FAIR WILL HAVE EXHIBITS FROM FIVE COUNTIES

J. H. Shelby Dies Under Chickasaw

J. F. Shelby, 63, well known railroad man of this city, was killed by the fast Chickasaw passenger train about 1:45 o'clock early Monday morning, while on duty. It is uncertain just how Mr. Shelby was struck by the train, but it is thought that he misjudged the distance, and the engine was upon him before he realized it. He had recently recovered from an illness and returned to his duties with the Illinois Central System.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. G. C. Fain at the First Methodist church of this city, at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday, with burial in the Greenlee cemetery in charge of Hornbeak Funeral Home.

Mr. Shelby came here from Clinton in 1907, and has been with the Illinois Central railroad for thirty-five years. He married Miss Maud Clapp in 1898, who survives him. He also leaves one son, Claud Shelby of this city; two daughters, Mrs. Sylvester of Catching, Miss, and Miss Sarah Shelby of Fulton; two sisters, Miss Minnie Shelby of Fulton and Mrs. M. K. Bell of Cairo.

Sympathy is extended to the bereaved family by their many friends and The News.

After a meeting of the board of election commissioners and candidates at Union City this week, it was decided that John A. Hefley, for county judge; W. A. Jackson, registrar; and Johnnie F. Semones, for county clerk, were winners in the election.

This recount of ballots was necessary after some candidates had declared unofficial ballots had been used in some instances during the election was found not to exist, according to the election commission.

The program consisted of handicraft, swimming and boating, and games.

WRECK SATURDAY ON NARROW BRIDGE

The narrowness of the bridge that crosses the creek from Lake-st to Carr-st, was indirectly the cause of an automobile accident Saturday afternoon, when a car driven by Bodie Jonakin, Obion county, crashed into the railing to avoid collision with a Dixie Greyhound motor bus.

The Jonakin automobile was badly damaged, but nobody was seriously injured.

Works for Dukedom was the hitting star of the day by connecting with a single, double and triple in 4 trips to the plate.

Next Sunday Pierce will face Latham for a second game of the year defeating them 6 to 1 on their other meeting. Pierce wishes to invite everybody to see the games as there is no admission charge.

Every year the week prior to the opening of the fair things take on new life at the fair grounds--weeds are cut, stables, grandstand, floral and exhibition pens are cleaned, fences and buildings whitewashed. The race track has been dragged daily in recent weeks. Horses arrived this week, and trainers started putting them through their paces in preparation for the fair. Purses for the winners are set at $150.

Nine free acts are assigned during fair week to provide a variety of entertainment. Such gripping and appealing attractions as skating feats, hilarious comedy and exciting acrobatic acts, trapeze artists and daredevil stunts are on this part of the program. On the midway, the Al C. O K LAUNDRY WINS SECOND OF SERIES

Evidently not satisfied with three consecutive defeats in the series last year the O K Laundry boys went out and rebuffed the Swift aggregation on two straight occasions trying to win the pennant of the last half of the Twilight League and thereby put an end to the playing for the year 1933. They have previously won the first half of the season by a wide margin and were tied with Swift for the winners of the second half. This series is to determine the winner of the second half. Should Swift win this series another series will be necessary next week to determine the winner of the entire year. But of course if O K wins this series that puts a stop to the series next week.

The first game was won by O K last Thursday night by a very decisive score of 9 to 4. Friday night Swift just didn't like the idea of O K running over them so much and in the second inning after O K had scored 5 runs in the first Swift up and started a scoring spree that netted the 5 runs on four well placed hits and a couple of errors. In the 6th inning all other clubs up and smacks a double to left center and of course won his own game 7 to 5.

The third game will be played to night (Thursday). If Swift OK wins the series is over; if Swift wins the fourth game will be played Monday.

OPPOSE SALES TAX—BUT FAVOR RELIEF WORK

There seems to be a general opposition to Governor Laffoon's gross receipts tax, which in actuality is really the old sales tax, dressed up in new clothes so to speak. In an attempt to get over this tax program, Governor Laffoon introduced the gross receipts tax through the cooperation of the Kentucky Relief Commission. This approach to the problem of getting the new sales tax enacted was nothing less than a "smoke screen" to play on the sympathies of the people in communities where relief work has played an important role in aiding distressed families.

Merchants of Fulton and Kentucky have long been opposed to the sales tax, and their opposition to the governor's new gross receipts tax does not mean that they oppose the raising of revenue for relief work in this state. Quite contrary to the fact, business men everywhere endorse and urge that steps be taken to raise the $3,000,000 revenue required to be put up by the state before this commonwealth can secure $8,000,000 in federal aid for relief work throughout the state.

