AUTHORITY

The universal and absolute law is that natural justice which cannot be written down, but which appeals to the hearts of all—Victor Cousin.

When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice; but when the wicked bear rule, the people mourn.—Proverbs 29:2.

A man may have authority over others, but he can never have their heart, except by giving his own.—W. Wilson.

Five things are requisite to a good officer—ability, clean hands, despatch, patience, and impartiality.—Penn.

Nothing more impairs authority than a too frequent or indiscreet use of it.—Shakespeare.

To overcome all wrong, it must become unreal to us; and it is good to know that wrong has no divine authority; therefore man is its master.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Sheriff Forced To Shoot Youth While Attempting Arrest

Sheriff Myatt Johnson and Deputy A. L. Lankford, of Hickman, were called to the Edwards Sandwich Shop in West Hickman Saturday night to quell a disturbance said to have been created by J. W. Azbell and Kenneth Azbell.

Arriving on the scene, the officers attempted to take the Azbell boys into custody, and they are alleged to have attacked the officers with a pocket knife, inflicting serious wounds upon Deputy Lankford.

Sheriff Johnson in a statement to the press said, "The boys came at us with a pocket knife, and when I warned them to stop, they failed to heed the warning. One of them cut Lankford, and I fired at him. As they continued the attack, I had to shoot."

J. W. Azbell, 22, who was recently given a medical discharge from the U. S. Army, was killed almost instantly. Kenneth was shot twice. His wounds are believed not to be critical, although he is in a Mayfield hospital.

Deputy Lankford was taken to a hospital, where it was necessary to take several stitches in his wounds. But he soon returned to his home.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. . . . The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth; so is every one that is born of the Spirit." (John 3:6-8)

S. Sgt. Looney With Sixth Army Group

Sixth Army Group, France.—The 759th Railway Operating Battalion, commanded by Lt. Col. Ernest M. Price, Tacoma, Wash., is cashing in on valuable experience gathered in North Africa and Italy as it plays an important part in the operation of railways in Eastern Europe.

The bridges and building section, and the track section of the battalion did much to reopen the railroads north and northeast of Lyon enabling movement of essential supplies for the U. S. 7th and the French 1st Armies during their lightning progress in the early days of the Southern France campaign.

Attending to their contribution to the campaign, Lt. Gen. Jacob L. Devers, commanding general of the Sixth Army Group, wrote to Brig. Gen. Carl R. Gray, Jr., director general of the 1st Military Railway Service:

"Supplies carried by your trains are now reaching the forward area. There could be no finer compliment to pay than to say that you have the thanks and appreciation of each individual soldier receiving the supplies."

Members of Col. Price's battalion in France include S. Sgt. Chas. R. Looney, 707 Walnut-st, Fulton.

ORDINARY MEN, HEROES

The news dispatches have brought us stories of men who have performed amazing acts of heroism in battle. The majority of these fellows may not have been especially conspicuous at home. Such a man may have hoed corn or tended a machine in some shop, while his associates never regarded him as exceptional or different from themselves.

But out in that hell of fighting, he saw something to be done that involves danger, and he did it. He may have led his comrades up some slope in the face of machine gun fire, and have captured that position. So the common man becomes in a few minutes a hero.

The ranks of our service men are full of fellows who have performed these surprising acts in the face of danger. Ordinary life turns out a host of men capable of great deeds in some emergency.

The ordinary humdrum task at home has a certain power of development, if it is performed faithfully. It is likely to develop powers of endurance, which are not realized by the person himself or those who see his work.

The man who does every detail of his work just right, not matter how tired he may be, is likely in a time of danger to do something fine and strong. The same fidelity that kept him going at home tells him to do his duty in the face of danger. He conquers obstacles that seemed impossible. We shall greatly admire these grand fellows when they get home.

BUSINESS FUTURE

The problem of providing work for everybody after the war may be mainly a question of salesmanship and confidence in the future.

The national income has risen far above previous high marks. The people have saved a large part of that money. They will be able after the war to buy goods far more freely than ever before.

It will be the job of the sales forces to persuade the people to spend a reasonable part of that money in buying the things they want and need, and thus keep the factories running full time.

