MURRAY, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, AUGUST 2, 1911.

$1.00 THE YEAR

TEACHERS INSTITUTE TO BEGIN MONDAY MORNING

Superintendent Has Planned Most Interesting Meeting for Connty's Educators--Attendance is Compulsory.

The Calloway Teachers Institute begins Monday with Prof. R. M. Shipp, of Winchester, instructor.

Miss Lucile Grogan, county superintendent has been at work for months preparing for the institute and it is expected that the most successful meeting of teachers ever held in the county will result.

Besides the instructor some of the foremost educators in the South will be present.

The establishment of a small library in every school house in the county will be one of the most interesting topics that will be discussed. This subject will be a special feature for Friday and in order to stimulate interest in the movement Miss Grogan has offered prizes to the schools that have the best representation at the institute on that day. The superintendent makes the following appeal to teachers, pupils and patrons:

The superintendent is exceedingly anxious to have a library in every district in the county, and is appealing through the teachers to the various districts for help in this good work. The interest manifested by each individual district can be ascertained by the results of the case. Let me say to the teachers that the result of this attendance from your district on the last day of institute will tell largely on the effort you put forth in having the very best representation possible from your school.

Any parent sufficiently interested in the welfare of his children and the youth of his community will enjoy the privilege of bringing his children and furnishing conveyance for others who are less fortunate.

Remember parents this is for the benefit of your child, individually. Help your teacher, when she appeals to you for help; don't look upon it as the other fellow's business because he has more children than yourself. Work for the good of others and you will be rewarded for it. Don't listen to knockers, none have ever amounted to anything here. Listen to the people who are trying to do something for the benefit of the rising generation--to the people who are striving to lift the standard of education and pave the way to a better citizenship for our county, state and nation. This class of people includes the teachers. It rests largely with them what the girls and boys of today will be in the future.

The kind of instructions they give and the kind of literature they have placed in their schools will largely determine the course of the girls and boys under their instruction. For this reason teachers should be careful of the example they set, careful of their moral conduct and doubly careful of the literature they allow their pupils to read. Children's minds must be fed. They will read, and too often they read that which is detrimental rather than uplifting. The dime counter is always accessible and oftentimes books find their way into the home that are nothing more than trashy novels, "tip tops" containing a few cheap jokes that will interest the girl or boy by a few witty expressions and slang phrases. These books contain no moral, and are absolutely unfit for the children to read. But how can we prevent their reading such trash?

Only by disposing of the bad and replacing with that which is good. Since it is impossible for the teacher to place good books in every home, the error can only be corrected by placing them in the school and insist on the pupils taking these books into their homes and when their lessons are prepared devote their time and attention to such reading as will be helpful to them in more ways than it is possible to take time and space to tell here. The thing to get before you is simply this: The absolute necessity of having good books for your children to read.

Why not help your teacher by contributing liberally when she calls on you?

Having been a teacher for ten years, I realize that the channel by which we reach the parents, is through the children. Get the children interested and they will interest the parents, then the teacher will have little trouble in raising the funds for a library or accomplishing any other good work. For this reason I urge that the parents make arrangements for their children to meet the teachers on Friday of institute week when an entire period will be given to the discussion of school libraries.

Operating with teachers in order to accomplish any great good. Could everyone only realize what the results of such a meeting might mean to us in the future, I feel sure that no means would be left untried to secure a good attendance from every district. Besides this, the sanitary condition of our school houses and school grounds should be better looked after in our county and if the teachers and pupils do not interest themselves in regard to these conditions the parents will not, hence it is all left undone and positively unhealthy conditions exist in many districts in our county, today that could be remedied and ever after avoided with just a little precaution.

The superintendent hopes to have Mrs. Weaver, who is employed by the State Department to assist in the work of organizing a school improvement league in every district in the county. It is essentially necessary that the children assist the teacher in the work and for this reason, Mrs. Weaver will be requested to be present on Friday. Now let everybody assist in this years institute and help to accomplish more good than here before. Teachers, I appeal to you the success of this institute rests with you. Will you make it a success or a failure? Lucile Grogan

LAWS GOVERNING ATTENDANCE UPON INSTITUTE.

Every teacher of a common school, including teachers of the graded common schools in cities of the fifth and sixth classes, who hold a state diploma, state certificate or county certificate, or who contemplate applying for a certificate of qualification to teach in the common schools shall attend the full session of the institute in which home county, unless he is teaching another county in which the institute is yet to be held, or has attended the institute of a county in which he has a contract to teach. If teaching in a county other than his home county, whose institute is yet to be held he must attend the full session of the latter. The county superintendent shall revoke the certificate of any teacher who shall fail or neglect to attend the full session of the institute, unless the superintendent shall be fully satisfied that such failure has been caused by actual sickness or other disability. After the county institute has been held, it shall be unlawful to grant any person a certificate to teach at any time during that school year, unless the said person shall have attended the full session of the institute of that or some other county during the school year, or unless the county superintendent shall be fully satisfied that the failure to attend the institute has been caused by sickness or other disability. During the institute, there shall be a suspension of all the schools as are in session, but no reduction of the teachers' salary shall be made on account of such suspension. The time of actual attendance upon the institute in days and parts of days shall be accredited to the teachers, if institute be held during the session of his school. At the close of the institute, the county superintendent shall give to each teacher or other person in attendance a certificate of the number of days and parts of days that the teacher or other person has attended, which certificate of attendance shall be filed by the teacher with the chairman of the division board of education of the district, who shall make report thereof to the county superintendent at the time of reporting the school. (Ky. Stat., Sec. 4510 as amended Chap. 35, acts 1906.)

VARDAMAN WINS.

James K. Vardaman received more votes than both his opponents, Alexander and Percy. Bilbo was elected lieutenant-governor. This was the most exciting political contest ever held in that State.

RESTRICTS CUPID TO COOK.

