224,290 Pounds of Association Tobacco Delivered Last Week

Increased activity at the Association barn was shown last week by a delivery of 224,290 pounds of tobacco, which was an increase of 8,795 pounds over the previous week.

Registrations for the week ending March 27 showed a considerable greater number of farmers ready to deliver their crop, and the indications are that next week will show many more deliveries than heretofore. While last Friday was a heavy day, only 52 wagons were unloaded, as compared to 53 the Friday of the week before. This was due, however, to the larger loads, as a number of loads were carried over to Saturday morning, the crews not being able to handle all of them the day previous.

The total receipts up to Friday of last week was 1,455,195 pounds and the best grade for the week was B2D24 which brought $30.00. The sad part of the whole business is the small number of pounds of the high grade leaf that is arriving. The farmers still seem to prefer quantity to quality and insist on growing big acreage instead of concentrating on a smaller crop and receiving more money for the better grades.

Four cars were shipped during the week, containing a total of 96,300 pounds. The prizing at the Browder barn started on Monday and a fair number of hogheads were prized, though not as many as can be taken care of in the future.

Buyers were numerous during the week and the demand for better grades is still far from being filled, showing that it is still impossible for the buyers to obtain the kind of tobacco that they most wish to buy.

The graders are still finding the lack of proper classification is holding the average way below what it should be, and are doing their best to instruct the farmers in taking the needed care in making the classifications so that the price will be higher.

W. P. MURRELL ELECTED CHAIRMAN OF HOSPITAL COMMITTEE

The Hospital Arrangement Committee of the Chamber of Commerce met last Friday night and made partial plans for the campaign that is to be started to sell stock and incorporate, but due to the unavoidable absence of several members the entire plan was not complete.

W. P. Murrell was elected chairman and he called another meeting for tonight when the entire campaign will be mapped out and the members will begin soliciting for the sale of stock.

Several letters from interested doctors and surgeons were read, showing that the news of Fulton's desire to have a hospital had spread abroad and was drawing the attention of competent physicians, who are looking for a broader field for their endeavors.

That Fulton can easily support a first class hospital is the firm conviction of every member of the committee and each one of them felt that concerted and earnest effort would put the proposition over in a very short time.

A number of farmers have declared their intention of taking stock and there are undoubtedly sufficient citizens of Fulton who are both personally and public-spiritedly interested in the town to make the selling of stock only a matter of a short time.

Changes in Tracks at Birmingham Passenger Terminal

Until recently the large mountain type passenger engines used on The Seminole and The Floridan, the two fast Florida trains of the Illinois Central, could not enter the passenger terminal at Birmingham, on account of not sufficient cab clearance under the shed.

Last week the Executive Board of the Birmingham Terminal Company, agreed to a request of the Illinois Central to move one of the tracks under the shed, sufficient to permit these large locomotives to enter the shed.

This, we understand, will eliminate from 10 to 20 minutes delay at this point for these trains daily, as heretofore, the mountain type engines had to cut off outside the terminal and have a Central of Georgia engine pull the train under the shed.

Mr. J. J. Pelley, Vice-President of the I. C. passed through Fulton Tuesday of this week with his family, en route south.

I. C. Prepares to Handle Large Perishable Business this Year
Superintendent H. W. Williams of the Illinois Central, held a meeting in his office recently with his staff, traveling perishable freight agents and agents from different stations on the Tennessee Division, where strawberries, beans, tomatoes and other perishable freight and express is loaded, for the purpose of working out the most expeditious and efficient manner in which to handle this business.

The perishable business on the Illinois Central has become a large business, and as it requires expeditious handling, must of course be given right-of-way over other business.

The perishable business from the south has already started, and by the time this movement is over, the berry and vegetable loading on the Tennessee Division will start.

Always Be Careful is Illinois Central ABC Safety Slogan

"Always Be Careful," has been officially adopted by the Illinois Central System as an admonition to be followed by all its employees for the prevention of accidents. In addition to expressing in terse form the governing rule of accident prevention the slogan constitutes an ABC or alphabet phrase that makes it easily remembered.

In order to have this admonition constantly before 60,000 members of the Illinois Central System's family of employees, the railroad has arranged for the phrase to be stenciled on all switch engines, trucks, cabooses, motor and hand cars, doors to motor and hand-car houses and other appropriate places around its freight houses, round houses, shops, repair tracks, coal chutes and water tanks. In this way it will be a constant safety reminder, not only to all the employees of the railroad, who are employed in the various branches of the operating department, but to all other employees and to the public.

All accidents involving personal injuries and damages to property are caused by the carelessness of someone, and the railroad believes that the faithful observance of this

Dee L. McNeill

To the Voters of Fulton County, Kentucky:

I take pleasure in announcing my candidacy for the office of County Attorney of this county.

At the August Democratic Primary in 1917 I was nominated county attorney and in the following November was elected to this important office. I filled this office to the best of my ability during the entire four years, with the exception of a few months spent serving my country during the World War, without favoritism or criticism.

The duties of this office are very important. The county attorney is supposed to counsel and advise every officer in the county. He should advise the Fiscal Court on all legal matters, conduct or assist in all litigation of the county and commonwealth, both civil and criminal. Therefore I feel with the experience I have had in serving county and otherwise being actively engaged in the practice of law, that I can fill every duty which this office requires and I humbly submit my past record for my fitness for this office and ask that you give my candidacy your careful consideration and if on election day you support me I will be very grateful to you for your vote and influence.

You will remember four years ago I made the race for re-election and was defeated by a very small vote. I accepted the decision of the people at the hands of their vote, with thanks to those who voted for me, and no ill will toward those who cast against me. The Right of Suffrage is an inalienable right and should be left to the people to select their choice by secret ballot.

During this campaign I hope to meet you and talk the matter over in person, but as there will be something like four thousand voters to see, I know that it will be impossible to see all, and I want you to feel at ease, even though I may not see you, to call on me at any time, and if elected I will do my utmost to enforce the laws of our land.

I have no apology to make for my record made four years ago. It stands as an open book. I was always found at my post, performing my duty, upholding the laws of this Commonwealth and defending the county's rights, and if elected I will endeavor to do my whole duty in office. Therefore, I appeal to you for your careful consideration of my cause; and if you see proper to elect me I will be faithful to the duties of this office.

Respectfully submitted,
DEE L. MCNEILL.

PLANS ON FOOT FOR EXTENSIVE WORK

Chairman Leslie Nugent of the Agricultural Committee of the Chamber of Commerce held a meeting of his committee at the Chamber of Commerce Saturday afternoon, and while several members failed to appear, the meeting was well worth while, as those present mapped out a partial plan for the coming year.

The committee will be ready to lay its plans before the regular meeting of the Chamber on April 14, when it is believed that it will make such an impression that others than the committee members will express a desire to lend a hand in the work.

While the committee members are not yet ready to make public its plans, the belief was expressed by those present that its plan would be more far-reaching within the next two or three years than any other plan that had yet been put forward. One of the main features of the plan is that it will be highly educational, and at the same time will not have any possible tendency to antagonize the farmers of the community, but on the other hand will demonstrate that the committee members have an earnest desire to be of assistance to them.

Handsome Church Edifice.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH BUILDING WILL BE COMPLETED THIS YEAR

Work of finishing the building of the First Baptist church will start at an early date. The brick, stone and iron has been ordered and expected to reach Fulton within a short time. The basement, which was built last year, has answered nicely as a temporary meeting place, but is not large enough to accommodate the crowds attending services at this church often times. During the pastorate of the Rev. C. H. Warren, the membership has greatly increased and the church as a whole developed into a live working organization. The church edifice when completed will be a credit to Fulton and all are anxious to see it finished.