If people fear that business is not going to be prosperous, that fear won't do any good. When people believe that business is going to be good and that there will be work for everybody, business usually is good. That confidence leads them to spend money. It induces companies to branch out into new enterprises. If the country enters the post-war period with this faith in its future, the tremendous demand for goods that cannot now be produced should provide work for all who need it.

WOMEN BECOME LIKE MEN

Someone remarks that women are becoming more and more like men. Many of them wear garments formerly restricted to men. Millions of them have filled jobs formerly held by men. Many of them seem likely to keep holding such jobs.

A tremendous change occurred some years ago when the right of suffrage was extended to women. Previous to that the majority of women are not greatly concerned with politics and government. Now they are as interested and active on those questions as the men, and often more so.

In a few respects the sexes differ, and particularly that nature of custom gives women the larger share in the training and care of children. But apart from a few such activities, they seem interested in about the same things that interest the men.

Thus they work with men, tending machines in factories, selling goods over the store counters, managing community organizations. They might be compared to faithful horses harnessed together and pulling the load up hill. Some men will say they pull more than half the load.

EDITOR COMMENTS

Don Robinson, Editor
The American Press,
New York, N. Y.

Dear Sir:
In reply to your nation-wide poll of newspaper editors on the questions herewith answered, we voice our individual opinion only.

First—The government should not give anyone a salary—either by dole or otherwise. We do not believe the men in service, as a majority, expect the government to pay them a salary when they return to civilian life. But they do expect jobs when they get back. Service men should, however, be granted bonuses, based on the time spent in service, with special consideration given to those who are actually on the battlefields.

Second—War workers are earning good money and should be able to save up something for the day when we swing back to normalcy—either through War Bonds, investment in homes, property.

Through private industries, government projects, and through the use of their own personal savings and thrift (if there is not too much centralized control by government), war workers and others should be able to readjust their lives and incomes. The tendency of government to "manage" the lives of individuals must be restrained if we are to preserve our liberties and freedoms as we once knew them. We must turn again to individual initiative, creativeness and encourage those who are ready to work and earn and build for the future. Doles by government will never improve the morale and well being of men. Pride in doing things, in accomplishment is what needs more encouragement in the lives of all, for when we lose the zest to "do" then we start to rust—contributing less and less to the development of our race.

Third—The average family of four should have an income of $40 to $50 per week in normal times to live in health and comfort, depending to some extent upon the living costs in the section of country in which they live.

Americans have a flare for originality when faced with adverse circumstances, and if they are allowed to exert their full force of individuality and initiative, they always find a way to improve their economic welfare. For the past decade this country has been drifting too far toward centralized and socialized government. After this conflict is over, we must swing back toward the real, true spirit of American democracy and progress, where individual initiative and hard work bring competency and independence, instead of dependency upon the "powers that be" in Washington.

Because I am vitally interested in what happens to my country, and fellow Americans, I have taken time out to answer the three questions recently asked me. As publisher of one of America's weekly newspapers, and because of close contact with a section of Rural America, I believe that I have expressed the thoughts and prayers of many.

Sincerely,
J. Paul Bushart, Publisher

SGT. GEORGE LANCASTER WITH AIR TRANSPORT COMMAND

Miami, Fla.—Five Kentuckians are among the hundreds of soldiers making up the skilled maintenance crews that keep the huge transport planes flying out of AAF Air Transport Command's Miami Army Air Field.

Not many have been higher off the ground than a double decker, and their glory comes second hand. But they form the ground crews whose industry and ingenuity play a big part in the records ATC is setting every day in carrying high priority material and personnel to war theatres all over the world on such runs as the famed Fireball Express between Miami and India.

Assigned to aircraft maintenance at the big ATC Caribbean Division base in Miami are T. Sgt. Geo. A. Lancaster, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Lancaster of Fulton, in the engineering status section.

THE AMERICAN WAY

By George Pech

WHAT IS INDIVIDUALISM?

By DR. ALFRED P. HAAKE

The fashion of the day is collectivism. It is called by different names, but in every case it means looking to government for our rights and benefits. People who believe in individualism are laughed at for being old-fashioned and trusting in God rather than in Government.

But, no one need apologize for believing in individualism. It is the modern philosophy toward which mankind has been striving for centuries. Collectivism is reactionary, a throw-back to the days of savage tribes which subordinated every individual to the leaders of the tribe. It was to get away from collectivistic tyranny that individualism was born.

