XMAS SPIRIT GRIPS FULTON!

APPROVE THREE CWA PROJECTS

Three CWA projects for this end of Fulton county have been approved by the state commission, and work begin Monday, according to reports from here. State Director Wilson has notified local authorities to begin work on the Union Church road, and 55 men will go on the job Monday. Two other projects have been approved, that of revamping Harris Fork creek and graveling certain unimproved streets in Fulton.

Notification from the state department to begin work on the last two projects is expected hourly. All three projects will employ 142 men in a state. About 550 men are on the unemployed list here. Workers will be notified to appear for work, on the basis of experience and capability.

A delegation was sent to Louisville Wednesday night, consisting of County Judge McMurry, Rev. C. H. Warren and "Rock" Taylor who made a survey for the creek project. The purpose of this trip was to expedite execution of these unapproved projects.

Several projects were presented to the Fiscal court of this county at a meeting in Hickman Dec. 5.

ROAMING YOUTH SUFFERS INJURED HEEL FRIDAY

He gave his name as James Bennett, and when you sized him up you would guess that he had not attained his 21st year long. But like the thousands of other youths he was roaming the country over. He dropped off the "blinds" of a train at the passenger station in Fulton last Friday night. While standing on the depot platform, a passing mail truck caught his foot, inflicting a painful injury to his heel. He wound up at a local hospital. After medical attention he went on his way. Where—no doubt if he knew himself.

ELKS HELD ANNUAL MEMORIAL SERVICES SUNDAY

The local order of the B. P. O. E. held their annual memorial services at the club rooms Sunday afternoon in memory of departed brothers. Since the service last year two names have been added to the departed list: H. F. Taylor Sr. and Ed C. Paschall.

Don W. W. Herron of Trenton, Tenn., made a splendid address upon the four cardinal points of the Order, which are charity, justice, brotherly love and fidelity. And to these he added "mother," the leader of the universe and man's dearest friend.

Special music for the occasion was provided by Miss Martha Norman Love and a group of her school chums.

BUSTER MCCLAIN SUSTAINED INJURIES TO RIGHT LEG

Buster McClain, 21, sustained severe injuries Friday night when his horse ran away with him as he approached a school bus. His horse sidled into the moving vehicle, and his right foot was crushed. The young man, who is the son of Mrs. John Smoot of near Fulton, was taken to the Fulton hospital where Dr. Haws and Luten performed an operation in an attempt to save amputation of the foot. The large bones in his ankle were broken as his leg struck the side of the truck.

A blood transfusion was necessary Thursday morning, and his condition was reported critical.

BROWN POGUE BURIED IN GRAVEL SLIDE MONDAY

Brown Pogue of near Dukedon was seriously injured Monday morning at Gravel Point, east of Austin Springs, when about eight tons of gravel caved in and buried him beneath its weight. Workmen scratched him out in time to save him from suffocation, and he was rushed to a Martin hospital, where he is reported in a semi-conscious condition, suffering internal hemorrhages.

INDEPENDENTS PLAY

The second team of OK Independents basketballers were defeated last Wednesday night by Christm Glad's first team. The local boys are steaming up for a big season.

New Council Takes Oath

A spirited meeting of the Fulton city council was held at the city hall Monday night when City Judge Lon Adams swore in the new mayor and board of council for the years of 1934-35. Mayor Paul DeMyer and Councilmen Boaz, Irby, Phillips, and Reeds will serve again. Albert Smith and Murrell will go in as new members of the board replacing Councilmen Colley and Haney.

The two retiring councilmen rose to express their appreciation of the co-operation shown them during their tenure of office, and extended their services and co-operation in the future.

R. H. Wade, chairman of the city board of education, was present and gave reasons for suing for the school taxes. A delegation from East Fulton entered objections to the removal of street lights at the south end of Jefferson-st. Following which request the council ordered that street lights be restored on Jackson and Jefferson-sts.

