Washington Letter.

Speaker Crisp's Lecture—Internal Revenue Tax on Cigarettes.

OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Speaker Crisp is thoroughly in accord with the desire to make a calm, conservative and business-like investigation of the pension office and its methods of doing business, and in selecting the committee authorized by the house resolution he made good use of his knowledge of the members of the house and named men who will sit with the same impartiality on the evidence presented to them and as carefully sift it, in order to throw out that which in their judgment is based on hatred or personal prejudice, as they would if sitting as judges in a court of law. The democrats on the committee are representatives Wheeler, of Michigan, Little, of New York, and Dungan, of Ohio, the republicans Messrs Lind, of Minnesota and Brosius of Pennsylvania, all ex-union soldiers.

Representative Hoar, of Massachusetts, is confident that the adoption of his resolution by the house authorizing the committee and manufactures to investigate the so-called "sweetening" system of tenement house labor, is a long step in the right direction, and he predicts that the result of the investigation will be some startling facts of special interest to those who wear "ready made" clothing. Before the house adopted the resolution it adopted an amendment directing the committee to inquire how much increase the McKinley bill has caused in the wages of workmen employed in industries protected by the terms of that bill. It also afterwards adopted a resolution offered by Mr. Holman, restricting the cost of the investigation to $3,000.

Speaker Crisp has given some of the democratic members who have been careless as to their attendance on the sessions of the house a little lecture on their duties, taking his text from the lack of a quorum of democrats on the floor, which the other day enabled the republicans to compel an adjournment. A second lecture on this subject should not be necessary.

The senate committee on agriculture will report a resolution providing for the appointment of a number of sub-committees to make an investigation, a committee to each branch of the subject, for the purpose of ascertaining the present condition of agriculture in the United States, the prices of its products, and if there be any of which the prices are depressed, the cause of such depression and the remedy therefor. This resolution will be reported as a substitute for Senator George's resolution for an investigation of the depressed in the cotton raising states.

Representative Wheeler, of Alabama, has sent a cold shiver down the spinal columns of all the big office holders by introducing a resolution instructing the several committees in charge of appropriation bills to make reductions of 20 per cent in all official salaries of $5,000 or more—that would catch senators and representatives—and of 10 per cent in all salaries of $3,000 or more.

An attempt is being made to get the ways and means by reporting a bill placing an internal revenue tax of $10 per 1000 on all cigarettes offered for sale, whether of domestic or foreign manufacture. A memorial showing that the excessive use of cigarettes has during the year killed 100 young men, and sent an equal number to insane asylums is being circulated in congress.

The manner in which the annual appropriation bill for the military academy was reduced by the house, sitting as a committee of the whole, before it was passed, in spite of the powerful influences brought to bear in favor of passing it as reported from the committee on military affairs, has convinced a good many people who had doubts on the subject that when the democratic leaders said economy in public expenditures would be enforced by the house, they indulged in no idle talk. Republicans may sneer, but when the people's verdict is heard next November the democrats will get their reward.

The Bland free coinage bill, now on the house calendar, is the subject of much talk in and out of congress. It is favored on principle by a very large majority of the house, but whether a majority of the democrats believe it political wisdom to pass it at this time will very soon be known as a petition asking the committee on rules to set a date for its consideration by the house is now being circulated for democratic signatures. More than a hundred have signed.

It is expected that the Canadian reciprocity commissioners will return home this week, knowing just about as much as they did when they came. They had no authority to make a treaty, with Mr. Blaine, even had he been so disposed.

FRETFULNESS.

By "C. J. Valentine."

Oh woman! whose highest honor it is to mature and rear earth's men and women for God's service, and to breathe over the homes where you rear them something of the atmosphere of that home yours should typify, exercise, I entreat you, this foul spirit, this demon fretfulness, from your domain. Let its shadow never darken your threshold; let its breath never blight the spirits where it is your province to ward and watch. Would you be good and true where God has placed you? Would you have yours—your own dear ones—large of soul, loving and beloved in their lives, living in sunshine and scattering sunshine? Would you be to them while you live, and live in their memories after you are dead, as one of those sent of God and manifesting Him in their lives? Then let your brow never be clouded, your tones sharpened, the loving beaming of your eye never quenched by this foul spirit, that gathers its venom and blight from discontent and unholy interest. A truly noble man, a loving, innocent child, might find a better home in a den of stinging reptiles, than with "a bawling" or fretful "woman in a wide house."

If you are sick, and cannot give to your home service and care, give them then the smile of a calm, unruffled soul, the sunshine of peace and love, and trust in god. If you are burdened with care and toil, add not to the load you must needs carry. One you need not, by fretfulness of spirit, but let cheerfulness and hope buoy you. Do "difficulties, dark and frowning, meet you? Does your path lie over an intricate and thorny way? Let the light of a quiet spirit brighten it, and the music of gentle, loving tones thrill along its tangled mazes. Listen for them, and you shall catch, ever and anon, strains of poetry and measures of melody, even on the dreariest road. Have you the greatest blessing a true woman's heart craves, affectionate friends, a pleasant home, a loving and noble man for a companion, and dear, promising children? Oh, let gratitude to the Great Giver keep you always from the lowering frown of impatience, and the harsh, grating tones of complaint and fretfulness at the little ills, the little disappointments, the physical taxations, and the nervous discomforts and ailments that every mother of a family, however blessed and favored, must at times encounter. Let each strive, in her own sphere and in her own home, to make that home as perfect, that sphere as ennobled as it can become. If this is the aim and ambition, surely from such a home and sphere will be banished, with much else that belittles and degrades, and mars it, the demon—Fretfulness.

Clay and Randolph.

"I Thank God that I am No Deeper in Your Debt!"

