Clint Reeds Buys Opera House Block

One of the largest business deals in the city recently was closed Wednesday for a cash consideration when Clint Reeds bought the opera house building on Main street from Hornbeak Bros. The deal was made through the "live wire" real estate agency of Moss & Bushart.

This is a valuable business property and we congratulate Mr. Reeds on his purchase; also on his Gulfport, Mississippi, real estate deal when he cleaned up several thousand dollars almost overnight. Clint is one of Fulton's shrewdest young business men.

I. C. SAFETY MEETING

The Illinois Central Safety meeting at the City Hall, last Friday night, was a big success as far as attendance goes, and if half of the lessons shown on the curtain are remembered and put into practice there should be a big decrease in accidents in Fulton, but I sure did get a big jolt, as I was leaving the hall.

I had obtained a seat at one side, near a window, and in making my way to the door, was obliged to go behind the stove that stands near the main entrance, and if I had been a fat man I certainly would not have got out that way, as the space was too limited, but the thing that gave me the "jolt" was the fact that the main doors open inward, instead of outward, as they should.

It is an accepted fact, these days, that all places of public gathering should have doors swinging outward, in order to prevent trapping an audience in case of fire or other causes for panics, and if there is a rush for the doors of the courtroom, and they are closed, Fulton will have sad cause for mourning.

Either the City Council or the court should take steps to remedy this serious defect before some accident happens that will cause them to regret their lack of action.

Primary Information

July 2 is the last day allowed by law for filing declarations with the county court clerk.

July 7 at 2:00 p. m., is the time set by law for drawing for positions on the ballot. This drawing will take place at the office of the County Court Clerk, and it is desired to have as many candidates as possible present so that recommendations for election officers may be submitted to Board of Election Commissioners of the county.

On July 22, pre-election expense accounts will be filed.

Candidates are warned that if they do not file declarations on or before July 2, their names will not appear on the ballot. Clarence Henry, County Court Clerk, has all necessary blanks and can give details.

TWELVE RULES GIVEN TO TAX COMMISSIONERS

Frankfort, Ky. — Twelve rules on assessment of property are laid down by the state tax commission to county tax commissioners. They follow: Always know what the taxpayer assessed the previous year.

Be patient, but firm, in your decisions. Be sure that all questions are propounded to taxpayer. Forget that old way of either the taxpayer or county commissioner saying, "I have the same as last year."

Question taxpayer carefully as to each class of property. Be sure that the schedule is made out completely.

For the honor and glory of Kentucky, assess the tangible property, especially household and kitchen furniture.

In listing intangible property, be sure that you place the correct values on stocks, bonds, notes.

Do not overlook assessing merchants at value as shown by invoice as of July 1.

If tax commissioner and taxpayer cannot agree as to the values, explain to the taxpayer that your valuation will be placed upon books and that taxpayer may appear before the board.

