Uncle Of Fulton Editor Dies Of Injuries

J. A. Bushart, For Years Proprietor of Martin and Union City Bakeries, Died Of Skull Fracture

John Almust Bushart, 67, carpenter, ardent hunter and fisherman, and for many years proprietor of bakeries in Union City and Martin, died at 2:45 Thursday afternoon, Feb. 22, in the Baptist hospital in Memphis, as the result of a skull fracture suffered Jan. 30, when he fell 15 feet from a ladder to the concrete floor inside the Lovelace-Farmer Co. building, where he was doing some repair work.

Mr. Bushart was taken from the Union City Clinic to Memphis the day after paralysis from the waist down developed. He never regained consciousness. He was born at Harris Station, June 15, 1877, the son of John F. and Eliza Hicks Bushart, and he spent his entire life in Weakley and Obion counties. As a young man he farmed near Gardner, Tenn., and years ago he opened a bakery in Martin operating it for many years. He moved to Union City 23 years ago, after purchasing the Dahke bakery, which was located where the C. V. Jones furniture store is now. He operated this bakery for about 12 years.

During his entire life he made a hobby of cabinet-making and carpentry, and had a complete wood-working shop at the rear of his home. On retiring from the bakery business in Union City, he became a contractor and carpenter. He had been in the best of health until the time of the accident. He was a member of the First Methodist church of Gardner, Tenn.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the First Baptist church in Union City by the Rev. W. A. Boston, and interment followed at East View cemetery in that city.

Mr. Bushart is survived by his wife, Bessie Crawford Bushart; two daughters, Mrs. Charles Scates of Union City, and Mrs. George Y. Phebus of Monroe, La.; one brother, W. F. Bushart of Midway; one sister, Mrs. Betty Gardner of Muskegon, Mich.; two grandchildren, Suzanne Phebus and Jerry Scates.

Mr. Bushart is an uncle of J. Paul Bushart, editor of the Fulton County News.

Weakley Farmer Held On Murder Charge

Woodrow Ridgway, Weakley county farmer of near Dresden, charged with first degree murder in connection with the shooting of Mrs. Elsie Hill, tenant on the Ridgway farm, was bound over to the April grand jury at a preliminary hearing in Dresden Friday, and remanded to the jail without bond.

Mrs. Hill died at a hospital in Dresden a few days after she was shot in the back over the division of some hay which she and Mr. Ridgway had grown on a partnership, according to testimony given by her 14-year-old son.

It was brought out that Mr. Ridgway had attempted to eject Mrs. Hill from the farm following the death of his father last fall, but the suit was decided in her favor.

1. January through March, 60c cwt. on whole milk sold.
2. April through June, 25c cwt. on whole milk sold.
3. July through September, 35c cwt. on whole milk sold.
4. October through December, 60c cwt. on whole milk sold.
5. The present 10c per pound butterfat in farmer separated cream sold will remain through September and will be increased to 16c October through December.

The above figures are a radical change in the subsidy program in favor of the farmers selling cream.

SERVICE MEN URGED TO GET EXTENDED LICENSES

Service men and women of Fulton county are urged to secure their extended car operator's licenses at once by Circuit Court Clerk J. E. Attebery at Hickman.

Such a license, he explained, is free and is good for six months after the war ends, but must be secured while the man or woman is actively engaged in service. Therefore, application must be made before a service man is discharged.

Anyone in the service who has Kentucky operator's license issued at any time since May 26, 1941, may get the extended license by applying in person or by letter to Mr. Attebery's office. The old license must accompany the application.

Stanford Urges Draft Forces To Observe Tydings Amendment

An urgent request to support legislation that would enforce observance of the Tydings Amendment, which has for its purpose the deferment of essential farm workers, was made by J. E. Stanford, executive secretary of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, in a letter to Kentucky Senators and Congressmen today.

