Big Crowds Here During Fair Week

Ideal Weather Conditions Gave (All An Opportunity to Attend.

The Fulton County Fair, which closed last week, was well attended and the horse racing attracted its usual amount of interest and enthusiasm, the younger people seeming to enjoy the races almost as much as the older folks.

While the livestock exhibits were not as extensive as in former years, the public took considerable interest, and expressed regret that the showing was not more extensive, and also hoped that next year would show a much larger number of animals. A number of farmers were heard to say that had they known the show would have been so light, they would have made an effort to have stock on exhibition.

J. F. Etheridge and Son, of Route 5, captured seven blue and 2 red ribbons with their Poland China hogs, also 9 blue and 2 red ribbons with their herd of fine cows. Other exhibitors also captured blue and red ribbons as well as premiums.

The poultry show was the most ambitious that has been seen here since the fair was started, there being 538 birds shown and the addition to the poultry hall taken together with the new wire coops, permitted a better exhibit than heretofore, and also conducting very materially to the comfort of the fowls themselves.

Director Murrell stated that the attendance was up to the standard, and the crowded condition of the grounds at certain hours seemed to confirm this statement. At times on Tuesday and Thursday, it was impossible to make haste from one point of the grounds to another, as the crowds were so thick that one was compelled to double and twist to get through.

If the management invested in "weather insurance" they lost out, for the weather was ideal for a fair week, and not a cloud marred its perfection, but the sprinkling wagon was worked overtime.

The concessions were greatly in excess of former years and the children were provided with more amusements than most of them had ever seen before and the demand for small change must have strained the pockets of many a "doting father."

The Floral Hall exhibits were many and varied and the judges on needle-work, baking and preserving were hard set to make decisions, for the standard of excellence was high, and the competition close.

Ladies' of the Baptist and Methodist churches served good things to eat every day, and judging from the crowds about their booths, the income to the two funds must have been gratifying to the ladies in charge of the work, and the standard of food was high, as the ladies of both these denominations are famous for their good cooking, the world over.

If all the babies seen on the grounds were entered in the baby contest, the poor judges must have had a mighty hard time of it, for it seemed as if all the young mothers within miles of Fulton were there, with the new baby in evidence.

Taken all together, the directors of the fair must have been well pleased with the outcome, and it is to be hoped that next year will show bigger and better gathering of exhibits and attractions of all sorts, because the farmers of this section are constantly improving their livestock and crops, and are sure to wish to gather in a few blue ribbons, even if they do not carry cash prizes for the winners.

Notes to the Poultry Show
There were 538 birds entered in 35 different classes.

Kentucky Hardware & Implement Co.

New Firm for Fulton, with W.
W. Batts, President, and
E. W. Shew, Sec-Treas.

Believing that Fulton is one of the best towns in the country to conduct a business in, W. W. Batts and Ben W. Shew have joined hands to make the Kentucky Hardware & Implement Company, Incorporated, one of the best stores of which to buy Hardware, Oliver Implements, Stoves, Ranges, Silverware, Aluminumware, Cutlery, Glassware, Guns, Field Seeds and in fact, everything to be found in an up-to-date hardware and implement establishment.

The Kentucky Hardware & Implement company is an incorporated firm, with W. W. Batts, president, and E. W. Shew, secretary and treasurer.

Messrs. Batts and Shew are too well known in this community to need an introduction from us. Both are men who stand at the top notch in business circles. For the past eight years Mr. Batts has represented the Oliver Chilled Plow Works, while Mr. Shew has been connected with the same firm for the past twenty years. For eight years manager of the Memphis branch.

Free Aluminum Ware

To enliven their opening day on Saturday, September 12, they will give absolutely free, to every lady, 14 years old and over, who visits the store, a nice piece of aluminum ware. They will also give away absolutely free a handsome 26-piece set of silverware, valued at $35.00 to the lady, whose name is drawn from a box, who was registered as a visitor at the store during the day. So, remember the date of opening, September 12, and register at the store, which is located in the Meadows Block on Church street, recently occupied by Campbell & Jones. No, you don't have to buy anything at all to get the aluminumware, and $35.00 set of silverware.

COMPLIMENTS THE ADVERTISER

The Paducah Sun, one of the best evening newspapers in Kentucky, complimented The Fulton Advertiser's special fair edition with the following:

"The Fulton Advertiser, a weekly newspaper recently started in Fulton, Ky., by R. S. Williams, prominent newspaper man, and booster of Fulton industries and organizations, is sued a special edition this week of two sections, including sixteen pages, as a Fulton County Fair edition."

"The special number contains general news regarding the fair held annually in Fulton, to which thousands of West Kentuckians and Tennesseans make pilgrimages each year. The fair is anticipated annually by Fultonians, and according to The Advertiser, was as much of a success this year as heretofore. The Fair week is a regular home-coming week for former residents of the city."

"The edition also contained brief summaries of long established as well as promising new Fulton firms and industries. Terming the city as the 'Hub of the Illinois Central Railway' and 'The Gateway of the Shortest Route Between New Orleans and Chicago,' the edition gave ample space to the railroad project in Fulton, which, with the completion of the new Edgewood cut-off, which will terminate there, will grow even more rapidly in the future in the railroad industry."

"The agricultural viewpoint in Fulton county was also reviewed in the edition, and other features of interest to western Kentuckians given."

"In all, the edition is most commendable for a newly-established newspaper."

