Start Work on Lake-st Bridge

Approximately 15 C. W. A. registrants began work Thursday morning on excavating and other work preparatory to the erection of Fulton's new $15,000 concrete bridge at the intersection of Lake, Carr and Stateline streets under way. The list of CWA men to be employed on this project is expected to reach a peak of 50 men as the concrete pourers begin their part of the contract.

The contractors are McDade and McDade, a Fulton firm, and the bridge will be constructed under the personal supervision of Mr. Maxwell McDade. "It will take two weeks to complete the job," Mr. McDade stated, "to the News" and barring unforeseen hindrances and too inclement weather the structure should be ready for traffic in 75 days," he said. Tourist traffic on this highway is being detoured on the other city streets and avenues.

The bridge when completed will be a thing of beauty and a joy forever. It replaces an old time one-way bridge that for many years has been a check to rapid traffic and its construction fulfills long cherished dream of Fulton citizens. It will be 6 feet high over Harris Fork creek and vehicle traffic will have a 60 foot spanway. A footwalk on the north side of the bridge will be 7 feet wide. Concrete posts and artistic design will not be neglected. The bridge will not only be utilitarian but will be beautiful to the eye, as well.

All laborers will be selected from the CWA list.

FIRST AID CLASS ORGANIZED HERE

Mrs. V. Foster Field Representative for the American Red Cross, with headquarters at Washington D. C. was in Fulton Tuesday and set up a first-aid class to teach foreign and workers on CWA projects the proper administration of first-aid. This work has been requested by President Roosevelt, and is being carried out by the American Red Cross.

Robt. L. Schmitt, state safety director of Louisville, has charge of the program in Kentucky. Drs. Ward and Glynn Bushart will conduct the local first-aid classes, and it is estimated that about 30 will take instructions.

A MERRY MIX UP

Here's a human-interest story to put in your scrapbook. In connection with the child feeding program relief workers have witnessed both pathos and humor in the performance of their duties at Milton Junior High, colored school located in Missionary Bottom here. To stand by and watch the pickinies scramble for a position in the line-up for the invigorating food is truly interesting and touching. Some of these colored people have large families, often taking children of their relatives or friends to raise. Alexander Kurd for example has two children, Aletha Stille and Martha Wade, whom he is bringing up. Our American negro is a carefree, sympathetic race, inclined to share with their neighbors.

LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN—Five perfectly good members of the Morman B. Daniels Bible class of the First Methodist Church, who failed to appear at Sunday School last Sunday, have either been lost, stolen or have strayed. The men are Frank Wiggins, Ernest McCullum, Mason Davidson, Clyde Fields, and Johnny Willey. Any one who has seen these men or can get in touch with them please do so and notify some member of the class that they will be in attendance again next Sunday. Others have been missing that are being kept under constant surveillance. Watch Out. 19-34-1f.

CHILD FEEDING IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The child feeding program in the public schools under the CWA with the co-operation of the Parent-Teacher association has been serving a definite need in this community in recent weeks. Hot, savory meals are being served to the children at the Science Hall, the Terry-Norman, Cayce, Crutchfield and Milton (colored) schools in the last end of the county.

Nearly 300 children are fed daily at these schools, with the following managers in charge: Mrs. Lola Howard, Mrs. Lois Thompson, Mrs. Mattie Marchman, Mrs. Birdie Pettit, and Quon Esther Cavitt. It is remarkable what appetizing, nourishing food can be prepared for the children at an average cost of 9c per meal for each child. This child feeding program has actually increased attendance, and has been welcomed by parents and children.

STATE GOVERNMENT IN PITIFUL SHAPE

Griffenhagen & Associates have completed a survey of the State Department of Welfare in which they report sensational revelations of squander in state hospitals, potential administration. Taxpayers are alleged to have suffered a "dead loss" of $200,000 during the past year in this department through the political spoils system, the issuance of interest bearing warrants and the incompetence of employees. Reorganization of the department with a responsible commissioner at the head, has been advised by the experts.

