TWO-DAY COOKING SCHOOL AT SCIENCE HALL

Fulton Grocerymen Conform To Code

In response to the call of President Roosevelt for business and industry to get in line with the National Recovery Act, Fulton grocers and market operators at a mass meeting here Monday night, agreed upon hours for opening and closing their places of business in conformity with the NRA.

Among other things these stores will shorten their working hours and discontinue the old system of opening Sunday mornings.

The code calls for a 48-hours week for grocers, and local merchants in the grocery and markets fields are striving to aid in the recovery plan as promulgated through the national recovery act.

Following is a formal notice made by these stores:

All groceries and meat markets will conform to these regulations, starting Wednesday, August 2, 1933. 1. They agree to open at 7:00 A. M. and close at 5:00 P. M. except Saturdays, when opening hour will be 7:00 A. M. and closing hour 8:00 P. M.

2. All orders received after 11:00 A. M. will be delivered in the afternoon; all orders received after 4:00 P. M. will be delivered next day, except on Saturdays.

3. All stores and meat markets will be closed on Sunday, starting Sunday, August 6, 1933.

Operators of grocery stores and meat markets solicit the co-operation of the public, and with this co-operation they can give as good service as heretofore. The following grocers and market men signed agreement to conform with the NRA code:

Boaz & Hester, Earl Boaz, Fred Robertson, U. Tote-Em Nos. 1 and 2, H. L. Hardy, McDade Mercantile Co., H. H. Bugg, B. Miller, J. A. Underwood, Kroger's, U. G. DeMyer, Crockett Grocery, Sawyer Bros., J. N. McNeilly, Stubbfield Grocery, Guy Heathcock, Maupin Meat Market, Will Willingham, E. Brown, A. C. Butts & Sons, B. C. Walker, Paul DeMyer, D. L. Bondurant, Jack Robbins.

RETAILERS UNITE IN SHORTENED HOURS

Retailers of dry goods, clothing, ready-to-wear and shoes in Fulton met in a group meeting at the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night, for the purpose of working out a schedule and program of operation in connection with the President's re-employment act. On another page of this issue we call your attention to the hour these stores will keep open as set out in a special advertisement bearing the names of those who are cooperating.

Miss Shellie Brann of Nashville, is a guest of Miss Flora Oliver.

Steve Wiley For Representative Asks For Consideration

Not having had the opportunity to see all of you personally on account of the wide territory which must necessarily be covered, and for the reason that law practice has kept me somewhat confined, I am taking this last opportunity, through the press to inform you, in a very brief manner of those things I am for and those to which I am opposed.

I am opposed to the SALES TAX, or any additional form of taxes. I believe in the simplifying of our state governmental machine, and I am opposed to the continuation of its running for the benefit of job-holders and politicians; and it is my idea that economy can be practiced upon large scale, by cutting down and consolidating many of our bureaus and commissions, and that further economy can be practiced by the elimination of many useless jobs, created for political purposes.

I am for the reduction and elimination of the Tangible property tax, in that it contributes only one-fifth of the total revenue of the State, and if governmental expenses are reduced

He had many friends throughout this community, and his death brings a distinct loss to the vicinity. During his lifetime he performed many unobtrusive services in community work that have been of material benefit to this community.

CO-OPERATION

CO-OPERATION—THE KEYSTONE OF A GOOD PLAN

The average man is just beginning to come into his own. He is the most important person in the United States today, and all the machinery of government is dedicated to seeing that he becomes an adequate consumer. The major objective of Mr. Roosevelt's program is to get more consumers. Our modern industrial life, implemented by machinery, might be said for the first time in history to have made a full discovery of the overwhelming importance of the consumer.

The President has presented to the American people "a plan—deliberate, reasonable and just." Based on this plan he appeals to them to "sign a covenant" with him in the same of "patriotism and humanity." The plan is a co-operative movement to bring about national recovery.

The plan and the battle cry of the new economic freedom is COOPERATION.

The principle of COOPERATION is as old as the human race itself. The greatest strides of humanity were made when that principle was its controlling motive and it lost ground every time it departed from that principle.

Civilization have fallen for the want of vision in adopting the principle of cooperation to changed economic conditions. The President said in his radio address:

"The proposition is simply this: If all employers will act together to shorten hours and raise wages, we can put people back to work. No employer will suffer, because the relative level of competitive cost will advance by the same amount for all."

"But if any considerable group should lag or shirk this great opportunity will pass us by and we will go into another desperate winter. This must not happen."

"I cannot guarantee the success of this nation-wide plan, but the people of this country can guarantee its success."

Confidence of success based on the on the recent experience of rise in wages under the codes, the President stated:

"On the basis on this simple principle of everybody doing things together, we are starting out on this nation-wide attack on unemployment. It will succeed if our people understand it—in the big industries, in the little shops, in the great cities and in the small villages."