ROTARIANS MEET IN CONVENTION AT LOUISVILLE

Rotarians from all over Kentucky, Tennessee and part of Virginia met at Louisville in Convention this week to discuss matters of vital importance for the benefit of the various communities which are so fortunate to have a Rotary club, as well as matters for the general welfare of the country at large. It was a notable gathering of the cream of the citizenship of the communities represented, and we are glad to know that Fulton was represented in the person of Messrs. Joe Browder, John Culver, Aubrey Nugent, Chas. Karmire and Dr. J. C. Scruggs, delegates from our local Rotary club.

If we keep right on rating this as a good town others will soon be thinking as we do. Give'er another boost.

O. K. STEAM LAUNDRY
FULTON'S BIGGEST ATTRACTION THIS WEEK

Open house at the O. K. Steam Laundry this week was a brilliant success and an event long to be remembered by the hundreds who accepted the invitation and Mr. J. J. Owen's hospitality.

Really, it was an educational event entwined with pleasure. After being received, the visitors were given a card upon which to register and taken in charge by one of the assistants, who ushered them through the various departments of this institution, explaining in detail the work in general.

On this occasion, Mr. Owen was assisted by Walter Long of the Mayfield Laundry, Mayfield, Ky.; Chas. Yarbrough of Yarbrough Laundry Supply Co., Nashville, Tenn.; W. L. Young, of the Star Laundry, Paducah, Ky.; A. A. Seibert, of the Cairo Laundry, Cairo, Ill.; J. Kelly Wood, Joe Allbritten, Mrs. Boyd Bennett, of Fulton, Mrs. May Moore, bookkeeper; Miss Addie Margaret Owen, assistant bookkeeper.

A souvenir and carnation were given each visitor.

As the guests wended their way through the various departments with their guides, they were greeted by Harold Owen, general manager, Calvin Watson, in charge of Dry Cleaning and Pressing department, Cleve Hawkins, in charge of Carpet and Rug Cleaning department; Owen and Watson in charge of Hat Blocking and Renovating department; Mrs. Mackey in charge of repairing department.

In charge of marking and assorting department; Miss Dolly Kilbrew in charge of laundry department. Thirty-one are employed in the O. K. Laundry, each one skilled in their work.

Mr. Owen has labored zealously to give the people of Fulton and vicinity the best laundry service and his efforts have not been in vain. He keeps abreast of laundry improvements and every facility which is devised for the betterment of the work is installed in the O. K. Laundry. He is a man of rare business qualifications and is constantly adding new devices, improved methods, doing even the smallest things which will help toward the advancement of his business. The utmost scrutiny along all lines is exercised in the conduct of the O. K. Laundry and we do not wonder at its phenomenal success.

A visit through this modern laundry and dry cleaning establishment is really worth while, and the visitors were amazed as they viewed the wonderful machinery and watched their operations. Five collar machines are kept busy. The flat-work ironer requires six operators. Seven shirt machines, each one taking care of its part in turning out a shirt ready for delivery. Four steam presses doing their part of the work. Five mammoth washing machines and two extractors, also collar starchers, etc. All machinery is driven by electricity, requiring 7 motors, totaling 22 horsepower. The marking machine is also operated by electricity.

Dry Cleaning and Pressing

The dry cleaning and pressing work has a charm of its own aside from a pleasing personality. That is why work done by this establishment has so many admirers. The simple reason is that they "know how" to do the work properly, and furthermore, do it, and do it right. Carpets and rugs, as well as lace curtains and draperies are cleaned with perfect satisfaction. Hats are cleaned and reblocked so they look like new. They have a complete line of dry cleaning machinery and know how to use it. At a cost of more than $2,500. Mr. Owen installed the Glovers Continuous Gas System with other dry cleaning devices for handling the large volume of work.

Rug cleaning and family washing is a feature of the O. K. Laundry.

There is not a better equipped plant in the state or one fitted up to do better work. It has attained the height of excellence until today it is classed among the leading institutions in the South, equipped with the finest and latest improved machinery that money can buy for turning out high-class work.

J. J. Owen, the proprietor, one of our most popular business men, has gained a reputation seldom equaled for enterprise, ability and integrity. He established his business in Fulton more than 25 years ago and is a practical laundryman.

All who visited his establishment this week are loud in their praises, declaring they found the premises spotlessly clean and sanitary and the work carried on in a systematic way.

As a host, John Owen has few equals and no superiors.

First Christian Church

O. J. Sowell, Pastor

Last Sunday was one of the greatest days for the Master in the Christian church for many weeks. After being absent the Sunday before, Rev. Sowell mounted the pulpit twice with two of the greatest religious messages ever given in that church. The topic of the morning sermon was, "The Church Up to Par." A beautiful solo was given by Mrs. Hardeman Howard.

By 7:30 the church was filled with an anxious audience to hear the sermon on, "The Taxicab to Hell." This was a purely evangelistic message striking the heart of every individual present. Mr. Sowell stated in the beginning that he would not refer to the ordinary taxis of this town, for he had more respect for them than for this company referred to in his sermon. The owner of this taxi company is, the Devil; the taxi, False Religion; Destiny, Hell; Price of Fare, the Soul.

There were three converts at the close of the service, one man coming from the Methodist church. There was a beautiful musical program with the service rendered by James Wallace Gordon, Mrs. Hornbeak, and Mrs. Dunn.

The Sunday school was good but not "up to par," in attendance, the weather is good now and there should be a revival in the Sunday school.

The Junior Endeavor gave a fine program Sunday night. There was a large crowd and much enthusiasm was shown in the friendly contest between the boys and girls.

There was a short meeting of the finance committee after the morning service and matters relative to the new addition were discussed.

There were many visitors and out of town guests for the morning service. Visitors are always welcome to all the services.

Mr. Wilson of Jackson, Miss., was a visitor of the church Sunday morning and evening.

Rev. Sowell gave an address before a convention in Murray, Ky., Saturday night.

Mrs. Clarence Pickering has returned from a visit to Chicago.

Mr. W. H. Spradlin is very ill at his home on Pearl street.

Miss Nell Spradlin is home from College to attend the bedside of her father, who is very ill.

Rev. Sowell and Col. Smith were visitors at the High School Tuesday morning. Col. Smith gave a fine address to the student body and they were much pleased.

Look at our services for Sunday:

Sunday school—9:45.
Lord's Supper and Church—11:00. Sermon topic, "Self Responsibility."
Junior Endeavor—6:30.
Church—7:30. Sermon topic, "Life's Railway to Heaven."

Rev. J. G. Robinson, M. A., Ph. D., formerly of Virginia, and now of the diocese of New York, spent Tuesday in Fulton, conducted morning service at Trinity church and preached on Sunday evening. He will remain over Wednesday, conducting the 4 p. m. Lenten services.

Dr. J. G. Robinson substituted for Dr. A. C. Boyd at the Chapel exercises of the Junior High school last Monday morning and made an entertaining address.

Dr. A. C. Boyd made his usual monthly visit to Columbus, Ky., last Sunday, conducting services there and returning for evening services in Fulton.

Mrs. Charles Karmire took charge of the church school last Sunday morning in the absence of the rector.

Miss Elsie Stanley, who is employed by the telephone company in Columbus, Ky., spent several days at the home of her parents in Fulton, Ky., last week.

Mrs. Cora Stanley, who has been away from home helping take care of sick relatives in Arlington, Ky., returned home last week, reporting the sick are much improved.

Dr. J. G. Robinson, Dr. Boyd and wife were entertained for lunch at the home of Mrs. Laura Shepherd, and daughter, Mrs. Clifton, on last Monday. A fine lunch and social time were enjoyed.

GOVERNOR FIELDS COM-MENDS STATE'S WOM-EN'S CLUBS

Heartly commendation of the State Federation of Women's Clubs is given by Governor Fields in response to a request for a message for "The Club Women," the federation's official organ.

