Two Fulton Boys Return From Chi- cago With $26,000

Believe it or not—but sometimes the truth is stranger than fiction.

When Harry (Buck) Bushart, son of Dr. R. L. Bushart, and Isaac Read son of I. H. Read, Fulton garage and transfer man, went off to the World's Fair at Chicago, they were just two more "kids" seeing the sights of their lives. But, on short notice, they found themselves with $26,000 in riches, and read their names in the headlines of a number of metropolitan newspapers.

Maybe they got plenty of thrills and sensations while attending the Century of Progress, but an incident occurring when they stepped from an L-train in the loop district of Chicago will be one they will always remember.

As they got off the L-train, some fellow aboard pitched out a satchel, and yelled: "Hey, you left your grip." Or something to that effect. The train whizzed off, leaving the boys nonplussed. And the more they looked at the bag, the deeper became their puzzlement.

Not knowing what to do with it, satchel they debated the problem. Afraid to open it—fearing it might contain nitroglycerine, a time-bomb or something equally dangerous or mysterious—they went to their hotel room.

Finally courage enough was mustered up to look into the bag. What a surprise! There were twenty-six bonds of $1,000 denomination with a sprinkling of five dollar bills for good measure. They didn't know whether to faint, shout or flee, leaving the whole lot where it lay. The suspense was terrible.

They watched the papers to learn whether any bonds had been lost or stolen with no result. Eventually, it was decided that the best plan would be to return home with them rather than take chances with authorities in Chicago, where no one knew them.

So, today, $26,000 in bonds rests in the vaults of the City National Bank at Fulton while these young men await identification by the owners of the bonds. Perhaps they will receive a reward to tell their grandchildren about—who knows.

Anyway, it is all unusual, and they have the satisfaction of having had a novel experience which seldom comes to any one.

Lowes Cafe Will Conform To NRA

According to an announcement made last week by Kelly Loy, proprietor of the Lowe's Cafe, located on Lake-St. Fulton, every effort is being exerted to conform with the National Recovery Program in order of re-employment.

Mr. Lowe has already two new employees and expects other changes to be made in the next few days. He states that he is now employing ten persons, with a payroll of approximately $120 a week. He employs all white help, pointing out that he believes work should be given to deserving white people who have been unemployed so long.

This cafe, which gives 24-hour service, is beautifully appointed and efficiently managed by Mr. Lowe himself who is awake to improved and modern restaurant operation.

ANOTHER DEPARTMENT OF SWIFT & CO. TAKES CODE

A statement issued this week by W. P. Ayers, manager of the Swift & Co. plant in Fulton, said:

"We have just received word that Swift and Co., in cooperation with the American Association of Creamery Butter Manufacturers and the National Cooperative Milk Producers Association, has signed a labor code with the NRA in Washington. It gratifies us to know that we are thus to cooperate with the government on this so that we can display the Blue Eagle NRA emblem of willingness to 'do our part'."

"We are also glad to state that the Co-Relating Committee of the Poultry and Egg industry has prepared its code for presentation in Washington last Monday. Its acceptance and signing is expected within a reasonable time."

Floral Hall At Fair Will Have Many Displays

In an interview this week with Mrs. Leighman Browder, superintendent of the Floral Hall of the Fulton County Fair, it is plainly to be seen that exhibits in this department will be many and varied. Mrs. Browder has been connected with this hall ever since the fair was organized back in 1911 with Dr. Marshall Alexander, president of the association. Miss Eunice Robinson will fill her usual duties this year as secretary to Mrs. Browder.

Mrs. Abe Jolley, superintendent of the Culinary department, is expecting a fine lot of exhibits in cakes, pickles, jams, preserves, jellies, and other canned goods.

In the Domestic Art Department, Mrs. Will Beard will be in charge, with Miss Inez Binford assisting. In other divisions of the floral hall department a splendid premium is being offered for domestic articles made by the women of this section.

Then there is the art department, the baby show and the children exhibits, which always prove a big drawing card and provide a variety of interest.

Mrs. Browder stated that the baby show has always been popular. This year two premiums are being offered one for prettiest girl and one for the prettiest boy under one year of age. Everybody is urged to bring their babies to the fair and enter them in the baby show.

