Thousands Are Killed and Injured

Southern Illinois and Part of Missouri In Path of Destructive Tornado.

A tornado tore through southern Illinois Wednesday after lashing Missouri and then caused considerable damage in Indiana before it died out to the northeast after collecting a reported toll of 3,631 persons dead or injured on the basis of estimates available from the storm swept regions, where communication was largely destroyed.

The first news of the horrible disaster reached Fulton Wednesday night over the radio. Those tuning in had early information closely followed by newspaper reports.

While prostrated wires made the collection of data difficult, estimates through various sources placed the total dead at 934 and the injured at 2,529.

The destruction of property was enormous, several towns being almost entirely wiped out.

The table of casualties are as follows:

Work on Edgewood Cut-Off
Progressing Rapidly

The work on the Edgewood cut-off is progressing in a very satisfactory manner we understand, and the line is taking the effect rapidly of a railway bed. The Nelson Company has received a number of new locomotives recently, with which to handle the movement of the dirt, and considerable new temporary track and trestling has been built, with the completion of a number of fills.

The small locomotives used in this work handle anywhere from 5 to 9 cars, and with the work moving on, at some of the camps day and night, they are making quite a nice showing.

Illinois Central Man Made Superintendent on Missouri Pacific

Mr. C. C. Chapman, Inspector of Transportation on the Missouri Pacific, has been appointed Superintendent of the Missouri Division of that road. Mr. Chapman came from the Illinois Central where he had been employed since 1905, as telegraph operator, dispatcher, chief dispatcher and train master.

H. B. Hull Passes Away.

The announcement of the sudden death of H. B. Hull, vice-president of the Illinois Central Railroad at San Antonio, Texas, Tuesday morning, was received in Fulton with bowed head and general regret. He was extremely popular with all I. C. employees who knew him and those privileged to become his acquaintances. The body of Mr. Hull, accompanied by the widow passed through Fulton Wednesday night enroute to Chicago for burial.

Mr. A. E. Clift, Senior Vice-President of the Illinois Central passed through the city early part of the week, en route south.

Supt. Williams of the Illinois Central spent several days in Birmingham this week, supervising and inspecting some new improvements being made at that point.

The Illinois Central fruit and cotton shed at Bradford, Tennessee burned the early part of the week. It so happened that no shipments were stored in the shed at the time, which will make the loss considerably less than it would have been.

Dr. H. Luton spent a few days in Louisville the early part of the week on business.

Supt. Williams of the Illinois Central held his regular safety meeting early part of last week at which the matter of safe practices among the men, as well as safety for the public was discussed.

Mrs. T. M. Franklin Passes Away

At 7:15 o'clock Wednesday evening, March 18th, the death angel visited the home and carried away the spirit of Mrs. K. Cooksey Franklin, beloved wife of T. M. Franklin. The word flew over the city as on wings of wind. Wherever it touched it left sorrow, and the expressions of sympathy for the bereaved ones were many and from the heart.

Mrs. Franklin was born in Henderson, Ky., and when a young lady removed to Fulton to make her home with her aunt, Mrs. Mahoney. Some years ago she was united in marriage to T. M. Franklin, and to him she was what the sunshine is to the world, and this eclipse brings both darkness and chill. Thus over a happy home the shadow of deepest sorrow has fallen. To-day the eternal springtime with everlasting glories belongs to her who has gone before.

Mrs. Franklin was a member of the First Baptist Church, and the beautifying influence of a pure religion were spread over a life and character as spotless and charming as was ever possessed by any of the noble women who have lived and died during the ages that are gone. A perfect lady at all times—under all circumstances, she seemed born to inspire the love and esteem of all who were so fortunate to be acquainted with her.

She is survived by a devoted husband, one sister, Mrs. Dora Paschall, Dallas, Texas; one brother, M. H. Cooksey, Johnson City, Ill.; two nieces, Mrs. Voyle Abbott, Tampa, Fla.; Mrs. J. H. Cade, Dallas, Texas.

Much has been taken from the husband and relatives; sweet ties have been severed, but much is left. The Christian's hope and fadless memories are still theirs. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to them in their bereavement.

Brief funeral services conducted at the home today at 10 o'clock conducted by Rev. C. H. Warren and Rev. J. V. Freeman. Interment at Fairview cemetery.

The graders and many of the employees at the barn take particular pains to explain to the farmers why the grader must grade lower than the best of each basket, and some of the farmers have taken the advice to heart and been more careful in handling the weed, but the idea of quantity, instead of quality seems hard to eradicate from the minds of many of the farmers.

One example of what better separating will do was that of a farmer, the first season the Association operated, who re-handled his delivery at noon, while the grader was at dinner, making a gain of $12.00 for his hour's work, he and his crew separating the grades from two or three baskets during that time.

You Are Invited To

VISIT THE O. K. LAUNDRY
NEXT WEEK

J. J. Owen, proprietor of the O. K. Steam Laundry and one of Fulton's most liberal business men, will keep open house at his laundry establishment on State Line Street next week, beginning Tuesday afternoon and continuing for four afternoons. To enliven the occasion Mr. Owen will give to each church in the city $25.00 in cash that registers 100 of its members as visitors during the four days. He will also give each visitor a souvenir.

The purpose of Visitors Week which is National in scope, is to educate the people to the things that a laundry can do in the way of making housekeeping easier, and in order to allow the public to become acquainted with the workings and various processes laundries employ. Mr. Owen is urging the people to take advantage of the opportunity next week to visit the O. K. Laundry. Here you will find one of the most up-to-date laundry and dry cleaning establishments to be found anywhere. The sanitary condition of the premises is always kept just as you will find it on visitors' day.

It is indeed educational to visit the O. K. Laundry and see the various processes used in laundering, dry cleaning, pressing, hat blocking and every known convenience employed in an institution of this kind.

The O. K. Laundry enjoys the reputation of turning out the best finished work of any institution in the country and have many agencies sending in work, some almost beneath the smoke of the large city laundries.

Be sure to visit the O. K. Laundry next week and take as many friends with you as possible. See that your church captures $25.00 for registering 100 members and another $25.00 for registering the largest number of visitors.

Tobacco News

ASSOCIATION TOBACCO IS BEING DELIVERED AT A LIVELY RATE

Last week was the biggest week of the season for the Dark Tobacco Growers barn in Fulton, 215,495 pounds being taken in up to Friday night. Friday was also the biggest day of the week, there being 53 wagons unloaded on that date and 43 on Thursday. This is the more remarkable as only one farmer had registered for Thursday, and none for Friday, up to Saturday of the preceding week.

The total receipts for the season, so far, is 1,432,905 pounds with indications that the receipts for this week will not be quite so heavy as those of last week. The best grade delivered last week was B2 D26, which brought $32.00.

Four cars were loaded and shipped during the week totaling 100,080 pounds or an average of a trifle over 250,000 pounds to the car.

Prizing began at the Browder house on last Monday, and will continue at that place for most of the season, or at least until the hydraulic press is installed and in working order in the new barn. Mr. Horace Workman will be in charge of the prizing.

Goalder Johnson Announces for Sheriff

In today's Advertiser we are authorized to announce the candidacy of Goalder Johnson for the office of Sheriff of Fulton county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election August 1.

The above paragraph will be welcome news to the voters. They have waited patiently and longingly for the name of this staunch and loyal Democratic leader to appear in the announcement column for sheriff, remembering well the splendid record he made when he served the people in the same capacity years ago.

Goalder Johnson needs no introduction to the voters of Fulton county, but a reproduction, in part, of what his home paper, the Hickman Courier, has to say will not be out of place at this time as follows:

"This announcement on his part, is a source of much satisfaction to his many friends scattered throughout the county."