A SKETCH ABOUT THE DUEL.

Seldom perhaps, has an administration been assailed with more violence, or with less cause, than that of Mr. Adams. Perhaps the hostility manifested towards it, was occasioned, to a considerable extent, by Mr. Clay's connection with it, and from the fact that the views of the president, in relation to the great measures of national policy, harmonized perfectly with his own. This gave to the opposition, of the ultra advocates of state rights, its bitterest venom, which was profusely lavished upon it. As soon as Mr. Clay left the house, his old eccentric foe, Mr. Randolph, cast off all restraint, and spoke and acted as though law and order were not for him; suffering no occasion to pass unimproved in abusing Mr. Clay, and often travelling out of his way to seek one. The subject of the Panama mission furnished him rich materials for exercising his peculiar genius, which he employed in the most insulting manner towards him. He characterized that union of sentiment to which we have alluded, which existed between the president and Mr. Clay, as a "coalition of Bliff and Black George—a combination of the Puritan with the black-leg"—and charged Mr. Clay with "stealing a leaf from the curse book of Pandemonium." Such language would be disgraceful under any circumstances, but especially on the floor of the senate chamber. Mr. Randolph seemed determined to bring about a personal conflict with Mr. Clay, from what motives it is difficult to determine, for the latter gave him no cause of abuse, carefully avoiding him as he did. But the former went on, day after day, unprovoked, adding injury to injury, heaping insult upon insult upon the latter, until further forbearance became exceedingly difficult, to say the least, especially as Mr. Clay was surrounded by his family. Says an individual intimately acquainted with the parties, "Mr. Randolph knew that his every word, whether spoken in his sober or inebriated moments, was pregnant with death to the pride and the happiness of the innocent and the lovely." Although he himself had no family; although he was an individual in reference to whom a distinguished friend of ours once thanked God in congress, that monsters could not perpetrate their species; still he must have known, from hearsay, that the feelings of a wife and a daughter are keenly sensitive. Had Mr. Clay held a seat in the senate, Mr. Randolph, dark as were his designs, and much as he longed for a quarrel, would not have dared to use the language of open outrage. There was ever something in Mr. Clay's eye, before which his spirit quailed and blinked, like a frightened thing. Mr. Clay, however, was absent, and every day of his forbearance added bitterness to the insults that were heaped on him. What could he do? Unquestionably, that religion, whose kingdom is not of this world, required him to endure patiently unto the end. It is a matter of regret that he did not, but who shall censure him harshly, for having, in a moment of uncontrollable exasperation, turned upon his pursuer and dared him to single combat!

Of the duel, itself, it is not necessary to say much. Mr. Randolph, in defiance of established usage, went upon the field in a huge morning gown; and the seconds, had not Mr. Clay interfered, would have made this singular conduct the occasion of a quarrel. In due time the parties fired, and luckily for both of them, or at least for Mr. Clay, Mr. Randolph's life was saved by his gown. The unseemly garment constituted such a vast circumference, that the locality of the "thin and swarthy senator" was at least a matter of very vague conjecture. Mr. Clay might as well have fired into the outspread top of an oak, in the hope of hitting a bird that he supposed to be snugly perched somewhere among the branches. His ball hit the centre of the visible object, but Randolph was not there! and of course the shot did no harm and no good. After the first discharge Mr. Randolph, by firing into the air, showed his disinclination to continue the fight. He immediately walked up to Mr. Clay, who was still standing in his place, and, parting the folds of his gown, pointed to the hole where the bullet of the former had pierced his coat, and, in the shrillest tones of his squeaking voice, exclaimed, "Mr. Clay, you owe me a coat, you owe me a coat!" to which he replied, in a voice of slow and solemn emphasis, at the same time pointing directly to Mr. Randolph's heart, "Mr. Randolph, I thank God that I am no deeper in your debt!"

We are no apologist for the duelist; we regard the practice of duelling with the deepest detestation and abhorrence, and believe it unjustified, under any circumstances; still, we unhesitatingly say, that those which surrounded Mr. Clay, were approximated as nearly to a justification, as any possibly could. He had resorted to all honorable means to avoid a duel with Mr. Randolph; calling upon and desiring him to explain or retract his insulting language, but he flatly refused. It may not be amiss to state, in this connection, that Mr. Clay reproached the practice of duelling, himself. This appears from his avowed sentiment relative thereto "I owe it," said he, "to the community, to say that whatever, heretofore, I may have done, or by inevitable circumstances may be forced to do, no man in it holds in deeper abhorrence than I do, the pernicious practice of duelling. Condemned as it must be, by the judgment and philosophy, to say nothing of the religion, of every thinking man, it is an affair of feeling, about which we cannot, although we should, reason. The true corrective will be found, when all shall unite, as all ought to unite, in its unqualified proscription."

The hostile meeting between Mr. Randolph and Mr. Clay, occurred April 8, 1826. Their last interview took place in March, 1833, a short time previous to the decease of the former. He was on his way to Philadelphia, where he died. Being unable to walk or stand without assistance, he was borne into the senate chamber, to which he was about to pay his last visit. The senate was in session by candlelight. Mr. Clay had risen to make some remarks on a compromise act. "Help me up," said Mr. Randolph, sitting in a chair, and speaking to his half-brother, Mr. Tucker, "help me up; I have come to hear that voice once more." When Mr. Clay concluded, he approached, and shook Mr. Randolph cordially by the hand, and thus terminated their intercourse forever.

Bad Effects of Shaving.