Speaking about "most popular books," they are Dad's check book, mail order house catalogs, radio news, all about automobiles and how to get rich quick.

When you see some men and hear them talk, you just naturally wonder how in the thunder this old world managed to move along before they came on the scene.

One fine thing about being a wife is you can have lots of fun telling your husband who else you could have married.

Ted Hudson and Homer Lassiter of Jackson, Tenn., are visiting their brothers, S. W. Hudson and Johnnie Lassiter of this city.

Former Manager Of Fulton Cigar Plant Acts As President

C. last week represented the board of directors of the Charleston Chamber of Commerce as provisional president of the organization, filling the post that all chamber leaders take for a week each throughout the year.

Mr. McGinnis, who manages the company's largest plant, which is also the largest single cigar factory in the world, has been a Charlestonian since May, 1932.

In September, 1932, the company opened a new plant in Fulton, Ky., and Mr. McGinnis was sent here to serve as manager until 1936. His next duties involved the closing of numerous hand factories and cancelling the leases of buildings in several states as the company switched from handmade to machine cigars.

He is a member of the Rotary club and of the Elks and is a Mason. He serves the chamber of commerce at Charleston as director, in addition to his positions on several committees. His wife is the former Miss Mary Norman of Fulton, and they have two children, one daughter Marietta and a son, Patrick Norman.

EXPERIMENT FIELD MEET AT MAYFIELD

Farmers, business men and all other interested persons from the entire Purchase region have been invited to inspect the work being done at the soil experiment field near Mayfield on Saturday, August 26.

Beginning at 10 o'clock, group of visitors will be taken over the experimental plots and the work explained to them. In the afternoon, S. C. Jones and Russell Hunt of the Experiment Station at Lexington will discuss soil improvement and tobacco curing.

Striking results in crop yields have been obtained at the Mayfield experimental field. Using applications of lime and phosphate fertilizers, corn was made to average 46 bushels to the acre for 18 crops, compared to 34 bushels on untreated land. The yield of Soybean hay was raised to 3,540 pounds to the acre, in the same way, compared to 2,428 pounds on untreated land. Untreated land produced 950 pounds of mixed clover hay to the acre while fertilized land yielded 3,780 pounds, as an average for 16 crops. Tobacco yields also have been greatly increased by the use of limestone and fertilizers.

The possibility of getting good bluegrass sods in three years has been successfully demonstrated. This should be of interest to a region where dairymen is assuming importance.

Extensive tests were begun this year to compare various types of lespedeza with alfalfa and red clover for hay.

All farmers and other persons interested in the welfare of the Purchase region are urged to attend the meeting.

The date for assembling of competitors will be stated on the admission cards sent applicants after September 1, the date for the close of receipt of applications and will be about fifteen days after that date.

Think It Over

BY THE MEDITATOR

If You Like This Column Tell Us.

THE FORCES OF DARKNESS

There are unrighteous practices in business; there are false standards in social life; there are licensed frauds and falsehoods in politics; there are vile and vulgar tendencies in literature and journalism in this world in which we are a part. But what are you going to do about it?

It is not enough that you take a negative stand, as some good men are inclined to do. If your influence is to be real, it must be positive. It is not enough to say, "keep out the darkness."

We must enter the darkness, as a light enters a dark house, to overcome the gloom.

Think it over.

WHAT IS CHRISTIANITY?

A woman (she admits she reads this column) said to me the other day "I understand you do not claim membership in any church, yet I find so much food for thought in your column that I cannot believe you are not a Christian. What is your idea of Christianity?"

Perhaps I am not qualified as a witness. Perhaps it would be the height of presumption for me to testify in this case. Maybe my idea would be far off from yours. What is Christianity? My idea of it is—

In the home it is—KINDNESS.

In the business it is—HONESTY.

In society it is—COURTESY.

In work it is—FAIRNESS.

Toward the unfortunate it is—PITY.

Toward the weak it is HELPFULNESS.

Toward the penitent it is—FORGIVENESS.

Toward the fortunate it is CONGRATULATION.

