Fulton's Hospital Will Be An Up-to-date Institution.

Prominent Physicians and Surgeons of Memphis, Join Hands With Fulton Doctors and Citizens To Make It a Success.

WILL BE A CREDIT TO FULTON

Fulton will positively have a hospital, and within a very short time, as the first definite steps were taken at the last meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Wm. A. Craig, of Memphis appeared before the meeting and after stating that he was firmly convinced that Fulton was an ideal location for such an institution, said that he had been in Fulton several times looking the field over and each time became more and more confirmed in his first impressions of the desirability of this particular place.

Upon learning that the Chamber of Commerce had undertaken to obtain this very essential addition to the city, he naturally, out of deference to that body waited to see what the outcome would be, but finding that there was no immediate likelihood of its being made successful, he and his associates had decided that they would lay their plans before the Chamber and request the assistance of the organization in their effort to obtain a hospital as soon as possible.

Dr. Craig and Dr. Raymond D. Henderson, both of Memphis, and Dr. Seldon Cohn, together with two well known Fulton business men, whose names were not given, will immediately organize a stock company and sell what stock is desired, and within 90 days after the stock is sold the hospital will be under construction and at the end of 120 days it will be ready for occupancy.

Dr. Craig and his associates have had plans and specifications made by the architects of a model hospital, based on the plans formerly drawn by the same firm, with such changes as will make it more modern than the first and just as soon as the necessary funds are provided, the work will start. Drs. Craig and Henderson had already submitted letters of recommendation to the hospital board and these letters were eminently satisfactory, so that the citizens of Fulton can rest assured that when the new hospital opens, they will receive the best of attention, and at the same time save a very considerable amount of expense, which is now required by the long distance treatment that their loved ones are now required to undergo.

DECORATION DAY SUNDAY, MAY 17

Mayor R. H. Wade has issued a proclamation designating Sunday, May 17, in Fulton as Decoration Day, when loved ones will pay tribute to those who have passed away and are now sleeping in beautiful Fairview.

"Let's Go Traveling," an operetta, will be produced to-night at the Carr Park auditorium by pupils of the Terry-Norman school. It is a musical comedy of interest and appeal, and many people are expected to attend the performance.

W. H. Spradlin's Death Comes After a Long Illness

Was Man of Noble Character

On Monday night about six o'clock the Master of the Ages called Mr. W. H. Spradlin to the shore of eternity. For several months Mr. Spradlin had been very ill at his home on Pearl Street. Friends and loved ones hoped and prayed that he would get better and take up his great station in life again, but it was not the Master's will, and who can question the authority of the Universal Captain. He always knows best and every act is for a divine purpose that is not always revealed to human understanding.

For several years Mr. Spradlin has made Fulton his home, and there is no doubt but what he was one of Fulton's leading citizens, as well as a leading architect and contractor. He was successful as a business man and always ready to do anything for the upbuilding of his town and community. He was not only an ideal citizen, but a noble husband and father. His home was full of sunshine and happiness because of his life, and now the wife and two children, one boy and girl, stay with us in this life to mourn his death, and wait for the call to go and meet him in eternity. Mr. Spradlin has a host of relatives and friends who are sad because of his absence.

There is no doubt but what his place will be hard to fill, and he will be missed by all, but somehow humanity is not to choose the length of life, and no one knows just when they shall sail into the great harbor of rest.

The funeral service was held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the home. Rev. J. S. Dean, who was a personal friend of Mr. Spradlin, came down from Louisville to preach the sermon. Bro. Dean was assisted by Rev. O. J. Sowell, pastor of the First Christian church, and Rev. J. V. Freeman, pastor of the Methodist church, after which the body was taken to Union City, Tenn., for burial. Lowe and Stubblefield were in charge.

Our sympathy goes out to the grief stricken family and we pray that we shall all meet on that shore of eternity, where there will be no more death or sorrow, but each shall wrap the drapery of love about him and live for ever more.

A FRIEND.

Splendid Meeting Chamber of Commerce

President W. O. Shankle Kept Things Lively

The May meeting of the Chamber of Commerce which was held last Tuesday night at the Chamber, may well be remembered as one of the most important of the year, as at this meeting the first concrete beginnings of a hospital for Fulton were made.

Dr. Wm. A. Craig, of Memphis, outlined a plan by which he, Dr. Cohn, and two well known Fulton business men, together with Dr. R. D. Henderson, also of Memphis, will incorporate and build a hospital at once. Dr. Craig also told of perfected plans for immediate starting of the idea as explained at length in another column.

Owing to the school entertainment being held at the auditorium the same night many of the fathers who are members of the Chamber were absent from the meeting, but a good sized crowd listened to the reports of the several committees and heartily endorsed the request for the assistance of the Chamber in the hospital plans.

Chairman Leslie Nugent of the Agricultural Committee told of the plans of his department, how they were demonstrating personally, the slogan of the committee, "Less Acreage and Better Quality." Everyone of the 11 members are doing this very thing on their own farms and want the members of the Chamber to help

Strawberry Crop Light This Year

The officials of the Tennessee Division of the Illinois Central stated that the strawberry crop this year had been very short, in fact, that there was only about a third of a crop. It was thought in the early spring with the nice weather which prevailed at that time, that the crop would exceed that of previous years, but the long dry spell which we had, as well as the cool weather recently, cut the crop short.

The I. C. was prepared to handle a very large crop, inasmuch as they had a number of the large mountain type passenger engines to handle this business.

W. H. SPRADLIN PASSES AWAY

In the death of W. H. Spradlin, Monday morning, May 11, Fulton lost one of its best citizens, a business man of keen intellect, an architect by profession, whose handiwork will stand as monuments of beauty for ages to come.

At the time of his death, Mr. Spradlin was 57 years of age. All that loving hands could do and the skill of physicians administer could not prolong his life any longer.

He loved his home and was a devoted husband and kind and indulgent father; to his friends the soul of fellowship. But the greatest of all, he was a man. And as a man it is that those who knew him best most loved to contemplate him.

His helpful, cheerful life; his devotion to his wife and family and kindness to everybody will long linger as a fragrant memory in the home which his presence brightened and which death has now darkened. Though he is gone, his record has been made and will remain with us as a lasting treasure.

The funeral services were held at the home Tuesday afternoon, conducted by the Rev. J. S. Dean, assisted by Rev. O. J. Sowell and Rev. J. V. Freeman, paying a beautiful tribute to the memory of the deceased. The casket was covered with the most beautiful floral designs, all of which spoke of peace, purity and immortality. The music rendered was soft and sweet, softening all hearts and moistening all eyes. After the services the remains were taken to Union City, his former home for burial. The pallbearers were Arch Huddleston, T. M. Franklin, George Beadles, G. G. Bard, Lon Jones and N. G. Cooke.