We have often heard that shaving the face with a razor was a bad thing; that it injured the nerves and caused weak eyes; that it removed the natural covering from the throat and neck, and that altogether it was thoroughly physiological. A writer in the Medical Classic has been looking into this matter a little more closely. By the aid of a microscope applied to a closely shaven face, he discovered that the skin resembles a piece of raw beef. The razor removes not only the hair, but also a portion of the cuticle. The blood vessels thus exposed are not visible to the naked eye; but under the microscope each little quivering mole holds a drop of blood. The nerve tips are also uncovered, and the pores are left unprotected, making the skin tender and unhealthy; and the person is liable to have colds, hoarseness and sore throat.

The Whiskey Question, in Benton, Not Yet Settled.

APOLOGY TO THE WIDOWS.

The article that appeared in the Tribune last week, relative to widows, brought down the ire of several of them upon the venerable head of this humble editor. If we have said anything whatever to offend the most tender of the widowhood, we now hasten to retract it and forever, hereafter hold our peace as regards this large family of our best people. It would be contrary to our nature to write a line, that would in the least, harrow the feelings of a single one of these good women, because from the earliest days of our boyhood, have always numbered among our most valued and trusted friends, ladies who belong to this class of our acquaintances. As we always had the council, love and respect of these good people, in our younger days we feel that we do not want to loose any of their power, in our travels down the declining years of our life, and we shall try to merit their kindness until time shall be no more with us. We were told by a young, beautiful and gifted widow, not long since, that no one should say anything against the widows, for their lot here on earth was a hard one, at best, without having hard sayings said about them. This touched a tender place in our heart, when upon serious reflection we contemplated the thousands of women, that have lost their dear companions, and been thrown upon the cold charities of the world, with no strong arm to lean upon, or no one to assist in raising a family or making a living, yet in the midst of these great afflictions, they become self-sustaining and responsible citizens. In many instances, the widows are more shifty and prosperous than men, besides they attend to their own business, and is not the disturbing element that some writers on the subject, pretend.

The number of widows in town is very great and we can't call to mind a single one that is not industrious, self-sustaining and valuable to their neighbors and society. No idea, perished the thought that we should ever say or do anything that would incur the displeasure of the widowhood.

The New Way to Assess Lands.

Representative Wood, of Warren county, will soon introduce a bill in the legislature that will save the state much money and be more satisfactory to the people than any law passed so far on the same subject. It is a law relative to the assessment of realty. It proposes that lands and other realty shall only be assessed once in four years, and that a map of all the property of that kind in each county shall be made out, showing the exact location of each piece, so that in making the assessment no such property will or can escape taxation. Under the provisions of such a law an exact and complete assessment can be made, and when once made but little trouble will be necessary to make all succeeding assessments thereafter. Such a law will save the state about $200,000, which it now pays to assessors for the present and imperfect way of assessing it. Under the present system of assessing lands fully 50,000 acres escape taxation each year. Under the new law the tax revenues of the state will increase and the expenses decrease, which is in line with the will and wishes of the reform element of the state. We need some radical changes in the laws governing and regulating the assessment of all classes of property in the state, and the enactment of the above mentioned law would be an excellent beginning. Suppose the legislature try it?

ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are authorized to announce
W. W. ROBERTSON

of Graves county, as a candidate for Congress from the First District subject to the action of the democratic party. Election first Tuesday in November 1892.

as a candidate for Circuit Court Clerk of Marshall county, subject to the action of the democratic party.

We are authorized to announce
C. H. STARKS

as a candidate for Sheriff of Marshall county, subject to the action of the democratic party.

We are authorized to announce
W. R. FIELDS

as a candidate for Sheriff of Marshall county. Election first Tuesday in November 1892.

WED. EVENING, FEB. 24

Garnett, Campbell, Stone and Robertson.

Will James Garnett become a candidate for congress or not?

Where, oh where is the chairman of the democratic county committee?

The Japanese parliament has voted $500,000 for the proper representation of that empire at the World's Fair in Chicago.

Judge Campbell and Judge Robertson candidates for congress were in Murray Monday mixing with the Callowayites.

The new constitution is constitutional, and everybody can now feel at perfect liberty to live in obedience to its requirements.

Judges Campbell and Robertson announced themselves candidates for congress, at Murray, last Monday to a large crowd of the yeomanry of Calloway.

Where did the Standard get its information, that James Garnett would not be a candidate for congress? Don't keep down ambition by misrepresenting it.

The Paducah papers are keeping up a very useless and uninteresting racket about the black movement. To stop all this let the democrats put nominees in the field for all officers.

If the Tribune was not afraid of splitting the democratic party, it would risk the suggestion that the democracy of the United States does not want Mr. Cleveland or Hill as the standard-bearer of the democracy.

We find on our exchange table a copy of the Times, published at Georgetown, Ky. It is a nine-column, all-home print paper, subscription price $2, and is now in its 26th year. We give the Times a hearty welcome.

Now is the time to begin to make up your minds. It will be Campbell, Garnett, Robertson and Stone. The district committee will soon meet and order a primary election. Look out, the pot will soon begin to boil.

Hiram Smith, the depot agent at Kuttawa, was murdered last week by his assistant in the office and two or three dirty pals living near the Eddyville depot. Smith has never been found but some of the accused have been arrested.

Our laws will no longer be called the "general statutes," but will be known hereafter as the "Kentucky statutes." One by one the old names are scratched out and new ones put in their places. We are certainly growing more modern as the times come and go.

When the Cadiz Telephone insinuates that we care so little for democracy, that we only want McCracken, Calloway and Marshall in a district, regardless of the political complexion of other counties, it is sadly deluded and mistaken. We are for the success of the democratic party, regardless of our personal likes and dislikes, and if we could prevent the third judicial district from being republican, by having Marshall put in, we would gladly do it. In arranging the districts the democratic senators and representatives should hold a caucus and make every district in the state democratic, if they possibly can, regardless of the wishes of political aspirants and private individuals. No sir, Mr. Telephone, we are for the success of the party, even if Calloway, Marshall or any other county has to be joined with any of our sister counties across the river. We have our preferences, as we have heretofore stated, geographically, but politically we believe that the success of our party should in all instances be paramount.