Toward God it is—REVERENCE and LOVE.

Measured by these standards, Mr. Christian, how do you stand?

Can you think of a better definition? Won't you—think it over.

"WILD BULL" CAUSES UPROAR IN FULTON

Chief of Police Bailey Huddleston was called out to "perform" an unusual service late Tuesday afternoon. When he arrived on the scene on West-st it turned out to be "all bull."

It seems that a bull yearling inexperienced in the "bright lights" of a thriving city, fresh in town from the wide-open spaces, became excited and went on the warpath. And "all the kings horses and all the kings men" couldn't put a halter on him—so he went scotting off again.

Chief Huddleston wound up back at the city hall all out of breath, but gasped out that the last time he saw the yearling it was going as hard as it could across a field just west of the New Yards.

Fulton-Obion Farmers Hold Wheat Meeting

Wheat growers of Fulton and Obion counties gathered at the Chamber of Commerce here Wednesday for a discussion of controlled wheat acreage for these counties.

County Agent Wheeler of Fulton County and County Agent Cleland of Obion County directed the discussion.

Farmers are asking what they are to do with wheat land taken out of cultivation, under the Government's wheat reduction plan. A statement from Washington says it may be summer followed, planted to soil-improving or erosion-preventing crops, for food crops for home consumption, or for livestock produced for home consumption.

The list of the statement is this: Land taken out of wheat production is not to be used to grow for sale nationally-produced agricultural commodity.

The land may be used for pasture or for other feed for work stock, cows which furnish dairy products for the home, and animals for meat for the farm.

A statement from the College of Agriculture at Lexington, furnished County Agent O. R. Wheeler, says the most important consideration for land taken from wheat growing is that of preventing erosion. Such land should be protected by the use of a cover of rye or other small grain. The cover crop should be sown as early in the fall as possible.

The statement gives several recommendations for the management of land thrown out of cultivation. Interested farmers should see County Agent Wheeler regarding the different practices that may be followed.

Merchants Will Fight the Gross Receipts Levy

"We will fight this thing to a finish because it is a business life and death matter with a majority of the small merchants of Kentucky," W. Reed Embry, Louisville, president of the Kentucky Retail Merchants' Association, declared this week on his return to Louisville after a conference at Frankfort in which Gov. Ruby Laffoon explain his program for a gross receipts tax law.

"I am sure it will be declared unconstitutional," Mr. Embry stated, pointing out that the gross sales law passed in 1930 was still in the Federal Court where it is being fought by the larger stores on the grounds that it is confiscatory.

The governor, he said, called about 100 business men too Frankfort, most of them wholesalers and explained the proposition to them, following a talk by Harper Gatton, director of the Kentucky Relief Commission, who told of the relief needs.

Women folks having fine specimens of poultry flocks in Fulton, Hickman and Graves counties, Ky., and Obion and Weakley counties, Tenn., are advised to prepare their birds for exhibition at the Fulton Fair to be held September 6-7-8-9. Miss Mary Johnston, superintendent of the poultry department, has announced premiums for both young and old trios.

Premiums are being offered for young and old trios in the following breeds:

Barred Rocks, White Rocks, White Wyandottes, S. L. Wyandottes, R. I. Reds, White Giants, White Monarchs, White Leghorns, Buff Orpington, White Orpington, Light Brahmas.

Then there are special premiums on all breeds including bantams. These specials are offered by business firms of Fulton and other communities. Those who have poultry to enter is the fair may get in touch with Miss Johnston, superintendent, who will explain in detail any information desired.

CONDUCTOR DIES ON DUTY LAST SUNDAY

J. C. Blincoe, conductor on the passenger train en route to Louisville, Ky., died on duty last Sunday morning about four o'clock. The train left Fulton at 12:15 a. m., and Mr. Blincoe dropped dead on the train while between Greenville and Central City.

Mr. Blincoe was a son of the late T. J. Blincoe, superintendent of the bridge and building department on the Tennessee division of the Illinois Central System several decades ago and was reared in this section. He had many friends in Fulton and at other points along his run as conductor on this railroad.