New Majestic Range Demonstration a Delightful Success

Demonstration week of the Great Majestic, the range with a reputation at the Fulton Hardware Company's store on Lake street, was a delightful success, under the supervision of W. A. Thimble, factory representative of St. Louis. The demonstration was continued during Fair Week, in a booth at the Fair where hundreds admired the New Majestic Range. The demonstration was brought to a fitting climax when Mr. George Beadles, manager of the Fulton Hardware Company awarded Miss Hazel Midway a set of polished solid copper ware, consisting of kettle, stew pan, percolator and teapot, for guessing the nearest number of parts in the Majestic range. Her guess was 465, the correct number of parts being 466. In this interesting guessing contest, Mrs. H. T. Snow and Miss Inez Binford acted as judges.

The Fulton Hardware Company has sold this excellent range in Fulton the past two years, and each sale has made new friends for the firm. The Majestic is a beauty throughout with heavy nickel-plated trimmings—door and splasher black paneled in white, gray or blue enamel if desired. It is a range that stands out in distinction of style and beauty, an ornament to any kitchen, and one that adds an attractive and decorative furnishing to the power plant of the home.

If you failed to attend the demonstration, call at the store and let Mr. Beadles tell you about the superior working qualities of the Majestic.

New Methodist Church Building

Work on the new Methodist church building in Rice City is progressing nicely. It is centrally located in the fast growing suburb of Fulton on a splendid lot, 100x150 feet. The building is to be a one-story structure with basement for furnace heat and is built of brick. The plans were furnished by the Conference Board and when completed, will cost around $5,000 or $6,000. W. M. Hill & Sons have the contract for the brick and concrete work while Ernest Willis has the contract for the building.

Much credit is due the building committee, composed of W. J. Willie, Sam Campbell, Ernest Willie, Marvin Inman and J. J. Owen, for the efforts they have put forth in obtaining funds and pushing the work forward. Unless you have served on a church building committee, you cannot fully realize what a task it is, especially where the membership is small and few millionaires among the number. But it just happened that while the membership of the Methodist church in Rice City is small, the big majority are consecrated Christian men and women who are willing to make sacrifices in order to have a house of worship, and we can say, after looking over the plans and viewing the work in progress, they will have a beautiful church building of which the membership can feel justly proud.

The Rice City Methodist church was organized about a year ago with forty or fifty members, after which Mr. J. J. Owen, the promoter, recommended the organization to the last quarterly conference of the Union City District, 1924, and the Rice City church was accepted and added to the Fulton Circuit.

It is fortunate for a community to have a man in it like J. J. Owen. Mr. Owen is not only one of Fulton's successful business men, but a loyal worker in the Lord's Vineyard. He has a broad vision, with no other end in view but rendering the best of service to the community in which he lives.

Attractive Fair Exhibit

W. P. Felts Hardware Co.,
Display International Harvester Co's Line.

A visit to the Fulton County Fair last week was indeed educational. Especially was our attention attracted to the display of the W. P. Felts Hardware company, where the International Harvester Company's line of McCormick-Deering products were exhibited. This splendid line has been famous for many years and at the recent County Fair, fully justified its right to fame. The International display of McCormick-Deering tractors, tillage implements, cultivators, manure spreaders, pumps, engines, cream separators, and all kinds of farming tools were admired by thousands who viewed the displays in charge of Clarence Williams, manager of the W. P. Felts Hardware Company, and his assistant, Will McDade, with special factory representatives Leonard Holland, Oscar McDaniels, and Jess Rye.

The display showed many improvements worth while and was the best ever exhibited here. With such cultivators and tools, farm prosperity is guaranteed.

The McCormick-Deering ball bearing, Primrose cream separator is as nearly perfect as possible to make it and under normal conditions, will give longer service than any other cream separator.

Especially do we want to mention the McCormick-Deering ball bearing, Primrose cream separator is as nearly perfect as possible to make it and under normal conditions, will give longer service than any other cream separator.

Another feature of the W. P. Felts Hardware Company's display was the Charter Oak Stoves and Ranges. There is downright satisfaction, to say nothing of warmth and comfort, in having a stove that is constructed like the Charter Oak. There are too many excellent features about the Charter Oak to enumerate here. Call at the Felts Hardware company's store on Walnut and see with your own satisfaction, the craftsman's art and skill perfected in one of the best and most beautiful heating conveniences.

Railroad News

Whisky Dick Discontinued, Effective Sunday, Sept. 6

It has been officially announced that Whisky Dick will be discontinued, effective Sunday, September 6, between Fulton and Cairo, and that a coach will be placed on the local to take care of local points between Cairo and Fulton, and in addition, trains Nos. 1 and 2 will stop at all stations between Fulton and Cairo, except Crutchfield, which will be a flag stop. These trains, however, will not stop at East Cairo.

On this end of the line Whisky Dick, which is Nos. 137 and 138, will leave Fulton at 4 p. m., and will connect with No. 5 at Fulton. It will leave Paducah at 8 a. m., arriving at Fulton at 9:40 a. m. This, in reality, gives much better service than the arrangement in effect heretofore, in that it gives those between Fulton and Cairo extra service of Nos. 1 and 2.

Superintendent Williams and Trainmasters Hill, McLaurine and Ellington have been in Memphis most of this week, getting out the new time table. We understand there will be numerous changes in the schedules of different passenger trains, and that No. 105 and No. 5, which now arrives about 9:25, will arrive Fulton about

Church News

The Sunday evening services will probably be resumed about the middle of September.
The rector held services at Mayfield, Kentucky last Thursday evening, August 27, with the church people there. He was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Bean. The latter is superintendent of the woolen mills of Mayfield.

Doctor and Mrs. Boyd and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lacoste and children picnicked in the country one day last week, and report a pleasant day.