With knowledge that there are those of "little faith" and of others without a social mind, the President continued: "There are, of course, men, a few of them, who might thwart this great common purpose by seeking selfish advantage. I am now asking the cooperation that comes from conscience. You can look on every employer who adopts this plan as one who is doing his part, and those employers deserves well of everyone who works for a living. Some may honestly disapprove of his leadership. But whatever the opposing states of mind are with reference to it, the friends of the administration point to the situation a few months ago when the economic condition "was without form and void; and darkness as upon the face of everyone." Prayers were offered up—anything to keep us from going to the how-wows.

Now, that nothing short of the miraculous has taken place, two peculiar states of mind obtain: First, some of those who prayed have forgotten the substances of their prayer. Second, the short-sighted and pathetic toward the welfare of the people think nothing more needs to be done now that we are in a new cycle of prosperity. They think of prosperity as a thing of cycles, and try to keep on top of the heap whatever the conditions are.

The new economic freedom, the new vision, is one of plan that the welfare of the whole social order may be constantly maintained on relatively higher levels than have heretofore prevailed—not a return to any "normalcy" of the past, but an advancement, the creation of better form, a higher standard of living and thinking.

It is war against depressions, and the American people have the courage and determination to carry the banner high until they reach the goal of victory.

During the World's War Americans made sacrifices, mothers had their gold stars in the window for each son overseas, fathers bought liberty bonds, the people in every walk of American life rallied to the cause to do their part.

Today we have another battle to win. This time against economic forces trying to destroy our social, moral and physical well-being. Against the American people shall prove themselves good soldiers. But this time they will get more in return for their patriotic cooperation. The welfare of their country and of themselves is at stake. Once the process, under a co-operative recovery plan is set in motion, we are on a safer and saner road to prosperity.

There is no reason, outside the destructive doctrine of fatalism or the perverse machinations of the selfish, why we should not go forward to better times than the people as a whole have ever enjoyed.

MRS. WILL TERRY DIED IN MEMPHIS

MAN BELIEVED TO BE HENRY MANN FOUND DEAD HERE

The body of an unknown white man was found in the New Yards of the Illinois Central railroad early Monday morning, and was taken to the funeral parlor of Winstead-Jones & Co. The man apparently died of natural causes for the body bore no marks of foul play.

Officers seeking to identify him, found papers in his pockets bearing the address of a Memphis woman. By telephonic communication with Memphis police and radio broadcast over a Memphis station, she was located and stated the man's name was Henry Mann and that his home was in East St. Louis, Ill.

The body was embalmed to await word from relatives, otherwise burial to be made in pauper's field here.

Glenn Lane Makes Last Statement to Voters of District

TO THE VOTERS:—

I am informed that at the barbecue on the Clinton-Fulton highway, and at the place known as Shady Nook, and also at Stubbs Park, Hickman, Ky., my opponent made some statements that I want to combat.

It seems that in his eyes I have committed an unpardonable sin in not engaging in a debate with him. I know of no law to make a candidate do this, the candidate for State Senator two years ago did not debate, I understand that the candidates for Representative in Graves County are not debating and anyway these things usually become "mud-slinging affairs." However I have not been able to speak since I had a bad spell of malaria and was in bed for a long time, at same time had the bronchitis and have not recovered from it even the I am able to be out with my physician, Dr. J. C. Morrison, will confirm these statements.

Mr. Wiley did ask me about debating, I told him it was too early to begin and that we could discuss the matter later as to whether or not we would do so. I was in a hurry at the time told him the farmers were busy and could not get a crowd. Later on I got down sick and the doctor came to see me twice a day for several days as I was threatened with pneumonia and then the barbeques and ice cream suppers began and Mr. Wiley launched his speaking campaign, and at none of these did I refer to me being sick, but said I stood for nothing simply because Housewives of Fulton, South Fulton and surrounding community will have an opportunity to attend a two-day cooking school, sponsored by the General Electric Company, through the Travis Electric Refrigeration Co. of this city. A number of local business concerns are co-operating in the cooking school, which will attract every woman in this community who is interested in a modern kitchen and the preparation of wholesome, economical meals.

Vitamins are the most elusive and still the most spectacular of all dietary constituents, says Miss Florence Mann, who will be in charge of the Cooking School to be held Monday and Tuesday, August 7 and 8 at 2:30 p. m. at the Science Hall of Fulton High School.

They exist in such small quantities in feed materials and they lose their identity so easily when the chemist tries to locate them that to date only one has been chemically identified. At present, there are six vitamins known to science.

Vitamin "A" is known as the growth vitamin, also as the anti-infective vitamin. Serious lack of this vitamin is known to retard the growth of children. This vitamin occurs quite plentifully in foods.

Vitamin "B" is known as the anti-neurotic vitamin, especially concerned with the protection of the nervous system. Lack of this vitamin in the diet of infants damage to the central nervous system and a possible serious effect on general intelligence.

Vitamin "C" is known as the anti-scurvy vitamin and protects from the disease of scurvy. This vitamin occurs in most fruits and vegetables.

