Ballad of Dead Actors.

Where are the pastimes they enjoyed,

And where the joys they sought to find?

For laughing voices and for merriment,

O'er the world's stage, and for the world's end?

The actors are dead, and their voices are still,

And their joys are but a memory still.

The actors are dead, and their voices are still,

And their joys are but a memory still.

The actors are dead, and their voices are still,

And their joys are but a memory still.

The actors are dead, and their voices are still,

Mr. Robert W. H. has received an appointment as postal clerk, and will go to service in a few days. He does not know as yet what line he will be given.

There have been no further developments in the case of the infant found last Friday in the creek above Wood's mill. The matter is undergoing investigation and it is thought the truth will come out in a few days.

Mrs. Robert Ford died at her residence in Clarksville yesterday. She is the mother of Mr. J. F. Ford and John W. Ford, and has a host of friends to mourn her loss. Her funeral will be preached at the Methodist church this morning at 10 o'clock.

On Thursday, Dec. 17th, at the residence of Mr. J. B. Parrish, near Oak Grove, Messrs. Parrish and Williams will offer for sale their entire stock of farming implements, consisting of a lot of mowers, plows, hoes, and various implements of all descriptions. Terms made known on day of sale.

A man by the name of Creek, at Kenner's saw mill, beyond the poorhouse, had his hand severely cut by a buzz saw Tuesday. Dr. D. E. Bell was called to attend him. He found the man painfully wounded, though not dangerously. His hand was saved, almost entirely through the pain.

Mr. Jas. M. Howe, our well-known jeweler, has the handsomest stock of Christmas goods ever seen in Hopkinsville. His stock of ladies and gentlemen's gold watches and chains are beautiful. It is all the latest, and is being sold at exceedingly low prices.

Dec. 23, 1885, Robt. Royalty was killed by a train near the railroad track north of the city. His mother, Mrs. Royalty, is suing against the company for $20,000 damages. The case was set for trial at this term of court, but Thursday a compromise was effected, by which the plaintiff is to receive $1,200.

We publish today among our advertisements one from the Weekly American, published at Nashville. The American is one of the leading papers in the South, and its weekly made up from its front of the news, is full of fresh, instructive and entertaining matter. It is offering valuable premiums for clubs of subscribers to which it invites special attention.

Mr. Walter Garnett has been soliciting subscriptions for the benefit of the Young Men's Christian Association. He has already secured 150, and proposes to raise $500 before he stops. The funds are to be applied to furnishing reading rooms and parlors over Russell's store, corner Ninth and Main streets. Our citizens should subscribe liberally to this enterprise.

One of the most elaborate specimens of Christmas high art, for the edification of juveniles, displayed in the shop windows, has been introduced at Holand & Rodgers' in the shape of a state-of-the-art display of the splendor of toys and equipped with squirrels. The grounds are carpeted with moss, and a locomotive is in the shape of a tunnel, and the children are wild over it.

Last week the Court of Appeals decided the case of Brown vs. Ferrill. The records were sent up to Frankfort from this place November 28th, and a decision was reached December 1st, and the case is in the Court's hands for the appeal. This is a case of unusual celebrity in disposing of legal business.

Judge J. L. Landis was the attorney for one of the parties, and Judge G. A. Champlin for the other.

A visit to the store of Wilson & Galt, which has been built up by the carrying of an immense stock of holiday goods, is in abundance filled the ceiling and the sides of the room. A large assortment of fire-works, candles, and trinkets, give notice of the approaching holidays. These gentlemen keep a full display of family groceries, and their bakery and confectionery is complete in every detail. They have built up a large trade, and are now doing a heavy business in all the novelties of the season.

W. F. GARNETT Collector.

A. W. Chilcott, partner of Chilcott's Lock Lever Gate, has just returned from Monmouth, Ill., where he has done patent trading for the last ten months, and sold the State of Michigan while there. Mr. Chilcott comes to our town well recommended.

See the elegant display of Christmas goods at Howe's.

The Young Men's Christian Association has secured the rooms in the rear of Garnett & Long's office, over Russell's dry goods store, at a rental of $150 per annum. A committee on furnishing are at work to have the rooms in condition for occupancy by January 1st. Also a committee has been appointed to encourage Dr. A. E. Willits to deliver a lecture at some time in the future. About $250 have been raised for the benefit of the association.

Don't buy anything for Christmas presents until you have seen the attractions at Howe's Jewelry Palace. His stock surpasses anything in town.

The greatest consolation to one growing old, is the improved surroundings which comes with age, experience and wisdom. We are reminded of this fact by the appearance of the new season's stock of M. D. Kelley & Co., the celebrated jewelers of Detroit, Mich. They enjoy the enviable reputation of being the widest and best known firm, in any business in the United States. Millions of people, gardening both for profit and pleasure, have found ever increased satisfaction and delight in using their seeds. Every one desiring seeds of the highest type and best quality, should secure their annual. It is sent free on application.

The election of a city Council and city Attorney will take place Saturday. The election will be held in the city Courtroom, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Mr. C. V. Brown and Mr. S. D. Ballard, and Equine Alex Campbell and Judge. The other officers have not been appointed. The efficient service rendered the city during the past year by the present officers, is a sufficient guarantee that they are competent to further carry on the work of improvement, and we know of no reason why it would not be wise to re-elect them for another year. We have heard no objections to the Board as it now stands and it is likely they will be re-elected without opposition. No candidates are announced for city attorney.

A Wreck on the Road.

Thursday night about 8 o'clock the North-bound freight train No. 60 broke into two sections just as it passed over the bridge over Little River south of the city. At that point in the road the grade is very steep, and the forward section had only gone a short distance farther when it broke into two parts. One part of the train, consisting of the engine, and the middle section, ran back into the third section, causing quite a severe collision and throwing ten cars off the track. The stove in the caboose was overturned, but a tub of water near by was upset, which extinguished the fire before the flames could spread. Conductor Dyer was slightly injured, but no one else was hurt. A number of trains were delayed by the accident. The wreck was cleared away by 8 o'clock Friday morning.

AN INMATE.

An Infant Found Picked Up in the Creek Above Wood's Mill.

Friday morning about 9 o'clock a telephone message reached the city from a man who said that a child had been found floating in the creek near there. The news created quite an excitement. "Squire" Rogers went out immediately and returned with the remains in about an hour. The woman, containing the body of the infant, stood in front of Court-house, and soon an excited crowd gathered around to see the ghastly work of the inhuman parents. "Squire" Rogers quickly summoned a jury, who held an inquest over the dead body in his office.

The first witness called was J. A. Beach, who testified that he saw the child in the creek and saw it floating in the creek near there. The news created quite an excitement.