The problems of the welfare department, like those of practically every department in the state, may be boiled down to necessity of reorganization and increased efficiency. Altho new and increased taxes have been offered as the means of rescuing the state from its financial foundering, this is widely considered as inadvisable in restoring stability. The General Assembly must devise means by which the taxpayers of Kentucky can get the full worth of their dollars before one cent is appropriated.

The much discussed sales tax for Kentucky is out of the question, not only because it would be oppressive to every citizen and disastrous to small merchants, but because increased revenues are not needed by the state government so much as increased efficiency.

OPPORTUNITIES

"Old Opportunity never knocked at my door. He always passed me by. That's why I'm here today. Those words come from the lips of a young man as he sat in a prison cell in Chicago. The trouble with this young man, with thousands of young men, is they want to sit down and wait for Opportunity to come and hand them wealth and fame. They expect it to come in some mysterious manner.

Opportunities must come naturally, or not at all, and the only way they can come naturally is to give your whole heart, your whole soul, your every thought, your every act to the accomplishment of what you are going to undertake. If you will but make up your mind and determine to go through with what you undertake, you will do that which will bring you more genuine pleasure, satisfaction and comfort in life than anything else you will ever do.

A saviour isn't that one who stops down to another man and saves him, but one who stands by, points the way, and lets the other man save himself. It's a false doctrine that Fortune goes around knocking once at every man's door—Opportunity isn't going round with a magic wand scattering golden fleeces on her favorites. Rather she points the way over hills and through marshlands, over rough roads and tanglebrush, and says: "go to it." It's not a way through sunny lanes and flower-strewn paths it's not floating with the tide and in loafing in sunny dells. Don't ever think it is.

You can go into any of the usual loafing places in any city and see young men who are loafing and waiting for favors. It's these young men who are drifting toward the spot where the one in Chicago sits moaning because "Opportunity never knocked at my door."

Much—nay, ALL depends on the first step. Opportunity plays no favorites. She points the way only, and it is not the way of the idler, the careless, the indifferent, but is the way of the worker the persistent the diligent. Young man—think it over.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

This week, February 12th, marked the 125th anniversary of Abraham Lincoln one of the greatest and most beloved of presidents of the United States, who held the governmental reins in his hands during the Civil War, that great struggle between the North and the South.

"Honest Abe" as he was often called, was a boy who was fond of fishing and hunting, but at an early age began to grow serious-minded and of himself to develop the moral training which became so conspicuous in after-life. He had but little chance for schooling for his father was a restless, thriftless man, had no money with which to educate his children properly. But what schooling he did get was well received. Lincoln would often walk miles to get a book to study. While at school he was noted as a good speller, but more particularly for his abhorrence of cruelty.

Physically he was an unusually tall boy, wiry and strong, with enormous hands and feet, and his complexion swarthy. He wore coarse home-made clothes and a coon skin cap in his late teens. His trousers, owing to his rapid overgrowth, were nearly a foot too short. But this awkward overgrown boy was always in good humor, and always in good health.

He worked at odd jobs and one of his employers has said, "Abe was awful lazy; he would laugh and talk and crack jokes and tell stories all the time. He didn't love work." He would lie under a tree or in the loft of the house and at night sit in the firelight to read, cipher and scribble on the wooden shovel. He read everything readable within his reach and copied passages or sentences that especially attracted him. His reading, however, included little more than Robinson Crusoe, Pilgrim's Progress, Weems' Life at Washington and a History of the United States. His first knowledge of law, in which he afterwards became prominent and famous, was through reading the statutes of Indiana borrowed from a constable. He was a self-made man if there ever was one. He had a strong memory and a taste for speaking in public. He was a man who could make friends easily.

Lincoln made his first appearance in politics as a candidate for the state assembly on the following platform:

"I presume you all know who I am. I am humble Abe Lincoln. I have been solicited by my friends to become a candidate for the legislature. My politics are short and sweet, like the old woman's dance. I am in favor of a national bank; I am in favor of a high protective tariff. These are my sentiments and political principles. If elected I shall be thankful; if not, it will be all the same."