"Goalder at one time held the office to which he is at present an aspirant, and at no time during the tenure of such office violated the confidence imposed in him by the people of this county who elected him. While sheriff he fulfilled his duty, and mostly personally, by serving papers placed in his hands, whether civil or criminal, and in the case of the latter he had the reputation of bringing in his man without injury to any concerned."

"One of the duties of a sheriff is to collect taxes and, in respect to this, Goalder, he fulfilled this duty to the satisfaction of the county as well as the state, and in doing this, his sworn duty, and properly accounting for same, he met the will of the people who elected him. As an unusual thing, the Fiscal court at the end of his term as Sheriff went on record as stating that he had, each year, accounted for all taxes charged and collected in a way better than any sheriff during their experience, and his quietness or receipt from the state shows he settled with the Commonwealth each year in full on or before date required."

"Some people are cut out for or adapted to a certain kind of work and we do not believe this could be better illustrated than in this instance, for Goalder is a natural born sheriff, as proven by his past record, and he not only looks the part, but is able and qualified to carry out the manifold duties of the office."

"Possessed with untiring energy and indomitable will, saturated with a proper sense of justice and tolerance for the weakness of his fellow man, we cannot but feel that he is the proper man for the place, and the place could not be better filled."

"During his term as sheriff he mistreated no one, and while always ready to help the unfortunate, he did not forget his sworn duty, and this he did efficiently and without injustice, and it is a common saying all over the county, 'Goalder Johnson made the best sheriff Fulton county ever had,' and why would he not again?"

"Goalder is deeply appreciative for the confidence heretofore placed in him by the public, and you can be assured if you support him now that the loyalty shown him will not be misplaced."

"If elected he will be sheriff of all the people, and the poor and the meek will receive the same consideration as the rich and influential, regardless of their station in life."

"As before, he will temper justice with mercy, and he has never been appealed to in vain, office or out of office, being al-

First Christian Church

O. J. Sowell, Pastor

The Sunday school seems to have flourished in the absence of the pastor and the superintendent last Sunday. The assistant superintendent, Mr. D. C. Ligon reports the largest crowd in attendance for several months. The Sarah Dean Bible class is by far the leading class of the Senior department and it is doing some great work under the leadership of Miss Parker as President and Mrs. Huddleston as teacher.

The Junior Endeavor had a very fine program Sunday evening and it is a credit to any church to have so many young people in active training for future leadership in the church and community. The destiny of the country and of the church depends upon the training of the present day generation. The young people should find more encouragement in the home; fathers and mothers should not say, go, but come on with us, we'll set the examples of Christian living for you, when a nation forgets God, it then meets disaster. Shall our future America be a Christless nation, with no love or fear for the Master of all the Universe and within it? The answer depends upon the parents of this present day.

The Sarah Dean Bible class held its monthly meeting with Mrs. Henry Alexander Monday afternoon at 2:30.

The Bible class reports fine results from the rummage sale which was put over last Saturday. The class is very grateful to Mr. John Huddleston for the use of his place of business.

Rev. O. J. Sowell spent the week end in Louisville on business.

Mr. R. C. Pickering spent the week end in Chicago.

Rev. Sowell addressed the High school boys last Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. There were about 95 boys present.

Mrs. C. R. Sowell has returned to Mayfield after spending several days near Hickman with friends and Rev. Sowell this city.

Mr. N. G. Cooke has returned from Florida and reports a pleasant trip. We're glad to see him back.

There was a good rehearsal of the Easter Cantata Wednesday night after prayer meeting in the church.

Mrs. L. C. Moss is gradually improving after undergoing an operation in Memphis, some few weeks past.

Mrs. O. J. Sowell and Mrs. Jake Huddleston were in Paducah one day last week.

Little Lonnie Thompson is up after several days of illness.

Mrs. G. W. Parker is improving after being ill for several weeks.

Mr. W. H. Spradlin continues ill in his home on Pearl street.

Mrs. C. B. Gregory is improving after being ill for some time.

Look at our program for next Sunday and plan to make it a big day for the church by being present.

WIN IN RIOTING AT ANTI-SOVIET MEET

SCORE HURT, MANY JAILED AFTER CHICAGO BATTLE

WOMEN JOIN THE MELEE

Screaming "Cossacks," Bolsheviks Create Turbulent Scenes in Theatre While Police Use Clubs To Quell Rioters.

Chicago—Red Russia turned an anti-Soviet demonstration in the Garrick Theatre into a howling mob in which 20 persons were hurt, at least a score placed under temporary arrest and a hundred police reserves and detectives were needed to quell the riot.

For more than two hours police with riot clubs fought to restore order. The chief speaker, envoy of the Kerensky conservatives, never was able to say more than a sentence without starting the fighting again. Toward the end the police clubs subdued the rioters and Raphael Abramovitz, the speaker, was able to talk briefly.

But the riots ruled at the last. The moment the curtain went down they surged into the aisles and without attempting to leave the theater raised their voices in a thunderous howl of the red song "The Internationale."

Again flying squadrons of blue coats and plain clothes men in wedge formation, were forced to plow their way through the raging mobs, clubs aloft and cracking down on skulls of the leaders, before they were able to clear the building.

In the street the rioting started again. Screaming women protested against "American Cossack" rule and fought and scratched the policemen. "Men, arise and break the chains of slavery," they sang from the "Internationale," but the police clubs prevented the ascension.

William F. Dunn, an editor of the local Communist paper, the Chicago Daily Worker, mounted a box beside a telephone pole, while thousands surged around him on the sidewalk blocking street, car and automobile traffic for 30 minutes.

"On with the great American revolution," was the tenor of his message, a message received with roars of hoarse approval.

And again the police were forced to scatter the cohorts of the Soviet Russian republic. The mob, muttering, moved on up the street.

Anti-Soviet leaders in the Garrick audience made the direct charge that the riot was inspired by Soviet propagandist chiefs in America and that it was organized along the disciplined military lines which the present rulers of Russia effect to keep their cohorts in line.

It was noticeable, they pointed out, that the reds, equal in number at least to the conservatives, were spotted in little groups throughout the theater, with heckling women in the center and surrounded by husky male ruds.

"They had orders to break up this meeting or lose their Soviet rank," one conservative explained. "And that automatically meant they couldn't go back to Russia, a point they all want to gain some day. There are not more than 2,000 American Communists in the United States. The rest are all imported ruds."

The Garrick meeting was arranged by the Chicago Jewish Socialist party, its purpose was to raise funds for the relief of political prisoners exiled to the frozen wastes of the island of Slavitski on the Arctic Circle. They are without food and shelter, it was claimed, and Abramovitz, leader of the constitutional assembly, or parliament, called by Gen. Kerensky to save off red rule in 1919, is in America to raise money for them.

30,000 Workers Resume Work.

Work in the shops, which was stopped last Tuesday, although the workers remained at their machines, has been resumed, union leaders said.

Glasgow—Burford McCown, 62 years old, well-to-do and a former employee of the Kentucky Utilities Company, whose arrest here created a sensation, failed to appear when his case was called in the Barren Circuit Court. Judge Basil Richardson ordered his $500 bond forfeited.

Whitesburg—Everett Mullins, 25, was shot and instantly killed at the Seuddy mining camp on Carey's Fork, Perry County. A posse is searching for Mitchell Smith, 25, accused of the shooting. According to reports reaching here the shooting followed a quarrel concerning trivial matters.

Watson, acting chief of police, also wounded in the fight, was reported as serious. Deputy Sheriff Elbert Sanders, the third man wounded, is recovering.