Miss Hortense Johnson is spending her vacation in New York City.
Mr. George Huddleston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Huddleston, now of Cranford, N. J., returned last Sunday evening to his home, where he is organist of the Episcopal church. He gave splendid satisfaction during the past year and has been retained at an increased salary for the ensuing year.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Stansbury and children spent Sunday in the country with friends.
Mrs. J. G. Neudorfer, of Jackson, Tenn., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ed Heywood at her home on Third street.

Harold Heywood, who has been visiting in Memphis, Tenn., has extended his visit until just before the opening of school, when he will return to take up his studies.

Barry Plymouth Rocks led in number, with Rhode Island Reds, Black Minorcas, and White Leghorns, each a very close second.

Anconas, Buff Orpingtons and White Plymouth Rocks were very scarce. These classes should be better represented.

There were several calls for Jersey Black Giants, but none in the show.

There were several good sales of stock made during the show.

Everybody was pleased with the show. Lots of praise for the looks of the birds and uniform cooping.

One of the great disappointments of the show was the disqualifying of Tom Exum's old pens of Black Minorcas. He should have won first and second old pen, with possibly first and second old hen.

John Thompson showed some wild geese, and his pet gander made a hit.

Mrs. J. T. Watkins had all guessing. She gave away a 25-pound sack of feed each day for the best guesser.

Secretary Stansbury, of the Chamber of Commerce, says this is his first offense, but we think he is a full fledged "bug" now, for we saw him buy a rooster.

Several new members were added to the Poultry Association, but we need several more.

We are going to make this poultry show grow—we are not going to let it die.

Judge DeMeyer said this was the best bunch of reds he ever saw in the Fulton show. He could hardly stay away from the little pullets that won first.

When it came to picking the sweepstake pen of the show, Judge DeMeyer "hollered for help." Picking the best pen out of a hundred, was too much for him. Dr. Hillman assisted him in making this award.

The Fulton Poultry Association gave 85 certificates to winners of their prizes.

After all, there is a good deal of similarity between the human family and the animal family. Some are kind, gentle and obedient, while others are vicious, deceitful and wanton; some are full of pep, energy and ambition, while others are lazy, indolent and dirty.

The services of last Sunday were held in the usual places, the Sunday School had a large attendance. The morning sermon was preached by Rev. Pickens, Rev. Freeman, the pastor, preached the evening sermon. The choir rendered some splendid music at both services. There were six new additions to the church, by baptism and letter.

The prayer meeting was well attended Wednesday evening. Rev. Cheek led and gave us a splendid talk.

The Senior Epworth League met last Sunday evening at seven o'clock. The service was opened with a song, followed with a sentence prayer by the congregation. Scripture lesson was read by the president, Wade Joyner. After a short business session, the meeting was turned over to the leader, Annie Watt Smith, who had a splendid program arranged, as follows: Piano Duet, Maudelle Jones and Gladys Bell; Reading, Mrs. Kelley Wood; Talk, on "Betterment of League," by Mrs. J. V. Freeman.

The Official board met in regular session Thursday night with almost a full attendance. Plans were completed to buy the church lot on corner of Carr and Second Sts.

The Methodist Missionary Girls met Monday at the home of Miss Edna Wolfgram, a good program was prepared with Dorothy Granberry as leader. During the social hour the hostess served delicious lemonade and wafers.

Mr. and Mrs. Urban Hughes of Texas were the week end guests of Mrs. D. W. Hughes, and left Sunday to visit Mrs. Emery in Paducah for a few days, to return here for a two weeks' visit to Mrs. Hughes.

Dictator Will Make Trip If He Feels Italy Is Secure.

Rome.—Premier Mussolini is being deluged with appeals from Italy and America that he head the debt commission to the United States.

The premier is consulting American Ambassador Fletcher, who is in constant communication with Washington, regarding the selection of the personnel for the commission. It is not doubted that Mussolini would like to go, but he feels that with the great projects under way at present he is needed at home. If he goes to Washington it will be because he is assured that everything in Italy is secure.

The indications now are that Count Volpi, minister of finance, a man of wide knowledge and considered as "Italy's Mellen," will head the commission, which will ask as far as possible, the same consideration accorded to Belgium. The Italian commission will stress the fact that Italy, like the United States, was dragged into the war and forced to shoulder burdens under which her people are still staggering, and that therefore she is entitled to most favorable treatment.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

Sunday School Lesson

(©, 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for September 6

PAUL WRITES TO THE PHILIPPIANS.

LESSON TEXT—Phil. 2:7-16, 4:8.
GOLDEN TEXT—"I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me"—Phil. 4:13.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul and His Friends.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul Pressing Toward the Goal.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Choosing the Best Things.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Christian's Goal.

The contents of the epistle may be summarized as follows:

1. Salutation (1:1-2).
2. Thanksgiving and prayer in which he shows his loving interest in them (1:3-11).
3. Triumph of the gospel in spite of opposition (1:12-20).
4. Duties enjoined (1:27-2:18).
5. Paul's promise to send Timothy and Epaphroditus (2:19-30).
6. Exhortations and warnings (3:1-4:1).
7. Renewed appeal for unity (4:2-9).
8. Personal matters (4:10-23).

The essential message of Philippians is a revelation of the mind which should dominate the Christian.

1. All Things Less for Christ (3:7-9).

The occasion for this remarkable declaration was the claim of the Judaizing teachers for legal righteousness. In chapter 3:4-6 he enumerates the grounds upon which he had a right to base his claims for legal righteousness.

