Judge Homer Roberts Seeks Re-Election

I hereby announce my candidacy for re-election to the office of County Judge of Fulton County subject to the action of the Democratic Primary of August 4, 1945.

In making this announcement, I wish to say, it has been a pleasure to serve you as your County Judge for the past three and one-fourth years, and I wish to thank you for your cooperation at all times, realizing without your help, I could not do very much.

We, as a Fiscal Court, have tried to handle the taxpayers' money the very best we could under the present conditions, with labor and material much higher than it has been for years. As the Chairman of the court, I have tried to advise them in every way that would be helpful for the County, and will continue to do so. I feel that I am in a position to give better service for the County the next four years with the experience of the first term.

I wish to say, your County today is in better financial condition than it has been for twenty years, and as long as I am County Judge, your indebtedness will get smaller every year, for I don't believe in doing business on paper.

I know you are interested in improvements all over the County. I am too, and we will get them started just as soon as we get rid of this terrible war so we can get equipment to do the work.

In regard to the roads of the County, we haven't been able to build but a very few new gravel roads since I have been in office for about two reasons: The first is, because of the War, the Government would not allow new roads started, and second, we could not get machinery to do the work.

The cost of maintaining the rural Highway roads has doubled, but we have endeavored to do all we can to keep them in fair shape until this winter. You know what weather conditions we have had have made all our roads soft. However, just as soon as they get dry, we will start doing all we can to repair them.

I have made plans with the State Highway Office for postwar building programs, and will start as soon after the war as possible.

I hope to see all of you before the election, and solicit your vote, but if I fail to see you, please consider this as my personal appeal for your vote and influence. I'm sure you will agree with me in saying that I will not be able to drive much with the tire and gas rationing.

If honored with your support and re-election, I will do my best to give you honest and business-like administration, and promise to dispatch the duties of the office to the best of my ability and to the betterment of our County.

Respectfully submitted,

HOMER ROBERTS

SAFETYGRAMS

A few weeks ago in this column I mentioned to you the forthcoming nation-wide brake emphasis program for traffic safety that will be inaugurated by the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

To avert a threatened increase in motor vehicle accidents and to conserve the nation's dwindling supply of cars, the Association has developed this brake emphasis program. It will be sponsored in each state and community by chiefs of police and sheriffs. Each state will have its own organization for conducting the program. The program will begin April 15 and end June 1. This particular time was chosen since it covers a seasonal period when sharp increases in traffic accidents usually occur.

We urge your newspapers and community organizations to cooperate with the police chief, marshal, or sheriff, in making this an outstanding and successful campaign.

Mrs. C. P. Bruce received an Easter greetings cablegram from her son Staff Sgt. Jack Sams somewhere in France.

Mrs. Nell's Report Shows Drop Here In School Census

Which Means City School System Would Receive Only $15,289.68 From State In 1945-46

The school census in Fulton and adjoining districts has been completed by Mrs. Martin Nall, local attendance officer. Her report indicates that there will be approximately 798 school children in the local school during the 1945-46 term. This is a decrease of fourteen from last year's report. Of this number 661 are white children, and 137 are colored children.

Based upon the $19.16 allowed the Fulton school district last year for each child by the State Department of Education, that would mean that the city of Fulton would receive only $15,289.68 for educational purposes.

EXPIRATION DATE FOR FEDERAL CROP INSURANCE ONLY FIVE DAYS OFF

The "big push" on Federal Crop Insurance is underway in Fulton County. The County AAA office reports that individual rates and yields are now available for the farm in the County. Only five days remain before the deadline date for taking applications.

The deadline date for each farm is when seeding starts, or April 10, whichever is earlier.

Though Federal Crop Insurance, farmers have an opportunity to make sure of some returns from their efforts and investments. Two contracts are available. One covers a maximum of 50% of the farm average yield and the other covers 75%.

Any person who expects to have an interest in the crop at seeding time may insure interest in the crop. Premiums are figured on the acreage actually seeded.

While crop insurance is available for Fulton County farmers, there is one "if" that must be satisfied before the farmers in any county can share the benefits of this protection. That "if" is the requirement provided by Congress that Crop Insurance applications be received from at least 50 farms or one-third of the farms normally producing insurable crops in the county before Crop Insurance becomes effective in the County.