Vitamin "D" is the bone forming vitamin and its principle function is in helping to form strong bones and sound teeth, and in protecting children from rickets. While Vitamin "D" is the scarcest in foods, it is the one vitamin about which scientists today have the most specific information.

Vitamin "E" is the anti-sterility vitamin and Vitamin "G" is known as the anti-vitamin, closely associated with Vitamin "B".

Miss Florence Mann, who will be brought to Fulton by Travis Electric Refrigeration Co., is connected with the General Electric Distributor, Louisville. While she is here she will discuss various diets and explain what foods contain health-building vitamins. She will also demonstrate electric cookery and discuss electric (Continued on Page 10)

I was not telling my views from the platform. He gets "hot under the collar" because I mentioned this in the Clinton paper but I am making this statement in all the papers and am making no apologies.

He stated in a speech at Shady Nook that I received an invitation to speak at an American Legion celebration in Fulton and did not even have the courtesy to reply, I want to say that I failed to receive any invitation and have discussed this matter with the lady who mailed invitations to various candidates, she says that she thought she mailed me one and is under impression that she did, but anyway, I did not get any. About that time I got able to get out, drove over to Clinton and spent two or three days with my Mother, who was just recovering from a spell of pneumonia, and when I got back to Hickman I saw in a Fulton paper that I was scheduled to speak but the affair was over at that time and I was not on the grounds in Fulton that night as stated by Mr. Wiley and someone has misinformed him.

He made his announcement in a Fulton paper on March 31st and did not mention the Sales Tax or any of these issues except HIGH TAXES and nearly all the candidates have played on this issue since the beginning of time. I am in favor of lower taxes as much as any man can be, as my Father died when I was a small boy and Mother and I (Continued on Page 10)

VOTE FOR JUDGE J. E. WARREN

FOR

CIRCUIT JUDGE of the FIRST JUDICIAL DISTRICT

EXPERIENCED

QUALIFIED

His Honesty and Ability Never Questioned.

Endorse His Splendid Record.

DOES IT PAY TO BE CAUTIOUS?

Many people of Kentucky have fallen into the habit of accepting reports with reference to some candidate as being facts without making an investigation. This habit is one of the things that is causing people to lose confidence in their government and often results in the selection of the wrong man to hold public office.

During the present campaign you have heard it reported that Judge J. E. Warren is too cautious and that his deliberations are costing the taxpayers a great deal of money. In order to satisfy ourselves as to the truthfulness of these reports, an investigation was caused to be made of his record. We soon learned that the greatest item of expense in operating the circuit court is the jury fees. In order to compare jury fees paid out for jury service to that of other judges, the investigator went back to the year 1907. It was found at that time that by an act of the state legislature, the juror only received $2 a day for his services.

Then the investigator checked for sixteen terms of court, which cover a period of more than five years. Then, likewise, he checked a similar period of his successors up to the beginning of Judge J. E. Warren's administration. Then the investigator checked five years of the administration of Judge J. E. Warren and found during Judge Warren's administration that the legislature had increased the pay for jurors from $2 to $3 per day and the legislature alone was responsible for this increased expense.

The records of the judges since 1907 show that the entire costs during the administration of Judge Warren compares most favorably with that of the preceding judges. And this fact can be determined by any voter interested if he will but call at the office of the circuit clerk and view the report of the trustee of the jury fund; also he can call upon the auditor of the state of Kentucky, and if he is interested enough in the record of the man who has been serving in this official capacity to determine whether he had been faithful to his trust, facts can be obtained without cost.

This paper believes that everybody should have a fair deal and with this view, we gladly publish the results of the investigation, made by a public official who is not interested in this race.

As further proof that it pays to be deliberate, the investigation discloses that Judge Warren's disposition of cases compares most favorably with his predecessors. The number of commonwealth cases, the number of common law cases and the number of equity cases disposed of during Judge Warren's term on the bench, furnish a favorable comparison with previous circuit judges. What criticism can a man offer for a judge being cautious? He is one empowered to pass upon the lives and liberty of men, to pass upon questions of property rights, and to try to discover the right and wrong of every lawsuit. Who would want for judge a man, who would force a man charged with a crime to trial without giving him opportunity to secure his witnesses or make preparations for his trial? Who would want a judge to pass upon the property rights of men without giving each litigant an opportunity to present his evidence and prepare his case for trial? And who is there among us but does not want a judge who would give proper instruction to the jury, so that when the case is decided, the Court of Appeals would affirm his decision?

It has been stated and found to be a fact that the cases appealed from his court to the Court of Appeals have received very favorable comment from the judges of the Court of Appeals and the percentage of affirmances in the Court of Appeals stand and compare favorably with any judge in the state.

It has been found that his record has been clean, that his decisions have been sound, that he gives to every litigant a fair opportunity to present his case and get it prepared for trial, that he has been courteous to every lawyer representing a litigant, that he has been very considerate of every litigant in his court. What better record should the people of the district want than the record Judge J. E. Warren has made?

WHAT A COON HUNT?