The spoon that stirs the soup is the symbol of domestic felicity and the husband should learn to use it as well as the wife. This bit of wisdom fell from the lips of Municipal Judge Goodnow, when he was called upon to censure a man who, unable to cook, had forced his wife to arise at 3:30 a.m. to get his breakfast. The judge himself is a good chef, and is proud of his ability. "The man who can't cook should not think of getting married," said Judge Goodnow. "He is a pitiable object. Let the June bride beware of her husband if he cannot toss the piping flapjack or coax the flavor from the carrot to the soup. Likewise, let the June bridegroom think well before he enters married life without a practical working knowledge of cooking. 'Let the groom jump cheerily from bed, tell the wife to snuggle comfortably in the blankets and then let him go down and turn out a mess for himself and wind up by carrying her a cup of chocolate before he hikes for the 7:15. I have done that many times, and I am proud of it.'"

Easy on Shoe Leather.

(Harrsburd Herald.) Newspaper notices are telling of Frank Emerson, a Maine man, who is the owner of a pair of shoes which he has had for twenty years, using them mostly for Sunday. Mr. George Nichols, of this county, can double discount this. He tells us that he has a pair of boots made for him by Mr. J. A. Henderson in 1881. He used them constantly for fifteen years on the farm, and then laid them away for Sunday use.

A 200 acre farm in Hickman county sold this week for $11,600. It was known as the Featherstone farm.

BACK TO THE OLD HOME.

Hon. J. Pat Holt, of Memphis, who was born and reared in Murray has returned here and will shortly open a law office in Murray and engage in the practice of his profession. In the language of the poet "a man's home is where his heart is," and we opine that Pat's return to Murray is largely a matter of sentiment, and that he desires to spend the remainder of his life upon his native heath, far away from the weary grind and the strenuous life of the city. Memphis has treated him well, and at different times he has represented that constituency in the legislature. As practitioner, editor and politician he has measured arms with the best talent in the South and he stands high in the Bluff City as a citizen and lawyer. But the lure of the home of his fathers is the magnet that has drawn him back to us. The bar and the people generally will extend to him a hearty welcome, and it goes without saying that he will within a short time build up a clientele commensurate with his expectations.

OBITUARY.

Sister Adaline Graham was born May 8 1848. Died June 15 1911. Aged sixty-three years, one month and seven days. She was married to Mr. H. M. Graham November 8 1877 and to this union were born four children, two of whom preceded her to the grave. Besides the two children she leaves four step brothers and a host of friends to mourn for her. Very early in life sister Graham sought and took her to the beautiful home in which she has been laying up treasures the many years of faith hope and labor. She wanted to leave a comforting thought to the loved ones left behind and just before she crossed over the river she said there is nothing in the way. This is not only a comforting thought, but it is witnessing to the fact that Jesus can and will keep the way clear that it may grow brighter and brighter all the way. Sister Graham will be missed in her church and in the sick room of her neighborhood, for in either place she was at home, and at her post of duty. But now she has joined the throng in the city of God and those who are resting from their labor and whose works do follow them. The funeral was conducted by the writer and the body laid in the West Fork cemetery to await the Resurrection.

Rev. S. B. Rudolph.

MISSED SOMETHING.

A Perthshire farmer on his way home from market one day suddenly remembered that he had forgotten something, but what he could not recall says the National Monthly.

As he neared home the conviction increased, and three times he stopped his horse and went carefully through his pocketbook in a vain endeavor to discover what he had missed. In due course he reached home and met his daughter, who looked at him surprised and asked: "Why, father, what have you done with mother?"

High Bridge, erected at a cost of $1,000,000 across the Kentucky River by the Queen and Crescent Route, has been completed. It stands 320 feet above low water mark. The north approach is now being graded, and as soon as this work has been completed the new wonder will be ready for traffic.

Mr. S. D. Thomas, of Graves county, visited his son, Mr. Monroe Thomas last week.

THE OLD SUMMER GIRL.

Backward, turn backward, oh Time in your night, and give us a maiden dressed proper and right.

We are so weary of switches and rats, bally Burke clusters and peach basket hats. Wads of jute hair in a horrible pile stacked on their heads to the height of a mile. Something is wrong with the maidens we fear. Give us the girls as they used to appear. Give us the girls we once knew of yore, whose curls didn't come from a hair dressing store.

Maidens who dressed with a sensible view. And just as Dame Nature intended them to. Give us a girl with her figure her own, and fashioned divinely by nature alone. Feminine styles getting fiercer every year--Oh, give us the girls as they used to appear. Sterling Journal.

TEXAS PROHIBITIONISTS.

The following statement was given out by chairman Thomas H. Ball, of the State-wide:

"The complete returns will likely show an anti-prohibition majority of less than 5,000 votes. The law passed by the last Legislature provides for a contest of the election by either side if they are dissatisfied with results through fraud or illegal voting or irregularities that would effect the result.

"Of course, I am not in a position to say whether or not the prohibitionists will contest. That can only be determined by a conference with the friends of the cause.

"I am sure, however, that the question will be taken either in the State or in the courts."

It appears from the reports received that large numbers of negroes and Mexicans and a large element who do not pay their poll taxes have used poll tax receipts paid by themselves or paid for them and that the election result has thereby been determined adverse to State-wide prohibition.

"The local prohibitionists have voted larger majorities for State wide than for local prohibition, just as we claimed.

"I advise deliberation and action, and that prohibitionists consider and proceed to solve the great question of how constitutions should be made with patriotic and thoughtful purpose."

DEATHS

Mr. Lafayette Barber Passes Away--Deaths in Other Counties.

Mr. Lafayette Barber died at his home on Institute street in Murray last Friday morning at three o'clock, at the age of 73. Mr. Barber was a pioneer resident of Calloway. He served throughout the war as a Federal soldier and the veterans on both sides held him in high esteem. As a farmer and business man he amassed a comfortable estate. He served four years as postmaster of Murray and his administration was without fault. He was a devout man and held membership with the Methodist church.

Deceased is survived by a wife and one son, Dr. Frank Barber, of San Antonio, Texas and many relatives in this and adjoining counties. The burial took place at the Barber family graveyard Sunday, after funeral services by the Rev. W. A. Russell.

John R. Kemp, circuit clerk of Hickman county for many years died at Clinton.

Lexie Hale, son of the late Alex Hale, formerly of Murray, died Tuesday of appendicitis in Los Angeles, Cal. He was a nephew of Mrs. E. S. Diuguid, of Murray and a cousin of Orlando Hale. The burial was at Mayfield.

