Candidates Fire Opening Guns

Of the 1925 Democratic Primary Campaign

The real opening of the Democratic Primary campaign for Fulton county was held at Carr's Park Tuesday afternoon when a number of candidates for county offices addressed the voters.

On account of the funeral services for the late Senator E. M. Taylor being conducted at the same hour, and the extreme hot weather, the park auditorium was not overcrowded, but that did not disturb the candidates at all. Some of the talks were interesting; some were humorous, while others were brilliant orations well delivered and hit the spot. Not seldom do you find a bunch of candidates who can orate as we heard Tuesday. Each and every one in the race is filled with "pep" to win, regardless that only one for each office can be elected.

The ladies followed with a garden party which proved exceedingly enjoyable. During the evening cold drinks and sandwiches were sold and tickets for an interesting pageant also, from the sale of which a nice little sum was added to the Woman's Club building fund.

The program of the evening's entertainment, which was immensely enjoyed, follows:

Program

Orchestra.
Pageant.
Song of Fulton, Mr. F. B. Beales.
Community Worker—Mrs. Pomp Binford.
Public Opinion—Mrs. Jake Huddleston.
Evil Spirits—Miss Goldsby.
Mrs. H. Howard, Miss Waggener, Mrs. Maupin.
Orchestra.
Oriental Dance—Mary Gordon Warner.
Orchestra.
Solo Toe Dance (Moonflowers)—Wildell Washburn.
Orchestra.
Duet by Miss Goldsby and Mr. Barclay.

FULTON FIRM HAS ABOUT $200,000 IN BUILDING CONTRACTS

W. M. Hill & Sons, contractors and brick manufacturers of Fulton, have been awarded the contract for the brick, stone and concrete work on the new $50,000 bank building at Martin. They are also busily engaged on the $30,000 dwelling of Mayor R. H. Wade on Carr street, and the $60,000 Baptist church building on Second street. They have recently completed the $30,000 Cohn building, the $30,000 residence of H. T. Smith and the $25,000 residence of Chas. E. Holloway on Third street.

W. M. Hill & Sons are one of the largest brick manufacturers in Western Kentucky and ship their products all over the country.

They have contracts now around $200,000 in buildings and are figuring on other buildings contemplated for Fulton.

Few firms in our city pay out as much money for labor as Hill & Sons. They are proprietors of one of our substantial industries.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS

Washington street, between Main and State line has recently been gravelled and oiled and is now one of the best streets in the city. It was a much needed improvement and adds greatly to the city's thoroughfares.

Vote Record for Sheriff

In the Past Four Elections in Fulton County

Now that the campaign is warming up, a little data on past elections is not out of place. Some good men have gone down in defeat in former elections and some good men will go down in defeat on August 1, 1925, while others will go into office with a triumph and victory by the popular vote of the people.

Today it requires double effort on the part of the office seeker to win than it did some years ago, and the candidate who fails to exert his or her best efforts during the campaign may be disappointed when the final count is made.

In this issue of The Advertiser we give the names of the candidates and total vote in the last four campaigns in the Sheriff's race, as follows:

For Sheriff, Nov. 4, 1908

Dave Morgan 254
Herschel Johnson 320
L. C. Roberson 321
GOALDER JOHNSON 959
A. G. Kimbro 104

PRETTY HOME WEDDING

Romance played a conspicuous part on Wednesday's social calendar when Miss Dickson Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Davidson, became the bride of Mr. Warren C. Graham at the beautiful country home of the bride's parents, at 8 o'clock, with only the relatives and most intimate friends in attendance.

Just preceding the ceremony, Miss Mozelle Hill sweetly sang "Sweetest Story Ever Told," and "I Love You Truly," with Miss Doris Huddleston accompanying her.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march the bride came alone down the stairs and was met by the groom and proceeded to the beautiful altar in the living room which was banked by ferns and baskets of hydrangeas and roses where the betrothal services were read by the Rev. J. V. Freeman. Miss Huddleston softly played Dradla's Souveniere during the ceremony.

The bride, who is an unusually charming young girl, was beautiful in a model of blond and poudre crepe, with hat and accessories to harmonize. An arm bouquet of Premier roses completed her costume.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ray Graham, Sr., and is one of Fulton's most prominent young business men, a member of the Graham Furniture Co.

After receiving congratulations, the happy pair left on the Seminole for Chicago and other points of interest.

On returning home, Mr. and Mrs. Graham will be at home to their many friends in the pretty apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stone on Second street.

Will Reopen Tobacco Barn for One Week.

The Dark Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association barn, of Fulton, will open on Monday, June 22, for one week only.

This information was given out by Mr. Ed. Williamson to an Advertiser man on Wednesday evening. He stated that this would be the last opportunity for the delivery of tobacco this season, and the officials hope that all farmers will take advantage of it and get their tobacco in just as early as possible.

SENATOR E. M. TAYLOR SLEEPS IN BEAUTIFUL FAIRVIEW

In the death of Mr. E. M. Taylor, Monday afternoon, June 15th, at his home, corner of Washington avenue and State line streets, the name of another pioneer citizen of Fulton is enrolled on the pages of history. Because he was a man who had served this city loyal life, both in private and public life. While he was a native Tennessean, born in Dandodan, Dec. 27, 1847, the best part of his life was spent in Fulton. Conscience guided his every act. He was a member of the city council for several years and served as State Senator from the first district four years. He was strictly honest in the service he rendered. In short he was not only a model Christian, but he was an honorable gentleman, in the highest sense that term implies. For more than fifty years he was a member of the Masonic lodge in high standing, also a member of the Odd Fellows' lodge. In both lodges he took an active part in its work and his council was always eagerly sought for.

It was the writer's good fortune to have known him long and well, and we only knew him to esteem him more highly as the years passed by. Today we can fully sympathize with his devoted wife, who is left behind, as this life will never be the same to her. Judge Henry F. Taylor, his brother, also survives him.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Methodist church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. V. Freeman. The Masonic lodge conducted their beautiful and impressive services at the grave in Fairview cemetery, where the departed sleeps in peace to await the resurrection morn.

INTERESTING LIBRARY

Mrs. G. H. Dickey, librarian of the Fulton Public Library, rendered her report for the fiscal year at the last meeting of the Woman's Club, and shows that the past year has been one of progress and helpfulness.

There were 7,375 books loaned to readers during the year ending May 31, with 980 borrowers, 142 of whom were new readers, joining during that time. There was an increase of borrowers of 95 readers, as a number of persons had left Fulton.

Three hundred and seven new books were added during the year and 156 were withdrawn, either because they had been worn out or had ceased to be read by patrons. The larger number of these withdrawals occurred in the juvenile section, where the young people greatly outnumber the adult patrons.

Careless handling of books by the patrons causes a constant source of expense as the books have to be rebound, or thrown away entirely, and in instances of popular books, replaced by new copies. Naturally, this occurs more often in the juvenile department than among the older readers, but there is still room for improvement even among this class.

The past winter saw a much smaller number of readers among the school children as their studies demanded more time than was formerly the case, thus making the showing of books loaned much smaller than would otherwise have been the case.

Many new books were added recently and the reading public has shown its appreciation by an increased demand for books.

Mrs. R. S. Williams attended the funeral of Mrs. Ben Whitley at Union City, Wednesday, Mrs. Whitley died in a Memphis hospital Monday while undergoing an operation after a lingering illness. She was the mother of Mrs. Williams' sister's husband, Mr. Claud S. Whitley.

Judge H. F. Taylor Asks for Re-election

To the Office of Police Judge, Subject to the Action of the Democratic Primary

It is with pleasure we announce in today's paper the candidacy of Judge H. F. Taylor for re-election to the office of Police Judge of the City of Fulton, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election, August 1.

For more than 15 years Judge Taylor has served the city faithfully as Police Judge. His entire time has been given to the office and he has been loyal to his trust. The impartial manner in which he conducts the office has received much favorable comment. Not one word can be said against his fifteen years' administration, and his re-election each succeeding term is only an endorsement by the voters showing their appreciation of his splendid service.

