his head where his scalp lock used to grow.

Harry Daugherty Guest of Coolidge.

Washington.—Harry M. Daugherty was one of 2,000 guests at the White House reception. He received an invitation, such as all ex-convict members received, accepted and came over from Philadelphia, where he was attending to some business matters.

Walter Yerger Hanged.

San Quentin, Cal.—Walter Yerger was hanged at the state prison. He had been sentenced to death for the murder of Clarence T. Pickett, a traffic officer of Madera County.

What is the Chamber of Commerce?

The Chamber of Commerce is the voice of the city. It reflects the ideals of the community. It expresses the aspirations of the people. It gives direction to the aims of the citizenship. It combines the efforts of those who think in terms of helpfulness. It reduces unorganized elements to an organized unit. It speaks in defense of the good name of the city. It defends the city against the trader. It is the spotlight that reveals activities that are worthy. It pleads in behalf of the voiceless. It is the center of worth while enterprise. It is the magnet that draws the outside world to your midst. It is the clearing house of civic pride. It is the power house of progress. It is a composite picture of a city as its citizenship would have it.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

A review of the work of the Fulton Chamber of Commerce since its organization in 1912, with Dr. S. W. Paris as its first president, is an inspiring record of work accomplished and undertaken. The Chamber of Commerce has not always been known by that name, as it was originally organized as the Merchants and Business Men's Association, later, in November, 1916, being re-christened the Fulton Commercial Club, and again changed in 1923 to its present title, but always the same aims and endeavors were held to and strived for. One of the outstanding efforts of the organization was that of better roads for the community and the names of Joe Browder, Joe Davis, T. M. Franklin, G. G. Bard, Arch Huddleston, Walter Butt and others stand out as the staunch and tried members who fought in season and out of season for the idea that better roads meant better business for the community.

As stated above, Dr. S. W. Paris was the first president, with a two year term, then came Joe Browder with three years as the head, followed by Joe D. Davis, Henry V. Parish, two years, Gus Bard, P. C. Ford one year and the present incumbent, A. G. Baldrige. All of the above officers making enviable records, and establishing themselves as earnest leaders and workers for the betterment of Fulton and the surrounding community. A careful review of the records will show that every one of the officers of the chamber has always been ready to devote the best efforts they had to accomplishing the work undertaken for the inhabitants of Fulton.

Fulton has grown wonderfully in the years that the Chamber of Commerce has been in existence and is bound to grow infinitely more in the next few years, due to its excellent railroad facilities, both present and to follow the completion of the new short line; also because of its splendid agricultural lands surrounding it; but most of all, because of its enterprising and wide awake citizens, who as members of the Chamber of Commerce are always watching for opportunities to make Fulton a better and bigger city.

Taken as a whole, the past record of the Fulton Chamber of Commerce is one that the Fulton citizens should be very proud of, and they should ever be ready to rally to the support of any project that the organization proposes for the benefit of the community.

Lesson for January 18

THE LAST SUPPER

LESSON TEXT—Luke 22:7-19.
GOLDEN TEXT—"This is My body which is given for you; this do in remembrance of Me."—Luke 22:19.
PRIMARY TOPIC—The Lord's Supper.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Meaning of the Communion Service.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Communion With Jesus Christ.

I. The Passover Prepared (vv. 7-13).

1. The Disciples' Inquiry (vv. 7-9). They inquired of Jesus as to where they should prepare for the Passover. They no doubt were anxious to be of service to Him.

2. The Master's Strange Directions (vv. 10-12). They were to go into the city where they would meet a man bearing a pitcher of water. He assured them that they would then be shown a large upper room furnished.

3. The Obedience of the Disciples (v. 13). They did not stop to question the sanity of the command but like true disciples obeyed. Jesus, because He is omniscient, knew just how the matter would turn out.

II. The Passover Eaten (vv. 14-18).

1. By Whom (v. 14)? Those who sat down to this last Passover feast were the Master and the Twelve Apostles.

2. His Words Unto Them (vv. 15-18).

(1) "I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer." How anxious He was to show them the meaning of the passion through which He was to go; also He craved their human sympathy as He passed through this trying ordeal.

(2) "I will not any more eat thereof, until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God." His death was the antitypical fulfillment of the passover meal. He looked forward to that time when the process of redemption would have been completed and a perfect union between the disciples and the Lord would be consummated.

