SUICIDES.

Youthful Couple of Greenup County Take Their Own Lives.

Ashtand, Ky., Sept. 16.—As the result of parental objection and a suicide pact, pretty little Isabelle Zetron and her sweetheart, Tommy Bales, are lying with hands folded in two white caskets at the homes of their broker-hearted parents, near York, in Greenup county, and all the countryside is talking of the childish romance that culminated in the tragedy.

Tommy and Isabelle had been reared from infancy on adjoining farms, and had gone through school together. They had formed an attachment that was apparently deeper than their parents suspected, for only a few weeks ago they ran away from home and attempted to get married at the county seat, but were refused on account of their tender years, neither being yet sixteen.

Their parents learned of the escapade and refused to allow Tommy to see Isabelle again. But Tommy managed to see his child sweetheart and gave her a bottle of carbolic acid. Both agreed to take it at the same time if another appeal failed. Tommy was to see his own and Isabelle's parents once more and endeavor to gain their consent to the marriage, and, failing in this, he was to signal Isabelle, and at the same hour, Sunday midnight, both were to swallow the fatal draught.

The parents refused, and the children ended their lives. In the girl's room was found a note telling the whole pitiful story. They will be buried together today in the same burying ground.

Creditors Accept Compromise.

Referee E. W. Bagby, of Paducah, was here Monday where he had up the proceeding of Rufus G. Williams, who filed a petition in bankruptcy. Williams wants to compromise with his creditors and put up his check to pay the entire costs of the litigation so far as it has gone, $150. His schedule showed liabilities of $1,209, while his assets are $2,156, with $100 due in addition on outstanding accounts. He claims $800 worth of realty in exemptions and $386 in personality.

He offered to pay his creditors eighty-five per cent of their claims in full settlement and they accepted it, as this would amount to the same they would receive should the creditors prosecute the suit, force Williams into bankruptcy and grant him his discharge. This mode would have to be taken out of the estate, and in addition the creditors would have to wait many months before they got their money that cannot be paid ever to them.

Valuable Trunk Missing.

Paducah, Ky., Sept. 18.—A trunk belonging to Mrs. M. E. Gilbert, wife of the well known attorney, which was misplaced three weeks ago and the contents of which are valued at $300 at the least, is still missing and cannot be located.

Mrs. Gilbert left for Irvington, Ky., three weeks ago, in company with her sister, Miss Grace Payne, of Irvington, who had been spending the summer with her, to visit relatives. The trunk was checked for Irvington from Paducah, via West Point on the I. C. and from there to Irvington on the L. H. & St. L. road.

The trunk contained a diamond ring, valued at $100, three silk dress of Mrs. Gilbert's, valued at over $100, all of Miss Payne's clothes, Mrs. Gilbert's baby's clothes and other jewelry besides a lot of other valuables.

The trunk cannot be located by Mr. Gilbert, who has been looking for it since the time it was reported lost.

The I. C. railroad has sent and received hundreds of telegrams, but no information can be received of it.

In a Circus Tent.

The Paducah News Democrat of Monday says:

"A campaign speaking in a circus tent, may be the novel experience of the people of Murray September 23. Governor J. C. W. Beckham and Congressman Ollie James will appear there on that date and the John Robinson circus will also honor Murray with a visit at the same time. Doc Waddell, the press agent of the circus, is a great friend and admirer of Governor Beckham and has offered him the use of his immense tent for the speaking.

"Should the governor accept the offer it will be the first time that a circus tent has perhaps ever been devoted to such a purpose and the first time that a crowd gathered in the movable amphitheater has ever been called upon to cheer political oratory, instead of the daring feats of bareback riders and trapeze performers."

Dead Bodies Found.

McKenzie, Tenn., September 16.—The dead bodies of Walter Underwood and a young man named Allen were found on the side of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad near Henry Station at an early hour this morning. The bodies were near the track with only a few bruises about the heads and shoulders.

Underwood lived between Henry and Paris and Allen lived in Paris. It is supposed that the men fell or were thrown from the passenger train from Louisville which passes McKenzie at 5 o'clock. Another theory is that the men were killed and their bodies laid near the track. The bodies were picked up by a freight train and carried to Henry where an inquest was held.

D. L. Thomas has sold his place near here to J. M. Youngblood. Dave has bought a place near Hardin and will move to it as soon as he gets possession.

Richard Hurt has sold his place to Demps Travathan and will move to McCracken county, near Paducah. Travathan sold his place to Lake Cunningham.

Beckham Youngblood, son of F. M. Youngblood, is quite low of typhoid fever. His little girl is also sick of the same disease.

D. L. Thomas has several plows, tools, household goods, etc., for sale. Also about 20 acres of corn in the field to sell.