He commended the "amazing growth and prosperity" of the organization when told that the federation has nine district departments of work, and more than 15,000 members of the state federation.

"Of far greater import, however than the vast number of names you have enrolled and the financial standing you have established and maintained, are worthy undertakings and splendid achievements of the past two decades," the governor declared.

"There is scarcely a section of our state that has not felt the power and influence of your organization and profited thereby. In localities almost inaccessible for lack of roads, you have established settlement schools (sometimes in tents where buildings could not be provided), and sent traveling libraries where nothing but necessary school books had ever gone before, thus affording aid and inspiration for those who most needed and appreciated your assistance."

"The work of the library commission which was inaugurated largely through the efforts of the state federation, would justify your existence had your work ceased with that. From a very modest beginning, I learn that this work has grown until there are now libraries in 119 counties, and more than 20,000 books in circulation."

"Furthermore, you have sponsored better sanitation in villages, towns and cities, encouraged the planting of beautiful trees, shrubs, and flowers, established playgrounds for children, beautified parks and courthouse lawns, and done much toward making our villages and small towns better, more attractive places in which to live."

Through the federation's efforts the women of Kentucky have become more public spirited, have taken a keener interest in the affairs of the state, keep well informed on current topics, and exert a great influence in legislative matters, he said.

FAIMAN UNSHAKEN BY HARD GRILLING

ACCUSER REPEATS STORY OF
TYPHOID GERM PLOT

SHEPHERD WANTS BOND

"Not Guilty," says McClintock Heir—
State Reported to Have Gathered Further Evidence Against Shepherd.

Chicago.—William D. Shepherd's plea that he be given bond, even to the extent of half a million dollars, pending his trial on a charge of slaying his millionaire ward, William Nelson McClintock, was continued until Monday after Dr. C. C. Faiman, the state's star witness, had only partially repeated his story.

Shepherd was ordered back to the county jail by Chief Justice Jacob H. Hopkins, and Faiman again was sent to a hotel under guard. After his story has been completed, he, too, will be arraigned as co-defendant with Shepherd on the murder charge.

Dr. Faiman, placed on the stand by Shepherd's attorneys in an effort to prove that the state had no real evidence against Shepherd, repeated in detail his story of supplying Shepherd with typhoid bacteria, knowing that it was planned to administer to young McClintock, who only a short time before, had become of age and made a will in Shepherd's favor.

Cross examination failed to shake Faiman's story in any particular, and when adjournment was taken with him still on the stand, State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe and his assistants manifestly were pleased with the way he had withstood the ordeal.

"Faiman has told the truth, therefore he could not be caught in the defense's effort to entrap him," said Crowe.

The defense, on the other hand, was still confident that when examination is renewed they will find some way to prove the charge that "Faiman is just a liar, that's all."

Out of all the details of the story as related by Faiman, one new fact crept out.

The germs, which he gave Shepherd had been obtained by him from the city health department.

Three former attaches of that department, known to have been acquainted with Faiman, have been questioned repeatedly in the last week. Although Faiman was unable to remember which of them gave him the germs, the state, it was said, has obtained a full statement from the one concerned.

Shepherd cried "not guilty" in a loud tone when the charge against him was read at the opening of court here.

His attorneys then presented an affidavit outlining the history of the McClintock family and how Shepherd and his wife became involved with it, and eventually were made guardians of Billy McClintock. During the inquest over McClintock's body, the statement said, Shepherd came back from New Mexico, presented himself to the authorities "and answered freely all questions put to him."

His arrest, the affidavit said, took place only after Judge Harry Olson, chief justice of the municipal court, and for a long time the one person who insisted Shepherd was guilty, had criticized the state attorney's lack of interest in the case and had threatened to call the attorney general of the state into proceedings.

The statement then criticized those who appeared as witnesses before the grand jury and declared they not only told untruths, but that Faiman was compelled to make "what has been heralded as a confession."

TAX RECEIPTS FOR MARCH $130,000,000

EXPECT CONGRESS TO FOLLOW
ADMINISTRATION PROGRAM

SURPLUS SEEMS ASSURED

Income Taxes May Be Left to Government and Inheritance Taxes to States—Mellon Confers With Representative Green.

Washington.—Tax receipts from the March 15 payments, as announced by the treasury, appear to assure a surplus in the next Congress along the lines of the administration program.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon announced that the tax receipts for March would amount to about $130,000,000, which means that the surplus for the fiscal year ending June 30, next, will be as large as estimated and that conditions are such as to make it appear that nothing will interfere with the much larger surplus in prospect in the next fiscal year.

The latest figures on tax receipts were given over by Secretary Mellon and Under-Secretary of the Treasury Winston at a conference with Representative Green (Republican, Iowa), chairman of the House ways and means committee. Mr. Green is leaving the city and called at the treasury to discuss preliminary plans for the revision of revenue laws which the ways and means committee plans to start in October. Mr. Green said that hearings on the new tax bill probably will commence on Oct. 19. Secretary Mellon gave him the assurance that the treasury will have its suggestions ready to submit at that time. In the meantime Mr. Green intends to make a study of taxing laws in Europe.

The approaching tax revision also was commented upon during the day by Senator Smoot (Republican, Utah), chairman of the Senate finance committee, who called upon President Coolidge at the White House.

Senator Smoot declared himself for a reduction of the maximum surtax rate to 25 per cent or lower as advised by Secretary Mellon. Senator Smoot also suggested that advisability of some sort of a mutual arrangement between the federal government and the states under which the field of income taxation would be left to the federal government and that of taxation of estates and inheritances to the states.

Senator Smoot's views are in accord with those of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who has indicated that he believes that the federal estate tax should be reduced and gradually eliminated.

Senator Smoot said that it is his purpose to expedite tax revision with the view to an early enactment of a new law in the next session.

Secretary Mellon said he felt warranted in saying that previous estimates of a surplus of approximately $68,000,000 in the current fiscal year will be borne out.

TOO MANY MARRY YOUNG.

Minors Eleven Years Old Can Get Licenses, Say Investigators.

New York.—The Russell Sage Foundation in a canvass of 90 cities has found in nearly all that children under 16 years of age have little difficulty in obtaining marriage licenses. Minors from 11 to 15 years old, investigators found, not only had little difficulty in getting licenses by falsifying affidavits in the matter of their age but also in having the marriage ceremony performed.

This held true "almost anywhere in the United States." In many instances parents were found to be parties to the "connubial conspiracy."

"Some license issuers," a summary of the report said, "have developed plans for discovering falsification of age by demanding various dates in rapid succession or by comparing dates of birth with ages given, but pencilled calculations on covers of magazines left to the license offices show that minors came prepared to evade just such a system of cross-questioning."

The Year in the Dairy Market

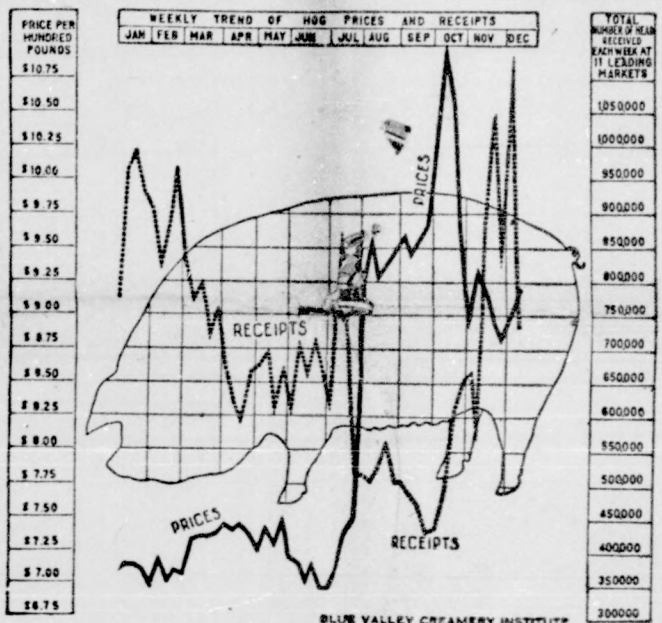

DAIRY product markets have rung a number of surprising figures on America's agricultural cash register during the year 1924. The diversification program which many farmers have adopted has led, on the whole, to better production and larger profits, says the Blue Valley Creamery Institute in a review of the dairy situation.