Nearly everywhere that merchants have assembled to express their opinion of the gross receipts or sales tax, they have looked upon it with disfavor. But, on the other hand, in most instances they have as a group, suggested to our state representatives, that additional revenue if necessary, be raised by a tax on whiskey, wine, beer and may be on cigarettes and tobacco.

In the halls of our legislature the battle has been between those for and those opposed to the gross receipts tax. Although the actual results and accomplishments of the special meeting of our state legislative body, is yet uncertain, everybody seems to be sitting tight ready for most anything. At least, we can never tell until it is over.

STATE FINANCES

The Department of Commerce at Washington has just issued the financial statistics of the state government of Kentucky for 1932. They ought to be of great interest to every taxpayer of the state. The two outstanding things they reveal are that the state government spent more than it took in and that it is costing more than twice as much to run the state government now as it did in 1918, during the war. This does not include the state highway department.

Back in 1918 it only cost $4.34 per capita for the operation and maintenance of the general departments of the state government while last year it cost every man, woman and child in the state $9.25 each. Now the question is are we getting twice as much today out of the state government could be just Courier does not think so and has said so time after time. The Courier thinks the general expenses of the state government could be cut at least one-third without taking a penny from such vital services as public health and schools and the state government could be just as efficient.

Another startling fact is that the general expenses of the state actually increased in 1932 over 1931 in spite of all promises of economy and in spite of a much reduced school expenditure. The per capita cost in 1931 was $9.14, while as stated above it was $9.25 in 1932. And it took $809,634 in 1932 to pay interest on the vast accumulation of warrants, and evidently the amount of warrants outstanding is increasing every month. Last year they increased $1,156,547—which was the amount spent by the state over and above its income.

The total cost of the state government for 1932 was $38,086,662, of which amount the highway department spent $17,512,892. Of this $6,141,011 was for maintenance and $11,371,881 for new construction. While the collections of other taxes fell off the gasoline tax brought in 2.4 percent more in 1932 than in 1931. The figures were $8,757,283 for 1932 and $8,555,585 for 1931. So it would seem that even though we did not want to divert any of the gasolinetax to other

This and That

General Johnson, who heads the recovery administration, is something of an anachronism. In these days of "ghost writers" and typewriters he writes his own speeches and does it in long hand.

Just the other day Al Smith made one of the best speeches that have ever been made on the NRA—it was very sensible and reasonable, and set out in no uncertain words why we should support it. It seems to me that Al deserved some important place in the recovery program, the fellow's good common sense could be used.

Encephalitis, a disease of the brain, in epidemic form, is causing considerable alarm in St. Louis. Because this disease is usually accompanied by deep lethargy, it has been referred to as "sleeping sickness." It is not, however the sleeping sickness of Africa, caused by tsetse fly carrier, nor is it a new disease. Although not common it is not infrequent. Medical science are at sea about the disease but the cases in St. Louis will doubtless prove a good field for investigation. Although the conditions here are quite serious, automobiles will more in one day than encephalitis will in six months.

A few days ago a child was born in an automobile enroute to a Mayfield hospital. Motorists picked up a hitch-hiking family, and before the hospital could be reached the child was born.

A firm grip on operating expenses enabled the Illinois Central Railroad to report the largest net operating income for July that has been known for any comparable month since 1927. Net income for July was about $468,000.

Ben Hodge, 129 years old, believed to be the oldest man in the U. S., went to Poplar Bluff, Mo., hospital last week, with gangrene in one foot. That must have been a few experience for hospital attendants—cutting on a man who has passed the century mark by a score of years.

state purposes, that the license fees on automobiles might be cut in half and the state highway department still left enough money to maintain our roads and build new ones fairly rapidly.

If the people of Kentucky would study these facts they would demand that the next regular session of the Legislature, which meets in January take out of the dusty pigeonhole where it has been deliberately placed for several years, the report of the Efficiency Commission, which told how to reform the state government along modern business lines and give us the same service, or perhaps better, for much less money. Good times or bad, high taxes or low taxes, this should be done. And certainly under present conditions it is vital to do it, for the people of Kentucky need a reduction in taxes right now. They can never hope to get a reduction with expenditures

Albert Myles, of Wichita Falls, Texas, and former deputy county clerk of Graves County, Ky., who discovered the other day, $15,700 in silver mine stock and mineral right to thousands of acres of Boulder County, Colo., land. The papers or certificates were unearthed unexpectedly while a Mayfield financial firm was sorting old papers stored in their office. Myles left Mayfield several years ago, and it is not known whether the stocks are of any value.