It was ordered by the committee that all pledges be returned to the precinct committeemen in time for them to have them at Monday's meeting. ### You'll Enjoy Monte Cristo.

Millions have followed the fortunes of Edmond Dantes, until he startled the world as Monte Cristo, but the interest of all who have seen the play is hardly less keen than the eagerness of those who have not. It is hard for a play-goer to imagine the effect of the revelation of Monte Cristo upon persons in the audience who have never seen it. If there be any such in this community they will have a chance to see the play at the Opera House, Murray, Kentucky, September the 23rd, Monday, when Fred G. Conrad's widely-known production of the version arranged and used by Eugene Moore will be presented.

Mr. Moore, who is one of the best Edmond Dantes living, prepared his adaption with great care to introduce all the best of the story that would be practical and effective on the stage. The company has been receiving excellent notices.

Obituary.

Mary Elizabeth Story, was born Dec. 20, 1847, died June 5, 1907.

She was from her girlhood days a high-minded, sweet-tempered and devoted christian, having joined the M. E. Church, South, at the early age of seventeen, in which she lived an earnest, conscientious worker until her death.

She was ever ready under any circumstances and at any time to go care for the sick and afflicted, to help the needy and encourage the distressed.

She was married to L. J. Story Sept. 19, 1863, and from that time until her death a more devoted wife was never found. She was ever ready to greet her husband with a smile and a welcome, look after his comfort and interests or to do anything to make him happy.

She had been an invalid for ten years previous to her death, yet she bore her afflictions cheerfully, always seeming perfectly happy and often spoke of having only a short while to live, that she was ready and willing to go to meet her Savior at any time.

She was stricken by that awful and much dreaded disease, paralysis, and was not able to say any thing to her friends and relatives concerning her death at the time. She leaves a father, husband, two brothers, two sisters and a host of relatives and friends.

We would say dear father, husband, brothers sisters and friends weep not for her. She is now in a better world, basking in the sunshine of the sweet smiles of her dear Heavenly Father. May your lives be such that when the Master calls you, he may say as to her, "Well done thou good and faithful servant, thou hast fought a good fight, enter thou into the kingdom of Heaven. There we will meet dear aunt Betsy again. There will be no parting, sickness pain or death, where the righteous shall live forever. A precious one from us has gone. A voice we loved is stilled, A place is vacant in the home Which never can be filled. MR. AND MRS. J. F. MADDOX.

HAPPY HABIT

Joe Mitchell Chapel Writes of a Remedy for Blues and Jealousy.

Nations have their periods of irritation and paranoia as well as individuals, and I wonder if we are not now going through a paroxysm wherein we gloat over the larks of sarcasm and shafts of bitterness until it seems that the atmosphere is surcharged with discontent, and all this in the face of the fact that the whole continent is blossoming under God's smile.

We cannot wonder if the ranters rant a little about the inequalities; there is no denying that they exist, but we are the authors of the iniquities, the outcome of a system inaugurated and maintained by ourselves. If we look things straight in the face, we must admit that this state of society arises simply from the fact that we are immersed in a spirit of pure selfishness and envy, and glowing with jealousy, the most reprehensible passion known to the human race. Now let's get down to fundamentals and make the race better, and awaken the good impulses that never are aroused in the scolded child—we cannot improve matters by bringing on a fit of the sulks.

The constructive force of the world is the enduring element. Who can have faith in the man who has no faith in the best side of human nature? We pity, rather than blame, the poor fellow who handles a scorpion lash from choice, like mistaken Rehoboam, king of Israel, when he rejected the advice of his father's wise old councillors.

Analyze further, and you will find that many malcontents are honest and sincere in their belief, and they carry the tribulations of the whole world on their shoulders, convinced that they alone know how to redress the wrongs and woes of humanity, though one cannot but wonder why the panacea is not applied.

Yet analyze farther still, and it will be found that when a man is like Ishmael his "hand against every man, and every man's hand against him," somewhere in his career is a painful personal experience that he has nursed into a lifetime grievance. I have seen in my work in public life men who have kept up a quarrel with all the vigor of a centuries-old feud, because of some slight offence to their personal vanity.

In fact, it seems to me that discontent and happiness are all a matter of feeling and preception. The same cause may arouse the vilest passions and the noblest emotions. On the other hand, how often, when one's actions are analyzed, it is found that what looked fair to the eye had its root in a despicable motive, scarcely known even to its possessor; and how often, beneath the smooth veneer of politeness and social custom is hidden the desire to fly at the throat of our brother man when he happens to differ from us, or to touch that which we regard as our own. The one thing that divides us from the barbarians is the fact that we battle with these animal impulses which they yield to as the right motive.