General opinion held that during 1924 butter prices would tumble from the stable level they had kept for the past three years and reach a lower price level in harmony with the extremely heavy production anticipated. January marked a high point for 92 score butter in Chicago at 55 cents. In April the drop in price occurred and 92 score fell to 35 cents. Then suddenly the unexpected twist into the situation. The former heavy imports dropped off when prices fell, for the importers could no longer make profits over the United States tariff wall of eight cents. Production within the country fell short of expectation during the spring and summer. Prices jumped accordingly.

The unusually favorable late summer and fall sent calculations flying again. At the time of the year when production is usually expected to slow up, 1924 turned the tables and output failed to decrease as rapidly as ordinarily during this period. Cows produced heavily. Consequently butter prices hung low over a doubtful market, running ten cents lower part of the time than during the same period in 1923.

With every man, woman and child in the country consuming an average of 70 gallons of milk in 1922 and a per capita increase of three gallons in this consumption showing for 1923, the possibilities of fluid milk markets loom up in dollars and cents. Fluid milk flooded the markets during a large part of the year, due to the favorable weather. It continued to pour into the nation's markets during the late summer and fall, but seasonal declines in November and December helped to hold the market steady at the close of the year.

Fewer Hogs—Prices Going Up

EXPERIENCED hog breeders and buyers believe the period of excessive shipments and low prices for hogs will be followed by a period of a lowered production and higher prices, according to reports received by the Blue Valley Creamery Institute.

For every ten hogs grown in 1923 only eight were grown in 1924. A careful survey over the hog belt further shows a 15 to 20 per cent reduction in the coming spring pig crop as compared with last year's short pig crop. This actual shortage on farms will naturally result in a lowering of shipments to markets and higher prices.

Exactly when this lowered pork supply will be felt is not certain, but it is expected during the early part of the year. Recently prices have averaged from $2.00 to $2.50 per 100 pounds higher to the producer than last winter. When the 1923 pig crop was marketed the average price of hogs at Chicago was $7.65. The corn situation and short hog supply is expected to drive prices up to more profitable levels for the producer.

No signs are visible for a falling off in the demand for hogs during 1925. If pork consumption holds up and if there follows a normal corn crop in 1925, hog feeding this year promises to be far more profitable than it has been for some time.

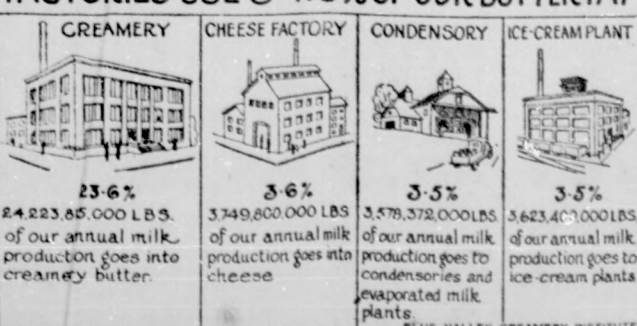

Where Nation's Milk Ends

FACTORIES absorb over 34 per cent of the American dairy cow's yearly milk production. More than three-fourths of this amount is turned out as creamery butter, according to the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. The amount of milk used as creamery butter is steadily increasing. To supply the demand of creameries in 1922 required seven billion pounds more than were used in 1914.

Cheese factories are the smallest unit of manufacture of any branch of the dairy industry. Only 3.7 per cent of the annual milk production is made into cheese.

There was a tremendous boom in the condensed milk industry during the European war. By 1919 the volume of exports totaled 40 per cent of the total manufacture. This was an increase of 5,100 per cent over prewar years. In 1920 exports were cut in half. This, with a 17 per cent shrink in domestic consumption, caused a sharp reduction of manufacture. Since 1920, however, condensed milk consumption has again doubled and the export trade is steadily improving. Nearly 90 per cent of the condensed milk made is manufactured in eight states—Wisconsin, New York, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Washington and California.

3,000 GALLONS OF "RED" STOLEN

16 Citizens Indicted for Theft From "Old Taylor" Warehouse.

Frankfort, Ky., March 16. Whisky valued unofficially at $125,000, totaling 3,000 gallons, has been stolen from the E. H. Taylor, Jr. and Sons distillery and bonded "Old Taylor" warehouse at Glen's creek, Franklin county, it became known today, through indictments returned by the federal grand jury.

Sixteen citizens have been indicted, four have made $5,000 bond, each, and arrests are being made, according to federal prohibition enforcement officers.

At their request, the names were not made public, pending further arrests, with exception of those giving bond, Walter Rice, Nat Mays, Floyd Harrod and Ed White. They were bound over to the September 1925 term.

The indictments charge transportation of 3,000 gallons of whisky for beverage purposes from the Taylor plant to places unknown to the federal grand jury. The thefts have been occurring since the winter of 1924, according to the agents. One indictment charges that a hose was used to remove the whisky.

Other details of the thefts, speculating that liquor was taken by crawling through a sewer pipe to a point under the warehouse; breaking the pipe, and swinging through the floor above; and then drawing the whisky from the barrels, were made public last summer.

Officials of the Taylor distillery and prohibition and federal officials, while admitting the loss of the whisky, did not volunteer details.

The Dahlia

No Flower Garden is Complete Without It. Easy to Grow

The Decorative Dahlia is the pride of all Dahlias, standing out pre-eminently. In the garden the plants are strong, sturdy, vigorous growers, with heavy, dark green foliage, and a remarkable constitution. The blossoms are produced in great profusion, which is exceptional for a type of giant-flowering Dahlias. For cut-flower purposes they are unsurpassed, having long, straight stems of wiry stiffness and producing their flowers in a pleasing upright manner; then principally their lasting qualities when cut they are unequalled, lasting longer than any of the other types. As an exhibition flower the Decorative Dahlia is the most gigantic of all Dahlias, blossoms having beauty, substance, quality—all essential characteristics of a true "Model of Perfection." As a decorative flower they are first in every respect; being graceful, adapted to designs, and most artistic.

No flower garden is complete without Dahlias. But all Dahlias are not alike, there are a number of varieties. It is just as easy to grow the best varieties as the ordinary kind.

HILL'S "America"

THE ROSE OF THE CENTURY

This superb rose, for which the horticultural world has been waiting for so long, is now ready for distribution, and we consider it a great privilege to help the E. F. Hill company in its dissemination.

We have tried it out in our test garden. It blooms continuously from early May until heavy frost, on stems two to three feet long, and the color is the most glorious glowing rose-pink imaginable. The buds are long and pointed and open up most artistically as the out-petals fold back, leaving the high-pointed center fully exposed.

It is as near disease resistant as a rose can be, always having a clean, glossy foliage at all seasons of the year. It rivals the American Beauty in size of flower, and if you are looking for a marvelous rose you will make no mistake in growing "America."

This wonderful rose has captured the prize in every rose show where it has been exhibited. In Paris and New York International show it was awarded the gold medal for being the best pink.

The price is $1.00 for 2-year old plants, guaranteed to bloom this year. R. S. Williams, Fulton, Ky.