Yes, he will be re-elected again, probably without opposition. Read his announcement which follows:

Announcement

"I am a candidate for re-election to the office of police judge of the city of Fulton, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in August. My record as police judge is possibly known to all the voters of the city, and I am willing to go to the polls on this record. I have given my entire time to the office and have endeavored at all times to render fair and impartial judgments on all persons coming before me. I am as ready as an officer and citizen. I am in favor of law enforcement at all times, and if returned to office will continue to work along the same line that I have followed in the past.

"I will appreciate the vote and influence of all voters in the coming primary. I hope that the ladies, who now have the privilege of voting, will examine my record and qualifications, and if possible, favor me with their support. I thank all in advance for the favors that may be extended me.

Respectfully yours,
H. F. TAYLOR.

2000 Mile Auto Trip

After a delightful auto trip, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Burkheimer are at home again to their friends on Commercial avenue.

In their new Ford coupe they toured the country and viewed the scenery as far as the Minnesota line. It is really interesting to hear Mr. Burkheimer tell of the progressive cities they passed through and the courtesies extended tourists along the route.

"We, in Fulton, are happy in our ignorance," says Mr. Burkheimer, "and it is distressing to see how far behind we are in civic improvements. Geographically speaking, Fulton's location is ideal, but believe me, we are just merely dragging out an existence for which we will have to account for when we face St. Peter at the pearly gates."

CANDIDATES' FILING TIME EXPIRES JUNE 22

Frankfort, Ky., June 11.—Monday midnight, June 22, is the last moment for filing notification papers of candidates for state representative and state senator in the August 1 primary, assistant attorney general Hogan said today, quoting the law to Mrs. Cromwell, secretary of state.

Candidates for county offices have up to and including July 2 to file their papers with county clerks, he said.

PULL TOGETHER

If every business man in this city would resolve that he would speak only in terms of commendation of every other business man in the city and live up to the resolution for a period of three months, the effect would be a revolution in conditions, because people cannot talk in terms of good feeling and of good fellowship without manifesting a spirit which will back up the talk indulged in. That is what is so much needed in this city now. A pull-together will bring to pass all that we need to make this community flourish as it has not flourished before. This can not be accomplished through any spirit of spleen-venting, or of getting even with the other fellow, or of taking unfair advantage to gain a point for one-self, but it can be brought about by translating into everyday life of the business men some of the lofty principles which you frequently hear preached but so seldom see practiced.

THE PIG

The pig is a coarse, illiterate animal with a long pedigree and short tail which cannot be used as a fly-killer. One of the most cruel acts which nature ever performed was to equip the horse and cow with long, flowing tails and leave the pig without anything but a feeble, tightly curled imitation. This is why the average pig is so disagreeable a companion during fly time and has to be mollified with a pitchfork.

The pig is purely a commercial venture. Nobody ever saw a pig with a watch in his pocket or a pig working of his mind as it developed from playful infancy to adult manhood. In fact, a careful search for the mind of the pig is about as futile as trying to locate the melody in a bagpipe solo. No great poem was ever written on the pig, and he is never asked to sit for his portrait, except just prior to some auction sale. If American literature had to depend upon the pig for its inspiration it would not occupy the proud eminence given it by the state of Indiana.

Without intending to disparage the pig, it must be admitted that intellectually he is a greater disappointment than grand opera in English. But as a business proposition the pig makes the chewing gum industry look like the sale of ice cream cones in Labrador. Almost alone and single handed, the domestic pig has dotted our fair prairies with beautiful homes, electric washers, majestic silos, musical windmills, self playing pianos, mechanical milkers, back-firing automobiles and sweet content. Every time the farmer ships 22 chubby-faced pigs to market some real money is put into active circulation, and the country merchant feels more like advertising and contributing to the church.

The pig never used to know his ancestors from a hole in the ground, but nowadays every pig that amounts to anything has a family tree with more branches on it than a cranberry bush. A stalwart pig that can trace his ancestry back to the reign of James K. Polk will often times sell for more money than a serial story by Robert W. Chambers, which shows that as a people we are coming to a higher appreciation of literature. Refined people who have never owned a pig sneer at him on account of his uncouth ways, but this is because they have never seen him lift a mortgage or remove a plaster from a red barn.

ENCOURAGING NEWS

Mrs. A. J. Turney, of Crutchfield, was a visitor in Fulton, Tuesday, and reports Doctor Turney improving in health, with hopes of his recovery from his lingering illness. His many friends will rejoice in receiving this encouraging news.

Memorial Hall to Women Of Confederacy Part of Gigantic Project at Stone Mountain.

Out of the solid granite beneath the panorama of Confederate leaders to be carved at Stone Mountain, is to be quarried a shrine dedicated to the women of the Confederacy. It will probably be the most unique temple of its kind in the world. No building material of any kind will be used in the building of this Confederate Memorial Hall, except the bronze doors of the entrance, bronze frame and plate glass of the windows. It will be literally a vault within the mountain-floor, wall and ceiling being formed by the granite from which it is quarried.

The length of the Hall will be three hundred and twenty-one feet, running parallel with the face of the mountain. The depth will be forty-eight and the height of the ceiling forty feet. This representing a state of the Confederacy, will grace the front of the Memorial Hall. At the foot of the Mountain and at the entrance to Memorial Hall there is also to be constructed a broad esplanade forming the approach. In the center of the esplanade directly in front of the entrance to the Memorial Hall will be placed gigantic bronze urns with incense lamps, which will be lighted with appropriate ceremonies when the Memorial Hall is dedicated, and these lamps are to be kept forever burning.

Within the Memorial Hall itself are to be gathered records and relics of the Confederacy and its great chieftains. These mementos are expected to be deposited for permanent keeping in the great Hall by states and the descendants of the heroes whose fame is to be eternally commemorated on the cliff above.

Space on the walls of the Memorial Hall has been allocated to each of the Confederate states. Here bronze tablets to the heroes who took part in the war between the States are to be erected by their descendants as a permanent "Founders' Roll." Each tablet will bear the name of the war record of the Confederate soldier or the Confederate Military Unit in whose memory it was erected.

As families in England trace their descent back to the entries in the "Doomsday Book" compiled by William, the Conqueror, in the Tenth Century, so it is believed these bronze tablets in the Memorial Hall, at Stone Mountain, in the centuries to come will occupy a similar leading place in Southern genealogy.

PRESIDENT OF ENGINEERS DEAD

LEADER OF STRONGEST RAIL BROTHERHOOD SUCCEUMBS

BECAME LABOR'S BANKER

Former Farm Boy Left His Engine Cab to Build up the B. of L. E. Helped Secure Adequate Pay for the Engineers.

Cleveland.—Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and one of the leading labor leaders and labor financiers of the country, died in a hospital here. Mr. Stone went to the hospital to be treated for uraemic poisoning.

Stone became ill several weeks ago upon returning from New York City. He was ordered to the hospital at once. For a time, physicians who attended him declared that the illness was not serious. But it was reported, he suffered a sudden breakdown that was followed by death.

He is survived by his widow. Mr. Stone rose through the rank and file of railroad workers, first to the presidency of the largest and strongest of the four railroad brotherhoods and then after instituting a policy of co-operative business became president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers' Co-operative Bank.

When Warren S. Stone completed his academic education in May, 1879, his father wanted him to take up the study of law, while the son was inclined toward surgery. As a sort of compromise, if it may be called that, the son, in September of the same year, began firing a locomotive on the Rock Island Railroad out of Eldon, Iowa. Whether he sacrificed a distinguished career in law or surgery will remain unanswered but the work he chose eventually made him internationally known and a leader in two widely diversified fields—as head of an international labor organization and president of labor's first national bank in America.

One of the characteristics of Mr. Stone in doing a thing was a determination to do it as well as any one could. In that spirit he began firing a locomotive and in that spirit he worked his way up. He worked for two months at the firing job before he was promoted to engineer. There he rounded out a quarter of a century in the road by putting in 19 years and three months at the throttle in freight and passenger service.

Through all those years Mr. Stone had innate executive ability for the display of which he had little opportunity in the locomotive cab. But he had shown it in the councils of his fellow engineers, and while still holding his job in the cab was called upon in August, 1903, to fill the position of grand chief of the International Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, which had become vacant by the death of Grand Chief P. M. Arthur while delivering an address at Winnipeg, Man. Up to the time he started for Cleveland to take up his duties, Mr. Stone never had been east of Chicago.