The sinking fund commissioners in a meeting at Frankfort last Friday elected Mr. Sam Norman, assistant secretary of state, warden of the Frankfort penitentiary, removing Warden Bolland. They also suspended Mr. Sam Nunn, deputy warden of the Eddyville prison, until further notice for shooting Z. T. Montgomery. Mr. Norman is from Graves county, and is thought to be a suitable person for wardenship of the big prison at Frankfort. A residence is furnished him by the state, and he receives $2,000 per year for his services. This is a good position and we are glad that Mr. Norman has accepted it.

The Tribune reports a meeting at Benton at which resolutions of similar character to those of Calloway were passed asking Mr. Miller and Mr. Ayers to form a district of Calloway, Marshall and McCracken. Fortunately for the democracy of other counties, a democratic caucus will possibly have a word to say about it. Cadiz Telephone.

We believe the Telephone is a little off in the above remarks. We don't think we made mention of such a meeting. If the Telephone saw it anywhere, it was in the Paducah News or Murray Ledger. We live here and generally know of such meetings, but this is one meeting we never heard of until we saw it in other papers. The Tribune was never furnished with a copy of the resolutions, or knew anything of the meeting. If there was such a meeting held, it must have been engineered by parties from other counties, for the people of this county do not feel such an interest in the formation of the district as to have participated in such a meeting. If such a meeting was held we are at a loss to know why the resolutions were not of sufficient importance to be published in our county paper, but were rushed away and given to other papers. The Tribune is like the Telephone, such proceedings are not always best. Let everything be done in fairness, decency and order.

Judge W. W. Robertson. We announce in this issue of the Tribune the name of Judge W. W. Robertson, of Graves county, as a candidate for congress in this district. He is no stranger to the readers of this paper or the citizens of Marshall county. He is known to nearly every voter in the county as an energetic, business man, a profound lawyer, an impartial judge and a speaker of rare ability. He is a man in the prime of life, conversant with the needs of the people in the first congressional district, and well informed in all the political problems of modern politics; in fact, there are but few men in all this country better adapted to enter the broad arena of national legislation than Judge Robertson. He was not born with a silver spoon in his mouth, but from the dreary paths of obscurity and poverty, he came, relying upon his own exertions; fighting the many battles of life gaining the respect and confidence of his fellow-men in every contest, until to-day he stands in the front ranks of the best of our self-made men. He has filled every position he ever held from his boyhood to the present time with marked ability and perfect satisfaction to his exacting countrymen. Now, when the services of such men needed in our national congress, he offers himself upon the democratic altar of his country, and asks to be the standard-bearer of that party for congress in this district. His name and the desires of his ambition are before the people, choose ye this day whom ye will have to serve you, and if it be Robertson, a faithful public servant ye will have.

A L'ABANDON.

The cheap excursion to St. Louis took several of our citizens away from home perhaps for the first time in many years. It is rather amusing to see how one of these excursions will draw on the population of a back county. We visited the depot at night, a while before the time for the excursion train to come, and took an invoice of the crowd from this place.

The most conspicuous character that first met our vision was C. H. Starks, candidate for sheriff, with his two-story plug standing up like a stand pipe, and his immense overcoat covering about one-fourth of the room in the depot, ready to leave wife, children, voters and relatives to visit the great city.

The next one that caught our attention was the long, tall, handsome form of T. H. Blewett, hovering under his balmy wings the gifted young Hud Strow, who had just a few minutes before took out an accident policy and had it made over to their sweethearts. It was a sad scene to see these boys coming with so much dread of coming danger.

There stood Pat Stilley, the polite landlord of the Stilley House, drifting away to the big city, the first time in his life. He could hardly bear the idea of leaving his "ma" so long.

J. W. Clark (commonly called Jid), a man of 55 years, a staunch farmer and democrat, with his standing collar, was in possession of a ticket ready to take passage on the approaching train for the city of the west, for the first time. He bade his family of boys goodbye, kissed Polly, and left to see the sights with the rest of the boys.

The next one to discover was the original John Harris Filbeck. He was ready to take his departure. He is a good democratic farmer, been married twice and dearly loves his family. He works hard, makes money and is determined to see the blinding sights of a big city. He kissed wife and children and bounded away with the romping boys, for a few days of fun and sight-seeing.

We were more than shocked when we saw H. B. Carper inside a new suit of clothes, and comfortably located under a new derby, ready to step over and spend a few days with the "big bugs" of St. Louis. Henry is a man who makes money, draws a live pension and is rather shaky in politics, but he, like the rest of the boys, was anxious for a few days' bum, and like the original Tennesseean, carried his old-time saddle-bags. He reminded us of a Calloway man going to county court.

Hamlet was well represented in the persons of Sol T. Ham and Willie Hamilton, two young men of good clothes and plenty of sense. They fell at the feet of their best girls and asked permission to be absent a few days on the big excursion, which of course was readily granted. They are the coming young men of their community, but in politics, they are the products of the labor movements and believe the two old parties will soon be wiped off the face of the earth. This of course is wherein the boys are not up with the time.