Its Spring Pressure Feature Insures Better Disking

We have in stock, ready for your inspection and use, a supply of disc harrows that are noted for doing a better job of diskings their entire width when going over ridges or depressions, or on side hills, as well as on level land. Come in and inspect the

JOHN DEERE Model "B" Disc Harrow

By means of the third lever, spring and John Deere pivoted yoke, this harrow can be given the required pressure to penetrate at even depth its full width under all the above conditions. It is a really flexible harrow—penetrates, pulverizes and packs in conditions where rigid harrows fail to work all the soil. Each gang works independently, like separate harrows, and both can be given the proper angle to pulverize under varying conditions. It is strong—will last years longer than ordinary harrows because of its all-steel main frame and double-bar, riveted gang frames. It has oscillating scrapers with lock-down and lock-off features, and the most convenient grease cups—easy to fill and out of the dust and dirt.

We can furnish the John Deere Model "B" with rear gang and hitch to convert it into a double-action, horse- or tractor-drawn harrow—a good way to save money and yet get good results.

FARMERS ARE WELCOME TO SELL THEIR PRODUCE IN FULTON

The farmers living around Fulton, have, somehow, conceived
the impression that the merchants of Fulton have shut them out of their market here for the sale
of their produce.

In some way the idea has gained currency that the movement
recently proposed at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to stop the peddler nuisance was directed against the farmers. This is entirely wrong, as the farmers are always welcome to sell their fruit and vegetables to the housekeepers of the city.

It has been stated to the farmers that a law had been passed in Fulton prohibiting the sale of farm produce, and that any farmer who attempted to sell butter, milk, cream or eggs would immediately be arrested and fined.

No such law or ordinance has been passed here and the farmer is just as much at liberty to bring his produce in and sell it as he ever was. The average housekeeper in Fulton, or any other town, for that matter, is always anxious to get fresh vegetables, butter, eggs and fruits from the farmers, as they know that they are fresh.

What was suggested in the movement against the peddlers
was to put a stop to the annoyance to the housekeepers of the continually being called to the door by peddlers who come to Fulton for the sole purpose of getting the people of the town to buy from them, goods that can be bought just as cheaply from our own merchants, who have to pay rent,
taxes, clerk-hire, rent and other expenses that the peddler escapes because he does not live in Fulton.

No housewife in Fulton, but has hours of her time stolen by this class of people, who annoy
them with their importunities
to buy, this, that or the other,
telling them that it is cheaper than the stores can sell, because they have no rent, etc., to pay. These outsiders, in the course of a year cut a rather large slice out of the home merchants business, and as stated above, sell goods that are no better, if as good as are sold by the Fulton merchants, who spend their profits in Fulton, while the peddler takes his to some other town to spend.

No, friend farmer, do not believe that the people of Fulton
are trying to shut you out.
Your produce and your trade
are both wanted by the people of Fulton, and you will always be welcomed by both the merchant and the housekeeper, particularly the latter, if you will bring fresh, carefully handled fruits and vegetables to their doors.

FULTON COUNTY FAIR

The Fulton County Fair catalogs will be issued early this year so the exhibitors who are to compete for premiums can begin working on their exhibits.
The premium list will be unusually attractive this year and everything points to the best fair ever held here. The races too, will be better. Horsemen are already making arrangements to enter the handsome purses.

The poultry exhibits will also be largely increased and will be one of the feature attractions of the fair.

The ladies in charge of floral Hall are making preparations already to make this department of the fair more attractive than ever, and many special premiums will be added to the large premium list cataloged.

The livestock exhibits will also be pleasing this year, as well as the agricultural exhibits.

The directors have their eyes
open for the very best attractions to furnish amusement,
and taking it all in all, nothing will be left undone to make the 1925 meet of the Fulton County Fair a glorious success from start to finish. Make your arrangements now to attend and meet your friends.

LIONS CLUB IS BOOSTING CROP DIVERSIFICATION

A meeting of the Lions club which proved to be unusually interesting was held at the Usona hotel March 20th, when valuable data on farm diversification and other subjects were discussed. If there is any one thing needed more than another in Fulton county, it is crop diversification and at this meeting Lion H. H. Murphy produced some records of neighboring counties sustaining
his talk with the following:

Gibson county, Tenn.—Products shipped from Milan in 1924, consisting of berries, beans, tomatoes, potatoes, 251
carloads, receipts $364,302.
From Sitka, tomatoes and potatoes, 91 cars, receipts $118-133. From Cades, potatoes, beans and tomatoes, 52 cars, receipts, $73,710. From Gibson
tomatoes, beans and potatoes, 155 cars, receipts $213,435.
From Bradford, berries, beans,
akro, tomatoes, receipts $58-878.40. In addition to the above products, cotton to the value of $258,750.

Humboldt, located in Gibson county, Tenn., is considered the largest shipping point in West Tennessee and the amount of money paid from the various products at that station
during 1924, was more than $450,000.

The facts and figures given above relating to the diversification of crops in Gibson county is sufficient to convince any man that cotton, corn and tobacco are not dependable, and with the climate we enjoy and the splendid double track railroad system penetrating the richest country in the world, giving the people living in it a direct communication north and south, should convince any man that he should produce the character of produce that can be accomplished the quickest,
and receive the earliest compensation for same, because the whole development of the country is between the railroads and the shipper at one end and the seller at the other.

Fulton county can produce any character of produce, vegetables or grain.

Some of our progressive farmers believe solely in diversification, while the great majority continue to drag out an existence by growing tobacco,
a little corn, etc.

Fulton county farmers cannot fail because they have the land which produces abundantly, and with good markets and the best of transportation facilities.

their newspaper as Davy Crockett and Gordon Baird.

Dee McNeill for County Attorney.

After considering the appeals of his friends, Dee L. McNeill enters the race for the office of County Attorney, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election August 1.

Dee McNeill is a thoroughbred Democrat and needs no introduction from us to the voters of Fulton county. The people all know him and remember the splendid record he made for himself during his term of office 1918-22. During the campaign he will make an effort to see each and every voter in person. His announcement in today's paper is a message for your careful consideration. He is making a bid for your vote and influence, and says if he is elected your county attorney he will be faithful to the duties of the office. No man can do more.

B. B. JONES GIVES $30,000 TO MEMPHIS INSTITUTION

The Hospital for Crippled
Adults, at Memphis, is richer by $30,000, thanks to the behearted generosity of the B.
B. Jones, Oklahoma magnate, who matched a $30-000 bequest to the institution which was made by trustees of the estate of William Pritchard, lumberman, who died about two years ago. These trustees are James M. Clements and
W. H. FitzHugh.

Mr. Jones, who is a native
Mississippian, an Oklahoma oil magnate and a Virginia raiser of blooded stock, particularly race horses, became interested in the Hospital for Crippled Adults on one of his frequent visits to Memphis. He is a millionaire several times over and a public spirited man.

When Mr. Jones heard of the provisions of the Pritchard will, whereby trustees of his estate were to apportion the residue of his property to charitable institutions, he agreed to match, dollar for dollar, any bequest the trustees might make to the Hospital for Crippled Adults.

The Pritchard trustees have paid in $30,000 and Mr. Jones has paid in a like amount.

Mr. Jones makes his home at Berryville, Va., where his stock farm is nationally noted. He is a native of Kosciusko, Miss.,
and a former Fultonian, also brother in law of Harry Ek-dahl.

GUY SNOW MANAGER OF THE GRAND AND ORPHEUM

Guy Snow, who has successfully given the people of Ful-

therefore, we may expect the same high-class production as we have had in the past and even better if such is possible.
Guy believes in giving Fulton theater goers only the best.
Some improvements will be made and the best attractions
booked for both places, says
the popular manager, Guy Snow.