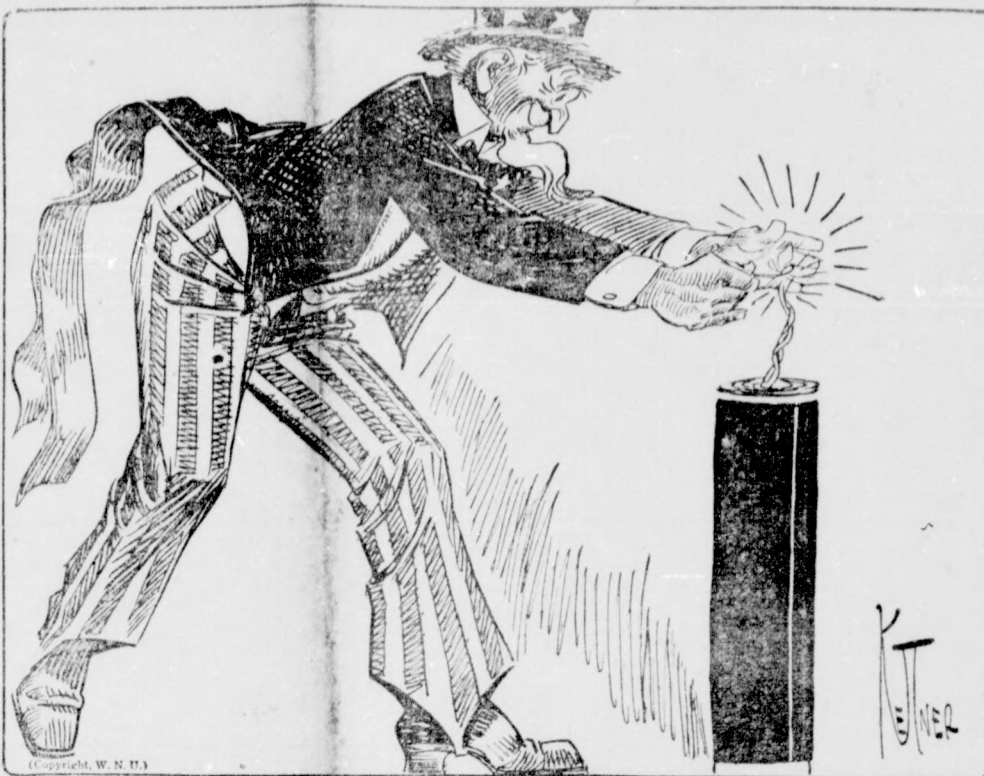

Remember that the taxpayer and county tax commissioner must sign both the intangible and general property schedules; also totals must be shown on each schedule.

Remember that the law is that each taxpayer must make out schedule of his property.

Note the number of automobiles and trucks in your county, and then be sure that you assess each one.

SOCIETY

VISITOR COMPLIMENTED

Mrs. Ernest Fall delightfully entertained with a garden fete Thursday of last week from 5 to 7 o'clock, in honor of Mrs. Theodore Sanford, of Benton, a recent bride, who was the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Alexander. On entering the garden, Mesdames George Crafton, A. M. Nugent and J. C. Brann greeted the guests who were served punch from a pretty decorated table by Miss Dorothy Granberry, assisted by little Misses Susie Fall and Sara Alexander. J. Alexander.

Mesdames L. O. Bradford and Felix Bright invited the guests to write a wish in the bride's book. In a shady nook out in the garden Mesdames H. T. Alexander, C. S. Christian Revival

A. O. Colley, as the evangelist, of Greenville, Texas, and Jewell Cox, as song director, are now conducting a meeting at Central Church of Christ, of this city.

Large crowds are attending and great interest is being manifested in each service. Mr. Colley has many friends in and around Fulton, having spent the early part of his ministry in and around Fulton.

Live subjects are being used in these services such as "The Divinity of the Bible," "The Divine Origin of Man," and "How to Study the Bible."

Services twice daily, at 3:30 and 8 p. m., except Saturday. There will be three services Sunday, one at 11 a. m., 3:30 p. m. and 8 p. m. All visitors are welcome.

ENJOYABLE AUTO TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stuart, accompanied by their little son, have returned from an automobile trip to Shawnee, Oklahoma, and report having spent a most enjoyable vacation.

Mrs. R. M. Redfearn accompanied them on the outbound trip and remained in Shawnee to visit with her brother, Mr. P. M. Stuart.

"Johnny" says that the roads through Arkansas are the best he ever rode over and that after leaving Tennessee, all roads were fine. Oklahoma is having the most prosperous looking crops of its history, according to his observation, and the farmers there are correspondingly happy.

NEW BUSINESS FIRM

A business deal of interest was perfected this week when J. Kelly Wood and R. W. Lewis, two well known business men of Fulton, purchased the stock in the men's department of The McDowell Store on Walnut street.

It will be remembered that some years ago Mr. Wood was manager and owned an interest in The Globe Department Store, while Mr. Lewis was engaged in the grocery business. Both men are well known here in business circles and we welcome them back again and wish the new firm every success.

Mr. Percy McDowell will devote exclusive attention to his ladies' ready-to-wear store.

NEW SHOE STORE

Mike Fry, the veteran shoe dealer of Fulton, is making preparations to open his new shoe store in the old opera house building on Main street, about August 1. Mr. Fry will have associated with him, Mr. Bart Newhouse, an expert shoe salesman.

Mr. Fry is, perhaps, one of Fulton's oldest shoe dealers and it is needless for us to say that he understands the business from every angle, and will do his utmost to please the trade with the best of footwear.

The ladies say they like to have Bert Newhouse fit their shoes because "they fit like the paper on the wall without that pinchy feeling."

OPERATES ON COL. JOHN C. COOLIDGE

PRESIDENT'S FATHER, AT 80, GOES UNDER KNIFE

PRESIDENT AT PLYMOUTH

Special Train Rushes First Citizen of Nation and Wife to Parent's Bedside—Reassured by Cheering News From Physicians.

Plymouth, Vt.—After a most spectacular race by train and automobile across the New England hills and over the swollen mountain streams of Vermont, President Coolidge arrived at the bedside of his father, Col. John C. Coolidge.

