FEUDISTS IN BATTLE IN PUBLIC ROAD

One Will Die As Result of Bullet Wound in Bowels.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 15.—Roy McNabb, of Compton, was brought to a hospital here for an operation for a bullet wound, and his coming has developed the fact that McNabb and the Rose brothers, several in number, with their allies, engaged in a general fight in the public road near Compton, in which McNabb was fatally shot in the bowels. Rose had his head beaten almost to a pulp with clubs, while other members of the families were beaten badly and severely injured.

Others had their clothing almost cut off their bodies. The men met in a public road and fought some time. An old grudge was the cause.

The men were warned that they were not wanted in this locality and demanded that they be sent back to Chicago.

WOODARD-TREVATHAM.

Jesse Woodard and Miss Eula Trevatham, prominent young people of Hickman county eloped to this city Sunday from their homes near Clinton. They were united in marriage at 11 o'clock at the residence of Magistrate J. T. Futrell. Both the bride and groom are handsome and prominent young people and are very popular in their home town. After the ceremony the happy couple returned home to receive the congratulations of their friends and the forgiveness of their parents.

The foundation of any and all institutions will crumble and decay unless upon solid ground. So will fail any business enterprise founded upon spite and because of personal dislike and envy. Are we right? Watch an see—time will prove the truth of it.

John Owen and wife and Mr. Langford drove over to Martin last night to attend a big revival. They went over in George Alley's auto and had a very pleasant trip.

HICKMAN TOURISTS RETURN HOME

Have Delightful Trip to Mammoth Cave and Enjoyed the Overland Trip in Automobiles

The party of Hickmanites who left their homes last Tuesday morning for Mammoth Cave were here last night enroute home. The trip was made in automobiles and all report a most pleasant time, with no accidents to mar their pleasure. At Owensboro the party were forced to abandon their cars and complete the journey by rail. After visiting the cave and exploring its innermost confines the party boarded a boat and returned to Owensboro by water. After sight seeing until their was nothing more new and interesting the automobiles were turned toward old Fulton county and the Glidden tour was resumed. The party left Hopkinsville Sunday morning at 9 o'clock and three of them reached here at 10 o'clock Sunday night. The three who came to Fulton did so unintentionally as they missed the road they had intended taking. Those who constituted the party were: Mr. and Will Baltzer and daughter, Thelma, Mr. and Mrs. Lowery Stone, Dr. Hubbard and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Coble, Miss Nell Rogers, Ocie Harris, Miss Mayme Naylor, Sam Luten and wife, Bob Tyler, Miss Ruby Brevard, Miss Louise Atwood, Miss Mabel Lyons, of Eddyville, Frank Smith and sister, Miss Aileen, of Martin.

WAS NO WEDDING

When train No. 101 rolled into the station Sunday evening a bevy of pretty girls and a number of smart young men were seen to emerge from one of the cars. They were a jolly crowd and the reporters around the depot were instantly on the alert thinking that a marriage ceremony would shortly be solemnized at the home of one or more of Fulton's marrying squires. Although they looked guilty they were not, as it developed that part of the crowd was bound for New York and the others merely came along to give them a good send-off. Those bound for the big city were, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Stunston, Misses Ruby and Winnie Winn, Miss Anna Mai Cannon and Mr. S. T. Day. Those who accompanied them were: Misses Nellie Winn, Grace Gardner, and Edna Smith; Messrs. Burt Smith, Reuben Burns, Jewel Taylor and Ocie Sullivan. One party returned home at mid-night and the other went on to New York.

VALENTINE-JOHNSON

Root has arrived from Birmingham and took charge of the persons and property. He is making investigations with Deputy Sheriff W. B. Scott, and other arrests may follow.

POLICEMEN REFUSE TO PROTECT CARS

Total of Fifty-Three Refuse to Protect Them Against Rioters.

Columbus, O., Aug. 15.—A total of 53 members of the Columbus police department have rebelled openly against Mayor Marshall's order to ride on street cars as a protection to the crews.

Tonight 20 men, employed as specials for strike duty, refused to obey the order. They were informed that by the act they had removed themselves from the service.

Thirty-three members of the regular force, who rebelled last night against the order, were suspended today. This will appeal to Safety Director McCune, who will dismiss all of them, as the mayor says none of them shall be connected with the department while he is chief executive.

HORRIBLE CRIME ALLEGED IN MADISON

Two Negroes and Brother of Mother of Child Are Accused of the Crime.