Lexington—Bob Lee, golf professional of the Ashland Golf and Country Club, qualified for the "Hole-in-one Club" here by holing out in one at the eighth hole of the local course. Lee's shot of 175 yards was made with a driving iron. He finished with a score of 75. Three other players saw him perform the feat, which was his first hole-in-one.

Harrodsburg—Mrs. Nebo Farris, 84 years old, of this country, was a girl again, light-hearted and light-footed. Relatives and friends assembled at her home, near Cardwell, for a birthday dinner in celebration of her birthday anniversary. Paris—County Agent H. D. Triplett, Bourbon County, has turned over to the boys and girls of the Bourbon County Golf Club, twenty-eight Angus calves to be used in the baby beef project fostered by Mr. Triplett. U. S. AID ROAD CONTRACTS LET

OHIO PIKE, JACKSON, FULTON, HARDIN AND LARUE COUNTIES TO BENEFIT.

C. H. Wood, Williamstown, Appointed As Assistant District Engineer of The Third District For a Seven Year Period.

Frankfort, Ky.—Seven contracts for road construction of Federal aid projects were let by the State Highway Commission for immediate execution. About fifty miles of highway in Ohio Pike, Jackson, Fulton, Hardin and Larue Counties, all grade and drain construction, were provided for.

The counties put up the money, matching Federal aid, as has been the procedure since W. C. Montgomery, chairman, announced himself for the task of giving the State road fund a clean slate by close economy.

"The State Highway Department is functioning smoothly and efficiently under its reorganization," Mr. Montgomery said, "and we are receiving splendid co-operation from county delegations seeking development of the highways."

Hearings of delegations from all over the State were supplemented by sending to supplemental agreements, and suggesting specific methods to county officials by which they will enjoy future road work in their home areas.

Appointment of C. H. Wood, Williamstown, for seven years in the department, to be assistant district engineer of the third district, filled the only vacancy in the field force.

A portion of the Bosworth Trail in Jackson county will be built, a contract let to the T. W. Miller Company assured. Just how much mileage will be covered and what the contract price will be rests with outcome of the sale of bonds by the county.

The other contracts follow:
Ohio County—Federal aid project 13, Section B, Beaver Dam to Owensboro; 7.810 miles, $9,749.75, to Ellis & Sweathers, Owensboro.

Ohio County—Federal aid project 14, Section C, Beaver Dam to Morgantown; 8.987 miles, $9,820, to W. W. Carter.

Pike County—Federal aid project 127-A, Pikeburg to Whitesburg; 5.700 miles, $151,124.57, to Codel Construction Company.

BAN REMOVAL IS ASKED.

Agitation Is Renewed By Students At Georgetown College.

Georgetown, Ky.—A petition signed by approximately a percent of the men students of Georgetown College, asking that fraternities be reinstated, was presented to the trustees at their regular meeting for consideration. The petition was read by Dr. M. B. Adams, president of the college, and after a discussion it was decided that the chairman of the Board of Trustees should appoint a committee composed of two fraternity men, two non-fraternity men, and a fifth whom the four men should decide upon. A report will be given at the next meeting.

The return has been agitated for some time. Fraternities which had active chapters at Georgetown were Kappa Alpha and Phi Kappa Alpha. These were forbidden by the trustees in 1921, after which clubs began to be organized on the campus patterned after the fraternal organizations. At present the four clubs on the campus are the Owl Club, Squirrel Club, Scarab Club and Q. T. Club. In the event that fraternities are reinstated in the college it is reported that each club will attempt to secure a chapter of some national fraternity.

Stuart Awarded Clean Honors

Owensboro—Marc Stuart, senior in the Owensboro High School and captain of the basketball team, was declared to be the individual player showing the best sportsmanship of any player taking part in the Fifth District basketball tournament that closed here. The honor was conferred upon Stuart by H. B. Brown, secretary of the city boys' work at Evansville Y. M. C. A. He was presented with a gold basketball. The award was made at the close of the final game of the tournament and from the applause that greeted the announcement it was evident that a more popular selection could not have been made.

TAX REDUCTIONS PROMISED PUBLIC

CUT OF $100,000,000 POSSIBLE, SAYS CHAIRMAN GREEN

GOOD SURPLUS IN SIGHT

Reduction Of Surtaxes As Well As All Other Income Taxes Contemplated—Will Be Made In Taxes Payable Next Year.

Washington—The outlook for a reduction of $100,000,000 in the nation's taxes for the fiscal year 1926 is "now favorable," Chairman Green of the House ways and means committee, said, adding that he saw "nothing to prevent" reducing the maximum surtax to 25 per cent and general lowering of all income rates.

"It is the intention," he asserted, "to have the new tax law passed in time to apply to taxes payable next year, and if this is done the administration will have the unprecedented record of having reduced taxation three years in succession."

A surplus of $373,000,000 has been estimated for the fiscal year 1926, he said, and the exact amount will be known by the time the committee starts work on drafting a new tax bill about October 15, so that much work on the proposed measure will be well under way by the convening of Congress in December.

"The original treasury estimates of the surplus for the fiscal year 1925, which ends on June 30, next, was about $48,000,000," he declared. "The receipts from taxes have been larger than were anticipated, principally by reason of the improvement in business generally. Some expenses also will be less while on the other hand some are likely to be larger than was anticipated, of which the refunds of taxes is an instance. On the whole, I think I am safe in saying that the surplus at the end of this fiscal year will exceed $100,000,000."

"The present revenue law went into effect with the beginning of this calendar year, and great reductions were made in the rates on moderate incomes, which were fixed much below those of the original plan, and far below those of last year, even after the 25 per cent refund was made. In many cases, the payment this year will be less than half that of a year ago, under the same circumstances. Until the new returns, which are now being made, are received by the treasury and tabulated it is impossible to ascertain the effect of the present rates."

"At this time it is impossible to fix definitely even the amount of the expenditures for the fiscal year 1926. There will be increases in some lines and reductions in others but on the whole the outlook is favorable for a $100,000,000 reduction in taxation."

Emphasizes Weevil Menace
New York—The American Cotton Association continues to emphasize the menace of boll weevil to the 1925 cotton crop and its campaign has enlisted the support of the textile interests in New England and cotton interests in New York. Harry Jordan, manager of the control campaign, said reports have come from investigators in every section of the south indicating the largest hibernation of boll weevil on record.

Mason City, Iowa—Hansford Jack MacNider, former national American Legion commander, admitted in a written statement that he and Margaret McAuley, Mason City girl, had wedded secretly at the Episcopal Church here Feb. 20. News of the marriage was held up, he explained, because he and his bride had wished to let Mr. and Mrs. C. H. MacNider, now touring the Mediterranean countries, hear about it first.

TO WITHDRAW FRENCH TROOPS

SETTLEMENT OF TOUCHY PROBLEM IS ACHIEVED.

LEAGUE'S EFFORTS WIN

Troops Will Be Moved Out of the Zone, But Will Be Available if Needed—Rotating Chairmanship of Commission.

Geneva.—Behind the scenes of the thirty-third session of the council of the League of Nations one of the most dangerous war spots in Europe was removed when Britain and Sweden persuaded France to promise to withdraw its troops from the Saar, within a year.

Appearance indicates no great accomplishment in the Saar. The council recommended that the league governing commission "study the situation and prepare a report on the advisability of moving French troops outside the zone to a place from which they could be called into action immediately if necessity arose."

The council also approved an increase in the local gendarmerie of 250 men bringing the total force to 1,000.