The civil works program was discussed at length and the mayor was empowered to proceed as he deemed proper.

The city books are to be audited.

NEW COUNCIL IN SOUTH FULTON, DEC. 5

An election of a new mayor and board of council was held in South Fulton December 5th, with very little interest being displayed by the voters. Clarence Stephens was re-elected mayor, as were Roy Adams, W. E. Bauman, W. B. Davis and Abe Jolley for the council.

J. H. Lowe and Charlie Stallins were elected as new members to replace Irwin Grymes and Gus Houston.

SOUTH FULTON WILL PARTICIPATE IN CWA

It has been officially announced in South Fulton that that community will be allowed to participate in the civil works program of Obion county. Work is expected to begin immediately, as one project has been approved, requiring fourteen men and a foreman.

The project includes the painting of the city hall, bridges and fire plugs in South Fulton, and will require approximately fourteen days.

THANKSGIVING EVENT WELL HANDLED AT THE MISSION

On Thanksgiving afternoon The Mission was packed by a capacity crowd who heard Rev. E. C. Dees preach a splendid sermon. More than 175 members of the Sunday School were served a dinner immediately after the service. Even the sick and shut-ins were not forgotten as plates were sent out to them.

Mrs. Sophia McFerran, and her co-workers, were responsible for the sponsoring of the program, business firms and others co-operated in making the feast possible. Many children were made happy by the occasion, and enjoyed a real Thanksgiving feast.

Rev. L. W. Dodson of Memphis delivered the sermon at night.

THE ROTARY CLUB

In ringing words Joe Davis, who was in charge of the Rotary program Tuesday, told that body that civic interest in Fulton has been allowed to lose its former zest and enthusiasm, and he urged everybody to try to do something in the way of a forward step. Ernest Fall urged business men to get their Christmas decorations up.

J. O. Lewis and Leslie Weeks were appointed as a committee to arrange a banquet in honor of the Fulton high school football squad.

W. H. Collins gave a brief address on the work of the Kentucky Children's Home society.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Judd and sons James and Douglas of Nashville spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Edwards in the Highlands.

Mrs. T. B. Neely spent Tuesday in Paducah.

SOUTH FULTON SCHOOL

The basketball games between South Fulton and Martin have moved up to Thursday night instead of Friday. This was done to accommodate the Martin school. Their football banquet had to be postponed from Thanksgiving on account of the sickness of Supt. Taylor and Friday seemed the best time for them to have it so the South Fulton school agreed to change the date of the games to accommodate the Martin school in this manner.

Seniors have selected their rings and are looking forward to the time when they can wear them.

MYSTERIOUS DEAD MAN BURIED WHERE FOUND

After lying dead for days in a field near the Illinois Central coal chute, the body of an unidentified man was discovered Saturday. The ghastly remains were in such decay that a coroner's inquest was not held, and Red Cross workers here buried him on the spot where he was found.

For several weeks this man is believed to have inhabited the local hobo jungles near the New Yards. Officers here gave that man his walking papers many days ago. A few days later a Hickman county farmer reported a man of this description who he believed answered as a suspect in an Arkansas murder case. According to the story of the Hickman countian, that man carried two guns when he saw him, and said he would never be taken back to Arkansas alive. Remarks made by the stranger indicated that he was wanted for the murder of an Arkansas sheriff.

SANTA WILL ARRIVE BY HIS SPECIAL TRAIN SATURDAY, DECEMBER 23.

Gather around, one and all! Here's a jolly good tale, of interest to both little folks and grown folks!

Final arrangements were completed Thursday night for decorating the downtown business sections of Fulton in real holiday fashion. "Jays" colored yuletide decorations along the thoroughfares and in the stores will add zest and beauty to the Christmas spirit. Special lighting effects, massive arches will command the gateways to Fulton's business district, those to be erected by the Kentucky Utilities Co., which is being done through the co-operation of Fulton merchants. Extensive preparations have been made for the holiday season, with Fulton the mecca of Santa Claus land.