Jackson, Tenn., Aug. 15.—Ed Transon, a well known young planter, residing eight miles from Jackson, was placed under arrest together with his cousin, Transon Harris, and two negroes residing on the Transon farm, on the serious charge of murdering an infant about three weeks of age by burying it alive.

According to reports, a married sister of Transon, who, it is said, has been separated from her husband some time, is alleged to have given birth to a child several weeks ago. The child, according to statements of those who are acquainted with the facts, appeared to be doing nicely when it suddenly disappeared.

Sheriff Person and his deputies were informed of the occurrence and after investigation placed the above parties under arrest, bringing them to Jackson and incarcerating them in jail without bail. The investigation revealed the fact, that the infant had been buried alive when it was three weeks of age and the evidence against Transon of being guilty of the horrible crime, a brother of the child's mother, and possibly an accomplice or so, is very strong.

It is alleged that Transon sent two negroes for a post-hole digger and told them to dig a hole with the same and when this was done the infant was thrown into the hole while it was alive and was buried.

Transon refuses to talk regarding the matter. Transon is well known in Jackson and has a number of friends here among the younger men. He is about 30 years of age and has a good reputation. It is alleged that he is a member of the Ku Klux Klan and is thought to have been connected with the awful crime. The preliminary trial will be held some time next week.

NO MORE WHISKEY SHOWS

Memphis Authorities Order Signs and Bottles Removed.

Memphis, Tennessee, August 15.—Window displays of intoxicating beverages, and bars decorated with similar articles of drink, must no longer be found in Memphis. This edict has gone forth, and with disobedience trouble will begin to brew. Since the enactment of laws which made prohibition a statewide institution in Tennessee certain proprietors of soft drink establishments and wholesale dealers in drinks which refresh, and sometimes inebriate, have been in the habit of affecting window displays, and so had also choice assortment of the tantalizing, hypnotizing beverage artistically placed about their respective bars. This practice must stop. Notices have been quietly distributed down the line, and while there has been very little noise about it, the order is none the less forceful.

The attention of the administration has been most pointedly called to the fact that the law of the commonwealth of Tennessee is being flagrantly violated by the discovery of certain purveyors on Beale avenue who placed the liquid wares on the curb, together with a sign advertising the elegance and desirability of the article offered for sale, and in addition to the eulogy thus affixed offering to sell it at astonishingly low figures.

"PROSECUTE THEM" SAYS HARAHAN

President of Illinois Central Wants Grafters Punished.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 15.—"Prosecute criminally every man who was in the conspiracy through which the Illinois Central railroad was defrauded out of over $5,000,000, and let no guilty man escape punishment," is the sensational order issued in characteristic language by no less a personage than President J. T. Harahan himself.

"I wish every guilty conspirator to feel the yoke of the criminal statutes," emphasized President Harahan. "The railroad will co-operate to the fullest possible extent with the state's attorney's office. All the evidence collected by our army of detectives, proving absolutely the guilt of the conspirators, is at the full disposal of the prosecuting officers of the county, and the railroad will do everything additionally in its power toward the criminal prosecution of the guilty ones."

Conviction of many of the alleged grafters, whose prosecution will be begun tomorrow by State's Attorney Wayman, is made certain by President Harahan's attitude, announced Assistant State's Attorney J. A. Barnes, who has been conducting the investigation for Mr. Wayman in association with the sleuths of the Illinois Central corps.

New and sensational disclosures are expected to result from the first criminal hearings, and some of the men who are in peril of arrest are quoted as threatening to reveal facts unpleasant to the railroad. These men have shared with the public the belief that the railroad would not direct criminal action, and now that they face the court, they are highly perturbed.

The Illinois Central has a few more of its own disclosures yet to make. As dispatches from Jackson, Miss., indicated yesterday, detectives for the road have uncovered much graft in connection with the new road work on the new lines in the South. Murray would comment on the Mississippi report.

MRS. MARY EKDAHL LAID TO REST

Received Fatal Burns in Ft. Worth, and Body Was Brought Home
For Interment in Fairview.

The remains of Mrs. Mary F. Ekdahl, who was fatally burned Friday in Ft. Worth, Texas, were brought to Fulton last night by her son, Karl, with whom she has resided for the past four years.

A number of friends were at the depot to meet the funeral party and to accompany the remains to the home of Harry Ekdahl.