He climbed slowly upward; from one office he would step to a still higher one; and finally attained the highest and most important in the United States, when he was elected president in 1860. Lincoln won the presidential race by a majority of 108 electoral votes, with Breckinridge next with 72 votes.

The brave fight which he put up against such great odds during that furious upheaval of the Civil War proved the metal of which he was made. With the country divided, some pulling one way, others pulling another way, he set about his duties and after a long and hard fought struggle finally won the end for which he so valiantly fought.

Arms were flung aside and the great struggle between the opposing forces ended. Every loyal heart rejoiced. Lincoln's praise was on every tongue—the patience of the man who had suffered the pain of thousands of deaths during the war, who had been misunderstood, maligned and condemned by friends as well as enemies, shone conspicuous in popular affection. He had liberated a race; he had saved a country.

Then after Lincoln
"Had mounted fame's ladder so high
From the round at the bottom
to the round at the top,
Where he could step to the sky,"
He was shot at Ford's theater in Washington from which wound he

Why Not Put The Engine In! —An R.F.C. For Industry Would Move the Load

INDUSTRY is the motive power—the indispensable dynamic force that will pull us out of economic slough.

As industry stagnates, so will everything dependent upon it stagnate. In an effort to improve conditions, Uncle Sam has so far applied first aid remedies mostly to the things that have been affected by industrial stagnation. He has overlooked the trouble with industry itself.

The trouble today with industry is that it suffers from the same shrinkages and depreciations that made it necessary for banks, insurance companies, railroads and agriculture to seek government loans. Though each of these groups is of vital importance to our nation as a whole each is in some manner dependent upon industrial prosperity—upon industrial payrolls to keep going.

Without these payrolls where will banks get deposits? Where will insurance companies get premiums? Where will railroads get carriers? To whom will farmers sell their produce?

And without the same kind of assistance from the government as these groups have received, how can industry right itself and maintain its payrolls?

The solution to our troubles is obvious. Provide an RFC for industry give the nation's working men and women a chance to get back on the job with steady incomes and Uncle Sam's prosperity car will be in good running order.

We'll all be able to climb in, Uncle will get behind the wheel and U. S. A. will ride on to better times with industry cheerfully pulling the load.

never regained consciousness.

He was a martyr to a great cause. He died for his country. But he lived long enough to suppress the civil strife; he established peace. His mission on earth was accomplished. And now we pay tribute to his name regardless of party affiliations.

CORN-HOG REDUCTION CAMPAIGN STARTS AT ONCE

Monday of this week County Agent Wheeler began mailing supplies, and blank forms to corn-hog producers in Fulton County, that will be needed for preparing their contracts. In this letter is a work sheet, for the data on the past production of corn on the farm and the past production of hogs owned by the person or persons signing the contract. There is, also, a supporting evidence sheet, a blank upon which there is to be drawn a map of the farm, a bulletin explaining the general corn-hog plan, an instruction sheet for filling out the work sheet and a copy of the contract itself. Those farmers who expect to sign this contract are expected to fill out the work sheet, the supporting evidence sheet, draw the map of the farm and secure as much proof of the sale of their hogs for the past two years, farrowed by sows owned by him for the two year period if possible. These are to be brought with his copy of the contract to corn-hog sign-up meetings which will be scheduled in different parts of the county at later dates. At these sign-up meetings, one copy of the contract will be made out, the other two copies will be signed in blank and attached to it and the above mentioned forms and evidence, also attached to it, submitted for the preparation of the other two copies of the contract. Corn-hog producers are urged to watch the columns of The Fulton County News for later educational and sign-up meetings in this campaign.

WHEN you allow Headache, Neuralgia, Muscular, Rheumatic, Sciatic or Periodic Pains to keep you from work or pleasure. You can't go places and do things when you are suffering—and the work or good times won't wait for you.

Why allow Pain to rob you of Health, Friends, Happiness, Money?

DR. MILES ANTI-PAIN PILLS have been used for the relief of pain for more than forty years. They taste good, act quickly, do not upset the stomach, nor cause constipation, leave no dull, depressed feeling.