If none of you have never seen a real coon hunt, you'll enjoy this one. It happened over in the old "Show-me" state of Missouri, and is the talk of the country. Gathering up all the hounds in seven counties, the hunt was on. But it had hardly got under way, when it started raining. It rained so much it was almost a deluge, but the dogs and men had the coons on the run and nothing could deter them then. With dogs and hunters pouring in from all sides the hunt finally ended in the heart of one of those famous Missouri bottoms.

It seems that all the coons in the country had wound up at a big oak tree, whose trunk had decayed due to its old age. Apparently the old oak sheltered a grand convention of coons, for when the hunters arrived on the scene, the tree was overburdened with coons. The hollow trunk was packed, and the limbs were so full, not another animal could have found refuge. Must have been several thousand.

A twenty mule team, drawing a large wagon up to the foot of the tree, was on hand to carry away the "bag" of coons. A fire was started at the mouth of the hollow trunk to smoke the coons out, and as they came out, I struck them over the head with a club, and they tumbled over into the wagon dead. After the wagon was loaded to girth, we were forced to go away and leave some of the shier coons because we had all we could carry in the big wagon.

Starting out for home, the team finally reached our destination. But lo and behold when we looked for the wagon, it was not there. It had rained so much the wagon had mired down at the tree, and the mules had stretched the traces all the way home. We drove the team around a tree and tied the traces to it. Then we went to bed.

Next morning when we went out to hitch up and return for the wagon another surprise awaited us. The bright morning sun dried out the traces, taking up the slack, and in the process of their contraction, the wagon had trailed along home. And there was our coons, which was the greatest coon hunt ever staged.

(P. S. —Louie Kasnow gets credit for this coon hunt, and we doubt whether anyone has ever witnessed its equal).

Mr. and Mrs. James Underwood of Route 6 spent the week end with parents in Hazel, Ky.

A Statement

FROM

LANE

Candidate For

STATE

Representative

From the 1st. District

For 16 years I had never missed a day from work because of illness and yet it was my misfortune during this campaign to get down in bed with a bad case of malaria fever coupled with the bronchitis and was sick for about three weeks and am still very weak even though I have been out some of late, and due to the fact that I got out too soon and did not take care of myself the bronchitis has not cleared up and it is with difficulty that I talk very much in private conversation and cannot attempt to make any public speeches and my physician, Dr. J. C. Morrison has warned me against it for the present as I am having to take daily treatments at his office.

Previous to my sickness I have been mixing and mingling with the voters and discussing with them my views as to certain legislation and also their views and sentiments so as to more properly represent them in the Legislature in the event of my election.

I want in this manner to state my views on some special things of interest altho there are many other things that may arise when the General Assembly convenes.

I believe the license fees on automobiles and trucks should be reduced as it is a burden on owners to pay same during these hard times and a great number have never bought license for their cars and trucks, but if all were in operation and being licensed at cheaper rate, more money would probably be realized for the road fund in the long run as the operation of these idle cars would bring in lots of gasoline tax.

I am in favor of at least one-half of the license fees or some of the gasoline tax being allotted equally to the counties to take care of the road bonds and interest or to help construct and maintain our county roads other than the present state highways. This will in turn increase the county income and will decrease the amount you will pay in taxes.

I shall vote against the proposed SALES TAX and have so stated through the columns of all four newspapers in the two counties and where are merchants who received letters from me stating my stand on this question before my opponent ever announced and they have letters and will also make affidavits to this effect. I will never vote for the SALES TAX regardless of what my opponent and his supporters may say. I gave my pledged word before and since I had opposition and if the Lord lets me live and I am elected I will carry out my pledged word.

We must in the future as we have in the past give to each and every child throughout the state equal opportunities and advantages in gaining an education. The basis of our great public school system is to be found in the rural district and it shall be my intent to work steadfastly for first and above all, a continued development of the rural school system and then secondly for the higher institutions of learning. I was reared in the country and lived there until I was 22 years old, I attended the country school and appreciated it and I am in agreement with my opponent in this. I am opposed to the consolidation and elimination of country schools and shall vote for a bill to elect the county supt. by the direct vote of the people.

There are certain changes that should be made in our fish and game laws and these things shall have my earnest support.

My wide acquaintance in both counties will enable me to represent the sentiment in both counties and I am stating to you emphatically that I will represent the sentiment of the district if elected. I favor economy and will vote to consolidate any state departments that might be performing kindred functions and will vote to abolish all useless bureaus. I also believe that under the present system we are compelled to hold too many elections, we have some sort of an election every year and this is a great expense to the taxpayers.

If you elect me to the office of Representative, I will represent you faithfully and conscientiously and when my term of service shall have expired I will return to you with a record clear and open and no one shall have occasion to say that I have been weighed in the balance and found wanting.

I trust that I may have your vote and support.

Respectfully

GLENN W. LANE

W. C. TIPTON

Proposes "NEW DEAL"

W. C. Tipton, who offers himself for the office of County Judge of Fulton County, is well qualified and capable of filling the office which he seeks at the hands of the people.