The funeral services will be held this afternoon at the residence, Rev. Hamp McLesky, officiating.

At the time of the fatal accident Mrs. Ekdahl was alone in her home and no one knows just how the tragedy occurred. The Ft. Worth Record, of Saturday, contains the following version of the tragedy:

"Mrs. Mary Ekdahl, mother of Karl Ekdahl, manager of the Ft. Worth offices of the William Cameron Lumber company, was probably fatally burned at the family residence, 1550 College avenue, at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. Mrs. Ekdahl was alone at the time of the accident."

Mrs. Ekdahl was filling an oil stove in the kitchen at the residence and to avoid soiling her dress she had tied the oil can with a rag, which became saturated with the oil. Lighting the stove she held the rag in her hand. It suddenly became ignited from the flames. Frightened, she dropped the rag to the floor, and in an instant her dress was in flames.

Almost overcome with fright, Mrs. Ekdahl ran into the yard, where she threw herself in the grass, rolling over and over frantically in the endeavor to extinguish the flames. Fanned by a stiff breeze, the flames swiftly spread over her, eating the dress from her body and almost burning her hair from her head.

Carpenters working on a nearby residence who saw Mrs. Ekdahl when she ran from the house came to her rescue, saving her from death. She was taken into the residence and physicians summoned. It was feared at an early hour this morning that she would not recover, as she was badly burned from head to feet. Mrs. Ekdahl has been a resident of this city for several years and was prominent in social circles. Her son, Karl, is manager of the William Cameron Lumber company in this city and well known here.

RETURN FROM LAKE.

A jolly crowd of young people from the Palestine neighborhood and from Cayce went down to Samburg, on Reelfoot Lake last Tuesday to spend a week camping and fishing. The park at Samburg affords an ideal place for camping. There are box ball alleys and other places of amusement where the campers can enjoy themselves when it is too warm to go out on the lake. The people from Palestine always have fine times when they make their annual visit to the lake and this was no exception to the rule—unless more fun was had.

Those in the fishing party (Not a fish was caught) were Misses Kate and Lura Milner, Miss Myrtle Burnett, Miss Jessie Wall, of Cayce, Miss Ina Cashion, of Paducah, Messrs. Ethel Browder, Luther, Hewitt, Harry Lawrence, Raymond and Paul Hewitt, Kelly Browder, Cecil Burnett; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newgent and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Burnett chaperoned the party.

Constipation Cure Free

With the first signs of constipation you resort to the home methods of relief, such as hot or cold water on arising, lots of stewed fruit with your breakfast, etc., but what do you do when these fail?

The majority then start on salts and purgative waters, then change to cathartic pills, etc. If you have gone through these various stages you know they were all useless, for far as permanent results go. Now you should try just once again, but try something practical and sensible, a remedy made and intended for the purpose to be permanent in its results. Its ingredients are such that by a brief use of it the stomach and bowel muscles are trained to again do their work normally, so that in the end you can do away with medicines of all kinds. That it will do this Mr. G. Y. Dodson of Sanville, Va., will gladly attest, and so will Mrs. S. A. Hampton of Portage, O. To those who are still skeptical there is a way to prove these assertions without a penny of expense: Simply send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell and obtain a free sample bottle. After using it, if you are then convinced it is the remedy you need, buy a fifty-cent or one dollar bottle of your druggist and continue to use it for a brief time until cured. The directions are simple and the dose is small. It is pleasant to the taste, does not gripe and is promptly effective, and these statements are guaranteed or money will be refunded.

This remedy is over a quarter of a century old and is personally taken by more druggists than any other similar remedy on the American market. Because of its effectiveness, purity and pleasant taste it is the ideal laxative remedy for children, women and old folks generally. Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For further request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Dysentery is a dangerous disease that can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been successfully used in nine epidemics of dysentery. It has never been known to fail. It is equally valuable for children and adults, and when reduced with water and sweetened, is pleasant to take. Sold by all dealers.

EDWARD TAYLOR HEYWOOD, JR.

Edward Taylor Heywood, Jr., the bright little five months' old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Heywood, of Durant, Miss., died Sunday morning at Samburg, Tenn., where he had been taken for the benefit of his health. The little fellow had been suffering with stomach trouble for several weeks and his fond parents took him to the mountain resort. His health carried him to Samburg a week ago. Despite the best medical attention and the loving care of fond parents the little sufferer gradually grew worse and died yesterday.

