TO THE VOTERS OF MARSHALL COUNTY:

I take this method of thanking my friends for the kindness and encouragement shown me in my campaign. I have been over the county and have failed to see a lot of voters. These I am asking to take this as a personal appeal for their vote and influence. I will try to see as many as possible before August 6.

Now friends, they voted the speaking down. I couldn't have made a good speech but I can make a good Jaller, and will if elected. I will keep the Court house clean and when a prisoner is in jail, I shall remember that he is some daddy's and some mother's boy. I asked for this job 16 years ago and was defeated by Judge Gregory by a small vote. I beg for fair consideration.

Yours Respectfully,
JIM BARNES
(Pol. Adv. July 14-21)

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all persons who were so helpful and sympathetic in the recent tragic death of my wife, Mrs. Anna Holt.

Recently when Kroger opened a new store in LaGrange, Ill., shoppers knew the fish really would be fresh because a helicopter landed in the adjacent parking lot with a cargo of sea food only hours out of Boston. Another illustration of the importance Kroger attaches to freshness and service.

It's a NEW Southern Custom
.. DRAMATIC MANUFACTURING GROWTH!

During 1948 value of products manufactured in the South totaled more than $42,232,800,000!

Since 1939, the Southern states have made dramatic strides in industrial growth. Manufacturing has increased 90% in volume—277% in dollar value! With manufacturing the key to the South's economic progress, the future of the Southland looks bright indeed—the possibilities for growth and development unlimited. Thus, along with its traditions of warm hospitality and good living, the South is developing a new Southern custom—dramatic industrial growth. Its door of opportunity is open to business and industry—its welcome mat is out!

the NC&StL
.. an old southern custom,
keeping pace with the new

Serving the Southland since 1851, the NC&StL is part and parcel of the old South, yet closely identified with the new. Growing as the South grows, keeping pace with its progress, the NC&StL is constantly improving its service—increasing its equipment—broadening its facilities. Just as it has been proud to serve the old South, it is prouder still to serve this new, forward moving Southland.

But regardless of merit, the fishing public took a fancy to Ganttron tied flies, and many of the sporting goods stores I do business with would hardly more than unpack a shipment of these special lures until they'd be gone.

Now the Firelure Corporation has added Fire Lacquer—a Ganttron liquid for painting plugs, spoons and other bait-casting lures. It's not yet on the market and, when available, will be sold only to manufacturers the same as Ganttron.

Two months ago I painted some sample lures with Ganttron and went after largemouth bass in a southern lake. It's been proved that the Ganttron lures work better early in the dull and cloudy days. Fortunately, for my first test it rained and was cloudy during the two days of fishing and Ganttron painted plugs out-fished any of my regular and favorite plugs.

"This is wonderful," I thought to myself. Two weeks later, I tried the same lures in different conditions and the Ganttron painted lures failed to produce as well as the old standbys from the tackle box.

Now I'm about ready for the annual trek into the wilderness of Canada after bass, muskellunge, northern pike, walleyes and lake trout. The tackle box is well-stocked with the old favorites and some newly painted results will be in Ganttron. Regular is unpredictable. But, at least, it makes for good arguments—and arguments always enhance fishing.

Vote For

Charles "Tot" Jackson

For

County Court Clerk

Since a majority of the candidates for county office voted against public speaking it becomes necessary for me to take this method of acquainting the people with the issues in this campaign. Even though I voted for speaking, I am waiting to abide by the decision of a majority, for I think that is the outstanding characteristic of the democracy for which we fought.

Returned to this, my native homeland, without loss of life I am indeed grateful that I, unlike many of my comrades, or limb, I was hospitalized on foreign soils, with trench foot for a period of four months, and have not yet recovered to the extent that I can do a full hard day's work. In spite of this handicap, for which I do not draw a pension, I have, in addition to making this campaign, spent considerable time this spring and summer in a futile effort to grow a crop. As this is at present my only means of livelihood.

The rains came and got my crop, which was in Clark's River bottom, as it did the crops of so many of my farmer friends. I do not ask for a vote of sympathy. I merely ask that you give me the chance that you have already given my opponent. I feel as my opponent did when he was running four years ago. He said then that four years in the county court clerk's office was enough—and that he would not ask for reelection. But now that he has drawn approximately $20,000 in salary for himself and $8,000 in deputy hire for his wife from this office, has been given a big new car by the Veteran's Administration, and a pension big enough to live on the rest of his life, and has saved enough money and bought enough bank stock to be elected as a director in one of the largest banks in the county, he has changed his mind and is asking you to vote for him because he says it is custom to reelect county court clerks.