So we swing around again to my favorite word "equipoise," the state of being evenly balanced. "Our lives are kept in equipoise by opposite attractions and desires,"—Joe Mitchell Chapple in National Magazine for September.

Big Circus Next Monday.

This is written for the numerous class of old people who tell you, when you ask them, that they are not going to the circus—that they are too old for that, now.

Maybe you think now you will not go to the circus, but the chances are you will.

There's no getting around the fact that it will be hot and stuffy in the "big top." It is true that a strip of carpet doesn't make a very effective cushion for hard board. Two hours is a long time to sit, even in a "reserved seat," with an alleged back and rub elbows with other sweltering mortals. All the performance is liable to be very similar to the one you saw last year. It's all right for mother and the children to go if they enjoy that sort of thing. They can go with the neighbors and you devoutly hope they will have a good time.

That's about the way you'll feel the morning of the circus, isn't it, staid man of business? But you haven't yet got a whiff of circus day atmosphere. Wait till you get down town and see what an early start our friends from the country have made on what is to be a day of solid day of enjoyment. Wait until you bump into the man with the red and blue balloons, the man with the lomo and the man with the wienies. Wait till the sound of the band draws you to the window and holds you there while the glittering gorgeousness of the parade goes by. That's the time that many sensible resolves on the circus proposition go to pave the hot place. The whole business is a call back to boyhood. It is a call that always thrills. Wow! just listen to the calliope.

One can almost see you hastening home to luncheon and telling the folks that the crowd is going to be so big that you guess you'll have to go and look after the children yourself. And it will not hurt you, either. The John Robinson shows are one of the largest now touring this country. The big show will be here in all of its glory the fourth Monday.

Opens His Campaign.

Gov. Beckham opened his campaign for the United States Senate at Columbia Monday in the presence of one of the largest crowds ever gathered in the Eleventh district to hear a Democratic speaker. The governor's address was enthusiastically received and despite the fact that Adair county is a Republican stronghold, his speech made a deep impression and he was warmly congratulated on all sides. The speech in full is printed in this issue of the Ledger.

She Found Relief.

Doctors did me no good and I tried Herbine, and three bottles cured me. I can't say too much for Herbine, as it is a wonderful liver medicine. I always have it in the house. Publish where you wish."

THE DAY OF THE FARMER.

Useful Tiller of the Soil Has Come to His Own.

The farmer who is not an amateur is a really increasing factor in today's life. In fact farming is rapidly becoming one of the professions. We have our agricultural schools just as we have our law schools.

It is getting to be a business as well. Farmers have their trusts, like other manufacturers.

It is a far cry from the New England farmer, trying to arrange an exploded granite quarry into a stone wall that he may have room in which to plant his crop, and that master of capital, science and black earth ten feet deep who plows with a traction engine and reaps with a ten-horse team. And between these two types of farmers the drift is steadily toward the latter.

The comic paper does not laugh at the "stranger" as frequently as it used to laugh. It wants his subscription. The capitalist does not foreclose mortgages on the prairie farm now. He borrows money of its owner.

And, what is vastly more important, the entire country looks with a respect bordering upon apprehension on this new type of American who has decided views on railroads, trusts, and, in fact, on every subject from the "green bug" to the lecturer at his chautauqua. This rise of the farmer into national significance is welcome in view of the immigration of great cities by immigrants who have significance only en masse.

The farm is the nursery of individualism. If you are a cliff dweller in the city send your boy there, and let him see what it means to create wealth with the help of nature, rather than with the tinker. You will help make him a better American.—The World To-Day.

WHEN THERE WAS TROUBLE.

Just What Happened Between the Fat Man and the Conductor.

The stout man on the back platform declined to agree with the conductor. The conductor thought he hadn't paid his fare. The stout man was of the contrary opinion.

The exasperated words over the matter.

"I gave you a nickel when I got aboard," said the stout man.

"I haven't taken a nickel on this trip," said the conductor.

The stout man grew very red. His hair seemed to bristle.

"That's just enough of this," he growled. "I don't want to have any trouble with you. I had trouble with a conductor once. I'd hate to tell you what happened."

The conductor drew back a little and made no further attempt to collect the stout man's fare.

But when the stout man was about to alight from the car the conductor's curiosity was too much for him.

"Say," he asked, "what happened when you had that trouble with the other conductor?"

The stout man looked back.

"I was in the hospital six weeks," he mildly answered.

Missed the Bargain.

They were well gowned. Each looked as if she could buy a pair of sky scrapers cash down. As they hopped off the street car at Exchange place, Jersey City, Pennsylvania station, the going announcing the departure of a boat for New York sounded. You should have seen them run, pretty faces, small ankles, dainty slippers, white skirts, black hose, Cuban heels, etc. The rule man of the bridge banded the latticed gates to gether, and locking them in the faces of the divilites, turned away with a sarcastic grin, such as menials wear when they have the best of the proposition and show a little authority. "Oh, you horrid thing!" exclaimed one of the women; then she was heard to say to her companion: "We've missed that sale of clothes at three cents a yard. I had set my heart on buying three yards to make Archibald a new dress. I'm so angry I could cry—or swear."