If people really understood both collectivism and individualism we would be safe from dictatorship. No dictatorship would arise among a people who believed their rights to be inherent and coming from God; and if it DID arise, no dictatorship could live, even with force of arms, so long as men really wanted to retain those rights.

Individualism means that we consider the individual human being an entity, or person, in himself and by virtue of merely being born. The individual comes first—the State comes afterward. That individual possesses inherent and inalienable rights to pursue his happiness within a society in which men deal with each other as equals before the law.

It does not mean that the individual can do exactly as he pleases, without regard for other individuals. There must be limitations on each individual which will prevent him from destroying the rights of other individuals. But, it also means that we cannot serve the common good, as is so often believed, by abolishing individual rights; for what we call the common good is only the sum total of each separate individual good. We cannot make rotten tomatoes sound merely by considering them as a bushel instead of as separate tomatoes. The bushel is merely a collection of many individual tomatoes.

So it is with a society or a nation. The whole is only the sum of all its parts. It is the individual parts we must make sound and strong if the whole is to be sound and strong.

Individualism means the right of every individual to own property, to make contracts with other individuals, to say what is on his mind, either in print or by words of other persons, to worship God, to mouth, to meet in assembly with engage in business or occupation of his own choosing—all subjects to common justice—that is, to laws or rules which protect and preserve the rights of all individuals from being destroyed by the unrestrained exercise of rights by some individuals. America was founded, grew great, will continue to live and to grow greater, on that individualism.

A simple way to say it is that we must understand and believe in God and in his laws. A very wise and good man, speaking to individuals, once said it this way: "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you." That is the moral and spiritual basis of individualism.

Sincerely,

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

JESUS AND THE TWELVE

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 10:1, 5-8; 11:1, 25-30.
GOLDEN TEXT—Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you.—John 15:14.

Service for Christ has not always been as impressive and effective as it should be because it has lacked conviction and spiritual power. God did not intend it to be the weak and faltering thing that it often is, because of our failure to go God's way.

The sending out of the twelve had special significance, and yet it brings forth principles which have a bearing on the service of every believer in Christ.

The Servants of Christ—
I. Have a Divine Commission (10:1, 5-8).

The twelve disciples had already been called into the Lord's service. Now they were to be prepared for the service which was ahead. It was a time of commissioning and empowerment for service.

God calls men today to serve Him. In fact, there is a very real sense in which every Christian is called to serve. Let no one try to excuse himself from that responsibility and privilege.

To some comes a special call to leave their accustomed daily work and launch out into a broader service for Christ. When that time comes, we may go forth with the assurance that the power of a divine Saviour goes with us. The twelve disciples had some special powers which we do not have and do not need. God suits the power to the need, and that means that in every circumstance we may look to Him with assurance, and go on.

One of our difficulties in dealing with such matters as spiritual power is that we interpret the things of the realm of the spirit by physical standards and measurements. We are so quick to say "I cannot" on the basis of our logical human reasoning, when an appreciation of the power of God which is operative on our behalf would make us say with confidence, "I can." But, sadly enough, having left God out of our reckoning, we find that it is indeed true that we cannot.

Serving Christ means doing so in His power, and with His grace upon us. Nothing less will do! Nothing more is needed!

II. Declare a Divine Revelation (11:1, 25-27).

The messenger's responsibility and importance are largely determined by the nature of the message he has to convey. Particularly is that true where the message must pass through his personality and thus be proclaimed. The nations of the earth choose their most able men to be their ambassadors and grant them full power.

The glorious thing about being a messenger for God is that we carry no ordinary communication. What we have to present is far above the most important message any earthly ambassador could possibly have to carry.

We, the children and servants of God through Jesus Christ, have something direct from the throne of God. He has revealed it (v. 25), and it seemed good in His sight to give it to those who had the childlike faith to believe Him.

God's revelation is hidden from those who are wise in their own conceits, who are too proud to come by way of humility and faith. Thank God, some of the wise and mighty of this world have been willing to become as little children and learn at the feet of Jesus.

The encouraging thing about it is that the door is open to the simplest believer to trust God, to take the revelation of God's truth in His word, and give it out with grace and power.

III. Extend a Divine Invitation (11:28-30).

"Come"—what a blessed word for the needy and sinful! They are not to be shut out by their sin, nor to be hindered by their weakness. The door is open, and the invitation is to come. Why not respond?

