NUMBER FORTY-FIVE

WOUNDED FULTON SOLDIER RECOVERING IN ENGLAND

A U. S. Army General Hospital, England. — Sergeant Melvin G. House, 20, of 311 Taylor-st, Fulton, Kentucky, section chief of an Army Fire-Fighting unit, was hit in the right leg by shrapnel from an exploding mine while fighting a grass fire that threatened to destroy military supplies in Normandy. He is now recovering at a United States Army general hospital in England, where he has received the Purple Heart.

"Sgt. House is rapidly recovering and his condition is satisfactory," said his ward surgeon, Captain Alfred Kandel, of San Francisco, Calif.

German planes came over one night and dropped incendiary bombs on an open field, setting it afire and endangering military supplies stored near-by. Sgt. House's fire fighting squad was called upon to put it out.

Engineers cleared a path through the field to the fire. The fire fighting squad followed close on the heels of the mine clearing group.

A corporal was leading the way into the field and was killed by a mine explosion which wounded three others, including Sgt. House. "Medical men came soon after I was hit," he said. "The medicals loaded me in an ambulance and I was taken to a field hospital where I was given blood plasma."

Sgt. House was evacuated to England by boat shortly afterwards.

The son of Mrs. Annie House of the Taylor-st address, he was inducted into the Army January, 1943, at Camp Forrest, Tenn.

★ SOUTH FULTON ★

More people both old and young are praying for their loved ones in the services Thursday than ever before. How many little voices are lifted up to the throne of grace each night begging God to take care of Daddy and bring him home. Mrs. Thomas Dedmon, wife of Pvt. Thomas Dedmon, who is somewhere in Germany, had to spank her little four year old girl the other night and after she had put her to bed, the little girl sobbed "Mother you haven't heard me say my prayers for Daddy." Let us all pray that this cruel war will soon be over and our loved ones can come home.

The following is a piece that was written by Pvt. Dedmon while he was in his fox hole. We boys of the fox holes are receiving quite a few packages from home and whether the package be large or small we divide them among us all.

Its funny what a chance an American soldier will take just to give his buddies a piece of candy or cake that he has just received from home. After the mail man has delivered our mail in the dark of the night any soldier receiving a package from home, out of his fox hole he begins to roam to find his buddies and divide his package. He has just received from home. So don't be backwards at all whether the package be large or small we boys of the American Army enjoy them all.

FARMS CAN HELP SUPPLY WOOD NEEDS

Farm woodland owners were asked by J. H. Miller, county agricultural agent, to give part of their time to helping supply the wood products needed for military and essential uses in this critical war year.

"Lumber and pulpwood production can be increased without stripping the farm woods in the county," the agent said. "Selective cutting will assure greater returns for less time and labor and will improve the stands for future crops."

In asking farmers to increase their production of wood products the county agent emphasized the vital need for more forest products as a safeguard against possible shortage of containers, packaging, and wrappings for agricultural crops.

The county agent pointed out that the armed forces will require a much larger percentage of the output of lumber and pulpwood products in this invasion year than in previous years. Because of the greater military needs, supplies for civilian uses will be greatly curtailed unless production is considerably increased. Some of the military products made from pulpwood are smokeless powder, blood plasma containers, cargo parachutes, aviator vests, shell casings, first-aid kits and Commando bags.

The county agent offers to provide additional information on preparing and marketing of the timber products to farmers who need help in their cutting operations.

WHY A FARMER OR HOMEMAKER

Are you a purposeful farmer, really working and planning your routine for accuracy and speed in your efforts to support yourself and family are you just a farmer because Dad was a farmer and that's the only line of work you've had experience in.

If you are a wife and mother or just a housekeeper, you are a homemaker of a kind. Do you realize the responsibility you carry and do you endeavor to meet the constant problems centering around you as the very heart of the home. Food, clothes, comfortable, pleasant environment, relaxation, understanding, self expression, originality, poise, business ability are some of the subjects all good homemakers must master.

As citizens of America, we may enjoy the results of the very latest scientific studies covering all phases of life through the varied bulletins prepared by our State Colleges. "Farming as a Business" is one of the new ones farmers and prospective farmers would do well to read. You may get it through the county agent, or write to University of Kentucky, College of Agriculture and Home Economics, Lexington, Ky. All subjects pertaining to farming are frankly discussed by Mr. L. A. Bradford, who is a farmer. Such subjects as how much money farmers make, the cost of living on farms, how to learn farming, and factors that should be considered in buying a farm either as an investment or just for a place to live. It is emphasized that farming is a way of gaining a comfortable living and wholesome life. Discriminating families act with good judgment in choosing and buying a farm on which to live and earn a livelihood.

Washington once said, "Agriculture is the most healthful, most useful and most noble employment of man."

Typical, prosperous, twentieth century farmers want their wives to become members of Homemakers Clubs; their children 4-H Club members. These are the type homes that shall permeate such organizations. These, too, solidify America by cementing all together in bonds of loving service. Schools, churches, civic organizations, all, having high ideals, challenge citizens to voluntary service to mankind.