A Tip to Smokers.

"Do you want to know how to smoke and smokes, and yet keep the room clear of all the fumes and odors of tobacco?" How to smoke in the dining room, the drawing room, your wife's bedroom, without leaving a single tobacco smell in the air? Well, I'll tell you.

Here the salesman took down a small ring of platinum.

"All you have to do," he said, "is to set this ring over a lamp and let it get red-hot. Red-hot, it will consume the smoke of a dozen cigars, keeping the air quite clear and sweet. With one of these rings in use, there is no ground for forbidding a man to smoke anywhere."

"It has long been known that platinum consumes tobacco smoke. I wonder that no one ever thought of the wonderful platinum smoke-absorbing rings before."

Tenderfoot of the Ocean.

Western farmer boys are fine, spirited fellows of good physique, but it is a melancholy fact that most of them do not remain in the naval service. The desertions, which are as creditable to our navy, occur chiefly among those lads who have never smelted salt water until they are sent aboard a training ship. They are the "tenderfoot" of the ocean, and acute homesickness is a rapid malady among them.—Boston Transcript.

WANT WHIST PLAYER BACK.

Chaplain Had Been Banished to Monastery by Superior.

The Metropolitan of Petersburg, Archbishop Antoni, has succeeded in earning the hatred of the card players of all Russia.

Every one plays cards in Petersburg, man, woman and child. The chief game among the upper classes is vint, a word which means "screw."

It is whist with the screw on. Probably the most perfect vint player in the Russian capital was Fr. Komendant, the chaplain of one of the large grammar schools. His play was so admirable that he was often invited to aristocratic gatherings, where he would play for the entertainment of the company.

The fame of this priest at length reached the ears of the metropolitan, and as this dignitary was of opinion that a priest's fame should rest on some more solid foundation he sentenced him to banishment for ten years to a remote monastery on an island in the White sea.

The sensation in Petersburg may be imagined. A petition is now being circulated begging the metropolitan to be merciful and to allow Fr. Komendant to retain his darling. The petition has already been signed by three grand dukes, six grand duchesses and over 40 titled persons belonging to the aristocracy and the foreign diplomatic corps. A sentence in this curious petition runs as follows:

"Fr. Komendantoff has been an influence for good in society, and many have been attracted to the church by his polished bearing."

SNAKE'S CROWN OF THORNS.

Nature Story Told by the Man with a Reputation.

His friends sometimes called him a Nature faker, but he always strenuously denied the charge.

"Then," he resumed, "we went to Southern California, and in certain wild and lonely trails the rattler's crown of thorns strangely impressed us."

"Now, now!" they warned him. "The rattler's crown of thorns" has a steep sound. You know the charge that has been brought against you."

"The rattler's crown of thorns," he went on, quite unmoved. "It was the skeleton of a rattler lying curled up in the grass, with a circle of great, sharp thorns, a hedge of thorns, surrounding it. We found two or three of these odd and tragical things each day. The guide told us what they were."

They were the signs of the vengeance of the bird called the road runner, a bird as big as a chicken. The rattlesnake eats this bird's eggs. The outraged bird, while the snake is asleep, softly, noiselessly surrounds it with a circle of the sharp and thorny leaves of the prickly pear.

"Awaking, the rattler tries to scale this barrier. In vain. The long thorns wound him sorely, he suffers maddening pain, he can't get out."

"And in the end he bites himself and dies. Then his skeleton remains there, surrounded with a ring of dried thorns, a proof of the vindictive intelligence of the road runner."

"The rattler's crown of thorns," said a listener, and he whistled, and looked about him dubiously.

Cat in a Mine.

After spending two years in the depths of a coal mine a cat owned by James Warke of Ashley, has returned to him. The cat was such an inveterate thief that Mrs. Warke insisted two years ago that it should be killed or lost. Several attempts to lose it failed, and Warke, who is a miner, then put him in a box and took him to one of the lowest levels of the No. 20 colliery. There he flourished and grew fat. There was fine hunting, the big mine rats being numerous and daring. Recently the mine was shut down, and as there was no more grain in the stables left, now there is no more hunting, and the cat made its appearance at Warke's home. How it got out of the mine is a mystery.

The Schlafchen.