To whom are they to come? To Jesus. There are times when men can help us, when friends or church officers or the pastor can give us an uplifting word of counsel and encouragement. But for salvation, for a real lifting of the burden from the shoulders of those "that labor and are heavy laden," there is no one like Jesus.

We are privileged to invite people to Jesus, knowing that if they "learn" of Him (v. 29), they will not only have their loads lifted and find rest, but will enter into a blessed yoke, fellowship with Him in life and service.

His is a wholesome or a kindly yoke. That is the meaning of "easy" in verse 30. It is not always easy to serve Christ, but being yoked with Him in a kindly fellowship of service makes the burden light.

The world is full of tired and discouraged people. We who know Christ have the adequate answer to their need. Shall we not go in His name to present the truth to them and invite them to come to Christ?

Last year in our homes 15,500 people were killed because of falls. There were 5,400 burned to death, 1,400 died of poisoning and 1,200 died from firearms. Total accidental deaths in homes mounted to 32,500, an increase of 7 per cent over 1942.

Look around your home right now, Mr. Reader. Look for those accident causers — cluttering stairways, toys or household equipment scattered about the house and underfoot — improperly marked poisons — loaded firearms — carelessly stored ammunition — defective electrical appliances.

Investigate the accident "producers" in your home and correct them. Make your home safe for your family.

ATHLETES FOOT

Make This 10 Minute Test

Get a mobile liquid with strong PENETRATING power. One containing full strength alcohol is good. Powders, ointments and milks solutions do not penetrate sufficiently. Te-ol is the only solution, we know of, made with 90% alcohol. Feel it PENETRATE. REACHES MORE GERMS. Most drug stores have the test size. Small lot just arrived at Bennett's Drug Store.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

TIDBITS

A RURAL PHILOSOPHER

Four miles up the creek from Fidelity lived Jesse Maddox, the oldest son of Aunt Mary and Uncle Joe. Since there were no barriers in that direction, such as the Blood River bottoms to the north and northeast of the village, Jesse was a distinct part of our neighborhood and for nearly all of his life was the leading member of Sulphur Springs Church. So much a part of our lives was he that no public function sounded complete without his presence. Fairly well educated for his time, he extended his education by constant reading and by contact with people outside our little circle. As a prominent churchman he attended Methodist conferences and got a chance to He knew nearly everybody in the county for he was a persistent, though unsuccessful, candidate for office. Even those who voted against him for political reasons admired him for his poise and culture.

One of the oddities about Fidelity was its independence of the church when funerals were held. Only rarely did a preacher make a talk, for there was no resident pastor at Fidelity in my whole know the important people connected with Methodism. He even went to the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago in 1893, a feat not matched by anyone in our neighborhood since the soldiers had come back from Virginia or Mississippi or from Northern prisons, childhood except for one brief period. Our local Methodist preacher, and Jesse made most of the talks at the union church or the cemetery when people were to be buried. I must have heard Jesse dozens of times and always wondered at his tolerance and sympathy. No money was ever paid him for his trouble; he was an old-fashioned Southerner who felt that public service was free.

A summary of his brief talks at the Sulphur Springs Sunday School would make a wholesome digest of practical religion, for he was in no sense a mystic. Some of the less well-to-do hinted that they, too, could be religious if they had as much money as he. But these same ones called on him to say the last words over their dead, regardless of church affiliations.

Just why he wanted so badly to be county clerk I could never understand, for his large farm brought him all the money he needed, and he and his family had a wide range of social contacts with the big world. Apparently he wanted an excuse to move to the county seat, just like our local merchant and Father's doctor uncle and many another person on a good farm, was not conducive to the happiness that living in town would bring. In his very old age he left the farm and bought a small place right by the side of the railroad, where he could sit on his porch and watch the trains go by. The last time I ever saw him he rode on horseback from this new home to speak at my father's funeral. Many times I had heard Father say that he wanted Jesse to make the few necessary remarks over his body, for nobody could do quite so well as he. They had been lifelong friends, and the occasion deeply moved Jesse. I have never heard a more appropriate address, for he did not deify Father but presented him as a rugged individualist, a devoted follower of his profession, a tolerant thinker and neighbor. Mr. Maddox went out of my life as he had come in, a good speaker and neighbor, an honest appraiser of the people of his time and place.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Now that the majority of meats are back on the ration list, home-makers are again looking for ways to fix no-point or low-point cuts. Ground meats comes to the rescue, for it can be served in a dozen different ways.

