Malarial and Sanitary Projects Getting Started

Brice Stallins has been appointed sanitary supervisor for Fulton county, and has been engaged in making a survey of sanitation conditions in this county. Joe Laten will act as foreman on the sanitary project, which will require twelve months.

Chas. M. Davidson, son of Morgan Davidson, of this county, will supervise the malarial control program in this county, and will be assisted by nine CWA workers.

The State Board of Health has asked the County Board of Education, the County School Superintendent and the County Supervisor of Sanitation to submit a project covering material and labor required to install sanitary closets on all county school premises.

The County Board of Education will meet Monday at Hickman to take up the sanitary project which will be supervised by the state board of health and financed under the CWA program.

A report from the local CWA office shows that $4,844.29 has been voted out to workers in this end of the county, and it is estimated that around $800 more will be paid in salaries to CWA workers this week. The work week closed Thursday night and a new week started Friday. With the pay-day this week included something like $8,000 in new money has been put in circulation in this community. This amount is for the east end of Fulton county also, or that section east of the M. & O. railroad. This much more has been released in the west end of this county.

Another project has been filed with the state CWA board at Louisville, which is known as the Enon church road project, and approval is expected on this one soon, when additional workers will be engaged. The local office of the CWA received notice this week that a revision of accepted or contemplated projects will be made, and complete details on all projects will have to be resubmitted. Just what effect this revision will have here is not known yet. But full information on this step will be available in a few days, it is believed.

Three projects in this end of the county are underway, requiring a total of 231 men. These projects are the Harris Fork creek, the Union

PRAYERS PUT NEGRO IN FULTON JAIL

A group of "colored gentry" in East Fulton were celebrating Christmas day, and a big goose dinner was prepared. All gathered around to partake of the feast. But goose and moonshine don't mix.

You see it was like this: With a sumptuous dinner prepared, there was rejoicing among the happy negroes. Toasts were made, and then came time to "turn thanks over the goose."

Everything would have passed off well, order if an argument hadn't come up over who would read the prayers. Johnny Paschall avowed "Ise going to do the praying ova dis here goose." Then the melody began in a contest to decide who was to turn the thanks. Moonshine made Johnny hard to handle, so he wound up in jail. Now he declares "somebody else can do the praying ova de goose from now on. Ise going to do the eating."

church road on the city streets projects. Sanitation a malarial control projects will require 22 more employees to bring the total up to 253.

Judge Walker Reviews Plans

In a talk before the Rotary Club here Tuesday Col. C. L. Walker of Hickman, new judge for Fulton county whose term starts next Monday, briefly outlined his views upon the administration of county affairs. He considers it of first importance that taxpayers be given every consideration, and he expects to call for an audit of county affairs. Judge Walker declares it has been sixteen years since a complete audit has been made.

"I would like to see the county court operated on a cash basis, with warrants and other county paper at once," Judge Walker stated. Among other things he favors the appointment of a county road engineer in the belief that the county could have better road service. He believes that the state department can be persuaded to return a portion of the gas taxes to the counties, pointing out that Fulton county pays between $20,000 and $30,000 in this form of taxation every year.

John Earle, who has just completed five years in Rotary with the fine attendance record of 100 percent, was in charge of the program Tuesday. Joe Davis and Clyde Williams spoke in favor of the program proposed by Judge Walker.

105 MEMBERS IN FARM BUREAU

The Fulton County Farm Bureau now has 105 members. President Cecil Burnett announced this week. This large membership is almost positive assurance that this county will retain its county agent. $1600 is provided by the government for county agent work in Fulton county the remaining $800 provided by the local court under a mandate of the Kentucky statutes, officials of the farm bureau believe.

Mr. Burnett will attend the state convention of Kentucky Farm Bureaus in Louisville on January 10 and 11. The county organization will meet again on January 22nd at Hickman.

Esq. Bowers was instrumental in making Christmas a merry one for several couples whom he united in marriage during the holidays.

The Rev. L. E. McCoy said the ceremony last Saturday which united in marriage Miss Anna May Holcomb and Paul W. Easley, both of Troy, Tenn. The young couple were accompanied by Harris Mitchell, friend of the groom, and Mrs. Sam Morris, sister of the bride.

Mrs. Easley is a sister of Mrs. Lucile Hubbard of this city.