Postwar Plans Now Needed For Flood Control In Fulton

Worst Flood Of Harris Fork Creek In Fulton Sunday Night; Council And Civic Clubs Should Act In Unison

The periodic annual flood came to Fulton again Sunday night, when the waters of the Harris Fork Creek inundated the business district and some of the residential section, causing considerable damage in the business houses on Lake and Fourth-st extension. Merchants and employees worked practically all night in an effort to keep down damage to stock and fixtures. Even the City National Bank, the highest building on Lake-st, had about six inches of water over the floor. Both Harris Fork Creek, and the creek running through South Fulton overflowed.

Fulton had its flood last year on May 24, but this time the overflow came a few weeks earlier, and the flood waters were about two to three inches higher this time, and remained out of the creek banks from ten p. m. Sunday to 3:30 a. m. Monday, longer than ever before in recent flood history here.

A few years back a fund was started by the Chamber of Commerce, it is understood to bring about a project for relief from these flood conditions, although not enough to do the job by any means. Then the war came along to block this effort.

However, it is high time now that postwar plans be made in order to start work on the flood project just as soon as conditions will permit. The city council, the county, local civic clubs, property owners and business firms need to unite their efforts now to complete plans and raise a fund immediately for the purpose of eliminating Fulton's worse annual affliction and eyesore.

In consultation with a TVA engineer last year, the editor of THE NEWS was informed that in his opinion without a survey, it would be necessary to make the bed of the creek deeper and wider, open up the stream bed below Fulton, and inaugurate some form of control of flood waters above the city. Such a project would cost considerable money, but it is possible to obtain federal aid and assistance in making a survey of the condition. All these points should be thoroughly thrashed out, and a fund provided now so that work may get underway just as soon as feasible.

It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak." (Rom. 14:17, 21.)

"AN OUNCE—WORTH A POUND"

Permanent maintenance of an organized between American industry and the nation's armed forces—so that in another time of stress, should one come, the machinery of war will not be held back by the handicaps that marked the start of present war production—apparently is one of the thoughts uppermost in the minds of industrial leaders. At least it is so with Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of General Motors, as shown in comment made in his annual report to the more than 420,000 GM stockholders.

He declares General Motors stands ready to do its part in support of any constructive and equitable plan of action toward maintaining a high technical standard of defense equipment, in peace as well as war.

"It has been well said time and time again that we must win not only the war but the peace," said Mr. Sloan. "The elimination of armed conflict is fundamental, but how successfully that objective can be accomplished we do not know. If we are to face the realities and not take another chance on being caught too late with little we must learn from present experience and reverse our prewar concept as to the importance of military preparedness.

"After the war, if we are to win the peace, we must continue to move forward by maintaining for preparedness equally close liaison (as in wartime) between the armed services and industry. This calls for unceasing application of the day-to-day developments of science and industry to the improvement of war material and methods of manufacture, so that American industry shall ever be ready to set in motion, if needed, its vast powers of mass production for war with minimum changes in plant and machinery."

Mr. Sloan's idea is right in line with that of the pioneer in the early days of America, who kept his rifle at his side most of the time, even after it seemed that the day of Indian raids might have passed. The pioneer was pretty certain that one of the reasons he was having less Indian trouble was because he had that rifle handy.

● BARS DOWN

House Ways and Means Chairman Robert L. Doughton suggests that existing tariffs under the reciprocal trade law be continued with new negotiate increases or reductions, in the rates of as much as 50 per cent, with the approval of the Department of State. Representative Doughton says that House hearings will be held on this legislation, and he predicts it will develop into the "biggest party-line fight of the session," when it gets under way this Spring.

Two-thirds of the World's merchant fleet now flies the American flag. In 1939 the British Empire controlled the waves. It had one-third of the world's ocean shipping.

In this day and age your contact with the soil may be indirect, but it is just as real and just as vital. You delegate the actual contact to the farmer, the dairyman and the cattle raiser, and it is up to you to see that they are in a position to do their jobs well for themselves and for you.

If you are an employer and hire the heads of a thousand families, you are not only on the 31-2 acres that supply your own food and clothes, and 31-2 acres for each member of your family, but also on the 13,300 acres that are necessary to feed and clothe the men who work for you and their families. How important it is, then, for these 13,300 acres to continue producing ample quantity, quality, and variety and producing cheaply!

That's why everyone should be concerned to see that the farmer is not tempted by low net returns and big production costs to "mine" the fertility of his acres and leave behind an impoverished agriculture—the evil that already has laid waste far too large a number of American farms.