TELEGRAPHING CHECKS LATEST BANK MOVE

Go From New York To Chicago In Seven Minutes

New York.—Experiments are being made by several New York banks on telegraphing checks by means of an instrument which photographs the check at one town and reproduces it in another, it was learned. The innovation, it is hoped, will result in great facilitation of banking business.

Checks have been successfully telegraphed by the Bank of Manhattan Company from New York to Chicago. The officials of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, which handles a large number of out of town checks are said to be watching the experiment.

The actual transmission of the checks requires only seven minutes but necessary photographic processes add another four hours and a half to the time. It is pointed out that under the new system a man presenting a check in New York on a San Francisco bank could get it cashed within a few hours instead of waiting several days as at present. Future use of the system in transmission of stock transactions is also being considered.

Washington.—President and Mrs. Coolidge left for their usual cruise down the Potomac aboard the Mayflower. They took along a party of officials and friends.

Columbus, O.—Worried because her five months old baby had been exposed to smallpox, was said by police to have been the motive which caused Mrs. Rosella Garrison, 27, to end her life by hanging. The husband, distracted by his wife's act threatened to end his own life in the same manner.

A High Easy Lift—

A Marked Improvement in Mowers

You who have used the ordinary mowing machine will truly appreciate the high, easy lift on the John Deere. It is so easy to operate that any boy old enough to drive a team can run the John Deere and do it just as easily and as thoroughly as you can.

John Deere High-Lift Mower

With the foot lift the bar is quickly and easily raised from 25 to 35 inches at the cutter end. And with the foot lift and hand lift combined the bar is raised 44 inches. Ordinary or unusual obstructions are easily cleared.

A great feature, particularly in rough uneven fields or on roadsides, is the great flexibility of the cutter bar. It hugs the ground and operates perfectly with the outer end several inches above or below the inner end.

Before you buy a mower we want you to see the John Deere. You want a good machine. We think we have the best. Give us a chance to show you.

What is the Chamber of Commerce?

The Chamber of Commerce is the voice of the city. It reflects the ideals of the community. It expresses the aspirations of the people. It gives direction to the aims of the citizenship. It combines the efforts of those who think in terms of helpfulness. It reduces unorganized elements to an organized unit. It speaks in defense of the good name of the city. It defends the city against the traducer. It is the spotlight that reveals activities that are worthy. It pleads in behalf of the voiceless. It is the center of worth while enterprise. It is the magnet that draws the outside world to your midst. It is the clearing house of civic pride. It is the power house of progress. It is a composite picture of a city as its citizenship would have it.

Hungary, Finland, Poland and Lithuania Also Send in Installments on Their Debts, But of Far Smaller Amounts.

Washington—Five foreign governments who have funded their debts to the United States into long term obligations met their funding requirements with payments to the treasury. Only two of them, Great Britain and Finland, paid in full, however, as Poland, Hungary and Lithuania exercised options contained in their respective agreements permitting funding of portions of amounts falling due at this time.

In announcing that the payments had been made, the treasury said that Great Britain's remittance was in the form of certificates of indebtedness which mature next September 15. These have been cancelled and retired and to the amount of securities turned in, the treasury's September program of financing will be lessened.

The payment from Great Britain was the fifth semi-annual remittance on interest.

The total payment amounted to $68,310,000, and as authorized by the terms of the settlement was made in obligations of the United States issued since April 6, 1917, which were accepted at par and accrued interest of 2 1/2 per cent treasury certificates of indebtedness of series T. S. 1925, due September 15, 1925, the accrued interest being $166,424 and the cash adjustment $75.94.

The fifth semi-annual payment of interest was made on the funded indebtedness of Finland. The total payment amounted to $138,650, which was made in cash. The third semi-annual payment of interest was made on the funded indebtedness of Hungary, due the United States. The payment amounted to $14,905.69, which was made in cash. The remainder of the interest, about $14,950, will be funded in accordance with the option given the government of Hungary in the debt settlement agreement.

The second semi-annual payment of interest, and the first annual installment of principal on its funded indebtedness was made by Lithuania. The total payment amounted to $75,225, of which $45,225 was for interest and $30,000 was for principal, all in cash.

Poland made the first payment on account of its funded indebtedness. The payment, including $125,465.68 received Jan. 12, 1925, on account of the June 15 installment, amounted to $500,000, made in cash. The remainder due will be funded in accordance with the option given Poland in the debt settlement agreement.

POLICE WRECK PLANS TO KIDNAP CHILDREN

Woman Has Her Mother-in-Law Taken Off Train

An alleged kidnapping plot was nipped in the bud when Amelia Thurman, of Buntyu, was taken off the train and placed under arrest at Jonesboro, Ark., with two children, a son and a daughter of Mrs. Katherine Thurman, Mrs. Amelia Thurman's daughter-in-law.

The younger Mrs. Thurman caused her mother-in-law's arrest claiming that her mother-in-law was trying to kidnap her two children and take them to their father, who went to Oklahoma shortly after the Thurman were divorced several months ago.

Mrs. Thurman charged that her husband had sworn to get the children when she was awarded their custody in divorce court. She enlisted the aid of Inspector Griffin and told him that her mother-in-law was leaving town with the two children. The emergency car was dispatched to the Grand Central Station but the older Mrs. Thurman and the children had boarded a train.

Mrs. Thurman then swore out a warrant for her mother-in-law, charging her with kidnapping. Jonesboro police were notified and Mrs. Thurman and the children were taken off the train there. Local police requested the Jonesboro officials to hold her and said they would send an officer there for them.

Chicago—Vice President Charles G. Dawes is considering a far west tour following his Denver speech on July 24 in support of his advocacy of revision of the Senate rules.

Cincinnati—Mrs. Ada Miller, 48, Columbus Ohio, former opera singer, known on the stage as Ada Glasco, and Mildred Porter, 15, Cincinnati, died from injuries received when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a passenger train at a grade crossing.

FUTURE OF CHINA MISSIONS GLOOMY

ANTI-CHRISTIAN MOVEMENT IMPERILS SAFETY OF WORKERS

MANY ABANDON INTERIOR

Episcopal Board Receives Word of Closing of Four Schools in the Yangtze Valley—Baptists Doubtful of Work in Interior

New York—Grave concern over the immediate future of Christian missions in China and a bewildered pessimism about more distant prospects, in view of recent outbreaks and the development of an anti-foreign and an anti-Christian movement in the former celestial kingdom, were expressed among representatives in New York of the more than 5,000 American missionaries in the China field.

The first word of withdrawal of missionaries from outlying posts to guarded cities was received by the department of missions of the Episcopal Church, to whom Bishop A. A. Gilman of Hankow cabled:

"Situation serious. Women and children missionaries have been ordered to this port."

The Episcopal mission has about 50 families in the Hankow region, which includes the provinces of Hupeh and Hunan, around the middle Yangtze. Representatives of other missions expressed the opinion that their own workers around Hankow would be ordered to follow the Episcopal example. Bishop Gilman's cablegram did not say whether the consular authorities had ordered the withdrawal or if it was made by his own order.

The Episcopal mission board has also received word of the closing of four of its principal schools in the lower Yangtze valley owing to the anti-foreign disturbances in Shanghai and surrounding cities.

The American Baptist foreign mission society has received from its agents in Shanghai cabled assurance that all its missionaries and property in Shanghai are safe, but the message added that the senders were not in a position to forecast the future for mission posts in the interior.

Missionaries of this denomination have cabled asking the prayers of Baptists at home for those in the China fields.

Dr. James H. Franglin, foreign secretary of the American foreign Baptist society, said that in some respects the present movement was more menacing than the Boxer movement in 1900. "While it has not shown the fury of the Boxers," he said, "it is directed with more intelligence."