Cecil Burnett, well known farmer and poultryman, who lives on Route 3, Fulton, was married to Lucille Crawford of Milwood, Ky., December 21st by Rev. E. S. Hicks at the Union church near here.

The wedding came as a surprise to their many friends, who wish they much happiness.

A wedding ceremony was solemnized Dec. 23d at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Childers of Water Valley uniting in marriage Miss Mildred Marie Hewitt, daughter of Mrs. R. H. Hewitt, to Wilburn Hopkins Leonard of Huntingdon, Tenn.

The bride is a graduate of the Fulton High School, and was reared near this city. She has many friends in the younger set of this community.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Callie Leonard of Huntingdon, and is employed with the Citizens Ice & Coal Company at Union City, where they will make their home.

After checking over their stocks of holiday merchandise and preparing for inventories, Fulton merchants agreed this week that the Christmas trade in all lines here was the best since 1929. In some instances merchants reported that their business increased 100 percent above that of the same period last year.

Aside from the money put in circulation in this county through the CWA program, a sharp upswing in wages and incomes has helped to turn the tide definitely toward better times, and the outlook for 1934 is better than at any time in many months. Local storekeepers are optimistic after the Christmas business and the closedown Monday for observance of Christmas day. Numerous reports by Fulton merchants indicate that last Saturday's business was the best in several years with many stores.

Railway Mail Clerk Hill reports that the mailing of Christmas cards and packages was heavier on his run this year than he has experienced in ten years, indicating that one of the best Christmases in years was enjoyed by the people.

The Christmas spirit reigned high in Fulton, and the largest crowds of many years shopped here. A new enthusiasm is gripping the business life of this city, and business men are laying plans to reach out after more business during 1934.

FIRE BOYS MAKE RUN TO MARTIN

Lee Roberts and his fire boys were called to Martin Monday night to help fight a fire which originated in the third story of the J. F. Parker & Sons Hardware Company. Most of the damage by fire was confined to the third story, but water damage was heavy on the other floors. The flames were extinguished before they spread to other buildings.

The local fire department made two runs Tuesday night. First to the Burnie Houston home on Bates-st to put out a roof fire, and second to the home of Roy Adams where an overheated stove started the blaze. Both fires were soon extinguished.

L. A. Downs Airs Railroad Prospects For The New Year

Following is a summary of railroad activities during 1933, and predictions of what the future holds in store for them. The resume is made by L. A. Downs, president of the Illinois Central System:

"Four years of business depression have necessarily left their mark upon the railroads. There has naturally been less work for railroads to do, and forces have had to be reduced, purchases have had to be confined to the bare necessities and thousands of stockholders have had no return on their investment.

After four years of depression, it is natural to look for signs of business improvement. They must be found, not in a survey of the railroads, but in a survey of business on the whole. Obviously the railroads cannot move faster or farther along the road of recovery than the producing and distributing industries from which they chiefly derive their traffic and revenue.

"However there are factors in the railway situation which have a direct bearing upon the business outlook and which need to be considered in estimating what lies ahead in the new year.

"One of these is railway purchases. It has been estimated that for every person employed on the railroads there are three or four others employed in producing coal, steel, lumber, oil and other things that railroads buy and use. This great market for the products of the country has suffered, but it has not been destroyed, and it can and will be restored. The fortunes of the railroads will improve with the general improvement in business as certainly as they have for four years declined with the general decline in business, and restoration of the railway market will be a tremendous factor in business revival.

"Another railway factor in the general business outlook is railway service. It is extremely important that the railroads shall be able to provide adequate and dependable service to handle the nation's business. There has been no impairment of any essential railway service during the course of the depression in fact, railway service has been improved in many important respects. The area in which overnight freight delivery is provided has been expanded time and again. Freight trains operate on faster schedules. Up-to-the-minute records of car movements are available to shippers. Passengers are carried on time. There has been no slackening of effort to give railway customers the service they have needed. The present railway plant is adequate to take care of more business than is now being offered, and it can and will be expanded as required.

"Still another railway factor in the business outlook is the price of railway service. It is necessary that transportation be cheap as well as good. There have been further adjustments in the price of railway service. Best known are the reductions in passenger fares which have been made by the Southern and Western roads, but there have also been numerous price reductions on the freight rates.