Immediately upon his arrival at Ludlow he was met by son John with the information that Col. Coolidge, who has been so seriously ill that his life was despaired of, had been operated on to remove an abscess on the prostate gland.

Hurrying into an automobile the president was then driven as fast as the roads and the hastily repaired bridges would permit to the old homestead at Plymouth. There he met the physicians and was told that his father's condition was satisfactory. The bulletin issued by the physicians immediately after the president's arrival read:

"An operation has been performed upon the president's father and his condition is satisfactory."

The statement was signed by Doctors A. L. Chute, J. F. Coupal, C. F. Ball, C. E. Swift and A. M. Cram.

It was a guarded statement that really told nothing but that Col. Coolidge had found relief for a time from the terrible suffering which he has undergone.

Col. Coolidge was operated on recently by Dr. A. W. Cram, his physician, and Dr. C. F. Ball, a specialist from Rutgers. Only a local anaesthesia was given and the patient joked and talked with the surgeons as they performed the operation, which they announced was satisfactory.

Continued unfavorable reports followed later by definite word that his father was in a critical condition led the president to make the decision to go at once instead of waiting until July 7, the anniversary of the death of his son, Calvin. The presidential party included President and Mrs. Coolidge, Col. A. Cheney, his military aide, and secret service men, Everett Saunders, his secretary, and other members of his staff were left behind at the summer White House in Swampscott.

Col. Coolidge, a picturesque New England character, 80 years old, who has steadily preferred to live in his simple Vermont home to residing with his son in the White House, has not been well for several weeks. His condition becoming suddenly worse when, his physician, Dr. A. W. Cram, of Bridgeport, a small town near Plymouth, called the president over the telephone and informed him it would be advisable for special medical assistance to be sent from Boston.

STORY OF BRIBES TOLD BY FEDERAL PRISONER

Claims Money Raised to Get Easy Assignments

Atlanta—A Christmas present of $5,000, a "legitimate loan" of $10,500, and solicitation of contributions for a "widows and orphans fund" were told of in federal court here in the trial of L. J. Fletcher and Thomas P. Hayden.

Fletcher, former deputy warden and Hayden, former chaplain of the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary, are now charged with conspiring to accept bribes from wealthy prisoners for special privileges.

Willie Haar, inmate of the prison after conviction at Savannah, on liquor violation charges, testified that he and Maunie Kessler, wealthy convict from New York, had offered to give the then warden, Albert E. Sartain, and Fletcher, his deputy, a Christmas present of $5,000 in December 1924. The offer was declined, Haar declared.

Sartain, convicted with his friend, Lawrence Rhall, of conspiracy to accept bribes while he was warden of the prison, is slated to testify for the defense.

Heir is Given Grant

Rome—The Chamber of Deputies discussed the bill to confer an appanage of two million lire a year on the Prince Piedmont, the heir apparent. The Communists protested against the proposal, but the protest only gave rise to an enthusiastic demonstration in favor of the royal family. The bill was passed amidst enthusiasm by the whole Chamber, with the exception of the Communists.

A Marked Improvement in Mowers

You who have used the ordinary mowing machine will truly appreciate the high, easy lift on the John Deere. It is so easy to operate that any boy old enough to drive a team can run the John Deere and do it just as easily and as thoroughly as you can.

John Deere High-Lift Mower

With the foot lift the bar is quickly and easily raised from 25 to 35 inches at the cutter end. And with the foot lift and hand lift combined the bar is raised 44 inches. Ordinary or unusual obstructions are easily cleared.

A great feature, particularly in rough uneven fields or on roadsides, is the great flexibility of the cutter bar. It hugs the ground and operates perfectly with the cutter end several inches above or below the inner end.

Before you buy a mower we want you to see the John Deere. You want a good machine. We think we have the best. Give us a chance to show you.

TRUE HOME TOWN PATRIOTISM

PATRIOTISM, like other homely virtues, begins at HOME. It is only given to the few to serve in HIGH places. But all of us have the opportunity to serve at HOME. Loyalty to the HOME town is the test of REAL patriotism. When we fail to support Home Trade and Home Industries we fail in our loyalty to our country and to ourselves. Great are the rewards of Home Town Patriotism. Great are the results of it. It brings prosperity to us and ours, employment for all, activity in business and progress in every direction. With "Our Town First" as our slogan, our progress is assured.

DECLARATION SIGNED BY MEN OF ALL AGES

Few Graybeards Among the Nation's Founders

Many people think of the signers of the Declaration of Independence as graybeards, old in years, ripe in wisdom and endowed with the vision which decades of experience is supposed to bring. None of the 56 men who finally affixed their signatures to this important declaration, pledging to its support their lives, fortunes and sacred honor, was old enough to be suspected of senility, though a few were so young that they might be liable to a charge of immaturity of judgment.