There's nothing better than America's favorite juicy hamburgers served on toasted buns with onion slices when a hurry-up meal is to be prepared. For a more elaborate meal, dress up a meat loaf with a frothing of mashed potatoes delicately browned in the oven. Or, instead of one big loaf, make individual meat loaves so that each guest has some of that delicious crust.

Although a pound of ground meat serves four, it may be made to serve six or eight through the addition of bread crumbs or vegetables. Swedish meat balls, meat loaf, and beef vegetables are favored extension tricks. Food specialists at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics recommend also, this way of combining ground meat with spaghetti and meat sauce.

Spaghetti Hamburger

1 pound ground beef
1-2 cup chopped onion
4 tablespoons drippings or salad oil
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1-2 bay leaf
2 cups tomatoes
1 6-ounce package of spaghetti
Lightly brown the meat and onions in the fat. (If desired, one clove of finely minced garlic may be added.) Add the salt, pepper, bay leaf, tomatoes and one cup of hot water. Simmer 1-1-2 hours. Cook spaghetti in boiling salted water for 8-10 minutes. Drain and pour meat sauce over it to serve.

Menu: Spaghetti hamburger, buttered carrots, fruit salad, cornbread and butter and prune upside-down cake.

They say Americans talk more rapidly than formerly. That does not prove they say any more things worth hearing.

Some folks who think they could get a lot of fun by running a newspaper, might have to do some fast running when the irate readers got after them.

GEORGE PARTRIDGE... WHAS' Special Events Producer and Director, came to us from out of the blue at Bowman Field. He had helped produce "All Clear," Air Corps big show, weekly "Barracades" and Bowman Field's "Flying Time" to WHAS listeners.

A native New Yorker, George had been on Eastern radio stations before the war. He has produced and directed War Bond, War Fund and Blood Donor's programs and likes G.I.s in unrehearsed appearances. Right now, he is helping produce thirty-minute transcriptions for boys on all fighting fronts, as per request of General Eisenhower. "A big hunk of hometown on a platter," these discs include current songs, topics of conversation, speeches and post-war plans for soldiers. In twenty-seven American communities assigned to perform this important service, local stations are co-operating to make the discs fully representative of life "at home" in the states.

Diamond Pin R. R. Man Grateful To Retonga

Had Gotten To Where He Was Hardly Able To Get Around His Home, States Mr. Rudy. Eats, Sleeps and Feels Better Now Than In Years.

One of the outstanding features of Retonga is the hundreds of well known railroad men who have found such prompt relief through its use. Among the latest is Mr. W. A. Rudy, well known resident of 122 18th St., S. E., Roanoke, Va.

who wears a diamond button testifying to his fifty years efficient service with the Norfolk and Western Railway. Discussing Retonga Mr. Rudy gratefully stated:

"I went down hill until I got to where I could hardly get around my home. My digestion went back on me, my appetite practically left me, and for weeks at a time I could eat only liquid food and fruit juices. My elimination became so poor that I had to depend entirely on laxatives. I tried various medicines and treatments only to keep on feeling worse.

"I began to feel lots of relief from the very first bottle of Retonga. Now I eat anything and lots of it. I sleep all night, whereas I used to be up and down all night long. The constipation also is relieved, and I feel much stronger. I wish I could personally tell everybody about Retonga."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to Vitamin B-1 deficiency, constipation, insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, and loss of appetite. Retonga may be obtained at DeMyer Drug Co. —adv.

A Warning Comes True

SUPREME example of the kind of public monopoly against which Edison warned is the TVA. It pretends to sell cheap power and covers up its losses through trick bookkeeping. It shifts its losses to the taxpayers. It is not really in business, for it is everything a successful business is not—a subsidized corporation seeking to destroy competition through unfair practices.

No one ever gets a chance to find out what is actually going on. You can read all the TVA propaganda that has been written to date and never find any hint that the $750,000,000 project is anything but a social experiment. The TVA refuses to face any facts which would show too plainly that the unwilling taxpayers never can expect a return on their tremendous investment.