Don Giberto, one of the best known citizens of Paducah died Sunday at the age of 75. He was locally famous as a chef, faultless optician and collector. He turned from his profession, did any "busted" thirsty man ever leave his bar unsatisfied. He had perhaps more real personal friends than any man in Paducah.

BROOM MANUFACTORY.

To the farmers: I wish to say that I am manufacturing brooms at my home 3-4 mile South of Murray, on Paris Road and would like to work your broom corn this fall on shares--12 1-2c per broom or will pay you market price for your corn.

To merchants I wish to say that I have employed Mr. Rufe Langston to help me in making brooms and will guarantee every broom I make to be first class in every respect.

To my friends will ask you to call for "Knox All" or "Red Wing" Brooms. Asking for a reasonable share of patronage. Respectfully R. E. Clayton.

It seems that Texans don't propose to keep anything dry except their powder.

According to Dr. Wiley, Herodotus, Julius Caesar and Plato were heavy beer drinkers. Yes, and these fellows are dead, too.

Dr. Norman D. Mattison, president of the Osteopathic Society, declares that twisting a dog's tail will give it diabetes. Such a reckless act is also liable to give the twister hydrophobia.

"Stanley maintains silence," reads a headline in one of the newspapers. Marvelous!—News Democrat.

And again the theory of perpetual motion is knocked out!

A doctor claims that he saw the spirit of a man leave the body. The doctor should cheer up and not lose hope. We know a man who had "em so bad that he swore he saw two shoe-strings fight a duel.—Commercial-Appel.

A farmer near Edmondton, Ky., solemnly states that he saw a bull-frog milking his cow while she was "lying on the ground." It would appear furthermore that this farmer was on the ground lying.

The Democratic State Committee figured that the late primary would cost $23,000. They have already made bills against them to the amount of $31,000, and the end is not yet. An additional assessment of 33 1/3 percent will be made on the successful candidates.

Louisville is such a quiet little town on Sunday, when the "lid is on." Monday morning there were 111

Two pleasant-faced country men from Illinois went to Chicago and sold a sixty pound tub of butter, but as it happened there was only a light layer of butter on top. The rest was sand. The gold brick men do not all live in the city.

Ed O. Leigh of the Bowling Green Messenger says it is the "modest little woman who is the man behind the gun" and shapes the fortunes of nearly all successful men. Then why don't you get one, you old dried up bach?

An agricultural exchange says: It looks as though seven-cent cattle were in sight. The drought in June caused many to go on the market from 30 to 90 days earlier than would have otherwise occurred. There was little demand for feeders and many of these carrying little flesh found their way to the packers.

It seems that three papers at Jackson, Tenn., have merged into one, and will hereafter be known as the Jackson Sun. The Whig, The Dispatch, and the Sun have all consolidated. This is the proper thing for them to do.—Mayfield Messenger.

Yes, especially so, since neither one of them, except the Sun, was worth a cuss.

Under the call of the State Democratic committee "all known Democrats and all independent voters" are entitled to participate in the county mass conventions August 12, to elect delegates to the platform convention to be held in Louisville August 15. We believe there are a few "independent" voters in Calloway.

By a 6 to 3 vote the city council of Pensacola, Fla., refused to appropriate money for the maintenance of a Carnegie public library. The philanthropist had offered $25,000 if Pensacola would raise one tenth of that amount. The people turned down the proposition on a referendum vote. The argument was advanced that Carnegie's money was "tainted."

The Murray Gazette says that "Much money that is sent of Murray might be kept at home." Then why in the devil don't you sweat off again and drink home-grown soda water as a substitute?—Cadiz Record.

There you go again to expose your ignorance! Any man—we say man through force of habit—who would suggest that soda water will lay on a country editor's stomach hasn't as much sense as a runt ant.

The Democratic State Committee sent a check to Zeb A. Stewart, secretary of the Calloway committee, for $60 less than the statement rendered for the expense of holding the State primary here. Mr. Stewart returned the check. In the meantime a good many people who have accounts against the state committee are still waiting for their money. We understand the successful candidates will have to bear another assessment, amounting to 33 1/3 percent of the original amount. The state committee underestimated the cost of holding the primary to the tune of about $12,000.

It is well enough to be fair. Those Democratic newspapers which are demanding that Judge O'Rear resign his position as Judge of the Court of Appeals seem to forget that four years ago Mr. Hager held on to the Auditor's office while he was a candidate for governor, and that Hon. Ollie James is clinging to his job as a Congressman while running for U. S. Senator. It is not the custom for men to resign the office they hold while running for another office, but it should be. As Democrats as well as Republicans are guilty of the same thing, we think there is room for neither party to criticize the other.—Clinton Gazette.

The Kansas City Star recently called attention to the progress that has been made since the famous Omaha platform was adopted by the populists on July 4 1892.

"At that time the platform was ridiculed and the populists were denounced by the 'respectables' in terms far worse than are applied to Socialists today. Yet most of the demands of the Omaha platform are now received by many Democrats and Republicans and bid fair to soon be enacted into law. They included the initiative, referendum and recall, income tax, government ownership of railways and telegraphs and direct election of senators. Such demands do not seem startling in these days. It indicates how far the revolution has progressed already.

CENSUS FIGURES.

The census of 1910 shows that there are nearly two million more males than females in the United States. To be exact, the excess of males is 1,815,097. The boot is on the other foot in England, where the surplus of females to the number of 1,178,317 is due chiefly to emigration of younger sons into other countries. In Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey and New York the sexes are both equal in number, but as a rule the males predominate as you go West. Women could not out-vote the men in the District of Columbia in the population of say 11,000 as against 100,000, while a less disproportion prevails in the two Carolinas, though in both the women predominate in about the ratio of 102,000 against the round 100,000. Though Maine, Vermont, Connecticut and Pennsylvania are among the oldest States, yet the males are yet still in excess in each of them in 1910.

HOW TO CULTIVATE AND CARE FOR BROOMCORN.

This an industry that we farmers have slighted in this country.