The expected fight over the reappointment of M. Rault, the chairman, and of the rest of the governing commission fizzled when Sweden withdrew its resolution for rotation of the chairmanship among the members. The failure to reply formally to the German protest looks like a slap at Berlin.

However, it is learned on the highest authority that Chamberlain agreed to M. Rault's reappointment as "cheap way of pleasing an old ally," and that Foreign Minister Unden of Sweden thereupon withdrew his demand for a rotation of the chairmanship and received a pledge from Britain that France would not oppose the innovation next year. The proponents of the league regard the Saar as one of the most objectionable aftermaths of the treaty of Versailles. The placing of a highly intelligent population under autocratic rule for 15 years is called a great mistake.

However, the opponents of the present foreign rule in the Saar recognize it as a fait accompli, and only hope that a Franco-German agreement may end this intolerable situation before remaining ten years provided in the treaty are up. The council is informed that the Herriot government does not approve of the previous campaigns to Frenchify the Saar, and realize its inability to create a majority for the eventual plebiscite. It also promises to end discrimination by French-controlled mines against German industry, within the zone.

Attempts to alienate the children from their partly German sympathies are also recognized as futile.

Chapman Out of Funds.

Hartford, Conn.—Gerald Chapman, once a millionaire in stolen money and securities, faces the trial for his life with $250 to pay for his defense, according to Judge Groehl, his head counsel, who went to the state prison at Wethersfield for a conference with his client. This money has been forwarded to Chapman by the warden of the Atlanta penitentiary, where it stood to his credit at the time of his escape, March 27, 1923. It was the remainder of cash Chapman had in his possession when sentenced to the penitentiary in August, 1922, for his part in the robbery of a mail truck in New York.

Chapman when recaptured at Muncie, Ind., two months ago, was said to have $4,500 on his person. Judge Groehl said he himself had not seen anything of this money and he has been paying from his own pocket the expenses of preparing Chapman's defense.

Scion of Mutiny Hero Dies.

Victoria, B. C.—Sir James Outram of Colkary, 60 years of age, said to be the third baronet and grandson of an Indian mutiny hero, died here recently. Sir James, eldest son of the late Sir Francis Boyd Outram, also a mutiny hero, was born in London. He came to the Canadian Rockies in 1900 and devoted himself to Alpine pursuits, ascending Mount Assiniboine in 1901.

Mount Outram, the highest peak of the west branch of the north fork of the Saskatchewan range, was named after him. Sir James wrote several articles on mountaineering for magazines.

Held Out Six Bits.

Yonkers, N. Y.—Because he held out 75 cents for spending money and gave his wife but $35 of his weekly payroll, Peter Pancisin told Judge David Garfinkel in city court that his wife attacked him. Pancisin arrested on a charge of assault, said he was only defending himself when his wife struck him because he was short 75 cents in his pay envelope. Judge Garfinkel advised the wife that Pancisin was entitled to more spending money and dismissed the case.

Care in Handling Food and Preventing Waste

What care do you give your food supply after it has arrived at your home? To me, writes Helen Harrington Downing, on "Saving at Home," that is an important question and one that has a strong bearing on thrift. I have been very much impressed in my dealings with several of the national food producers where products are handled commercially, with minute attention given to their choice of foods, the care in preparing and the scientific accuracy in cooking them.

They have found it necessary to study all these things to insure best quality and the most economical results. In handling foods commercially a waste in food value augments the cost of food production, and should therefore be reduced to the smallest degree.

How does expert care in the commercial kitchen compare with that generally given food products in the average home?

Various elements contribute to spoil our food. Heat, air, sunlight and proper temperature are conducive to the growth of food producers and also to their proper preservation, but the spoilage of foods is often caused by exposure to dust, air, too much light, heat or cold.

Air carries dust, and dust contains organisms which attack food and cause decay. This is one very good reason why food products should not be exposed to dust in stores.

The housewife who does her own marketing must not forget that her basket is finished when she puts her basket on the kitchen table. The food must be properly put away and prepared for cooking and serving. The woman who orders by telephone must take care that there is some one at home to receive the purchases when delivered to make sure that the products are all of the quality and brand ordered, and to intelligently put them away until the time of using.

How Ensemble Costume

Is Worn by Some Women

The ensemble costume, like all clothes that become fashionable, will look extremely well on some women and not so happy on others, says the Kansas City Star. But there is this to be said for it—it is not inflexible; with its many modifications in line and style, it lends itself to a comparatively large number of figures.

First think about the coat length. Both full-length coats and coats that come above the skirt are shown in the ensemble costume. For the short woman or the average stout woman, it is better that the coat come well toward the bottom of the skirt or else meet it, to prevent broken lines that are uncomplimentary to short figures or stout dimensions.

Furthermore, for these two types of women it is better for the underneath frock to have either straight lines with no contrasting tunic effect, or else to have the tunic full three-quarter length or even longer. For both types, too, it is preferable that the tunic of the frock be the same color as the frock and coat. The reasons for this are obvious; both the stout woman and the short woman should aim for straight, unbroken lines, the first because the tendency of the long line is to make her appear taller, and the second because the straighter and the longer she can keep her lines, the less apparent is her stoutness.

Snuff Brown and Mink

Snuff brown, long considered a mediocre shade, is now in the heyday of popularity and fashion. Topcoats of snuff brown trimmed with mink are more than merely fashionable. They are stunning.

ARMS CONFERENCE IN THE DIM FUTURE

SECURITY PROBLEM MUST FIRST BE SOLVED.

FRANCE IS HOLDING OUT

Will Not Be Represented at Another Arms Parley Until Security Is Definitely Settled—President Disposed to Go Ahead.

Washington.—President Coolidge's plans for calling a second arms conference are still in the formative stage. The matter has not yet been taken up with Secretary of State Kellogg, who returned from Europe with a comprehensive grasp of the situation there as it will be affected by such a conference.

For this reason it is not expected the conference will be called together before next fall, especially if it is to be held in Washington, which is a hot and uncomfortable capital in mid-summer. In fact, the preliminaries leading up to the conference are expected to cover a period of months.

While the decision of the league council to refer the disarmament and security protocol back to the assembly, which meets in September, may slow up the plans of the president, it will not delay action by Mr. Coolidge until after the assembly meeting. The expectation is that the preliminaries will be out of the way before the Geneva meeting.

The president will be guided somewhat in his action by the judgment of Hugh Gibson, minister to Switzerland, whose report is expected to cover the feeling among the European statesmen at Geneva, as to the actual effect of Austen Chamberlain's attack upon the protocol. While the Washington view is that the protocol is as good as dead, official confirmation is awaited.

It is generally recognized that France will not be represented at another arms conference until the problem of French security has been definitely solved. The protocol was, in a sense, a French creation and intended to solve the security problem. Mr. Coolidge apparently regards the question of French security as one to be solved by European powers rather than by a conference he may call together.

He takes the same view with regard to land armaments, and it was for this reason that the White House spokesman emphasized further naval limitations.

France's stand on submarines prevented an agreement as to limitation of them at the Washington conference, and in turn Britain insisted no limit be placed upon the number of cruisers, which, with destroyers, are distinctly anti-submarine craft. Britain's present programme is understood to call for laying down five light cruisers a year for ten years, indicating a determination to secure a very definite domination in strictly modern vessels of this type. It may well be that Britain's adoption of this cruiser programme was intended to furnish a lever for use in the next arms limitation conference.

The president has indicated he is disposed to go ahead with such powers as are prepared to enter into another conference, but there is good reason for believing he would hesitate to call a conference without French representation.

Japan is not at all happy over the British plans for developing a huge naval base at Singapore or over Britain's cruiser programme.