John Hancock, president of the congress, something of a "blade" and none too conservative in his attitude on some important matters, was only thirty-nine years old when the general congress assembled in Independence hall, Philadelphia, to consider the wording of the historical document. The oldest man in the congress was Benjamin Franklin, who had passed his seventieth birthday only six months before. The youngest was Edward Rutledge of South Carolina, who attained his twenty-seventh birthday in the November following the famous Fourth of July; Thomas Lynch, Jr., of the same state, was his senior by only a few months.

Of the whole number, but seven had passed their sixtieth year; nine were between fifty and sixty years old, 19 were between forty and fifty, and the same number, 19, were between thirty and forty. The first mentioned were the only ones under thirty years of age.
The average age of the members of the general congress was 43.87 years. It has been remarked that there were enough young men to furnish enthusiasm, enough middle-aged men to check indiscreet action and enough well-matured men to balance this most important conference.

The first of the signers to die was Button Gwinnett of Georgia, who lived only until May 27 of the following year. Charles Carroll of Virginia was the longest-lived after that memorable date. He watched the new states grow in power and influence until November 13, 1832; so that some persons still living might have touched a hand which held the pen while signing the Declaration of Independence.

SELFISHNESS

Working together for the betterment of the community is little short of a waste of time unless individual selfishness is eliminated.

Everyone admires the man who is continually seeking means to improve his business, but he will have few admirers if he seeks to profit at the expense of community enterprise.

While a certain amount of selfishness motivates every piece of public spirited work, it is on a higher plane and places the common welfare above individual betterment.

Every man engaged in movements to increase the population of his home town expects to profit individually, but if he is working for direct benefits and holds his interests above those of the whole community he is a drawback and should not slow up the procession.

THE SAME OLD DELUSION

Taxpayers who have dreams of lower taxes through smaller valuations are due for a jolt when it comes time to pay the taxes because taxes do not depend on arbitrary values placed on physical property by appraisement.

The old delusion will never wear off. So many property owners still cling to it as the panacea for all of their taxation ailments.

The amount of taxes levied is dependent entirely upon the amount of money required to run the government, local, township, county, state and federal.

As long as our present system of taxation prevails, government expenses will be the measure of taxes needed.

If valuations decline, as the result of new appraisements, expenses remaining the same, the tax rate will be higher. If valuations are increased, the tax rate will be lower, but the amount assessed will be unchanged if the expense of government does not vary.

This is a law that can't be escaped. No end of slicing down taxation values will change it.

The only way to reduce taxes is to reduce government expenditures. This is a fact that every taxpayer should remember instead of building up false hopes when new appraisements are made.

THE PEON

By Howard L. Rann.

The peon is a bright subject of the Mexican government, whose principal occupation consists of raising fourteen distinct varieties of continuous and explosive hell. Not all of the Mexican peons follow this occupation the year around, but there are enough of them who prefer the warpath to plowing corn to keep your Uncle Samuel awake nights.

The only man in Mexico who was ever able to keep the peon in a subdued and docile state was the late Porfiro Diaz. Mr.
Diaz was a stern man with a jaw, shaped like a cement block, and he always got in the first lick, as Macaulay would say. Whenever Diaz heard that a bunch of long haired peons had become fired with patriotism and American whisky and were about to uprise, he did not wait to confirm the report by letter. He started for the scene of the uprising before daylight, and when he had finished what he had to say the still forms of his enemies could be seen draped over the neighbors' fences for a distance of six miles. Nobody ever tried to spring a revolution on P. Diaz without being taken home to his family in a gunny sack.

The Mexican peon lacks a great many things in order to make him a desirable companion and a household pet. Two of the things he lacks most are education and soap, and it is hard to say which would do the most good. Opinion is divided. Americans who have lived in Mexico for any length of time say that compulsory bathing introduced at the point of the bayonet, would do more to civilize the peon than a campaign for consolidated schools.
Many peons are peaceful and willing to work occasionally, if left alone, but they are overawed by their warlike brethren, who would rather shed their alcoholic breath on the field of battle than plant one acre of Early Ohio potatoes.