Stanford said, "We are fully aware of the pressing needs for more men in the Armed Forces, but at the same time realize that hundreds of Kentucky farms are going to be unable to operate this year if the practice of taking essential and irreplaceable farm labor into military service is continued."

"The fact that the average work day of the farmer is almost double that of the war plant worker, coupled with the frequently repeated and apparently well-founded charge that many industrial plants are hoarding labor, convinces the farmer that he is the victim of rank discrimination and unfair treatment," Stanford declared.

He stated that farmers want no favors, that they seek merely the opportunity to do the job the government has asked them to do in connection with the war effort. He pointed out that "Farm labor is already so scarce that it is requiring about 75 hours per week for the Kentucky farmer to meet his quota of war supplies while industrial labor is plentiful enough to enable industry to turn out its quota with a 43-hour work week."

He called attention to press dispatches stating that Kentucky's draft quota for March was increased 25 per cent and that it would drain the state of available men under 30. "This especially emphasizes the need for speedy legislative action if the already wholly inadequately labor supply is not to be further seriously depleted," he said.

The Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation has been urging local Selective Service boards to abide by the clear intent and provisions of the Tydings Amendment. They insist to state and national Selective Service officials asking that really essential farm workers be deferred.

RED CROSS QUOTA $1,200 IN SIXTEENTH

The Red Cross quota for the Sixteenth District, which includes the city of South Fulton is $1,200. The drive in this district will be under the direction of Milton Counce, and business firms and residents will be called upon to contribute to the Red Cross war fund.

Red Cross Goal $7,600 In Fulton This Year

A quota of $7,600 has been set for Fulton this year in the Red Cross War Fund drive, which is an increase of $16.30 over last year. J. O. Lewis, local chairman points out. The drive will start here Monday morning, March 5, with J. D. Davis in charge.

Of this quota 38.2 per cent will be used exclusively in Fulton, while the other $4,700 will be forwarded to the national headquarters. Pillars call for a thorough canvass of Fulton, both the business and residential districts, and in order to meet this increased goal all will have to contribute a little more than they have in the past.

Fulton has never failed to reach her goal, and won't this time. The need is imperative, and the work being done by the Red Cross so vital on the war fronts, and at home in case of extreme emergencies.

1945 Support Prices Set In New Program

H. M. Pewitt, chairman of the Fulton County AAA Committee, has just received word from the State AAA Committee that the support price of $2.04 per bushel will be supported again this year for green and yellow soybeans, grade No. 2, or better, with not more than 14 per cent moisture content, delivered to country elevators or other producers' delivery points.

Premiums will be provided for lower moisture content and discounts for lower grades. Support price will be 20c per bushel less for brown, black and mixed soybeans.

PRICE SUPPORT ON SNAP BEANS AND TOMATOES

Kentucky Growers' support prices for the 1945 crop of snap beans and tomatoes were announced today according to M. D. Royse, Chairman of the Kentucky AAA Committee.

As was the case in 1944, a requirement of 1945 for the canner to become certified will be the inclusion in his contract with growers the state field run average price or the grade price (in the case of snap beans) announced for the State. The support price for tomatoes for farmers delivering tomatoes to canneries in Kentucky will be $24.00 per ton on a field run basis. This, said Royse, is the same as the support price in effect in 1944.

In the case of snap beans the price schedule differs considerably from that in effect in 1944, mainly due to the fact that the quality of beans for the last 2 or 3 years has been low. This has resulted in a surplus stock of standard or sub-standard grade and no surplus of extra standard or fancy grades.

The announced schedule provides two options for canners for use in meeting price requirements for certification. Under option A the Kentucky canner will agree to pay the grower on a field run basis $85.00 per ton for snap beans of the Refugee variety and $75.00 per ton for other varieties, except wax beans and black seeded varieties. Option B provides for beans grading 3 or better prices ranging from $85.00 to $140.00 per ton according to variety and for grades 4, 5 and 6 prices ranging from $35.00 to $120.00 per ton according to variety and grade.