1. "Circumcised the eighth day," in keeping with the demands of the law.
2. "Of the stock of Israel," related by blood and birth.

3. "Tribe of Benjamin," from which the first king was chosen, and which always remained loyal to the nation.

4. "An Hebrew of the Hebrews," in contrast with some of mixed parentage.

5. "Touching the law, a Pharisee," the sect most zealous for the ritual of Judaism.

6. "Concerning zeal, persecuting the church," a passionate effort to crush the church.

7. "Touching the righteousness which is in the law, blameless," as to the condition of life demanded by the law.

All of these, valuable in themselves when placed alongside of the excellency of the knowledge of Christ were abandoned for a better thing. The vision of Christ gave him the true perspective of values. In this light he saw the utter worthlessness of these things. After some thirty years of such trials and sufferings as perhaps no other human being ever knew, he has no regrets, and still counts them as refuse in comparison with what he had gained in Christ.

11. Paul's Present Desire (vv. 10-11).

1. "That I May Know Him."

Personal acquaintance with the Lord was his supreme desire. To know the saving grace of Christ is good, but to know Christ is infinitely better.

2. "The Power of His Resurrection."

This is an advance thought over personal acquaintance. It is the expression of the life of Christ through the apostle. It is the power you gain to overcome, the mastery over sin and self.

3. "Fellowship of His Sufferings."

Not only identified with Christ in His sufferings by imputation, but that he might fill up that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ (Col. 1:24).

4. "Attain Unto the Resurrection of the Dead" (v. 11).

This will be accomplished when the Lord comes (1 Thess. 4:16-17).

11. Pressing Toward the Goal (vv. 12-16).

Paul clearly grasped the meaning of his perfection in Christ, yet he was keenly conscious of his personal limitations. Herein is expressed the true law of progress in the spiritual life.

1. Consciousness of Limitations (v. 12).

The first step towards progress is to be profoundly dissatisfied with personal attainments. No intellectual advancement is ever made by those who think they know enough, who are satisfied with what they have.

2. Consciousness of a Transcendent Goal (v. 13).

The Christian life is an upward calling.

3. A Resolute Determination to Reach the Goal (v. 14).

He declares, "This one thing I do."

IV. The Right Occupation of the Mind (ch. 4:1-8).

The ideal controls the man. "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."

When once the mind is guarded and controlled by the power of God, it will dwell upon spiritual things.

50 MEN INVOLVED IN RUM SCANDAL

COOLIDGE'S NEGRO COLLECTOR
IS OUT ON BOND

BANKS ARE QUESTIONED

Federal Grand Jury Seeks Data on Profits Made by Liquor Crowd.
Negro Collector of Port Accused of Getting Craft.

Washington. — Walter P. Cohen, controller of the New Orleans custom district, will be suspended by treasury officials if he cannot immediately show that he is innocent of the charge of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act. The case has not reached Lincoln C. Andrews, assistant secretary of the treasury, in charge of prohibition enforcement and customs. Cohen was indicted on a charge made by Andrews' men.

New Orleans.—Preparation of additional bills for the Federal grand jury by Asst. Atty. Gen. Arthur N. Sager and United States Atty. Wayne Horah paved the way for possible further action by a Federal grand jury investigating alleged violations of the prohibition act. Thirty-four indictments were returned, and if the bills now before the body result in indictments, the list of indicted persons will exceed 50.

Three New Orleans banks were directed to bring their records of the last five years before an internal revenue agent for investigation of possible transactions by alleged bootleggers. Orders were issued by Judge H. D. Clayton, here from his Alabama district to sit during a Federal court vacancy, directed the Canal-Commercial Bank & Trust Company, through officers, to appear at a series of hearings, before Revenue Agent John J. Finnorn, to whom they were directed to submit all of their books and records for the years 1920 to 1924, inclusive.

The order also sets forth that the records disclose that these banks had had business from Alonzo C. Patterson, Anson Gravelot, Arthur Battistella, W. A. Walsingham and their wives, the banks shall be required to disclose to the revenue officials full details of such transactions.

Patterson and Battistella were among those indicted when the grand jury also moved against Walter L. Cohen, negro controller of customs, Dr. L. A. Meraux and 20 others. Bail the sum of $5,000 each was furnished by the accused persons.

Cohen's appointment created a veritable storm, and the Senate refused to confirm it. The appointment was finally approved two years ago after residents Harding and Coolidge had insisted upon it. In 1922 President Harding gave Cohen the first of three recess appointments and he served without pay until confirmation.

ELECTRIC CHAIR FOR DEATH CAR DRIVERS

Washington May Make the Punishment Fit the Crime.

Washington.—The electric chair may be the penalty for death car drivers in the District of Columbia as the result of a ruling by Chief Justice McCoy of the district supreme court, who upheld the indictments of Clifton Young and Estelle Robinson for second degree murder following the death of Sister Cephas, a nun, whom they ran down in their car.

The ruling sets a precedent by which district attorneys will be able to prosecute death car drivers, not only for murder in the second degree, but in the first degree as well, according to Assistant District Attorney James J. O'Leary.

"Murder is murder, whether committed with a pistol, a knife or an automobile," said Mr. O'Leary in commenting on Justice McCoy's decision.

PASS IT ALONG

The end of the vacation season is in sight. Many will be returning to their daily jobs soon; others have already returned.

While away, vacationists surely learned something. Whether the trip was by automobile or train, something new was seen. The keen observer saw more than the careless observer, of course, but everyone got a view of something different—something out of the ordinary.

Those whose attention was attracted by anything different, who made a comparison in their own mind with similar things at home, and found them better, will be doing a public favor by passing it along.