San Francisco.—Both from Hankow the great river city of China where British volunteers fired on a mob of strikers who were threatening the concession, and Canton the southern river city, where Yunnanese and Kwangtung troops have been engaged in a long range battle for nearly a fortnight, refugees, Chinese and foreign, are leaving for the ports where they can find protection under the guns of foreign warships. Missionaries, too, have been ordered from Hupeh Province in which Hankow is situated, the presumption being that anti-foreign agitation is being felt in the interior.

The foreigners of Canton, who have their separate concession on Shamun Island, have not yet been disturbed by the fighting, dispatches say, but steamers loaded with refugees for Hong Kong have to run the danger of passing through the cross river fire of the Kwangtung forces on Honam Island and the Yunnanese, who are in possession of Canton proper.

Iowa Woman, 81, Is Satisfied With Lot

Mason City, Iowa.—With $12,000 in the bank, Mrs. Fanny Jane Madison, 81 years old, continues to live at the Cerro Gordo County poor farm. She has spent 25 years there. For the "privilege" of spending her remaining days at the institution, Mrs. Madison has arranged to pay $50 a month to the county. She could spend the rest of her life in luxury if she desired.

The story of her life is one of ups and downs that almost equals a movie thriller. She was one of the early pioneers of the county. She came here in a covered wagon from Illinois in the early '70s. For years she toiled on her farm and accumulated enough to pay for it and for a home in the city. When she grew too old for farm work, she turned the farm over to her sons, and came to live in her cozy little home here.

Bristol, Pa.—Lieut. Frank E. White, flying an army airplane from Washington to New York, narrowly escaped death when his plane nose dived into the Delaware River. Lieut. White, strapped in his seat and unconscious, was rescued by four members of the Anchor Yacht Club, nearby, who went to his aid in a speed boat. White was still unconscious at the Harbortown Hospital, where he was said to be suffering from a deep gash in the head, a fractured leg and possible internal injuries.

TOLD WITH A BANG

George Ade, at a dinner in New York, urged a subtler use of words. "Use words with delicate care," he said. "Observe all subtle distinctions. Never write 'vision' for instance, when 'sight' is what you mean." "There's no difference between sight and 'vision,'" interrupted an editor.

"No?" said Mr. Ade. "And yet, Billy, when you and I passed each other on Broadway yesterday, the girl I was with was a vision, while the one with you was a sight."—Everybody's.

Cause for Distinction

"That is the Hon. John Windtady going by," said the landlord of the P'tuna Tavern. "He is regarded as one of our most distinguished citizens."

"Ah, yes! And for what is he distinguished?"

"Hanged if I know! Probably for the fact that the cat did not suck his breath when he was a baby."

He Wasn't Afraid

"Get out of my way, fellow," said the fresh city automobilist to the rough miner, "before I run into you with my sixty-horse motorcar."

COURTESY

Courtesy is the cheapest commodity in the world, yet it is probably the least used.

It doesn't belong to any corporation and it isn't quoted in Wall Street. It is not regulated by any federal commission —there are no restrictions on it. The price of courtesy is not fixed because there are no
"production costs."

Courtesy is as free as the air
we breathe, and costing nothing, many view it as a worthless asset and do not make it a part of themselves.

For many, many years the commencement day orators have been telling us that courtesy is a factor to be reckoned with if we wish to succeed in life.

Some high school graduates have remembered this bit of timely advice and in their efforts to get ahead in the strenuous game of life, they have made it their constant aim to be courteous to others.

Go through the list of your acquaintances and see how many have made courtesy pay.
You will find the number increasingly small because they have been too busy with the small perplexities of life to take time for little courtesies that make the brief stay here pleasant.

Courtesy pays big dividends in what we generally term success. It likewise creates within the individual a certain sense of satisfaction in the thought that he makes friends by treating others courteously.

And it always comes back abundantly in proportion to the way it is extended to others.

VACATIONITIS

Vacationitis, a recurring malady, is reported to be epidemic in this vicinity.

Symptoms are restlessness and a "far away" look in the eyes. Other symptoms are yawning from lying awake at night trying to reason out the best place to go.

A sure diagnosis can be made when the "patient" begins to study road maps. This is regarded as an unfailing sign that the afflicted one is in the last stages and is on the verge of "succumbing."

The disease is invariably fatal.
It attacks the imagination centers and causes them to expand to such a degree that a dollar bill looks like a ten when the "patient" leaves home. It all but paralyzes the muscles of the body and all control over them is lost.

Advance reports from the lake regions, wooded places, fishing grounds and mountain retreats are to the effect that the malady is much more serious and far reaching this season than ever before in the history of the world.

Once the "patient" is thoroughly under the influence of the ailment, it is impossible to predict with any degree of accuracy what turn the disease will take.

A study of "vacationitis" cases through a long period of years by students of the disease reveals that few if any ever recover completely. Once one is infected, he is almost certain to have it annually about this season.

The most serious after effect is the flattening of the bank note. The "patient" recovers from all save this. It is lasting and hangs on forever.

Bundle kindling is clean and easily handled. Makes a fire quickly. Call us for your needs.

SPLENDID RAINS GIVE NEW LIFE TO VEGETATION

The drouth was broken Saturday. It rained and it came in torrents, thoroughly soaking the ground and giving new life to vegetation.

Thousands and thousands of tobacco plants and potato plants were set out the past week and the "boss" and all of his hired help have been working overtime to make up for lost time.

Out in the Palestine neighborhood Ed Browder has a beautiful field of tobacco and Leslie Nugent has harvested his wheat crop, which averaged around thirty bushels to the acre. Leslie is one of the best young farmers in this section of the county. We generally find him "making hay while the sun shines;" while the other fellow is fussing and fuming about the weather.

We stopped in at Morgan Davidson's a few days ago and enjoyed a genial chat with this successful farmer. Morgan is successful because he believes in work while you talk—a combination well to consider. This year he planted twenty-five acres in cotton, twenty in tobacco and one hundred and twenty-five acres in corn, with other minor crops.

If we only had more farmers like Nugent, Browder and Davidson, our county would be as productive as the valley of the Nile.

We are fortunate, however, in having lots of good farmers in this vicinity. In fact, we know no other part of the country in the United States that has more intelligent, well-to-do farmers to the square inch than we have in a radius of twenty five miles around Fulton, and the beautiful growing crops the well cared for herds of cattle, stock and hogs will bear us out in making this statement.

BELOVED WOMAN CALLED TO HER HEAVENLY HOME

While undergoing an operation in a Memphis hospital Monday, June 13, Mrs. E. A.
Whitley, of Memphis, formerly of Union City, passed away.

Death came as a great surprise after months of suffering and she now sleeps beside her husband, the late Ben H. Whitley, in the Union City cemetery.

The deceased was the mother of a large and gifted family. Vain is any attempt to measure the loss of a mother to her children; after all the poets have sung and lovers dreamed, outside of heaven there is no love like mother love.

As the death dew gathered on her marble brow, around her gathered her "girls" and "boys"—always girls and boys to her—though now grown to mature years with boys and girls around their own firesides. The life so long interwoven with theirs, with tearful eyes they watched as it, slowly but surely passed over. The love of a mother for her children passeth human understanding. The boys and girls that gathered about this dying mother and so bravely fought the Death Angel, long ago passed out from the home circle. Business cares and their own home circle have encroached upon their time, may have robbed mother of their companionship but she was ever just the same; rejoicing in their successes and grieving at their misfortunes.
They may have grown away from her, but she never from them. They were still her boys and girls. We know that years hence the memory of her unselfish devotion will make them better men and better women and her precepts be their guiding star.

The deceased lived a consecrated Christian life and died a triumphant and happy death.

During her long residence in Union City, she was honored and loved by all with whom she came in contact and her passing has brought grief to a large circle of friends and acquaintances. So this life has passed into the joy of her Lord, the memory of her life must prove a perpetual inspiration.

We deeply sympathize with the bereaved in their hour of grief.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Christian Church in Union City, conducted by the pastor, Rev.
Baker.

THE SCIENCE of LOANING MONEY

—affords protection to borrowers as well as depositors.

A bank receives hundreds of requests for money. These requests come from every source, with every kind of collateral and for every kind of purpose. It is not an easy thing to turn down some of these requests for money, but as a matter of safety in banking practice, it is absolutely necessary on occasions to say "no."

