Fulton County Fair A Brilliant Success

Big Crowds In Attendance---Good Races
A Feature---Exhibitions In Every Department Are Attractive.

Large crowds are in daily attendance at the fourteenth annual meeting of the Fulton County Fair.

The fair opened last Tuesday at which time all ladies were admitted free and the usual large opening day crowd was in attendance.

Children's day brought out another great crowd and today (Thursday) is expected to be the biggest day of the week.

The racing has been unusually good this year, some of the best horses ever seen on the local track being here. The balance of the week will see some fine horses in action.

The exhibits in the floral hall are the best we have seen in several years. The west side is literally filled with needle and art work, preserves, canned fruits, cakes, etc. To attempt a description of these articles is impossible.

The east side of the hall is filled with a variety of exhibits, many of the booths being used by the merchants of Fulton to demonstrate their wares.

Only two community exhibits were offered this year, one by the Welch Community club and the other by the 17th District Club, from Weakley county. Both were of exceptional merit and at the time this was written, the judges had not decided upon the winner.

The exhibit entered by the Triangle Farm, located in Weakley county, had no rivals and the prize was awarded to them for the best and largest variety of farm produce raised on a single farm.

Messrs. Horton Brann and Claude Williams were in charge of the agricultural department where is to be seen the finest field products ever exhibited here. The corn, pumpkins, watermelons, beets, tomatoes, beans, peas, etc., were there in abundance and the judges will have to "know their stuff" to hang the blue and red ribbons where they properly belong.

Leaving the agricultural and floral hall, we headed for the poultry house, where we found Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Watkins in charge of the best exhibit on the grounds. Mr. Watkins is secretary of the Fulton County Poultry Association. He is a railroad man, whose hobby is fine chickens. Recently, he attended a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and told the members if he could obtain a little cooperation, he would put on the best chicken show ever seen at a Fulton Fair. He must have gotten this aid for the show far surpasses anything before shown here. Fifty chicken fanciers entered their finest birds, one man having fifteen coops in the show. Wild geese, tame geese and all kinds of ducks were there in abundance.

Leaving the poultry show, we saw two other "chickens." They appeared to be about sixteen years old, but it was not their age that attracted the attention of the men. It was their beautifully arranged hair upon which no barber's snips had left their imprint. The men turned and looked in open admiration at the young ladies, sighed and passed on with the bobbed hair brigade.

The stock exhibit is not quite up to the standard this year. The dry weather ruined the pastures and but few cows are being shown. Jim Ethridge has seven fine Jersey animals in the show; Clyde Burnett has five and Charles Taylor has a number of shorthorns.

Fairview Farms, operated by Coyle Wade, Union City, has a large number of Hampshire hogs in the pens.

G. H. Shanklin & Sons sent over some fine Duroc hogs from their place, Woodland Farms, located near Dresden.

In the saddle ring, horses of George Burford and Ed Gates won the ribbons.

The Fulton Fair Association was organized in 1911 and has only missed showing two years, this being due to the stress of war times.

President J. W. Gordon, Secretary R. H. Wade, Treasurer W. P. Murrell and the board of directors are good business men and they know how to please the people who desire entertainment. A big carnival company is on the ground and both day and night a variety of amusement is to be had.

Don't miss the remaining days of the fair.

SUPT. MYERS ARRIVES IN THE CITY

Vest C. Myers, superintendent of the Fulton City schools, has arrived in the city to begin plans for the opening of the 1925-26 session. Mr. DeVault of Carr Institute, is also in the city, and Harvey J. Alexander, new principal of the high school, has returned from his summer vacation.

The high school office is now open in the morning from 9 until 1 o'clock, for the purpose of giving out any information to students, and will be open until the opening of school on September 7. If students have any problems that they wish to discuss, they are requested to call any morning at the high school office.

Supt. Myers is very hopeful for a great year. A very strong force of teachers has been obtained, and prospects are all very favorable.

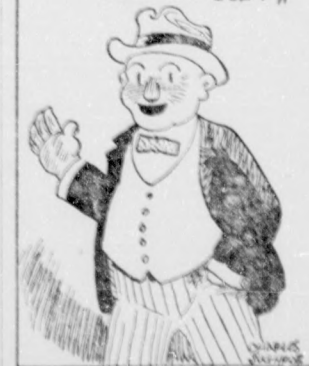

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Gingles and children, of Kirksey, and Miss Christine Potts of Clarksville, West Virginia, have returned home, after several days visit with Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gingles.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

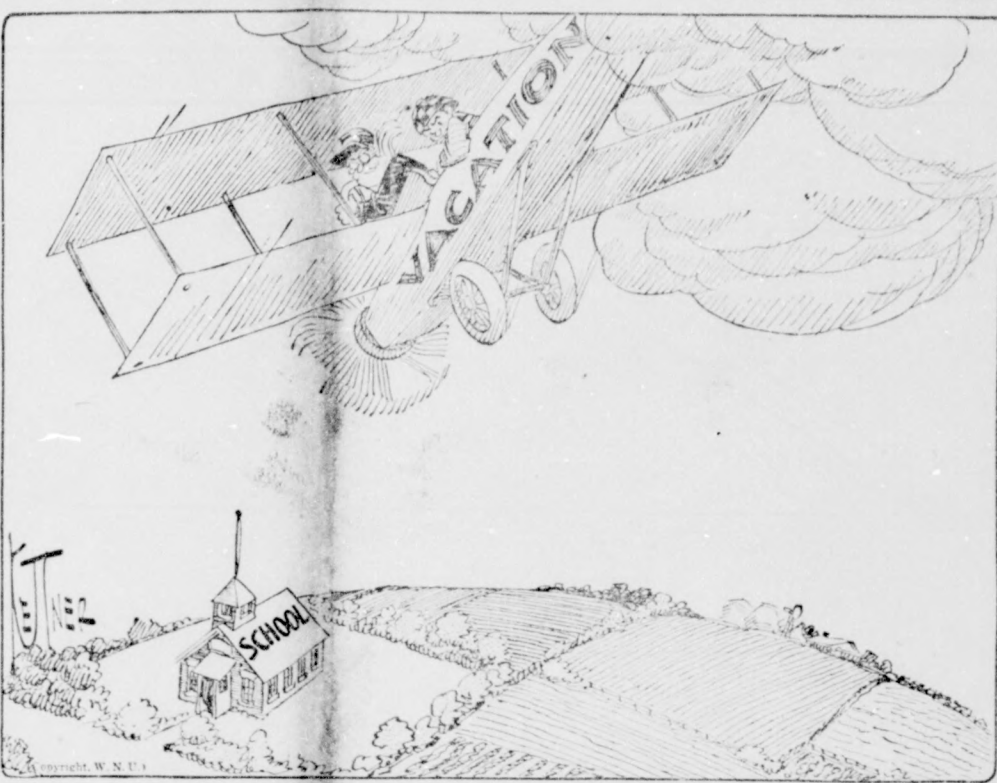

Mr. and Mrs. John Gambill announce the birth of a son, Joseph Winfred, born at their home near Crutchfield.