Mary Garden Sails

New York.—Mary Garden, grand opera diva, sailed on the Aquitania for her villa at Monte Carlo to remain until next season, when she again will fill operatic engagements in Chicago. Miss Garden disposed of rumors that she might manage the Monte Carlo Opera Company by saying her American contracts had two more years to run.

German Radio Growing.

Berlin.—Within the last two months the number of licensed radio receivers has increased 50 per cent, from 400,000 to 600,000. Ninety per cent of the sets are equipped with simple detectors. American-type tubes finding application only in the costliest outfits.

Moose Plan Temple.

Chicago.—A combined Loyal Order of Moose Temple and office building, to cost $3,000,000, will be built in Chicago's downtown district. James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor and director general of the order, announced here recently.

Flu Not Dangerous.

Washington.—Reports of prevalence of influenza in various parts of the country during the last week, particularly in Chicago, were not viewed with apprehension by Surgeon General Cumming of the public health service. Although unable to ascertain the extent to which this disease may have developed in the last seven days, he said, "up until quite recently reports did not indicate a material increase over the same period of last year."

ASPHALT STREETS FOR FULTON

One of the big problems confronting Fulton today is not who will be elected mayor and councilmen at the next election. We will break the news gently. It is our sewerage and streets. A bond issue has already been voted to take care of the sewerage, but what about the streets? Fulton should have paved streets, but little consideration has been given the matter of late because it was thought best to wait until the sewerage work was completed. The question now arises how long will we wait and in what condition will the streets be in before the sewerage system is finally established.

It has been hinted that the business streets be paved with asphalt regardless of the contemplated sewerage system. This would no doubt give some relief to the dust-fighting merchants who find it impossible to keep their stocks clean under prevailing conditions. The oiling of the business streets help, but has its disadvantages, and it is hard to tell which is the most annoying—fighting oil or fighting the dust. Of course, oiling of streets give a brief spell of relief from the dust but it doesn't last long enough for the annoyance it creates. And the sprinkling of streets is worse than all and out of the question entirely.

Let us begin tomorrow—today—building asphalt streets in Fulton, not on account of the dust, but simply because Fulton deserves them.

Trade in Fulton where you get the best values for your money.

A CITY BEAUTIFUL

It is by the editor's invitation that I am writing an article for his splendid weekly. Kindness on his part allowed me to select my subject, for which I am quite thankful. I never enjoyed, nor could I do much with a handed out subject. Sometimes, when one is passed to me, that particular brain cell in my cranium is found to contain only a vacuum. It is delightfully pleasant to be allowed to take a pen in hand and forage for material, provided one neither encroaches on his neighbors' privileges or premises.

The subject selected is an important one to any growing town or city. Today, standing on the threshold of citydom, ready to discard village attire for the more permanent dress of a larger town, the subject is doubly important. Recently I heard a tourist, who has just returned from Florida (the land of sunshine and flowers; the land where the "pot of gold can be found at the end of the rainbow") says that Fulton looked awfully dirty and uninviting. We can readily see how it appeared to one who, for several months, had sojourned in a land where all the paint is fresh and new and landscape gardeners have exhausted their talents in making every inch of ground a beauty spot. A land where neither mosquitoes, gallinippers or sand flies disturb the serenity of the hallowed winter months. It is true that at this time, the busiest season of the year, there is nothing particularly attractive or alluring in our city to interest homefolks or visitors. To the carefree housewife the generous supply of coal dust is often exasperating, but that is one of the disagreeable features of city life, and to a large extent, has to be tolerated. However, there is much that can be done to beautify our town without adding extra tax burdens to the property owners. Many "eye sores" can be made bowers of loveliness, if bulbs, shrubs and other plants were generously donated out of our reserve funds and planted on vacant lots and other places now conspicuous for ugliness. I have been somewhat active in club work since the organization of the first club in our city. At one time I was an enthusiastic advocate of "clean-up week." The club, to which I belonged, donated a liberal number of dollars and hired wagons to haul off the trash. We were very much interested in making the city look "spic and span," for one whole week. I must acknowledge, that my enthusiasm in that direction has waned and I no longer feel a thrill over clean-up week. As a usual thing, in bygone days, before our treasurer finished settling the bills for the trash wagons, the waste paper were naughtily airing themselves over our premises, and when through playing pranks, settled comfortably on our lawns. I would heartily endorse any move to establish a clean up year instead of a clean-up week.

Waste paper is not the only nuisance that claims habitation on our streets and vacant lots. We wonder, Mr. Editor, if you have ever noticed how prominent banana peels are in public places, and how large a part they play in our general disorder. A pedestrian who tamps with them is liable to take a toboggan slide to the next corner and pick himself up with a cracked skull or a broken limb. They look very innocent and unpretentious, but a regular dynamite bomb slumbers in their slim little bodies.

Another nuisance to beautiful lawns and thrifty gardens, is the town dog. He is allowed to roam at will over your premises, take a nap in your favorite flower bed and while you are quietly sleeping, examine every plant in your vegetable garden. Another one of his favorite pastimes is bringing all the rubbish found in streets and back alleys and depositing them at your front door steps. Recently we had some visitors from a distant southern city. They were only with us a few hours and we were particularly anxious to "put the best foot forward." Everything was "done to a turn" in the house and the family was feeling much gratified. I accompanied our guests to the end of the porch and to my horror I saw reclining on the front lawn, a dirty tow sack, several large ham bones and an artie overshoe. The town dog had been busy on the lawn while we were busy entertaining the company blissfully unconscious of the fact that he was making us generous donations of his ugly findings. Since the chicken laws have been rigidly enforced, his majesty, the town dog, has been doing his dead level best to put in full time for both.

This article would not be complete without touching upon another nuisance which would only take a little time and no money to abate. I have reference to stagnant pools of water summering around telephone poles and other places used as hitching grounds. Last summer one of the principal business streets of the town, the home of a pool of the kind. The gorgeous green covering its bosom, exactly harmonized with the color of the adjacent lawn. A few wagon loads of dirt hauled by the city wagons would have been an effective, inexpensive simple remedy. Let's have a clean-up day; a clean-up week and a clean-up year. There are a large number of lovely homes here beautifully kept. Then why not let everything else correspond. Now, Mr. Editor, if this finds its way to the waste basket, only you and I will know of it. One consolation an amateur writer always has when their composition is consigned to the waste basket is, they never have to find it bulging.

I have sometimes thought how novel and interesting an edition of the paper printed entirely from that noted depository, would be. It contains everything from springtime poetry to personal abuse. However, Mr. Editor, if you should ever contemplate publishing a paper of that kind, I would advise you to fortify yourself well in your office den before offering it for distribution.

N. A.

The friends of T. D. Dalton will be glad to learn that he has returned home from the I. C. hospital in Paducah greatly improved in health.

MRS. MACE McDADE PASSES AWAY

Just at the close of a beautiful day, Mrs. Mace McDade, in her 70th year, went to sleep like a tired child Sunday evening, March 15 at 8:30 o'clock, to await the resurrection morn.

Surely this was a most fitting time for a pure spirit to take its flight heavenward. After a long, busy, useful life she died as she had lived—honored, trusted and loved. She reared her own monument while she lived in the hearts of all who knew her. Her life was completed if work all done and well done constitutes completion. Her Christian life was beautiful from its beginning to its close.

It is difficult to pay a fitting tribute to the memory of so noble a woman—one whose every day life was embellished by the most charming and lovable attributes of her sex. She was a devoted wife and mother and leaves a husband and two sons, Charles and Dean and a daughter, Mrs. Paul Chandler; two brothers, Messrs. Jake and Tom Roberts, and two sisters, Mesdames Sallie McDade and P. P. Ridgway to mourn her departure.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church Tuesday morning. Interment following at Mt. Moriah cemetery, east of Fulton.