The little body was brought to Fulton last night and conveyed to the home of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Heywood where it remained until this afternoon when it was shipped to Durant to be laid to rest beside a little sister who died several months ago.

In it's beautiful little casket the child, with it's waxen features, looked like a big sleeping doll.

The aggrieved parents have the sympathy of the entire community in this second bereavement which robs their home of the last child.

Mrs. M. B. Baker was a visitor in Cairo Sunday.

Jack Gadsby and wife returned home last night from a week's visit in Chicago.

WILL GIVE CASH PRIZES OF $30,000

"SPECIALS" WILL SWELL KENTUCKY STATE FAIR PREMIUM LIST BY MANY THOUSANDS.

PREPARATIONS RAPIDLY PUSHED

Everything Points to Record Breaking Exhibition and Attendance for Big Show of 1910.

With an investment of approximately $300,000 in buildings and grounds and a record of seven successive annual exhibitions before it, the Kentucky State Fair will begin in Louisville on September 12 and continue throughout the week. The bright promise is given that the turnstiles will click this year on one of the greatest state fairs in America. Hard and unceasing work on the part of the board of managers, the fair officials and employees, for many weeks past is rapidly bringing to completion all plans and arrangements for the exhibition.

While no new buildings have been erected since last year's fair, there will be ample accommodations for exhibitors and visitors. Nature has worked wonders in the beautiful 150-acre plot occupied as a fair site, and the Kentucky show is rapidly gaining distinction as the most beautiful state fair in America. Under the landscape gardener's care the grounds have been adorned with shrubs, new walks and avenues have been laid out, and the trees planted when the site was first selected have grown to shade producing proportions. The system of illumination has been extended so that every nook and corner of the grounds will be brilliantly lighted each night of the show week. Those who have watched the progress of work on this year's exhibition venture the opinion that the attendance, which last year reached high-water mark, will this year be increased by thousands.

Cash prizes aggregating about $30,000 have been hung up in premiums for the 1910 fair. In many instances the prizes have been increased over former years, and many additional classifications have been made. More attractive than ever will be the "special prizes," which this year will aggregate between five and ten thousand dollars.

Aside from the thousands of dollars received in cash by exhibitors there comes a yet greater prize—the distinction of an award from the Kentucky State Fair. The sentimental and exploiting value of such an award has now grown until it is one of the most coveted prizes sought for by those who may be described as professional exhibitors in the country's largest agricultural exhibitions. It is not possible to put an estimate on the prestige and distinction that accompany a prize from the state fair of a commonwealth recognized as the head of the horse world, as one of the foremost live stock states, and as an agricultural community with few superior in the Union.

As heretofore, excursion rates from a territory within a radius of 300 miles of Louisville will prevail throughout the entire fair period. Every local arrangement has been made for the quick and safe handling of the crowds and ample accommodations at reasonable rates are assured to all visitors to Louisville during the state fair week.

NATIELLO'S GREAT BAND.

Kentucky State Fair Management Announces Important Engagement for This Year's Show.

Sig, Ernesto Natello's famous band has been engaged for the Kentucky State Fair of 1910, and will be heard in two grand concerts each day. There are some sixty musicians in this great organization, and the band is ranked among the most prominent bands in America. Free concerts will be given in a band stand near the pavilion each afternoon and night, and Natello and his musicians will also be heard during the horse show and hippodrome performances. In addition, two bands have been engaged to provide music for the races and render concert programs during each afternoon and evening.

As a courtesy to the thousands of visitors to the state fair grounds on the day preceding the opening of the fair, the state fair management has arranged for two sacred concerts on Sunday afternoon and evening, September 11. Last year something like 10,000 persons visited the fair grounds on the Sunday immediately before the opening of the big show. This fact led the management to close a contract with Sig. Natello for two grand sacred concerts on Sunday. Hundreds of visitors from out in the state reach Louisville on Saturday and Sunday before the opening of the fair and they will have the advantage of this additional entertainment.

Bro. Bishop has been in the gospel missionary work in Japan for the past ten years and is now back making a tour in the United States and Canada, in the interest of the missionary cause. "All Djevad Bey called upon Abdul Hamid and handed him the fetva."—Cable dispatch.

They didn't tie a can to him
Nor give him the x. b.
When they divulged their plan to him
Twas plain for him to see
They did not have a skid for him
Nor hold a lemon out.
The little message did for him
Without the slightest doubt—
They handed him a fetva.