Positive safety for the funds entrusted to the care of this institution is our first consideration. We are eager to loan notes to business men and farmers in our territory, for we are anxious to assist in the development of the business in Fulton. Yet, sometimes when we are asked to make a loan, we are forced to say "no."

When we do say "no," we do it because our financial judgment indicates that that is not the way to loan money which has been placed on deposit in this bank, when the safety of our depositors' money is the first and primary consideration.

And so before we loan money we always insist upon sufficient security, we always ask for a financial statement from the borrower and we protect in every way possible, money intrusted to our care.

These facts are given in this advertisement to show how safe your money is when it is on deposit at the City National Bank in Fulton.

The Teeth Stay Tight

They are held rigidly, everlastingly, in place by the strong John Deere lock clamp. Each tooth is drawn tight into the bar by a large bolt and nut. The nut can't come loose because of the strong tension lock.

John Deere Universal Harrow

Teeth are large, diamond style, danger-pointed. Great penetration and great strength.

It's a U-bar, steel harrow—great strength without useless weight. Strong, well-braced rigid construction—no sagging after years of service.

Especially adapted for strong, rooty ground or for orchard and vineyard work. Levers have spring relief which prevents the harrow from being damaged when striking obstructions. End rails prevent tooth bars from catching on trees or vines when working in orchard or vineyard.

We recommend this harrow for the best of work and the longest wear. We can furnish it in one, two, three and four sections.

KENTUCKY BRIEFS

Louisville—This city is to have another film exchange building erected by the Big Feature Rights Corporation at a cost of $200,000.

Benton—L. E. Wallace, candidate for sheriff of Marshall County, suffered a broken hip when he fell from a wagon on a city street.

Poor Fork—James Clem, police chief here, was injured seriously when his auto ran into a telephone pole. He suffered deep cuts and bruises.

La Grange—Construction of permanent streets here was taken up by City Council, and it was decided to work out a plan in which the city can build them.

Warsaw—Word was received here that Paul Parker, formerly of this city, was killed at Patriot, Ind., while working in a gravel pit which caved in on him.

Louis—Insurance amounting to $1,000 had been permitted to expire a few days before fire of undetermined origin destroyed the home of W. J. Hall, near here.

Walton—Floyd Chapman and wife and Harrison Chapman, Jr., were forced to flee from their home when it burned. Nothing was saved and the house was destroyed.

Stanford—Celebration of the forty-fourth anniversary of the founding of the Goshen Church was held here with 900 persons from Lincoln and surrounding counties attending.

Maysville—Dedication of Haywood Hospital, erected at a cost of approximately $100,000 will be held July 11. It was announced. Two thousand donations made the hospital possible.

Richmond—Dr. A. D. Harmon, president of Transylvania College, delivered the commencement address to the graduating class of Madison High School. There were 48 graduates.

Perryville—John Gray, struck by an auto, suffered a skull fracture while returning to his home here from Florida, where he had spent the winter. He was taken to a hospital in Jackson.

Jackson—Dick Herold, 41, was shot to death. It was reported, by a man claimed to be Mich Bryan, 23, when he tried to interrupt an argument between his brother and the brother of Bryan.

Madisonville—Exhaustion of water supply, threatened here as a result of the continued dry weather, and the Board of Public Works sent out a warning to water users to conserve the supply.

Louisville—Seven De Havilland airplanes, equipped with complete radio apparatus, arrived at Bowman Field. The radio planes will be used to direct practice and maneuvers from the air at Camp Henry Knox.

Benton—Prospects are bright for a large crop of strawberries in Marshall County next year. The acreage is expected to exceed 270 acres and probably will bring a total of $100,000, based on prices this year.

Owensboro—Mrs. Eleanor Herr, clubwoman, filed suit in Jefferson Circuit Court against the Seelbach Hotel, Louisville, seeking judgment for $10,000 for alleged injuries in an elevator accident in the hotel.

Versailles—All telephone and telegraph wires in Versailles were blown down and hundreds of trees in the southern part of the county were uprooted in a severe wind and electrical storm, followed by torrential rain and hail.

Marion—For the first time since the Henderson division of the Louisville & Nashville R. R. there is not a train of that class in operation. The last train was taken off recently.

Versailles—Southern part of the city was flooded when a cloudburst struck here over a radius of two and a half miles. The floors of many homes were covered with water, while countless basements were flooded. The home of Van Edwards was struck by lightning.

Louisville—Mrs. Matilda Sober, 30, was burned to death when flames destroyed her home on the estate of former Lieutenant Governor Thurston Ballard. Her husband is gardener on the estate. The charred body was found four hours after the fire was discovered.

Lexington—Location of Lexington's new City Hall was decided definitely by the city commissioners after a lengthy debate. The building is to be on Walnut street, facing the recently widened Barr street, one block from Main.

Lexington—The 127th annual commencement exercises of Transylvania College and the sixtieth for the college of the Bible were held here, with principal address given by Rev. Henry Pearce Atkins, secretary of the Federation of Churches, Cincinnati.

KENTUCKY SCHOOL SYSTEM PRAISED

NEW INSTITUTIONS ARE GIVEN ACCREDITED RATING BY COLLEGE BODY

Requirements Listed—Of 2,000 Teachers in State, 60 Per Cent are College Graduates—425 More College Graduates Expected Soon.

Frankfort—There is much that is satisfactory and "a great deal more about which one should be encouraged in Kentucky's educational progress, J. R. Holloway, State High School Supervisor, and secretary of the accrediting committee of the State college Association declared here.

The committee had just finished its year's work and he announced the official list of accredited secondary schools of Kentucky. He reported excellent progress.

"There are about 2,000 teachers in the high schools of the State," he said. "More than 60 per cent are college graduates. There are 425 graduates coming from the colleges of the State, who will be available for new positions, and to take the places of those who are not graduates, thereby giving the non-graduate teachers an opportunity to complete their college courses."

There are fifty AA schools, eighty A schools, 170 B schools listed among the white public high schools. There are five A schools and five B schools listed among the negro schools. There are seven AA schools, forty-five A schools and fourteen B schools listed among the private secondary schools of the State.

New AA schools for the year are: Public white high schools, four: J. M. Atherton, Louisville; Flemingburg; Murray; Lancaster. Private secondary schools, one: Science Hill Academy, Shelbyville.

New A schools for the year are: Public white high schools, twenty-one: Albany, Benton, Bloomfield, Brooksville, Cadiz, Clarkson, Corbin, Dry Ridge, Hardinsburg, Knott County High School, Hindman; Knott County High School, Pippasburg; Liberty, Lynn Grove, Middlesboro, Paintsville, Penbrooke, Russell, Simpsonville, Slatersburg, Van Lear, Warsaw.

New B schools for the year are: Public white high schools, twenty-six: Almo, Arcadia, Benham, Bethel, Blandville, Brewers, Cannel City, Clay City, Crestwood, Cropper, Edmonson, Hiseville, Hyden, Jackson County High School, McKee, Kays, Kings Mountain, Lovelaceville, Lynnvale, Onton, Rich Pond, Seaco-Millstone, Sees, Sycamore, Nicholas, Sussfras, White Hall, Richmond, Woodburn, Orangeburg, Mayssville.

Public colored high schools, two: Dunbar, Mayfield; Western, Owensboro.

Private secondary schools, four: Annville Institute, Annville; Alvan Drew, Pine Ridge; Richmond School, Louisville; Stuart-Robinson, Blackey.

The Kentucky members are Prof. M. E. Ligon, chairman, University of Kentucky; Professor Crooks of Centre College; Prof. J. C. Lewis, Owensboro, and Prof. Holloway.

AA schools are those with teachers whose minimum scholastic attainments are equivalent to graduation from a college of the Southern Association; with laboratory and library facilities, under regular reported inspection.

A schools have an academic scholarship of teachers, two-thirds of whom have records equivalent to graduation from high school and two years' collegiate work, with equipment for teaching science valued at $200 at least and 300 volumes in their libraries.

ENTER SENATORIAL RACE
Lists for Legislative Primary Contest Rapidly are Being Made Up.