Thousands have used them for twenty, thirty, forty years, and still find that nothing else relieves pain so promptly and effectively.

Why don't you try them? Once you know how pleasant they are to take, how quickly and effectively they relieve, you won't want to go back to disagreeable, slow acting medicines.

You too may find quick relief. Why wait forty minutes for relief when Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills will relieve you in ten to twenty minutes?

As a household remedy I have never found anything that equalled Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills. Mrs. Silas D. Keller, Penfield, Pa.

I never found anything that was so good to stop pain as Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills. I have told many about them and I find they are all using them. Mrs. Martha Lacy, Davenport, Iowa

I have been using Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills for years. I keep them on hand all the time. I can certainly recommend them for pain. Miss Audra Seybold, 2417 W. 2nd St., Dayton, Ohio

Your Anti-Pain Pills have been a wonderful help to me. I have used them for three years and always keep them on hand. Mrs. E. Pierce, Lapwal, Idaho

I have used quite a lot of Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills. They are fine pills to stop pain. Mrs. J. L. Kester, Shickshinny, Pa.

Bulldogs Lose To Bardwell; Defeat Hickman

By "Ole" Dave

Bardwell came to Fulton last Thursday night and carried away all the honors in the game played between Bardwell and the Bulldogs. The final score resulted in a 45 to 32 victory for Bardwell. This was the worst beating the Bulldogs have suffered this year.

Opening up in the first period the boys of Jack Gardner peppered the Bulldogs all thru the game ending the first period on the big end of an 11 to 6 score and the half 22 to 17. Running wild in the third period by amassing a total of 16 points to 7 for Fulton for a 38 to 24 score. The end of the game saw Fulton fall before a team they beat on their own court by the score of 33 to 24 on Jan. 23rd. Final score for the game 45 to 32 for Bardwell.

HICKMAN PROVES EASY SOUP FOR BULLDOGS WHO WON

Avenging their defeat of 17 to 15 earlier in the season the Fulton Bulldogs used very little energy Friday night in subduing the Hickman quintet by the top heavy score of 47 to 11 in a very slow and long drawn out game that was never close enough to create any excitement.

Opening up in the first period Fulton ran up a total of 14 to 2 and ended the half 21 to 6. While in the third period they coasted to a 9 to 4 score for a 30 to 10 lead and then ran wild in the 3rd quarter by annexing 17 points while holding Hickman to one lone marker. The final score was 47 to 11.

R. Hill was the outstanding point maker of the contest by totaling 24 point while Edwards was next with 12. The most remarkable feat of free throwing ever exhibited here by a local product was the feat exhibited by Edwards guard, of the Bulldogs. Edwards was given a free throw and eight times he made them good. But that was not all on seven on the eighth time the ball never as much as touched the basket but slipped thru unbothered.

BULLDOGS ADD ANOTHER WIN—DEFEAT MURRAY 30-19

It did not take the Bulldogs long to discover that Murray had an easy team to beat Tuesday night when they faced them here in the Science Hall.

Getting an early start the Bulldogs ran up a total of 11 points in the first period while all Murray could do was find the basket for only 3. Not content with this wide margin they continued their onslaught and ended the first half with a margin of 21 to 9. Weaver who has been a bit slow of late finally found the basket and made all the remaining points in the last half with the exception of 1 by Merryman to run his total for the night to 15 and the final score to 30 for Fulton while Murray only registered 19.

Score—

BULLDOGS WILL MEET SYMSONIA FRIDAY NIGHT

Friday night will see a new team on the local floor when Symsonia meet the Bulldogs in their first encounter in history. From all indications this will be one of the hardest games of the season for Fulton and unless they show a hard fight they may drop this game.

Tuesday night Fulton will journey to Murray for another game with the Murray Tigers. Another victory is anticipated but this game will be played on the Murray floor and the score will no doubt be a very close affair. All who can should go and give the Bulldogs all the boosting they can get.