"Only with improved machines and methods can farm production costs be reduced—down to a level that leaves the farmer a fair profit over and above all soil maintenance charges and after he has returned to the land as much fertility as he has taken out.

Meat is the hot subject in Washington. Chickens, eggs, food fats and shortening are on the shortage list in private homes and public eating places. Senator Burton K. Wheeler told a committee that we do not need a new OPA law but that we need a new administrator. "I sometimes question which is worse, to make law violators out of most of our citizens, or to have a little more inflation," Senator Wheeler declared.

WHAT ABOUT GERMANY?

By RUTH TAYLOR

Everyone else has ventured an opinion as to what must be done with Germany, so here is my two cents worth.

The advice given to date ranges all the way from maudlin sympathy for a "poor misguided people," to a Nazi-like cry for revenge. But it seems to me that the one thing that has been overlooked is—what are we trying to accomplish? Do we want another war? Or do we want peace based upon a firm foundation of justice?

To those who plead for leniency, I would ask—"Are you willing to open the jails in your own town and let the thieves and murderers loose upon your own family?" To those who cry for revenge, I would recommend the seventh verse of the eighth chapter of the Gospel according to St. John.

Some advocate the backing of an anti-Nazi Group. That is good—provided the group comes from within, and has established its good faith by direct action against the Nazis. This cannot be a group from without or under foreign domination for as such it cannot win the German people. This regeneration must come from within. We must, as Lord Vansittart put it, break Germany of its national fallacy that only the weak repent. To which he added: "There are just men in Germany, but they are always out."

Although the public does not realize it, the organized German trade unions were the first group to be destroyed by Hitler. Next came the Jews. Then the Catholics. From the scattered remnants of the democratic elements may come the rebirth of Germany—but the move must come from them. All we can do is to give them opportunity to act. We cannot permit the continued enslavement of the worker and leave free the industrialists and the Junkers. Nazism is only today's mask of German imperialism.

Here is warning from the past: "Justice is the only possible basis for the settlements of the accounts of this terrible war. Justice is what Germany shall have. But it must be justice for all. There must be justice for the dead and wounded, and for all those who have been orphaned and bereaved that Europe might be freed from Prussian despotism." It was Woodrow Wilson who said that in 1919. Our sentimentalists destroyed it. What will we do?

We cannot and we do not want to destroy a nation, but we can wipe out the cancer at the heart of that nation. This time the cure must be permanent even if the knife cuts deep. The German people must earn their way back to health. Until they have done so, there is no place for Germany in the society of nations.

Kidneys Must Work Well

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood. If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly. Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling. Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

ATHLETES FOOT

Make This 10 Minute Test
Successful treatments must reach the germ. Powders, ointments and mild solutions do not penetrate sufficiently. Get a strong mobile liquid. One containing at least 80 per cent alcohol is good. We suggest Te-ol. It contains 90 per cent. It PENETRATES. REACHES MORE GERMS. Most druggists now have the test size. Small lot just arrived at Bennett Drug Store.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

The affairs of state occupy his fluent pen

VANCE ARMENTROUT . . . Editorial Writer for The Courier-Journal, cast aside a legal career to become a newspaper man . . . but he still holds license to practice law in Kentucky, Tennessee, and in Ohio, where he passed the bar examinations after graduating from Ohio State. Instead, he worked on newspapers in all three states, and was State Editor of the Associated Press when he joined The Courier-Journal as Frankfort correspondent, later opening the Bureau there when Judge Bingham bought the paper.

A militant writer in behalf of clean government, Armentrout has locked horns with many a careless state official. He was once incarcerated for an hour in the capital city bastille, by a legislative committee, because he would not reveal the identity of an irate contributor to the paper's "Point of View" column. One of his early tasks was a survey of state institutions, and he took an active part in reorganizing the state school system.

With this rich background of state experience, Vance was brought back to Louisville in 1926 to serve on the paper's editorial staff. Some of his keenly analytical contributions are contained in a handbook still found in many libraries. He was President of the Kentucky State Press Association in 1943.

With legions of friends in every section of Kentucky who consider him an authority on state matters, Vance is a favorite at newspaper gatherings where his reminiscences are found personally and historically colorful. The Armentrouts' living-room faces Cherokee Park, favorite hiking spot, where editorial ideas are developed daily over a four or five-mile course. Time magazine once credited him with getting his ideas on a roller coaster.