Plans for the decorations were worked out by the YWBA civic organization, which appointed a committee to foster a movement for the co-operation of business firms. The Elks Club, American Legion and other groups are also assisting in the work. A big community tree will be erected downtown on which there will be gifts for every child in this community, whether they live in Fulton or in the surrounding territory. So make your plans now to visit Fulton during the holidays.

Old Santa to arrive by Special Train. Accommodations have been arranged for his arrival on an Illinois Central System, which is co-operating in the gala yuletide celebration. Santa will arrive in Fulton in his own private railroad car Saturday, December 23rd, on his final tour of this section.

He chose to come by an Illinois Central train because of the safety and swiftness of accommodations. His train will be decorated in Christmas style, and will be laden with thousands of gifts which he will distribute Christmas Eve.

Every organization and individual in Fulton is urged to co-operate in sweeping Old Santa's sack so that the community tree may be well loaded. Those have gifts for the poor or donations may leave contributions with L. Kasnow, American Legion Commander, or Raymond Peoples, Exalted Ruler of the Elks. Both these organizations will contribute to the community tree, and assist in welcoming Santa. The Boy Scouts will help Santa in carrying out his duties while in Fulton Saturday.

Tuesday night at the Chamber of Commerce the annual meeting of the Fulton Building & Loan Association was held with the president T. M. Franklin presiding. After a routine business session, a round-table discussion by stockholders followed.

The old board of directors was re-elected: N. G. Cooke, W. P. Murrell, T. M. Franklin, J. D. Davis, Vodie Hardin, Arch Huddleston, J. E. Fall, I. H. Read, and Joe Browder.

After adjournment of the stockholders meeting the board elected T. M. Franklin as president. Other officers chosen were: I. H. Read, vice president; Vodie Hardin, Treasurer; Frank Carr, Attorney; J. E. Fall, secretary; W. C. Reed, Assistant Secretary and Mrs. Frank Wiggins, Bookkeeper.

Robert Wells Burrow, employee of the Ky. Utilities company at Paducah, sustained severe burns about the face and arms Wednesday while testing a meter at Clinton. He was brought to the Curtin-Neill hospital where he will be confined several days.

The accident was caused by a lead wire coming in contact with the meter he was testing, resulting in an arc which shot a mass of electric flames that caused the burns.

Mr. and Mrs. George Doyle returned Sunday from Water Valley, Miss., where they visited relatives and friends.

OUR OWN FRONT YARD

For the first time in years there now seems to be an inclination by our national government to stick to "our own front yard" more closely, and remain free from the tangles of foreign perturbances. As long as the world stands, and human beings are human, we shall be afflicted with individual and national greeds and bickerings. This should not become involved in the affairs of countries abroad, but should fight shy of these diplomatic and political upheavals.

It has always been our honest contention that the Versailles Treaty and the World Court could not stand up. You cannot legislate peace, no matter how hard we try, or how much we all want peace. It just cannot be done.

We Americans do not have the conglomeration of different governments to pester us on this continent that Europe does. Therefore, we are not bothered a great deal by internally disturbances, but our international channels of trades are often disturbed. Observers are claiming now that a new American policy based on grim realities can be discerned. Let us hope that this is true, for international political "pots" have cost American taxpayers untold billions of dollars.

The World disarmament conference at Geneva has broken down. World peace machinery seems to have definitely collapsed. Naval programs of Japan and Great Britain will give these powers full treaty strength by 1936.

Let us stick closer to home. Co-operate with other nations wherever it can be done to promote world peace, but keep its own powder dry now seems to be a definite policy of the present national administration.

OUR MONETARY POLICY

Anyone who has been following developments carefully realizes that one of the most severe fights in the history of this country has begun over our monetary policy. The leading bankers of the United States seem to have lined up in opposition to President Roosevelt and his monetary advisers. Skirmishes already have taken place, but it seems to us that the real important engagements are yet to come.