FALL IS TIME TO SOW BLUEGRASS SEED

Experiments and observations show the fall is the best time to sow bluegrass seed on the lawn.

September 15 is the best day of the year to make this seeding of bluegrass. The seed germinated in 15 or 20 days, and the usual fall in Kentucky creates ideal growing for the young bluegrass to make a splendid growth before winter.

Unless the ground is very hard, such as where a path has been made across the lawn, it is not necessary to loosen the soil—simply broadcast the bluegrass seed over the lawn. If there is a small area around the back door or where a path has been made across the lawn, it will be advisable to loosen this, making a seed-bed before the seed is sown.

Do not sow anything except pure Kentucky bluegrass. If there are bare spots of considerable size it will be advisable to mix a little redtop. One fourth the amount, by weight, of the seed to be sown can be redtop. Do not sow white clover in the fall.

There is no finer grass for the lawn than Kentucky bluegrass, and where the conditions are at all favorable a splendid sod can be secured by seeding each fall, making the application of seed on September 15.

Two or three pounds of bluegrass seed sown on the lawn of the average farm home will do much to improve the appearance of the home and the quality of the lawn.

TEAMWORK ON THE ATHLETIC FIELD OR IN CIVIC LIFE

Again and again we have stressed the importance of teamwork in everything. Consistent co-operation and united efforts are itally important in scoring a victory, whether it be on the athletic field, in business or civic undertakings. Realizing the value of unity and coherence in commercial enterprises for Fulton, business men and citizens should strive to weld their efforts and work toward the same goal—that of instigating industrial and civic improvements.

Many will remember "Red Grange" that scintillating star on the gridiron for the University of Illinois. His colorful achievements were heralded far and wide. Whether at Urbana, Ill., or on foreign fields, "Red" drew tremendous crowds and incidentally was a great factor in paying for a few tons of concrete in the new Illinois stadium.

While Grange individually was a huge success, nevertheless he depended upon the help, aid and assistance given him by his teammates. "Red's" great end rush, his brilliant forward passes, his off tackle smashes and his occasional return too punts were sights which thrilled thousands everywhere he displayed his prowess. So outstanding was the work of this "summer iceman" that almost every critic, alleged or otherwise, placed him upon the mythical All-American Eleven.

Attracted by the lure of gold, Grange left college and joined a professional team in Chicago. While the surroundings were not as interesting as those of college games nevertheless much was expected of this dashing, sorrel-top youngster. Grange flashed and flicked, flashed again; faded once more—and in many of his professional contests did considerable less than his teammates.

Just why this former Illinois star faded is well known. He did not have the teamwork! Grange needed teamwork to win!

Football, as well as most everything in life, cannot be played individually. It requires the concentrated efforts of all concerned—the co-ordination of mind and muscle—the assistance of others. In professional football Grange did not have that perfect interference given him at college; he did not have that same sort of linemen to open holes through tackle.

And so it is with growth of a town. The same principles of teamwork so necessary to successful football are applied to progressive civic achievements. Power is generated by energy and energy by the WILL TO DO. The greater the number, working harmoniously together, the greater the strength and productivity.

Have you ever seen a heavy truck fast in the rut of mud? The jaded horse unable to move it another inch because of dropping spirit and lack of interest.

A dozen onlookers—some merely waiting to see what is going to happen—others giving advice and direction. But none of these will start the cart moving.

Then from the crowd step out three or four DOERS. They put their shoulders to the wheel lending both effort and example until others follow them. The thing begins to move—gains momentum as all things do when once out of a rut.

And, so, also, it is with civic progress—community movements, local SHOULDERS TO THE WHEEL. A city with a live-wire, closely-knit group of public interested citizens means to the welfare of the city and the community. Putting our shoulders to the wheel of industry and civic activity is a desirable undertaking that should be engaged in by every person in Fulton.

The Progress of Fulton and the community as a whole is of mutual benefit to each resident. Every shoulder to the wheel is added power and additional power is increased development.

We're interested in Fulton—and we're boosting. We're going to keep at it! Won't you help?