TVA never has made ends meet. It has no intention of doing so. For then it would have to sell power on the basis of what it costs to produce, and the myth of "cheap" rates would vanish in thin air. Some day soon the American people must heed Edison's prophetic warning, take the Government out of business and allow tax-paying free enterprise to pay off the huge war debt and put our national economy back in balance.

EDISON SAID: There is far more danger in Public Monopoly than there is in Private Monopoly, for when the Government goes into business it can always shift its losses to the taxpayers. If it goes into the power business it can pretend to sell cheap power and then cover up its losses. The Government never really goes into business, for it never makes ends meet, and that is the first requisite of business. It just mixes a little business with a lot of politics and no one ever gets a chance to find out what is actually going on.

LILIENTHAL SAID: The total TVA capital expenditures for every purpose whatever to June 30, 1944, will be in the neighborhood of $750,000,000. Are the expenditures for this development worth their cost to the country? There is, of course, no way of settling the question by statistical proof.

The Victory garden is a plot against Hitler.

One small tree will make a thousand matches, yet one match carelessly discarded, can destroy a million trees.

Don't put off another day your New Year's resolve to take an inventory and keep a record of farm business.

If weather conditions are favorable the increase in small grain yield from nitrogen-top dressing is frequently worth $5 for every $1 invested.

Reports indicate that by tilting the farrowing house, so as to slope the floor 1 1-2 inches to the foot, from one to four pigs formerly overlaid by sows can be saved.

Cattle grubs carry no ration points but they chew on choice sirloin steaks, curtail milk production, and damage badly needed shoe leather. Ask your county agent how to get rid of this pest.

Sour soil, like a sick person, cannot do its best work until restored to a healthy condition. For the money spent, liming, where needed, pays the highest return of any farm practice.

"This soil is a loan from the ages; history will hold us accountable for the way in which we live upon the interest it yields, and add to the capital,"—from "Livestock Guard The Land," published by National Cottonseed Products Association, Inc.

Kidneys Must Work Well

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days a week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, stinging or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling. Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulates the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

No Newspapers today!

Imagine it, if you can: No newspapers. No headlines from the battle fronts. No items about your neighbors. That's what a world without trees would be like. For wood pulp makes the paper for all newspapers—including this one.

Trees also furnish school books for our children, V-mail for our men and women in uniform, paper for bags and cartons, the wood that builds our homes and the furniture that makes them livable. It's wood pulp, too, that makes three out of four of our rayon dresses, neckties, hosiery and other textiles.

The raw materials for all these things are carved from the forests by the lumber industry and transported by America's railroads.

The Illinois Central serves some of America's richest lumber regions, brings the finished products to your community, where they are stocked till you need them.

Moving forest products is one of many services the American people rely on railroads to perform. The nation's food and clothing, the materials for its homes—all the needs and extras of everyday life—travel by railroad freight.

After Victory, the Illinois Central looks forward to providing finer transportation service, thanks to new materials, improved methods and knowledge gained serving America at war.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL SYSTEM

THEY STARTED IT! LET'S FINISH IT!

Perpetrators of fiendish and unwarranted attack, the Japanese nation must be made to pay dearly for their brutality. They started this war—and we're going to finish it in such a way that the flag of the rising sun will never rise again in uncivilized aggression. Each one of us wants this war to be over with—but wanting isn't enough! We've got to see to it that it's over with soon, by buying An Extra $100 War Bond without delay!

In our gratefulness for the progress of the war in Europe, we must not forget the terrifically costly war waging in the Pacific. Moving supplies up there is far more difficult and expensive than it is to get them to the European theatres. That's why we must "fight" all the harder from now until our War Bond purchases have made possible clinching the final Victory and returning every live war hero home!

It is vitally important that we continue to buy War Bonds regularly—not just when we have on a special drive. For here on the home front never-ending support must be given to the boys engaged against the enemies on foreign battlefields. We owe it to them, ourselves and our country, to never let up until the final victory is won, and peace reigns again everywhere.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son, Pfc. James Lee Childers, who was killed in action in Italy, one year ago, Feb. 11, 1944.

More and more each day we miss him. Friends may think the wound is healed; But they little know the sorrow that lies within our hearts concealed.—Heartbroken Mother, Father, Brother and Sisters.