Besides a devoted wife, he leaves one son, Andrew and one daughter, Miss Nell, and a brother at Union City. The sympathy of the entire community is extended to the bereaved.

MAYFIELD ATTORNEY ADDRESSES BUSY MEN'S CLASS.

Delivered Splendid Preachment in the City Hall

The Busy Men's Bible Class of Fulton, which is waging a contest of attendance with the Men's Class of the Methodist Church of Dyersburg, brought another brilliant speaker to this city last Sunday, when Hon. M. B. Holifield, a prominent attorney of Mayfield, preached a powerful sermon at the City Hall.

The address by Mr. Holifield was splendidly delivered, and he stuck closely to his subject, "The Conversion of the Ethiopian."

The inclement weather kept many from the services last Sunday, but this coming Sunday promises to be a fair day, and a large crowd is expected to turn out for the specially prepared program which will be given in the Carr's Park auditorium.

them obtain a few enterprising farmers in each district to do the same thing, believing that example has far greater weight than preachments.

Road improvements, according to Chairman Browder is going forward throughout this section in a satisfactory manner and there is great hope that the end of the present season will see a commendable number of miles of better road into Fulton.

Gus Bard, of the Industrial Committee, told of the efforts of his associates to procure more industrial plants and was sanguine that it would have one good concern that would give employment to the many of our idle hands, before the year was closed. He stated, however, that more than one such plant could not reasonably be expected.

The Freight Rate Committee, Walter Butt said, was working quietly but effectively and expected good results.

Civic matters, as shown by R. S. Williams, are doing remarkably well and he expressed great pleasure in the hearty manner in which the City Fathers were getting results on the streets and in the recent Clean-Up Week.

During the discussion of the hospital plans, Herman Grymes made a statement as to the desirability of removing the playground apparatus from the school grounds owing to the numerous serious accidents which have recently occurred. His contention was that the teachers were not able to supervise the children and that the natural daring and emulation of the children, when not properly supervised, was the cause of the many accidents. Action was left to a committee.

Mr. Grymes also called attention to the instructions of engineers on the run from Fulton, south, whereby they were instructed not to blow their whistles between the freight house and the general offices, these orders being based on a city ordinance. He asked that the Chamber endeavor to have this order rescinded as there are four street crossings within this limit, and the engineers frequently disobey orders, to their personal peril, in order to make these street crossings more safe for the public. Mayor Wade said he was not aware of this ordinance but would investigate and see what could be done.

Joe Browder asked that the Chamber assist the school board in obtaining funds with which to procure three additional lots and straighten out the creek through the present site of the colored school. The location is at present subject to overflow with every rain of any size, and the surrounding shacks are a disgrace to any community. On motion it was decided that the Chamber would assist in raising funds for the purpose, as the school funds do not cover the desired improvements and the new school building as well.

C. R. Collins, the new freight agent, who has come to fill the vacancy made by the recent death of J. E. Boone, was elected a member, and on being called on stated that he lived in Fulton 17 years ago and was glad to be able to come back.

J. E. Watkins told of the recent organization of the Poultry Association and asked the members of the Chamber to join and help make the poultry show at the next County fair a big success.

Rev. Ollie J. Sowell bade the members of the Chamber a farewell, and expressed his great pleasure and profit in being allowed to be associated with such a live bunch of men, and at the same time, told of his regret at leaving his many newly made friends, but felt that his education for his future work as an evangelist was more important than his personal pleasure and friendship.

In reply, President Shankle, in a few happy phrases, expressed the regret felt by all the members at his departure and thanked Brother Sowell for the very willing and earnest work he had done while a member here.

Refreshments consisting of cake, soft drinks and cigars, were served under the efficient management of Dr. Scruggs, of the Entertainment Committee, who, in starting this part of the program, announced that the liquid refreshments were presented by the Coca-Cola Co., the cake by Hornbeak Brothers and the "smokes" by Manager McGinnis, of the cigar factory.

ifying accounts for insurance. Remained with Sinclair company until Nov. 1924. From Dec. 1, 1924 until his death, he was with the H. W. Nelson Company, as Resident Engineer.

Mr. Walker had made many friends since coming to Fulton, and his death was indeed a shock to his many friends. He had lived a good clean Christian life, and was a member of the Methodist Church. He was a member of the Masonic order.

It is understood that Mrs. Walker will return to her parents in Georgia, and we wish to extend to her our profound sympathy during her hour of sorrow.

44,163 New Cars Installed Since Jan. 1.

Class I Railroads during the first three months this year placed in service 44,163 freight cars, according to reports filed by the railroads with the Car Service Division of the American Railway Association.

Railroads Start New Campaign to Reduce Grade Crossing Accidents

New Slogan is, "Think, Driver, Think."

An intensive campaign, wider in scope than ever before attempted will be conducted this year by the railroads to reduce the number of grade crossing accidents. It will be conducted through the American Railway Association. The campaign will begin on June 1 and continue until September 30, the season of the heaviest motor traffic. In this period, the railroads hope to bring about a marked decrease compared with previous years, in the number of fatalities and injuries at highway crossings.

As a result of the campaign conducted last year, there was an actual reduction from June 1 to September 30, of 15 per cent, compared with the same period in the preceding year, in the number of fatalities at highway crossings. This decrease took place in spite of the fact that there was an increase of 17 per cent in the number of motor vehicles in use. During 1921 there was one casualty at highway crossings for every 4,397 motor vehicles registered. In 1922 there was one for every 4,646 and in 1923 there was one for every 5,029 motor vehicles. There are being posted at all grade crossings throughout the country a poster showing a wrecked car at a grade crossing, and the wording, "Think, Driver, Think." Too much cannot be said about safety, and if the drivers of automobiles would only heed this sign, the accidents at grade crossings would be entirely eliminated.

The Disc Cultivator with Automatic Horse Lift

None of the work of raising the rigs at the end of the row falls on you; all you have to do is to trip the handy balance lever and up the rigs go with the pull of the team—no work at all for you and no increased draft for the horses—that's one of the many features you will be sure to like on the

JOHN DEERE JA

This is the handiest disc cultivator ever made, and it can't be equalled for thorough work.

Width of cut can be changed by sliding disc head in or out on notched crosshead plate.

Cutting angle is regulated by forward ratchet on disc head, and tilting of gangs by upright ratchets. No bolts to loosen—no wrench necessary.

Changing gangs from one throw to the other requires the removal of only two cotter pins.

Handy levers for adjusting rigs accurately for depth.

The oscillating scrapers are another important advantage—by merely turning a hand lever on the scraper bar, scrapers may be instantly set to the inside or outside of disc.