Frankfort—Notification and declaration papers were filed with Mrs. Emma Gray (Cromwell, secretary of state, by Dr. O. V. Brown, of Island, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for state senator in the Daviess and McLean districts.

No opposition has been announced so far against Dr. Brown.

Another senatorial aspirant to the was L. C. Littell, of Owensboro, editor of the Democrat. He is opposing the Rev. John A. Lee, from Gallatin, and O. P. Hogan, of Williamstown, for the Democratic nomination in the Owen, Gallatin, Boone, Grant and Pendleton district.

Other candidates filing follow: J. C. McClure, Grassy Creek, Democrat, representative, Morgan county; H. Lawrence Dixon, Upton, Democrat, representative, Laine and Nelson district; J. W. Skaggs, Mae, Taylor County, Republican, representative, Adair and Taylor district; W. B. Crookmore, Pine Knott, Republican, McCreary and Wayne district; and Reuben E. Skaggs, Brownsville, Republican, Butler-Edmondson district.

Princeton—The Caldwell County grand jury finally adjourned here returning fourteen indictments. Some charge complicity in the dynamiting of the courthouse. Numerous clues and rumors regarding the dynamiting outrage were ferreted out but the evidence was insufficient to warrant the finding of indictments. A reward of more than a thousand dollars has been offered for the conviction of the guilty in the dynamiting crime, $500 or it being offered by the Caldwell County Fiscal Court.

DON'T LET GO.

A community without co-operation is like a boatman who has lost his oar. You can't imagine a more helpless case. Unable to get anywhere, there is no course but to drift with the ebb and flow of circumstances. Once lost, it is hard, indeed, to recover the oar. But surely we don't have to get into this dangerous plight. It's our own fault if we do. Co-operation, like rowing a boat, must be studied and learned. And we can only learn it through practice. The practiced oarsman never lets go of the oar. And if we would keep from drifting we must practice co-operation. Let's get into practice and keep in practice. Let us pull together in every thing that means progress for Fulton. It's a case of sink or swim "together."

Lesson for June 21 PETER DELIVERED FROM PRISON

LESSON TEXT—Acts 12:1-19
GOLDEN TEXT—The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear Him, and delivereth them.—Ps. 34:7.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Peter and the Angel
JUNIOR TOPIC—Peter's Deliverance From Prison
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Peter Was Brought Out of Prison
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Possibilities of Prayer

I. Peter's Imprisonment (vv. 1-4).
1. By Whom (v. 1).
Herod, the grandson of the wicked Herod who slew the innocent children of Bethlehem.

2. The Reason (v. 3).
It was to gain the favor of the Jews. Herod was not a Jew, but an Edomite, therefore knew that his success was dependent upon his having the good will of the Jews. He did not particularly hate the church, but loved popularity. Since the church had developed so as to be a successful rival of Judaism, he saw an opportunity to curry favor with the Jews by putting forth his hands against it.

3. The Method (v. 4).
He was arrested, put into prison and guarded by four quaternions of soldiers. A quaternion is a guard of four soldiers. Four quaternions means that a special group was on duty each watch of the night. It was the custom for two soldiers to be in the prison, one on each side of the prisoner, bound to his arms with chains (v. 6), the third one to watch outside the door, and the fourth to be near the outside gate.

II. The Church of God in Prayer (v. 5).
The church was at a crisis. Her situation was most grave. James, one of the brethren of the church, was dead, and Peter, the most prominent of all, was in prison. In this desperate strait they did the wise thing—they betook themselves to prayer. It was a noteworthy prayer.

1. It Was unto God, Not unto Men, or to Be Heard of Men.
2. It Was United Prayer.
3. It Was an Intensely Earnest Prayer.

It was more than unceasing prayer. It was the earnest desire of the church as it stretched itself out toward God.
4. It Was Definite Prayer.

They specifically offered prayer to God for Peter. Their prayer was concentrated, definite and specific.

III. Peter Delivered by an Angel (vv. 6-11).
This occurred the night before Herod's plan to make a public display of him.

1. Peter Sleeping (v. 6).
The Lord keeps in perfect peace those whose minds are stayed on Him (Isa. 26:3).

2. Peter Leaving the Prison (vv. 7-10).
A heavenly light shone in the prison. The angel smote Peter on the side; the chains fell off. Peter put on his clothes and passed by one guard after another through the iron gate out into the city. The whole transaction was orderly and leisurely, showing that God is not in a hurry.

3. The Effect Upon Peter (v. 11).
Although the matter was so wonderful to Peter, even outside his consciousness, when he came to himself he was assured beyond a peradventure that God had miraculously delivered him from Herod's wicked hands.

IV. Unconscious Unbelief (vv. 12-19).
1. The Behavior of Peter and the Church (vv. 12-17).
Peter went to the house of Mary and knocked. The knock was answered by Rhoda who was so overjoyed that she forgot to open the gate, and ran in and told them that Peter was at the gate. The disciples were not prepared for such good news, and even accused her of madness. She, undaunted, insisted. They offered an explanation that perhaps it might be Peter's guardian angel in his likeness. Peter rehearsed unto them the Lord's dealing with him, and instructed them to make those things known unto James and the brethren.

2. The Behavior of the Soldiers (vv. 18-19).
There was great agitation among them as to what had become of Peter. This was a serious matter since they were responsible for him. Not being able to account for Peter's escape, Herod commanded that they be put to death. After this Herod went down to Caesarea. Here he was adorned, as God's servant, the Lord smote him. Herod died, but the Word of the Lord grew and multiplied.

Value of a Deed
The value of a deed depends upon its meaning, and its meaning depends upon its motive and the spirit and purpose that prompt it. The widow's mite is really worth more than the spare cash of the rich, because it means more.—Nathaniel Micklem.

The First Thing
God's rule is over all; and in all our perplexity, doubt, and fear, Jesus reminds us that the first thing is faith in God.—T. R. Glover.

CAL IS ATTACKED AS "TARIFF CZAR"

EFFORT TO ABOLISH COMMISSION TO BE MADE.

FLEXIBLE TARIFF FAILS

President's Disregard for the Commission's Report on Sugar Duties Causes Revolt Against His Action in Congress.

Washington.—President Coolidge's refusal to alter the sugar tariff will cause a move in the next Congress to repeal the Fordney-McCumber bill and strike out the flexible tariff provision which empowers the executive to increase or lower duties 50 per cent.

The flexible tariff will be attacked as unconstitutional because it gives the president revenue-making authority—unprecedented and a failure.

Railroad and progressive congressmen intend to make an issue of the Fordney-McCumber act. The opening shot was fired by Basil Mandy, director of the People's Legislative Service, a La Follette organization. He declared the president acted in the sugar case without consideration of the fundamental question involved.

Mandy said the progressive bloc of Congress will advocate unanimously electing the president of his flexible tariff powers.

As basis for their argument that the scheme has been a failure, the liberals say its purpose was to give a scientific tariff, which could be based on expert investigations by a tariff commission possessed of production cost facts.

Instead, they maintain, it flexes in only one direction, and that upward. Rather than accept the findings of the commission, the president, according to the other charge, has consistently overruled the commission majority.

Intimations have reached the Progressives that they will have both old tariff and Democratic support in an effort to amend the law. Mandy pointed out that its constitutionality had never been attacked seriously, but that the rights of Congress to delegate to the president revenue-making powers, which were reserved to Congress by the constitution, is now being questioned.

President Coolidge will resist attempts to open the tariff. After seeing his last week, Senator Smoot (R., Utah) said there will be no tariff tinkering in the next session. In discussing the flexible tariff with Coolidge, the president has not defended it, but has pointed out that it has not been in operation long enough for a full test.

KAISER STILL HOPES FOR GERMAN THRONE

New York.—Former Kaiser Wilhelm looks forward to the day when Germany may have a monarchy similar to that of England, according to Dr. Friedrich W. Mewes, his one-time adjutant who is here on a business trip. It is the dream of the Kaiser, Dr. Mewes said, that Germany eventually will come to a government under a constitutional monarchy with powers limited, as are those of King George.

"But, I don't think we shall have another monarchy in Germany," he added. "If the Republican government lasts ten years, I am sure we shall not."

