The two per cent. loan could also be made a vast corruption fund by which the party in power could perpetuate itself indefinitely. Thousands of men would change their politics for the favor of a loan and, even if the intent of the law were partisan sense, much red tape would be in vogue and the temptation would be so great as to endanger our free institutions.

If the farmers only solely for the sake of possessing it, or to gobble all the adjoining farms, he is sure to make slaves of his wife and children-causing them to become either stunted in mind and body, or disgusted with farm life, and flee to the towns and cities for refuge. A gasping, selfish nature is sure to be a "growler" making everybody near him miserable and discontented. Too penurious and selfsufficient to read the papers, he often becomes an easy victim to swindlers and sharpers, or from lack of general information, he is apt to be led astray designing politicians, or selfish cranks. The average farmer has more leisure to inform himself than the particpant in any other calling. If he will make the proper use of his opportunities he need not be intellectual inferior of any. He can live peaceably and contented, be honored by his neighbors, beloved by his family, and cast his ballot in such a manner as gain him recognition from the ROFANE swearing will never the people in regard to the frequent the history of the world when follow the violations of the law, It of course is a useless custom, and adds nothing to the force of what is said, but it is a custom among all careless people, and one that will continue probably always Profanity is used more in some localities than in others. It is more unpopular in some places than others. First-class society does not tolerate swearing, but that kind of society does not extend over a very large territory. Children should be taught that profanity is wrong, and under no circumstances should be used. In this country we believe that there is not as much profane swearing as was a few years ago. The scriptures teach "swear not at all," and that is the proper admonition in regard to it.

WALDOCK, Mo., Oct. 14, '90.

About five years ago I became affected, through excessive smoking, with a negvous stomach trouble (dyspepsia). My health broke down completely, I lost my appetite, and in consequence became very weak; I could not sleep at all, and nervous sufferings and symptoms were innumerable. Four doctors, all known dyspepsia remedies and also electricity afforded me no relief. As a last resort, just a year ago, I ordered some of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic. The second dose relieved my pains, and after using only a few bottles I am entirely cured. I certify that Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic has proven not only a great and beneficent remedy, but also entirely harmless.