The automatic frame shift on the JA insures easy and perfect dodging on crooked rows. The discs are always parallel with the wheels, insuring effective work under all conditions.

It's easy to convert the JA from a disc to a shovel or spring-tooth cultivator. We can furnish the rigs desired.

Come in and see the John Deere JA.

Tobacco News

Continued unfavorable weather has delayed still further the bringing off of the balance of the tobacco crop, only 113,120 pounds being delivered at the Association barn last week. The total for the season amounts to 2,623,680 pounds up to last Saturday. The sales for the week consisted of 67,872 pounds, with 66 hogsheds crized.

While the farmers have shown considerable desire to make deliveries before the closing of the barns, the weather has been far from satisfactory, and many farmers at the district Council meeting last Thursday, voiced the feelings of their neighbors, that it was going to make deliveries in time.

On the other hand, there is an impression among many that if the farmers would take advantage of every favorable opportunity to handle all the crop possible when the weather conditions were at all favorable, the amount of tobacco that could not be delivered would be very considerably less, but if these opportunities are neglected, there is bound to be some growers that will be left out.

34 KILLING CASES UNTRIED IN BELL COURT

NO MURDER HEARINGS DURING ENTIRE TERM OF THREE WEEKS

Judges Order Book Fails to Show Why Trials are Passed—Many Get Continuances.

Pineville—Thirty-four men and women, accused of murder, went on trial at the last term of the Bell Circuit Court. Not a murder case was tried during the three-week term.

Nearly half the indictments, were more than two years old. Several were five or six years old. Some of the cases had been on the docket more than four years without trial.

The court orders, in most instances fail to show the cause of continuance. In some cases the absence of Commonwealth witnesses, in other cases the absence of defense witnesses, are set forth as grounds for continuances.

A study of the murder indictments reveals a "system" by which prosecution is "worn out" in this court. Absent witnesses and lack of preparation on the part of the Commonwealth are contributing factors.

For instance, two of the murder cases have been continued time and again because the court had failed to notify the Governor of Judge J. G. Forester's disqualification.

Notable among the murder cases which have been pending several years is an indictment against T. I. Green. While Judge Forester was serving as Commonwealth's Attorney a Bell county grand jury indicted Green in February, 1919, charging murder.

B. B. Golden, who became Commonwealth's Attorney in January, 1922, was attorney for Green before that time. Since Mr. Golden took office the Commonwealth, so far as the order book shows, has never been ready for a trial. At least, there has never been a trial of the case during Mr. Golden's tenure in office.

Another case which has attracted wide interest because of the long delay is that of John Rooney, indicted on a charge of murder. Rooney has been in jail at Pineville and Middlesboro since August, 1922, awaiting trial. Because Judge Forester was Commonwealth's Attorney when the indictment was returned it is necessary for Rooney to wait in jail until a special judge is appointed by the Governor.

Mr. Golden was also interested in the Rooney case before he took office as Commonwealth's Attorney, having been employed to assist in the prosecution. Rooney has been in jail, and has waited nearly three years in jail. Two convictions against Rooney prior to his last trial, in August, 1922, were reversed by the Court of Appeals.

Isom Adler was indicted February 6, 1919, on a charge of murder. More than six years have passed and Adler has never been tried. For more than two years Adler was a fugitive, but during the last four he has been under the jurisdiction of this court.

Elijah Lewis and Harvey Miracle were indicted on murder charges in June, 1922. After the case dragged two years without trial, Mr. Golden, in June, 1924, dismissed the indictment against Miracle. The indictment against Lewis is still pending, and there has never been a trial in the case.

The oldest indictment among the batch is against J. D. Colson, returned May 27, 1914. For several years Colson was a fugitive, but was finally located and brought back. One day while Colson was in the jail at Middlesboro, as the jailer started to open the door, a fire alarm sounded out in town. The jailer went to the fire, leaving the keys in the door. Colson reached through the bars turned the key, walked out, removed the keys, threw them out of reach of the other prisoners, and left. He has never been located since.

POISONER AROUSES BARREN

Bodies of Animals Strawn on Banks of Creek—Citizens Seek Offender.

Glasgow—Residents along Fallen Timber and Skeggs Creek are indignant over the wholesale poisoning of dogs and wild animals in that section. The bodies of the animals are found lying along the banks of the creek.

Efforts are being made to find out the person or persons who spread the poison.

A local paper says: There is a heavy penalty for crime such as this. But in this instance the poisoner himself should be made to eat a big dose of the stuff he is putting out and his body should then be hauled out on the bluff to rot with the bodies that strew its surface.

To make matters worse, it is a great place where sportsmen go to fish and swim.

Governor Grants Pardons to Two.

Frankfort—Two pardons, recently granted, were stated, by the Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney, were granted by Governor W. I. Fields. Arley Selvey, 18 years old, sentenced to sixty days and fined $30 for selling liquor in Harlan, was pardoned on condition that he refrain from further violations and join his father in Colorado. Leta Huxar and son, indicted with Selvey, were pardoned. Stephens, Magdon, county, was sentenced to sixty days for perjury, for which he was pardoned.

WORLD AT PEACE

PRESIDENT COMMITS SELF TO A FEDERATION OF NATIONS

PREDICTS END OF WARS

Same Humanity Which Has Moulded Nations Will "Find Institutions by Which to Place International Relations Upon Foundation

Washington—Making the utmost possible contribution toward organizing the peoples and nations of the world for peace, was the task set for the United States by President Coolidge.

Speaking at the opening of the national oratorical contest, where seven high school orators, chosen from 1,400,000 competitors, delivered orations on the constitution of the United States, the president outlined the road to ultimate world peace.

"Our nation," said President Coolidge, "has a weighty responsibility, not only for maintaining its own welfare, liberties and power, but for making the utmost possible contribution toward organizing the nations and peoples in the aspirations and the ways of peace. Here is a field for institutional development to which the thoughts of men and women everywhere are turned as they never were before."

"Though their scale is greater, yet the problems in this realm of world organization are essentially the same as those to which mankind has been addressing itself from the beginning of society. These are the problems of assuring justice alike to the weak and the strong; of assuring peace with honor, of enthroning conscience in places of authority too long usurped by mere force. The same humanity that has been able to erect the rule of law and liberty on the scale of great nations and mighty federations will at last find institutions by which to place international relations upon the same sure foundations."

The president praised the renewed interest of the committee in the constitution, and declared a study of the underlying elements of our government by the young people of today was the surest pledge of security we could have for the maintenance of our institutions in the years to come.