Since writing the above, most of the boys have "seen the sights" of a great city, and are now at home. Their loud praises of city "as she is" are beyond wordly expression. Tom Blewett says it seemed as if there was a big fire in some part of the city, and everybody was trying to get there first. But Hud Strow was paying more attention to the fruit stands, admiring the luscious grapes. In fact, Hud was so liberal as to ask for five cents worth of that fruit, whereupon he was informed that they did not sell a nickel's worth. So Hud laid down a dime, and the fruit vender, procuring a tiny paper bag, picked 13 grapes from one of the large bunches, and handed them to the much surprised customer. Hud says that grapes in St. Louis are much higher than those that grow wild here in the woods. At the same time Pat Stilley was trying to stop a cable car by placing his hat on the track. This is vouched for by Tom Blewett, who can tell you the result of Pat's experiment.

CALVERT CITY.

It has long been a mystery to me why this town had no one who would chronicle the news for the Tribune each week. We have the best town in the county, (Benton excepted) and surrounded by the finest farming and timber land in the county.

The timber business has been a great help to us. Mr. A. B. Tinsley has shipped thousands of ties from here in the past two years and will ship many more this year. Mr. Castleberry, of New Madrid, Mo., is working a large crew of men cutting steam wood. This job will last for the year and put many dollars in the pockets of our laboring men.

The gripe has tackled most of our citizens, but has not proved so fatal as other locality. But very few deaths have occurred here this winter.

Dr. L. E. Finley will leave March 1st for upper Pensicola, New Mexico, where he will reside in the future. Our people are loath to give the doctor up, but he has fully decided, and we can't hold him. He is one of the best physicians in the county. In our loss New Mexico will gain a good physician and a good citizen.

The young ladies gave a leap year party at Mr. John Maddox's last night which was attended by over one hundred of the sweetest and prettiest girls and ugliest boys of the county. All of whom appeared to have a good time.

One of our young merchants wants to retire from the business and buy a farm about two miles north of Briensburg.

Some of our people are very indignant at the way Judge Dupriest acted last week in the trial of Dick Ivett for larceny.

The judge brought two gentlemen from Benton to take Mr. Ivett to Hopkinsville. Mrs. Ivett requested Judge Dupriest to send her husband as he could manage her husband better than any one else. The citizens had also joined in the request, but the judge replied that he could send only those who came from Benton with him and that they paid his expenses from Benton to Calvert City in order to get to go. I have heard a large number of people express themselves, and all say, that the judge should have given the family and relatives preference, and if no one wanted to go, then it was his duty to appoint any one he liked. OCCASIONAL.

A Bad Wound.

One month ago on the 19th inst., Wm. Henson, a son of Riley Henson, stuck a butcher knife in his right leg just below the knee joint. The knife went in about three inches, cutting the big artery in two, which caused profuse bleeding. Dr. E. A. Henson was called in to dress the wound, but from some cause he did not tie the ends of the artery to stop the bleeding, but put cotton in the wound and a bandage about the leg and left it in this condition. Of course with each pulsation of the heart the blood would ooze out at the end of the artery, which it did and went down on the inside of the skin and into all parts of the leg and toes, until the young man was nearly dead. On the 15th Drs. Johnson and Stilley were called, but the condition of the wound was so bad that they were not willing to take the responsibility of doing what might be required to save the man's life. So they wanted the presence of a more experienced surgeon, and telegraphed Dr. J. G. Brooks, of Paducah, to come out and assist in the work. But before he came Johnson and Stilley had split the skin on the leg and took therefrom a quart or more of clotted blood, that had accumulated on the inside of the skin and fastened the forceps to the end of the artery and stopped the bleeding. Next morning, which was last Saturday morning, Brooks came out and Johnson, Stilley and himself met in consultation to decide the best treatment to pursue. After due consultation and examination they decided that the patient was too weak to have his leg amputated, but redressed the wound and left it about in the same condition as it was by Johnson and Stilley. The physicians report the patient in a dangerous condition and really doubt his recovery. It was a very bad wound carelessly neglected in some respects, if our information be true.

see them when wanting to buy goods.

Early Risers, Early Risers, Early Risers, the famous little pills for constipation, sick headache, dispep-sia and nervousness.

Some remarkable cures of deafness are recorded of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Never fails to cure earache.

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic is a perfect, malarial liver tonic and blood purifier, removes biliousness without purging. As pleasant as lemon syrup. 50c. To get the genuine, ask for Grove's.

Mrs. Hamp Potts, presented her husband with the 13th baby, a few days ago. They have only been married about 21 years.

If dull, spiritless and stupid; if your appetite is capricious and uncertain, you need a sarsaparilla.
For best results take De Witt's.

Miss Luna and Maud Lemon have been afflicted recently with two conspicuous cases of mumps.
Their little jaws looked anything but little.

Malaria produces weakness, general debility, biliousness, loss of appetite, indigestion and constipation.
Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic, removes the cause which produces these troubles. Try it and you will

Does a nice gold ring as a present from a young lady "mean anything?" is asked of us by young people, and invariably we always say, yes.

Aunt Margaret Brien, an aged lady of over 70 years, and by the way the widow of Uncle Jimmie Brien, has at last caught the mumps. The hives next.

That tired, aching feeling, which is experienced by so many people living in malarial districts, can be cured by taking Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. 50 cents is as pleasant as lemon syrup. To get the genuine ask for Grove's.

Mr. Elihu Harris, of North Carolina, a brother of our handsome barber, J. L. Harris, will soon arrive in this county where he expects to make his future home.

We have organized in this town a young folks prayer meeting and a young folks literary society, both of which promise to be quite interesting before a great while. When the young people begin walking to the front, then we have great hopes for future usefulness.

N. R. Reed is re-covering his store house.

J. D. Peterson has been on a duck hunt at Oaks since yesterday morning.

Mrs. L. R. Patton, Rockford, Ill., writes: "From personal experience I can recommend De Witt's Sarsaparilla, a cure for impure blood and general debility."