There is no community on earth that has a "corner" on all of the novel ideas in the world. Every one has something to recommend it.

The place that adopts the good ideas that have been found workable is the one that gets ahead. It profits from the experience of others.

Let's not be backward about putting to work any good suggestions that may be found elsewhere.

DOLLARS AND SENSE

The bell ringer and door step salesman who so frequently call at Fulton and Fulton county homes is too unreliable to be given the patronage of people who are concerned with getting one hundred cents worth of merchandise for their dollar. Yet saute manner and glib speech of the itinerant salesman often wins for him large remuneration as glibly housewives are deceived by his affable manner and accept unquestioningly his statement of values.

Because patronage of peddlers who present bargains at your door, be it silk hose or cooking utensils, comes into unfair competition with home merchants, we cannot refrain from pointing out the advisability of declining determinedly to inspect the "striking values" house to house salesman always offer from day to day on the doorsteps of Fulton homes.

The out-of-town concern which markets its product direct, selling by peddlers and delivering by parcel post, offers the customer no protection whatever in either price or quality and his guarantee is utterly worthless.

The argument that such merchandise is offered more cheaply than similar goods may be bought in the local stores does not bear analysis because frequently the peddler receives as commission a larger per cent of profit than does the legitimate merchant.

We should not lose sight of the fact that the out-of-town merchandising firm, regardless of whether he seeks our patronage by door bell ringers or mail order methods, contributes nothing to the community. On the other hand the local merchants who seek patronage you often thoughtlessly give the peddler or mail order house, pay big taxes that your public schools may be adequate to the needs of the community. They contribute to churches that their operating expenses may be promptly met. Their money paves your streets, makes possible the public improvements daily enjoyed. Your home merchants are public spirited men who assist every worthy community enterprise, who by their industry make Fulton a better town, Fulton a better county.

If every person within this county should patronize the door step salesman or mail order houses local merchants would shortly be forced to close their doors. Patronizing out-of-town dealers will never build a prosperous community and to make a practice of buying anywhere other than from the home merchants whom you know, who extend to you credit courtesies, and whose guarantee of satisfaction is genuine.

ine, is to undermine the local retail system which is vital to the welfare of any town and community.

The itinerant merchandise solicitor is here today and gone tomorrow. If goods purchased from him are not as represented—and they frequently are not—there is no appeal to justice, no method by which adjustment may be had. The citizen who has the welfare of his community at heart will ponder well these facts before diverting from legitimate business men, your neighbors and mine, that patronage to which they are entitled. The dollar spent at home remains in circulation here.

TO THE BUSINESS MAN

Time is the only form of wealth that you cannot increase by your own effort. You recognize this in your own business and we, in turn, recognize it in ours. In offering to serve you in a printing capacity, we desire to present not the saving in money, not superior quality alone, but rather an intelligent service that will save your time and, therefore, pay you a greater profit than any mere saving in dollars and cents.

A DECIDED IMPROVEMENT

In looking over the Mayfield Messenger today, it is pleasing to note the improvement in its general appearance. For the past twenty years we have read the Messenger with interest. The late Col. Lemon was a born newspaper man and gave Graves county a splendid paper and at his death, his son continued the good work. Recently George Covington and George Bingham purchased the Messenger plant and good will. Mr. Bingham is a man of unusual newspaper ability and under his supervision the paper can easily be classed as one of the best small town publications in the State.

FREAK APPLE

W. E. Williams, of Route 1, Water Valley, was a caller at the Advertiser office Saturday. He presented the editor with a freak apple that would easily take the prize in the curio department of any fair. In gathering his crop of apples, this special apple attracted his attention. It is really two apples grown together. This union is often found in peaches, but not often in apples. Mr. Williams has a fine orchard of apples of various varieties, but says his favorite is the winesap.

BAD CHECK WRITING NOW DANGEROUS PRACTICE

The promiscuous writing of checks by persons who do not have funds in the bank upon which they are drawn now face more than they formerly did. Whether given for payment of merchandise or any other legal purpose, they have violated the state law and are subject to prosecution. This law was passed by the recent legislature and is now in force and effect.

Heretofore a merchant had recourse in a civil action to regain the amount of the check. In almost every case of this kind, it availed nothing, for the check maker had no funds and the merchant simply lost that amount plus attorney's fees. It is now altogether different. Under the present law, a check written for any legal purpose without funds in the bank, is a bad check, and the maker is a violator of the law of the state just as if he had committed a forgery, signing another's name to it. Writing a check does not pay any obligations if there are no funds back of it, and it would be well for the public to know that this will prove to be a troublesome practice; one that should be avoided in all instances.

There are a lot of folks in the small towns who seem to think that their special mission in life is to look after the affairs of their neighbors, and there are a lot of folks in the big towns who think their mission is to look after their neighbor's women folks.

Latest Triumph in Railroad

THE completion of the new Chicago Union Station marks a noteworthy accomplishment in the history of important engineering undertakings, from which travelers from all parts of the United States will derive pleasure and benefit.

The station is without doubt one of the finest and most efficiently designed railroad terminals in the world. It forms a vital link in the realization of the "Chicago City Beautiful Plan." Simplicity, accessibility and convenience for the traveling public are the essential virtues of the new terminal. Rest rooms, recreation rooms, ticket offices, baggage shop, dining rooms, stores of various kinds, and almost every convenience known to travelers, are to be found on the one level, no steps to climb.