Cannery operators desiring information on procedure for certification should get in touch with their local County AAA Committee.

CONGRESS BACKS THE FARMERS

The steady decrease in farm population since 1940 was brought to the attention of the Senate a few days ago when Senator Reed of Alabama informed his colleagues that the "farm population now is the lowest in 50 years. It has declined 4,748,000 in the past four years. Perhaps one-third of those leaving the farms have been inducted into the armed forces. The other two-thirds represent persons leaving the farms for work in the war industry at much higher wages than any possible wages in farm operation." Tydings of Maryland; Shipstead of Minnesota; Bushfield of South Dakota and Wherry of Nebraska, joined in the discussion. Senator Tydings was emphatic in declaring that "there is no authority to draft a man who is employed in essential agricultural endeavor and for whom there is no replacement available; that is the law of Congress." He added: "Anybody in that category who is taken from the farm is taken from it in violation of the supreme law of the land." Senator Reed positively declared that "there is no power in the Executive arm of the Government to repeal an Act of Congress." He accused Byrnes, Hershey, McNutt and others with having unlawfully attempted to set aside the law of Congress.

On the same day a similar discussion took place in the House of Representatives in the course of which Representative Carlson of Kansas, asserted that the "farmers of our Nation have patriotically cooperated in the past" and are they are hampered by the fact million jobs after the war" will be that "farm machinery has become obsolete and badly worn and new farm machinery is being curtailed." He added: "We not only need farm machinery, but we must have a greatly increased supply of repair parts." It is clearly apparent that Congress is backing up the farmers in their troubles with the "Tops" of the Executive branch of the Government.

TIME TO THINK ABOUT THE HOME FRONT

The number of persons listed as "gainful workers" in 1940 totaled around 52 million, and the figures included about 9 million engaged in agriculture, a large part of whom worked as members of families—and not as employees. Director James F. Byrnes recently reported to the President and Congress that the United States "added 18 million persons to war activities." Most of these additions were in transfers from civilian to war production—which indicates that 10 million jobs after the war" will be more than enough to keep all the wheels rolling 'round, and the offices and stores tied-up.

Apparently, about the first job is to move 18 million war workers, and all the other millions of men and women employed in the Army, Navy and Airforce, into new places—back into civilian life and employment. Director Byrnes reports that "we have invested more than 20 billion dollars in new or expanded industrial plants."

When one figures-out-these-figures there is only one conclusion—and it isn't a political problem, either. It's a problem for the whole American people. The Government found it necessary to invest that 20 billion dollars in war production plants, and in doing so it scrapped a large part of the machinery that was being used to make civilian goods.

Capitalism is the formula upon which we must depend to create job opportunities, because it is the best formula yet found to create for customers all the things they want. That means jobs, and more jobs; for big business, and small business. It is the established method for the development of natural resources; through the call upon every region and State for raw materials and products; for the placing of our people on terra firma. The road ahead was laid down a long time ago, and it is ready to carry its new loads. The Government will help, but not manage and ration the affairs of our people in Peacetime.

HEROES OR COWARDS?

The People's Lobby, Inc., whose title is self explanatory, and whose head office is in Washington, has called upon Congress to "sponsor legislation to make processors and distributors of farm products agencies of the government . . . Three years, experience with policing have shown . . . that government control or direction of processing and distribution of farm products . . . is essential. The cumulative chaos which threatens the nation at the war's close, makes the adoption of such new measures now, so they may be operating efficiently and smoothly, then, imperative."

If the above statement represented the views of a few misguided theorists, it could be ignored. Tragically, it typifies the rising "money trouble" in which every debt-ridden nation finds itself sooner or later. As the value of money declines, artificial ways and means are sought to stem the tide. Attempts are made to throw a cloak of rules and price ceilings around luxuries and necessities. Pressure groups try to shift the squeeze of inflation to other shoulders. Everybody howls that the other fellow is making too much money. Each thinks he "could do a better job of rule writing than the stupid bureaucrats." The general apology is heard that the rules are a temporary expedient to safeguard an all-out war effort. Then, gradually as the squeeze tightens, a cowardly clamor rises to extend the rules indefinitely into peacetime. This country has reached the latter stage.