"I urged the special importance of closely studying our institutions, and order that the people might be equipped intelligently to defend them a year ago on a similar occasion," the president said. "Since that suggestion was advanced, we have literally taken a national referendum on the subject of our constitutional system, and I am glad to be able to report to you that the verdict was overwhelmingly in favor of sustaining that system and going on to perfect it. The voice of the nation has been heard. It spoke with an emphasis that none could possibly misunderstand. It declared for orderly liberty, for constitutional procedures, for the maintained sanctity of the courts, the rule of law, the security of property, and the sacredness of human rights."

"Within the year since the last occasion similar to this, the voting millions of the nation have given their thought and judgment upon the same set of questions which this million and a half of young people have been considering in the preliminaries to the contest. Who shall venture to say how great a part these student contests had in preparing the public mind to give the verdict which was pronounced by the voters last autumn."

DECLARES REPORT FALSE.

War Finance Corporation Cattle Not Dead, Says Eugene Meyer.

Washington—Eugene Meyer, Jr., director of the War Finance Corporation, denied reports from Mexico City that 75,000 head of cattle bearing the brand of the War Finance Corporation had died within a few weeks because of neglect and drought.

The corporation has 50,000 head as security against loans to border cattlemen, but these cattle are in excellent condition, Mr. Meyer said, the fact that some time ago they were moved from New York because of drought may have given rise to the false report, he said.

Ford Famine Faces State.

Jackson, Miss.—A famine in Ford automobiles and "bad advertising for the state" will result from the suit of W. J. Miller, state revenue agent of Mississippi, to collect $12,000,000 from the Ford Motor Company. It was declared here by representative business men.

UNCLE SAM WANTS $125,000,000
EACH YEAR.

CAILLAUX TAKES ACTION

His Plan to Pay America Out of German Payments to France Meets With Objections—Two Nations Not Far Apart.

Washington—The United States expects settlement of the $4,000,000,000 French debt substantially along the lines of the Anglo-American agreement covering the $4,600,000,000 British obligation. Such, it was learned authoritatively, was the theme of the instructions sent last week to Ambassador Herrick in Paris.

The first official admission of negotiation was obtained at the State Department, where it was acknowledged that "conversations" were in progress.

Two major points of difference exist between France and the United States:

First—Finance Minister Caillaux has indicated a willingness to make payments approximating $100,000,000 annually, whereas under the American idea of funding along the lines of the British agreement, a yearly payment of about $125,000,000 would be required.

Second—Caillaux would couple payments to the United States with payments received from Germany, whereas the Washington government adheres to the view that the debt funding agreement shall not in any way be connected with reparations collections.

The crystallization of these two points of difference marks the culmination of weeks of conversation between American and French officials. The "conversations" have varied from between M. Caillaux and Secretary Winston, of the American debt commission, to those of an official character based upon instructions to Ambassador Herrick.

PARADE BOOTLEGGERS.

The Public Will Be Given View of Liquor Sellers.

Des Moines, Ia.—A weekly automobile parade of captured bootleggers confined in stocks reminiscent of Old Puritan days is planned by Chief of Police James Cavender "to inform the public of the bootlegger's true standing in society."

An announcement to this effect followed the parade through the streets of a wrecked automobile containing a police officer disguised to represent "death" and holding aloft a bottle labelled "hooch." Police say the driver of the car was intoxicated at the time of the accident.

Agrees to Form New Cabinet.

Brussels.—Aloys Van de Viver, former Belgian finance minister, agreed to attempt to form a cabinet to succeed that of former Premier Theunis, who resigned April 5. The Theunis cabinet resigned after the Socialists gained ten parliamentary seats in the Belgian elections April 5.

Winter Wheat Crop Promise.

Washington.—A forecast of 444,833,000 bushels of winter wheat as this year's crop was made by the Department of Agriculture. A month ago 474,265,000 bushels were forecast. Last year 590,037 bushels were harvested.

World Meet for U. S.

New York.—United States Senator William B. McKinley of Illinois, returning on the steamer George Washington after a trip to Paris to make arrangements for the meeting of the inter-parliamentary union in Washington next October, said that the coming of this parliament of nations of the United States was an "event of great national importance."

Mine Workers Upheld.

Wheeling, W. Va.—A decision upholding the contention of the United Mine Workers of America that peaceful persuasion of miners to join the union in the West Virginia strike zone was not in violation of an injunction of 1923, was handed down by Federal Judge W. E. Baker.

Gen. Bandholtz Dies.

Detroit, Mich.—News of the death of Gen. Harry H. Bandholtz, United States army, retired, at his home, came as a shock to friends here.

Tobacco Firm in Bankruptcy.

New York.—The American Sumatra Tobacco Company, a $17,000,000 concern, was declared to be insolvent in a petition in bankruptcy filed against the company in federal court by three creditor concerns. The tobacco firm was placed in receivership.

Birmingham Boy Wins.

Washington.—Robert Sessions of Birmingham, Ala., won the national oratorical contest with six competitors chosen in regional contests from among about 1,400,000 starters.

WHY BUYING FARM LANDS IN FULTON AND ADJOINING COUNTIES IS A GOOD INVESTMENT

To view the fertile lands of Fulton and adjoining counties is enough to give any one a new inspiration of love for the country in which we live, surpassing in productiveness the high priced lands of many parts of the country.

Fulton and surrounding counties is in the midst of one of the finest agricultural sections of the entire South. The surface is mostly a rolling level inclining toward the Mississippi river. The soil is as versatile as it is rich and will grow to perfection corn, wheat, cotton, all cereals, clover, alfalfa, grasses, tobacco, the dark variety; fruits, potatoes and vegetables of all kinds.

It is an ideal stock section, on account of the freedom with which grasses grow. The country is well watered by living streams. It would be hard indeed, to find any section of country so well adapted to so many leading crops, to stock raising and all kindred lines of agriculture, and it is inhabited by a happy, prosperous, progressive people.

During his visit to Fulton county some years ago, Morgan O. Hughes, the best authority in America on farming, said it was not factories Fulton county needed, the production of the soil was sufficient.

Prof E. S. Good, head of animal husbandry of the College of Agriculture during his visit some years ago, said, "Blessed is that county that can raise the crops and stock such as raised here."

During their visit here, Messrs. Hughes and Good talked to the farmers and all who heard the addresses were benefited, because every word uttered by these gentlemen was instructive, giving each and everyone an inspiration for higher ideal on the farm.

No farmer in this section is ashamed for you to view his beautiful fields of growing crops, sheep, hogs, cattle, etc. A trip through this section of the country will cure any man who has the "Florida fever."

INVEST IN FULTON PROPERTY AND GROW WITH THE TOWN

Fulton, Ky., is one of the most progressive, healthful small cities to be found anywhere and property values are the lowest. It has a population of about 6,500 and is growing steadily; more than one hundred homes having been built within the past year with extensive railroad improvements in course of construction which will make Fulton the hub of the great Illinois Central, destined to be one of the large terminal points on its system.