BILL BOOSTER SAYS

"JUST BECAUSE A FELLOW LIVES IN A SMALL CITY INSTEAD OF A LARGE ONE IS NO REASON WHY HE SHOULD PULL BACK ON ALL PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS! THE BIG CITIES WERE SMALL ONCE, AND THEY DIDN'T GET BIG BECAUSE THEIR CITIZENS LAID DOWN AND HOWLED 'WHAT'S THE USE!'"

Railroad News

Don't Forget the I. C. Picnic

Don't forget that on September 7, the employees of the Illinois Central will leave on special train at 7 a. m., morning of the 7th, arriving at Tiptonville about 10:30 a. m., leaving Tiptonville 6:30 p. m., arriving Fulton about 9:30 p. m.

A great deal has been done to make this one of the most interesting picnics ever put on by the I. C. employees. Fancy novelty hats and other novelties for amusement will be on display. Athletics, swimming, dancing, good music, and lots of eats will be the main events of the day.

All employees of the I. C. are invited to attend, and any outsiders that desire to go, provided they provide themselves with tickets.

The City of Tiptonville is going to furnish the Georgia Serenaders to play for the picnic. If you have ever heard these serenaders over the radio, you know what music they put out.

I. C. Engineer Gets Promotion in Brotherhood of Railroad Engineers

Engineer R. E. Edrington has been elected acting Assistant Grand Chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in a series of promotions brought about by the death of the late Warren S. Stone, Mr. Edrington, according to the August issue of the Illinois Central Magazine, is the first Illinois Central man to become an officer of the Grand Lodge of the Brotherhood. He entered the service of the Illinois Central at Water Valley, Miss., in 1899 and has held local and system offices in the brotherhood since 1905, serving as general chairman for the Illinois Central at the time of his promotion. Engineer T. H. Stultz, of Freeport, Ill., succeeds him as acting general chairman.

I. C. Guide of Chicago

A handsomely illustrated fifty-page booklet, entitled, "Chicago for the Tourist," has been published by the Illinois Central. The booklet describes the advantages of Chicago as a vacation resort, the new buildings, industries, etc.

Florida Traffic Increasing

An unusual volume of Florida passenger traffic from the north, for this time of the year has made it frequently necessary to run the Seminoles in two sections south of Jackson, Tenn. It is expected that the southward travel on The Seminoles will be heavy from now on, and that The Floridian will be put in operation earlier this year, than usual.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Sever Evans are the proud parents of a baby girl born last week.

Superintendent Williams has returned from his vacation.

Mr. Holloway of Obion, father of the wife of Dispatcher A. Dunn, died at his home in Obion last week.

CENTRAL BAPTIST REVIVAL STARTS AUGUST 20, AT MARTIN

E. F. Adams of Galveston, Texas, to Conduct Meeting

The revival of the Central Baptist Church will commence Sunday, August 30, the fifth Sunday in August. Rev. E. F. Adams of Galveston, Texas, will conduct the revival. Mr. Adams is known here, having held a pastorate at Fulton, Ky., previous to going to Galveston. He is a forceful preacher and an interesting speaker.

Martin people will be pleased to hear him and every one in Martin is invited to attend the revival services. The singer will be announced next week. A great revival is hoped for by the Central Church.—Martin Press.

The Rev. E. F. Adams has many friends in Fulton who will take advantage of attending the meeting.

DINNER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lowe entertained the following guests at dinner Saturday, at their home on State Line street.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson Stubblefield and Mr. and Mrs. John Stubblefield of Jackson, Miss., Mrs. D. J. Peebles and little Martha Ann Fields of McConnell Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Houston Stubblefield of near Walnut Grove. A bountiful dinner was spread and enjoyed by all, and the social pleasures of the day will long be remembered by the guests.

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Howell announce the marriage of their daughter, Sara Elizabeth, to Mr. Alvin Sawyer. The marriage was solemnized Friday in New York City. After Aug. 23 they will be at home in Hartford, Conn.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Howell of this city and has a large circle of friends who will offer congratulations on the happy event.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sawyer of this city. Both bride and groom have been reared in Fulton and are held in the highest esteem by all, and many good wishes will be showered on them for a happy life together.

Mr. Sawyer has a responsible position in Hartford.

WEEK-END WEDDINGS ARE QUITE NUMEROUS

Herman Harned of Hickory Grove, Ky., and Miss Annie Grief of Paducah.

August Deering and Ardella Wills of Pryorsburg, Ky.

Enden Dotson, of Fancy Farm and Frances Burgess of Fancy Farm.

Otis Williams of Detroit, and Loma Roland of Fulton, Route 3.

Curnie Lancaster of East Carondelet, Ill., and Bertha Burgess of Fulton, Ky.

McKinley Stevenson of Palmersville, Tenn., and Nove Mae Duprt, Palmersville.

Lonnie Bradley, of Detroit, and Evvie Lou Elam of Fulton.

Rabel Cope, of Mayfield, to Kada Lyles of Hardin, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Chambers and Mrs. J. M. Chambers, Jr., and little daughter, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Evans in Russellville, Ky. A number of informal social attentions are being given in honor of Mrs. J. M. Chambers, Jr.

W. M. Hill & Sons

One of Fulton's Substantial Business Firms

One of the busiest firms in Fulton today, is W. M. Hill & Sons, contractors and brick manufacturers. This firm has about seventy-five men on their payroll drawing wages from $2.50 to $12.00 per day, or a total of more than $1,000 per week.

They operate one of the largest brick plants in this territory with a capacity of 28,000 per day. We took a look over the plant recently where forty men were hard at work. The yards and kilns are erected just north of the ice factory and occupies a number of acres. More than a million bricks have been made this year and another kiln is being filled for burning. It takes 150 tons of coal to burn a kiln of brick and a motor is used to force the air through the kiln during the firing period. The drying racks on the yards have a capacity of 170,000 bricks. A 40-horse power motor is used to run the machinery of making the brick which is manufactured from good clay dirt.

The bricks manufactured by Hill & Sons are of good quality and in large demand. Car after car is shipped to various points in this territory.

W. M. Hill is one of the oldest brick contractors in Western Kentucky, having built nearly every brick building in Fulton. One of the handsome structures just completed is the new Baptist church.