The only difference between the peon and the Filipino is that the latter has quit erupting for the time being. Both would be better citizens if a few of their leaders could be erned by the utmost conservatism, we are human under all our solemnity, and naturally welcome an opportu-

of our firm. We take this occasion to express our gratitude for the many evidences of approval and apprecia-

The Teeth Stay Tight

They are held rigidly, everlastingly, in place by the strong John Deere lock clamp. Each tooth is drawn tight into the bar by a large bolt and nut. The nut can't come loose because of the strong tension lock.

John Deere Universal Harrow

Teeth are large, diamond style, dagger-pointed. Great penetration and great strength.

It's a U-bar, steel harrow—great strength without useless weight. Strong, well-braced rigid construction—no sagging after years of service.

Especially adapted for strong, rooty ground or for orchard and vineyard work. Levers have spring relief which prevents the harrow from being damaged when striking obstructions. End rails prevent tooth bars from catching on trees or vines when working in orchard or vineyard.

We recommend this harrow for the best of work and the longest wear. We can furnish it in one, two, three and four sections.

SQUELCHES HOPES OF CANCELLATION

LOWER TARIFF OR CURTAILING PRODUCTION UNPOPULAR

NO SHIFTING OF BURDEN

President Feels That Any Plan Which Would Make the U. S. Pay the Reparations or Assume Debt Unwelcome to Americans

Swampscott, Mass.—Effort on the part of debtor governments to force the United States to either cancel its war debt or indirectly pay Germany's reparation payments by lowering the tariff wall and curtailing production in the United States were emphatically squelched by President Coolidge.

His principal attack was directed toward statements made in Brussels by Sir Joshua Stamp, eminent British financial authority and one of the English members of the Dawes reparations commission. Sir Joshua, in his speech, declared that unless Germany could sell her productions she could not comply with the Dawes plan, and in consequence the foreign debtors of the United States would be unable to pay that country. As a remedy he proposed that the United States lower the tariff and thus curtail production so that Germany could sell her products in this country.

It is President Coolidge's opinion, gained from a reading of press reports and editorials, that this suggestion of Sir Joshua's is simply another effort on the part of Europeans to provide some method by which the reparations which Germany is required to pay to the allies could be collected from the people of the United States.

According to the official spokesman the president does not believe that the American people would take kindly to any plan which would force them to pay the reparations, even if it were done indirectly. The president feels, the spokesman said, that there have been too many left-handed methods advanced in Europe, all of which have as their main object the forcing of the United States to pay the reparations by some means or other or cancel her war debts.

The spokesman pointed out that President Coolidge realizes the condition which the world is in at present and fully understands that the United States must bear its share of the general suffering and inconvenience growing out of the war. At the same time, it was said, the president feels that any plan which would make us pay the reparations or cancel the war debts would be certainly opposed by the citizens of the country.

In connection with the proposal to revise the tariff downward the president is represented as being very proud of the great gains in American commerce since the war, and it is known he has been recently advised that the most recent figures in this connection show that importations to this country are 50 per cent greater than they were before the war.

President Coolidge's present attitude on reparations developed at White Court almost immediately in advance of a flying visit made by Vice President Dawes, who dropped off for a half hour's chat while motor-ing from Kennebunk Maine, to Boston, where he spends the evening with Owen D. Young, his associate on the reparations commission.

RECOVER TWO BODIES FROM THEATRE RUINS

Kansas City—Firemen found the bodies of two unidentified men in the smoldering ruins of the Gillis Theater building, which was demolished by an explosion and fire. Each was badly charred.

The bodies were found under a pile of debris in a restaurant in the theater building. They were taken to a morgue, where efforts to identify them will be made.

Harry Likely, a cook, and Fred Warner, a waiter, in the restaurant owned by Bert Sanderson, have been missing since the blast. A negro porter also is unaccounted for.

The finding of the bodies brought to three the number of casualties resulting from the explosion. John Hogan, fireman, was killed when a fire truck on which he was riding overturned while en route to the scene.

The cause of the blast has not yet been determined.

Civil Courts Win Point.

Honolulu.—The civil courts won a point in a legal tilt with the United States Army over the imprisonment of Walter Trumbull and Paul Crouch, alleged soldier communists, when United States Attorney Chas. Parsons announced that they would be held here pending a hearing, instead of being taken to Alcatraz prison aboard a transport, as had been intended.

Indicate That Battle Is

Foz, French Morocco.—An official communication issued concerning the operations in Morocco, says:

"The offensive which the enemy has been developing since June 23 in the eastern sector of our front has hurled itself against our forces everywhere, but despite the violence of the attack of the dissident tribesmen and a considerable number of regular warriors put in the line on the vast front between Cheyab and the Algerian frontier, the offensive everywhere has been checked.