"There appears to be a general belief that better times are ahead, and that belief is strengthened by the knowledge that the railroads are prepared to play the part in business revival which is expected and required of them."

Daughter of Prominent Local Lawyer Married Last Night

The beautiful home wedding of Miss Sara Corron Smith and Mr. James Harry Smith Jr., took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herschel T. Smith, on Third-st at 6:15 o'clock Thursday evening. The Rev. J. V. Freeman of this city united the popular young couple in marriage. Mrs. Ted Algee of Tiptonville, Tenn., rendered at the home the beautiful strains of the wedding march.

Miss Martha Washington Smith, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor; other maids were Miss Carolyn Cobb of Union City, Miss Sal-he Smith sister of the groom, and Miss Mayme Bennett of this city. Mr. Wynn Smith, brother of the groom was best man, with Messrs. Prentiss Wynn, Ed Parks of Cumberland University and Hugh Swayne of Hickman.

Mrs. Smith is a graduate of the Fulton high school. She spent one year at Ward-Belmont college at Nashville, received her B. A. degree from Vanderbilt and took a post-graduate course in French at Sar-bonne in Paris, France. She had been teaching in the Fulton high school until her resignation a few weeks ago.

Both the bride and groom are popular with the younger set, and number their friends by their acquaintances. Many socials have been planned in honor of Mrs. Smith in recent weeks. Many out-of-town guests attended the wedding among them were Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Foster Jr., Mr. T. B. Jarrett, Mr. and Mrs. A. Paschall Foster and children Elizabeth and Walter Norris, all of Memphis; Miss Sarah Foster of Monroe, La.; Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Pittman Jr. and children. Thomas and Ed Paschall of Water Valley, Miss.

PUBLIC WORKS AND HAPPINESS

The local office of the Civil Works Administration has already distributed several thousand dollars among the men who have worked on various projects which have been undertaken in order to create employment for the jobless. This large disbursement means that there will be needed food in that many homes in this county where the pinch of hunger has been felt.

It means that shoes and other essential clothing will be bought for small children that have been thinly clothed. It means that anxiety in the hearts of frantic parents, unable to provide for their children, will be allayed. It means that this money will be immediately spent to supply needs which are imperative. Result of that will be to stimulate retail sales in local stores, quicken the pulse of trade. It meant that the prospect of a dreary and unhappy Christmas season which was faced by hundreds of homes three weeks ago was transformed into a Yuletide season of simple joy. Bodily discomfort will be banished and the dreary uncertainty as to how the winter is to be faced will be dispelled.

The public works program projects on which these men are being utilized are needed improvements. Good work is being done on them. The jobs are being competently supervised. The laborers are reported to be eager to work, are giving an honest day's labor.

That which is happening in this county is happening in every county in the United States. About four million men have been given a chance to work as a result of this program of public improvement. It is impossible to contemplate the vast amount of good that is being accomplished. Four million disconsolate, disheartened men, who have sought in vain to sell their labor, have been given a chance to work and earn money sufficient to meet meager needs of their dependents. One cannot appreciate the significance of this public benefaction until one talks with these men, hears their story of despair, senses the hopelessness they have faced and the relief which has come with a job which gives them a chance to wield a pick or shovel and earn a weekly wage with which to provide their families.

The civil works program is proving to be one of the most effective phases of the recovery program. It is a common sense, humanitarian plan which meets a vital need, prevents the shame of permitting dependent men and their helpless families to suffer from impoverishment.

The public works program has supplied merciful relief for those caught in the cruel web of adverse circumstances. It has brought more happiness into humble homes than any method yet devised for the relief of the suffering unemployed. (Mayfield Messenger)

BUSINESS SETS RECORD

Christmas buying this year ran close to record proportions, and it has bolstered up the general upturn in business developed during the last few weeks. Of still greater importance is the fact that the ground work for further advancement is now more secure than at any time in the last four months, a Dun & Bradstreet review states.

Although Fulton prepared for the usual Christmas shopping this year many merchants underestimated the crowds and the holiday purchases that would be made, and many items of merchandise were lacking to supply late shoppers. Fulton enjoyed the biggest volume of Christmas trading it has known in many years. The city was decorated for the holidays, and arrangements completed for the arrival of Santa Claus on his special train. Crowds packed the stores and streets, and clerks were unable to wait on all that came so sudden and numerous was the rush of Christmas shoppers. But all in all, everything considered, efficient service was given the holiday patrons insofar as the occasion permitted.