The firm is now at work on a $50,000 building in Martin, Tenn., to be occupied by the Martin Bank & Trust Co.

One of the handsomest homes contracted by the firm in Fulton, is now in course of erection for Mayor R. H. Wade, on Carr street. This is a stone building of beautiful architecture and all modern conveniences.

It is pleasing to note that practically every dollar paid out by this firm for labor is spent with the business firms in Fulton. While they don't demand it of their employees, they encourage it.

Roberts Clothing Co.

One of the most attractive stores in Fulton is to be found on Main street where the Roberts Clothing Company at all times carries a complete line of high grade clothing for men and boys.

These young men use exceptionally good taste in the selection of their stock and the most fastidious customer readily finds the shoes, clothing or hat that suits "his peculiar style of beauty." Mr. George Roberts, the senior member of this firm, was for many years associated with one of the leading mercantile establishments of Fulton and it was here that he acquired the knowledge and experience that is so valuable to his firm.

Mr. Homer Roberts, the junior member of the firm, was employed in France for a period of several months, but was discharged when Uncle Sam had fulfilled an important contract he had assumed over there.

During the three years the Roberts brothers have been engaged in business here, they have enjoyed success and today they are rated high in commercial circles.

ALLEN-COLLINS

Mr. Charles Allen and Miss Julia Collins of Clinton, Ky., were united in marriage Sunday afternoon in the Methodist church in this city. Rev. J. V. Freeman, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. Immediately after the ceremony they returned to Clinton where they will make their home.

Guy Gingles and son, Guy, Jr., are visiting in Louisville, this week.

Church News

Doctor Boyd preached a particularly interesting sermon last Sunday evening on "Our Country Fair," dividing his discourse into seven heads, as follows: The incentive; the inspiration; the suggestive; the educational; the recreational; the social and the moral importance. He introduced a number of decidedly new points of view, and was the recipient of several enthusiastic commendations from the members of the congregation.

The service conducted at Columbus, Ky., last Sunday by Doctor Boyd was well attended and the mission work in this section is being received with more and more interest by the members of that section.

Doctor Boyd spent last Friday in Mayfield, where he arranged for a service to be held on Thursday, August 27, in the evening.

Miss Cathy Wright, a communicant of the Columbus congregation, has been in hospital for some time but has now returned to her home, somewhat improved in health.

Mrs. Melburn, of Pittsburgh, Pa., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Chas. Binford, at her home on Eddings street.

The Church school was conducted last Sunday by Assistant Superintendent Stansbury, in the absence of Doctor Boyd, who was conducting services at Columbus.

Doctor Boyd visited Arlington last week and reports the new knitting mills there being pushed to completion. When completed and opened for business the mill will furnish employment for 1,500 women. Too bad Fulton could not obtain some such addition.

WHY BUYING FARM LANDS IN FULTON COUNTY IS A GOOD INVESTMENT

To view the fertile lands of Fulton county is enough to give any one a new inspiration of love for the country in which we live, surpassing in productivity the high priced lands of many parts of the country.

Fulton and surrounding counties is in the midst of one of the finest agricultural sections of the entire South. The surface is mostly a rolling level inclining toward the Mississippi river. The soil is as versatile as it is rich and will grow to perfection, corn, wheat, cotton, all cereals, clover, alfalfa, grasses, tobacco, the dark variety; fruits, potatoes and vegetables of all kinds.

It is an ideal stock section, on account of the freedom with which grasses grow. The country is well watered by living streams. It would be hard indeed, to find any section of country so well adapted to so many leading crops, to stock raising and all kindred lines of agriculture, and it is inhabited by a happy, prosperous, progressive people.

During his visit to Fulton county, some years ago, Morgan O. Hughes, the best authority in America on farming, said it was not factories Fulton county needed, the production of the soil was sufficient.

Prof. E. S. Good, head of animal husbandry of the College of Agriculture during his visit some years ago, said, "Blessed is that county that can raise the crops and stock such as raised here."

During their visit here, Messrs. Hughes and Good talked to the farmers and all who heard the addresses were benefited, because every word uttered by these gentlemen was instructive, giving each and everyone an inspiration for higher ideal on the farm.

No farmer in this section is ashamed for you to view his beautiful fields of growing crops, sheep, hogs, cattle, etc. A trip through this section of the country will cure any man who has the "Florida fever."

Preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. every Sunday, by the pastor. All especially invited to attend.

The revival services are at an end, but let the influence be felt from now on, through our church members and souls be saved every day. Why not? There were eighteen united with the church at the tabernacle last Sunday and a number of boys and girls at the Sunday school hour. A class will be received Sunday at the eleven o'clock hour by the pastor. We were sorry to see Rev. Tucker and Mr. Turberville leave. We will miss them, but may God's blessings go with them in their new field.

The Methodist Missionary Girls will meet Monday, at 4 p. m., at the home of Miss Nell Owen in the Highlands.

Money For Truck Growers

The finest, largest and most deliciously flavored strawberries we have ever seen are grown near Fulton and can be raised anywhere in this section. Apples, peaches, pears, plums, and Japanese persimmons can be raised to perfection. Considering how close we are to the best markets in the world for produce of all kinds—markets like St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Evansville, Cairo, Memphis, and Nashville; how quickly these markets can be reached and our mild climate, abundance of rainfall, soil peculiarly adapted to the purpose, etc.—it is unquestionably a fact that no section in the South offers greater inducements for truck-farming than the country adjacent to Fulton. The bottom lands are ideal for sweet and Irish potatoes, watermelons and canteloupes. Tomatoes, string beans, cabbage, lettuce, English peas, sweet corn, eggplant, okra, peppers, parsnips, carrots turnips, asparagus, celery, salsify and other vegetables are a ready-money crop and are grown to perfection anywhere in the country contiguous to Fulton.

We want truck-growers to come among us and develop our lands into moderate sized fruit and vegetable farms. Every condition is favorable for such an enterprise and there is no doubt about success if proper methods are followed. Those who are now engaged in the business are making money, but unfortunately it is at present carried on in a perfunctory manner and by only a few persons.

We hope to see Fulton become a strawberry center. All that is needed is for energetic, enterprising truck-farmers to come here and get busy. Available lands suitable for strawberry culture are cheap at present, but will soon treble in value.

Peaches are Perfect

No section of the United States raises better peaches than are grown near Fulton. They are large, firm, juicy and of a delightful flavor. The Elberta variety are especially bountiful and profitably grown hereabouts. We are pleased to note that there has been a marked increase in the number of new orchards started within the past few years, but peach-growing in this section is in its infancy. There are splendid opportunities here for engaging in fruit culture, particularly the best varieties of peaches, on an extensive scale. Shipping facilities are excellent and the fruit can be marketed much earlier and in far better condition than when grown farther away from the big markets. The shrewd, far-seeing man who wants to make money in growing peaches need not look farther than the Fulton country.