The marble glance was turned on.
They had no icy mitt.
There was no language turned on—
They would not think of it.
They did not swiftly fling him out.
No put him on the skid.
Nor with objections fling him out—
But this is what they did:
They handed him a fetva.

Son, when your genial ass to you
Observes that you are through,
It is no double cross to you
Nor even a "skidoo," you
You're not on the toboggan slide
Nor getting "twenty free."
Just let this through y' nose a slide:
It's plain as plain can be
He's handing y' a fetva.

When some coquettish sweet young thing
Says to take back your ring,
The fair and lovely, neat young thing
Does not give you a sting;
She does not mean "be on your way,"
Nor that your cake is dough,
But after you have gone your way
The chances are you'll know
She's handed you a fetva.

Overheard by little Henry.
Unkel Bill sez he sez a young man with a safety pin in his necktie that the young mans ma is still dressin him.

Mister Jones sez hisside is better than foreseite if you go at evrything backwards.

My pa sez when a woman goes to a millinery opening within 2 days she will either think her husband is a brute or a angel.

Grandpa sez he dont kno which to be sorriest for the rich man with the fullah son or the fullah son with the rich pa.

Willie Smith sez he would run away with a circus if it never played anywhere except rite here at home.

Dokter Ferguson sez lots of children

Inherit there parents indigestion be-cos there parents buy cheap candy.

Unkel Bill sez the only way to keep on bein a bachelor is to tell one woman that all the other women are pritty.

My pa sez sum people will ride a free hors to deth, and they hav a hobby thay will almost talk evrybody else to deth.

My ma sez when a man sheds tears at the sad things on the stage it is a sine he will tell his wife to laugh at her troubles at home.

My teacher sez we should take sum grate man as our moddle, but the trubble is nt meny grate men die sune enuff to be grate very long.

A Technical Evasion.
"How is his, madam?" asks the stern judge. "Do you not know it is against the law to wear a hat that is more than eighteen inches wide?"

"Certainly, your honor," she replies, tartly.

"Then why do you object because the officer created you, as was his duty?"

"Because if the big chump had taken the pains to look he would have seen that I am wearing two hats instead of one. There's no law providing the number of hats a woman can wear, is there?"

Placing Him.
"Something tells me," declares the young max with the deep-set eyes and the pretty hair, "that I have known you in a previous existence."

"Ah," says the young woman, wearily, "and did I give you a penny while you sat on the hand organ, or did I feed you peanuts in the park?"

FULTON'S GREATEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM

the Fulton Commercial & Farm Journal That Circulates Throughout This Entire Section.

Only those who advertise in the Fulton Commercial & Farm Journal know its real worth as an advertising medium. Why? Because it goes into nearly every home in a radius of twenty-five miles of Fulton and is read by at least 5,000 people every week. Therefore, quick results follow. The Commercial is doing more to bring trade to Fulton than all other combined sources. The Commercial is recognized by the people of the surrounding country as the best paper ever published in Fulton. It contains not only all the home news, but gives a summary of the news of the nation.

The majority of people who live in Fulton do not realize what such a paper is to the town, but if they place an advertisement in its columns they can readily see the results. Go out in the country and see for yourself how the Commercial stands in the rural districts. Call at the Commercial office on Lake street and ask for a copy of the paper and you will get twelve pages brimful of news and advertisements of Fulton's progressive merchants who have learned long ago that it was an uphill business to get the cream of trade unless they advertised their wares and let the people know when they have bargains for them.

If your advertisement is not in the Commercial that accounts for dull times around your place. Perhaps you do not have an opportunity to get up your advertisements. If that is the case let us get them up for you. Twenty years experience along that line and the constant study of advertising places us in a position to shape your advertising in an attractive way. Try us.

SHE WAS WARNED

"I've discovered it," announced the young man, sitting on the end of the small seat behind the palms and ferns.

"What?" asked in alarm the pretty girl who sat next him. "Is there too much powder on my nose, or do you think this is a last year's party dress made over? Because it isn't!"

"Nothing so banal," said the young man. "I don't quite know what banal means, but I like the sound of the word. No, what I've discovered is your New Year's resolution! You resolved to make me as miserable as possible!"

"How funny!" cried the pretty girl. "You aren't rehearsing for a parlor play or anything like that, are you?"