W. W. English and Mr. Hall, of near Calvert City, were in town a few days ago.

Judge W. F. Peterson and Miss Clover Humphreys, of Murray, were in the city yesterday.

Eld. W. A. Utley, who has been preaching in Illinois, returned to his home at Scale yesterday.

John G. Lovett will begin his school in Birmingham next Monday.
He is a good lawyer and teacher.

We truly believe De Witt's Little Early Risers to be the most natural most effective, most prompt and economical pill for biliousness, indigestion and inactive liver.

J. F. Brandon & Bro are repairing their store house in many ways that will increase its value as a business house. These boys are anticipating a lively trade this spring and summer.

You run no risk. All druggists guarantee Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic to do all that the manufacturers claim for it. Warranted, no cure, no pay. There are many imitations. To get the genuine, ask for Grove's.

J. P. Brian, commonly called "fat Jim", died in Paducah last week of catarrh of the stomach. He was a brother of Mrs. Dr. Graham of near Briensburg. He was well known in this county.

Bright people are the quickest to recognize a good thing and buy it.
We sell lots of bright people the Little Early Risers. If you are not bright these pills will make you so.

James Cox, deceased, died after years of hard toil and a rigid economy, with cash to the amount of $4, 300. Which has been turned over to his administrator. A full account will be given next week.

Nearly all the diseases in the southern states are produced from malaria. Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic removes all malarial poison from the system. It is as pleasant to the taste as lemon syrup 50 cents. To get the genuine ask for Grove's.

Fatal neglect is little short of suicide. The consequences of a neglected cough are too well known to need repeating. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures a cough promptly. Sold by all dealers on a guarantee of satisfaction.

It is a truth in medicine that the smallest dose that performs the cure is the best. De Witt's Little Early Risers are the smallest pills, will perform the cure and are the best.

Rev A. J. Bennett, formerly one of the Tribune's types, was in the city to-day. He is now regularly engaged in the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal church. We were glad to have him call.

Mrs. M. J. Flowers returned to her home in Paducah last Saturday, after spending a week visiting her brother, J. P. Brian, and other relatives. Mrs. Flowers is always a welcome visitor to her many friends in the county of her nativity.

Chill Tonic. Truly, your friends, HARRIS & ALGER.

H. M. English and his son Claude R. English, of Massac county, Ill., have been on several days visit to relatives and old friends in this county. He moved away from here 15 years ago. He is a brother-in-law of L. C. and W. B. Hamilton.
They left Sunday night for home.

"Late to bed and early to rise will shorten the road to your home in the skies." But early to bed and a "Little Early Riser," the pill that makes life longer and better and wiser.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Dowdy went to bed last Thursday night with their little baby, all in apparently good health, but when they awoke at 1 o'clock at night, they found their infant dead. They cannot account for the cause that brought about the death.

Mrs. M. A. J. Chishalm, of Franklin, Ky., is on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Dr. J. W. Johnson, of this place. She is accompanied by her son Mr. Thomas Chishalm. She will be in Paducah for two weeks having her eye treated by Dr. Cowgill. She will remain in this part of Kentucky for several weeks before returning.

WILD WEST.

I will not begin this letter by telling you that the Tribune is the best paper in the world for that is not the case. It is a "rattling-jamup" good paper, but there are one or two others just as good. Nor will I say that we could not live without it, for we could, a miserable existence though it might be.
No, I will not offer you any "taffy whatever, but I did hear a lady remark only today that she would bet that the editor of that paper (Tribune) was a regular "hard case" so you see you are gaining some distinction in this western country.

Yes we admire the Tribune; we admire the frankness of ye editor.
We like it because it recalls many pleasant reminiscences of times "long since". In its columns we look, as it were, into a mirror and there see reflected faces of our many dear friends who are never to be forgotten and often while perusing your columns we long to be in Benton once more. We long for our many friends; but times are continually changing. As we go over your pages, we (in our mind) once more enter "Lemon's drug store," and hear the cherry voice of ye editor sing out "come in ladies and have a seat on the sofa". After having a pleasant chat we run into the bank to shake hands with our whole-souled, big-hearted friend, Solon Palmer; and while we are in the bank, our very dear friend Judge Barry, happens in, and so on all around; we would love to see you all. And there, is our very dear friend, Dr. Thomas; how we would love to slip in on him; but we are rudely awakened from our Benton dream by a visitor who wishes our company over the prairie, and we are once more in the west, driving rapidly over a real western prairie. The day is balmy as a spring day. East, west, north and south as far as the eye can reach, nothing but prairie, with only a scrubby growth of timber along the beautiful Kaw (Kansas) river, or Stranger creek, to relieve the monotony. The farms we pass, if fenced at all, have only a strand or two of barbed wire or the hedge, no rail fence or plank. Quite a number have stone fences. The houses we pass are all neat frame houses and all look new. The farms are nearly all supplied with a windmill for pumping water and running the corn crusher. We also pass large herds of cattle and a "cowboy" lazily lounging in the grass or moving slow to and fro, to keep his herd together. Another peculiarity we notice is the cattle are all de-horned (I heard a stranger remark that this beat any country for muley cattle he ever saw).

Will tell you more of the west some other time, with your permission.

Railroad Tax.
To the tax-payers of the Benton district:—I am now ready to receive your railroad tax, and would be pleased for you to call and settle same as I must make settlement in part the 1st of April.

W. M. ANDERSON.

A NEW BUSINESS.
S. L. Grace has opened up a new business, known as the "Pig Foot Confectionery" where can be found everything good to eat—pigs feet, oranges, apples, cider, &c. Call and see him at the "Pig Foot Confectionery."

It is a fixed and immutable law that to have good, sound health one must have pure, rich and abundant blood. There is no shorter nor surer route than by a course of De Witt's Sarsaparilla.