Lesson for August 30

PAUL AND THE PHILIPPIAN JAILER

LESSON TEXT—Acts 16:16-40.

GOLDEN TEXT—"Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved."—Acts 16:31.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Story of an Earthquake.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Conversion of the Jailer.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Conversion of the Jailer.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Gospel in Philippi.

I. Paul and Silas in Jail (vv. 16-26).

1. The Occasion (vv. 16-24).

As the missionaries went out from day to day to the place of prayer they were accused by a young woman possessed by a spirit of divination. She was owned by a syndicate of men who derived large gains from her soothsaying. This act of the woman became a great annoyance to Paul, who in the name of Jesus Christ commanded the evil spirit to come out. The evil spirit immediately obeyed. When the demon was cast out of the maid, her supernatural power was gone, therefore, the source of revenue was dried up. This was so exasperating to her owners that they had Paul and Silas arraigned before the magistrates on the false charge of changing their customs. This was playing the hypocrite for it was not custom, but illicit gains that had been interfered with. There is always trouble ahead when you interfere with wrong business. Without any chance to defend themselves Paul and Silas were stripped and beaten by the angry mob and then remanded to jail, and were made fast by stocks in the inner prison.

2. Their Behavior in Jail (v. 25).

They were praying and singing hymns to God. It seems quite natural that they should pray under such conditions, but to sing hymns is astonishing to all who have not come into possession of the peace of God through Christ. Even with their backs lacerated and smarting, their feet fast in stocks, compelling a most painful position in the dungeon darkness of that inner prison, and with the morrow filled with extreme uncertainty, their hearts went up to God in gratitude.

3. Their Deliverance (v. 26).

Early in the morning, sending a great earthquake which opened the prison doors and removed the chains from all hands. The earthquake was not a mere coincidence, but a miracle. Earthquakes do not throw all bolted doors open, and unclasp the fetters from men's hands.

II. The Conversion of the Jailer (v. 27-34).

The Jailer's sympathy did not go out very far for the prisoners, for after they were made secure he went to sleep. The earthquake suddenly aroused him. He was about to kill himself, when Paul assured him that the prisoners were all safe. This was too much for him. What he had heard of their preaching, and now what he experienced caused him to come as a humble inquirer after salvation. He was convicted of sin and felt the need of a Saviour. Paul clearly pointed out the way to be saved. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ." The proof that the Jailer was saved is threefold:

1. Transformation From Brutality to Tenderness (v. 29).

He who a little while ago could with impunity lay on the cruel lashes is now disposed to wash and mollify the wounds of the prisoners.

2. Confession of Christ in Baptism (v. 33).

Those who have really been convicted of sin and have experienced the saving grace of God delight to confess their faith in Him under whatever circumstances.

3. He Set Meat Before Them (v. 34).

4. His Whole Household Baptized (v. 33).

III. The Magistrates Humbled (vv. 35-40).

1. Orders to Release the Prisoners (vv. 35-36).

The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates which moved them to give leave for the prisoners to go.

2. Paul's Refusal to Go (v. 37).

The ground of his refusal was that their rights as Roman citizens had been violated. They demanded public vindication. The magistrates were guilty of serious offense. Paul was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but he used the occasion to show them that persecuting men who preached the gospel was an offense against the law of God and man.

U. S. TO PROFIT IN FLORIDA BOOM

WITHDRAWS LANDS FROM ENTRY BY HOMESTEADERS

HITS AT SPECULATORS

Islands Along Gulf Coast Also Withdrawn From Entry—Homesteaders Got the Wealth, However, Before Order.

Washington.—To prevent government land in Florida from falling into the hands of speculators, Secretary of the Interior Work today issued an executive order withdrawing from homestead entry 44 lots in St. Mark's townsite in Wakulla County, south of Tallahassee and near the Gulf of Mexico. The order is only one of a number that have already been issued and which will be issued in the future to prevent Florida land falling into the hands of persons who wish to prove by showing that the homesteader has spent at least seven months of each year in a habitable dwelling on the land over a period of three years. Ex-service men may prove claims more quickly.

Hundreds of acres of valuable land has been withdrawn from entry by the government in Florida within the last year. A block of 40 acres near Miami was withdrawn. The land at the time of withdrawal was appraised at $55,000. About eight months ago this land was sold by the government for $385,000. The land withdrawn at present comprises 21 lots of 12 acres each and 23 lots ranging from 10,000 to 29,200 square feet in size. By an act of Congress on March 2, 1833, the minimum price of these lots was placed at $25, but the Interior Department has no information as to the present values. Accordingly the lots will be appraised by the government and later disposed of at a figure close to the present values of surrounding and adjoining land.

Before the inauguration of the land withdrawal policy, hundreds of homesteaders reaped plentiful harvests in Florida boom real estate by proving up their claims and then turning the property over to land syndicates. When the boom started a few years ago there was plenty of government land to be had on the outskirts of Miami and Palm Beach, and those who were lucky enough to obtain some of it, later sold out at fabulous sums. At that time parcels as large as 160 acres each could be obtained from the government and there are still tracts of government land in that state just as large to be had for the asking.

At the present time there are approximately 35,000,000 acres of land in Florida with title invested in the government and while a lot of this is practically worthless, Mr. Work is adhering to the policy of withdrawing all of it that has any appreciable value at all, and disposing of it at figures more nearly approaching present values.

PERSHING QUELLS RIOT OF ANGERED CHILEANS

Peruvian Paper in Arica Arouses Mob Spirit.

Arica, Chile.—Gen. John J. Pershing, president of the Tacna-Arica plebiscitary commission, intervened when the hostility of Arica's Chilean inhabitants to the newspaper published and distributed here by the Peruvian delegation to the commission resulted in disorders in front of his residence.

A Chilean crowd gathered to attempt to prevent sale of the newspaper on the streets and frightened the sellers into the doorway of Gen. Pershing's residence. Three members of the American delegation intervened when missiles were thrown at the Peruvians. When the general's attention was called to the incident he immediately visited Agustín Edwards, head of the Chilean delegation and afterwards announced that the Peruvians "will have a perfect right to sell papers or to go anywhere in the city."

SUPER-TITE Asphalt Shingles give every advantage of other roof coverings—plus—two distinctive features combined in the same shingle.

They give double and triple thickness over the entire roof area—with the addition of a LOCK-BUTT to prevent curling or blowing up.