We can raise as good broom corn here as can be raised in Kansas or Missouri. It takes a low gray soil, not too swampy; it grows well on rich land but the straw is too coarse for a good broom. From the first of June to the 10th is a good time for planting. If planted too early the hot sun damages the straws. Prepare your land as well as you do for your tobacco; use a regular broom corn plate in your drill and plant about 75 or 80 seed to the rod, about 11 inches deep. A few days before your seed comes through the ground, harrow the ground. This will keep the weeds down until the corn gets large enough to plow. Cultivate as you would Indian corn.

When the corn is ready for cutting, instead of bending the top down for a few days as we always do table the corn by going down between the rows and gather all the stalks you can in your hand, bend or break first to the right then to the left reaching behind you, this crosses the stalks, forms a table, then two hands follow cutting the corn leaving about three inches of the stalk on the head. Lay on this table, then the corn should be hauled to the shed. The seed taken off and spread out thin. Corn should not be left out over night especially if it is cut the morning before as the dew darkens the straw. To make the best corn it should be cut as soon as it quits blooming, then you get a little green tinge on your corn; this brings the best price on the market. I have out three acres of corn this year. It is doing remarkably well for the season. I planted this corn the 27th of May. This is a little too early. It is now heading and it will be ready for cutting in about two weeks. This corn has been no more trouble so far than my other corn, but when cutting and seeding time comes on I will be busy the few days, when I get it in.

I trust that my friends will experiment a little on this industry next year and let me know what success they have. R. E. Clayton.

DUKEDOM.

Porter Taylor and family and his sister, Miss Maude Taylor, and Miss Lula McCullum, started last Sunday to Calloway county, Kentucky, to visit Byron Taylor and other relatives. Porter and family will return home the 25th and Miss Maude and Lula will spend a week or two. They intend to go on to Murray, Ky., to visit Miss Lula's Uncle, Rele McCullum. Amos Melton and family of Kirksey, Ky., have been down here two weeks. He came back to strip his last year's crop of tobacco and his wife was taken very sick soon after they arrived here, which prolonged their stay. She is better now. En Cashen is suffering very bad with a bone felon on his finger. He went to Dukedom today, Monday, and had his finger split. We hope he will be better in a few days. We had a nice rain which brightened the prospects of the farmers, but we have not had enough rain to wet the ground good since April, and crops are badly damaged. Ed Laurence's baby is in a serious condition with dropsy. They have carried the little sufferer to Dawson Springs hoping the water will be beneficial.

FARMINGTON.

A series of meetings closed last Saturday at the Baptist church with several additions. Jess Harris and wife have gone to Paducah to visit the latter's sister, Mrs. Earnest Raleigh. Mrs. Dessie Paschall and children, of Paducah, are visiting relatives here. George Raleigh has returned to his home in Paducah after attending the Harris-Adair wedding. There will be a W. O. W. picnic and Dark Tobacco meeting combined at this place August 12. Everybody invited to attend. Rev. Howell, of Sedalia, closed a series of meetings at Vealsburg last week.

Miss Reba Wraether, of Martin Tenn., is visiting her grandfather, Tobe Wilson, and other relatives here.

Luther Fisk and wife spent Saturday night and Sunday with Louis Smith and family, of near Stella.

Billie Adair, of Oklahoma, formerly of this place, had the misfortune of losing his large rolling mill, which was destroyed by fire; perhaps he will come back to Old Kentucky to locate again.

Misses Annie Collie and Roberts, of near here, have gone to Dawson to spend a few weeks.

The hands have begun to burn the brick kiln to erect a school building.

Miss Ophelia Bridges is recovering from the recent attack of tonsillitis. Pansy.

BREWER.

The following citizens are sick at present. Mrs. George Watson is suffering with stomach trouble and other maladies. T. M. Greenfield, our clever constable, went to Mayfield last week where he underwent a surgical operation. Rufe Chatman has been very low of typhoid fever but is convalescent.

Monroe Thomas, wife and daughter of Murray, were the guests of J. C. Chester a few days last week. Mr. Thomas is a nephew of Mrs. Chester.

John Hale and daughter, formerly of this place, but now of Nashville, Tenn., arrived here the 1st of the month to visit relatives and friends. Mr. Hale returned after about a couple of weeks, but his daughter will remain quite a while.

The recent rains have improved the condition of the growing crops.

A revival meeting is in progress at the new Methodist church conducted by the Rev. J. C. Rudd, of Murray.

Saturday the 16th was a gala day for brewers, it being the day for the annual picnic. A large crowd of order prevailed until late in the afternoon some of the finger set became a little obnoxious. At noon a sumptuous dinner was spread and everybody ate until they were satisfied. Judge Barkley, of Paducah, and the Rev. Thomas, of Woodville, were the orators of the day. They spoke principally on Woodcraft and fraternity. After the speaking and regular routine of amusements were indulged in, such as log-rolling, rope-pulling and foot races.

OKATON, KY.

We had a right good rain last week and it sure helped the crops, which were in need of it. Mr. Ernest Berry, of St. Louis, is visiting his father's family, B. M. Berry, this week. Bro. Bill Humphreys, of Oklahoma will hold a protracted meeting at Midway, beginning the 1st Sunday in August.

Farmers are now preparing the soil for the wheat crop. Mrs. E. S. Jalger and two children, of St. Louis, are visiting her sister, Mrs. John Berry. Dr. Berry and family, John Caldwell and family, John Berry and family and John Berry and wife are preparing for a camping trip on the Mississippi for the mid-week, which will be enjoyed by fishing and hunting. Blue Bell.

SOME FISH STORY.

Mr. J. W. Worrell, the popular candy salesman, who comes to Murray every thirty days, brought along a fish story on his trip this week. He solemnly averred that he caught a sixteen pound buffalo fish with a live minnow, while fishing for trout. All of which sounds to me! Mr. Worrell has the appearance of a truthful man, but Mr. Solon Higgins, the champion buffalo fisherman in these parts, says a buffalo will not bite at anything except a bunch of dough mixed with cotton, and that the hole has to be baited with meal and such truck in a sack several days in advance of the "landing." We greatly fear that Mr. Worrell is string-ing us for a sucker, for we do know that Mr. Higgins is an expert buffalo fisherman is strictly on to his job. Besides, we have caught a few buffalo ourselves, under the direction of Mr. Higgins, and by his receipt. When they bite the cork simply trundles a little, and then is the time to "jerk." Yet now comes Mr. Worrell and says this fish carried the cork clear under and tried to run away with his pole. "Oh, what a tangled web we weave, when first we practice to deceive."