GULF ACCEPTS CONNECTICUT BID TO HONOR MOLLISONS

Connecticut is extending an enthusiastic hand of welcome to the Mollisons in celebrating "a failure greater than success." The event is state-wide and many features have been arranged. Prominent among these will be the honor escort provided by Captain Al Williams, famous flier.

Accepting the invitation proffered by Lieutenant Governor Roy C. Wilcox, the Gulf Refining Company has sent Captain Williams, Gulf's Manager of Aviation Sales, to New York to lead Jim and Amy Mollison from Floyd Bennett Field to the Bridgeport Airport. The ex-Navy aviator and holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross, will meet the premier private fliers of England in Manhattan and, with his removal Curtiss Hawk, will pilot them back of Bridgeport.

Reaching Bridgeport, the Mollisons and their escort will be greeted by the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, and many other state and municipal dignitaries. Outstanding in the afternoon's program will be the air show in which Captain Williams will put on a thrilling display of precision airmanship. For the benefit of England's famous flying couple he will offer a number of his specialties, including the sensational outside loop which he originated.

Following the aerial display, the Mollisons will be entertained at a special reception which Connecticut has arranged in their home. The entire program will be the climax of the reception which New York and other Eastern states have given in recognition of aviation luck.

LAND BANK OFFICIAL TO DISCUSS FEDERAL AID TO AGRICULTURE

Frank H. Dunn, an official of the Federal Land Bank of Louisville, will discuss government aid in refinancing farm mortgages and debts at the annual field day meeting at the Western Kentucky Experiment Substation at Princeton, Tuesday, August 15. This subject is of much interest and arrangements are being made to entertain a large crowd.

The day's program will consist of short speaking sessions in the new pavilion at the substation, and an inspection of the crops, fruit and soils work and dairy herd and poultry flock.

While the men are going over the farm in the morning, the women will attend a speaking program. Mrs. Frances Diesie Fleming, home agent in Christian county; Mrs. T. W. Henderson, Carl, Ky., and J. E. Humphrey and N. R. Elliott of the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, will be the speakers. Mr. Dunn and Prof. George Roberts will speak in the afternoon.

A large amount of work is being done on the Experiment Substation farm in testing field crops and fruit, methods of growing them, soil treatment, control of erosion, benefits of limestone and fertilizers, and crop rotations.

The development of good pasture, the growing of legumes for hay and for building and maintaining fertility, the value of fertilizers and limestone in tobacco growing, various types of rotation, and much other work on the substation farm will interest farmers, business men, bankers, editors and others whose welfare is dependent directly or indirectly on agriculture.

Extensive tests have been made with strawberries, raspberries, apples and peaches, with a view to developing a sound program of fruit production in the western part of the state. Rotation and fertilizer tests show that 200 crates of strawberries to the acre can be obtained on medium land.

Possibilities in dairying and poultry raising are being tested with a herd of Jerseys and a flock of 500 to 800 chickens. There now are 25 young animals in the dairy herd, 14 of which are in production. A six-year test in culling and breeding has been completed with the poultry flock.

County farm agents throughout Western Kentucky are planning to go with delegations of farm men and women to the meeting, and scores of counties are expected to attend.

Those who so desire may take a picnic lunch. Others may purchase a lunch on the grounds. County Agent O. R. Wheeler, of Fulton county, expects a good delegation to attend the meeting from this county, and is assisting in making up auto loads for the trip.

NAMES COMMITTEE TO ORGANIZE WHEAT PLAN

County Agent O. R. Wheeler announces the appointment of a committee to help organize the wheat reduction campaign in Fulton county. The men who have volunteered their services for this work are: Ernest Hancock, William Beard, Poyner DeMyer, Fulton; Ed Thompson, A. M. Browder, C. L. Drysdale, H. M. Pewitt, A. G. Campbell, Fulton, Route 1; Tom Alexander, Cayce; Henry Sanger, M. E. Shaw and J. A. Lattus, Hickman.

This committee will assist in putting the provisions of the government's wheat reduction plan before all wheat farmers of the county. It also will help district the county into communities for the purpose of administering the plan. These communities may each elect a representative for the board of directors of the county control association, and also a local or community committee of three.