It must be a laborious way to enjoy life, to tug all the way from the depot, through mud and slush with a 250 pound valise on a hot Sunday afternoon. It took four of our strongest men to accomplish the act of gallantry to the satisfaction of the ladies and the laughing crowd.

The National Supply company is not doing a very extensive business at Fair Dealing at present. It has never met with the success from the beginning, as was anticipated by its promoters, notwithstanding it has been under the supervision and control of the state agent of the alliance. We understand that from some misunderstanding among themselves, R. H. Frizzell is no longer connected with the corporation, but will soon leave for his home in Lyon county, and that in his place Mr. E. W. Stone, of Birmingham, is now the retail manager of the business, and will continue to be for some time in the future.

This business will turn out to be a very small thing before it revolutionizes trade in this county.

A Reward of $500.

Will be paid for any Case of Rheumatism which cannot be cured by Dr. Drummond's Lightning Remedy. This offer is made in good faith by the proprietors, and there is no reasonable excuse for any one to suffer longer. Any ordinary case will be cured by one bottle. In addition to the reward for difficult cases, the money is always refunded where the remedy fails to cure.
The price of a bottle is $5, and that is the cost of a cure. Drummond Medicine Co., 48-50 Maiden Lane, New York. Agents wanted.

Stolen Wife.

Yesterday morning Henry Turner left his wife at home as usual, and went to work, but when he returned to his dinner she was gone, and up to this hour he has not heard a word of her. He married Miss Cora Clark, a daughter of Bill Clark, about two years ago and they have lived happily together ever since, never having had any difference or misunderstanding whatever. Her father has been living with Henry part of the time since he and his wife separated, and was there when Henry went to work yesterday morning, and he is suspected of stealing Henry's wife. It is thought he persuaded his daughter to leave with him, and skipped across the country to Glade and took the 2 o'clock train south yesterday evening, leaving Henry to grieve after his beautiful young wife. She is a fine looking young woman, about 20 years old, and without children. Henry is taking such legal steps as will restore to him his absconded wife and punish the man who stole her away from his home. It's high time men who have beautiful wives, keep a little closer watch on them or more of them may be stolen.

Mardi Gras

The Mississippi Valley route, on account of Mardi Gras celebration, March 1st, will sell tickets from Paducah, Ky., to New Orleans and return at the low rate of $12.35 Tickets to be sold on February, 26th, 27th, 28th and 29th, good returning up to and including March 15th, 1892. Elaborate arrangements are formed to insure the Mardi Gras Festivities surpassing any in previous years. This is The Attractive route to New Orleans, as it passes directly along the banks of the Mississippi River via Memphis, Vicksburg, Baton Rouge and through the cotton, rice and sugarcane growing, and the productive, interesting and historic portion of the southern states.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis catarrh, asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper.

Farm For Sale.

On the first Monday in March '92 about 1 o'clock p.m., at the court house door in Benton, I will offer at public sale, and sell to the highest bidder, all my farm lying north of the P. T. & A. railroad, consisting of 150 acres more or less. This is one of the finest stock farms in the county, lying in the edge of the town of Benton and between the railroad and Clark's river. About 65 or 70 acres in fine state of cultivation, with plenty of rail timber and fine wood on the balance.
I am giving my attention to other business now and wish to sell my farm. Terms of sale as follows: One-half cash, balance on six and twelve months time with 6 per cent interest from date of sale

THE NEW ST. LOUIS & S. E. LINE

Paducah, Tennessee & Alabama Railroad Company.

"HOLLOW ROCK ROUTE."

This company has completed its line to a connection with the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railway at Hollow Rock, Tennessee, and is now open for through business to all southeastern points, via the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railway and connections; and for through business to St. Louis and all northern points, via its direct connection, the St. Louis & Paducah railway, from Paducah. Direct connections will be made with fast freight trains both ways. This company, by reason of its advantage in distances, will endeavor to make considerably better time than is made by any competitor, and with quick and efficient service, hopes to secure a very liberal share of your business. Our rates are as low as via any other line. Please order your tonnage by "Hollow Rock Route." A. J. Welch, Acting Gen'l Freight Agt., Paducah Ky. Jan. 10, 1892.

Be Young Always.

For preserving youthful looks until old age actually comes on and drives away all traces of youth, the following good counsel may be of benefit: Don't feel old age and live in terror of the oncoming years. Don't resort to all kinds of senseless, ridiculous expedients and devices to put off the inevitable. Renounce juvenile toilettes, and frumpies, such as only make age more conspicuous, once it has arrived. Always have a cordial sympathy for the youth of your juniors, meeting them lovingly and without jealousy. Retire nobly from the field, instead of posing as the rival of young girls. Surround yourself with steadfast and sweet affections, such as will keep your heart from withering up; interest yourselves in all the great questions of the day, the great discoveries and inventions, etc. Counsel others gently—not as if age had taught you everything that one can learn; be good and benevolent in thought, word and deed.—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

MRS. H. E. WELLMAN, No. 2 Line at Janesville, Wis., under date of June 16, writes the following: Kenyon & Thomas, Sirs: I was confined to my bed 4 months with inflammation of the right ovary, had a good physician and tried almost everything, but got very little help until I tried your Dr. Hale's Household Ointment about four months ago. It has done wonders for me. I can do quite a good day's work. I have every reason to believe that it will entirely cure me. I am also using your Dr. Hale's Household Tea with good results. Sincerely Yours, Mrs. H. E. WELLMAN.

This great medicine is for sale at J. R. Lemon's drug store.

