DANGER IN STORM

The greatest Democratic mayor ever rolled up in Kentucky. That's the goal for Paul B. Johnson of Fulton. He has let us have the story of the great Democratic mayor who entered his third term last week.

In a race between an elephant and a whippoorwill, the latter will win. In a fight between a man and a Colossus, the man will win. Whether you are a Colossus or a whippoorwill, you will be a winner in this county if you make a straight ticket. Both parties have their Colossus and both parties have their whippoorwill. Neither party is of much value to you if it is a whippoorwill of the other party as well as a Colossus of the other party. Your decision will be the key to the election. You will decide who shall be better off. The candidate who is elected will be better off.

On the other hand, if you vote for the ticket which is the best, it will be better off. If you vote for the ticket which is the best, it will be better off.

WHOSE HOME ARE YOU PAYING FOR?

Every family must pay for a home. When the Tenant pays his monthly rent, he is paying for his Landlord's house. When he has paid the full value it still belongs to the Landlord. And the Tenant starts in paying him for it. In a very few years, the Tenant pays for the Landlord's house and over and over, while he and his family have no home of their own. Why not pay for your home just once? Through this Association, and forever free from the bonds of rent.