Meetings will be held and other means taken by the committee to see that each wheat grower in the county is fully acquainted with the government's plan of reducing wheat acreages and making benefit payments to all farmers who cut their wheat production. Every wheat grower will be given an opportunity to participate in the plan. To do so he must sign an agreement to reduce production not more than 20 per cent of his average acreage for the years 1930, 1931 and 1932. He then will receive a payment on his 1933 crop and benefit payments on his 1934 and 1935 crops.

COUNTY'S WHEAT QUOTA 27,950 BUSHELS

Fulton county's wheat allotment, under the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's plan to reduce production and increase price, is 27,950 bushels for the years 1933, 1934 and 1935. This figure was determined at Washington and forwarded to county Agent O. R. Wheeler.

This means that farmers of this county may receive benefits payments soon 27,950 bushels for the years listed above by signing agreements to reduce their acreage during the next two years. The reduction would not be more than 20 per cent from their average production for the years 1930, 1931 and 1932.

Payments will be based on an allotment computed at 54 per cent of the average production of farmers for the last five years, or an amount equal to the domestic consumption of wheat for human food. A payment of 20 cents a bushel will be made this fall, and an additional amount next spring, on this year's crop.

Farmers interested in taking advantage of the governments plan should see County Agent O. R. Wheeler, or members of the county organization committee assisting him. This committee is made up of the following men: Ernest Hancock, Harvey Pewitt, Ed Thompson, C. L. Drysdale, Wm. Beard, Poyner De Myer, Tom Alexander, A. L. Campbell, Henry Sanger, M. E. Shaw and J. A. Lattus. The wheat reduction campaign in this state is being organized by the agricultural extension division of the College of Agriculture thru county farm agents and local committees.

Don't Prolong
The Agony!

Next time you suffer from Gas on Stomach, Headache, Sour Stomach, Cold, Muscular, Rheumatic, Sciatic or Periodic Pains; That Tired Feeling, That "Morning After" Feeling. Get a glass of water and drop in one or two tablets of

Alka-Seltzer

The New Pain-Relieving, Alkalizing, Effervescent Tablet. Watch it bubble up, then drink it. You will be amazed at the almost instant relief. It is called Alka-Seltzer because it makes a sparkling alkaline drink, and as it contains an analgesic (Acetyl-Salicylate) it first relieves the pain of every-day ailments and then by restoring the alkaline balance corrects the cause when due to excess acid.

After trying many brands of medicines—so-called relief for gas, and all of them a failure, I gave up hopes. By chance I tried Alka-Seltzer—I am more than satisfied. Geo. Bennett, New York, N. Y.

CARD OF THANKS

Permit me to offer my sincere thanks to all who saw fit to give me your votes and support which made possible my nomination as Representative in the recent Democratic primary.

I would like to thank each friend personally who was so loyal and all those who had a part in bringing about my nomination but of course that is impossible. For the confidence shown and the honor conferred, I am deeply grateful. I trust that I may be able to represent my district in such a manner that there will be no regrets because of my election.

Sincerely,
GLENN W. LANE

CARD OF THANKS

In appreciation to my friends and acquaintances who supported me in my candidacy for the office of Tax Commissioner of Fulton County, I wish to extend my heartfelt thanks to each and every one. I started with, even though I did not win at the polls. Again I thank all who did anything in my favor prior to the election or at the polls.

Sincerely,
JAMES B. McGEHEE

UNION CITY CONTINUES WINNING; DEFEAT PARIS

Union City with her fast stepping base ball club continues to bring home the bacon. Last Sunday they took on the fast Paris nine for one of the fastest fought games of the season, winning out 7 to 0 only making two hits and one of these by the fluke variety. Union City scored one in the first, third and eighth while all Paris could do behind the superb twirling of Daniels was to get one man on third.

The game for next Sunday had not been scheduled at press time but they are trying for very special attraction. Clyde Batts, local boy is now a member of the Union City Team.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to offer my sincere thanks to each voter in Fulton County. Even though my campaign was unsuccessful, I appreciate all the support that was given to me. And at this time I wish to add I do not feel at all unkind to anyone who did not support me.
