The TOBACCO SITUATION

(Princeton Leader)

The Leader looks with much interest upon the campaign now in progress, in behalf of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Association. We are gratified to observe that the movement making headway. Cooperative marketing of tobacco is steadily coming to be adopted throughout the United States. It appears to be the best method yet devised to get the farmer to the organization industrial and economic system of the times as established by the financial business machine; and the wage workers, factory, mill and office. In a social and economic system marked and dominated by organization, the agricultural product in which most farmers are interested and about which the talk of business men and financial speculators. A banking plan for this great product of our land is essential to keep the business and general prosperity in this respect; and the equalization of labor's status, stability of credit in general, is perfectly possible by way of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Association. The plan has been prepared and is ready for the grower to receive it.