The present suggestion to make processors and distributors subservient to government, is nothing more than an attempt to sell out the independence of one group in order that another may live in ill-gotten comfort a little longer. After the processors and distributors, will come the producers and the farmers. At the end of this coward's path, is loss of freedom for all of us.

When the war is over, there will be just one course for the people of the United States, providing they feel that freedom is their most valued possession. They must demand that government get off their necks and give them a chance to face the risks of the future heroically, on their own feet.

THE CHOICE IS YOURS

The champions of state socialism in the United States are going to extremes in trying to magnify the importance of government-owned power dams. Their illusive statements lead uninformed persons to believe that without this government competition with private business, our nation would have been virtually incapable of its record war production. With this as a premise, they urge continued expansion of government in the field of business.

They do not tell the people that 80 per cent of the electric power in the United States was furnished by private enterprise. They are silent on the fact that in every section of the country which had no government power dams, not a single industry or household ever lacked for electricity when it was needed. They omit to state that the building of Federal dams stopped private power development in those areas, which otherwise would have occurred to take care of all power needs, as it did in sections without government dams.

Those who like the Russian system of government ownership of businesses have a right to their views, but why should the United States even consider scrapping our own time-tested methods of private endeavor which have demonstrated they can out-produce any of the production methods of the much publicized socialistic countries? Why should this nation be propagandized to promote an alien doctrine? Why not promote the American way for American citizens? Why glorify big government, when our nation was built on the principles laid down by Thomas Jefferson, that a nation is governed best that is governed least? It is an amazing situation when you stop to think of it. Why is it usually the non-producer who want socialism? Possibly because he is the kind who seeks bureaucratic authority to make the other fellow work in the socialized state.

KEEP 'EM ROLLING

The bulk of America's civilian automobiles must be kept running if a national breakdown in transportation is to be avoided. The tendency to neglect such details as recapping tires in time to salvage casings, can be calamitous.

The American Automobile Association states that passenger cars registered in 1941 totaled approximately 29,000,000. The registration figure for the end of 1944 is estimated at a little over 25,000,000. That means there has been a loss of approximately 4,000,000 cars since Pearl Harbor.

According to a recent reliable survey, automobiles are now going off the road at the rate of more than 3,000 a day. Twenty-five per cent of the cars remaining on the road are 11 years of age or older; 58 per cent of the total are 7 years of age or older. If greater numbers in these groups are taken from the highways in coming months, we may quickly descend or below, the 20,000,000 level which has been estimated as the rock-bottom figure for essential needs. The situation becomes all the more compelling because there is no likelihood of getting new car production in the spring of 1945, as was freely predicted a few months ago. We shall be lucky if we get production in the latter part of 1945.

Every automobile owner has a definite obligation to keep his car in the best possible condition and to hoard the priceless miles on his speedometer.

THE AMERICAN WAY

By George Peck

NATIONS, TOO CAN DIE!

The story has oft been told about the half-witted farmer who conducted an experiment with his horses. He had come to the conclusion that it was costing him too much to feed them, and so one day he cut down on their quantity of food. This seemingly did not adversely affect their health or efficiency, so he made a further curtailment, still with no apparent harmful results.

What this farmer overlooked was that his horses had been well fed over a long period of time and had built up a reservoir of fat, upon which they were drawing to carry on. So he kept cutting down gradually until, finally he quit feeding them entirely. One of his neighbors to whom he had boasted of his scheme, asked him how it had worked out. "Oh! The experiment was a huge success as far as I was able to carry on with it, but darned if the horses didn't die and I wasn't able to finish it."