Mr. Tipton studied law and was admitted to the bar. Starting out in life from a meager beginning, he devoted the major portion of his life to farming, became interested in a number of gins, and accumulated by industry and initiative quite a lot of property. But, like many others, he was caught in the cotton market crash and hit by other adversities, which reduced his accumulations to a minimum.

Therefore, he is thoroughly familiar with the general circumstances of the people, and advocates reduced operation costs for the county, and favors above everything else economy in every department.

Realizing that the interest on our bonds takes nearly half of our taxes he believes something must be done to give the people relief. He believes that the county can save money and reduce its indebtedness, and proposes if elected, to instigate a plan seeking to REFINANCE THE COUNTY by obtaining an option on the bonds against the county. These bonds, he points out, are worth only about 46 cents on a dollar, and if an option can be secured from their owners, he proposes a plan of refinancing by borrowing money from the R. F. C. or some other source, thereby taking over these bonds at something like half their original face value. In this manner the county's indebtedness and interest may be cut in half.

He favors the county getting a portion of the gasoline and license taxes, all of which now goes to the state. This extra revenue would materially benefit Fulton County in the maintenance and construction of county roads. Although he realizes that the county judge has no judicial power to regulate this phase of taxation, he promises to devote his time and influence toward this purpose.

Mr. Tipton realizes that the finances of Fulton county are in bad condition, and it is his honest desire and intention, if elected, to bring pressure to bear on the problem of giving relief to the overburdened taxpayers of this county, and shall devote every effort in his power to prevent further increase in taxation and indebtedness.

Mr. Tipton has made a canvass of the county in an effort to see every voter, outline his platform and to solicit their consideration of his qualifications. He extends his sincere and heartfelt appreciation to those who give his candidacy careful thought, and if elected, shall strive toward the goal, and "the New Deal" as herein set out for the people's approval.

Officers got busy, apprehended two negroes fitting the description given by Allen, who later identified them. They were placed in jail for trial. But when County Attorney E. J. Stahr of Hickman arrived, Allen failed to show up to press the case. Negroes were released.

Think It Over

BY THE MEDITATOR

If You Like This Column Tell Us.

Business men sometimes ask, when a movement for some kind of joint action is promoted in the trade circles of their city, why they should go in for something that they do not meet their approval.

While this is a free country, it is also a time of organized efforts and communities that organize and act as a unit will make twice as rapid progress as those where business men and citizens play lone hands, and each go ahead "on their own."

Of all parasites, the human species is the least tolerable. It is possible to find a reason in nature for every kind of parasite save the human for there is no reason, natural or invented, which can excuse any man for not standing on his own feet. And yet, hosts are primarily to blame. The parasite cannot fasten save where he is permitted to. Disease germs can lodge only in a business whose pulse is running below normal. The parasite is not an intake pipe, but a drain, nor does he drain off waste, he drains the vigor and responsibility of his victim—be it man or business.

WHO IS MY NEIGHBOR?

Years and years ago that question was asked and answered. It is as pertinent today as it was centuries important today as it was centuries ago. Nothing so surely, so rapidly, builds up communities and cities as does a neighborliness, neighborly contrary nothing so quickly destroys and disintegrates a community, a neighborhood, a city as will bickering, jealousy and hatreds.

Suppose every business man would resolve that he would speak only in terms of commendation of every other business man in the city, and practice it, say, for six months, the effect would be marvelous. And what's true of this city is equally true of every other city, community, neighborhood and family.

A pull together will bring to pass that which any community, any neighborhood, any church, any family, stands in need of. It cannot be accomplished by any spirit of enmity, spleen venting, or taking unfair advantage to gain a selfish point. It can be brought about by translating into the everyday life of the people, individually and collectively, those principles we so frequently hear preached about but too seldom see practiced. "Let brotherly love continue" was not meant for the other fellow alone, as some of us sometimes seem to think, but is meant for one and all. So think it over.

A PERSONAL
MESSAGE

TO THE VOTERS OF FULTON COUNTY:—

Because the duties of my office take so much of my time that I now see it is going to be impossible to make a house to house canvass of the county, I am taking this means of reaching all the voters, believing you would rather have me stay on the job and protect your interests than spend my time campaigning. I hope you will consider this as a personal call and a personal message.

Four years ago you selected me for your County Judge, and now as that term of office is drawing to a close, and you are preparing to make your selection for that office for the next term, it is incumbent on me, as your servant, to render to you an accounting of my stewardship in office. At the beginning of my term of office, on January 1, 1930, the county had a floating indebtedness of $66,530.75, and a balance due on bonded indebtedness of $485,000.00 which my administration inherited from the preceding administration.

We were then, and still are, in what is termed the depression. Bank failures, unemployment, deflation of market values have placed us on the verge of bankruptcy and ruin. In the last four years the assessed valuation of real estate, including town lots, has declined from $8,381,855 to $6,047,775, or a loss of $2,334,120.00; bank shares have reduced from $353,436.00 to $234,440.00; tangible property from $942,780.00 to $546,640.00, making a total reduction in assessed valuation of $2,849,256.00, the taxed revenue from which is lost by the county, but is saved to the taxpayers. But in spite of the depression, bank failures, unemployment and deflation in values, the outstanding floating indebtedness of the county has not been increased but reduced, and the bonded indebtedness has been reduced by $24,000.00 in the last four years.