Dr. Mewes now is president of a mining concern at Breslau. Concerning the life led by the former Kaiser, he said:

"The Kaiser lives modestly in a house of 14 or 16 rooms, in restricted grounds with only a few servants.

"He cannot go to towns. He can walk only short distances from his grounds. He has no carriage. He cannot afford a horse.

"He would like to visit America. He would like to travel."

Plymouth, O.—Amos Dowdy and Mrs. Della Sheets, are under arrest here in connection with the finding here of the body of the woman's husband, in the yard of his farm home near here.

Oppose Zionist Meet
Vienna.—Pan-Germans in Vienna have appealed to the government to prohibit the Zionist Congress, which is set to open in the Austrian capital in August. Should the government disregard the appeal, it is announced by the Pan-Germans, they will convene anti-semitic mass meetings while the congress is in progress.

Vets To Encamp
Jackson, Miss.—The first annual encampment of Spanish-American war veterans, Department of Military Aid, may be held in Jackson during the Mississippi State fair, Oct. 19-24.

Honors World Flyer
Medford, Mass.—The honorary degree of master of science will be conferred by Tufts college on Lieut. Ralph Wade, commander of the around the world plane Boston and Boston H. President John A. Cozzens, of the college, announced.

Community Building

Paint Rightly Claims to Have Double Value

The good appearance of the house usually proves to be the strongest point in persuading anyone to paint his house. The matter of preserving the surface does not enter into consideration as it should. The common desire to have one's home at its best cannot be condemned, but paint means much more than this. Paint is not a luxury by any means; it is a necessity and an economic one.

Wood is porous. While growing, these pores are filled with sap. When the tree is cut into lumber the sap dries out, leaving the pores open. The protective coatings of bark are also removed. If the wood is allowed to remain in this unprotected state, fungal and moisture soon begin to rot and destroy it. Paint penetrates the pores and forms, when dry, a tough, elastic coating, which is "anchored" to the surface by countless little "hooks" that extend into pores of the wood, and this coating or film preserves the wood by protecting it from those things which would otherwise quickly and surely destroy it.

The psychological value, the invigorating effect of clean, brightly painted property, is another factor we cannot afford to disregard, and this alone should be sufficient cause to warrant painting in times of temporary business depression.

The price that should be paid for the paint is another consideration—and an important one. The best quality paint is the cheapest. The cost should be reckoned on the basis of the square foot and the expense as so much per paint service year. In this way the true value and the cheapness of good paint will be recognized.

General Shortage of Building Is Reported

That a national building shortage somewhat in excess of $4,000,000,000 exists in the entire country is indicated by reports made to a leading investment concern in a survey of all cities of more than 10,000 population.

Studies were made in 528 cities. In 380 of these, reports were made of building shortages amounting to $4,000,820,000, of which $2,102,698,500 is needed for residential types; $1,139,561,500 for commercial types and $870,270,000 for public buildings of all kinds. In 148 cities no shortage was reported, thus indicating that in these places the amount of building requirements now rests on the normal demands of growth and improvement.

That a shortage of considerable magnitude also exists in places having less than 10,000 population was indicated by the results of the inquiry in 20 typical towns of this type in various parts of the United States. Twelve of these places showed aggregate shortages of more than $14,000,000, while eight revealed normal conditions.

The investigation also brought to light definitely planned expenditures of nearly $800,000,000 in the next two years for churches, hospitals, charitable and educational institutions, these figures not being included in actual shortages now existing.

Architecture Important

That architectural merit adds dollars to the value of a house is convincingly demonstrated when old homes possessing architectural distinction find a ready sale at good prices, while a poorly designed dwelling is a "drug" on the market. Many bizarre creations are produced by designers who seem to think that when a multiplicity of gables, of projecting eaves and sharply contrasting lines in stucco and bricks are achieved, the result is bound to be pleasantly modern and desirable. Investors are finding to their sorrow, however, that this type of house is passing out with the jazz music of which it is symbolical, and present builders would do well to keep this in mind if they wish to realize full value on their property.

Lining Them Up

"There is no one in the world," says the Brunswick (Ga.) News, "that knows more about raising children than an old maid, and there is no citizen that kicks more about public organizations and their activities than the fellow who never pays dues to one of them, never is the father of any movement for the city's good, nor takes an active part in the community affairs, except to knock. The hardest knocker and the loudest critic can always be branded as the biggest shirker—he carries his bell with him. If you are in his class, take stock of yourself, right about face and become a real citizen and a community builder."

Plants for the Lawn

In the choice of plants for the lawn, says an expert in that line of home and city beautification, a few special rules are of interest and value. Choose hardy plants. Use dogwoods, honeysuckles, spiraeas, ninebark, etc., for shrubs; woodbine, Dutchman pipe, honeysuckle, clematis for vines, and hardy perennial flowers for the border, then add mums, spruces, elms, etc., in suitable places to complete the plan. Plant in the spring earlier than in the fall.

POULTRY FACTS

PRODUCE MORE EGGS IN WINTER SEASON

"The Badger state's winter egg production can be increased very noticeably per hen by carrying out certain easily followed plans," says O. M. Johnson, superintendent of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture poultry flock.

"We have discovered," avers Johnson, "that pullets must be separated from the old hens to get the best possible egg production. If this policy is not carried out, the older hens will keep the pullets from their feed and boss them around so that they do not have a chance to get full development."

By letting the pullets run with the older fowls, there is also a great danger of spreading diseases. This, too, is fatal to egg production. An underdeveloped pullet or one that is backward in her development should be sold, continues the poultryman. These pullets, as well as cockerels that are not to be kept for spring's breeding, do not as a rule pay their board.

"Skin milk is one of the greatest aids in egg production, and it should be used to the limit," says Johnson, "and each pullet should never be without plenty of milk, either sour or sweet." Washing the dish thoroughly each time before feeding is a precaution so as to guard from diseases. When hens have all the milk they can drink, very little water is needed. In fact it is best, advises the poultryman, that pullets do not have water if they have all the skin milk they can drink. The milk will furnish them with water and at the same time the proteins and minerals the pullets need.

Whole substances hung up in the scratching pens will furnish fine green feed, but other greenstuffs also serve their purpose. Many poultrymen make the mistake of throwing large amounts of green stuffs on the floor where it gets moldy and dirty.

For the mash, which the pullets should have access to at all times, equal parts of bran middlings, yellow cornmeal, oats and beef scraps or tankage has given the best results. If the chickens have all the milk they can drink, the meat scraps and tankage can be cut to one-half part.

"A dry, well ventilated hen house free from mites and lice is important. The litter in the scratch pens should not be too deep at first as the pullets do not know how to scratch deep, or else will not. Yellow cracked corn is as good a scratch feed as one needs, but one-third of any other whole grain can also be added."

Ration Recommended for Making of Winter Eggs

The following ration for winter egg production recommended by the Missouri College of Agriculture, satisfies the needs of the hens and is economical and practical. During the past year it has been fed on a number of farms with good results: Scratch grain—ten pounds of shelled corn and five pounds of dry threshed oats. Dry mash—three pounds of wheat bran, three pounds of wheat shorts and one and one-half pounds commercial meat scrap.

Where milk is plentiful three gallons of skim milk or buttermilk, fed mixed each 100 hens daily will take the place of meat scrap. Either milk or some form of lean meat must be supplied in every ration for successful winter egg production. Commercial meat scrap can be obtained from most feed dealers in 100-pound sacks. One sack will supply protein needed by 100 hens for more than two months. Barley or feed wheat may be used instead of oats. Cornmeal or ground oats may be substituted for shorts in the mash. Alfalfa meal or clover leaves may take the place of the bran.

A good grade of tankage may be used instead of the meat scrap. In feeding this ration all grain should be fed in deep straw to compel the birds to exercise. The mash should be fed in self-feeding hoppers or troughs and a supply kept before the birds. In addition to this ration, hens should have an abundance of water, a supply of green food and free access to sharp grit and crushed oyster shells or soft limestone grit. With early hatched pullets, housed comfortably, and fed this ration, winter eggs are assured.