It's a silly story, isn't it? It seems incredible that any farmer ever lived who could have been that foolish. Most certainly not an American farmer. Perhaps it really never happened.

But whether real or imaginary, there is a deadly parallel between that story and what is going on in America today. Our government has been conducting what it thinks is a new experiment. It isn't new because over the centuries many nations have carried on similar experiments and like the horses of the foolish farmer, those nations have died—all of them.

What those who are engineering this great American experiment have neglected to take into account is that nations are exactly like horses in that they too must eat. Nations do not feed on oats and grass but on taxes—taxes which are paid by the citizens to enable government to carry on its functions for the welfare and protection of its citizens.

Therefore, it would seem like exercising good horse-sense to make sure there always will be plenty of taxpayers, able to pay in to the government that very necessary feed money. Nothing should ever be done to cut down the number of individuals or groups upon whom government can levy taxes, and that is more important, be able to collect them.

Unfortunately, our American experimenters already have succeeded in whittling off a considerable number of former taxpayers and if their experiment is not called to a halt, eventually they will eliminate every one of them.

When the government takes over a privately-owned business or sets up a business of its own in competition with a private business, it wipes out some taxpayers, because a government-owned business does not pay any taxes. It is easy to realize then, that if the socialistic planners who are moving heaven and earth to have Uncle Sam take over all business in this country, succeed in carrying out their plan, this nation one day will find itself without one single taxpayer.

Just like the farmer's horses, this nation has a lot of fat on its bones, accumulated over a century and a half of nutritious and ample feeding—in fact, more fat than any other nation has ever had in all history. It is going to take a while longer to kill off America than was the case with those other countries that were seduced by the economic planners of their day, who painted rosy pictures of equal distribution of wealth and security for all from cradle to grave. But, longer though it may take to reduce America from its position as the fastest and most important nation of the world, to a skinny, underfed, insignificant country, that sad state of emaciation is inevitable if the starchy-eyed dreamers are allowed to continue to have influence at Washington.

The story about the foolish farmer who starved his horses may be pure fiction, but there is nothing fictional about the "planners" who either through sheer stupidity or with malicious intent, are steering America along a course that leads to starvation and death.

FULTON SOLDIER SEES*ACTION RISK TO FRANCE

Pfc. Thomas E. Alston, 304 Taylor-st., Fulton is with a Field Artillery Battalion of Lt. Gen. Jacob L. Devere's 6th Army Group on the Western Front. Members of the battalion are not novices in cold-weather fighting. They made their debut the hard way by landing on Kiska Island in the Aleutians on August 15, 1943, as part of an assault wave. After three months on the island in defensive positions, they were ordered back to the United States.

Arriving in Italy in March, 1944, the battalion received mules and reformed into a pack unit. Advancing into rugged Italian mountains where the Infantry was fighting tenaciously for each peak and hill the battalion became the doughboy's life-line for supplies and equipment. When the Allied armies began their crushing drive toward Rome, the battalion played a leading role by giving constant artillery support.

The battalion's present position in the French Alps is a climax of long specialized training in mountain warfare.

Standard Oil Helps In Program
To Keep Farm Machinery
"Fit and Fighting"

If our boys at the front are to be adequately fed and clothed, America (even than last year's record crops) with less help, and with fewer replacements of farm machinery.

The supply of farm labor is shorter than ever. Agricultural deferments are being cancelled. Machinery replacements are harder to get. This means that tractors, farm trucks and equipment—old and overtaxed though they may be—must be kept working every possible minute, if farm production quotas are to be reached.

"Our organization," says E. J. McCollum, local agent of Standard Oil Co., "is endeavoring to aid this program by helping the farmer keep his trucks, tractors and farm equipment in fighting trim. Our drivers have been trained to assist in preserving life of farm machinery. Tractor operators can secure from our drivers a free Wartime Maintenance Manual, that will help them keep their machines in the fields working, and out of the repair shop. I urge our farmer friends to take advantage of this service."