In Germany they have an institution called the schlafchen. This is a little nap in the afternoon, between the ponderous early dinner and the coffee, which is served at four o'clock. Nothing is allowed to interfere with the Teutonic rite. "In a German country house," says an observer, "I have seen with these eyes dashing cavalry officers in tight tunics and rattling swords, disappear about 2:30 o'clock, to emerge in an hour's time looking a trifle sleepy, but armed in every sense for the conquest of the fair. Students and professors, magrons and business men, tinkers and tailors, all take their 40 winks in the afternoon and get up strenuous and efficient."

A Famous Saying.

You have probably heard or read the famous saying: "I had rather be the first man in a village than the second man in Rome," and have wondered, perhaps, who first used it. Plutarch attributes it to Julius Caesar. The story is, as he tells it, that when Caesar came to a little town in passing the Alps, one of his friends said, in a jocular way: "Can you be here any dispute for offices, and contentions for precedence, or such envy and ambition as we see among the great?" To which Caesar answered, very seriously: "I assure you that I had rather be the first man here than the second man in Rome."

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you may make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a simple bottle of Swamp-Root by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Sudden Attack of Dysentery Cured.

A prominent lady of Brooklyn, N. Y., writes to inquire where she can obtain Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Paint Secrets

A paint manufacturer always prefers to keep secret the fact that he has substituted something else for white lead in his paint but when the substitution is discovered he defends the adulteration as an improvement. #### THINGS MUNICIPAL.

The old city democratic committee composed of R. T. Farley, K. Robertson, Geo. Aycock and W. W. Baker, held a meeting Monday night and proceeded to call a city mass convention for Friday night, September 27, to nominate six candidates for city councilmen to be voted for at the regular election Nov. 5th.

There was a vacancy in the committee, caused by the removal of Dr. Jordan Risenhoover from this city to Texas, and this place was supplied by the election of Prof. C. T. Cannon.

In addition to issuing the call for a mass convention this committee took upon itself the pleasing task of "picking out" candidates for councilmen. We are not acquainted with the list as it was "picked," but our construction tion of the duties delegated to a committee does not embrace the "picking out" of any candidate or set of candidates. We have always understood that this selection was the right and privilege of voters of the city in mass convention assembled. If this is not the case why issue a call for a mass convention at all? Is it for the sole purpose of ratifying the list "picked out" by some Mark Hanna? The Ledger does not believe such action conforms to democratic rule and usage, and further, we do not believe the citizens of Murray have delegated their rights of selecting a city council to any old body's Mark Hanna.

The term of the present city council will expire January 1st, 1908. Without any intention of a personal reference, the Ledger begs to say that it believes the present council is composed of as high-toned, progressive, honorable set of gentlemen of which this good little city can boast. These men have discharged the arduous duties imposed upon them honestly, fearlessly, deliberately and in a manner they deemed to the advantage of the city and to the best interests of the people. They are not infallible, they are human and do err. We do not believe a single member would assume for another two years the duties of the past term, recognizing that other good men and true are as competent, as capable to take up their labors and govern the city as judiciously and as honestly as they have endeavored to do. This city will continue to grow and expand and improve and a city council will be elected that will give it the benefit of careful study and wise consideration.

But is there not always certain courtesies due gentlemen? Then why the necessity of a fling or a jab at the present aldermanity by an attempt to displace them by secret selections, by a committee assuming to "pick out" their successors without the advice or consent of the constituency to be represented? The citizens of Murray will not have such action lorded over them. Exit, Mark Hanna.

"He walked right in, And turned around, And walked right out again."

A Humane Appeal.

A humane citizen of Richmond, Ind., Mr. U. D. Williams, 107 West Main St., says: "I appeal to all persons with weak lungs to take Dr. King's New Discovery, the only remedy that has helped me and fully comes up to the proprietor's recommendation." It saves more lives than all other throat and lung remedies put together. Used as a cough and cold cure, the world over. Cures asthma, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, quinsy, hoarseness, and phthisis, stops hemorrhages of the lungs and builds them up. Guaranteed at H. D. Thornton & Co's drug store, 5 cc. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

THEATRE TALK NO. 2

It pays to wait after all, for the good comes in time, even in the drama, bringing a splendid recompense for some of the "cheats" you have had.

"Monte Cristo" which comes to town pretty soon is a play that can be seen again and again by those who have souls to feel the spell of real romantic drama. IT RANKS AS ONE OF THE GREATEST DRAMATIC TRIUMPHS OF THEATRICAL HISTORY, both artistically and financially. It has had phenomenal success throughout the entire world and will live in the annals of the stage as one of the highest examples of dramatic literature. HOWEVER MERITORIOUS A PLAY WITHOUT AN INTELLIGENT CAST, an artistic and effective production is impossible. No pains or expense has been spared to get the best. Young, bright, intelligent, resourceful actors have been selected in each instance, with express reference to adaptability to the parts assigned them.