"We are witnessing a new Riffian attempt to force our line of resistance. It must be borne in mind that these regions are defended by a covering force of friendly tribesmen and supplementary forces, which not only have energetically resisted but also in certain sectors have counter attacked brilliantly, forcing the enemy to retreat.

"In the region between Cheyab and Bou Karoun, dissident tribesmen, succeeded in pushing back for several kilometers our native covering troops who furnished most brilliant resistance during four days and established contact with our troops posted north of Oulla and Bab Moroug Sop in the region between Dar Caid Medroeth and Bou Mhiris. An action engaged in recently turned clearly to our advantage. Partisans for the second time in several days inflicted a bloody setback to the enemy."

"The communication adds that throughout the whole region the tribesmen and supplementary forces have shown rare military qualities and perfect organization. It says Gen.
Cambay (of the French forces) has stubbornly resisted the tribesmen and by fortunate dispositions has been able to hold a front of more than 100 kilometers (about 60 miles) with the help of partisans and supplementary forces and aviators.

CARLOAD OF LIQUOR SEIZED AT ST. LOUIS

E. L. Flannigan, Suspected Rum Ring
Head, Arrested

St. Louis.—A refrigerator car loaded with whiskey, gin and wine, consigned from a point in Louisiana to St. Louis, was seized by prohibition agents in the terminal yards here.
The liquor was divided in lots of six bottles. Each lot was wrapped and tied in a gunny sack and the sacks were placed in barrels with straw as protection against breakage. Barrels of green corn occupied the center of the car as a screen against the contraband goods.

The agents announced that the car had been consigned by E. L. Flannigan to William A. Pahl & Company, commission merchants here. "Flannigan was arrested by agents in New Orleans, several days ago as he was at a railroad station to board a train for St. Louis.

Flannigan, an Englishman, is suspected of being the chief in this country of English and Scotch distilleries, supplying St. Louis and other American cities.

The seizure was made by J. B. Matthews, prohibition agent from New Orleans and Agents Wolf and Lano, attached to Group Chief Goshorn's staff here. They followed the car from Louisiana.

LOUISVILLE, GIRL, 19, ELECTROCUTED IN BATH

SHORT CIRCUIT OF VIBRATOR FATAL WHEN VICTIM DIPS HAND IN WATER

Tragedy Occurs on Lorena Morrison on Birthday Anniversary—Twin Sister Discovers Body.

Louisville—Lorena Morrison hadn't been in the bathroom at her home more than five minutes when her mother knocked at the door for admittance. But Lorena, it developed quickly, was dead—dead on her nineteenth birthday—having been electrocuted by a small vibrator she was using to massage her neck.

It was by chance that the mother went to the door. Lorena and her twin sister, Helena, both telephone operators, were to help their mother clean their flat. Lorena decided to bathe first and to massage her neck because of a stiffness on the left side. She was filling the tub with water and, while waiting on it, was massaging her neck as she sat on the side of the tub. She had removed all of her clothing except an undergarment. Her mother, Mrs. J. L. Morrison, desiring to get something from the room, knocked.

"Lorena," she called on receiving no reply. She waited a moment and called again, "Lorena! Please let me in."

The unheeded calls attracted Helena. She peered through the keyhole. Lorena was crouched in the tub. Helena heard a splash as she started for the rear door leading onto a porch, on which faces the bathroom window. She grabbed an ice pick as she passed through the kitchen and with it pried open the window. She noticed, as she climbed through, that Lorena's position in the tub was changed since she had looked through the keyhole. Helena opened the door at once.

Mrs. Morrison and the twin thought at the first glance that Lorena had fainted. They paid no attention to the vibrator still clutched in Lorena's hand and still held against her neck. Mrs. Morrison called upstairs to Mrs. Marian Longridge, owner of the building, and Miss Margaret Shims, next door. They lifted Lorena from the bath tub and Mrs. Morrison summoned Dr. H. C. Hermann while the remaining three attempted to revive the victim with ammonia water.

Dr. Hermann saw at a glance that nothing could be done. Nevertheless, he called Dr. H. H. Hagan and for fifteen minutes they struggled to restore life. Capt. John Loran, with his lungator squad, were as powerless.

It is believed that Lorena, while massaging her neck, dipped her hand into the water to determine whether it was too hot or too cold, and that this resulted in the short circuit through the vibrator and caused her to lose her balance and fall into the tub.

Mr. Masterson, general trouble foreman for the Louisville Gas & Electric Company, determined by an investigation that the electric wires in the house, as in all other residences, carry 110 volts. But Lorena, by touching the water while using the vibrator, caused the entire voltage to pass through her body.