MARCH 3-11 IS NATIONAL
4-H CLUB WEEK

"Farm Youth And the War" will be the theme of National 4-H Club Week, March 3-11, as 1,700,000 rural boys and girls rededicate themselves to give their best during our Nation's crisis, G. L. Herington, State club specialist says.

Four-H Club week has the following three-fold purpose, Mr. Herington says:

1. Focus attention on what boys and girls in the 4-H Clubs are doing and can do to help win the war.
2. Lead all 4-H Club members to rededicate themselves to do everything possible during this critical war period.
3. Encourage other boys and girls to volunteer, join in, and help.

This is the season of the year when farm plans generally must be put in final shape, when planting supplies and equipment must be given final checking, when the farm-labor situation, the condition of farm machinery, the job to be done, must be faced.

Shortages in labor, machinery, and other essentials will make the part boys and girls must play in producing food, maintaining health, selling bonds, and other war efforts, more important than ever.

In the 75,000 local 4-H Clubs over the Nation, boys and girls and their volunteer adult local leaders will meet during 4-H Week to talk over and get going with 1945 war-time goals.

Following are some of the accomplishments of 4-H Club members since Pearl Harbor: produced 400,000 acres of home gardens, 33,000,000 poultry, 300,000 dairy animals, 1,600,000 meat animals, 200,000 acres oil crops; canned 47,000,000 quarts food; prepared 37,000,000 meals; collected 300,000,000 pounds scrap; bought or sold to others $140,000,000 worth of War Bonds.

FRIENDS—These lines are written just to remind you that the time has come for us all to pitch in and raise the 1945 WAR FUND for our American Red Cross. The money is required to enable the Red Cross to keep up for another year its magnificent work in caring for our service men and women in every part of the world, and in aiding their families here at home.

The Red Cross is supplying our boys in enemy prison camps with food, clothing and other necessities. It is securing whole blood and plasma in great quantities and flying it to the various war theaters to save the lives of the wounded. It is providing hospital workers, medical kits, beachhead canteens, first aid wherever needed, and emergency relief.

You and other members of your family probably are helping in some way with this work. So there's no need to tell you in great detail how important it is today and how it must be continued.

The President of the United States has designated March as Red Cross Month . . . the period for raising the 1945 War Fund. It is surely up to every one of us to give as generously as possible. No patriotic American will do less. Then we can feel that we're reaching out a steady hand to the boys who are fighting and bleeding and dying to keep safe our kind of civilization.

Cpl. Wallace D. Ruddle, 412 College-st., and Cpl. Thomas B. Younger of Hickman are with the 71st Railway transportation Company,
in the 6th Army Group, now moving in on Germany.

The 71st, an important unit in the 1st Military Railway Service, which supports all the troops of the U. S. Seventh and French First Armies on the Western Front, was activated July 28, 1942, at Camp Shelby, Miss. The 71st landed at Oran three days after the initial North African landings, while the firing was still going on. The company immediately took over the railroad station in Oran and supervised rail transportation between that city and Algiers.

Moving to Italy in June, 1944,
the 71st had the job of operating the Naples terminal and furnishing yardmasters, checkers, interpreter at the docks, rail yards and movement control offices and other personnel. Similar duties were assigned the unit when it moved into Southern France.

GOLDEN RULE

All things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye

Whatever is unjust is contrary to the divine will; and from this it follows that no true and abiding happiness can be gained by those who are unjust.—Stretch.

Sentinels
of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness,
getting up nights, swelling, puffiness
under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all ways out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys
get rid of excess poisonous body waste.
(See Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's, sold at all drug stores.)

JESUS TEACHES FORGIVENESS

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 18:21-35.

GOLDEN TEXT—If ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive
your trespasses.—Matthew 6:14, 15.