Having two main lines of railroad, Fulton has direct through service to and from Cincinnati, Louisville, St. Louis and Chicago on the North; New Orleans, Birmingham, Memphis, Nashville, Atlanta and Jacksonville on the South, making it one of the most accessible cities in the "Jackson Purchase." Being the largest city between Cairo, Ill., and Jackson, Tenn., it is the distributing center of a large and rapidly developing section; the commercial center of Western Kentucky and Northwestern Tennessee. It is a city of business enterprise and progressive ideas; a city of thrifty, intelligent, cultured, hospitable people, a city of churches and Christian homes.

"The Square Deal" characterizes its municipal life, and integrity is a distinguishing feature of its business life; the atmosphere of its social life is pure and wholesome, while the tone of its moral and religious life is high and refreshing.

Its banking institutions are safe and accommodating; its capitalists are ever ready to assist in establishing and maintaining manufacturing enterprises, its real estate men are always in position to offer inducements in building sites for homes, business houses, or factories, and the city government will do its part to encourage the new-comer on every hand, and only "Fair Play" is asked of all who become citizens of our city.

The public schools of Fulton are unsurpassed. The eight churches of Fulton represent the leading denominations.

A splendid water system, pure and refreshing.

Her climate not only makes Fulton a pleasant place at all seasons, but is such as to be conducive to healthfulness, and the country surrounding is such as to insure the future of Fulton.

But Fulton can boast of something greater than a city of material prosperity in the midst of a fertile region; more promising than a city producing only wares and merchandise; grander than a city made up of factories, banks and stock exchanges; more to be lauded than a city of much extent and traffic; more to be desired than any other products of civilization—For she can boast of her homes. These are her pride; in them is her happiness; on them her hopes center; from them radiate that influence which has made the future promise better things.

For the professional man, the business man, the laboring man and the capitalist, Fulton has a welcome.

"Come, and if you go away, you will then return to stay."

ENGULFED IN THE MISSISSIPPI RIVER

The recent river disaster near Memphis, when the government steamer, Norman, sank, with a death toll of 23, brought sadness and grief to Fulton, because one among the victims was W. O. Walker, resident engineer, of the H. W. Nelson company, of this city.

Mr. Walker went to Memphis to attend the first annual convention of the engineers of the mid-south. The delegation when not in business session, were out sight seeing and enjoying the hospitality of the good people of the Bluff City. A pleasure trip on the steamer Norman was being indulged in when 16 miles below Memphis, the boat sank. Aboard the ill-fated steamer, including the crew, were 72 persons. The bodies of some who lost their lives have not been recovered and may never be.

Tom Lee, a Negro in a gasoline boat, was the hero of the river disaster, saving thirty-two people from watery graves.

He happened to be in the vicinity of the Norman when sinking and rushed to the rescue of the drowning.

Fulton has been fortunate to escape many disasters, and the untimely death of Mr. Walker, talented and distinguished civil engineer, is a shock to the community, and today the citizens of Fulton with bowed heads are extending deepest sympathy to the bereaved wife and two children.

KEEP UP THE MORALE

We have had a clean-up week in Fulton. That does not signify that cleaning should be confined to one week. It should go on and on all summer for cleaning is a progressive movement.

A lick and a promise, the winter's collection of debris hauled away, and then complacently forgetting all about it—that is not a spring clean-up in any sense of the word.

If the morale of the home owner weakens, if the maintenance of epic and span premises is neglected, the one week's spring clean-up is little less than worthless.

While nature is putting on her summer clothes is the proper time to get in the best work but any withdrawal from a standard set during the first clean-up is to discount the work already done.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING?

What are you doing for this town?

What are you doing to justify your citizenship in this town?

You can sit down, criticize, let others do the work that makes a town or community, and still call yourself a good citizen.

The good citizen never thinks only of self. He must necessarily think of self or he would not survive, but good citizenship requires more than that—much more.

It requires that you keep in mind that there are others who have rights and are entitled to those rights respected by others—by you. On the same basis you are entitled to have your rights equally respected by them.

That is good citizenship—partially.

In addition, the good citizens remember that his town is entitled to his best efforts in its behalf, to the end that the interests of the community may be advanced by all legitimate means.

This means, too, that in advancing the interests you are advancing your own, which is the ultimate aim of the human race.

What, then, are you doing to constitute yourself a good citizen?

OUTDOOR GOOD MANNERS

From the time they are able to comprehend anything, children are taught that they must have "good manners." They are threatened and warned and cajoled into behaving when "company" comes and to act like they weren't little savages when they go to call on friends.

"Good manners" have always been regarded as one of our best known "indoor sports." But this is a changing world and now we find that "manners" are classified. There is the "indoor" variety and the "outdoor" variety. And some of the grownups are lacking in the "outdoor" quality.

The careless automobile tourist, who has left his mark from Harlem to San Francisco, has made necessary some new preachments on the subject of "good manners."

The thoughtless camper who forgets to put out his fire and leaves behind paper plates, tin cans and the remains of his lunch is the horrible example of "bad manners" and a type that must be swatted in order to keep tourists as a class in good standing.

The American Automobile association estimates that six million people will heed the call of the road this summer. If one-sixth of them are careless, an immense amount of damage will be done. Beauty spots will be defiled, property destroyed and the way made rough for tourists who have good "outdoor manners."

Nothing is more disheartening than to find some picturesque spot among the trees left by automobile travelers and picnickers littered with refuse.

The rights of property owners in the country must be respected as religiously as they are in town and city. These children can be taught. Some of their elders may be too hard crusted to admit of teaching.

But the coming generation, at least, ought to grow up with the idea that the abuse of outdoor hospitality of parks and secluded spots in the country is as much a breach of good manners as to mistreat a home where one has been entertained.

SUMMER RECREATION

What can we do with the children during the vacation period? This is a problem that confronts most parents and a happy answer to it is being sought.

It's not so great in the country because there is not so much danger that children will get into mischief on account of idleness. The farm offers plenty of work for strong young muscles, and near to nature as it is, the tasks are health promoting, body building work.

But in the town and city, anxious parents are constantly seeking ways and means of keeping the active youngsters occupied. They are not dumb driven cattle. They like to be busy doing something, and if a method can be found to turn their energy into useful channels, they will be benefited and the temptation to fall into evil ways will be removed.

With a scarcity of work for young hands, the best substitute is a playground center where a part of the vacation time can be devoted to organized play.

Many communities have recognized their responsibility and have provided playgrounds, as well as a director.