"Her body was discolored when I arrived," Dr. Hermann said. "From the time her sister saw her in the tub until the time they got her out the current was going through her body."

EX-CONVICTS MADE CITIZENS

Governor Field Restores Franchise to Hickman, Owsley and Clay Counties.

Frankfort—Three former convicts were restored to citizenship by Governor William J. Fields. They are Frank Crabtree, Hickman; James McIntosh, Owsley County, and William Curry, Clay County.

Crabtree was sentenced to life in the penitentiary for murder in May, 1910, in the Pendergast Circuit Court. He was paroled in January, 1922, and is now foreman for the Mount Company in Hickman.

James McIntosh, clerkman, was convicted last March in the Owsley Circuit Court of carrying concealed a deadly weapon. He paid a fine of $50 and served ten days in jail. Curry served five years in the penitentiary for false swearing.

Hickman—All plans have been perfected for the booster trip to be made out of Hickman three days by a large number of the leading business men of the city. State Files Answer in Protest Frankfort—Attorney General Daugherty filed with the Franklin Circuit Court the answer of the State Tax Commission to the suit of the Fiscal Court of Letcher County protesting against increases made in the assessment of the county. The commission said the blanket raises should stand.

They give double and triple thickness over the entire roof area—with the addition of a LOCK-BUTT to prevent curling or blowing up.

When laid, there is no part of a Super-Tite roof which has less than double thickness coverage—and—over 48 per cent of the roof area is triple thickness. This greater coverage, with the LOCK-BUTT feature, makes a roof covering which defies sun, rain, snow, wind or sleet. Super-Tite Shingles cannot curl up—blow up—nor can they warp.

The groom is a civil engineer, now with the Nelson Construction company. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Riley, of Granberry, Texas.

COLLECTORS EAGER TO GET MEMORIAL COINS

An interesting question under debate among coin collectors is the probable money value of the Stone Mountain Memorial coin on the completion of the great monument. Various anniversary and exposition coins put forth by the government for individual states are now held at from three to ten times their face value. The Alabama centennial coin, less than three years old, sells, it is said, among the informed, for five dollars. The government once issued five million one dollar gold pieces, and but five for they proved to be hard to count in quantities and easily lost. They have long since entirely disappeared from circulation, and are almost as scarce as blue moons. They are extremely valuable.

Many circumstances unite to make the Stone Mountain coin the most valuable of its kind in America. There is, to begin with, an overwhelming sentiment behind it; one that will bury it among the family treasures and heirlooms for all time. It is estimated that ninety-five per cent of the issue will disappear in this way. The remainder will be held aboard as gifts from friends or gathered up eagerly by collectors who recognize that the enormous advertisement afforded day by day for years by the progressing work will bring a constant demand. The crowds that visit the mountain in even the unfinished stages of the monument, would, in time, buy the entire issue.

A well-known southern business man discussing this subject, said: "If I had a young child or grandchild to provide for, and were looking for a safe investment, I would be inclined to these Memorial coins. Ten thousand of them would cost me ten thousand dollars, but in a pinch they would always have an instant collateral value of five thousand dollars. I am confident that the child of ten now, coming into possession of the coins at twenty-one, could sell them at the foot of Stone Mountain for fifty thousand dollars."

TOBACCO NEWS

The final week of the tobacco season accounted for 135,000 pounds delivered, a total for the season of 3,155,095 pounds.

The officials are of the opinion that the above receipts account for virtually all the 1925 crop of members of the Dark Tobacco Growers Association in this district, and also feel that the farmers responded promptly to the last effort of the Association to take care of the members.

The prizery is working full time and to date there have been prized 700 hogsheads, and it is hoped that the entire crop will be taken care of by the fifteenth of July.

Judging from the number of bulks and baskets in sight, the uninitiated will be apt to think that the officials are a little optimistic, but with the floors clear and all hands giving their full attention to the job of pricing, the job may be finished on schedule time.

Lesson for July 5

THE BEGINNING OF FOREIGN MISSIONS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 13:1-12
GOLDEN TEXT—And He said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature.—Mark 16:15

PRIMARY TOPIC—Two Men Become Foreign Missionaries

JUNIOR TOPIC—How Foreign Missions Began

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Beginning of Foreign Missions

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Holy Spirit in Foreign Missions

I. The Gifts of the Church at Antioch (v. 1).

Young as Antioch, the new religious center was, she had prophets and teachers. In Eph. 4:8-12 Paul declares that when Christ ascended He gave gifts to men for the purpose of perfecting the saints unto the work of the ministry. This shows that the church does not exist for itself, but for service to others. Christ, the head of the church, came not to be ministered to, but to minister and give His life a ransom for many (Matt. 20:28).