Plan of Line Breeding

Line breeding can be done by using the same ancestry or blood lines with careful selection that avoids the bad effects of inbreeding. The shade of difference between line breeding and inbreeding is sometimes very faint. Breeding the pullets of a mating back to the sire, and one of the cockerels back to the hen, is a strict line breeding, which is often practiced to establish certain qualities in a strain.

One Nest for Six Fowls

One nest should be provided for each five or six fowls, and even more if trap nests are used. Twelve by twelve inches is large enough and one-fourth-inch mesh hardware cloth is excellent for the bottom. Wall nests are to be preferred to those located under the dropping platform, but the wall nests require a top place at an angle of at least 45 degrees, to prevent the chickens roosting on them. The runways along the front of the nests can also be made to fold up.

Preaching at 11 a. m. and 8
p. m., by pastor.

Special music at both services.

Every one is especially invited to attend both services.

The services of last Sunday were well attended. The Busy Men's Bible Class are rejoicing over the victory of the contest won last Sunday and every one is looking forward to the fish at the lake soon.

Mr. J. E. Campbell is in town this week visiting relatives.

Miss Leona McKeen is visiting relatives in Memphis this week.

Junior Missionary Society entertained the Juniors of Union City and Riceville at the home of Mrs. John Owen yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Owen and the Juniors proved to be charming hostesses and the children had a wonderful time. Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Baldridge and little daughter, Rachel Hunter, are taking a two weeks motor trip through the north.

The Senior Epworth League met last Sunday evening at its usual hour. The hour was opened with a song, followed with prayer. Scripture lesson was read by the president, Wade Joyner, then the hour was turned over to the leaders: Nell Owen and Mildred Graham. The following assisted in the program: Violin solo, W. R. Butt, Jr., with Sarah Butt accompanist; a story entitled Salmon Croquettes, Mrs. Binford; Piano duet, Ruel Flippe and Lola Chappel; Reading entitled, "Wild White Rose," Maurine Taylor.

Next Sunday is the last evening of our contest with Union City, and we are working for 200, therefore we urge everyone between 14 and 30 years to come and help us beat Union City.

SUNDAY WEDDING AT HICKMAN

A unique wedding took place Sunday afternoon at Hickman, Ky., when Mrs. Laura Ryan, of this city, was united in marriage to Mr. G. E. Bowlin, of Tupelo, Miss., the Rev. A. E. Tucker officiating.

The ceremony was performed beneath the canopy of azure blue skies on the banks overlooking the Father of Waters, the Mississippi river. Among the Fulton friends witnessing the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Weather- spoon, Mrs. Harry Gest, and Miss Lina Jones.

The bride is a woman of pleasing personality and has a large circle of friends. The groom is a man of sterling character and is highly esteemed by a wide acquaintance in his native state.

The happy couple are at home to their friends at the home of the bride in this city on State line street.

MRS. MARTHA JANE ATKINS

"But when the sun in all his state,
Illumined the eastern sky,
She passed through Glory's morning gate,
And walked in Paradise."

Mrs. Martha Jane Atkins was called home by the grim reaper on last Friday morning, at 2:30.

Mrs. Atkins was a native of Weakley county, Tenn., where she was born June 6, 1854. She was a member of the Little Zion Primitive Baptist Church for over forty years. She was married to Rufus Lewis in 1873, who died in 1878, and was married to W. H. Atkins in 1891, who died in 1896.

The deceased was the mother of Mrs. Mintie McWhorter, R. W. Lewis, Smith Atkins of Fulton and R. W. Atkins of Paducah. She leaves three sisters, Mrs. M. A. McElroy, Mrs. Leah Pentecost, Mrs. Bettie Parrish and five brothers, Tommie, John Harvey Elias and E. E. Henderson, and seven grandchildren, besides many other relatives in West Tennessee and Kentucky.

Funeral services were held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Boyd McWhorter, 807 Vine Street, Saturday afternoon, Rev. G. T. Mayo, of Dresden, Tenn., having charge of the services, assisted by Rev. J. V. Freeman. Interment followed at Fairview cemetery.

A large number of relatives and friends of the family attended the services in spite of the threatening weather, and the floral offerings were both beautiful and numerous.

Mrs. Atkins was ill only for about a month and her passing was as much due to advanced age as any other cause.

The community has lost an ever ready helper of those in trouble, a true Christian woman.

The following from a distance attended the funeral of Mrs. M. J. Atkins:

E. E. Henderson of Humboldt; Elias Henderson of Memphis; Harvey Henderson of Palmersville; Sonnie Henderson, of Water Valley; Mrs. McElroy and Mrs. Bettie Parrish of Palmersville; Mr. and Mrs. John Pentecost of Cottage Grove, Tenn.; Mrs. Bailey Dumas, Mrs. Ralph Bowden and Boyce Dumas of Cottage Grove; W. R. McWhorter, of Dresden, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Mayo, of Dresden; Mrs. Lucy Lyon, of Martin, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Atkins, of Paducah.

BISHOP WOODCOCK VISITS FULTON

Right Reverend Charles E. Woodcock, Bishop of Kentucky, made his Episcopal visit to Trinity church, Fulton, last Sunday, holding services at 7:30 p. m.

He confirmed a class of candidates presented by Doctor A. C. Boyd, rector, and made an address that was listened to with deep interest by an appreciative congregation.

Bishop Woodcock is a most interesting speaker, possessed of a magnetic presence and a deep, pleasing voice that carries conviction to his hearers.

His address was more along the lines of a personal talk to the candidates than is usual on such occasions and was particularly impressive. Owing to the extreme heat and the fact that he held services at Hickman in the morning, the usual sermon was dispensed with.

A number of members of other congregations were present to hear the Bishop and some of them stayed to the reception that was held in the Parish house after the service.

HICKMAN BOY SCOUT DROWNED SAVING PAL

Hickman, Ky., June 18.—John Fields, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curry Fields, was drowned while swimming during a Boy Scout outing near here. W. O. Shanklin, scoutmaster, almost lost his life in an attempt to save the boy, and was in turn rescued by another 14-year-old Boy Scout, James Hendrix.

RAIN BROUGHT SMILE WITH IT.

Wasn't that a fine rain Saturday? I was wandering around between showers and never saw a frown all day.

When the first shower started there was a track gang just starting out, and less than half of the men had waterproof clothing, but every last man did have a broad grin on his face.

Housewives report that the grocery delivery men all appeared well soaked, (with rain water, understand) but not one of them was complaining, and the deliveries were very little behind time.

Of course, the festive farmer was delighted, and all Saturday afternoon, every farmer on the streets was wearing a pleasant smile.

For a short time, during the worst of the downpour, a few merchants were a little bit worried about the rising water, but this soon settled itself, and we heard of no one who was obliged to move his stock.

Probably the only real objection to the rain will be the small boy who has to weed the garden. Several gardens that I saw Monday morning looked as if all the grass and weeds had grown several inches since Saturday morning. Personally, I am glad I am not a small boy with a garden to weed.

BERRIES BRING $257,955.00

121 Carloads from 5 Counties Bring Average of $5 Per Crate

Paducah, Ky., June 18.—Aroma strawberries grown by members of the McCracken County Growers' association in McCracken, Ballard, Graves, Marshall and Carlisle counties, and shipped last month to more than thirty markets in the north and northwestern states including Canada, sold for a total of $257,955.75, according to an announcement yesterday by Barger & Goughly, sales agents for the association. Checks were mailed to the growers last night.

The season's shipment, 21 carloads comprising 51,800 crates, brought an average of $5 per crate, the highest average in the history of the association, the sales agents said, and is a large increase over the sales for the 1924 crop, when 17 carloads brought approximately $179,000.

HERRICK

THE ARISTOCRAT OF REFRIGERATORS

Your Biggest Wishes Answered!

You Get Extra Service if You Own a Herrick Refrigerator

There are two reasons for this double economy. The first is the HERRICK design, which insures a constant, self-purifying circulation of cold dry air throughout the interior of the refrigerator. The second reason is the construction of the HERRICK. From the kiln dried solid oak used for the frames to the lever fastener placed on the doors, everything that goes into a HERRICK helps to keep cold air in and warm air out, and strengthens its resistance to heat, dampness and deterioration.