When laid, there is no part of a Super-Tite roof which has less than double thickness coverage—and—over 48 per cent of the roof area is triple thickness. This greater coverage, with the LOCK-BUTT feature, makes a roof covering which defies sun, rain, snow, wind or sleet. Super-Tite Shingles cannot curl up—blow up—nor can they warp.

AS THE EDITOR SEES IT

Some people are inclined to be very critical of our public officials, but it doesn't always produce the best results. Men are men the world over, and they are inclined to exhibit a stubborn streak when some other fellow takes it into his head to administer a kick. A quiet talk face to face is readily understood by both parties, and if there are any differences of opinion there is an opportunity to come to an amicable understanding. When we see anything in this town that isn't just as it should be, it is our right as citizens to point it out to our officials, but the officials have an equal right to expect that we will talk to them instead of about them. It is the better way.

Country people who go to the big cities are amazed at the shortness of women's dresses. Many seem to consider it indecent, even vulgar. In reality, however, those short dresses are exceedingly sanitary, vastly more so than the long sweeping ones our mothers used to wear. It is the state of the mind and not the length of a dress that breeds delicacy and vulgarity. The human race would be in much better condition if the dresses of our women were even shorter than they now are. Freedom of movement means better health and greater strength and vitality, and without these humanity would soon cease to be.

Most men either have an automobile or wish they had one. But the automobile is rapidly depriving the people of the daily exercise they require to keep their bodies in fit condition. The owner of a car spends most of his time in his machine—that is, his spare time—and while he is thus skimming over the country, he is depriving his body of that exercise which the law of human nature demands. The car is a modern necessity and every one who can afford it should have one, but not at the expense of health. Take your daily exercise before you take your drive. You will be able to live longer and drive more often.

If you feed an engine too rich a mixture of gas it will soon choke it and stop it. It needs more air. If you surfeit the brain continually with heavy reading it will become dulled and clogged for lack of relaxation. It needs a change. A little clean fiction mixed in with the heavy literature will produce a keener mind and a quicker brain and a stronger mentality. This is worth keeping in mind when bringing up children.

We see and read of many queer things in this modern world. Some are amusing, some border on the foolish, while others are downright idiotic. But this is modernity.

Apparently a certain young Venus concluded she was not attracting the desired admiration from the male sex. It was unthinkable. Something had to be done—and she did it.

She donned a very scanty bathing suit, skin tight. On one bare leg, midway between the knee and the thigh, she painted a picture of a parrot. Then she posed on the bathing beaches, gloried in the vulgar stares of the men, and promptly had her picture taken. Of course, it is in print.

THE TOWN BEAUTIFUL MOVEMENT

Some one remarked the other day, when a certain proposal of local improvement was being discussed, that "Beauty is a luxury. We can't afford it." Was he right?

Here is one plain fact, and any experienced real estate man can verify it from his own observation. Take a street of plain simple houses, with no attempt whatever at ornamentation of any kind, just naked wood, bricks and cement. Suppose some morning this spring the residents should get together and decide that the street looked too bare and commonplace.

Suppose they all agree to spend $50 in planting shrubs and grass seed. Let them also agree to spend a few hours a week in keeping the place neat and in planting and tending flowers?

What would be the effect? Complete results of course would not show the first year. The second season the hard angles between earth and walls would be softened by a nest of flowering shrubbery. In a few years more, the young trees, particularly if well selected with some quick growers, would provide some shade and screen.

The selling price of those places would pick up as soon as the shrubs got started. When the trees got a little bigger, the whole character of that street would have changed. It would suggest culture, care, refinement. People from other districts would look at it longingly and would snap up empty houses. Eventually a place that cost $3,000 would be likely to sell for $3,500 to $4,000, because of the reputation and desirability of the neighborhood for residence.

People who say that beauty is a luxury know very little about human nature or business. A beautified neighborhood is accepted as a sign of a higher scale of living. People feel that in moving into it they are improving their social station, not to speak of the pleasure to the eye which beauty always gives.

COMMUNITY LOYALTY

Have you ever stopped to consider the fact that loyalty to community interests is the highest type of patriotism? Show us the man who is loyal and true to every interest of his own community and we will show you in that same individual a man in whom his country can repose absolute confidence in any emergency that calls for his allegiance.

On the other hand, the man who is careless and unconcerned for the interests of his community is more apt to display the same spirit of indifference toward his government or his state should any serious danger threaten either.

One of the most commendable traits the old Scotch highlanders was their loyalty to their own clan. Good or bad, right or wrong, the clan had their first allegiance. The life and services of each member were always cheerfully placed at the disposal of the clan.

Try to imagine an entire state composed of innumerable communities welded and cemented into a symmetrical whole, each striving to excel the others, but each, from its own local loyalty, developing a broader and deeper loyalty that reaches out and embraces the whole.

Utopia, you say? By no means. Merely what could and would be the result if we could only be brought to see that we owe allegiance to our own people, but that the prosperity of others is in no wise a detriment to us, but rather a help, that is if each community could develop itself to the utmost—physically, mentally and morally—none would need be envious of others, neither would any need do aught to detract from another's interests.

Let us develop community loyalty to the full—the highest possible form of patriotism. Here in Fulton we have several institutions deserving of your support, owned by home people, who have thousands of dollars invested in said enterprises. The products are the very best and superior in quality to many others.

CINCINNATI TO STAGE BIGGEST RETAIL GATHERING

Indications Point to Record Attendance of Retail Merchants From South and Middle West.

Nightly Pageant, Beautiful Girls and Gorgeous Gowns—Music—Moonlight Boat Ride and Entertainment Galore.

A veritable retailers' convention, with hundreds of merchants from the Middle West and South in attendance, is promised at the Cincinnati Fall Fashion Pageant and Market Week, August 30 to September 7, as a result of the many acceptances received by Cincinnati wholesalers and manufacturers in response to their invitations to the retailers to come to Cincinnati as their guests. The occasion will afford an opportunity to wide-awake dealers to exchange views and experiences, and thus to pick up many new ideas from each other.

Every possible attraction is being offered retail merchants to come to Cincinnati to attend the Fall Fashion Pageant, to enjoy the many entertainment features arranged in their honor, and to make it the occasion for replenishing their stocks with selections from the new merchandise to be displayed. Attractive prices are promised by the wholesalers and manufacturers who will participate in the event; and even the railroad fare of the visiting merchants will be refunded under an arrangement adopted by the Cincinnati Merchants and Manufacturers' Association.

The Pageant will be staged nightly at the Cincinnati Zoological Gardens. Five fifty beautiful girls will appear as living models to show off the new fall and winter styles. Half of these models have been selected as the result of a beauty contest, and the others are professional models who will appear in "Modes and Models of 1925 in the Evolution of Fashion," a lively musical revue depicting the various stages in the history of women's fashions.