On December 1, 1922, the county issued funding bonds to the amount of $100,000.00, and on February 5, 1924, by a vote of the people the Fiscal Court was authorized to issue $450,000 in bonds for the purpose of building hard roads. On July 1, 1924, the Fiscal Court issued $100,000.00 of these bonds, and on March 1, 1925, they issued $100,000.00 and on March 1, 1926, they issued $100,000.00 of these bonds, making a total of $300,000 of road and bridge bonds issued; and on September 1, 1928, the county by its Fiscal Court, issued $115,000.00 in bonds to take up that much of its floating indebtedness consisted of notes $31,991.46, warrants 1924, $10,886.83; warrants 1925 $36,411.80, and warrants 1926, $35,919.87.

We have been operating the county expenditures under the budget system, anticipating the revenues in the same amount as charged to the Sheriff as tax collector, and limiting the expenditures so as to come within our revenue or income each year.

No bonds have been issued during this administration, and in no year did we exceed revenue. I have endeavored to administer the fiscal affairs of the county in a conservative way, realizing that the revenue of the county had to be cut and further realizing it's unsafe to spend more money in any year than the taxes for such. Many readjustments have been made and are being made, and if you see fit to give me another term I feel certain that other reductions can and will be made in that old indebtedness and to that end I hereby pledge my every effort.

In settlement of the estates, and in the trial of all cases, I have tried to be fair and just to all parties concerned and have tried to perform every duty of the office in a safe and sane way, with malice toward none, and I promise, if you see fit to endorse me for a second term, to perform the duties of the office in a plain and simple manner with fairness to all. You know me, you know my policy, and you know what to expect. Why change? I assure you that I greatly appreciate all past favors and will appreciate any and everything you may do for me in this campaign.

RESPECTFULLY

WAR DECLARED.

War has been declared. President Roosevelt and his army of co-workers have got Old Man Depression on the run and apparently the old gentleman is headed for the cemetery in a big way.

Reports from every part of the country may be heard about improved business conditions, increased production and employment. Business firms throughout the nation have indicated their determination to co-operate with the president in his efforts to carry the battle into the camp of Old Man Depression, who is being forced to retreat, hard pressed on all sides.

Th NKA is meeting approval and is expected to effect radical changes in working conditions. The NKA is the beginning of a movement toward a co-operative commonwealth. The machine age is upon us, and it is necessary that some definite plan of wholesale operation of industry in this country be worked out. America at last has been kicked with the consciousness that salvation lies in planned production. We are beginning to realize that labor-saving devices must be exactly that, and not mediums with which to increase the number of unemployed.

The entire country has been mobilized for re-employment and to wage a determined war against the "economic hell" of the past four years. Success is being met with on all fronts and today hope prevails a land in which every citizen to the humblest man and woman has been enlisted to end the depression.

With the new President at the helm, whose courageous and bold leadership has heartened all the people, despair has been long since replaced by faith and confidence. A plan built on the soundest theory known to modern men has been devised to put millions back to work and raise their pay. Thousands of unemployed boys have been detailed to forest conservation camps, where the young manhood of America will be restored to a firmer belief in self and a sounder foundation of character developed.

New life and confidence have been instilled in the American people, and the country is leaping on the highway to better times. And let's continue a successful war against Old Man Depression until he flees in disgust and permanent defeat.

A SECTIONAL EVENT.

For four days September 6-9, the five-county fair will be held at the fair grounds in Fulton. Farmers in Fulton, Graves, Hickman, Obion and Weakley counties, and citizens of the various towns, have been looking forward to this event when poultry, livestock and agricultural products will be gathered in one collective group for exhibition.

The fair is being sponsored thru the Fulton County Fair association thru the cooperation of rural citizens residing in every section of five counties in this immediate vicinity. The fair should prove a great success, with every citizen pulling for it.

Preliminary steps are being taken in many communities in preparation for exhibits at the fair. Leading agriculturists, stock and poultry raisers will participate in the event. This section is recognized as one of the foremost farming communities in West Tennessee and West Kentucky. And in cognizance of this fact, it is a detriment and restraining influence not to have a fair where the true spirit of progress and development may be encouraged.

Every co-operation and support should be given in furtherance of the agricultural welfare of this section. The populace should turn out 100 percent strong for the fair celebration in September. Not only should the attendance be governed by the pleasures and enjoyment obtainable at the fair, but it is a duty and responsibility that we owe ourselves and our community to contribute in our small way to make the fair a success. The growth and prosperity of this section is of vital interest to farmer, citizen, merchant and banker alike, and all should do everything in their power to advance the welfare of this territory.