Holiday messages from Fulton stores appeared in the Christmas editions of The Fulton County News which circulated throughout the city in adjoining rural districts and nearby communities. People were urged to come to Fulton to do their Christmas shopping—and they came in unexpected numbers.

More concerns are booking a larger volume of business and preparations are being made for a more intensive drive for greater activity next year, while unfavorable reports now have all but disappeared.

The Dun & Bradstreet review had the following to say:

"In addition to the higher totals being set down for both production and distribution, as compared with those at the close of 1932, profit margins have been widened. Encouragement is derived from the signs of revival in the capital goods industries, while convincing attestation of recovery thus far is present in the imposing array of dividend resummptions and dividend increases paid during the fourth quarter.

"The final week of Christmas buying more than exceeded the highest totals which had been placed for it. In some of the large centers preliminary estimates of sales for the entire Christmas season were more than surpassed before the final week had been reached.

"Large factory pay rolls, the extension of emergency relief jobs, and the release of millions of dollars impounded in closed banks have all helped to swell the consumers' purchasing power, and the nation-wide readiness to accept the renewal of the blanket code through the first four months of 1934 is an indication of the eagerness with which public action now is being recruited in the endeavor to give unified support to the progressive recovery movement."

Increased freight car loadings, electric output, lumber production and steel operations are making representative industrial indices "more encouraging than at any time since the early part of September."

CARRIED TOO FAR

It is a shame that if given certain privileges some persons will abuse those privileges.

Such was the case during Christmas in Fulton. Certain individuals went too far in shooting fireworks during the holidays. Complaints have been received from numerous sources that persons in the business district endangered life and property by throwing fire crackers and torpedoes under the feet of pedestrians and also hurling fireworks at passing automobiles. The ladies and small children were frightened and kept dodging from this promiscuous shooting in the midst of the throngs that swarmed the downtown streets.

This should not have been tolerated and officers shall be prepared next year to handle this practice which affects the lives and activities of Christmas shoppers. The law should provide that fireworks must not be shot on the sidewalks or allowed to endanger large crowds. Mischievous shooting of fireworks should not be tolerated, for when this form of celebration ceases to be funny to everybody concerned, such careless practices have overstepped the bounds of reason. It is all right to shoot fireworks, and we're not trying to take the fun out of life a place for all things.

Mayfield provided extra officers to enforce the fireworks ordinance during the holidays, and this was a step in the right direction to control the business sections where shoppers were busily engaged buying Christmas gifts. The wild orgy of fireworks on our crowded business streets should not occur again next Christmas.

THIS AND THAT

Human life is one of the cheapest commodities in Chicago, but times are improving if we can believe a report from the Windy City. This year 506 have died by suicide, 503 by murder, and 1,089 by automobile accidents, during the first eleven months of the year, December not included.

So there is a Santa Claus—really. And that is the real name of a farmer living near Marshall, Mo., and it is said that every year he receives hundreds of letters which should have been addressed to the north pole.

A wordless wedding ceremony! Can you imagine that? Well, it actually happened out in California, when a judge married two deaf mutes, using an interpreter for the occasion.

There are 23,723,399 automobiles in use in the United States. The precipitate decline in automobile sales which began at the end of 1930 was checked in 1933, and the upward climb started again.

CORN-HOG REDUCTION CAMPAIGN TO START SOON

The corn-hog reduction plan which will call for reduction of 20 to 30 percent from the 1933-1934 average acreages of corn on farms on which more than ten acres is grown per year and 25 percent reduction in the number of sows kept and pigs raised based on the number of sows kept and pigs raised during the same period, is scheduled to get under way in Fulton county within a few days probably not later than Jan. 1st, according to County Agent O. R. Wheeler.

The base from which the reduction of corn acreage will be taken will be the average acreage during the above years grown on the farm to be operated by the producer who signs the contract for 1934 and the base from which the reduction in number of pigs farrowed and raised will be the average number raised by the producer during the above years.

The producer will be paid 30 cents per bushel rental for an average yield of corn on the acres he takes out of production and will be paid $8.00 per head premium for the 75 percent kept if the reduction of 25 percent is made.