A wise philosopher has said that all the trouble of the world is caused by either meanness or misunderstanding. By educating our citizenship, we may eliminate ignorance, hence, we have service for P. T. A. to perform; too with proper training we hope to develop understanding. Farmers and homemakers should constantly endeavor to train the Five Royal Highways to the Brain, (the five senses). This may be done by using the guidance of our governmental literature, our Farm and Home Agents and radio, news papers and social contacts.

Recently Miss Myrtle Weldon said Switzerland is nearly a Utopian country. They have absolutely no waste land, no weeds, no poverty and little real wealth. If ever, we have an active League of Nations it will be in Switzerland—she has now the buildings, typically modern, gorgeously fitted, and planted with lovely red roses. May all homemakers dream of a future League of Nations.

Mrs. Lawson said that the accomplishments of homemakers should inspire every wife and mother in our land to become a member of a Homemakers' club. They tell me that the free instructions we get through our agent cost plenty money, time and study in college.

Won't you join your local Homemakers' Club?

LET'S BE REASONABLE

The idea that we can turn an upside down world right side up is the imagination. The stern truth is that reconversion is most likely to be accompanied by difficult conditions and situations, such as have followed all other wars, when many years dragged by accompanied by panics and depressions.

We thought we would be lots smarter after World War I, but most of the time during the past 25 years things have not been running smoothly along the national front. In fact the New Deal failed to cure unemployment.

After all, America has got the right kind of stuff and the right kind of citizens so that we are sure to snap out of it—even if we do stumble and stub our toes in our partnerships with foreign governments, with whom we are now planning to establish permanent peace and better foreign relations.

Time has lengthened into a collection. We do well to listen to the words of a great man, who lived in our times. He said: "Just what is it that America stands for? If she stands for one thing more than another it is for the sovereignty of self-governing people." These words are from a speech made by Woodrow Wilson at Pittsburgh in 1916.

When once ambition has passed its natural limits, its progress is boundless.—Seneca.

Ambition is the germ from which all growth of nobleness proceeds.—T. D. English.

Ambition is like hunger; it obeys no law but its appetite.—H. W. Shaw.

THE WAR in the Pacific is the most costly war America has ever engaged in. It's simple arithmetic. A mountain of special, costly equipment is needed. A B-29 Superfortress used in the bombing of Japan costs $600,000 in War Bonds. And this is just one of the many extra costly imple-

Inspector Regains 16 Lbs. Taking Retonga

He Was Down To 115 Lbs. And Could Hardly Eat, Sleep Or Work, Says Mr. Caudle. Feels Like Different Person Now.

MR. R. B. CAUDLE

"I was about to give up my job, but I have now regained sixteen pounds taking Retonga and I feel like a different person," gratefully declares Mr. R. B. Caudle, 107 Mississippi Ave., Knoxville, Tenn. Mr. Caudle's work as elevator inspector has called him to practice ally every state in the union. His home originally was in Sylacauga, Ala. Discussing Retonga Mr. Caudle happily continued:

"For about seven years I seemed to go from bad to worse. I practically lost all desire for food and what little I ate caused so much bloating in my stomach that at times I felt like I would pass out. I finally got down to only one hundred and fifteen pounds. I had to take a laxative every day. I was so restless at night that it seemed to me that I was up and down all night long.

"Retonga gave me so much relief that my appetite returned and I eat anything. I sleep well and I wake up feeling fine. For the first time in years I don't have to take strong laxatives. Retonga was a blessing to me."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to Vitamin B-1 deficiency, constipation, insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, and loss of appetite. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at DeMyer Drug Store.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for December 3

WORLD-WIDE CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

LESSON TEXT—John 17:18-23; 1 Corinthians 1:1-3; 12:4-7, 12, 13.

GOLDEN TEXT—Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word; that they all may be one.—John 17:20, 21.

Unity among the believers in Christ is much talked about and desired by many in the church. They seek a single Christian communion in the world, or at least a gathering of all Protestant churches in one body. Such outward unity may be impossible to attain, and in fact might be quite undesirable if it did not express a unity of spirit and of true faith.

That fact, however, should not hinder us from seeking a world-wide fellowship of all believers of every race and creed in the unity of the Holy Spirit. The true church, the invisible body of Christ, is not divided, even though its members are scattered in many denominations. We are reminded in our lesson that whatever else may be true about us, we (that is, all believers) are united in Christ. We are:

I. In the World—but in Christ (John 17:18-23).

Even as Christ was sent of the Father into the world to be the Light of the World, so we are here in the darkness of sin and sorrow to shine as lights for Him (Matt. 5:14-16). He did not pray that His disciples (and that includes us, v. 20) should be taken out of the world (v. 15) but that they should be kept from sin in the world.