Let the spirit of unity and co-operation thrive and let's adopt the motto: "One for all and all for one." Let's welcome the coming of the five-county fair with open arms, and strive to make it an epoch-making event.

A GOOD BAROMETER

Railroad car loadings are increasing steadily—a good barometer of better times.

The claim of many railway executives that any increase in gross business would be translated into a relatively larger percentage of net, due to increased efficiency of operation, was borne out in the first group of roads to report for June.

The first 50 railroads to file June earnings statements showed aggregate net operating income amounting to $50,787,000 as compared with $14,489,600 in the corresponding month last year, an increase of 22.2 per cent over the $41,559,000 of June 1931.

In May this year, these same 50 carriers reported net operating income of $34,271,000 as against $12,299,000 in May, 1932, a gain of 178.6 per cent.

An editorial in a railway magazine remarks: "Generally speaking, when a freight car is loaded it means that someone has been put to work to make an article that someone else has purchased and the article has been shipped. All down the line it means that the wheels of industry are turning with increasing tempo." Truly, there are fewer better signs on the horizon today than those displayed in the car loading figures. If the railroads are getting busier, all of us are going to be busier along with them.

HISTORY IN THE MAKING
By J. Paul Bushart.

Early schools and social activities. The first school house was a one room affair but it was warm and comfortable. Of course it was crude and primitive yet it offered advantages in education unknown to those early settlers in this community up until that time.

Proper announcement was made when the building was completed, and it was not long before a capable teacher was obtained. On April 1, 1842, W. W. Timbrell, teacher and scholar, opened the school. He gave instructions in orthography, reading, writing, arithmetic, English grammar, natural philosophy, composition, for the fee of $30 for 12-week session. Miss Timbrell taught piano, and Mr. Timbrell gave lessons on the violin and the flute; also in dancing.

Academies were opening up through Kentucky and Tennessee and special private instructors were often employed in the better to do homes. The Dresden Female academy was opened in January, 1842 by Mr. Mason and wife, who came from Nashville. Mr. Mason, however, was a native of Paris, France, and a professor of modern languages. He also gave private lessons.

And of course in those days there had to be military schooling. Here's an example of a military notice: "The Battalion Muster will be held at Moscow on Friday, May 13, 1842. Regimental Muster at Clinton, Thursday, October 6, 1842; Drill at Mayfield, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 27-30, 1842. Court martial at Clinton Thursday October 20, 1842.

Yes, there were lovers in those days, too. The young folk would gather at parties and balls, most of which were held at the home of some prominent family. And when there was no entertainment there were lovers' lanes, buggy rides and meandering footpaths to wander. Just above the town of Mills' Point was a big sulphur spring which attracted lovers far and near, and on balmy days it was a favorite spot for whiling away pleasant moments.

There is a legend about Lovers' Leap, overlooking the bluff above Hickman. It is said that a young couple were in love, but due to parental interference they were not permitted to be married. After the lovers had given up all hope of linking their lives happily together, they entered a suicide pact, whereby they agreed to jump over the bluff to death. A 1 that's how Lovers' Leap got its name.

C.C.C. CAMP

Various communications from local boys in the Civilian Conservation Corps in the Fort MacArthur District portray some very interesting incidents. Fulton people no doubt will be interested in a few of these accounts from the CCC News published by and for CCC men at Monterey, Calif. All CCC camps in the Fort MacArthur district, of which there are 24 camps and 5,000 workers, is under the direct control of Major General Malin Craig, assisted by army, navy and marine officers and enlisted personnel of the regular army.

Russell Freeman, son of John Freeman of Fulton, is a sub-reporter on the CCC News, and has written many interesting letters back home. Aunal Hart of Hickman, Ky., is a staff correspondent for this publication. Both boys are in Company 1502 or Salt Creek Camp F-227. The commanding officer is Major W. W. Carr.

Some Fulton people may remember W. C. Lightfoot, formerly a flagman on the Fulton district of the Illinois Central System, who is staff correspondent from Company

1503, or Malibu Mountain Camp P-221. Most of the Fulton boys who joined the CCC are stationed in California. Here's a note from Company 548 which is highly interesting:

"Our company, which has 183 Kentuckians, has surprised some of the residents of the West because of the fact that the men are not of the fictitious gun-totin' kind of Kentuckians that so much is written about. We have a fine bunch of well bred boys, some of whom are high school and college graduates, and all of whom are on a serious mission."

There is plenty of work, excitement and fun for the boys in these camps. Lately they have been fighting a raging forest fire under the supervision of the Forest Rangers. The fire is burning near Kings City in the Monterey district, ravaging more than 400 acres. In addition to the several hundred men from the Monterey district camps 325 men from the First MacArthur district are aiding in the fire-fighting.

Every camp has its baseball team, wrestlers, boxers and representatives in other sports, and much entertainment is provided by inter-camp contests. All CCC camps in the Fort MacArthur district are equipped with radio sets, and a variety of entertaining programs are tuned in.