CHICKEN INDUSTRY PROFITABLE, SAYS W. C. LATTI

W. C. Latta, of Route 4, was a pleasant caller at The Advertiser office Tuesday, and after ordering the paper sent to his address for a year, gave us some valuable pointers on the chicken industry. Mr. Latta is probably the largest chicken raiser in this section of country, having more than two thousand chickens in his flock, after six years' experience.

He makes a specialty of single comb White Leghorns and ships all of his surplus eggs to the Massachusetts hatcheries, where he receives top notch prices. At present he only gathers about 90 dozen eggs a day, but says from now on the increase will be heavy.

Mr. Latta is also a scientific farmer and believes in diversification. His farm consists of something over 60 acres, and he raises corn, cotton, tobacco, hay and other paying crops.

The chicken business is just a "side line," he says, but he makes more money from his "side line" than he does on the 60 acres he cultivates. He also says there is a wonderful opportunity for a hatchery in Fulton and the man or men who grasps it will make good money.

Mayfield Expects to Derive Many Benefits from Transaction

Mayfield, Ky., March 16.—The sale of the water and light plant of this city, which was authorized by the publication of an ordinance Saturday, involves an outlay of $686,000, it was revealed in a statement issued today by Mayor W. H. Brizendine. This total sum is reached in the following items: Plant and distribution system, $600,000; a 20-year lease on the present downtown office and warehouses at the rear, $36,000, and the assumption of the improvements contracted for at the plant, of $50,000. The direct savings to the taxpayers is the reduction immediately of the 50-cent tax levied for the retirement of the water and light bonds, as the bonds are to be retired out of the proceeds of the sale of the plant. This is a savings to the citizens of $525,000 in the twenty-five years the bonds had yet to run.

POULTRY FACTS

PRODUCE MORE EGGS
IN WINTER SEASON

"The Badger state's winter egg production can be increased very noticeably per hen by carrying out certain easily followed plans," says O. M. Johnson, superintendent of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture poultry flock.

"We have discovered," avers Johnson, "that pullets must be separated from the old hens to get the best possible egg production. If this policy is not carried out, the older hens will keep the pullets from their feed and boss them around so that they do not have a chance to get full development."

By letting the pullets run with the older fowls, there is also a great danger of spreading diseases. This, too, is fatal to egg production. An underdeveloped pullet or one that is backward in her development should be sold, continues the poultryman. These pullets, as well as cockerels that are not to be kept for spring's breeding, do not as a rule pay their board.

"Skim milk is one of the greatest aids in egg production and it should be used to the limit," says Johnson, "and each pullet should never be without plenty of milk, either sour or sweet." Washing the dish thoroughly each time before feeding is a precaution so as to guard from diseases. When hens have all the milk they can drink, very little water is needed. In fact it is best, advises the poultryman, that pullets do not have water if they have all the skim milk they can drink. The milk will furnish them with water and at the same time the proteins and minerals the pullets need.

Whole cabbages hung up in the scratching pens will furnish fine green feed, but other greenstuffs also serve their purpose. Many poultrymen make the mistake of throwing large amounts of green stuffs on the floor where it gets muddy and dirty.

For the mash, which the pullets should have access to at all times, equal parts of bran middlings, yellow cornmeal, oats and beef scraps or tankage has given the best results. If the chickens have all the milk they can drink, the meat scraps and tankage can be cut to one-half part.

"A dry, well ventilated hen house free from mites and lice is important. The litter in the scratch pens should not be too deep at first as the pullets do not know how to scratch deeply, or else will not. Yellow cracked corn is a good scratch feed, but one-third of any other wholesome grain can also be added."

Ration Recommended for Making of Winter Eggs

The following ration for winter egg production recommended by the Missouri College of Agriculture, satisfies the needs of the hens and is economical and practical. During the past year it has been fed on a number of farms with good results: Scratch grain—ten pounds of shelled corn and five pounds of dry threshed oats. Dry mash—three pounds of wheat bran, three pounds of wheat shorts and one and one-half pounds commercial meat scrap.

Where milk is plentiful three gallons of skim milk or buttermilk furnished each 100 hens daily will take the place of meat scrap. Either milk or some form of lean meat must be supplied in every ration for successful winter egg production. Commercial meat scrap can be obtained from most feed dealers in 100-pound sacks. One sack will supply protein needed by 100 hens for more than two months. Barley or feed wheat may be used instead of oats. Cornmeal or ground oats may be substituted for shorts in the mash. Alfalfa meal or clover leaves may take the place of the bran. A good grade of tankage may be used instead of the meat scrap. In feeding this ration all grain should be fed in deep straw to compel the birds to exercise. The mash should be fed in self-feeding devices or troughs and a supply kept before the birds. In addition to this ration, hens should have an abundance of water, a supply of green food and free access to sharp grit and crushed oyster shells or soft limestone grit. With early hatched pullets, housed comfortably, and fed this ration, winter eggs are assured.

Plan of Line Breeding

Line breeding can be done by using the same ancestry or blood lines with careful selection that avoids the bad effects of inbreeding. The shade of difference between line breeding and inbreeding is sometimes very faint. Breeding the pullets of a mating back to the sire, and one of the cockerels back to the hen, is a strict line breeding, which is often practiced to establish certain qualities in a strain.

One Nest for Six Fowls

One nest should be provided for each five or six fowls, and even more if trap nests are used. Twelve by twelve inches is large enough and one-fourth-inch mesh hardware cloth is excellent for the bottom. Wall nests are to be preferred to those located under the dropping platform, but the wall nests require a top placed at an angle of at least 45 degrees, to prevent the chickens roosting on them. The runways along the front of the nests can also be made to fold up.

THE FORTY DAYS AND THE ASCENSION

LESSON TEXT—Luke 24:13-53.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Ye are witnesses of these things."—Luke 24:48.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Goes Back to His Father.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Ascends to Heaven.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOP-IC—The Forty Days and the Ascension.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOP-IC—The Ever Living Christ.

I. The Walk of Two Discouraged
Disciples (vv. 13-15).

Emmaus was seven and a half miles northwest of Jerusalem. Just why they were walking this way we do not surely know. Perhaps their home was there, or they were merely walking to seek relief from their stunning sorrow.
If they had believed what Jesus told them about His death and resurrextion they would have escaped this great disappointment. The topic of conversation was the tragedy of the cross and the resurrection rumors. If they had believed what He said about coming forth from the grave they would have been expecting to hear just such reports as were being circulated.

II. The Unrecognized Companion
(vv. 16-24).

1. Who He Was—Jesus (v. 15).
While they reasoned together on the wonderful events of the last few days Jesus joined them. Even when He questioned them concerning their sadness they did not recognize Him.
Many times we are so taken up with our sorrows and disappointments that we do not recognize Jesus walking by our side.

2. His Question (v. 17).
Perceiving their sadness and perplexities, He sought to help by calling forth a statement of their grief.

3. Their Answer (v. 18).

His question so surprised them that they jumped at the conclusion that He was a stranger in Jerusalem, for the condemnation and crucifixion of the great Prophet of Nazareth were so recent and notorious that no one that had lived in Jerusalem could be ignorant of them. One valuable feature of the unbelief of the disciples was that it revealed the fact that they were not credulous enthusiasts, but hard to convince. Out of this incredulity of the disciples developed an unshaken faith in Christ's resurrex-

III. The Scriptures Opened (vv. 25-32).

1. His Rebuke (vv. 25-30).
He did not rebuke them for not believing the "strange stories" that they had heard, but for ignorance and lack of confidence in the Old Testament Scriptures. They had only accepted such parts of the Old Testament as suited their notions. Men and women who do not believe all that the Scriptures say about the work of the blessed Savior are entirely blameworthy. The very center and heart of the Old Testament Scriptures set forth the death and resurrection of Christ. It is ignorance of the Scriptures and unbelief of the wonders and complete redemption wrought by Christ that robs us of many joys, and power and efficiency as workers for Christ.