Forgiveness is the very essence of Christianity. In Christianity only do we find an adequate and proper dealing with sin, leading to forgiveness.
In Christ alone do we find that forgiveness, cleansing and regeneration.

Since God has so willingly and wonderfully provided for our forgiveness, it would seem that we would need no urging to make us forgiving in spirit toward one another.

Yet it is indeed "a melancholy fact that there are few Christian duties so little practiced as that of forgiveness. It is sad to see how much bitterness, unmercifulness, spite, harshness and unkindness
there is among men" (J. C. Ryle).

I. The Extent of Forgiveness (vv.
21, 22).

"How long do I have to stand it?"
is the question of the human heart,
especially if untouched by the spirit of Christ. The injustices of life, the offenses of our fellow men against us, all seem to pile up until the burden is about to crush us. What is the answer to man's question?

The Jews had an answer. He said three times enough. Forgive once,
yes. Again, yes. But the third time,
no. Peter was bighearted enough to more than double that allowance of mercy. He was willing to forgive not just two or three times, but seven times.

The spirit of Christ swept all of that aside. He said that one should forgive 70 times seven. In other words, Christian forgiveness is to be unlimited, to know no
weariness and have no boundaries.
If one really forgives, it is because he has a forgiving spirit, and that spirit is not exhausted by use, but rather grows by exercise.

A word of caution is in order at this point. Let no one suppose that our Lord's instruction means that offenses against the law of the land or against the good order of society
are to be overlooked and condoned.
It relates rather to the cultivation of a personal spirit of forgiveness, the laying aside of revenge, of malice, of retaliation which do not become the Christian.

II. The Motive of Forgiveness (vv.
23-34).

Two motives are given. The first is that since we ourselves are daily and hourly in need of forgiveness at the merciful hand of God, we should in turn be merciful toward those who sin against us. Compared with our offenses against the law of God, we know that the misdeeds of our neighbors against us are usually mere trifles. Remember what God has done for you, when you are tempted to be hard and ungracious
with your brother.

The second motive is the remembrance that a day of judgment is to come. There is always a time of reckoning ahead, even as was the case with these servants. Remember not only what God has done for you and is doing for you, but what you must yet expect Him to do in that day of judgment. It will make you merciful and gracious in your judgment of others.

Forgiveness has a fine quality
which commands itself to others.
Note the sorrow of the fellow servants (v. 31). There is, then, a social value in true forgiveness.

III. The Importance of Forgiveness (v. 35).

A man dealing with his fellow man is apt to think that it is merely a matter between man and man. We are not dealing with a straight line between ourselves and our brother (that was Peter's error), but with a triangle at whose apex is God Himself.

If I expect God to forgive me, I must let my forgiveness flow out to my brother. If I deal with him as though God had nothing to do with the matter, then I must not try to count God's forgiveness into the picture when I stand indebted before Him.

God does not play favorites. He is no respecter of persons. He is as interested in the other man as He is in me. The Christian should have the same spirit.

Here we need a word of explanation. Let no one suppose that our redemption in Christ is contingent upon what we do toward our brethren. "For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God; not of works, lest any man should boast"
(Eph. 2:8, 9).

Nor does the truth of our lesson mean that we are somehow going to bargain with God, trading a bit of our forgiveness toward others for His forgiveness of us. God is not interested in such transactions.
But it does mean that if you cannot or will not forgive, you may well consider whether you are a Christian at all, for it is Christlike to forgive.

"Thanks to Retonga I am feeling fine again, and my mother, who also has taken Retonga, is as enthusiastic about the medicine as I am," declares Mr. A. H. Quironet, well known railroad man residing at 11 Laurel St., N. W., Atlanta, Ga. Mr. Quironet is a Mason and a member of the American Federation of Labor. Discussing Retonga, he gratefully stated:

"For more than a year I dragged around feeling so lousy and run-down that sometimes I could hardly stay on the job. It seemed like everything I ate tasted like everything else, and gave me indigestion until sometimes I almost had to gasp for breath. I felt worn out, I had to resort to powerful laxatives regularly and sometimes I thought I would play cut before the day ended.