A campaign committee of ten men has been named to assist the county agent in carrying the proposition to the corn and hog producers of the county and to assist in securing the signed agreements. As soon as sufficient supplies of blank forms and instructions are received by the county agent a series of educational meetings will be held in the county to explain the corn-hog plan in detail.

The men named on the campaign committee include C. Hornsby, Hickman; C. L. Drysdale, Fulton, Route 1; Murrell Roper, Hickman, Route 4; T. W. Stallins, Fulton Route 1; Roscoe Stone, Hickman; Lon Jones, Fulton Route 1; J. B. McGhee, Hickman Route 4; B. E. Browder, Hickman Route 1; J. R. Goadler, Hickman and S. E. Hancock, Fulton.

HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT
MAKES ANNUAL REPORT

A total of more than 750 women in Fulton and Hickman counties have been reached directly by the Extension program carried by Miss Anna Cullen, Home Demonstration Agent in the two counties during the past year according to the Annual Report of her work. The report covers the period of December 1st, 1932 to November 30, 1933 and shows that much has been accomplished during that time. The women have been reached through 279 meetings that have had a total attendance of 6114 people. Eighty-four local leaders have been carrying on the program in thirteen Homemakers Clubs and nine Junior 4-H Clubs. There is a total of 23 women enrolled in the Homemakers Clubs and 91 girls in the Junior 4-H Clubs.

The work has been handicapped by the fact that it has been necessary for the members to raise funds to keep the work but despite this, interest has never been greater. The work has continued on a part time basis the Agent spending three-fourths of her time in Fulton County one-fourth in Hickman County. The Fulton Chamber of Commerce has continued furnishing office space and stenographic help during the past year.

In cooperation with the Red Cross the Homemakers made up approximately 750 garments for relief during the past year. Eight hundred thirty-three hours were spent by Homemakers in making these garments.

A summary of activities and accomplishments for the past year show that storage facilities have been improved by the addition of a storage chest during the past year. Attendance at leaders' training schools has been much better and a more complete and interesting. A score card has been used in the clubs during the year and has been most successful in creating interest in the work being done.

The major project for the year has been Home Furnishings and the lessons which have been on. Accents for the Home, in a number of lessons on Slip Covers, Fire Screens, Pictures and Picture Stays, Flower Arrangements, The Well Equipped Closet and Bedding and Linen for Dinner Trays. As a result of the lesson 225 pictures have been repaired, 122 cases of furniture have been repaired, remodeled, refinished, upholstered or slip covered, 74 women have reported adding storage space and 140 rooms have been redecorated.

In connection with this project many old chairs have been polished and slip covers making most of the furniture pieces of furniture out of the unattractive and unhygienic. Other things remodeled are old kitchen stoves to make look new, new wash stands, have been made into writing desks and orange crates have been made into most attractive dressing tables. One colored child who covered an old chair using dyed cotton socks that had been discarded for the covering.

Extensive beautification of the home has been the major project carried for the past year as has included lessons on care of flowers, shrubs and trees as well as their use in and out. Forty-eight women have reported improving their homes and 11 improved walks, fences or driveways.

One hundred thirty-six members have had a planned flower garden with 2518 flowers and bulbs planted and 125 packages of flower seed reported sown.

Two hundred eighteen new shades have been set and 1800 new draperies and 374 native shrubs planted. Sixty-seven women have reported improving their porches by paint, furniture, trees or window boxes.

No major project work has been done in this project this year but reports are much better than they have ever been.

A total of 13,365 quarts of fruit, 10,333 quarts of vegetables and 1,088 quarts of meat have been canned by members. In addition to this over 2,000 quarts of vegetables were canned by the Relief Office in Fulton under the supervision of the Home Agent using the county canner. In addition approximately 1,000 quarts of vegetables have been canned on the county canner by non club members. If this were put on a financial basis the products canned during this period a total of more than $5,000.

Fifteen new pressure cookers have been purchased by members of Homemakers Clubs during the year. During this period a total of 1432 new garments have been made and 356 garments have been remodeled.

Two lessons on millinery renovation have been given and 150 hats have been reported cleaned, 146 hats hooked and 135 redraped. Fifty-two new ones have been made. In connection with this project many hats that would have been of no value have been made most attractive. One woman reported having made her new fall hat from one she purchased at a party for 10c.