II. Barnabas and Saul Sent Forth (vv. 2-3).

These were the first foreign missionaries sent out. While the five ministers were praying and fasting, the Spirit of God commanded them to send forth Barnabas and Saul. The work of evangelizing the world was laid so heavily upon these men that they refrained from eating in order to seek the will of the Lord in prayer. This is the kind of fasting that meets God's approval. From the fact that they were directed to send forth those whom the Spirit called, we learn that the real call to Christ's service comes from the Spirit. The Spirit called and the church seconded the motion by sending those who were called by Him. The church should be constantly seeking the mind of the Spirit relative to the sending forth of laborers into the vineyard. The Spirit called and the church sent the very best men from the church at Antioch. These men seem to have been ready to go for they rendered instant obedience. This should be our attitude toward the Lord's work, holding ourselves in readiness for the immediate execution of His commission. Those who have received the Spirit's call are not taken by surprise when the church sets them forward to their specific work.

III. Preaching the Word of God in Cyprus (vv. 4-5).

We are not told as to why they first went to Cyprus, but we are left to infer that it was owing to the fact that it was the home of Barnabas. He was acquainted with the count and people, and could thus be assured of a respectful hearing among them. Besides it is most natural that those who have heard the good news to go with it first to their kindred and friends. Andrew first went to his brother, and the man, out of whom the demons were cast was denied the pleasure of his request to follow Jesus. Christ commanded him to go home and tell what great things the Lord had done for him (Luke 8:39). As they went forth they carefully carried out their commission for they preached the Word of God, not current history, philosophy, ethics, etc. Those who are faithful to God will never preach anything but His Word. The great need today is Spirit-called, Spirit-filled men preaching God's Word. In fact Spirit-filled men will preach nothing else. The opposer of God and Christ can be successfully met by this means.

IV. Withstood by Elymas, the Sorcerer (vv. 6-12).

Sergius Paulus, the deputy, invited Barnabas and Saul to tell him of the Word of God. Elymas maliciously sought to turn his mind from the faith. This is the first obstacle they encountered, but it was overcome through the power of the Spirit. This opposer is the same one who came to Adam in the garden of Eden, and Jesus in the wilderness. He is the enemy of God and man. He now sought to bar the gospel as it entered upon its career of the conversion of the heathen. Paul denounced him in the most scathing terms. He called him the child of the devil, denounced him as full of guile and villainy, pronounced him the enemy of all righteousness, accusing him of perverting the right ways of the Lord. Surely a man is never more of a villain than when trying to turn a soul from the gospel.

Our Life

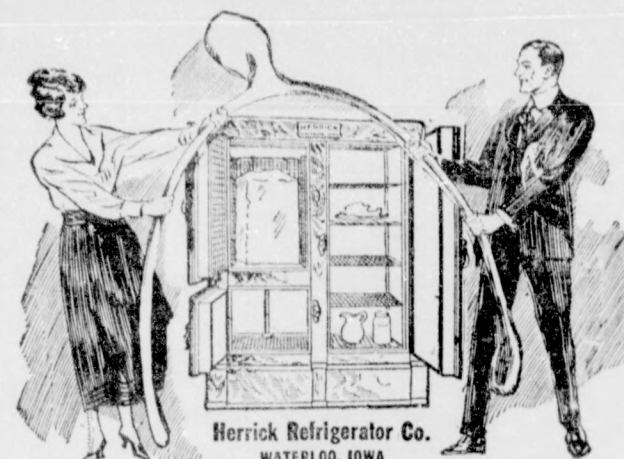

We are living now by justice, honor and mercy, by the moral mastery of ourselves and of our time; and this life while in time is not of time; it is life in God and for God; it is the life of freedom; it is free from anxiety, fear, doubt, despair, death; it is content with God and with its fate in God.—George A. Gordon.

HERRICK

THE ARISTOCRAT OF REFRIGERATORS

Your Biggest Wishes Answered!

You Get Extra Service if You Own a Herrick Refrigerator

There are two reasons for this double economy. The first is the HERRICK design, which insures a constant, self-purifying circulation of cold dry air throughout the interior of the refrigerator. The second reason is the construction of the HERRICK. From the kiln dried solid oak used for the frames to the lever fastener placed on the doors, everything that goes into a HERRICK helps to keep cold air in and warm air out, and strengthens its resistance to heat, dampness and deterioration.
