May 9, 2003

Welcome to Murray State University for the celebration of Honors Day, 2003. This special ceremony is held by tradition just before Commencement each spring to recognize the academic accomplishments of Murray State students.

Murray State University is dedicated to the promotion of academic excellence. The students we honor today exemplify fulfillment of the central mission of this University, to ensure that our students receive a college education of the highest quality. In meeting this goal, we rely on the contributions of a distinguished and dedicated faculty and a stimulating and supportive learning environment. Our degree programs receive ongoing review and improvement to maintain their effectiveness and currency. Our efforts are rewarded through the accomplishments of the many outstanding Murray State students like those we honor today.

To those of you receiving awards and recognition, please accept my warmest wishes for continued success. We are proud of all you have accomplished. To those visitors who have come to our campus for this celebration, I extend a cordial welcome and the hope that your stay is a pleasant one.

Sincerely yours,

F. King Alexander

Dear Parents and Friends:

On behalf of the entire Student Body of Murray State University, I would like to take this opportunity to welcome you to Murray State University.

This afternoon we will recognize those students who have attained excellence at Murray State. Their achievements bring honor not only to themselves but to Murray State as well.

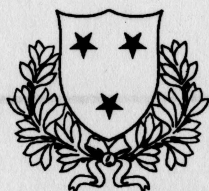

We appreciate your presence today because it is through you, the parents and friends that the honorees have been afforded the opportunity and freedom to search for and achieve excellence.

We hope that your visit to our campus will be an enjoyable one and that you will return as other students build their futures at Murray State. Thank you for your support and prayers.

Sincerely,

Jace Rabe
President

REGENTS AWARDS FOR TEACHING EXCELLENCE

The Regents Awards for Teaching Excellence were established in 1985 to honor faculty who deserve recognition as exemplary teachers. The recipients of these awards show a strong commitment to excellence in the classroom, an enthusiasm for their discipline and a sincere interest in the growth and well being of students.

BETTY DRIVER

College of Business and Public Affairs

Ms. Driver, senior lecturer in the Department of Accounting, joined the Murray State faculty in 1983. She holds the B.S. in Business Administration and M.B.A. from Murray State University, with areas of expertise in both accounting and finance. A dedicated teacher, who is highly respected by both her students and colleagues, she represents the ideal model of the ultimate teacher. Through her various teaching techniques, Ms. Driver has been able to reach virtually every student she has taught. Not only dedicated, fair, and decisive as a teacher, she is also very compassionate toward her students. She is an exceptional teacher and role model.

RENEE W. CAMPOY

College of Education

Dr. Campoy, associate professor in the Department of Educational Studies, Leadership & Counseling, joined the Murray State faculty in 1996. She holds the B.S. and Ed.D. from the University of Missouri-St. Louis and M.A. from Webster University. She is a tremendous model of a highly skilled and highly caring teacher educator who is passionately committed to the highest standards of education. She is a master teacher who strives to instill in her students the belief that they can become successful professional educators. Dr. Campoy's students truly respect her for taking such an active role in their educational experience and an interest in them as human beings.

College of Health Science and Human Services

Dr. Fender, assistant professor in the Department of Occupational Safety & Health, joined the Murray State faculty in 1995. He holds the B.S. from Central Missouri State University, the M.S. from the University of Southern California and the Ed.D. from Vanderbilt University. Dr. Fender is an excellent teacher, one who does not hesitate to go out of his way to assist his students, both in and out of the classroom. Through his on-going consulting and grants work in the safety and health field, he is able to bring invaluable real life experiences to his students in the classroom. He also enhances the students' educational experiences by incorporating the most recent technology into the classroom. Dr. Fender is highly regarded by his students.

T. WAYNE BEASLEY

College of Humanities and Fine Arts

Dr. Beasley, professor in the Department of History, joined the Murray State faculty in 1965. He holds the B.A. from Austin Peay State University as well as M.A. and Ph.D. from the University of Georgia. Dr. Beasley is a very dedicated teacher, genuinely interested in his students, their backgrounds, experiences, and opinions. Arousing student interest and challenging assumptions, he encourages students to present and defend their views, with debates frequently spilling over the allotted class period and winding up in his office. Many students, past and present attribute their choice of major to a class with Dr. Beasley, who embodies quite well the role of teacher-scholar.

PAUL SASSO

College of Humanities and Fine Arts

Mr. Sasso, professor in the Department of Art, joined the Murray State faculty in 1981. He holds the B.F.A. from the University of Windsor, Ontario, Canada, and the M.F.A. from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville. Mr. Sasso gives an extraordinary amount of time, energy and commitment to the education of his students. He is extremely knowledgeable in functional design history and contemporary design, and this knowledge is passed on to his students. To enhance his students' educational experience, he is also dedicated to continually organizing trips for students to visit museums and galleries, exposing them to art and art history in a hands-on setting. Mr. Sasso is always willing to put in the extra time and energy to make a student succeed.

HOWARD WHITEMAN

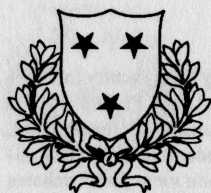

College of Science, Engineering and Technology

Dr. Whiteman, associate professor in the Department of Biological Sciences, joined the Murray State faculty in 1997. He holds the B.S. from Allegheny College and the Ph.D. from Purdue University. During his tenure at Murray State, he has clearly demonstrated teaching excellence. Believing in a multi-dimensional approach to teaching, Dr. Whiteman works to see that his students "experience" science and learn the process of science. With this as his goal, he uses laboratory and field experiments to bring his lecture topics to life and routinely integrates independent research projects into his courses. Dr. Whiteman's commitment to teaching has clearly benefited students in the College of Science, Engineering, and Technology.

V. LYNN LEASURE

College of Science, Engineering and Technology

Ms. Leasure, senior lecturer in the Department of Geosciences, joined the Murray State faculty in 1985. She holds the B.S. and M.A. from Murray State University. Having a great rapport with her students in and out of the classroom, she has excelled as a teacher at Murray State. Indeed, dedicated to teaching excellence and innovation, she constantly keeps up with changes in her discipline as well as technologies available for use in the classroom, implementing those technologies into her teaching on a regular basis. Ms. Leasure is highly respected by Murray State's students as a challenging and effective teacher, one who has made their educational experience more rewarding and meaningful.