The various camps are all so entirely different that it is impossible to make a proper comparison if one takes in all factors, such as location, engineering, construction, trees and natural beauty. The locations of the camps range from Salt Creek Camp Company 1502, in the center of the most desolate dust patch imaginable to Wheeler Gorge Camp Company 557, which is located in a really beautiful canyon heavily wooded with towering pines. However, the two camps cannot be compared as one contains advantages which would be disadvantageous to the other.

Company 1503 at Camp P-221 on Malibu Mountain is located in a beautiful spot, only a few miles from the Pacific Ocean, and is fortunate too enjoy the cooling ocean breezes which adds greatly to the comfort of the men. Several Fulton county boys are in this camp.

TO PRYORSBURG

Pryorsburg and Water Valley baseball nines tied-up on the latter diamond Sunday afternoon, with Water Valley suffering defeat by a score of 4 to 3, after nine innings of fast and furious battling. It was a grudge game, and a good crowd witnessed the contest.

Another game between these competitors is being arranged.

Don't Be MISLED

It has been rumored at various times by some who wish to mislead the public, that I have withdrawn from the race for JAILER of FULTON County.

This Is A MISTAKE

I have no intention of withdrawing. On the contrary I have been actively engaged in making a canvass of the county, soliciting the support and patronage of my friends and acquaintances.

So, in the future, you can rest assured that I am in the race until the end. Don't believe anything you might hear to the contrary.

Your Support and Influence Will Be Greatly Appreciated

Vote For S.A. 'Monch' HAGLER For Your Next County Judge

TO THE VOTERS OF FULTON COUNTY

I want to thank each and every one of you for the many courtesies shown me during this campaign.

If elected County Judge I promise to devote my time to the duties of the office, and to apply the same principles of economy in County Affairs that I would apply in my own personal affairs. I believe in fairness and justice to ALL, with special privileges to none, and if elected will come to you FREE and unfettered.

I have no mud to throw and would be glad to have you examine my record for YOURSELVES before believing or repeating certain things told during this campaign.

It has been said by some that I would be too conservative in conducting the financial affairs of this county.—My motto is to live well but to live within your income.

The Taxpayers of Fulton County can rest assured if I am elected I shall strive at all times to keep within the County's income and to get a full dollar's worth for the county, for every dollar spent.

Again I ask you to vote for ME on next Saturday, August 5th and I pledge YOU a fair deal.

Sincerely,

S. A. 'Monch' HAGLER

I want no job at the hands of the State Administration, and I am not seeking any, and if I go to the Legislature I shall go there to represent this district, and no political clique or group need expect favors at my hands.

In conclusion, I wish to thank persons with whom I have come in contact, for their courtesy and attention to my candidacy.

always had plenty to do to keep the taxes paid.

As to the Sales Tax I have never said I would vote for it. I stated through the press long before he did that I would not vote for it; told most of the merchants in the two counties and even wrote to some of them. Two of these firms are the W. C. Hutcherson & Co. and Thos. Emerson Company of Clinton. I even wrote the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Fulton and stated my stand on the matter and I know he received this letter because I asked him a few days later if he did.

I discussed various things I stood for with voters all over the two counties, and also got their views, and I have seen a multitude, even though I have not been able to see near all the voters.

My opponent and I agree on some things; there are some things I stand for as stated in my published platform but I do not know how he regards. To say the least, I have given the people my views by personal contact and through the press and by handbills. The people know how I stand in plenty of time before the election and can govern themselves accordingly. I am widely known in both counties; most of you know that I have always tried to do right and that I have some ability; that I have always tried to keep well posted and informed on current affairs. I am sorry that I have not been physically able to speak, but don't think it should be held against me. When I get to the Legislature I will be ready to speak when the occasion arises.

When I go to the Legislature I want to be in a position to render real service to my district; I am not wanting to antagonize any group of men towards me, but want to have the good will of all, as no man can do much there by himself. I am a Democrat and do not want to tear up the party.

Before I announced for this office Mr. Wiley told me he heard rumors that I was going to run. I confirmed this rumor, and then he pledged me his support. But two months later he became my only opponent. I feel that I should make these statements since, because of bronchitis, I may not be able to make any speeches.

Yours very truly,
GLENN W. LANE.

To The Voters Of Fulton County

I wish to take this opportunity of making this last appeal to the voters of Fulton and Fulton county to give my candidacy their consideration before going to the polls to cast their vote Saturday, August 5th.

I have tried to make a thorough canvass of the county in order to see all my friends and acquaintances, and to present my qualifications for Jailer to the voters who will choose a man to fill this office.

If you see fit to elect me to serve as your Jailer, I shall do my duty to the best of my ability. I feel that I am thoroughly capable of discharging the duties of this office to the satisfaction of the people, and believe my public experience will be an asset in handling the duties of the Jailer's office.

I shall conduct the office according to the law—influenced by none, but shall carry out my duties in the interest of the people who elect me as a public servant of law and order.

If you know me you know my qualifications for this office, and if you don't ask your friends. Your support and vote will be deeply and sincerely appreciated. I shall be ever grateful to those who do anything in my favor.