The program at the Zoo also will include offerings by the Cincinnati Summer Symphony Orchestra; Ronny Johansson, famous Swedish premier danseuse; Don Jose Mojica, dancing young Mexican tenor, one of the sensations of the Chicago Civic Opera Company for the past four years; the Hazel Wallack Dancers, with their splendid repertoire and gorgeous costumes; the Canadian Troubadours; Van der Kooze and his trained duck, a comedy offering; Merrel Schwartz, baritone, noted both on the Keith Vaudeville Circuit and as a radio star; Cartier and Zanou, premier comedians; and several other acts now being booked.

There will be a boat ride for the visiting merchants, as the guests of the Cincinnati shoe manufacturers, on Thursday, September 3. The new all steel steamer Island Queen has been chartered for this occasion, and there will be special entertainment on board, including a luncheon, refreshments and dancing. Another important entertainment function for the visitors will be a banquet tendered by the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce, Wednesday evening, September 2, at which there will be instructive addresses by Lew Hahn, of New York, Managing Director of the National Retail Dry Goods Association; J. W. Fisk, a merchandising expert; and other interesting talkers. On the same evening there will be a theater party for the ladies.

Night-seeing automobile tours have also been arranged.

Charles J. Nelson, chairman of the Wholesale Trade Committee of the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce, under whose supervision the Pageant and Market Week will be held, gives assurance that the latching of welcome will be out for this pretentious occasion. The general public, however, outside the Cincinnati trade area is invited to attend the Pageant.

Full details regarding the event may be had by writing Howard S. Greene, Manager Wholesale Trade Department, Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce.

Fulton County Fair
August 25 to 29.

"Meet Me at the Fulton County Fair, Fulton, Ky., August 25, 26, 27, 28 and 29," is the slogan with everybody now. The fair this year promises to be unusually entertaining and educational. The superintendents of each department are working overtime to make the exhibits outclass all former efforts and the premium list this year will help materially to do this. Of course, the races will be a feature every day. Many of the best pacers and trotters are already booked and arriving on the grounds.

The Fulton Poultry Association is cooperating with the Fair Association to make the poultry show a glorious success with a large list of added premiums.

Secretary R. H. Wade is making every effort to obtain the best free attractions to amuse the crowds, and if Henry Ford's fleet of aeroplanes can be obtained, there will be something doing all the time. Everybody likes a free ride, either in the air or on the ground.

Make your arrangements now to attend the Fulton County Fair, August 25 to 29.

THIRD TERM TALK
FAILS TO ANGER

GIVES OUT LETTER FROM REPUBLICAN OF VERMONT

ACTION IS SIGNIFICANT

Man Who Tells President He Voted for Lincoln and Wants to Vote for Coolidge Arouses Interest of the Executive.

Swampscott, Mass.—That President Coolidge does not altogether disapprove of the idea of running for the presidency again at the completion of his present term, was indicated by his issuance through the executive offices of correspondence exchanged with a Vermonteer who cast his first vote for Lincoln and now wants to cast another vote for Mr. Coolidge.

The letter to the president was written by William Aiken, who styles himself a "Green Mountain Boy," born in 1833. The veteran of 92 years wrote to pay his respects, called attention to the fact that he had cast his first vote for Abraham Lincoln, and summed up with the hope that he would be able to vote for President Coolidge again.

In his reply the president did not mention the talk of "another term," neither does he give any reason for having selected this special letter for issuance out of the hundreds which come to his office weekly. The subject of giving President Coolidge another term has been mentioned by many White House callers this summer, notable among them being David Mulvane, Republican national committeeman from Kansas. In most cases, however, Republican leaders have disapproved such talk on the theory that it is premature.

In his letter Mr. Aiken stated that during Lincoln's presidency the writer held eight interesting interviews with him as military representative of the then "war governor" of Connecticut, Hon. William A. Buckingham. He was present in the same capacity in the east room of the White House at Lincoln's funeral.

"The writer cannot close this tribute of respect without including Mrs. Coolidge, one of the most acceptable mistresses of the White House, at which he was often the guest, during the incumbency of his very dear friend, Mrs. Franklin Pierce."

In reply, the president stated: "Your intimate experience with and knowledge of the public life of the country through the larger part of a century must have been a great gratification to you, and in congratulating you I have to express the earnest hope that you may continue your privileges of observation and study for many years."

FRENCH AVIATORS TO TRY FOR ORTEIG PRIZE

Will Compete in the $25,000 Flight, New York to Paris.

New York.—George Kirsch and Anton Mourr, former French army aviators, arriving on the French liner Rochambeau, said they plan to fly from New York to Paris for the $25,000 prize offered by Raymond Orteig, a New York hotel owner.

The flight may be made this fall, they said. They brought no airplanes with them and had not decided what type they will use.

$10,000 Rare Stamps Stolen

Chicago.—An amateur stamp collector, shaking nervously as he held a pistol, but obviously a connoisseur in matters philatelic, gagged and bound Ben F. Enelow, proprietor of the Colonial Stamp Company, in the Westminster building, and stole from the safe $10,000 worth of rare stamps, ranging from the many denominations of old German issue to the artistic series of the French colonial possessions.

Ask Length of Kiss.

Chicago.—How long must a kiss last to be disorderly? Candidates for the jobs of police-women, the majority of them over 40, were asked that question in their examinations. One hundred and fifty pencils were poised in thought before the replies were written down. From the answers of the candidates a medium may be struck, as the law in that respect is not specific.

BLACK-JONES

On Sunday morning at nine o'clock, Mr. Ralph Black and Miss Annie Mae Jones were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Jones on Maple Ave.

The impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. J. V. Freeman, pastor of the Methodist church. Those witnessing the ceremony were:

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hamilton, of Union City; Miss Katie Faulkes, of this city, and the immediate family of the bride. The bride wore a beautiful dress of heavy satin and picture hat to match, carrying a corsage of valley lilies and roses. Mrs. Black is a well known young lady of this city.

Mr. Black is a very prominent young man of Knoxville, Tenn., being manager of the Prudden Mines.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom left for Cincinnati and other points of interest. Mr. and Mrs. Black will be home to their friends at Prudden, Tenn., after September 1.

Fulton Route Seven

Every one welcomed the refreshing rain last week which cooled the atmosphere of the intense heat. Crops and vegetables are doing well.

School days are almost here. The new consolidated school near Chapel Hill is being constructed. The boys and girls should be very proud of their advantages which are much better than a decade ago.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Shelton and family, of Louisville, Ky., are spending his vacation with relatives and friends in and around Fulton.