They talk about the "burning words" of the orators. Sometimes the only sign of anything burning is the hot air.

Finch' Fulton Bakery Has Made Rapid Progress Since Locating Here In 1945

Back in 1940, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Finch came to Fulton to make their home. They entered business on Lake Street when they leased the Hornbeak Bakery from Alf Hornbeak. Mr. and Mrs. Finch soon proved that they were a good team, and the products that were baked in their shop became known for their wholesomeness, and for their delightful goodness. Besides baking such things as bread, rolls, buns and all kinds of pastries and cookies, they opened an ice cream parlor, manufacturing their own ice cream, during the spring and summer season.

Mr. Finch returned to Fulton with a good many years of baking experience back of him. Another case where a local boy went away from home for a few years and returned to that home to continue his climb up the ladder of success. During the time he was gone he was connected with such nationally known concerns as Silver's in New York City and Schenck-Kleiser in Dallas, Texas. Just prior to coming to this city, Mr. and Mrs. Finch had operated a bakery of their own in Oklahoma City for two years.

While Mr. Finch is a native of Fulton, Mrs. Gladys Finch is a native of Oklahoma, having been born at Thomas, Okla. She is a daughter of the late C. H. Pratt, and Mrs. Pearl Pratt of Oklahoma City. The Finchs have one son, Larry, age 11, who is in school, and who is an active member of Fulton Boy Scout organization.

New Equipment Installed
TIME MARCHES ON — So in April, 1941, we find the Finchs have built a new bakery building on Commercial-av. Bit by bit new equipment is added. The volume grows as the business makes rapid strides in the new location. The first building was 22x90, but this soon became too small to conveniently handle the steadily mounting business.

An adjoining building, formerly occupied by Killebrew, Florist, was purchased from Fall & Davis, and to this building on the rear, was added another addition, providing about 3,000 more square feet of floor space. This annex has just been recently completed and adds materially to the capacity of the bakery.

Where this bakery formerly used about 20 barrels of flour a month, it is now using 160 barrels, which is a good barometer of the growth that has been made by this bakery under the enterprising efforts of the Finch couple. Today this bakery is serving Illinois Central trains, as well as local customers.

Growing Patronage
As their products grow in favor, the Fulton Bakery is being called upon to bake delicacies for special occasions and for shipment overseas. Birthday celebrations, various anniversary events, and numerous civic occasions are demanding more and more specialty baking.

Recently Scout officials, Boy Scouts and parents, gathered for a community-wide get-together. A large 65-lb. cake, appropriately and fittingly decorated, was turned out for the occasion by Finch's bakery. It was quite an attractive feature of the evening's program. This fine cake, which provided more than enough for everybody, was an excellent example of the deep civic pride that the management of the bakery has in its community, for it was donated by Mr. Finch in interest of Scouting

The majority of men, it is complained, have developed a stooping posture. But stooping over a bench or desk regularly helps one to support his family.

Being told they should spend more time studying works of art, the women are often seen gazing into their mirrors.

Every believer is God's miracle.—Bailey.

schools, good churches, and good recreation places.

Fulton has all of these and more. It is well located, on good highways and railroads. It is a fine trading center located in a good farming territory. It has possibilities for the future that are yet to be developed.

Hickman Branch Planned

Plans are going forward for the opening of a bakery in Hickman, at the other end of Fulton county, some time in the near future. Much of the baking for this shop will be done in Fulton, but likely a small oven shop will be installed at Hickman to turn out some of smaller cookies, pastries, etc.

A citizen of Hickman was in The News office a few days ago and was telling us about the new bakery to come there. He was favorably impressed, and seemed to be glad that Mr. Finch had seen fit to open a shop there. Well, we can tell the people of Hickman that they will have some mighty fine bread, cookies and pastries, when the local baker gets on the job.

Let's Look Ahead!

We visualize more progress for Mr. Finch and wife. Although nothing was said regarding future plans during our interview, we venture to say that when the war is over, and trucks, gasoline and bakery supplies (and help) become plentiful again, the Fulton Bakery will make even greater progress. It would not surprise us to see a "fleet" of bakery trucks making regular runs along routes leading out of this city into neighboring towns and communities. We may be sticking our neck out a bit, but we are always looking ahead and hoping for the best—for Fulton, and any of our citizens.