(3) "Take this cup and divide it among yourselves." The disciples were now partaking of that symbol of His blood. He assured them that He would not again drink of the fruit of the vine until the kingdom of God should come. Drinking anew in the kingdom does not mean that a heaven this service will be renewed, but that this was symbolic of the heavenly reality.

III. The Feast of the New Covenant Instituted (vv. 19-20).

This took place at the close of the paschal supper.

1. The Bread, a Symbol of Christ's Body (v. 19). Christ giving of Himself to them. In order to get benefit from physical bread it is necessary to receive it. In order to get benefit from Christ one must receive Him.

2. The Cup, a Symbol of Christ's Blood (v. 20). This was symbolic of the atonement which was made by the shedding of His blood on the cross. He said: "This cup is the new testament in My blood which was shed for you," indicating that each one must personally accept the atonement made by the shedding of His blood.

IV. The Wicked Behaviour at the Feast (vv. 21-27).

1. The Treachery of Judas (vv. 21-23).

(1) The time of its manifestation (v. 21). It was while they were eating the last passover that Jesus made the announcement of the betrayal. Perhaps the reason why this feast was disturbed by such an announcement was that Judas might be given an opportunity at this last moment to repent.

(2) The betrayal was by the determined counsel of God (v. 22—cf. Acts 2:23). Nothing takes place by chance. Even the evil, sinful acts of men come within the permissive providence of God, but this does not lessen the guilt, for Jesus says: "Woe unto the man by whom He is betrayed."

(3) Sorrowful question (v. 23). The disciples did not seem to suspect one another, but made the question a personal one.

2. Selfish Ambition of the Disciples (vv. 24-27). In this tragic hour the disciples were so concerned with the thought of honorable position that they were striving among themselves as to who should be greatest.

V. The Apostles' Place in the Kingdom (vv. 28-30).

He assures them that those who continue with Him in His trials shall be appointed unto a place in the kingdom which will entitle them to eat and drink at His table and sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

CONTINUED STORY

"A GENTLEMAN OF THE EARLY DAYS"

By VICTOR CAVENDER

"These Brandenburgs! these Brandenburgs!" muttered the Jew to himself, as he trudged along on his way with his head slightly down, his hat covering well his forehead, and thinking mournfully of the wrongs that his people had suffered since the days of the creation, "these Brandenburgs! these Brandenburgs! may the falls of Jericho fall down on them! may the waters of the Red Sea engulf them! and may the leaping flames of Sodom and Gomorrah envelop and consume them! These Brandenburgs, these bloating Brandenburgs!"

"Good morning sir! good morning, sir! Mr. Brandenburg, good morning, sir!" exclaimed the Jew at once with an inviting smile, as he, bowing low, doffed his headdress in his salutation of the day, "indeed, sir, he goeth on his way to Bremen to see—"

Instantly the poor Jew was scowled into silence by the look of ferocious aggressiveness given to him by the haughty Prussian.

It shall be left to the reader to surmise the condition of the poor Jew. Needless to say, he was one not any too well in keeping with the boyish hopes of an anticipative future.

Firm, patient and with the faith of a better day, the Jew continued on his way, notwithstanding the fact that his sense of affability had been notoriously outraged.

Now the young Jew had reached a stage in his journey when his personality became less an object of attention. With many peoples, some of which being of his own race, going and coming over the great highway, his travel became to him one of little difficulty. Taking advantage of this situation, he moved forward with an accelerated step, thinking only of the place he longed to enter.

The fading rays of a dying sun were fast subsiding behind the hills to the west when the son of Israel approached the outskirts of Bremen. Invigorated by what he saw in the distance, he hastened forward the more quickly, until he almost unexpectedly found himself in the near view of the large custom house on the border line.

Now for another touch of banter at the expense of that good-natured people!

Obliquely, and with great deference, the Jew approached the customs. Not too great a time having passed, he stood at the door. But to knock was with him, another thing. Time and time again he endeavored to raise his arm, but to little purpose. Finally, and after repeated attempts at failure, he succeeded in striking the door with a sufficient strength to make known his wants.

At the sound of the knock from the outside, a stentorian voice from within was heard to command, "Who stands at the door of his Majesty's Office of Passports?"