Oklahoma, a state that produces desperadoes of raw character has turned out another one, this time, Harvey Bailey, held in Texas for kidnapping, murder, and so forth. This desperado was so fierce that iron bands had to be placed on his legs and arms to hold him. Mussolini puts such characters in iron cages while being tried in court, and has a nice way of dealing with them afterward.

Yes; there is much wheat on hand in the world. But not too much. The stock, to be exact, was 960,000,000 bushels, with the U. S. holding 345,000,000 bushels. The total on August was 180,000,000 more bushels than in 1932. Yet, if all the hungry could be fed, there would be no shortage, and would they welcome a morsel of food!

That queer dollar of ours is acting up. Last week it was worth something like 72c in foreign countries. And, not long ago, as regards its purchasing value, it was worth up to $2. Already predictions are being made that real, genuine inflation will appear at the end of the year, with a dollar being actually worth about 60-cents. But, who understands money? We say, nobody.

The British have long had a problem on their hands in Mahatma Gandhi—who is very troublesome alive, but more dangerous dead. So after keeping him imprisoned again, while he fasted and lost 90 pounds, they were forced to release him again. Wonder what the British will do for a novelty after Gandhi goes on his last fast, and passes on to his ancestors?

more than receipts. But the Efficiency survey points the way, and the politicians will listen if the people of the state make their demands loud and firm enough.—The Hickman Courier).

FORD SHOWS

Steadily mounting business levels in the mid-south, as reflected in sales of the New Ford V-8 throughout the area, were verified yesterday by figures from the Ford Motor Company branch in Memphis, showing more cars sold in the first ten days of August than in any 10-day period in more than two years.

From almost every part of the area, extending into six states covered by the Memphis Ford branch came reports of continued better sales and steadily improving outlook for the near future, according to W. J. Willingham, local Ford dealer. City sales of Ford V-8's in Memphis kept pace, likewise setting a three year's record for any period of similar length.

The consistently climbing sales records in the Memphis area follow on the heels of a big record that has been set by Ford since March in Wayne County, Michigan, in which the City of Detroit is located. The Michigan figures, just compiled, show Ford far ahead of the field in July, having sold nearly twice as many units as the second car, and more than three times as many as the third.

For the five months ending July 31, the Ford V-8 ran ahead to the tune of 8,590 cars sold in Wayne County, motorist's capital, compared with 5,095 for the second car and 2,701 for the third—or more Fords than the combined total of its two biggest rivals.

"It's just another proof that we're going to do our part in the mid-south area to sustain the long-time Ford record average of a car built and sold every 40 seconds, day and night, for more than 30 years" Mr. Willingham is gaining new friends, and the demand for the new V-8, as judged in actual sales, is growing by leaps and bounds."

COUNTRY GENTLEMAN STAFF WRITER VISITS COFFMAN'S SERICEA FIELD

Edwin M. Coffman has gained national repute in growing lespedeza sericea. He was the first to introduce this plant here a few years ago, and since then the cultivation of this particular lespedeza has spread over a wide area. Mr. Coffman has shipped sericea seed to almost every country in the world, only this week sending orders to Australia and Canada.

The Country Gentleman magazine thought enough about his work in this field that it sent J. Sidney Cates, a staff reporter, from Washington, D. C., down here to visit the Coffman farm last Saturday.

Last week when a second cutting was made of a two-acre field of sericea on Mr. Coffman's farm, 71 bales weighing 5951 pounds were saved. More than that amount was harvested from the first cutting.

BOY SCOUTS TO CANVASS FULTON FOR FRUIT JARS

Approximately 25 scouts are canvassing the city for discarded fruit jars and other containers that may be used for canning purposes. The drive is sponsored by the Kentucky Relief Commission in conjunction with the Boy Scouts. The containers collected will be given to the poor of the city so that they may can the surplus produce of their gardens, thereby insuring food during the winter months. For those who do not have gardens to preserve the relief commission will attempt to help by furnishing what food they are able to muster. Some work has already been done in this field.

The containers will be collected through a house to house canvass of the entire city, and all persons willing to donate jars are asked to have them ready when the scouts call. If any person having jars are not called upon by the scouts, they are asked to phone—44.

Three community cannings have already been held, with a total of 601 quarts of beans and corn canned. Much of these vegetables came from community gardens.