FULTON BOY IN RECENT TORNADO

Nathan Alverson, son of Mr.
and Mrs. G. E. Alverson, of this city, who is connected with the signal department of the Illinois Central railroad, was a visitor at The Advertiser office Saturday. Nathan was working with a force of fifteen men near Murphysboro, the recent storm center, when the tornado swept through that section last week. He was blown off of a pole on which he was working, but was not injured. It is interesting to hear him tell of his experiences
during and after the storm.

Shortly after the disaster he was assisting the rescuers in removing the dead and injured
from the wreckage. He helped to remove 35 bodies from the school building, laying them all out together for identification. This was at 2 o'clock and about 9 o'clock, one of the number, George Morrison, Jr., 9 years of age, revived, stood up, rubbed his eyes and said,
"I must go home mama don't

Neighborhood News Written By Our Representative Correspondents

Fulton, Route Seven

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Roach entertained a few relatives in honor of Raymond A. Roach of Washington recently. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Greelie Wilson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hawks and family, Billie Hickman and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold. All enjoyed the day.

The Death Angel came to the home of Mr. Arthur Harper and winged away with the spirit of his 10 year old son. The child had been afflicted for some time of leakage of the heart. He leaves a father, mother, two grandmothers, brothers and a number of relatives to mourn his loss. The funeral services were held at Johnson Grove, by Bro. Winstead, after which his body was planted in the tomb to await the awakening of all Saints. Sleep on, dear child, and take thy rest; God, in His wisdom, knoweth best.

Death again visited our route and claimed the daughter of Mr. French. She was badly burned some time ago, which proved fatal. Stubblefield and Lowe had charge of the burial.

Most tobacco beds are planted, a number of garden vegetables, incubators and hens set, all preparing for home comforts.

We would like for Pierce to give us some information in regard to the canning factory.

Mrs. Liza (Dinks) McKinney has moved to the home of her daughter.

Some work is being done on the new road from the Burlington Highway via of Mr. Frank Sellars and Billie Jolly's. This road is now open for travel and is much more convenient in going to McConnell, Tenn.

The home of Mr. Sam Henderson was burned recently. It was a total loss. Also lost quite a bit of meat and lard, chickens etc. Any one wishing to contribute to the family may leave it with Mrs. Oscar Bizzle in South Fulton. Anything will be appreciated. All subscribe for The Advertiser which is decidedly the best weekly paper of Fulton.

COL. DAN MORGAN SMITH BRINGS TIMELY MESSAGE

Col. Dan Morgan Smith, of Hollywood, Calif., and the commander of "The Battalion of Death," of the A. E. F. in France, addressed a large crowd at the City Hall Tuesday evening on the theme of "The Spirit of America," and a timely and interesting message it was.

The Colonel is sent out over the country under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League of America, and is working to the end that the work of enforcing the eighteenth amendment to the Constitution may be effected the more effectively and at the earliest possible moment. His statements in regard to the work of those opposed to the enforcement of the amendment were terse and to the point, and his references to the "sacrifices made by the boys 'over there'" were illustrative in the extreme of the points he made in regard to the work before the American people. His references to the Constitution, and what it implies and means were challenges to every true American to come back to the spirit of the United States of America as designed by the framers of the document, that the spirit of true freedom may pervade the country again, and that those who seek to in any way destroy the Constitution may be put to rest, and learn the true import of Americanism.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. F. B. FITZWATER, D.D., Dean of the Evening School, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (© 1913, Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for March 29

CLOSING PERIOD OF CHRIST'S MINISTRY—REVIEW

DEVOTIONAL READING—Rev. 1:5

GOLDEN TEXT—"Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and today and forever."—Heb. 13:8

PRIMARY TOPIC—How Friends Cared for Jesus and Paul.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Helping the Missionaries by Our Gifts.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Living Lessons From the Quarter.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Closing Scenes in Christ's Life.

The lessons of the quarter have been so rich and full that perhaps the best method of review will be to summarize the outstanding teachings of the quarter. The following suggestions are offered:

Lesson I—The so-called triumphal entry was the official presentation of Jesus of Nazareth to the Jewish nation as their Messiah. He was the predicted king coming in the name of the Lord (Psa. 118:26).

Lesson II—Coming judgment is absolutely certain. The judgment portrayed in this lesson is that of the nations living on the earth when Jesus comes. The judgment pronounced—reward or doom—will be on the ground of the attitude of the nations towards Jesus as expressed in their treatment of His brethren, the Jews.

Lesson III—Before Jesus went to the cross He instituted a memorial of His broken body and shed blood. This should be gratefully and strictly observed by believers until Christ come again.

Lesson IV—Many are the trials through which the believer must pass as he goes through this life. The sure cure for "heart trouble" is the assurance that Jesus has gone to prepare a place in His Father's house, and will come again and receive His disciples to Himself.

Lesson V—Jesus is the true vine and believers are the branches. Abiding in Him will result in fruitfulness, success in prayer, fellowship in the love-life of God, fullness of joy and love-life like that of God.

Lesson VI—It is not the purpose of God that Christians should be taken out of the world at once when they believe on Christ because the world needs their influence and testimony. Christ needs them as His representatives and they need the trials of the world to strengthen the grace of God in their hearts. Those whom God has given to Christ are eternally secure even though they must pass through great trials.

Lesson VII—The agony of Gethsemane was due to the fact that Jesus was bearing the burden of the sins of the world.

Lesson VIII—The heart of this lesson is that Christians should be obedient to civil authority because human government has been ordained of God. The more loyal the believer is to Jesus Christ, the more loyal he will be to rightly constituted authority (This lesson has no logical connection with the others of the quarter and should be omitted where time is limited).

Lesson IX—Jesus Christ gave clear proof that He was the Messiah promised in the Scriptures, but the wicked nation rejected Him and chose a murderer instead. Both Pilate and the nation went down under the guilt of the rejection of Christ.

Lesson X—Christ on the cross is the supreme expression of unselfish love, a revelation of the moral nature of the world, and stands as an exhibition of a cross section of the world in any generation.

Lesson XI—Christ's resurrection is an absolute certainty. This unquestioned fact certifies that He is the divine Son through whom we get eternal life.

Lesson XII—The various appearances of Jesus Christ after His burial demonstrate the reality of His resurrection, confirm the truthfulness of the Scriptures and reveal Him as not only the supreme and grand center of the Scriptures, but the supreme interpreter of them.

Goodness Outshines Genius

Man is created for virtue. It is his supreme endowment coupled with his capacity for affiance in God. Ever and anon a trumpet sounds. From the hidden battlements of Eternity, summoning him to noble living. If he refuses to obey the summons he sinks in the scale of being. He surrenders manhood to accept animalism. The degree in which a man is striving after virtue and obedient to the law of duty determines his real value. "Goodness," says Emerson, "outshines genius, as the sun makes the electric light cast a shadow."—Rev. R. P. Downes, LL. D.

THE OFFICE door opened and Cyril Tinkham swung around from his desk with a hopeful, expectant look he kept in stock to greet his clients, but the look faded and while it did not actually turn into one of disappointment, still it faded. He was looking into the countenance of his friend, Roscoe Blake.

Those features were usually illuminated by a smile, but Roscoe was not smiling now. Maybe that meant trouble, and maybe that meant a client—
even Roscoe might be embroiled
in legal difficulties.

"Something wrong?" asked Cyril.

"You said it," grunted Roscoe.

"That's why I'm here."

"You want legal advice," declared

Cyril confidently.

"No I don't either. I'd have to pay for that. I want sympathy. Besides

it's too late for advice."

"What happened?"

"I got hooked for $500."

"Cards or horses?"

"Neither—the stock market."

"Haven't you a comeback?"

"Now, you're looking for a case," laughed Roscoe. "Nothing doing, I'm not a poor loser. I'll take my licks, but just the same I like to pour my tale of woe out on somebody. I could use that $500."