The main station is a low monumental type of building with a row of massive columns of classic design along the entire east front. Once inside, the traveler finds himself in a gigantic waiting room more than 100 feet high and brilliantly lighted through skylights in the great arch ceiling. Columns inside the room, the walls of which are patterned after the architecture of ancient Rome. Bordering this room are the ultra-complete passenger terminal facilities. An innovation in railway terminal design is a conference room accommodating 125 people, which is available, without charge, to patrons of the Union Station lines for conferences and other meetings.

To give some idea of the impressiveness of the new station, it may be stated that the main building covers an area of about three acres with a concourse covering 60,000 square feet. The entire terminal facilities cover more than 35 acres and will expedite the prompt and satisfactory handling of 50,000 passengers, 400 tons of baggage and 300 trains daily with room for future expansion. Fifteen acres of glass were used in the various coverings over the train sheds, which extend more than 1,200 feet beyond the main structure. A total of 17,000 tons of structural steel, 175,000 cubic feet of Indiana limestone and 10,000 cubic feet of granite were used in the station building and concourse. The foundation consists of 149 cylindrical concrete piers from four to ten feet in diameter, reaching to a depth of more than 60 feet below the level of the Chicago river.

Those who have had the privilege of inspecting the new station pronounce it a marvel in terminal construction and are urging their friends to see it on their next visit to Chicago.

The station is used jointly by the Pennsylvania Railroad; Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry.; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy R. R., and the Chicago & Alton R. R.

E. H. Harriman Memorial Medals Again to Be Awarded

Mrs. E. H. Harriman has authorized the revival of the E. H. Harriman memorial medals for the year ending December 31, 1924, to be awarded to the American steam railroads, which, during the year of the award, have been most successful in protecting the lives and health of their employees and the public. The present plan of the committee is to continue the method followed formerly in making the award of the medals, and in addition, the committee will take into account, personal relations work on a broad scale, such as group insurance, building, loan and pension plans and related matters.

The gold medal will be awarded to the road, which, in the opinion of the committee, has made the best record for accident prevention and health promotion. Personal relations will also be considered but will not necessarily be a determining factor. A replica in silver will be awarded to the division of the road which has the best individual record and a replica in bronze will be awarded to the employee, who, in the judgment of the road, has been most conspicuous in furthering matters of this character.

Cotton Beginning to Move

KENTUCKY BRIEFS

Covington—George F. Engan, 33, an employee of the postoffice here, was arrested on a charge of embezzling $247.

Ashland—William Long, 50, a junk dealer, was killed at Catlettsburg when he was struck by Chesapeake and Ohio passenger train No. 8, en route.

Frankfort—With but 1 point actual supremacy, Ed Pfeiffer, Southern tennis champion, defeated Sid Appel, former State champion, both of Louisville, in exhibition play at the camp of Edmund Watson Taylor.

Greensburg—The 3-year-old child of T. J. Gorin, ex-sheriff of Green County, while playing with matches ignited its clothes. Before aid could reach it, more than one-half of the body was burned. It is lying unconscious and there is but little hope of its recovery.

Columbia—News has reached here of a distressing death that recently occurred in the Big Renox section of Cumberland County. Mrs. Eula Mae Taylor, who was the wife of Earnest Taylor, committed suicide by firing a bullet thru her heart. Why she chose to take her life is a mystery.

Winchester—The new rural school at Pikeview, Clark County, will be dedicated with formal exercises. This structure, modern in every detail, was completed only recently. It is situated in the center of a beautiful two-acre campus, and is one of this vicinity's most attractive schools.

Eddyville—Jim Sparks, tried as an accessory in the outbreak at the Eddyville prison in October, 1923, was found guilty by a jury in the Lyon County Circuit Court, and sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. The conviction of Sparks is the first growing out of the prison outbreak.

Whitesburg—The Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company has closed a deal whereby it becomes the owners of the Whitesburg Telephone Company with lines in Whitesburg and Letcher County and the Eastern Kentucky Home Telephone Company known as the Stookey lines in Pikeville and Pike County.

Greensburg—Articles of incorporation have been filed here incorporating the Green County Fair Association; ground has been purchased at 2 1/2 miles from town, for fair grounds, and a crew is now at work building a race track, stables and other necessary buildings for a fair advertised to be held in October of this year.

Bowling Green—A large stock barn owned by J. Mont Downey, a farmer, situated near Koodburn, 12 miles southwest of Bowling Green, on the Nashville road, was destroyed by fire. The origin is unknown. The owner also lost some oats, farming implements, and J. C. Pike, a neighbor, had a separator which was destroyed. Downey did not carry insurance.

Columbia—Aaron Rogers, who was a well known citizen of Adair County, was fatally injured by a falling tree near his home a few miles west of Columbia. Rogers and a helper were cutting timber for fire wood. They cut a large tree, which split up and kicked back, catching Rogers under it. Rogers lived about three hours. He leaves a wife who recently underwent an operation for cancer.

Ashland—Promising to remedy a condition that has been an embarrassment to Ashland industries, merchants and householders for several years, the Consolidated Power & Light Company has issued a statement from its Huntington office declaring that within a few months new power line connections will be made with Ashland and Boyd County circuits which will provide more than 20,000 kilowatts, doubling the present supply of electrical energy available in this territory.

Carrollton—S. M. Laceyfield has resigned as Jailer of Carroll County and Judge R. L. Hardin has appointed Sheriff B. T. Robertson to fill the vacancy until a regular appointment can be made. Mr. Laceyfield is 83 years old, and is the only surviving former Confederate soldier in Carroll County. He was serving his third term as Jailer, and his resignation was caused by the work and risk of keeping and caring for ten to fifteen prisoners—mostly convicted of violations of the liquor laws—who are continuously making efforts at jail-breaking.