"Retonga promptly relieved all this distress, I now enjoy three big meals every day, I sleep soundly and I have regained 15 pounds. The sluggish elimination is relieved, and I feel fine. My mother used Retonga for poor appetite and a week, restless feeling. She now feels so fine she does her own housework. Retonga is a grand medicine."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to Vitamin B-1 deficiency, constipation, insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, and loss of appetite. Retonga may be obtained at DeMyer Drug Company. —adv.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, March 4, 1945.

The Golden Text is: "There shall come forth a rod out of the stem of Jesse, and a Branch shall grow out of his roots." (Isa. 11:1.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. . . . And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also." (John 14:2-3.)

His work is done, and we have only to avail ourselves of God's rule in order to receive His blessing, which enables us to work out our own salvation.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Faith, like light, should always be simple and unbending; while love, like warmth, should beam forth on every side, and bend to every necessity of our brethren.

—Martin Luther

ROBERT KOELLING WITH 15th AAF IN ITALY

15th AAF in Italy.—1st Lt. Robert K. Koelling, whose wife Peg W. Koelling resides at 102 Reed-st, Fulton, Ky., is a B-24 Liberator pilot with a heavy bombardment group which has flown more than 400 combat missions against the enemy.

This group, commanded by Colonel Q. Graff of Ada, Ohio, and based in Italy, first gained fame in the deserts of North Africa. Originally destined for combat operations in Asia, it was halted in Egypt and sent to the aid of the British Eighth Army, then locked in a death struggle with Rommel's Afrika Korps. From Tobruk to Tunis it struck at Axis objectives and for its outstanding efficiency and sustained performance was awarded a Distinguished Unit Citation.

The group has numerous "firsts" to its credit. It was the first USAAF unit to be based in North Africa, first to be based in continental Europe, first to attack the Italian fleet, first to bomb enemy held targets in Crete and Greece, and was the first heavy bombardment group to strike at military objectives in Naples and Rome. The group's bombing of the oil center of Ploesti, Roumania, in June, 1942, was the first effort by U. S. bombers against targets in Europe. A later mission to Ploesti, the famed low-level bombing attack in August, 1943, won for the group another unit citation.

During the past year the group has bombed many of the high priority targets of Europe including Budapest, Breslau, the Brenner Pass railway lines and bridges, Munich, Regensburg and Steyr. Strategic assaults have taken its Liberators over Germany, Hungary, Austria, France, Italy and the Balkan countries. For the outstanding bombing attack on the oil refineries at Bratislava, Czechoslovakia, in June, 1944, the group was awarded its third citation as a distinguished unit.

Lt. Koelling is a graduate Aeronautical Engineer of Texas A. & M. College from which he graduated in the June class of 1942. He received his pilot's wings in March, 1944, at Stuttgart, Ark.

Lt. Koelling is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Koelling who live at 210 South Maple-av, Centralia, Ill.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Baking good rolls or bread is no more difficult than baking a cake. It's largely a matter of having a good recipe and following the directions. Miss Florence Imlay, food specialist at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics, suggests the following:

- 2 cups scalded milk
  - 2 tablespoons sugar

7. Place dough in a large well-greased bowl, brush with melted fat and cover with a cloth. Set the bowl in a warm place and allow to rise until doubled in bulk.

8. Shape the rolls and place on a greased pan. Set in a warm place until when pressed with a finger, the imprint does not disappear.

9. Bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees, for 15 to 20 minutes.

Menu: Liver loaf with tomato sauce, baked sweet potatoes, string beans, mixed vegetables salad, yeast rolls and butter, and baked apples.

Chemical soil tests can be very valuable in determining the lime, phosphate, and potash needs of land. Farmers desiring to have soil samples tested should get instructions and containers from their county agent.