Since because of the lack of funds on the part of farm families to attend commercial recreational features the recreational phase of the home demonstration program has filled a very definite need. Twenty-three social programs have been held in the local community parties, carnivals, singings and plays. A picnic was held in each club during the summer.

In addition a county wide chicken show in each county and a quilt show in Fulton County has been held. These have provided the means of raising funds to continue the work.

The counties were hostess for the Purchase District Homemakers' Dinner at Clinton High School building.

THINK IT OVER
THE PERFECT CHRISTMAS GIFT

"What shall I give?"

As Christmas approached the above question was uppermost in the mind of most of us. It is a perplexing question, for one that is not easy, not seldom satisfactory, answered. To those whose income is limited, it is an annoying proposition.

"What shall I give?"

Give rare to those who cry for crumbs, and bear their lonely hearts high, for let the joyous season's snow and Christmas come.

Give hands to those who need a guide, nor cast a thought of cold or ice, since brotherhood is a worth while at Christmas time. Give steps to those who cannot read on their own errands to and from school the crisp December and as the snow falls, let them know you are there.

Give thought to what you best can do to cheer the heart and soothe the mind and make the world seem good and kind to those less fortunate than you.

Give smiles to all whose weary load brings grief and pain and gray despair and leads them low over life's steep road, for smiles with them are rare.

Give knowledge to the dull, untaught, for there are those who do not know with what our Christmas is fraught, and speak of him, the manger-born beneath the Easten star's pale glow.

Give courage to the fainting hand that needs the clasp of a friendly hand and cheering smile and aid and will give courage then to such as they like Christmas.

Give laughter—not the scornful and not laughter that abounds with happy, wholesome sound and so infectures as to bring a like report. Give heart—the heart that beats for all upon this day, the heart that beats the love and the high; the heart that goes with sympathy and love but save for those who pass you by.

Give joy to all—it may be heard for one, or just a smile, or yet a simple toy, or words of praise or even a gift—but give them all and you will give but joy.

Give peace to him that you have many things, good friends and health and life's long span. Give praise to him for all these things and, best of all, the brotherhood of man.

And giving these, you will have given more, by far, than price or material or modern miasma; you will have given better things than stocks or bonds or and or diamonds.

You will have given that which neither pomp nor power nor highest influence can command; you will have given that which gold nor favor nor favor can buy.

You will have given that which it was ever giving to the lowly and the poor—comfort and strength and hope and rest and courage and faith—for of these things are the perfect Christmas gifts made.

In such gifts is the throbbing virtue of Christmas time. It is not the value in dollars and cents that makes the gift enduring and lasting; it is the love and tender thought that accompanies it.

Think it over.

CLAYE LASSITER NEW

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT
Claye Lassiter, former principal of the Cuthbert high school, took over the office of county superintendent of schools last Friday, replacing J. R. Wall, who resigned recently. Mr. Lassiter is very capable in school administration and has many friends in the educational field.

REPAIR BRINGS MANY THOUSAND DOLLARS TO KENTUCKY TREASURY Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 10.—With $100,000 worth of the $250,000 issue of outstanding relief warrants already paid, state officials are looking forward to January when additional whiskey tax payments are expected to make available sufficient funds to retire the remainder and leave other funds for relief or general fund purposes.

The early days of January are expected to bring approximately $400,000 or more into the state treasury from taxes on whiskey.

The retirement of the $100,000 in warrants already accomplished was made possible by funds obtained from taxes levied at the recent special session of the General Assembly on whiskey and beer.

State Treasurer Huddleston has already announced his intention of retiring the outstanding relief warrants as rapidly as funds become available in the treasury.

In discussing the additional revenue anticipated from whiskey taxes employees of the auditor's office declared it would not be surprising if the January collections for excise taxes on whiskey for 1933-34 exceeded $400,000. The tax will be derived from taxes on old whiskey withdrawn during the four month period which will end on December 31.

A local column says that "womanliness, which in its last analysis is doubtless sex appeal" is the quality most liked in women by men. If a woman has this mystery, ous quality, she does not need to possess either beauty or brains, so the column says. Doubtless the writer is right, but that does make it love or keep divorce cases out of court.

The average freight train on the Illinois Central System carries 201 tons of freight.

Railroad employment increased from 919,881 in March to 1,030,000 in September.