Real Romantic Drama

The American people are broad gauged and liberal minded. They are ready to hear any remarks, listen to any song, read any book, see any play, try anything new, and they pass their verdict promptly and infallibly. ANYTHING THAT BECOMES POPULAR IS GOOD, AND NOTHING CAN BECOME POPULAR THAT IS NOT GOOD. The people never make a mistake. Newspaper advertising will induce the readers to try anything that's advertised—once. MERIT DOES THE REST. A shining example of this principle is that of the romantic play, "Monte Cristo" which will be presented in this city soon. This play has been produced season after season for seventy years. IT MUST BE MERITORIOUS DON'T YOU THINK? USUAL PRICES WILL PREVAIL.

With the object of purchasing and preserving as a national park the birthplace of Jefferson Davis, in Fairchild, Todd county, Kentucky, a movement was set on foot at the annual reunion of the Orphan Brigade, held last week at Glasgow. A resolution calling for the formation of the Jefferson Davis Kentucky Home Association was offered by Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner and was unanimously adopted. A committee was appointed to inspect the property, secure an option and take the necessary steps toward the formation of the organization and raising the money. A meeting will be held in Louisville in the next few days to formulate plans of procedure. Trough but few members of the famous brigade survive, the reunion was a great success. Capt. John H. Weller, of Louisville, was chosen president.

United States Senator James B. McCreary has notified Jere A.

The Verdict of the People

Sullivan, a member of the Democratic state campaign committee that he will take the stump in the interest of Gov. J. C. W. Beckham for senator, Judge S. W. Hager for governor and the entire Democratic state ticket. The Republicans have been making the claim that Mr. McCreary was dissatisfied and disgruntled over his defeat for the senatorial nomination, and the Democrats have been hoping that the senator would get on his hustings and endorse the Democratic ticket.

Advertised Letters.

Letters addressed to discontinued post office, Coldwater, Ky., A. G. Christenberry, (2) Mrs. Gladys Haneline.

Admitted to Bar.

Miss Elizabeth Gourley, of Paducah, successfully passed her examination in law in Cadiz, Ky., last week and has been admitted to the bar. Miss Gourley is a daughter of S. G. Gourley, of Benton. She has been studying law in the office of Oliver, Oliver & McGregor, in Paducah, for the last two years.

Her examination was conducted by Judge Thomas P. Cook, Denny P. Smith and Robert Crenshaw.

Miss Gourley is the fourth Paducah woman to receive license to practice law. The others were: Mrs. Marie Moss Wheat, now of the Philippine Islands; Mrs. Rosa Falls Bree, of New Orleans, and Mrs. Flora Woodward Tibbets, of Chicago.

Lost and Found.

Lost, between 9:30 p. m., yesterday and noon to-day, a bilious attack, with nausea and sick headache. This loss was occasioned by finding at H. D. Thornton & Co's drug store a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. Guaranteed for biliousness, malaria and jaundice. 25c.

Card of Thanks.

To the many kind and loving friends who so kindly assisted us during the sickness and death of our dear daughter and sister, we wish to extend our heartfelt thanks. May God bless you all and reward you in Heaven for your kind and noble deeds in our prayer.—MR. AND MRS. J. M. BAILEY AND CHILDREN.

The Touch That Heals

Is the touch of Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's the happiest combination of Arnica flowers and healing balsam ever compounded. No matter how old the sore or ulcer is, this Salve will cure it. For burns, scalds, cuts, wounds or piles, it has no equal. Guaranteed by H. D. Thornton & Co., druggist, 25c.

A news item from Cincinnati states that "the record price for whisky was reached here today, when it rose two cents over Saturday's quotation, reaching $1.34, the highest known here." These fellows who are making such a howl about a two-cent advance have evidently had no quotation from the Murray booze merchants in some time. The Cincinnati price, $1.34 per gallon, looks cheap compared to $8.00 and up.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy One of the Best on the Market.

For many years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has constantly gained in favor and popularity until it is now one of the most staple medicines in use and has an enormous sale. It is pleasant and safe to take and is undoubtedly the best in the market for the purposes for which it is intended. Sold by Dale & Stubblefield.

MAYOR OF SUNBURY Says Peru-na Is a Good Medicine.

Hon. C. C. Brooks, Mayor of Sunbury, Ohio, also Attorney for Farmers' Bank and Sunbury Building and Loan Co., writes:

"I have the utmost confidence in the virtue of Peru-na. It's a great medicine. I have used it and I have known many of my friends who have obtained beneficial results from its use. I cannot praise Peru-na too highly."

HON. C. C. BROOKS.

THERE are a host of petty ailments which are the direct result of the weather.

This is more true of the excessive heat of summer and the intense cold of winter, but is partly true of all seasons of the year.