Ravenna—James Powell has been appointed traffic officer for the city of Irvine and Revena. He is ordered to arrest all violators who exceed fifteen miles an hour. Mr. Powell served as deputy sheriff of Estill County for a number of years.

Berea—M. E. Vaughan, for many years secretary of Berea College, editor of Mountain Work and member of the Kentucky Legislature, will give up his work here next October to go to Ashland, Ky., to take charge of a large brick corporation.

MRS. LILLIAN WALTERS IS AGAIN FREE

MAY FACE A THIRD CHARGE IN EDDYVILLE PRISON GUARD
SLAYING

Admits Plot in Trial Testimony—It
Third Time Woman Has Been Tried
Companion to Face Court.

Eddyville, Ky.—Mrs. Lillian Walters, indicted on three charges of being an accessory in the murder of three Eddyville Penitentiary guards, slain in resisting a prison break, went free on the second charge. A jury of Christian County, n. o., who began deliberations at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon but recessed until morning because of the illness of one, returned the acquittal verdict after resuming consideration of the case.

In May, Mrs. Walters was acquitted of aiding in the murder of Hodge Cunningham, one of the guards. This time the charge was aiding in the murder of William M. Gilbert. She yet is to face trial on a charge of aiding in the murder of V. B. Mattingly.

When the jury announced its verdict, Mrs. Walters, wife of the leader of the prison break, was moved to pass. She had been in charge of Mrs. Nannie T. Boyd, formerly an associate matron of the Joseph L. Feltman Settlement House, who was appointed by the Court to stay with the accused woman while the jury deliberated.

Vigorous arguments by prosecution and defense attorneys were concluded recently. The jury had hardly begun its work of deciding the case when one member was taken ill.

It was the third time the accused woman had stood trial, as in the first case, a hung jury resulted at the initial trial in April, 1924.

Whether she will face trial another time is a matter of speculation. Jim Sparks, att. C. H. Knudson, indicted with her, will go before the court immediately, and it is believed here the outcome of his trial will in a large measure affect the third charge against Mrs. Walters.

Mrs. Walters admitted during her trial that she and Sparks conspired with her husband, Tex Walters, while he was in the penitentiary, to smuggle pistols and cartridges to him and also stated on the witness stand that the weapons and ammunition were taken in. Her defense was based on lack of homicide intent.

Walters and two of his confederates, Lawrence Griffith and Harry Ferland, killed the three guards in an outbreak October 3, 1923.

The three prisoners, after shooting down the three guards, barricaded themselves in the prison dining room and were besieged by guards and State troops for four days. On the fourth day a guardsman entered the dining room and found the convicts dead.

TWO DIE IN GAS FUMES

Ashland Youth, 14, Lowered Into Well
Smells Gas Calls For Aid; Father
Dies In Rescue, Son Dies Later

Ashland, Ky.—A father of seven children was killed in a vain attempt to rescue his eldest son from natural gas fumes which had been released by a charge of dynamite he was using in digging a water well for his family's convenience at his home, one mile from here.

The father is William Moore, 38 years old, laborer for the Smet-Solter Company, who with his young son, Hubert, 14 has been employing spare time from his work for the past month in attempting to reach a natural spring nearby his home.

After attaining a depth of twenty-three feet in the well, Moore set off a charge of dynamite to loosen rock he had encountered in his task. Immediately after the shot, he let down his son by means of a rope into the well to fan away the smoke and fumes of the concussion.

When Hubert reached the floor of the well he smelled gas fumes and called to his father to pull him out, that he was being overcome. The request was immediately obeyed but after clinging to the rope about halfway up, he collapsed and fell to the bottom.

After calling to William Cooksey, a resident nearby, Moore started to climb down the rope to rescue his child, the rope being secured to a wooden post on the brink of the well. On Cooksey's arrival, it is said, he had fastened the rope about the boy's waist, and in this fashion the latter was brought to the surface in an unconscious condition.

J. L. Richardson, County Coroner, after an investigation pronounced the deaths due to suffocation by the fumes from a natural gas well, a hundred yards distant.

Moore is survived by his wife and six other children.

Two Men Injured By Explosion
Covington, Ky.—Two men were burned and the plant of the Petroleum Refining Company in Latonia was badly damaged as the result of an explosion, said to have been caused by a blowout in a gas line. Fire that followed the explosion seriously threatened the plant, but efforts by Covington firemen kept the blaze under control and from reaching stores of gasoline and oils. Charles Due and Clyde Smith, employees, were badly burned when the explosion occurred.

Comes in four colors—Red, Green, Blue Black and Autumn Blend. Easy to lay, does not have the waste that most patterns do on the hips and in the valleys.

Its heavy tile-like pattern is distinctive. Guaranteed not to curl. It is truly a wonderful roof for either new work or over old wood shingles. We recommend this roof and guarantee your satisfaction.

A few of the many roofs of this kind, on new jobs, are: The Pickle Filling Station, Bungalow of H. W. Williams on Green Street, The Christian Church. Over old wood shingles: M. C. Payne home on Park Avenue, Dr. T. F. Thomson home, Eddings and Fourth.

Look these roofs over, then come in and let us show you "THIS WONDERFUL ROOF."

SEPTEMBER IS GAY SEASON

Days of dreaming and drifting are about over for this season. With September comes a revival of interest in many things—the return of folk who have been away on summer vacations, the leaving of young men and maids for school and college, the first meetings of study clubs and re-arranging household affairs for the fall and winter.