2. Jesus Recognized (vv. 31-35).
While sitting at meat with the disciples their eyes were opened as they saw Him bless the bread and distribute it to them. We, too, can see the Lord on such common occasions as eating a meal, if we have open eyes.

Indeed we ought to see Him when eating, selling, buying and in our recreations, for He has promised us His presence. They were so filled with joy over this revelation of the Savior that they hastened back to Jerusalem to tell the other disciples of His resurrection.

IV. Jesus Stands in the Midst of the Eleven (vv. 36-47).

1. He said, "Peace be unto you" (vv.
36-47), but they were terrified and affrighted. Sinful man in the presence of God is ill at ease.

2. He showed them His hands and His feet (vv. 38-40). In order to convince them of His personal identity He gave them tangible evidence that He was not a mere spirit.

3. He ate before them (v. 41-43).

4. He commissioned them to evangelize the world (vv. 46-49).
They were to testify concerning His shed blood and resurrection, and on this ground they were to preach repentance and remission of sins to all nations.

V. Jesus Ascends Into Heaven (vv.
50-53).

Having given them the parting message to evangelize the world, He ascended into heaven. Just as we treasure the last words of our departed loved ones so we should ponder this farewell message of the Lord.

Trinity Episcopal Church.

104 Washington St.

Fourth Sunday in Lent.
9:45 a. m. Church school.
7 p. m., Evening prayer and address.

This is the rector's day to hold services at Christ's church at Columbus, Ky., and if the weather permits he will hold the morning services there and will return and hold the evening services at Fulton. If for any reason the rector will not go away for the morning services, notice will be given and the service will be held in town.

Wednesday, 4 p. m., Anti-Communism services and short address.

Thursday, 7 p. m., Choir practice held at the rectory.

Friday, 7 p. m., Anti-Communism services, followed by the Litany and short address.

Cordial invitation extended to anyone to attend these public services.

The sympathy of the congregation is extended to Mr. Charles Binford and family in the loss by death of Mrs. McDade, his former mother-in-law and Mr. McDade and family in their bereavement.

Mrs. John Hoar, who has been very sick at her rooms at the Southern hotel, is reported much improved in health. For the past week Mrs. Hoar had suffered a relapse and had to have constant care.

Mrs. M. B. Abernathy had an attack of ptomaine poisoning from eating canned salmon and was very ill during several days of last week. She is now able to return to her millinery store for a part of each day.

Clara Elizabeth Boyd was taken ill at school last week and her parents were notified and had to obtain conveyance and remove her to her home, where she remained in bed for a few days. She has improved sufficiently in health to be able to resume attendance at school this week. It is thought the illness was caused by running and jumping in play. Mrs. Bessie Shepherd-Clifton of Louisville, Ky., is spending the Lenten season with her mother, Mrs. Laura Shepherd, in Fulton, Ky., and assisting in the choir at Trinity church. She intends to remain with her mother and friends until some time after Easter.

Mrs. Cora Stanley continues her stay at Arlington, Ky., where she is helping in the care of a sick relative, who continues quite sick there.

The rector has beautified the front grounds of the church by planting ivy rose bushes and sowing the yard with blue grass seed.

The Church school was visited with several young women and were given a cordial welcome. Their visit was greatly appreciated.

The rector has been quite busy calling on the sick. Five nights of last week he was called out after bed time to sick people of his church.

Sickness of members of the church choir and members of their families incapacitated the choir for service last Sunday.

The Lenten services at the church continue under difficulty at the church. Those who are able to attend have kept up short services with personal profit.

THE DAHLIA

No Flower Garden is Complete Without It. Easy to Grow

The Decorative Dahlia is the pride of all Dahlias, standing out pre-eminently. In the garden the plants are strong, sturdy, vigorous growers, with heavy, dark green foliage, and a remarkable constitution. The blossoms are produced in great profusion, which is exceptional for a type of giant flowering Dahlias. For cut-flower purposes they are unsurpassed, having long, straight stems of wiry stiffness and producing their flowers in a pleasing upright manner; then principally their lasting qualities when cut they are unequalled, lasting longer than any of the other types. As an exhibition flower the Decorative Dahlia is the most gigantic of all Dahlias, blossoms having beauty, substance, quality—all essential characteristics of a true "Model of Perfection." As a decorative flower they are first in every respect; being graceful, adapted to designs, and most artistic.

No flower garden is complete without Dahlias. But all Dahlias are not alike, there are a number of varieties. It is just as easy to grow the best varieties as the ordinary kind.

Its Spring Pressure Feature Insures Better Disking

We have in stock, ready for your inspection and use, a supply of disc harrows that are noted for doing a better job of diskings their entire width when going over ridges or depressions, or on side hills, as well as on level land. Come in and inspect the

JOHN DEERE Model "B" Disc Harrow

By means of the third lever, spring and John Deere pivoted yoke, this harrow can be given the required pressure to penetrate at even depth its full width under all the above conditions.

It is a really flexible harrow—penetrates, pulverizes and picks in conditions where rigid harrows fail to work all the soil. Each gang works independently, like separate harrows, and both can be given the proper angle to pulverize under varying conditions. It is strong—will last years longer than ordinary harrows because of its all-steel main frame and double-bar, riveted gang frames. It has oscillating scrapers with lock-down and lock-off features, and the most convenient grease cups—easy to fill and out of the dust and dirt.

We can furnish the John Deere Model "B" with rear gang and hitch to convert it into a double-action, horse- or tractor-drawn harrow—a good way to save money and yet get good results.

BUSINESS CHANGE.

N. B. MORRIS BUYS J. M. FRY'S INTEREST IN SHOE BUSINESS

J. M. Fry has sold his interest in the shoe business of Morris & Fry, to N. B. Morris. For thirteen years the firm of Morris & Fry, "The All Leather Shoe Men," has stood at the top notch in Fulton business circles. The very best line of shoes were bought and sold at fair prices, and with a courteous salesforce, they enjoyed the confidence and patronage of the people of the community and surrounding country.

Some weeks ago the firm decided to close out the business and inaugurated a "Quit Business Sale." The people realizing that the splendid values offered were really worth while, crowded the store and bought generously for present and future needs.

Finally, it was decided that the firm dissolve partnership, with the above results. Mr. Morris buying Mr. Fry's interest and continuing the business which will be carried on as usual, maintaining the same high standard of business dealings the firm enjoyed all these years. The style of the firm now is N. B. Morris & Son.

J. M. Fry, retiring member of the firm, will remain in Fulton and engage in some kind of business just as soon as a suitable location can be obtained. For more than thirty-five years Mr. Fry has been prominently identified in Fulton business circles. Years ago he was associated with W. H. Powers in the shoe business and is well known throughout this entire section.

MAKE FULTON THE CITY OF FLOWERS

At the last meeting of the Chamber of Commerce the Civic and Booster committees laid plans for intensive campaigns for the coming summer, and if half of their plans materialize the city will be greatly benefited.