The Dahlia

No Flower Garden is Complete
Without It. Easy to Grow

The Decorative Dahlia is the pride of all Dahlias, standing out pre-eminently. In the garden the plants are strong, sturdy, vigorous growers, with heavy, dark green foliage, and a remarkable constitution. The blossoms are produced in great profusion, which is exceptional for a type of giant flowering Dahlias. For cut-flower purposes they are unsurpassed, having long, straight stems of wiry stiffness and producing their flowers in a pleasing upright manner; then principally their lasting qualities when cut they are unequalled, lasting longer than any of the other types. As an exhibition flower the Decorative Dahlia is the most gigantic of all Dahlias, blossoms having beauty, substance, quality—all essential characteristics of a true "Model of Perfection." As a decorative flower they are first in every respect; being graceful, adapted to designs, and most artistic.

No flower garden is complete without Dahlias. But all Dahlias are not alike, there are a number of varieties. It is just as easy to grow the best varieties as the ordinary kind.

COUNCIL MEETING OF ASSOCIATION TOBACCO GROWERS

The meeting May 7th of the local council of the Dark Tobacco Growers held at the City Hall was fairly well attended and the talk made by Geoffrey Morgan was listened to with special interest by all present.

He is a convincing talker and made many telling points that surprised his hearers. He told of the many trials that the board of directors was called upon to handle, and believed that they had been disposed of in a satisfactory manner.

Among other things that entailed a large amount of worry was the demand of certain members of the directors was the placing of the unsold crop on the loose leaf floors, or "dumping." This was finally disposed of by a positive refusal and the eliminating of the two members who had caused the trouble.

He compared the prices of the independent dealers and the Association and showed conclusively that the latter was the only hope of the growers, as the former were only interested in buying at the very lowest price and never paid more than they were compelled to, except when trying to break the market for their own ends.

The thing he particularly stressed was the fact that the financial condition of the Association was 100 per cent efficient, as was shown by one of the best certified auditing firms of the country, which demonstrated that the books accounted for the last nickel of the funds passing through the hands of the officials, and that the condition was so satisfactory that arrangements were now being completed with a large banking firm of New York City, whereby it would be possible to obtain funds for marketing the crop in 60 foreign countries where the bulk of the tobacco grown in this section was sold. This banking firm has branches or connections in every country and will finance any shipments made.

The idea is to adopt a salesmanship to the tobacco business and sell the output directly to the ultimate consumer, that is, the manufacturer, doing away with the profits of the middle men, who are playing both ends against the middle.

One special agent was sent to England last summer and in spite of the efforts of the commission men to make the English manufacturers think that the stock held by the Association was rotten, a shipment of considerable size, to England, soon convinced them that the tobacco was all right, and the subsequent sales amply justified the attempt to sell direct. Lack of funds has heretofore prevented this system being carried out extensively, but the pending arrangements mentioned above will allow sales in the future to be made direct, thus saving money to both the Association members and the manufacturer.

After answering a number of questions, Mr. Morgan retired and Director E. A. Hilliard of Clinton followed with a short talk on the work being done by the local councilmen. In answer to a question as to the best fertilizer for tobacco, Mr. Morgan stated that it had been found that in clay soil, such as abounded in this neighborhood the best was 400 pounds of acid phosphate and 400 lbs. cotton seed meal, thoroughly mixed and distributed broadcast on the land.

An encouraging sign of the meeting was the fact that only 3 members of the council failed to appear. Each meeting seems to hold more and more interest for the members and apparently only the demands of spring work keep the entire membership from being present.

Mr. Robert L. Hill, manager of the field service department presided at the meeting and at the closing urged that every member be present at the meeting next month.

Lesson for May 17

SAUL BECOMES A CHRISTIAN

LESSON—TEXT—Acts 9:1-19
GOLDEN TEXT—"If any man be in Christ Jesus, he is a new creature."

II Cor. 5:17.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Man Who Helped Another.

JUNIOR TOPIC—How Saul Became a Christian.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Saul Was Converted.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—A Study of Conversion.

I. Saul's Violent Hatred of the Lord's Disciples (vv. 1-2).

Saul knew full well that unless the movement set on foot by Jesus was stopped, it would supersede Judaism.

He was ignorant of the genius of Christianity. He did not know that the "blood of martyrs is the seed of the church." The noble display of faith by Stephen in sealing his test imony with his blood did not soften

Saul's spirit, but rather intensified his hatred for Jesus and His disciples. It made him more determined than ever to stamp out the Nazarene heresy. The intensity of his madness, and the ex tent of its operations are best set forth in his own words, "And I persecuted this way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women" (Acts 22:4). "I both shut up many of the saints in prisons having received authority from the chief priests, and when they were put to death, I gave my voice against them, and punishing them oft in all syna gogues I strove to make them blas pheme, and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even unto foreign cities" (Acts 26:10-12 R.

V.).

II. Saul Kicking Against the Pricks

(vv. 3-9).

The figure here is that of the East ern ox driver following the ox with a sharp iron fixed to the end of a pole.

The animal is prodded on with this instrument and if it is refractory it kicks against the sharp iron and in dures itself. This is a picture of Saul as he was madly fighting against Jesus.

1. A Light From Heaven (vv. 3-4a).

The time had come for the Lord to interfere. Saul was stricken with blindness and fell to the earth. This physical demonstration accentuated the workings of his conscience which doubtless were going on quickly.

the Holy Spirit as He used Saul's testimony.

2. A Voice From Heaven (vv. 4b-5).

This was the Lord's voice calling

Saul by name and asking, "Why per secutest thou Me?" This moved Saul to inquire, "Who art thou, Lord?" The answer came, "I am Jesus, whom thou persecutest." He is so closely identi fied with believers that He feels their sufferings and regards treatment of them as treatment of Himself.

3. Saul's Inquiry (v. 6), "What Wilt

Thou Have Me to Do?"

The Lord told him to go into the city where information would be given him as to what he must do.

4. Saul Entering Damascus (vv.

7-9).

The haughty persecutor went quite humbly into Damascus, led by his at tendants. For the space of three days he remained blind and fasted. What went on in his soul in those days no mortal can know, but we may be as ured that he, like the Lord in the wil derness, was too deep in meditation and prayer to desire food.

III. Ananias Ministers to Saul (vv.

10-19).

1. Ananias' Vision (vv. 10-12).

In this vision the Lord appeared and instructed him to go to Saul. He gave him the name of the street and Saul's host, and informed him that Saul was now a praying man, and that He had prepared Saul by a vision for the com ing of Ananias.

2. Ananias' Fear and Hesitancy (vv.

13-16).

He knew of Saul's ministry and the authority by which he came. The Lord encouraged him to go, assuring him that Saul is no longer an enemy but a chosen vessel to bear His name before the Gentiles, kings, and the children of Israel.