Whether it be a cold or a cough, a tarrish of the head or bowel complaint, whether the liver be affected or the kidneys, the cause is very liable to be the same.

The weather slightly deranges the mucous membranes of the organs and the result is some functional disease.

Peru-na has become a standby in thousands of homes for minor ailments of this sort.

Don't move out of your precinct, as the law requires you to reside in your precinct sixty days before voting at the regular election. The regular election this year falls on November 5th, which is sixty days from last Friday.

Pain anywhere, pain in the head, painful periods, Neuralgia, toothache, all pains can be promptly stopped by a thoroughly safe little Pink Candy Tablet, known by Druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets. Pain simply means congestion—indue blood pressure at the point where pain exists. Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets quickly equalize this unnatural blood pressure, and pain immediately departs. Write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis., and get a free trial package. Large box 25 cts. Sold by Dale & Stubblefield and H. D. Thornton, Druggists.

Gov. Beckham will retire from the office of governor in December. For the first time in about twelve years he will be a private citizen, although, if elected to the senate at the coming session of the legislature, and of this there is no doubt, he will not take his seat until March, 1909.

Hon. A. E. Willson, republican nominee for governor, is billed to speak in Murray on Oct. 4th.

WIT OF WILLIAM M. EVARTS.

Few Men More Ready Than Was the Great New York Lawyer.

William Everts traced the heatship of the bar before lawvering was so much of a trade as it is, and when lawyers had time for accomplishments, says Harper's Weekly. He was a scholar, but no more of a Greek than he should have been. Yale men used to think that Theodore Woolsey knew more Greek than anybody else, and Mr. Everts himself was so well versed in this that he once said at a dinner that was given to Woolsey, that he and Woolsey knew more Greek than any other two men in the country.

"I saw a fine photograph of you, Mr. Everts, on my way down town this morning. You're a beautiful head," Mr. Everts said.

"I'm glad you think so well of it," said Everts, "you know I stand on my head."

Here is one for the Liberal Arts club. One day a man came out of the "Players" next door to the Tilden house, now occupied by the Art club, and met Mr. Everts. There was probably never a house constructed that was, and is, so mortally ugly as that which Samuel J. Tilden built in Gramercy park. In order that "fogies" might escape quickly from the sight of the front of it there were two front doorways. "Of what school of architecture is the Tilden house, Mr. Everts?" said Mr. Everts.

"That, justitia, rust, praudium," he once prescribed as a floral motto for a dinner of the Bar association. There have been other lawyers, other secretaries of state and other punsters, but as he himself might say, "non fiet omnibus adire Corinthum."

WHY HE WAS TIRED.

Return from the Annual Nonsense Known as "Vacation."

A man alighted from a train, and after walking laboriously up the short flight of stairs which led to the waiting-room, stopping a few times on the way to rest, he looked round for a place to sit down. In the waiting room, he saw a man sitting in a heavy chair, and he went over to him, and asked him if he could be of any assistance.

"No, thanks," the young man replied, "I'll get along if I take my time about it."

"Are you ill?"

"No, I'm not ill. But I feel as if I were completely done up."

"Been in an accident?"

"No, I'm just tired; that's all. Thanks, you may call a hansom for me, if you will. I don't believe I could ever walk out to the trainway. I don't mind if you carry my bag. I'm so tired."

"What's the matter with you?"

"Nothing much; I'm just returning from my holidays. I'll be all right in a week or two."—Tit-Bits.

A Brave Pony.

One small pony named Nell routed four young highwaymen in the Bronx. "Mandy" Beggs, 13 years old, is the son of Ernest Beggs, proprietor of the egg from works. The other night "Mandy" saddled Nell and rode down the boulevard.

At One Hundred and Fortieth street four young men jumped from a lot. Two seized Nell's bridle, young Beggs says, and the others struck him, knocking him from the pony. Then one incautiously got too close to Nell's hind legs and she "busted him," as young Beggs said indignantly afterward. Another got in the saddle, and Nell, a modest colt, promptly stood on her forelegs, reared her head and kicked, kicking in every quarter of the atmosphere. The two footpads who remained on their feet—Young Beggs jumped astride the pony, and away they went. He had a bruise on his forehead and a bruise on his arm. Nell was all right, but rather nervous.—N. Y. World.

Work of a Pipe Line Walker.

Jack Harvey has walked over the Tidewater pipe line from Rixford, McKean county, to Williamsport, continuously during the last 26 years.

He makes from 8 to 21 miles a day, carrying a kit of tools weighing about 60 pounds, among which is a telegraph instrument, which, in case of breaks or other accidents, he attaches to the company wire which follows the line, and informs headquarters at Williamsport. The distance is 145 miles as the line goes, up and down hills, across valleys and through woodlands and forests, 40 miles of it being through the dense Pottery county woods, with scarcely a habitation along the route.—Philadelphia Record.