COUNTERFEIT MONEY.

Owensboro, Ky., July 27.—Clifton Schroeter and Odie Simpson, charged with making and passing counterfeit money, arrested in Henderson, were brought to Owensboro this afternoon and placed in jail. They will be arraigned for their examining trial before Commissioner Dean in the morning.

Jesse Schroeter, who was arrested on a photograph house boat on Rough River, in Ohio county, Saturday morning, is already in jail in default of bond on the charge of being connected with the making of counterfeit money. Jesse Schroeter is a cousin of Clifton and worked for him in the making of pictures. It is alleged that Halls of the secret service department found picture plates of $5 $10 and $20 bills and enough sensitized paper to make a million dollars when he made a raid on the houseboat.

Cambridge, Mass., July 10.—"The church proclaims liberty, equality, fraternity. It is a lie," declared the Rev. F. B. Boyer, of New Bedford, in an address yesterday before the New England Conference for Church Work, in progress at the Episcopal Theology Seminary.

"The world is tired of the church of Christ making excuses to Mammon," he continued. "The formulas of a Christian commonwealth are still read in our churches, but they are very little practiced. The church lays for bread believes that God ought to prove His justice here. They want a God who is working here today, not a God of yesterday. The people are beginning to doubt the goodness of God; they are beginning to doubt the very existence of God."

TAFT ON RECIPROCITY.

Beverly Mass., July 23.—In the first statement he has made since the passage of the reciprocity bill by the Senate, President Taft, at the summer White House to-night freely acknowledged that his long hard campaign in behalf of that measure would have proved unavailing if the Democrats had not helped him. Without such aid the President declared reciprocity would have been impossible. "The Democrats did not 'play politics' in the colloquial sense in which those words are used," said the President, "but they followed the dictates of a higher policy." For Secretary Knox and his assistants in the State Department who conducted the negotiations and framed the act, the President said more than a word of praise.

Those Republicans, he said, who fought for reciprocity, "and some of whose votes were necessary to the passage of the bill may properly enjoy mutual felicitations on a work well done."

In his judgement, the President declared, the agreement would mark an epoch in the relations between the United States and Canada, and those who opposed the bill in Congress would find their prophecies disproved and their fears allayed by its actual operation. Its passage by the Canadian Parliament, the last step before it becomes a bond between the two countries, he hopes and believes would be forthcoming. "The would be forthcoming," he said, "we confidently hope will secure its permanence. In a decade its benefits will contribute much to a greater United States and greater Canada."

Night Rider Cases at Hopkinsville go Over Till Next Term of Court.

DOCTOR AMOS APPEARS TO ANSWER

Defense Ready and Motion For Continuance Was Made By the Commonwealth.

Hopkinsville, Ky., June 14.—The so-called night rider cases in which Dr. D. A. Amos, Guy Dunning, John Robinson, Newton Nichols, Ivan Glass and B. Malone, alias J. E. Malone, are charged with having taken part in the raid on this city on night of December 5, 1917, were continued to the seventh day of the September term when called in circuit court this morning.

The motion for a continuance was made by Commonwealth's Attorney Smith, who stated that the physician attending Milton Oliver, chief witness for the prosecution, whose assassination was attempted at his home in Lyon county several nights ago, reported he was not able to take the stand at this time.

The defense made no objection to a continuance and the order was made without delay.

All of the defendants were here ready for trial. The cases were docketed for Thursday but were not reached until today.

The court room has been packed ever since Thursday morning and every person entering has been searched for weapons.

Nearly a hundred witnesses were recognized for the next term, many of these being women.

NEW LAW

Now in Effect Makes the Mechanic's Lien Less Stringent.

On Monday, June 13, the new mechanic lien law, passed by the last legislature, goes into effect and will make a radical change in all dealings between owner and contractor and contractor and material dealers.

In the past the material dealers have been so protected by the law that it made little difference whether the contractor was actually responsible or not and was given for the work done. However, the new law, however, the material dealer will have to be as careful in granting credit as dealers in any other line of business.

Opportunity.

They do me wrong who say I come no more When once I knock and fail to find you in;
For every day I stand outside your door,
And bid you wake and rise to fight and win.
Wail not for precious chances passed away,
Weep not for golden ages on the wane;
Each night I burn the records of the day,
At sunrise every soul is born again.
Laugh like a boy at splendors that have sped
To vanish joys be blind and deaf and dumb;
My judgements seal the dead past with its dead,
But never bind a moment ye to come.
Though deep in mire, wring not your hands and weep,
I lend my arm to all who say: "I can."
No shamefaced outcast ever sank so deep
But he might rise and be again a man.—Walter Malone

A Growing Industry.

The man who buys 5 cents worth of peanuts perhaps doesn't realize that his purchase is helping to build up one of the largest farm products in this country, now some $15,000,000 annually. The thin covering is very like wheat bran and is excellent food for live stock when mixed with other things. The shells are burned in the factory. The vines are used for fertilizer. The vines make forage. Those peanuts that are not sold on the market are ground up into butter and into meal, which is used in the manufacture of confections of various kinds. But oil is the most highly prized byproduct of the peanut, of which a bushel will yield about a gallon.—Rx

AVERAGE

Of Eight Per Cent Was Raise of the Board of Equalization of This State.

CRITICISES THE COUNTY ASSESSORS.

August Body in Report to Governor Take a Swipe at Everything in Sight, Except Themselves.

The State Board of Equalization raised the property of the State a general average of eight per cent. In its report to the governor the Board says in part:

"We selected those counties that most nearly conformed to the requirements of the law, and endeavored to equalize the others with them. We do not claim that there was a perfect adjustment of values, but the majority of the board gave a careful investigation and considered the evidence."