Mrs. Clara Ledbetter and children of Granite City, Ill., are visiting her sister, Mrs. M. E. Roach.

Miss Mabel Daugherty of Bowling Green, Ky., is the guest of Mrs. T. D. McKinney.

Mrs. McFall is entertaining Mrs. Pace and daughter, Mrs. Bob White, also Mrs. Sammit Bennett of Memphis. They will probably be here for the fair.

Miss Laura Hazelrigg, who is in training at Dyersburg hospital, is spending her vacation at home.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Reeves ex-teachers of South Fulton, arrived last Saturday to spend a few days with home folks and attend the fair.

Miss Lydia Kinney opened her school at Pleasant Valley near Union City, Aug. 17. Miss Kinney is a very deserving young lady. She is a graduate of South Fulton and has had normal training at Memphis. We wish her a prosperous year.

Quite a number of people of route 7 have been attending the Tucker revival at the tabernacle. They report good services.

U. S. ENVOY TO HAITI IS DEAD

MINISTER BAILLY-BLANCHARD A NATIVE OF LOUISIANA

SKILLED IN DIPLOMACY

Diplomat Arrived in Montreal Aug. 19, But Did Not Make His Presence Known to the Consulate There.

Montreal.—Arthur Bailly-Blanchard, United States minister to Haiti since 1914, was found dead in his bedroom at the Mount Royal Hotel early today.

Mr. Bailly-Blanchard arrived in Montreal Aug. 19, but his presence here had not been known to the American consulate. He registered as from Rochester, N. Y., although his home was in New Orleans, La. His baggage bore Washington, D. C. labels.

The body bore no marks of violence and death apparently was due to natural causes. A night watchman discovered the body.

Arthur Bailly-Blanchard had a varied career of a law instructor, business man, newspaper man, soldier and diplomat.

He was born in New Orleans in 1855, and was educated in the law. After serving in the law department of the University of Louisiana, he entered business in his native city. Later he was assistant editor of two New Orleans newspapers, served in the employ of the Mexican Central Railway and soldiered with the Le Gardeur Battalion and in the Louisiana National Guard.

In 1885 he went to France as private secretary to the American minister. He was associated with settlement of the French spoliation claims, and held diplomatic posts successively in Russia, Japan and Haiti.

In 1912 when he was secretary of the American embassy at Paris, where he had previously been chargé d'affaires, Mr. Bailly-Blanchard was transferred to the embassy at Tokyo, and this transfer was said to have been the real reason for the resignation at that time of Robert Bacon, then ambassador to France. Shortly after his arrival at Tokyo, Mr. Bailly-Blanchard became chargé d'affaires and represented the United States at the Japanese capital during the difficult period of the exchanges regarding the California anti-alien legislation. He assumed his post as minister to Haiti July 31, 1914.

MACKINAC DEATH LIST IS SLOWLY MOUNTING

Indications Are That Toll Will Exceed Fifty.

Newport, R. I.—Indications are that the total of deaths due to the explosion on board the excursion steamer Mackinac will exceed 50.

Forty-two have died so far. Eight cases in the two hospitals are regarded as hopeless. As to a large number of other cases the physicians are skeptical, asserting that the outcome depends entirely upon the resistance the panic-stricken patients are still capable of maintaining.

Seven persons are known to be missing.

John McCormack Buys in Ireland

London.—John McCormack, famous Irish-American tenor, has just bought a home in Ireland at the Currax of Kiltare, he disclosed in an interview. "Ireland is all right," said Mr. McCormack. "Everybody is happy there except those who are out of office. The Free State is building splendid new roads and some magnificent bridges. I was very much pleased to see the progress being made."

Against Verdict of Court

Washington.—The verdicts of not guilty returned by a court-martial board last June against Miss Ruth M. Anderson and Miss Catherine Glancy, navy nurses, charged with violation of the Volstead act, in bringing liquor into the United States from the West Indies, were disproved by Secretary Wilbur.

Long Radio Sending

London.—Gerald Marcano, a well known amateur wireless expert living near here, has spoken direct to the wireless operator aboard the United States warship Seattle at Wellington, New Zealand, every morning between 6 and 8 o'clock for a week, it was learned here. This is considered a record for amateur wireless transmission.

Begs for Prison Cell

Dubuque, Ia.—Frank Bennett has gone back home—to the state penitentiary at Fort Madison. The 70-year-old man begged Judge Maguire to give him a life sentence after confessing he had burned a box car here.

Washington.—The New York Stock Exchange is "not a business league, a chamber of commerce or a board of trade within the meaning of the law and is not exempt from tax."

OFFICER KILLED IN BANK ROBBERY

SHOT TAKING $14,000 PAYROLL TO BRIDGE WORKMEN.

BANDITS MAKE ESCAPE

Bold Raid in Perth Amboy Causes Pedestrians to Scurry in All Directions—Payroll Robbery Well Planned.

Perth Amboy, N. J.—In one of the boldest of the many broad daylight holdups, a bank messenger was shot to death in a busy street, here and three bandits escaped with the $14,000 payroll of Perth Amboy's new $5,000,000 Victory Bridge. An automobile was used by the murderers to escape, and all the panic stricken witnesses failed to note its license number. All the witnesses finally determined was the bandits used an Essex coach. They made off in the direction of New Brunswick. The police soon directed that all automobile traffic on the outskirts of the Amboys be stopped. Electric signals were flashed to patrolmen in outlying districts and the alarm was broadcast about the country side but the trio were not caught.

Joseph E. Gallagher, 53, a special officer, employed by the Perth Amboy Trust Co. for many years, was the victim of the gunmen's bullet. With Charles Gray, another employee of the trust company, he was taking the money for the workmen engaged for the Stillman Company, Lechante & Ferris Co., contractors on the new state bridge over the Raritan River, between Perth Amboy and South Amboy. Gallagher had carried the payroll weekly for more than a year, taking the money in a small leather bag.

He was married and at one time was a lieutenant of police for the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

Early in the day he telephoned a taxicab service to send a taxi to the trust company. Charles Schuck drove the taxi. Gallagher and Gray got into it and started for the paymaster's office of the contracting firm. Approaching a bump in the road at an intersection, Schuck slowed down and as he did so heard a crash of glass. He looked around and saw two men, one on each running board of his taxi. As Gray reached afterward, one of the bandits took the glass in a door of the taxi with the butt of a pistol and then two shots rang out. One bullet went through the rear window of the cab. The other, fired point blank at Gallagher, went through his head and he crumpled in the seat.

One of the robbers grabbed the bag containing the money.