Agitator Punished.

Two years imprisonment was the punishment meted out the other day in the Punjab to a Hindoo who had gone about telling the people that there would be no plague at all did not the English poison wells in order to reduce the population. He had an accomplice who helped to make his case plausible by putting balls of flour and other substances into tanks and fountains.

Wilfred—Mamma, we were up in Farmer Crosby's yard, watching the eggs in his incubator. His Mother—Did anything come out? Wilfred—Yes; Farmer Crosby—and he chased us.—The Circle.

THE SAILOR MAN'S APOLOGY.

Profuse Explanation Made in the Lingo of the Sea.

An old salt, who navigates a bicycle when he is in port, was working a rapid passage the other day, when he collided with a lady cyclist. After they had extricated themselves from the wreck the sailor made an apology, from which she could gather little except that he was sincerely sorry.

"I am sure I ought to be scuttled for it, mum," he said, rapidly, "but I couldn't get yer signals no more than if we were feeling through a fog bank. I was blowing for you to pass to port, and steering my course accordin'. Just as I was going to dip my pennant an' salute proper, yer craft refused to obey her rudder, and you struck me forward. Afore I could reverse, yer fibboom fouled my starboard mitzen riggin', yer blowing gone snarled up in my boggy, blew out yer pneumatic, parted yer topping lift and carried away my jacksaddle down haul. As I listed I tried to libe, but I capsizeed, keel up, and you were blundering in the wreckage."

By this time there was an interested audience, and the girl was mentally debating whether she should run from a supposed lunatic or ask for an interpreter.

But Jack's headpiece was still in his hand, and he was not finished.

"I'm hopin' yer not enough damaged for the hospital," he went on, "but I'd be sunk if I wouldn't be glad to stand yer watch till you righted. This here little craft of yours will be as sea worthy as ever when her upper works is straightened out and we get wind into her sails again. I'll just tow her down to the dock for repairs."

And she smiled an assent.—Illustrated Bits.

STRANGE ANTIQUITY OF EGYPT.

Country Has Remained Unchanged Through Centuries.

Many tourists who have crossed the Mediterranean to Alexandria and have made the three hour journey thence by express to Cairo, establish themselves in one of the fashionable hotels, do a little shopping in the adjacent quarter, see a mosque, or two, a native wedding, ride a camel the quarter mile distance from the Mena house to the sphinx, and perhaps go as far as to visit Saqqara—a day's excursion from Cairo—then return homeward fancying and also declaring that they have seen Egypt.

So they have, in a sense; but Cairo is no more representative of Egypt as a country than New York is of the entire United States.

To see upper Egypt, with its felahien life, its mind cities, and its quaint scenery, is like turning the leaves of an old history and studying the engravings, for neither the country nor the people has changed to any appreciable degree since the days of Mohammed, unless it be in the accomplishment in which all seem to be equally well trained—that of begging. Egypt is spoken of as becoming modernized, but there is no indication of anything more modern than 2,000 years ago between Cairo and Luxor—except, more properly, the English city of Kom Ombo, beyond Luxor, where an English company has been formed and agricultural experiments are being carried forward.—Harper's Weekly.

Value of Trade Secrets.

The value of trade secrets as a business asset was emphasized recently by a decision of the court or errors and appeals of New Jersey, compelling the American Can company to reimburse an eastern concern for having used one of the latter's secret processes in manufacturing tin. One of the employees of the eastern concern, which is known as the Vulcan Belling company, left his position and some time later secured a place with the American Can company. To the officers of the latter company he told of the methods that were used by the rival firm, and those at once were adopted by the American company. There was a suit, and now, after several years of litigation, the American can company has been found to have no right to make use of the secrets of its competitor.

Bee-Hoo Fever.

In the intense heat the young captain smiled.

"This recalls to my mind," he said, "bee-hoo fever?" "What is that?" "It is a fever brought on by the heat among our goldies in the Philippines. A mild fever, it becomes high and active only when the weather grows unusually hot. Then it throws our young men into a strange delirium. They cry and weep. They bee-hoo."

"If you should go into one of our hospital wards in the Philippines on a very hot day, the loud wails of the young fever patients would soon show you the origin of bee-hoo fever's funny name."

The Selfish Two-Step.

Our social pleasures are individualistic and selfish. This is well typified in the popular dance of our times—the two-step—where two people may spend the entire evening enjoying themselves without touching the general social life of the assembled company. The square, line and ring dances, now so sadly out of style, are old folk forms, generated by the social cooperation of the group, rather than the joys, sorrows, occupations and intercessions of the people—Charities and Commons.