"Why should you jest with me?" the young man asked, reproachfully. "I don't have to rehearse set speeches with you—my remarks are spontaneous. They bubble forth of their own accord without any effort or control on my part."

"I should think it would make you terribly nervous," sympathized the young woman. "Never knowing what you were going to say, I mean. Why, you are likely to make all sorts of rash assertions or promises—and it's so hard to explain to people afterwards!"

"I'm never that way with anyone but you," explained the young man. "Oh, well, it's all right, then," said he girl. "Of course I never pay any serious attention to what you say!"

"I'm quite aware of that fact," said the young man. "It's the thing which really worries me. I think you do it on purpose, as I said before, just to keep me unhappy."

"Why," said the young woman in a pained tone, "I wouldn't make a fly unhappy if I could avoid it!"

"Of course you wouldn't," said the young man. "There aren't any flies at this time of year, and you know it. Besides, I'm not at all interested in the emotion of flies. What is engaging my attention wholly at present is the state of my own feelings, and they are what you might call harassed. Or harrowed."

"You speak as if you were a cornfield," remarked the pretty girl. "What have I ever done to you?"

He shook his head gravely. "I couldn't begin to tell you in the limited time at our disposal," he said. "Believe me, if you had a particle of sympathetic tenderness in your nature you would know without any definite arrangement. Your conscience would be curling up in agony and making you so uncomfortable that you couldn't avoid saying, 'This is the result of my inhuman treatment of that deserving young man! It serves me perfectly right!'"

"You have plenty of self-conceit, haven't you?" remarked the young woman, with interest.

"Well," admitted the young man, "I couldn't stand being with myself so much if I didn't admire me. And really I'm an exceptional young man. I don't see why you shouldn't be kind to me. It isn't as though I went home Saturday nights and beat my mother and broke the furniture. I tell you I'm a worthy—"

"Well," cried the pretty girl, "what can I do more? Am I not sitting here in a secluded corner devoting my time and thought to you when the next waltz has started and there's a distracted man out there searching for me?"

"Exercise is good for him," declared the young man. "He'll feel better for a half-dozen sprints around the room. It's Spangden, I suppose. It must be Spangden, because every time I've seen you this evening you've been lancing him—"

"I have not!" denied the pretty girl. "Well, deny it if you choose," said the young man, with stern sadness. "One can't always believe what one sees. That's why I said you had resolved to see how miserable you could make me. Every time I saw you with Spangden I rushed off and pounded my head against the wall in baffled fury. If you keep it up there's no telling what will happen to me."

"As though it made any difference," scoffed the pretty girl, getting to her feet and shaking out her skirts.

"You don't know anything about it," said the young man with tremendous gloom. "Isn't that Spangden coming for you now? Oh, this is adding insult to injury!"

"We part friends, I hope?" said the young woman, with a prettily worried arch to her eyebrows.

"On the surface, yes," said the young man. "For your sake I promise not to dash out from behind the palms and things and strangle Spangden before he reaches you. But, girl, beware!"

"I think you're perfectly lovely!" laughed the pretty girl. "This talk has been real fun!"

"For you, perhaps?" amended the young man, darkly. "Hello, Spangden!"

A Trained Rooster.
Walter Adams, of Skowhegan, has a rooster which has been trained to do many odd and interesting things. The bird comes at Mr. Adams's call and when told to crow puts its head on one side and sends out a ringing challenge. Mr. Adams has trained the rooster to jump through his hands, and after he does any trick he is as proud as a child would be and will immediately crow. The rooster appears to delight to have his picture taken and will stand on a box or table and pose in a very knowing way.

GIVING UP TO DICK

Im so glad to see you, Margaret," said the girl in the blue silk kimono, looking up languidly from the lounge. "Put your wraps on the bed. I've always felt that you and I were kindred spirits and now I know we are since you divined that I was dying to see you. By the way, I'm not going to Agnes's party to-night. I've given up society."

"As befits a good church woman during Lent, Betty," Margaret returned, sinking into a rocking chair.

"I'd almost forgotten it is Lent," Betty confessed, plumping up a pillow behind her head.

"What makes you look so dismal? Didn't Dick call last night?" Margaret asked.

"All his things, even the dear little cigarette he gave me the first night we met, I've made into a package to return to him," declared Betty, tragically. "It has been such a trying ordeal that I simply had to lie down."

"Tell me all about it, my dear," Margaret urged.