3. Ananias' Obedience (v. 17).

His fears being removed, Ananias went to the house where Saul was staying, put his hand on him and af fectionately addressed him as "broth er." Ananias told Saul that the Lord had sent him with a two-fold mission:

(1) "That thou mightest receive thy sight"

(2) "Be filled with the Holy Spirit"

4. Saul Baptized (vv. 18-19).

After Saul received his sight Ana nias baptized him. The Lord bestows

the gift of the Spirit upon whomsoever

He will, and may designate anyone whether occupying an official position or not, to lay hands upon individuals.

Prayer

Prayer is the peace of our spirit.
The stillness of our thoughts; the rest of our cares; the calm of our tempest.

The Angels

Angels served God and ministered to men when they proclaimed Christ's birth.—Presbyterian of the South.

Strength

Strength is born in the deep silence of long-suffering hearts, not amidst joy.—Mrs. Hemans.

They carried with them baskets of good things to eat and spread a fine dinner to which they all sat down and enjoyed. After the dinner they presented Mrs. Boyd with a valuable present, which she had previously selected, not knowing it was intended for herself, until it was placed in her own hands at the party.

Dr. A. C. Boyd held short services at the church last Sunday, on account of the indisposition of himself and several members of the church choir.

Conditions of Proposals Demanded Poland Be Left Helpless and a Re-parceling of Upper Silesia As Inevitable Consequence.

Berlin.—The security pact is killed. Germany expects nothing but failure in the project for a guarantee pact of European nations to preserve peace.

This information comes from sources moulding the German foreign policy. These sources, on the basis of diplomatic telegrams, have resigned themselves to the steadily expanding belief that preserving peace in Europe on paper is a futile task.

Specifically, Germany expects the French to postulate that the Reich must enter the League of Nations before a security pact can be signed, and that not only the western borders of Germany but the eastern borders must be fixed indefinitely. To both these conditions which Briand must submit, Germany's answer will be a flat, unconditional "no."

Germany offered Europe the five-power pact for one main reason—by conceding the western borders as they stand, she could reconstruct her eastern borders. By giving France a status quo in the west, Germany hoped to wipe out the Polish corridor in the east and negotiate for re-parceling Polish upper Silesia.

France cannot desert its subsidiary, Poland, and demand that the eastern borders remain as now constituted. Such a security pact would be worthless to Germany.

The German point of view is that the Reich cannot enter unconditionally. She insists upon neutrality in event of war. As Strossmann told a League of Nations official:

"If we disarm we can't have war fought on our territory. If you want us to accept article XVI, then let us increase our army. Gen. Von Seeckt can tell you how large an army he needs for such an emergency. In one breath you shout we are arming and ready for war. In the next you say we can't remain neutral."

Germany has done some pretty jockeying in the matter with the aid of Great Britain. The fact remains, Germany is not offering gifts in security pacts. If anything, it is expecting gifts, whatever is to be had.

At best it was hoped to accomplish dissension between France and Poland. At the worst, she hoped to put France in the position of being the disrupter of the peace of Europe, deaf to all offers of reconciliation. The worst has been accomplished.

In her present position Germany can afford and will issue a world-wide proclamation urging acceptance of the pact as written. But she will do so without any belief in an answer.

The fact is no German government, not even a Socialist government, would accept a pact acceptable to France and Poland. Even if that pact acceptable to France and Poland. Even if that pact were acceptable to Strossmann, it does not find favor with the nationalists whose influence with Von Hindenburg's election obviously is making itself felt. But these nationalists have been quieted with Strossmann's assurance that there is no chance for a pact in any case, and that the only net result will be the discrediting of France.

FOOD PRICE COUNCIL

Two Practical Housewives Will Watch London Market.

London.—The royal commission on high food prices, for which Sir Auckland Geddes is chairman, issued a preliminary report dealing with the questions of bread and meat.

The commission's chief recommendation was to set up a permanent food council of 12, of whom two should be practical housewives, whose duty it would be to watch the retail food prices. Nothing is said about what they should do in case abuses were discovered.

The commission reports that London bakers and butchers' incomes have doubled since before the war and a pound sterling only buys as much as 11 millions and the two pence bought in 1914.

Coolidge Accepts Summer Office. Washington—President Coolidge has tentatively accepted an offer of the Lynn, Mass., chamber of commerce of a suite of rooms in the Security Trust building at Lynn, to be used by him during his summer visit to Swampscott, nearby.

Killed by Train. South Bend, Ind.—Arba L. Geyer, aged 50, prominent South Bend automobile insurance man, met a horrible death here when struck by the first section of the eastbound Twentieth Century Limited.

Conspirators Sentenced. Sofia—Bulgarian military courts have passed 29 death sentences on conspirators against the state in the recent outrages. The sentence is likely to be commuted to life imprisonment by the king.

BORAH FOR COURT AGAINST LEAGUE

GIVES BITTER ENDERS' VIEWS ON THE WORLD TRIBUNAL.

STILL FEARS THE LEAGUE

Last Ditcher Envisions "Ten Men" Plunging the World Into War and Holding It There Until War Called Off.

Boston.—The world court should be entirely divorced from the League of Nations "in the interests of peace, and law and order in international affairs," Senator Borah of Idaho, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, declared in an address to the Unitarian Laymen's League. He reiterated that his objection to the tribunal as now constituted related wholly to its domination by the league.

"I have no objection to it because the league created it," Senator Borah said. "I do not care about the fact the league created it. If the league will give it independence, it is the court as it is to function and not its parentage that I am interested in."

"I think it is in the interest of peace—that this court function under a body of international law and absolutely free from the domination of direction of international political institutions."

The group of which he is a member does not ask that the present court be discarded, Senator Borah insisted, but are merely "asking for certain changes in the statute which can be easily brought about if an independent judicial tribunal is wanted."

The fundamental objection to this court, he continued, "is right or authority which this league is given to call upon the court for advice or counsel or to treat it in a large measure as a department of justice of the league."

Further evidence of the special influence wielded by the league upon the court, Senator Borah held, was found in the requirement that, when a question was presented from the league, the court must "meet with the utmost dispatch," if not then sitting.

"Among other things provided," the Senate leader added, "is that the council of the league may call upon this court to advise each arbitration committee which may be organized."

The international court, then, he said, is subject to the call of a political council for advice on any problem that might arise in Europe, which advice may be entirely ignored if the council so desires. If pending amendments to the league covenant are adopted, he went on, "ten men are given the authority and right to determine absolutely the question of peace or war."

"They may go so far as to excuse any exempt aggression," he said. When they do determine upon the question of war, they have a right to call upon all members of the league for military support. And every member of the league is obligated to support the cause. The war once begun, under the authority of the league, it cannot end until these same ten men declare that it may end."