So we are in the world. But let us never for a moment forget that though we are in the world we are also in Christ. He will give us—in fact He has given us—grace and glory so that we may represent Him in the world.

There is to be a oneness about believers (v. 21), not alone because of their good (blessed as that may be!), but in order that the world may know and believe in Christ (vv. 21, 23). The obvious corollary to that truth is that every evidence of division and friction between God's children is an opportunity and an excuse for the world to deny the truth of the gospel.

"Behold how these Christians love one another" was the baffled testimony of the pagan world in the early days of the Christian church. They could argue with their philosophy, and question their theology, but they had to admit that something had happened to these people which made them really love one another.

II. In the Church—but in Christ (1 Cor. 1:1-3).

The church, even in its outward form of local assemblies and denominations, has a place of great importance in the world. One could certainly not find a more wonderful body of people nor more satisfying opportunity for service than that afforded by the church.

The ones to whom Paul addressed this letter were members of "the church of God which is at Corinth," but they were what is of infinitely greater importance, "saints"—those who had been sanctified, or set apart from this wicked world, in Christ Jesus.

This glorious distinction was not theirs alone, but belonged to "all that call upon the name of the Lord Jesus in every place" (v. 2). Here again we have that fellowship and unity in the love of Christ which transcends all other relationships and which ignores the boundaries of race, color, social position—yes, even of church membership.

No matter who or where another believer may be, Jesus Christ is "their Lord and ours" (v. 2). One could shout, "Hallelujah—Praise the Lord!" for such a delightful communion of all those who love Him.

III. In Service—but in Christ (1 Cor. 12:4-7, 12, 13).

God has work to be done in the world. To accomplish that work, He gives diverse gifts to men. How wonderfully He endows and calls men and blesses them in His service! We can think of nothing more satisfying than to serve Him.

But even here we must keep in mind that the important thing is that we are not individual stars to shine in our solitary glory. No indeed, we are only a part of a great plan and purpose being carved out by "the same Lord" (v. 5). We are called, commissioned and sent by the one Holy Spirit (v. 7). We are "one body" (v. 12), baptized by the Holy Spirit into that blessed relationship, and it is that body of Christ which is at work in the world to do His will.

Nor does that in any way minimize the glory or the value of what we are called to do. On the contrary, it enhances our calling and encourages us to greater endeavor. We are not alone. We are in the Lord's service, yes; but first of all we are in Christ, and that means that we move forward with a great world-wide fellowship of those who have like precious faith.

SACRIFICE AND THANKSGIVING

By RUTH TAYLOR

There is a close analogy between sacrifice and thanksgiving. If you look up the word thanksgiving in your Concordance of the Bible, you will see how great is the connection between the two—for in the early days thanksgiving implied the offering of sacrifices in gratitude for the mercy and loving kindness of God.

Thanksgiving began as a religious festival—but we have too often made it just a day of feasting only. It should be a day of happiness and rejoicing, but it has a far deeper significance for all of us. We must, more than ever, on Thanksgiving Day this year of our Lord, 1944, offer our sacrifices in return for the goodness that has been bestowed upon us, for the victories that have been ours, for the freedom that has been vouchsafed to us.

The sacrifices we must make are not just burnt offerings—but the sacrifices of the spirit and of ourselves. Our selfish desires and aspirations for ourselves alone must be sacrificed for the good of all. Our unreasoning prejudices against people because of race, creed, or nationality must be a free will sacrifice to the spirit of brotherhood. Our clever generalities must be sacrificed to a kinder, more tolerant tongue. Our bitterness against change must be sacrificed to a willingness to try as individuals to bring His Kingdom to reign on earth. We must sacrifice impatience, pride to forbearance, indifference to kindness, hatred to love.

We must face this day of Thanksgiving, not only in the same spirit the first celebrants did over three hundred years ago—with gratitude for the mercies of the past and with faith in the continuance of these mercies, saying as they did, in the words of the Psalmist: "O give thanks unto the God of heaven; for His mercy endureth forever,"—but with the fervent prayer that, God willing and we toiling, we can continue to celebrate as a united people in a United States with all those precious privileges that that word connotes.

It is as wise to moderate our belief as our desires.—Terence.

Big Business

A LOT of the writing and talking that's going on these days about "big" business seems to miss one pretty important point. In judging bigness solely by such things as number of employees, size of payrolls, or volume of sales, it overlooks the size of the job the particular business is required to do.

After all, any business exists because there's a demand for the things it produces or the services it renders. And it must either grow to the size necessary to satisfy these demands, or else make way for a competitor that can provide what is wanted.

The war has shown that America's factories and farms can meet demands that would have been fantastic in pre-war years. This is a big country; there will be as big jobs to be done in peacetime as any the war produced. It will take the right kind of "big" business to do them. And whether it operates a 100-acre farm, a garage, a bank, or an industry with 100,000 employees—this kind of big business, which serves the public satisfactorily and with integrity, will continue to be the foundation of America's strength and security, in peace as in war.