An Irish gentleman, having a party to meet at a tavern exclaimed on arriving, finding the room empty: "So I am first, after all!" The waiter informed him that he was mistaken; that his friends had been there, but were gone. "Very well," rejoined the Hibernian, "then I have made no mistake; for, as they were all here before me, surely I am right in saying I was first, after all!"

ARE YOU IN IT?

If not, why not? Why don't you always keep on hand a bottle of Dr. Hale's Household Cough Cure to allay the first irritation caused by a sudden cold. This is the finest remedy in the world for every kind of cough. You feel the good effect of the first dose, and by thorough using your cough is soon cured. 25 and 50c bottles at J. R. Lemon's drug store.

The Whistling Girl.

The whistling girl does not commonly come to a bad end. Quite as often as any other girl she learns to whistle a cradle song, low and sweet and charming; to the young voter in the cradle. She is a girl of spirit, of independence of character, of dash and flavor; and as to tips, why, you must have some sort of presentable lips to whistle; this lips will not. The whistling girl does not come to a bad end at all (if marriage is still considered a good occupation,) except a cloud may be thrown upon her exuberant young life by this rascally proverb. Even if she walks the lonely road of life, she has this advantage, that she can whistle to keep her courage up. But in a large sense, one that this practical age can understand, it is not true that the whistling girl comes to a bad end. Whistling pays. Scarcely has a non-whistling woman been more famous. She has set aside the adage. She has done so much toward the emancipation of her sex from the prejudice created by an ill-natured proverb which never had root in fact.

But has the whistling woman come to stay? Is it well for women to whistle? Are the majority of women likely to be whistlers? These are serious questions, not to be taken up in a light manner at the end of a grave paper. Will women ever learn to throw a stone? There it is. The future is inscrutable. We only know that whereas they did not whistle with approval, now they do—the prejudice of generations gradually melts away. And woman's destiny is not linked with that of the hen, nor to be controlled by a proverb—perhaps not by anything.—Harper's Magazine.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved

From letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Grotton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all, eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at J. R. Lemon's drugstore, regular size 50¢, and $1.00.

A young lady at Indianapolis was endeavoring to impress upon the minds of Sunday-school scholars the sin and terrible punishment of Nebuchadnezzar, and when she said that for seven years he ate grass like a cow, she was astonished by a little girl, who asked, "did he give milk?"

It is almost beyond comprehension to think that one medicine can possess such wonderful medicinal properties as Lightning Hot Drops. It is an external and internal medicine, and will relieve all ailments for which it is recommended. Mr. George Jones, of Lima, S. C., says: "Lightning Hot Drops saved my life. I had rheumatism and was laid up for a long time and could not walk. After using one bottle of Lightning Hot Drops I walked to the store, one mile. After using 1/2 dozen bottles in all, I am sound and well." All druggists sell it and will tell you all about it. 25 and 50c bottles.

300,000 a Week.

The St. Louis Republic proves, by sworn statement, that 33,777 new, paid, yearly subscribers (exclusive of renewals) were added to the list of The "Twice a Week" Republic during the months of December and January just past, and shows by fac simile post-office receipts that more than 150,000 copies of each issue, or exceeding 300,000 every week, were actually mailed during that time. This unparalleled record of success shows that the people are quick to distinguish between stage and railroad service. The "Twice a Week" Republic is mailed every Tuesday and Friday, for Only One Dollar a Year. A semi-weekly, at the price of the cheapest weekly. Sample copies free. THERE IS A MEDICINE

Composed of the essential virtues of nature's remedies, roots, barks, herbs and berries, and possessing marvelous curative powers over all diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood. This medicine known as Burdock Blood Bitters has proved so successful in curing dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, headache, bad blood, scrofula, etc., that the proprietors now guarantee it, and will refund the price to any person not satisfied after using the whole or part of the first bottle. It costs you but a cent a dose, then why suffer when you run no risk of loss in trying a remedy which has cured so many others? It also proves wonderfully successful in curing scrofulous swellings and cancerous diseases, convincing evidence of which we will send by mail on application to FOSTER, MILBURN & Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Good Looks.

Good looks are more than skin deep, depending upon a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver be inactive, you have a bilious look, if your stomach be disordered you have a dyspeptic look and if your kidneys be affected you have a pinched look. Secure good health and you will have good looks. Electric Bitters is the great alterative and tonic acts directly on these vital organs. Cures pimples, blotches, boils and gives a good complexion. Sold at J. R. Lemon's drugstore, 50¢ per bottle.

Stated by H. B. Cochran, druggist, Lancaster, Pa. Have guaranteed over 300 bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters for dyspepsia, sour stomach, bilious attacks, liver and kidney trouble.

There lately appeared on the front of a house to let the musical placard: "To let, two flats; apply to A. Sharp." An intending occupant, of musical proclivities, was overheard to say that he wished he knew where to find the key.

Dyspepsia

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Stanton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 122 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Hood's Sarsaparilla, as it cured his wife of dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

DR. KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC
Simpson's Cured. I am glad to testify that I used Dr. Koenig's Nerve Tonic with the best success for sleeplessness, and believe that it is a really great relief for suffering humanity. S. FRANK, Pastor, Keylerton, P. O., Pa. Wardsburg, Mo., Oct. 14, 90. About five years ago I became affected, through excessive smoking, with a nervous stomach trouble (dyspepsia) my health broke down completely, I lost my appetite, and in consequence became very weak. I could not sleep at all, and nervous starting and symptoms were insupportable. Four doctors, all known dyspepsia remedies and also electricity afforded me no relief. As a last resort, just a year ago, I ordered some of Dr. Koenig's Nerve Tonic, using only a few bottles I am entirely cured. I certify that Dr. Koenig's Nerve Tonic has given me not only a great and beneficial remedy, but also entirely harmless. JOHN ROEMER.