CALLS US HYPOCRITES.

St. Brice Moved to Bitterness by Ambassador Houghton's Speech.

Paris.—M. St. Brice, writing in the Journal on Ambassador Alanson B. Houghton's London speech, says:

"The ambassador tells us to love each other and assure the world peace and the American patriarch is ready to bless our reconciliation. This brings us back to the naive Pharisaeism, Woodrow Wilson."

"We are astonished that the Americans do not use the same doctrines toward Japan, who has not given them the same reason for worry as Germany does the rest of Europe."

"The Americans preach reconciliation to the old world and then give a dress rehearsal in the Pacific of a war on Japan."

French and Germans in Combine. Paris.—To gain control of the potash industry, French and German mine owners at last have put aside war enmity and signed an agreement to eliminate competition and unite in selling potash over all the world.

Monroe Home Sold. New York.—The historic home in which James Monroe, fifth president, died in poverty in 1831, was sold as a site for a cloak and suit factory.

Broker Hangs Self. Newark, N. J.—Joseph O'Hara, a member of the New York Stock Exchange, partner in the brokerage business of Fox, O'Hara & Co. and a former partner in Millet, Roe & Co. hanged himself here. Falling health is supposed to have been the cause.

Punished for Profanity. New York.—For profanity in the presence of Kings County Court Judge, Hawwell, adjudged Anthony Libando in contempt of court and sentenced him to serve three months in jail.

LECTURE OF M. B. HOLIFIELD A RARE TREAT

The lecture on the Sunday school lesson delivered by Hon. M. B. Holifield of Mayfield, at the City Hall last Sunday, was a treat for the Busy Men's Bible Class of the Methodist church and visitors. The weather was threatening but the large auditorium of the City Hall was filled, there being 313 in attendance.

Few men in the State have accomplished so much as Mr. Holifield in Sunday school work. He has the distinction of teaching the largest Bible class in Kentucky at the First Baptist church in Mayfield. Fulton will certainly be better for his coming and we are anxious for him to visit us again.

Another treat is in store for Fulton next Sunday. The Busy Men's Bible Class is in the race to win from Dyersburg and it is the duty of every Fulton citizen to lend their assistance in doing it.

Paint Rightly Claims to Have Double Value

The good appearance of the house usually proves to be the strongest point in persuading anyone to paint his house. The matter of preserving the surface does not enter into consideration as it should. The common desire to have one's home at its best cannot be condemned, but paint means much more than this. Paint is not a luxury by any means; it is a necessity and an economic one.

Wood is porous. While growing, these pores are filled with sap. When the tree is cut into lumber the sap dries out, leaving the pores open. The protective coatings of bark are also removed. If the wood is allowed to remain in this unprotected state, fungi and moisture soon begin to rot and destroy it. Paint penetrates the pores and forms, when dry, a tough, elastic coating, which is "anchored" to the surface by countless little "hooks" that extend into pores of the wood, and this coating or film preserves the wood by protecting it from those things which would otherwise quickly and surely destroy it.

The psychological value, the invigorating effect of clean, brightly painted property, is another factor we cannot afford to disregard, and this alone should be sufficient cause to warrant painting in times of temporary business depression.

The price that should be paid for the paint is another consideration—and an important one. The best quality paint is the cheapest. The cost should be reckoned on the basis of the square foot and the expense as so much per paint service year. In this way the true value and the cheapness of good paint will be recognized.

General Shortage of Building Is Reported

That a national building shortage somewhat in excess of $4,000,000,000 exists in the entire country is indicated by reports made to a leading investment concern in a survey of all cities of more than 10,000 population.

Studies were made in 528 cities. In 380 of these, reports were made of building shortages amounting to $4,000,000,000, of which $2,102,698,500 is needed for residential types; $1,130,551,000 for commercial types; and $870,270,000 for public buildings of all kinds. In 148 cities no shortage was reported, thus indicating that in these places the amount of building requirements now rests on the normal demands of growth and improvement.

That a shortage of considerable magnitude also exists in places having less than 10,000 population was indicated by the results of the inquiry in 20 typical towns of this type. In various parts of the United States. Twelve of these places showed aggregate shortages of more than $14,000,000, while eight revealed normal conditions.

The investigation also brought to light definitely planned expenditures of nearly $800,000,000 in the next two years for churches, hospitals, charitable and educational institutions, these figures not being included in actual shortages now existing.

Architecture Important

That architectural merit adds dollars to the value of a house is convincingly demonstrated when old homes possessing architectural distinction find a ready sale at good prices, while a poorly designed dwelling is a "drug" on the market. Many bizarre creations are produced by designers who seem to think that when a multiplicity of gables, of projecting rafters and sharply contrasting hues in stuccos and bricks are achieved, the result is bound to be pleasantly modern and desirable. Investors are finding to their sorrow, however, that this type of house is passing out with the jazz music of which it is symbolized, and present builders would do well to keep this in mind if they wish to realize full value on their property.

Lining Them Up

"There is no one in the world," says the Brunswick (Ga.) News, "that knows more about raising children than an old maid, and there is no citizen that kicks more about public organizations and their activities than the fellow who never pays dues to one of them, never is the father of any movement for the city's good, nor takes an active part in the community affairs, except to knock. The hardest knocker and the loudest critic can always be branded as the biggest shirker—he carries his 'hell' with him. If you are in his class, take stock of yourself, right-about-face and become a real citizen and a community builder."

Plants for the Lawn

In the choice of plants for the lawn, says an expert in that line of home and city beautification, a few special rules are of interest and value. Choose hardy plants. Use dogwoods, honeysuckles, spiraeas, ninebark, etc., for shrubs; woodbine, Dutchman's pipe, honeysuckle, clematis for vines, and hardy perennial flowers for the borders, then add maples, spruces, elms, etc., in suitable places to complete the plan. Plant in the spring rather than in the fall.

WHICH LINE?

Uncle Sol threw aside the letter he was reading and uttered an exclamation of impatience.

"Doggone!" he cried. "Why can't people be more explicit?"

"What's the matter, pa?" asked Aunt Sue.

"This letter from home," Uncle Sol answered, "says father fell out of the apple tree and broke a limb."—Kreolite News.

"Don't mention it, mister; don't mention it," replied the youth. "S'at right by me, you bet."

Mystery

A man in a restaurant, after finishing his meal, took out a cigar and started to light it. The head waiter approached him and said: "You are not allowed to smoke, sir."

"Good Lord!" said he, "that's what my doctor told me. But how the dickens did you know?"

MILL WENT ROUND

"So she married the rich miller, eh? Must have been a dusty courtship."

"No doubt he said it with flours."