The fight, actually, seems to revolve around the question whether creditors or debtors are going to be favored in meeting the most of business recovery. President Roosevelt has taken the stand, in effect, that creditors—which include those of greatest wealth—should stand the greater part of it. Naturally, bankers and others would be the hardest hit. They want all debts paid so far as possible. Apparently they also desire the government indirectly to make good on some of the debts and pass the cost along to everybody in the form of taxes.

President Roosevelt's idea seems to be to balance debts with ability to pay as nearly as possible. We had gone on and on until the debts of the people could not be paid, and the attempts to collect them had wrought havoc with the entire economic structure. And as the house of credit began to tumble down, people who had nothing to do with contracting the debts were being thrown out of work, and they, in turn, were being rendered unable to meet their obligations, even when such obligations were reasonable and conservative when assumed.

Drastic measures, sane and sound statesmanship had to be exercised. With the entire economic and social fabric of our nation threatened—it was high time that some means be devised to set our topsy-turvy world on the road back to recovery again. President Roosevelt has made definite steps along that route, and we believe that a program will be worked out to bring even more results.

WAR AGAIN

Hugh Samuel Johnson, who incidentally wrote the draft act during the World War, had this to say recently:

"If we can spend 42 billions for the privilege of competing in a race with our people not one tithe as much as this lethal blight has affected them—all to the applause and cheers of those gentry who were busy getting theirs, then surely we can spend more billions to fight back this curse on humanity if it scrapes the bottom of the box."

"Nobody contested this spending," he said of the World War. "And for what? To fish Europe's chestnuts out of the fire. To lend fatuously at any demand. To equip our men bountifully for death. To lay the eggs of a vast international contempt. To excel in the race to send our goods and our precious manhood into a fiery incinerator of human hope."

This country is now fighting the gravest battle in its history—the battle against economic stagnation and degradation, and for the return of normalcy and the time when all willing to labor can earn a decent livelihood.

It is war again. War against a devouring economic monster. All must take up "arms" and do their part.

WELCOME

To the new officials of Fulton and Fulton County we want to extend our felicitations and congratulations. We wish them success in their new positions, and hope that they shall do their utmost in the interest of the people who elected them to office.

You have many grave problems before you. May you do your job well. When you were elected to the office you held, the people chose you because they believed in you. Now you must fulfill that faith by your honest, sincere efforts in their behalf.

You have accepted responsibilities—perhaps heavier than you think. In fulfillment of your duties of office it will be necessary to devote much of your time and thought. Public servants do not always receive the appreciation they deserve, but if you do your duty, and do it well, you can always have the satisfaction of having carried out your trust faithfully.

CONTROL

Kentucky, as well as other states, faces the problem of working out plans for control of legal liquor to take the place of prohibition. But there is something stronger and far more effective than our best regulatory laws. That is social custom.

Take beer for example. Indulgence of this liquor is now controlled by custom more or less. The people themselves in various sections of the country and various social groups, adapted themselves to legalized beer thus establishing a custom. When beer first made its legal appearance, everybody rushed out to "try" a bottle to "see what it was like." Then the newness wore off—the forbidden fruit was forbidden no more—so it became commonplace. Now beer is though no more of than a cold drink or a cup of coffee. The desire to drink it because it was "different" has faded, and now it is accepted as ordinary.

Customs cannot be established by edict. They must grow up. What the majority does in each group will eventually become the custom, as all customs are established. With prohibition out of the way, each of us will share the responsibility of setting up a custom, a standard.

Prohibition made drinking a vice, and was the means of stimulating other crimes. Repeal should not and cannot make it a virtue. It is neither for it is nothing more than an indulgence which adds pleasure to life for some people, while others don't need it and don't want it.

We should be neither forced to drink or not to drink by man-made laws. Personally, we believe that drink does no one any good, and the world would probably be better off without liquor. But we have it and shall always have it. So, if some must have a drink, let them be entirely reasonable, while they also be careful not to infringe on the rights of others as they assert their own. For when those in their cups cause insult or injury to others they violate reason.