This year, September is unusually popular as a month for weddings. So, in addition to the activities that attend every September, there will be an increased social interest.

The latest announcement of a September wedding, and one that is of especial interest, took place Wednesday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. D. Whitlock, near Martin, Tenn., when their pretty daughter, Miss Nell, was given in marriage to Mr. Robert J. Graham, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ray Graham, Sr., of Fulton, the Rev. J. V. Freeman officiating.

MRS. GINGLES TEA HOSTESS

Mrs. Guy Gingles was the gracious hostess, entertaining charmingly with a tea Wednesday afternoon from three till six o'clock, at her home on Fourth street, in pretty social courtesy to her house guest, Mrs. Clarence Bennett of Paducah. The lower floor of the home was lavishly decorated with brilliant flowers. The lights hooded in yellow and the colorful gowns of the guests made a charming picture. Mesdames R. M. Redfern and J. C. Scruggs graciously welcomed the guests. Standing in line with the hostess and honor guest were Mesdames C. C. Davis, of Paducah; R. S. Williams, C. S. Whitley, of Union City, Miss Lucille Winstead, Miss Margaret Davis of Paducah, Mrs. Martin Nall, a recent bride, and Mrs. J. H. Bruebaker, of New Carlisle, Ohio. In the dining room the table decorations was an exquisite study in pink, a variety of flowers being used, and built in artistic shading to fill a lovely basket placed on the handsome lace cover. Mesdames Ray Brady and H. W. Clough were assisted in serving pleasing refreshments of ices, sandwiches, and mints, by a bevy of young girls beautifully costumed for the occasion. Misses Elizabeth Ethridge, Mary Elizabeth Beaudin, Hattie May Godfrey, Others assisting were Miss Dorris Huddleston, Mrs. Warren Graham, Mrs. Wm. Noble and Mrs. T. D. Clark.

DINNER-BRIDGE FOR ATTRACTIVE VISITOR

Misses Sara Catron and Martha Smith graciously entertained with a dinner-bridge Wednesday evening at their home on Third Street to especially compliment a group of charming visitors, Misses Aliene Duncan, Mary Hughes, of Nashville, and Carolyn Cobb, of Union City, who were their house guests during the Fair.

The honored guests, with their escorts, were seated at a large table, while four small tables were used for covers and prettily appointed vases of roses being used in lovely effect on all the tables. After a lovely dinner was served, bridge was the diversion.

Miss Duncan held high score for the ladies, while George Huddleston won high score for the gentlemen. This is one of a series of delightful parties given in honor of these charming visitors.

HONOR VISITOR

An attractive affair of Tuesday was the party given by Mrs. R. S. Williams at her home on Eddings street, in compliment to her sister, Mrs. Claude Whitley, of Union City, who is her house guest. Gorgeous dahlias and roses from the Williams' garden, rich in quality and rare beauty, adorned the rooms in homage to the occasion. At the close of the afternoon, a delicious salad course with fruit tea was served. Mrs. Williams was assisted in entertaining and serving, by her mother, Mrs. Turney, Mesdames Gingles and Townsend. Besides the honoree, other out-of-town visitors were Mesdames, J. H. Bruebaker, of New Carlisle, Ohio; Artie Milburne, of Pittsburgh, Pa.; and Clarence Bennett, of Paducah.

DINNER-BRIDGE

Complimentary to their son, George Huddleston, of New York City, and Mr. Leon Huddleston, of Memphis, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Huddleston gave a dinner-bridge of pretty appointments Tuesday evening of last week. All colors of the rainbow appeared in the baskets of garden flowers used about the rooms.

The beautifully appointed table having for its central ornament a large Florentine basket filled with pink carnations. After a lovely three course dinner, the hours were pleasantly spent in bridge, high score favors going to Miss Laverne Williams and Mr. Edwin Slaughter.

HUDSON-ESSEX TAKES ANOTHER PRICE DROP

All Closed Cars Are Much Lower Than Last Year

The fourth sweeping Hudson-Essex price reduction within a year was announced in midweek as affecting the entire line of Hudson enclosed cars—which means more than 95 per cent of Hudson-Essex business.

This reduction, together with those formerly made, has these results: The Hudson coach is more than $300 lower than a year ago, the Essex coach more than $200, and the Hudson sedan $550 less.

Compared with wartime prices, all three cars sell at less than half the top figures. Or, put another way, the total of the reductions made on Hudson and Essex cars is a greater sum than the present prices.

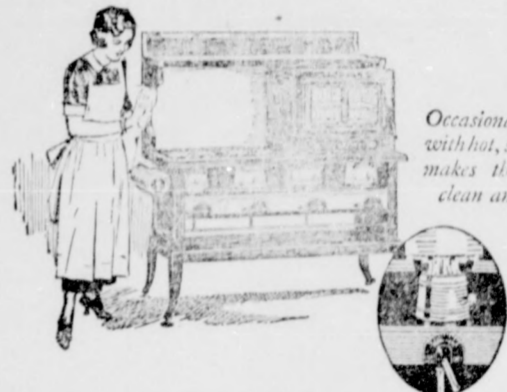

With this series of price changes has come a tremendous growth in Hudson-Essex business, until today this concern is indisputably the largest manufacturer of six cylinder cars in the world. Each drop in price has greatly increased the number of buyers, and each time this added volume of business has made possible greater economies in buying, manufacturing and all general expenses and overhead.

The same management which established the Hudson Motor Car company, now, as for sixteen years, controls and directs the design of its product and policies of the company, according to A. P. Estes, manager of the Estes Motor company, distributor for Hudson and Essex cars in Fulton.