"What was the stock?"

"Secco Copper."

"Never heard of it," declared Cyril

with finality.

"And you never will. It was never listed."

"What? You mean to tell me, Roscoe, that you bought an unlisted

stock?"

"Worse. I bought it over the telephone from someone I never saw."

"Well, of all the fool stunts. I thought you—"

"Wait a minute," interrupted Roscoe, rising from his seat and crossing to the window. "I said I wanted sympathy, not a lecture. You never listened to this bird who talked to me.

He was an artist and deserved all he got, including my $500."

"Well, no artist would get me over the telephone."

"You seem confident. I'd like to get this chap to rig you and make a bet on it. He owes me that much at least after roping me."

"Go ahead," taunted the lawyer.

Roscoe looked out at the dreary

buildings and then he brightened.

"All right, it's a bet. How much?"

"How much do you want to make it?" asked the lawyer.

"Make it the $500 I lost."

"You want to lose an even thousand, I see."

Roscoe smiled. "Did you ever hear that saying about he who smiles

last?"

A week or two elapsed before Cyril Tinkham picked up his desk phone to answer a voice that immediately intrigued him. There was something magnetic about the tone, some indefinable personality.

"Mr. Tinkham? Mr. Barker speaking on the recommendations of some very prominent people who have selected you as an enterprising young lawyer to interest in a new invention.

We need representative men to endorse it and get it started. You might naturally expect that I would call personally with such a proposition rather than talk to you over the phone; but it happens that only by this method can I give you a demonstration. This invention is something that will revolutionize the telephone industry as you will readily understand when I tell you that while I have been talking to you, you have been scribbling

on a red blotter with a yellow pencil."

Cyril gasped and snapped his head away from the mouth-piece, which he inspected in amazement.

"I don't wonder you sprang away,"

antly. "And now let's have a further demonstration. Do something and I'll tell you what it is. You have just put the pencil in your right hand vest pocket—now you place it in your left—you shifted the receiver to your right ear—you are now standing up—now you are at the desk—you are dancing—now you are waving your arms. Does that satisfy

you, Mr. Tinkham?"

"It certainly does," beamed the cocky lawyer. "And you want me to take an interest in it?"

"Not exactly. We just want you to vouch for it in our advertisements."

"But don't I get a chance to come in on it," protested the lawyer.

"Well," hesitated the voice. "The issue is small and about taken up. I might be able to procure you a thousand shares. Would you take that?"

"Certainly. How much do I pay?"

"You pay $500 to your friend Roscoe Blake in accordance with the terms of a bet you recently made. And now, if you will glance out your window to the story above of the building running at right angles to yours,

you will see where Roscoe has been watching you make a darn fool of yourself all over your desk."

Couldn't Condemn Frame

The profiteer was showing off the picture gallery of his new house. He had scarcely had time to look at the pictures, but had ordered magnificent frames for them.

When the guest stopped opposite a picture, and said: "Ah, an old master, surely—oh, yes, this is very old," the profiteer said, hurriedly: "Yes, but it's a new frame."

Bowling Green—The 1927 annual state meeting of the Woodmen of the World will be held in Bowling Green.

Lebanon—Miss Sue Ella Wheatley was bequeathed 10 cents by the will of Charles C. Phillips while her brother received $500.

Princeton—Losses estimated at $20,000 were entailed by a fire which damaged a two-story building owned by W. N. Brown.

Louisville—A contribution of $500 to the American Legion Endowment Fund from the Kentucky Jockey Club was announced here.

Maysville—Eddie Crowe was injured in the foot when he gun was discharged accidentally while he was hunting in Powell-co.

Richmond—Under the supervision of Mrs. A. R. Denny, local chairman, the music memory contest is being pushed ahead in Richmond.

Calhoun—Sheriff C. L. Roberts, charged with assault and battery, was found guilty by a McLean County jury and fined $50 and costs.

Frankfort—Gov. William J. Fields approved a requisition for the return of Athelle Banks McDowell, arrested in Louisville, to Chicago.

Hickman—Farm work is well under way throughout this section and especially in the lower bottoms where the large plantations are located.

Frankfort—J. A. Elder was appointed to fill the vacancy in the office of Police Judge at Marion, Ky. Judge Elder will succeed the late Judge I. T. Pierce.

Ashland—As she slept, Mary Keeton, 6, was bitten on the face by a rat, registering the fifth person to suffer from rodent attacks in recent months.

Frankfort—Mrs. Fannie Tipton, of Anderson County, was received at the state reformatory to begin a life sentence for the murder of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Jessie Tipton.

Bowling Green—Bloodhounds were called to Green-co in an attempt to trail marauders who had sown red-top orchard grass and timothy seed in plant beds of 15 tobacco growers.

Danville—Irvine Dye, charged with stealing a horse owned by Hugh Wayne, was given an examining trial in County Court and was held over to the grand jury under bond of $1000.

Springfield—One man was killed and thirty persons were injured, some of them probably fatally, by a cyclone which razed Jintown, a small negro community, half a mile from Springfield.

Glasgow—The completion of two good oil wells in the Baker pool, two miles north of here, in addition to the big gusher drilled on the Turner lease, extending this pool, has centered attraction on that field again.

Hopkinsville—Dixie Nolan, convict, who made his escape from Nashville Penitentiary, was captured here by Sam Putman and George Smith, deputy sheriffs. The officers had been notified by telephone to watch for the convict.

Calhoun—A surprise was sprung when the grand jury returned an indictment against Dave and Melvin Stanley and Tex Austin, charging them with the murder of Otis McKinnick last summer. A previous grand jury had refused to indict the men.

Perryville—Dr. J. E. Caldwell and C. E. Kemper made a trip of inspection to potential alum mines discovered on the Roy Edwards farm and reported that there is evidence of enormous deposits. A survey will be made by a geologist upon whose report development plans will depend.

Whitesburg—John W. Bates, a farmer of Letcher County, was married at Millstone, several miles from here to Cherry Phillips, just past her 14th birthday. Mr. Bates is over 40 years old. Mrs. Bates has been in this State only a short time, having moved here with her family from Virginia a month ago. The courtship was brief.

Lockport—Lockport, a village in the eastern end of Henry County, situated at Lock No. 4 on the Kentucky River, is teeming with excitement. Oil drills and crews arrived here and moved two miles from the village where the first test well in the county will start operation in the near future. The section of the county is rich in mineral wealth.

Elkton—Miss Bernice Murray, forward on the local high school basketball team, was selected as the best all-around player in the basketball tournament held at Bowling Green, and was awarded a silver loving cup.

Frankfort—Harrodsburg Building and Savings Association will increase its capital stock from $500,000 to $400,000 under amended articles of incorporation approved by the state banking commissioner. Incorporators are D. Lee Curry, Leslie M. Itue and George W. Edwards.

JACKSON JUDGE SERIOUSLY ILL

Pitts Brothers' Plea, as far as indicated, is That They Killed Howard Also Known As "Bad Jack," in Self Defense.

Jackson, Ky., March 18.—Serious illness incapacitated Judge D. W. Gardner from further service during the present term of the Breathitt Circuit Court, and Gov. William J. Fields, in formed by long distance telephone commissioner O. H. Pollard of Jackson as special judge for the remainder of the session here.

Judge Gardner, who had complained of illness while presiding, was stricken by acute appendicitis. He was taken to the Jackson City Hospital, where he underwent an operation late today. The results of the operation were very satisfactory.

Taking up the crowded docket of Circuit Court where Judge Gardner left off, Judge Pollard denied a continuance to the next term sought by attorneys for John L. Pitts and Burns Pitts, brothers, slayers of Jack Howard. He, however, passed their case to April 1, and, after a hearing, granted them bail of $5,000 each until that date.