The legal right to drink should imply the social right not to drink. "Party," a word-child of prohibition, should disappear with the Eighteenth Amendment. For drunken parties should be with us no more. Strong liquors should be so common with us that they will attract no more attention than a cold drink of water, which after all is the best thirst quencher. And if such were the drinking for the fun of it would lose much of its glamor. It is human that we should want that we cannot get, and make light of that which we have. It seems that distant pastures are always greener.

Fool-hardy persons who insist upon getting drunk, and making a public nuisance of themselves, deserve to be put in the "hoosegow" and fined for disorderly conduct. Those who try to mix whisky and automobile driving deserve a worse penalty for they are endangering the lives of others. We have no patience with the person who gets "stewed to the gills" then splits the highways open in a car. The man who cannot hold his liquor must be made to respect the decency and welfare of others, if he cares nothing for his own well being.

UNITED STATES HAS 32 PER CENT OF RAILWAY MILEAGE

If railway mileage were evenly distributed throughout the world, there would be slightly less than two miles of land area, and the United States would have only about one-fifth as large a railway system as now exists in this country.

For every 100 square miles of land area, the United States has 8 miles of railroad, as compared with 20 miles in Great Britain and Ireland, 20 miles in Germany, 16 miles in France, 11 miles in Italy, 2 miles in European Russia, 1.5 of one mile in China, 6 miles in Japan, 2 miles in British India, 2.5 of one mile in Africa, 3.5 of one mile in Brazil, two miles in Argentina and one mile in Australia and New Zealand.

The railroads of the world total 791,000 miles of which 251,000 miles or 32 per cent, are in the United States.

Illinois produces more agricultural implements than all the other states combined.

Contracts awarded for construction projects in the Southern states totaled $81,653,000 the three months ended August 31, according to the Manufacturers Record.

Approximately 273,000 passengers were carried into Chicago by the Illinois Central System during the period of the World's Fair.

You're The Loser

WHEN you allow Headache, Neuralgia, Muscular, Rheumatic, Sciatic or Periodic Pains to keep you from work or pleasure. You can't go places and do things when you are suffering—and the work or good times won't wait for you.

Why allow Pain to rob you of Health, Friends, Happiness, Money?

DR. MILES' ANTI-PAIN PILLS have been used for the relief of pain for more than forty years. They taste good, act quickly, do not upset the stomach, nor cause constipation, leave no dull, depressed feeling.

Thousands have used them for twenty, thirty, forty years, and still find that nothing else relieves pain so promptly and effectively.

Why don't you try them? Once you know how pleasant they are to take, how quickly and effectively they relieve, you won't want to go back to disagreeable, slow acting medicines.

I have been using Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for thirty years. No matter what kind of pain I have, they stop it almost instantly. Never without them in the house.

Mrs. Chas. W. Webb, Indio, Calif.

As a household remedy I have never found anything that equalled Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills.

Mrs. Silas D. Keller, Penfield, Pa.

I never found anything that was so good to stop pain as Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. I have told many about them and I find they are all using them.

Mrs. Martha Lucy, Davenport, Iowa.

I have been using Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for years. I keep them on hand all the time. I can certainly recommend them for pain.

Miss Audra Seybold, 241 W. 2nd St., Dayton, Ohio.

ADVERTISED GOODS LESS AFFECTED BY DEPRESSION

Advertised brands weathered the depression much better than non-advertised. Clarence Francis, executive vice president of General Foods Corporation, stated at a convention of the general executive staff of the corporation in Chicago.

"During the depression our company maintained its advertising," Mr. Francis said. "We found that this worked to our advantage, for as other companies lessened their advertising ours gained in force. We had less competition from advertising and profited accordingly."

"I believe that advertising is one of the greatest stabilizing forces we have. It makes it possible to stabilize prices and thereby helps to maintain employment and wages. It is the friend of the workers."