The transfer sheets which were sent to us were often misleading; the purchase price of property was hidden by "1.00 and other considerations" in violation of law "listed with other lands" transferred property was assessed at a greater percentage than property not transferred, and in many instances where the sale value was given, the assessed and supervisor's value was withheld, thus preventing a comparison and defeating one of the principal purposes of the law.

"The intangible property which we are not privileged under the law to change, shows beyond question that 90 per cent. of that character of property escapes taxation."

The Pedestrian in 1911. CAUG! Chug! Gillingill! Gillingill!

The pedestrian paused at the intersection of two busy streets. An automobile was rushing from one direction, a motor from another an auto-truck was coming up the middle of the street.

Zip-zip-zing-chug! He looked up and saw direct over him was a runaway airship, rapid descent. There was but one chance. He was standing on a manhole cover. Quickly seizing it he lifted the lid and jumped into the hole just in time to be run over by a subway train.

Apostasy

Views of a Minister of the Christian Church

(By South Hawkins.)

1 Cor. 10:1-14; Matth. 10:22; 2 Peter 1:10 and 3:17.

Jesus Christ says: "He that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved." As plain a statement as the English language is capable of. Matth. 10:22. The Apostle Paul says: "Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall." 1 Cor. 10:12.

To any honest mind that is willing to take the Word of God as His and not perverted by any man to prove a human devised doctrine this alone is sufficient; but I shall cite a score or more of Scriptures all of which show that God knows that man is likely to fall even though he may have made a good beginning.

My purpose is to ask and answer three questions, in this sermon.

First: Whence this doctrine? Its origin and source?

Second: What is the authority of creeds and confessions of faith?

Third: What do the Scriptures say concerning Apostasy?

The doctrine of apostasy or final perseverance of the Saints is not less hinted at in the Scriptures than beginning to end; it is entirely an invention of a human theology.

Apostasy, who lived from 354 to 430 A. D., the Bishop of Hippo; formulates a theology from which it may be developed; but does not promulgate it.

It remained for John Calvin, the red handed, black hearted murderer of the 16th century to palm it off on the world as a Christian doctrine. Calvin, who lived from 1509 to 1564 was a brilliant student, who left France and went into Switzerland to tell the Lord Almight how to devise and formulate a plan of salvation. Michael Servetus did not agree with the teaching of Calvin; but he hid ed his name in France to Italy, he passed through Switzerland, Calvin has him seized and tried and because he would not recant he is burned at the stake. This is the saintly, pious gentle Christ like origin of this doctrine now mooted in our village. Do you want to draw your religion from a murderer? If so why not have a confession of faith made in either the Frankfurt or Eddyville penitentiaries? They have as much of authority as did Calvin to formulate a religion.

It is a matter of note that men who today boast of being Calvinists are possessed with the same gentle Christian spirit as was their master; and if it were not for the restraining arm of the law would burn at the stake all who dared have an opinion of their own; and while the flames rose would sing praises to God. This is the kind of heart to which Calvinism always appeals.

One Calvinist seems very much afraid that if any preacher investigates this doctrine honestly from the open Bible he will make Jesus Christ a liar. Now as to that let us see who makes Jesus Christ a liar. Just before our Savior left this earth, in his last farewell words to his Apostles he said: "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved." Mark 16:16. Now this man says he that believeth and is saved shall be baptized. In all fairness who is making our Master a liar? The one who tells the exact words he spoke or one who twists them and garbles them to fit a human theory? The man whose one object is to propagate error on a community is always afraid when there is an opening of God's Word.

Authority of Creeds.

When it comes to formulating creeds or confessions of a faith or tests of fellowship, one man has as much authority as any other man. In short all men are absolutely equal in this. As all such are human all are worthless. All that is necessary for a man to believe or do is found in the Bible revealed by the Holy Spirit. See Gal. 1:6-11.

Why accept the creed of Calvin and reject the creeds of Joe Smith? Dowey? Mary Baker Eddy or even Arthur Evelyn See? All are human. Who gives any man or men authority to select and cull from the Word of God what man shall believe and practice? The last curse in the book of Revelation is upon the man who either adds or detracts to or from this book. The Masonic Lodge teaches many things that are derived directly from the Bible; but it neither teaches all the Gospel nor confines itself to the Bible exclusively. This is also true of the Philadelphia Confession of Faith. This confession has no more Divine sanction than does the Masonic Lodge. They are exactly equal in their authority. The church of Latter Day Saints has just as much a claim to binding authority as has the Masonic Lodge or Philadelphia Confession of Faith.

Some say the Baptist church teaches this, so it must have some weight of authority. The Baptist church is an institution commemorating the name of a man and not Christ, a institution not found in the New Testament or the Old Testament, unknown to Jesus Christ, and not known to the Apostles, and not discovered by anyone human or Divine until 1500. See Schaff Herodotus. Now what is its authority? It is a human institution; human in origin; human in name; human in creed. It is true that it teaches many things that are found in the Word of God; but it also teaches many other things that are not found there and are contrary to the same foundation as the Masonic Lodge, and institutions of like nature. This is not spoken harshly or with the purpose of wounding anyone; but they are facts, and Sam Jones said that no one but a fool ever got mad or sore over a fact; but accepted it as a fact if he were wise. If I allow you a right to formulate a creed, test of fellowship and theology you must allow me the same right, and both of us must allow the same right to the third party; and so on ad infinitum.

one right of mankind, but the most of all mankind. If we desire the Gospel we must get it from the Bible and not from man because everything that is manufactured by man is human; whether lodges, creeds or churches. Then in spirit of honest, reverent investigation let us go to the Bible for our knowledge of God's will for the guiding and salvation of all mankind.

There is only one church known to the writers of the New Testament, the churches of Christ or the Christian church. They were called Christians first in Antioch Acts 11:26. "Almost thou persuadest me to become a Christian." Acts 26:28. "The churches of Christ salute you." Rom. 16:16. "If any man suffer as a Christian let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify in this name." 1 Peter 4:16. "Some men have much rather glorify God in the name of John the Baptist, of whom Christ said "He that is least in the kingdom of God is greater than he."—Matth. 11:11 and Luke 7:28. Christ calls the church His body. Eph. 5:22. "And he is the head of the body, the church." Col. 1:18.