Schuck stopped the cab and the two robbers jumped off and leaped aboard another car that had been driven alongside by a third and which raced off at top speed.

At the sound of the shots there was a scurrying of pedestrians in all directions. None could be found who had seen the license number of the slayers' car, and only a few recognized its make. By the time pursuit was attempted, it had disappeared toward New Brunswick.

Gallagher died on the way to Perth Amboy City hospital.

The police believe the robbery was carefully planned, even to selecting the spot with the bump in the road where the taxi would slow down.

FRENCH COMMISSION WILL BE NAMED SOON

Debt Envoys to U. S. to Sail September 16.

Paris.—The French debt commission, which will sail on the steamer Paris for the United States on September 16, in all probability headed by Minister of Finance Caillaux, will be definitely appointed at the next cabinet meeting.

The Marin says the commission almost certainly will include Senator Henry Berenger, reporter of the budget committee; Senator Ferdinand Chapsal, president of the customs tariff committee; Deputy Vincent Auriol, Socialist and former president of the budget committee of the chamber; Deputy Lamoureux, reporter of the budget committee of the Chamber; Deputy Maurice Bokanowsky, former reporter of the budget committee; Marquis Pierre de Chambrun and Joseph Simon, a banker and formerly director of the financial section of the French high commission to the United States.

A GENTLE REMINDER

I've been jay walking some more lately, and have noticed several things that the public may like to hear about. One of them is the spotty conditions of the downtown streets. Some places have been greatly improved, while others seem to have been entirely overlooked. Wonder why?

Then there are the "Don't Park Here" signs. They have done a lot of good, and helped to keep the fire hydrants and other places free from congestion, but the big sign at the intersection of Lake and Commercial avenue is entirely disregarded by the autoing public. Many cars coming out of Commercial at a speed that threatens both foot and auto traffic. Some day there will be a collision at that corner and we will help to increase the constantly increasing number of deaths due to careless motor drivers.

Then there are the "kid" drivers. They seem to have increased more this summer than ever before. Boys and girls very unmistakably below the age of 16, which is the legal age for driving motors on public highways, and the speed at which these "kids" drive certainly is reckless.

What started all the above is the fact that I had to "get a move on" the other day to escape being "among the dead and wounded." That's why.

Homra Bros.

Thirty-one years is a pretty long time to be engaged in one business and in the same town. It speaks well, both for the town and the business enterprise, each of which has contributed to the other's success.

In 1893, M. Homra and his brother, K. Homra, opened a dry goods and clothing store in Fulton. They operated at first on a small scale but always carried a good line of goods with prices in keeping with the quality. As the city grew larger, this enterprising firm expanded and prospered until today it is one of the leading dry goods stores in Fulton.

Much of the success enjoyed by Homra Brothers is due to the fact that they have for many years been assisted by such excellent salespeople as Mrs. Fannie Price, Mrs. Beulah Neely and Mr. U. H. Scott.

Miss Dorothy Jennings, of Paducah, spent last week end with Mrs. C. S. Townsend and left Monday for Newbern to visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wattlington.

With Graded Harmonies
of Same Color Scheme

Popular print, with graded harmonies of the same color scheme makes this dress one of the most pleasing for summer wear. The skirt, which has a wide plait at the center front, is slashed and bound with satin, which also forms an edging for the skirt, the short sleeves and collar.

Taffeta Frock Among Early Summer Models

In a collection of models brought out for early summer there are several frocks that are exponents of the smart possibilities that lie in the use of taffeta—so many, in fact, that they must be considered important factors in the world of fashion.

There is one decidedly reminiscent of the former generations. It is fashioned on lines that suggest the old-time princess silhouette, a bit softened to conform to a modern tendency to subtly indicate rather than to obviously define the figure. The skirt has three wide gathered flounces extending from the knees to the hem. A touch of bright green appears at points on the shoulders formed by the joining of a straight-across neckline in front and back. The distinctive fashion note, however, is in a high collar of embroidered batiste that is separate from the frock itself. Wide cuffs of batiste finish the long tight sleeves.

Another model has a decided element of novelty. In this a foundation of black taffeta serves as a background for an apron effect of plaid taffeta in shades of red and black and white. A deep collar of taffeta fringed all around takes the place of sleeves, and a similar fringed effect appears as a finish on the tunic.

Although many of the new models have the straight, unbroken line from the shoulders to a point well below the knees, a surprising number reveal a marked inclination upon the part of their designers to definitely indicate a natural waistline.

Hand-Painted Garments
Include All Accessories

The variants in hand-painted ensembles are almost without number. It is an intriguing phase of modern fashions presented by artists. Whether any phase of it will endure remains to be seen, for it is an ephemeral fancy for which there is at the moment a mad craze among the few. The cost of a well-painted costume is prohibitive except for the clever crafts-woman who may find in this a channel for self-expression.

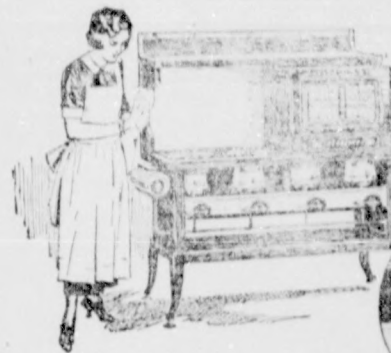

The most engaging styles in painted lingerie are shown. Things of filmy nylon and soft crepes painted in delicate patterns. The charm of these is in their delicacy, their subtle tints and fine quality. Among the up-to-date models are the most exquisite underthings, night gowns, and with these, accessories painted in the same scheme. It is now considered correct to have one's lingerie in ensemble, and dairy accessories, slippers, hosiery, handkerchiefs, even mittens, are painted to harmonize with the negligee.

It is in dresses of this sort that Parisian modistes and needlewomen excel, and novelties of this season are a delight. The gentler pastel shades are preferred for lingerie ensembles, but many of the most engaging models are presented in undergarments of every description.

Novelties of Season

A new fashion note is the small wrapped turban made of Roman striped silk or ribbon and a scarf of silk in a solid color which has a border around one side and one end. These come in marvelous color combinations and will add a touch of color to the country costume.

How you can banish
the dirtiest day of the week

The dirtiest day of the week for the woman who cooks with coal or wood is stove-polishing day.

Why soil your hands and your clothes and fill the house with a disagreeable odor when a small sum will put a cleanly, perfect-looking Florence Oil Range in your kitchen?

This range puts an end to coal-gas, soot, and ashes. It gives heat only when you want heat—and as much as you want when you want it. The flame is a gas flame. It is not a wick flame, such as you see in the ordinary lamp.

Drop in today and let us explain in detail how the Florence develops this hot blue oil-gas flame.