One of the main items of the civic committee's plans will be to have the city cleaned up and painted up. Chief Booster Fall told of the magic effect of a few pailful of whitewash in improving the appearance of homes and his remarks are herewith recalled to those present at the meeting. Also flower seeds are cheap, and many kinds are very easy to plant, requiring almost no care except watering after planting. These flowers, like charity, "cover a multitude of sins," and will be a most satisfactory way to make more slightly the homes of our city.

Other towns make a specialty of some particular kind of flower thus making their city known as the "city of roses," "Sweet Pea" town, etc. Might not the Civic Committee select some flower that is known to grow well here and ask the citizens to plant this flower on their premises, thus giving Fulton an "Official Flower."

The friends of Miss Jennie Gibbs rejoice to learn that she is getting along nicely after an operation which she underwent at the I. C. hospital in Paducah recently. Miss Gibbs, so we understand, will soon return to her duties at the Fulton post office.

AMERICAN LEGION BANQUET A DELIGHTFUL OCCASION

The American Legion banquet at the Usona hotel, Thursday evening, March 12th, was a delightful event long to be remembered by all present. The splendid menu, the beautiful music, the lovely decorations and the brilliant and instructive talks were greatly enjoyed. Commander Ramsey Snow was in charge and introduced the honored guests and speakers of the evening. Past Commander of the Legion for the State of Tennessee, Jere Cooper, of Dyersburg, was the first speaker. He gave a historical review and paid a glowing tribute to the American soldiers in all wars for past generations, closing with the work accomplished and that contemplated by the American Legion.

The next speaker was State Commander Rash of Earlington, Ky. His talk was along instructive lines and the Legion work in general. He was proud to say that Kentucky was the first state to raise her quota of the $5,000,000 endowment for rehabilitation work. He also gave the Legion members some helpful advice which will no doubt be carried out to the letter.

After the speech making, Commander Snow called on Smith Atkins, an enthusiastic member of the building committee, to take charge. Mr. Atkins displayed the plans of the contemplated Legion home and club house, explaining in detail how many rooms the building would contain, size and material to be used. The building will be a two-story brick veneer with all modern conveniences and will cost around $12,000. As yet, a lot has not been purchased, but the committee has several locations under consideration. Legion members present subscribed around $1,000 to the building fund and some of the guests made liberal offers and subscriptions.

Among the out-of-town guests present were Dee Ried, of Hickman Post, and R. E. Roney, editor of the Hickman Courier.

About eighty-five Legion members and guests enjoyed the occasion.

week was that it was very "high" which had a tendency to hold the price much lower than it otherwise would have been, as the graders are not anxious to take long chances on over-grading, and risk of spoiling.

The officials of the Association and the employees at the Fulton receiving station are doing their utmost to induce the farmers to pay more attention to the proper grading and handling of their crops and numerous cards are displayed, calling their attention to the proper manner of doing this.

One card, printed in large type says, "Grade carefully. Keep Grades Separated. It Means More Money for You." Another reads, "These Hands from the Same Basket. You Lose Money When You Mix Grades." Attached to this card are two hands of tobacco, which are of two widely separated grades, thus showing that the grower has lost money by allowing the poorer grade to pull down the average of his delivery, by not separating the poor from the good grades.

Railroad News

operator in the New Yard at Fulton has been sick for several days.

Mr. L. C. Williams, switchman, has been seriously ill for several days, but is now on the road to recovery.

Mr. J. F. Porterfield, General Superintendent of Transportation of the Illinois Central System, was in the city the first of the week.

Some of the Illinois Central Plans for Its Chicago Terminal

The following are the major projects which the Illinois Central Railroad Company will undertake to carry out under the provisions of the lake front ordinance:

1. Fill in and reclaim submerged lands in the South Water street area and the lake shore between 16th and 49th streets.

2. The reconstruction and enlargement of the suburban facilities.

3. The rearrangement and reconstruction of the local freight terminal at South Water street, including the reconstruction of Randolph Street viaduct, 1725 feet long.

4. The relocation and reconstruction of the through passenger terminal and office building and appurtenant facilities, including the construction of a subway 680 feet in length at the foot of 18th street.

5. The installation of substations and overhead transmission and distribution systems in preparation for electrical operation after the tracks, platforms and other facilities have been rearranged.

6. The construction of additional tracks on the main line between Chicago river and Matteson and also on the South Chicago Blue Island and Kensington branches.

7. The relocation of the eastern end of the St. Charles Air Line which interferes with the development of the through passenger terminal.

8. The construction of an elevated railroad making a separation of grades with other railroads, streets, avenues, alleys, and public places near 18th street, connecting the Illinois Central main line south with the Atchison, Topeka & Santa, and the Illinois Central line west in the vicinity of Archer Avenue and Canal street.

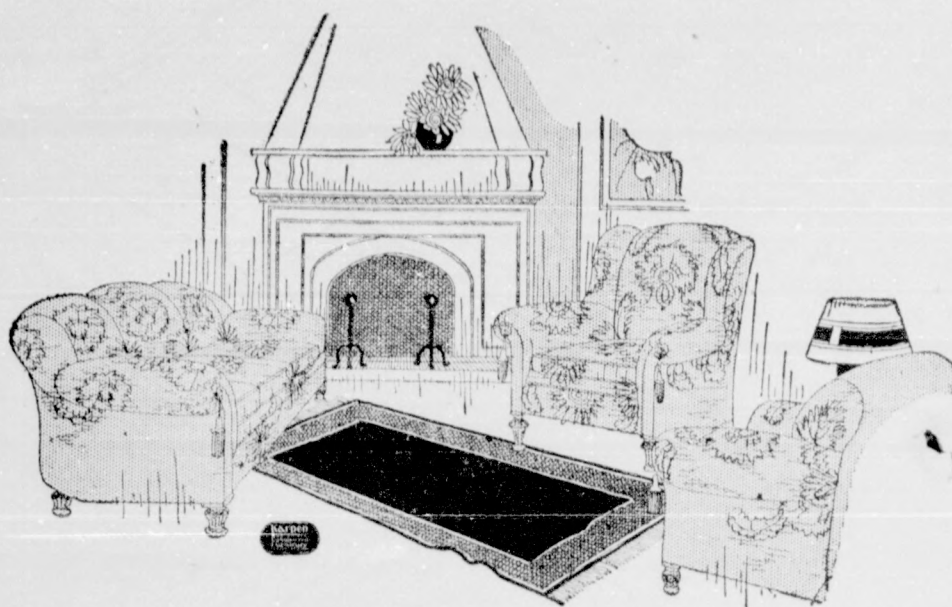

These are only a few of the important changes to be made by the Illinois Central in and around Chicago, which will greatly increase their facilities for handling the large business which that company has worked up. They will also build a large new station at that point.

The Illinois Central is a railroad that believes in keeping their line in first class condition, and up-to-date in every respect, which accounts for its expeditious and efficient manner in which they handle their business. We understand that the Illinois Central is also contemplating the erection of a union passenger station at Jackson, Miss., to cost approximately $750,000.

The above expenditure, together with the vast amount to be expended on the Edgewood cut-off, will run the amount into many millions of dollars spent in improving the facilities of the Illinois Central, which to our mind, will make it one of the best equipped and most efficient railway systems in the country.

BEAUTIFUL STOCK OF WALLPAPER

On our rounds this week we dropped in at Coulter & Kelly's, and found the store almost blocked to the front door with stacks of new wall paper, which had just arrived to beautify Fulton homes. It was a real treat to look at some of the beautiful new patterns of wall paper, but Mr. Coulter, who has made a life study of the business, is an artist in his selections, therefore, the firm of Coulter & Kelly not only carry a large, but exceedingly well selected stock. They also contract for painting and interior decorating and employ only the best workmen.