"For His body's sake which is the church." Col. 1:24. In Revelation 21:2 and 21:19-10 the church is spoken of as the bride of Christ. It is a long established custom of morals among respectable people that the bride assume the name of her husband and not be ashamed to wear it; and if she should assume and boast of the name of some other man, she would not be considered very nice. The story that the bride of Christ ran away with the best man at the wedding feast is a calumny upon the church which neither sacred or profane history ever discovered. Nor did this idea ever dawn upon mortal mind until the 16th century. Any man who may contend that a bride should discard the name of her husband and assume the name of a friend of her husband and glory in that name is not fit for citizenship in a community of respectable people, much less a book. The Masonic Lodge teaches many things that are derived directly from the Bible; but it neither teaches all the Gospel nor confines itself to the Bible exclusively. This is also true of the Philadelphia Confession of Faith. This confession has no more Divine sanction than does the Masonic Lodge.

They are exactly equal in their authority. The church of Latter Day Saints has just as much a claim to binding authority as has the Masonic Lodge or Philadelphia Confession of Faith.

Some say the Baptist church teaches this, so it must have some weight of authority. The Baptist church is an institution commemorating the name of a man and not Christ, a institution not found in the New Testament or the Old Testament, unknown to Jesus Christ, and not known to the Apostles, and not discovered by anyone human or Divine until 1600. See Schaff Hrzoeg. Now what is its authority? It is a human institution; human in origin; human in name; human in creed. It is true that it teaches many things that are found in the Word of God; but it also teaches many other things that are not found there and are contrary to the very spirit of Christ. It is on the same foundation as the Masonic Lodge, and institutions of like nature. This is not spoken harshly or with the purpose of wounding anyone; but they are facts, and Sam Jones said that no one but a fool ever got mad or sore over a fact; but accepted it as a fact if he were wise. If I allow you a right to formulate a creed, test of fellowship and theology you must allow me the same right, and both of us must allow the same right to the third party; and so on ad infinitum.

No one but the most one right of making creeds for all mankind. If we desire the Gospel we must get it from the Bible and not from man because everything that is manufactured by man is human;
whether lodges, creeds or churches. Then in spirit of honest, reverent investigation lets go to the Bible for our knowledge of God's will for the guiding and salvation of all mankind.

There is only one church known to the writers of the New Testament, the churches of Christ or the Christian church.
They were called Christians first in Antioch Acts 11, 26.
"Almost thou persuadest me to become a Christian." Acts 26, 28. "The churches of Christ salute you." Rom. 16, 16. "If any man suffer as a Christian let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify in this name." 1 Peter 4, 16. Some men had much rather glorify God in the name of John the Baptist, of whom Christ said "He that is least in the kingdom of God is greater than he." Matth. 11, 11 and Luke 7, 28. Christ calls the church His body. Eph. 5:22;
"And he is the head of the body, the church." Col. 1, 18.
"For His body's sake which is the church;" Col. 1, 24. In Revelation 21, 2 and 21:19-10 the church is spoken of as the bride of Christ. It is a long established custom of morals among respectable people that the bride assume the name of her husband and not be ashamed to wear it; and if she should assume and boast of the name of some other man, she would not be considered very nice. The story that the bride of Christ away with the best man at the wedding feast is a calumny upon the church which neither sacred or profane history ever discovered. Nor did this idea ever dawn upon mortal mind until the 16th century. Any man who may contend that a bride should discard the name of her husband and assume the name of a friend of her husband and glory in that name is not fit for citizenship in a community of respectable people, much less a teacher of morals. Therefore for these very plain and necessary reasons let us discard all man-made religion such as human theology, human creeds, human churches and human opinions, and in honesty open our Bible and read We may find that the Bible does not agree with our preconceived ideas; but nevertheless we must accept the authority of the Bible as final, lasting and beyond dispute. To rave around as mad men, and consign men by wholesale lots to the region of the damned, because they do not agree with us is childish; wrong in the sight of God and an open confession that we are not liable to sustain our much beloved pet theories. Again without any prejudice let us see what the Holy Spirit says about the subject under discussion.

The Bible opens with the story of man's fall and punishment thereof. The sad story of man's human fallibility runs all the way through like the dark and somber lines found in beautiful tapestry. Sampson, the wonder judge is an invincible warrior while he serves the Jehovah of Israel; but when he falls God hides his face from him. David, the impulsive sins and cries out unto his God Restore the joy of my salvation, and begs the Almighty not to take his Spirit from him. Moses the great sins grievously in the sight of God. Twenty and three thousand Israelites fell in one day.

Our Sunday School lessons for the year have been the sad repetition of falling and apostasy.

There is not even a hint in the Bible from the first verse in Genesis to the last verse of Revelation that man could not fall, but the whole of the Bible is simply overflowing with admonitions to constancy and exhortations to faithful service, and revealing the certainty of doom upon all who shall fail to keep my commandments. The Apostle of love says 1 John 2:4-5 says: "He that saith I know him and keepeth not his commandments is a liar and the truth is not in him. But whose keepeth his words in him verily hereby know we that we are in him." Here is a statement that is as plain as the English language could express.

Christ says: But those who shall offend one of these little ones which believe on me it were better for him that a milstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea." Matth.
18, 6.

If the party that is so interested about false prophets, and proving Christ a liar, worms of the dust, arch fiends of the night and other indications and symptoms of craven fear of the truth will only borrow a copy of the New Testament from one of his friends and read he will discover that Christ says that the man on the rock is: "Whosoever heareth these sayings of mine and D-O-E-T-H them, I will liken to a wise man, which built his house upon a rock." Matth. 7, 24. He will also discover, perhaps for the first time this language in the general epistle of James. James 2:24-26.

Ye see that by works a man is justified and not only by faith.
And in like manner was not also Rahab, the harlot, justified by works, and in that she received the messengers, and sent them on another way? For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, even so faith apart from works is dead." He might also read with profit 21st and 22nd verses of the same chapter.
"Was not Abraham our father justified by works, in that he offered up Isaac, his son upon the altar? Thou seest that faith wrought with his word and by W-O-R-K-S was faith made perfect." Inasmuch he is reading the New Testament he might read one more passage found in Phil. 2, 12: "WORK OUT your own a salvation with fear and trembling." If there is absolutely no doubt concerning the matter of salvation, why then does the Apostle urge us to both work, and fear. Even a child can see that verse clearly shows that there is danger in the matter of final salvation, which danger is avoided only through diligence and recognition of the danger.