"A son of Israel, sir! a son of Israel, sir!" came back the Jew, "he wisheth to enter Bremen to see his kin. His passport readeth in order."

Immediately the door opened. There stood facing the young Jew, a tall, bully-looking Prussian.

"In the name of the German Gods!" instantly exclaimed the officer, "whence cometh the Jew?"

"From Berlin, sir! from Berlin, sir!" frankly returned the Jew, "the past seven days hath he been on the great highway. He desireth to enter Bremen. His passport readeth in order." (Continued in next issue.)

The Ladies' Aids met with Mrs. Jess Nichols on Park Ave. The ladies are doing some real work for the up keep of our Religious program.

The Official Board met in its regular monthly meeting, and many things were discussed in regard to the church life.

The Junior choir has been organized under the leadership of the pastor.

Mrs. Joe Browder is improving, after a very serious spell of sickness.

Dr. T. F. Thomson has returned from Missouri, where he attended his father's funeral. The church extends to him a hand of sympathy and prayer in his moments of grief.

Mrs. Jake Huddleston spent last Friday in Memphis.

Mrs. John Culver has been suffering with throat trouble. It is our prayer that she will soon be entirely well.

Several of our young people have returned to College, after spending the holidays vacation at home with parents and friends.

Don't forget to attend prayer meeting each Wednesday night at 7 o'clock in the church.

Mrs. Paul Hornbeak has been elected organist, due to the fact that Mrs. Dalton McWhorter resigned at the first of the month. Mrs. McWhorter has been loyal to her church and organ for many years. We welcome Mrs. Hornbeak, believing she will stand with the same sense of loyalty.

MAGRUDER HEADS BERRY GROWERS OF McCRACKEN COUNTY

Paducah, Ky.—S. C. Magruder, one of the most prominent berry growers in this end of the state, was elected president of the McCracken County Strawberries' Association at a general election of the organization held at the courthouse. The meeting to select the officers for the 1925 season was attended by nearly two hundred berry growers of the association.

The following members were elected as directors of the club for a period of three years: F. D. Gholson, of the Houser road; Lace Wren, of Kevil; and S. C. Magruder, of Heath. Other members are J. H. Bradford, J. W. Harris, Roy Spaulding, Charles Gholson, W. B. Hastings, of Marshall county, and W. A. Wurth of McCracken.

The organization re-elected Barger and Golightly as agents of the association, and selected E. S. Barger of the firm as secretary for the berry club.

The McCracken crop for this year promises to be a bumper one, according to reports at the meeting which said that a greater number of berry men will increase their acreage this season, which will offset the decreased yield believed to be caused this year on account of the prolonged drouth of last fall.

COMBS-DUNLAP

News has just reached Fulton from Phoenix, Ariz., that Mrs. Naomi Combs was married recently to Dr. Robert M. Dunlap in that city.

Mrs. Dunlap, before going to Arizona to reside, lived in Fulton and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Walston of Crutchfield. Her friends join us in extending congratulations.

CHARLES SMITHERSON DIED WHILE WAITING FOR TRAIN

While awaiting at the passenger station for his train to go to Mayfield early Sunday morning, Charles Smitherson, of St. Louis, died suddenly. While he had been ill for some time, no one dreamed of the end coming at that time. He was to visit his daughter at Mayfield and the sad ending was a shock to his relative and large circle of friends.

He was a brother of Mrs. Arch Gore of this city. Many friends join this paper in extending sympathy to the bereaved.

The Fulton Undertaking Co., prepared the remains for shipment and burial at Mayfield.

H. B. MULLIN PASSES AWAY AT MAYFIELD

Was Member of One of Most Prominent Graves County Families

Mayfield, Ky., Jan. 13.—After lingering between life and death since Friday morning about four o'clock, Henry B. Mullins, one of the most popular young men of the city and one of the leading salesmen for the Curlee Clothing company, St. Louis, for the past fourteen years, died at the Mayfield hospital this morning at 4:25 o'clock, of an attack of meningitis, which struck him just as he was on the eve of being discharged from the hospital following a mastoid operation.

Boone Abernathy, 45 years old, a former resident of near Dukedom, died suddenly afternoon at his home in Hickman following a few days' illness of pneumonia.