In their plea for a continuance, A. Floyd Byrd and Clay Watkins, defense counsel, maintained that twelve important witnesses were absent and that, because bail had so far been denied, their clients had been unable to assemble witnesses to support their defense. County Judge James L. Little, at a hearing some time ago, refused to allow the two prisoners to leave jail on bond.

The plea of the Pitts brothers, as far as was indicated at this afternoon's hearing, will be that they killed Howard in self-defense. They also will contend that he was a desperate man and was known in his community as "Bad Jack." Howard shot and wounded John L. Pitts three years ago, and the brothers apparently plan, it was indicated, to show that Howard did not regard the incident as closed.

The affidavit seeking the continuance says an absent witness, Clayton Clemmons, would testify that Howard had said he (Howard) "had shot John L. Pitts once through the heart and could not kill him, and he intended to shoot him through the head to see what effect that would have on him."

Deputy sheriff Jim Blanton testified at the hearing on the motion for bail that Howard was slashed with a knife in the face and throat at least eight times, was shot three times and, in addition, apparently had received two heavy blows on the head. The body was found in a branch of Quicksand Creek about thirty-two miles from Jackson near the Magoffin County line, January 19. The prosecution charges that John L. Pitts shot and Burns Pitts stabbed the victim while Howard was helplessly drunk.

Commonwealth's Attorney Grover Cleveland Allen stoutly resisted the motion for bail. Mr. Byrd argued for it. Mr. Watkins gave bond for John L. Pitt and he was released after Judge Pollard's decision.

SETTLEMENT FOR LACY MADE

Former Delinquent Tax Collector of Hopkins Missing Since 1922.

Madisonville.—Hopkins County Fiscal Court made settlement with bondsmen for Paul Lacy, former delinquent tax collector, against whom two indictments are pending, charging misappropriation of State funds and obtaining money under false pretenses. Lacy was said to have been $7,000 short in his accounts when he disappeared suddenly in 1922.

Bondsmen were H. B. Lacy, his father, and S. H. Mosely and surety of $1,000 was settled on payment of $500 and the bondsmen released from further liability. Lacy's shortage in State funds is said to be nearly $400, which his father has said he will make good, according to County Attorney Charles G. Franklin.

Letcher Plans Building Roads.

Whitesburg.—The Letcher Fiscal Court is in session here, with all the members of the court present. Arrangements have been completed for the beginning of the construction of the Myking-to-Haymond section of the Kentucky-Virginia highway. Eight miles of this highway have been completed through the mountains, and reaches nearly to the Harlan County border. Harlan County is arranging for its part of the highway.

Water Rate Not To Be Increased.

Mayfield.—The Mayor and City Council of Mayfield, in an ordinance published authorizing the sale of the water and light plant which is owned and controlled by the City of Mayfield, said in a statement that a contract had been signed by the Kentucky-Tennessee Power Company, the prospective purchasers, not to raise the water or power rates within the next twenty years. The present rates on power and water in Mayfield have been reduced twice by the city.

THE secret of good paint is "Purity." Ask any master painter the ideal materials for use in a house paint and he will tell you Pure Carbonate of Lead, Zinc Oxide, Linseed Oil, Turpentine and Drier and there you have the formula of Monarch 100% Pure Paint.

No substitute or cheapeners ever find a place in a can of Monarch 100% Pure Paint and you will always find "100% Pure" the "Sterling Mark" of paint on every can of Monarch you buy.

Give your home the best paint protection available by using Monarch 100% Pure upon it. It requires a 100% Pure Paint such as Monarch to really protect the surface over a period of years and it is poor economy to use cheap paint that will not withstand the elements.

It will cost you less in dollars and cents if you specify Monarch 100% Pure Paint and you will always be satisfied.

Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., by the pastor.

Prayer service, 7:30 p. m. every Wednesday evening.
Special music at both services. Everyone especially invited to attend all services.

The services of last Sunday were well attended. Rev. Freeman preached a forceful sermon in the morning and Rev. McCoy gave a splendid talk on "Christian Education," at the 7:30 hour. Mr. Barkley, of Memphis, favored us with a special solo in the evening.

Mr. T. J. Kramer lead a splendid prayer service Wednesday evening and a goodly number attended, but the pastor would like to see the attendance continue to grow.

The Woman's Missionary Society will meet Monday afternoon at 2:30 at the church, a full attendance is desired. Mrs. W. R. Butt will give a report from the conference recently held in Ripley, Tenn. She has kindly invited the members of the Warner Blackard Society to be their guests at this meeting.

The Methodist Missionary girls met with Miss Mayme Bennett at her home on Carr street Tuesday. Mrs. J. V. Freeman had charge of program which was enjoyed by all the girls. They closed up their work for the quarter and it is a splendid report.

The Warner Blackard Missionary Society met with Mrs. Guy Gingles at her home on Fourth street Monday, with Mrs. Gingles and Mrs. I. D. Seay hostesses. The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Scruggs, and opened with song and prayer. A very brief business session followed, the minutes were read and dues collected. Social service Supt. gave a splendid report. Several sick calls were made and flowers sent and a poor family provided for. The calendar fund was collected. Mrs. Brady, corresponding secretary, read the resignation of Mrs. Hoyt Moore as superintendent of the Young People and Mrs. Boyd Bennett was elected in her place. The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Norman Terry, leader for the afternoon and her assistants. Mrs. Terry gave paper on "The Bennett Memorial." Mrs. G. H. Dickey gave "Dedication of Belle H. Bennett Clinical Building."

Mrs. Terry gave the Bible lesson, after which we were favored with a duet by Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Redfearn, accompanied by Mrs. Lloyd Emery. Mrs. Jolly gave a leaflet on "Women of Korea and World Sisterhood." Mrs. Robertson gave a paper, "A Message from Manchuria." This concluded the program and Mrs. Mrs. G. H. Dickey called for new members for the mission study class to meet in April.

A very enjoyable social hour followed and the hostess served this paper.

Flagman on I. C. Train Found Dead

Flagman Eugene Williamson, who was flagging on train No. 8, the Panama Limited, night of March 22, was found dead on rear platform of the train when it arrived at Dyersburg. It was stated that while passing through Covington Flagman Williamson exchanged signals with the operator, and that was the last party who saw him alive. The doctor at Dyersburg who examined him stated that he died of heart failure.

Mr. Williamson entered the service of the Illinois Central June 21, 1908, having been promoted to conductor March 17, 1912, and on account of reductions in forces was working as a flagman at the present time. He will be missed by his many friends on the Tennessee Division.

JAMES M. TYLER PASSES AWAY

Died, James M. Tyler, at his home in El Paso, Texas, Monday, March 23, after a short illness.

The body was brought to Fulton for burial and funeral services were held Thursday morning at the Fulton Undertaking Company's home on Carr street, conducted by Dr. A. C. Boyd.

The deceased was a son of the late Capt. J. P. Tyler and formerly lived in Fulton, but for the past fourteen years had made his home at El Paso.

He is survived by one brother, John Tyler of West Point, Miss.; two sisters, Mrs. Bruce Knox, West Point, Miss., and Mrs. John Ewing of El Paso.

Deceased was a member of the Episcopal Church and Elks lodge, and had many friends in Fulton, who join us in sympathy for the bereaved.

CHARLES P. HARDY VICTIM OF HEART TROUBLE

The friends and acquaintances in Fulton and surroundings in Fulton of Charles P. Hardy regret to learn of his passing away at his home in St. Louis Sunday morning after a lingering illness. He was 63 years of age. Death was due to heart trouble resulting from influenza. Mr. Hardy was born near Union City, and until five years ago was in the grain business there, and has since that time been connected with a coffee company at St. Louis. The body was taken to Union City for burial Tuesday afternoon.