But why, oh why, will men gar-ble the plain words of the Holy Spirit and strive to lay on men's consciences purely human opinions in the place of the expict plain word of the HOLY SPIR-IT? Can anyone answer this question? In 1. Peter 3, 12 we read that the face of the Lord is against them that do evil.
No mention is made whether or not he has once believed, but the bare general statement.
Read carefully Luke 8 noting the 13th verse accurately.
"Which for awhile believe and in time of temptation fall away."

Hebrews 6:1-6 does not say it is impossible to fall but says:
"If they shall F-A-L-L away." Heb. 6, 6. 2 Peter 1:1-11. "For if you do these things you shall never fall." 2 Peter 1, 10.
Here never falling is based upon a doing or (WORKS) not upon a belief or a trust. And the possibility of falling is clearly stated. If we will only read 2 Thess. 2:1-10 we will find a prophecy of apostasy and an admonition that we be not deceived that it will occur. Therefore if Apostasy is impossible, Paul did not know what he was talking about. Perhaps if he had access to Calvin's Institutes or the Philadelphia Confession of Faith he would have not talked so much like that despised seer
"The Campbellites."

Jude says: Jude 6. That the angels fell. Hebrews 12:16-17 tell us that Esau sold his birthright. In 1 Tim. 4, 1 we have these words: "Now the Spirit speakech expressly some shall depart from the faith." If departing from the faith is not Apostasy it has never been denied. In Hebrews 10, 26, "For if we sin wilfully after we have received the knowledge of the truth," etc. Here the possibility is clearly stated.

In Hebrews 3:14 we read:
"For we are made partakers of Christ if we hold the beginning of our confidence steadfast to the end." 2 Peter 3, 7 "Lest ye also being led away with the error of wickedness fall from your own steadfastness."

The Holy Spirit says to the church, "Remember therefore from whence thou art FALLEN and repent." Rev.
2:4-5. Christ says: "He that endureth to the end shall be saved." Matth. 10, 22. You may wonder why I am so strongly opposed to the doctrine of the Final Perseverance of the Saints.
First, because it is a wilful and a knowing perversion of the Scriptures, and second because it is the most dangerous doctrine that man has ever devised.

A man once called a certain congregation a white-wash shop, because that congregation refused to be called by any human name, following the teaching of Christ in this matter rather than men, and also refused to teach anything but what was found in the Bible. The same man tells tender children that no matter what sin they may commit in after life there is absolutely no danger of their souls being lost. Now if he is not running a white-wash factory? What is he doing? As Tetzal, in the palm days of Theology and the reign of human creeds, went about Central Europe selling plenary indulgences. He sold indulgences only for past sins, and did not dare sell indulgences for all the future. This man makes Tetzal look like a one legged man in a foot race. Yet he cries loudly against the Catholic theology.

It was the Devil who preached the first sermon on the "Impossibility of Apostasy" when he told Eve "you shall not surely die" but her apostasy has brought sorrow and woe upon every person that has been born since. Thus the doctrine of the Impossibility of Apostasy introduced into the world by Satan and has still unto this good day been his greatest sermon. As with Eve so with us he still attempts to prove by the very word of the Lord himself that God Almighty does not mean what he clearly says that he does mean. Those who are wise will remember the fate of poor Eve and also remember that millions have suffered because of her fall; and be ready to recognize the sentiment of the Devil of STEADFASTNESS and not falling 2 Tim. 4:6,88. "For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand. I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith: henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness." He based his hope of reward not in an empty trust but in fighting a good FIGHT, finishing his course, keeping the faith.

In the second and third chapters of Revelation we read that the reward is not to those that have only believed but to those who have overcome. To those who have overcome is given the tree of life; freedom from the second death; the hidden manna; power and the morning star; white raiment; name in the Book of Life; the name of God written upon him; and the right to sit upon the throne of God. He that hath an ear let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

Finally let us one and all strive to keep all the commandments of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ; endure to the end; work out our salvation with fear and trembling; be not deceived; be therefore steadfast; be watching when our Lord shall come; overcome; fight a good fight; finish our course; keep the FAITH; and we shall receive the crown of righteousness that the Lord the righteous judge will give us in that day.

HOW TO RUN A GASOLINE ENGINE

After twenty years of our

to start one and keep it going.

the cock-pit, rewire the shell

BLESSINGS AND SORROWS.

The adjournment of the legislature has its blessings and sorrows.

The session closed with only 11,000 passes by one railroad.
Had the members remained in session a month longer 11,000 more passes might have been issued by the same railroad and this might have resulted in the passmaker getting the "writers" cramp.

The adjournment also saved the railroad from having to pay another bill for printing more passes, but in this there was a loss to the printer. Commercial Appeal.

COUNTERFEIT MONEY.

Owensboro, Ky., July 27.—Clifton Schreoter and Odie Simpson, charged with making and passing counterfeit money, arrested in Henderson, were brought to Owensboro this afternoon and placed in jail. They will be arraigned for their examining trial before Commissioner Dean in the morning.

Jesse Schreoter, who was arrested on a photograph house boat on Rough River, in Ohio county, Saturday morning, is already in jail in default of bond on the charge of being connected with the making of counterfeit money. Jesse Schreoter is a cousin of Clifton and worked for him in the making of pictures.

It is alleged that Halls of the secret service department found picture plates of $5 $10 and $20 bills and enough sentimental paper to make a million dollars when he made a raid on the houseboat.

BLESSINGS AND SORROWS.

The adjournment of the legislature has its blessings and its sorrows.

The session closed with only 11,000 passes by one railroad. Had the members remained in session a month longer 11,000 more passes might have been issued by the same railroad and this might have resulted in the passenger getting the "writers' cramp."

The adjournment also saved the railroad from having to pay another bill for printing more passes, but in this there was a loss to the printer.—Commercial Appeal.