The friends and acquaintances of Cleo Cherry sympathize with him in the loss of his wife, who died at her home near the Fair grounds Monday. Funeral services were held at Knob Creek, interment following at Pinegar graveyard. Winstead & Jones had charge of the burial arrangements.

The friends and acquaintances of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lewis welcome their return to Fulton.

For County Attorney

We are authorized to announce Lon Adams as a candidate for re-election to the office of County Attorney, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election, August, 1925.

to expand as business grows.
There is every indication that we are entering a period of healthy growth that will run until the transportation requirements of the country are far greater than they ever have been before. The prospect places upon the railroads the duty of expansion for better service and upon the public the obligation to let the railroads realize net earnings that will make their securities attractive investments.

"The public wants a and should have from the railroads adequate, efficient service at the lowest cost consistent with adequacy and efficiency. It should always be borne in mind however, that adequacy and efficiency comes first."

Illinois Central Acquires A. & V. V. S. & P. UNDER LONG LEASE

The Illinois Central Railroad has acquired a long term lease of the Alabama & Vicksburg and Vicksburg Shreveport & Pacific Railways, and will take control of those lines immediately, subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The terms of the lease provide that the Illinois Central shall pay an annual rental equivalent to a six per cent dividend on the $4,200,000 capital stock of the Alabama & Vicksburg, Ry., and to a five per cent dividend on 2,856,500 common stock and $2,142,800 preferred stock, of the Vicksburg, Shreveport & Pacific Ry.
It will be recalled that the control of these railways, until recently was in the hands of British financiers, who had owned the lines since 1881.

Cupid Controls Train Opera- tion.

Cupid seems to control most anything he desires—even to fast trains. A young lady, speeding to New Orleans to be wed was left at a way station.
The second section of the train picked her up and the first section was held at Atlanta for 30 minutes awaiting her, so that the wedding bells might ring out at the appointed time.

LON ADAMS ANNOUNCES RE-ELECTION FOR THE OFFICE OF COUNTY ATTORNEY

In this issue will be found the announcement of Lon Adams, who announces for re-election for the office of County Attorney, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election in August, 1925.

In making his announcement to the public he is very modest.

At the last regular county election, Mr. Adams was elected County Attorney by a handsome majority and during his term of office has done everything in his power to maintain the confidence of the voters by filling the office to the very best of his ability. He has served the people faithfully and is now asking your endorsement with your vote in the August primary this year. He is too well known throughout the county to need an introduction from us, but for the benefit of the newcomer we will say that he is a full fledged Democrat of the Jeffersonian type. It may be that he will not get around to make a thorough canvass during the campaign as his duties will require the best of his attention, therefore he earnestly asks your consideration and solicits your support for re-election.

METHODIST CHURCH Rev. J. V. Freeman, Pastor

Sunday School 9:30 a. m.
Epworth League 6 p. m.
Prayer at 11 a. m. and 7
p. m. by the pastor.

Prayer meeting every Wednesday evening at 7 p. m.

There was quite an increase in attendance at Prayer meeting last week; also this week.
Mr. Joe Davis led Wednesday night. Be a booster for this service; come and bring one.

Warner Blackard society met Monday with Mrs. Will Whitnel and Mrs. Geo. Crafton at the home of Mrs. Crafton on Cedar Street. The meeting was called to order by President, Mrs. Griggs, and opened with song. Mrs. Griggs also conducted the devotionals.

After quite a lengthy business session, a good program was given by Mrs. J. C. Scruggs, assisted by Mrs. Joe Davis, who gave the bulletin message, also one from Mrs. Libscombe.
Mrs. Scruggs gave a leaflet entitled, "From the Female Centuries to the Present Day Sisterhood." The meeting adjournd to meet Jan. 25th with Mrs. T. Kramer and Mrs. R.
Wilkins.

The hostesses for the afternoon served delicious tea and sandwiches during the social hour.

Mrs. Paul Hornbeak spent the week end in Martin with friends and relatives.

Mrs. M. C. Payne is spending the winter in Florida.

Mrs. Chas. Brann continues ill at her home on State line.

Mrs. A. H. Mohundro leaves soon for an indefinite stay in California.

Mrs. T. K. Williams is leaving soon for McCombs, Miss., to join her husband where he was promoted to trainmaster. We regret to lose Mrs. Williams from the church circle but wish them well in their new home.

Mrs. Ed Slaughter leave-soon to visit her daughter, Mrs. Westland, in Texas.