Mark, I want to say to you that it is no longer a custom to reelect county court clerks. You asked the people to break that custom in your favor and they did. Now, by asking them to vote for you, you're asking the people to break the custom you started when you followed a man who had only served four years in that office, and I honestly predict that if you were elected this time, you would run for a third term and again ask the voters to do something for you that they have not done for any clerk within the history of the county.

Friends, I don't feel that I have this race "sewed up." I am making every honorable effort to secure your vote. I am not propped up in the shade under an electric fan drawing a big salary from an office which the law says shall be kept open all reasonable hours, but I am rather, out trying to get my message over to the voters in full confidence that the people will do what's right and best when all the facts are before them.

Trusting that you will give my candidacy, careful consideration and give me what my opponent has already had, and has himself said was enough, that is four years in the county court clerk's office, and I promise, in writing, if I am elected, I will not be a candidate for reelection four years from now.

I can, and will, make you a county court clerk for which you will be justly proud. Please vote for Charles (Tot) Jackson for County court Clerk of Marshall County.

Respectfully Yours,
Charles (Tot) Jackson

Resolutions

In loving memory of our late father and mother, Rev. T. G. Phillips, who died in the Murray, Ky., June 17th, 1949. We are conscious of our great loss to Heaven's gain. But why he had to go when he was in the prime of life with a bright future and the world needing his kind so badly, we will never know until we shall know as we are known.

MESSAGE NO. 3 FROM BILLY WATKINS CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

When I first considered making the race for Sheriff of Marshall County I took into consideration all of the issues of law enforcement, and most of the candidates have expressed themselves through the press or otherwise concerning law enforcement.

Speaking for myself I want to emphatically state as I have stated before, that I am opposed to our county being dictated to by a group of lawless persons who would profit at the expense of our citizens, especially our young men and women.

This county was legally voted dry by the people and I assure you that if I am your next Sheriff that I shall do everything within my power to keep it that way. We recently fought a great war to uphold the rights of the citizens in a Democratic way; that the majority should rule and that is the principle I now advocate—that the wishes of the majority of my own people will govern my official acts as Sheriff of Marshall County.

Kentucky Dam Beach Draws Big Crowds

Leonard Jones Makes Statement

To My Friends, The Voters of Marshall County:

It is regrettable that any controversy has come up concerning public speakings in Marshall County, and in connection therewith I wish to state that in the beginning I believed speakings would help me in my race, but the majority of candidates in meeting June 24th voted against speakings—the vote was 25 to 8, and being a Democrat and believing in Democratic principles of Majority rule, I gladly accepted the result of the vote, just as most of us will do in August and November this year—This is the Democratic way.

A few unscrupulous and agitating candidates have been spreading some ugly stories concerning me personally, and I hereby now, gladly, and sincerely urge every voter of the county to make a personal investigation as to my character among the people where I now live and work, whatever their verdict is, I shall be pleased. Do not believe these rumors but make an inquiry.

Marshall county is growing and our minds should be on the good and wholesome things for our people—Not mud-slinging and false claims. We should first think of betterment of our county—not revert to another era of honkey-tonks, liquor drinking and reckless driving. Think what this would mean today.

During the past 8 or 10 years not one road house permit has been issued by the present Judge and fiscal court. I propose here and now to pursue that same policy as your next county Judge, and will see that our county does not become another battleground for racketeers.

FOR A FAIR AND HONEST ADMINISTRATION,

73 Miles Of REA To Be Built In Co

CONTRACT CALLS FOR COMPLETION IN 150 WORKING DAYS

Contracts were let by the West Kentucky Rural Electric Co-operative for the building of 73 miles of transmission lines in Marshall County in a negotiation that gave the go signal to the building of 261 miles of extensions in the district. Actual construction is expected to get underway by late summer and completed by February 1, 1950.

A total of approximately 515 members in Marshall county will benefit by the new 73 miles of lines to be built in this county. These lines in this county will include the farms as well as the many sub-division of camp sites in the Lake area.

When these lines are energized it will bring the total number of rural people receiving service from the WKRECC, to approximately 11,000. When the Co-op was organized ten years ago only 150 people were connected with the lines. The contract that was let last Thursday, July 14, called for an agreed price of $314,400 and was awarded to the Lane Construction Company, who now have two crews of electrical construction men now operating in the State of Kentucky. The new contract is subject to final approval of the REA in Washington, D. C. and is expected to be signed not later than August 15. The contract specifies 150 working days to complete the job.