Just after Christmas," Betty began, "I happened to say to Dick—I mean Mr. Blount—that I liked calendars—I mean a certain calendar. It happened this way: We were going to the theater and he had to stop at his office for something. Over his desk hung a calendar with the picture of a woman entitled, 'The Girl I Love.'"

Of course it was an idealized subject and really she wasn't in the least pretty, but just to show that I was not jealous and that I was glad to know some interest in Mr. Blount's surroundings I said, 'What a perfectly beautiful calendar!'"

"He seemed quite pleased with my admiration and the next night he brought the calendar to me."

"Well, John Knight called the next evening. When he saw the calendar he said at once that he had a beauty, which he would bring to hang alongside it. He said he was glad to know I liked calendars, because he liked them, too. You know, Margaret, I never can bear to hurt another's feelings, so I permitted John to believe that I longed to own his calendar also."

"Perhaps I may have added, when he hung it up beside Mr. Blount's, that I rather preferred the subject of it to the other."

"Bert Waldron called Sunday afternoon. He said he didn't know I was fond of calendars. He added that he had two beauties in his office which he'd send up on Monday. A messenger boy brought them next day, together with a lovely big bouquet of violets. Yesterday was Monday, wasn't it? Oh, it seems ages ago. Well, of course I hung Bert's calendars beside the other two."

"Shortly afterward Prof. Morton dropped in with a piece of music which he promised me. When he saw the calendars he said if he had known I cared so much for such things he would have sent me the one in his studio, which he greatly prized because it reminded him of me. What could I say but that I should be delighted to own the calendar?"

"We were just hanging it over my desk last night when Mr. Blount called. You will never believe how dreadfully he acted. I was glad the professor could remain only a few minutes—he was on his way to play at a recital. After he had gone, Mr. Blount said he'd like to punch that old fool's head."

He went on to say that he didn't know I had a craze for calendars or he'd have sent me a hundred. He said that after all the admiration I had wasted on his horrid calendar and the interest I had taken the trouble to show in his business!

It will always be to my credit that I smiled sweetly and amiably while he was making his unkind remarks. By way of changing the subject I asked him if he didn't think Bert's violets were lovely.

"I never before realized how rude Mr. Blount is. When I asked him that innocent question, he sprang to his feet and, still with calendars on his mind, positively roared out that his office boy had a calendar which doubtless I would be pleased to add to my collection and he would send it up. Then he went away without even holding my hand for the briefest moment."

"The calendar came a little while ago, a picture of a dreadful-looking creature called 'The Coquette.' I'm sure I can't imagine why Mr. Blount should have thought I'd like to add that to my collection. As a matter of fact, it's burning up in the furnace with the other calendars and all my dreams."

"Life is over for me, Margaret. I shall never speak to Mr. Blount again."

"Please, Miss Betty, it's Mr. Blount calling you on the phone," interposed a white-capped maid at this moment. Betty sprang to her feet and flew out of the room. When she returned her eyes were shining.

"It was Dick," she said. "The dear boy! He's going to take me to Agnes's party to-night and wants me to wear my blue gown. Dick just loves me in blue."

"I thought—" Margaret began, slowly.

"As I explained to Dick over the telephone," Betty went on hurriedly, "as it is Lent, I feel I ought not to indulge longer in uncharitable thoughts against any one. It is splendid discipline, during Lent, to give up having one's own way; that's why I've given up to Dick."

"How sweet of you!" said Margaret, smiling to herself.

WEAK KIDNEY MAKE WEAK BODIES.

Kidney Diseases Cause Half the Common Aches and Pains of Fulton People.

As one weak link weakens a chain so weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking down.

Overwork, strains, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and when their activity is lessened the whole body suffers from the excess of uric poison circulated in the blood.

Aches and pains and languor and urinary ills come, and there is an ever increasing tendency towards diabetes and fatal Bright's disease. There is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help.

Don's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys and cure every kidney ill.

No need to take the statement of some one living far away as evidence. J. F. Edleman, barber, Pleasant Port, Ky., says: "Anyone who follows my occupation requires a good, sound back for the long hours spent at the chair, bring a strain on the muscles of the loins. I was in pretty bad shape and could not work with any degree of comfort. Don's Kidney Pills were finally brought to my attention and willing to try anything that might check my trouble, I procured a box at Irby Bros' Drug Store. They quickly relieved the pain and corrected the trouble with the kidney secretions."