Mrs. Yodie Hardin is spending a few days in Memphis this week.

Rev. J. M. Pickens, presiding elder of the Union City district called a meeting of the officers of the church, S. S. Sept.
Mr. Hornbeak, Pastor, Rev. J.
V. Freeman, Epworth League

President, Miss Nell Owen; Centenary Treasurer, Harry Murphy, Thursday afternoon in Union City.

Mrs. Kennedy is quite ill at her home on State Street.

The Methodist Missionary girls met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Hoyt Moore, in the parlors of the Southern Hotel.
Quite an interesting program was given and during the social hour delicious refreshments were served.

The Kate Luten Circle met in regular session at the home of Mrs. Chambers, Monday afternoon.

The devotionals were led by Mrs. P. R. Binford, who read and explained Matt. 25. Miss Addie Peoples led prayer, Mrs.
John Owen gave an excellent report on missions and costumes in Africa. The following officers were elected.

Mrs. Frank Barrett, chairman; Mrs. P. R. Binford, Sec.; Mrs. Moorehead, Treas.; Mrs.
Milner, Social Service Chairman; Mrs. J. Chambers, Membership Chairman; Mrs. Eli Bynum, solicitor for voice.

After the business session,
the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Women Hunt a Way to End War Menace

Eighty important organizations of women, comprising a membership of approximately five million, will hold a Conference in Washington, January 18-24, on "the cause and cure of war." Women are beginning to feel deeply their responsibility in the realm of war and peace and believe the time has come for all organized women to come together in a study of the subject. The conference at Washington hopes to find common points of interest which may serve as a basis for a more concerted effort on the part of the participating organizations. Thirty experts and specialists will address the Conference on subjects relating to the causes of war and proposed cures. These will be followed by open forums for adequate discussions of the matters presented. Two committees will endeavor to bring before the conference a program of work based on the findings of the discussion sessions. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt will preside at this conference.

TRINITY EPISCOPAL CHURCH 102 Washington St.

Second Sunday after Epiphany.

9:45 a. m. Church school.
Come and help in the Red and Blue Contest.

11 a. m. Holy Communion and sermon.

7 p. m. evening prayer and address.

Come and worship with us.
All are invited.

Mrs. Don Binford was visited by her brother last Sunday evening from Memphis, Tenn.

Thomas H. Chapman, our City Clerk, has been quite sick with the flu the last week but is better. Mrs. Chapman is caring for the city office in the absence of her husband.

Mrs. Boyd has been sick for a few days at the rectory with the flu. She is some better but weak from her late operation.

Robert Hubbard, who was quite ill at the Usona Hotel, is able to be at his office at the
I. C. R. R. Division Building.

The inclement weather last Sunday greatly diminished the school and church attendance, but we had a good representation for the day.

The Red and Blue contest in the Church school is progressing very well and already interest is growing and the rivalry is pleasantly conducted. So far both sides are almost a tie in merits.

With no one to take care of the home and Mrs. Boyd and the small daughter, the rector is forced to stay much at home, until a new servant can be obtained. Hence, his writing activities are reduced for the present.

The Parent-Teachers' Association met Tuesday afternoon at Carr Institute, and after the business session enjoyed a delightful program.

Beautiful Funeral Home of Fulton Undertaking Company, Incorporated

Fulton has a right to feel proud of the beautiful funeral home of the Fulton Undertaking Company, located at the corner of Third and Orr streets. Everything here has been provided for conducting funerals and caring for loved ones who have passed away.
The building is a large two-story with all modern conveniences, not only for a funeral home, but for residential purposes. A large living room and chapel, office, display rooms and other conveniently located rooms take up the first floor space, while the second story is made up into a splendid apartment occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Lowe.

The handsome displays in the show rooms of caskets, burial clothes, etc., are all characterized with the very latest models and styles of this line.
In the rear of the building fine funeral cars are kept with ambulance to give prompt service day or night. In fact, it is one of the most conveniently arranged and up-to-date funeral homes we know of in this section of the country.

Messrs. Dave Lowe and Amos Stubblefield are the funeral directors and embalmers, with efficient lady assistants.
Lowe and Stubblefield are too well known in this vicinity for us to attempt an introduction.
They are conducting their business on a high plane and are giving the public worthwhile service.