BULLPUPS DEFEAT BARDWELL 29 TO 5

The mighty Bullpups of the Fulton High School completely hypnotized the Bardwell juniors last Thursday night when they defeated them by the top score of 29 to 5. Scoring 13 points in the first period and not allowing Bardwell a single point and only 2 in the second and 3 in the 3 and nothing in the 4th. Grogan was the high point man with 7 while Nanney was a close second with 6.

BULLPUPS BARELY SCORE TO KITTENS—SCORE—22-21

After a start that looked like they would be beaten worse than ever the Bullpups came out of it Tuesday night and came within one point of tying the score. First period ended 9 to 4 for Murray but the Pups broke out in the second and ended the half 12 to 11 in their favor. The third period ended Murray 20 Pups 13 and in the last minutes of the game Fulton came up within one point of tying the score. Carver with 10 points lead the locals.

FERA URGES NATIONAL "GOOD TURN" PROGRAM

The FERA a the request of President Roosevelt is asking the Boy Scouts of America to undertake a national "Good Turn" program of tremendous significance and importance. During the remaining days of February a house-to-house canvass of the entire country will be made, soliciting surplus, but still usable articles of clothing, bedding and furniture that will be distributed through established relief agencies to families in dire need.
It is a laudable undertaking and will be carried out wherever Scout- ing is organized. Arrangements are now being completed for a central depot for articles collected by the Scouts, for recording articles, setting up a civil works service project for repairing and renovating articles not usable in present condition, and for the orderly distribution of articles to destitute families.

A few clothes, dishes and silverware were saved, the balance was a complete loss either by fire or water.

THIS AND THAT

The Soviet Union of Russia is mustering full war strength to cope with the Japanese. Party leaders in Russia sense conflict as almost inevitable and man-power has been increased as preparedness becomes the keynote. Stalin insists that Soviet seeks no trouble, but that deferences are adequate to repel enemies. The sales tax has been termed an unnecessary and backward step in taxation. In a report made public by Columbia University following a nationwide investigation by a staff of Columbia economists. The study embraced 27 states, of which 18 have sales tax.

A news item from Muscle Shoals states that petitions are being circulated over that district by several persons calling for the re-instatement of Herbert Hoover as president for a period of 60 days in order to permit Muscle Shoals business men to catch up with the business rush that has swept them off their feet since the new deal program struck its full stride in the district. The petition sets out that since President Roosevelt assumed office business has improved so greatly in the district that they are all "run-down" and will crack under the strain unless something happens.

The President has cancelled all existing contracts for carrying domestic mails by air. Postmaster Farley has been authorized to use army planes for such air routes as he may consider necessary. Then long comes Col. Lindbergh and reads the President a telegram objecting to this cancellation. But the famous flyer struck a snag when he went up against Washington.

The Kentucky Senate by a vote of 19 to 17 passed an amendment to the election law which will require all candidates for State offices to be nominated in a primary. This was the law for many years until it was amended to give the governing power of the party the right to nominate candidates convention if it so desired. All the so-called Anti-Administration Senators voted for the mandatory primary and several of the Administration Senators also voted the same way. The Republican Senators with but two exceptions, voted against the mandatory primary. This action of the Senate voices the will of the people.

The twenty-four hour general strike which occurred in France this week will be of more than passing interest to at least two European nations. The possibility of a similar situation confronting both Spain and Austria. In all three cases opposition to the government rather than the hours and wages, is the motivating reason for the cessation of work and the walkouts.

One of the biggest questions confronting this session of the Kentucky General Assembly is legislation concerning education. All other questions deal with temporary values but education is far reaching in its results and influence. No nation has ever prospered because of the ignorance of its people and the history of value of public education. It is indispensable in our system of government in our industrial life and in our social life.

Down in New Orleans the never-all spirit of fun and make-believe swept the city for the renewal of the century-old observance of Mardi Gras. While the north shivers with cold, sunshine floods that south in cold, cocktail rooms and ear gardens in this oasis of the South did rush business as the city entertained before the prohibition era.

The Fletcher bill introduced in Congress last Saturday for the regulation of stock exchanges coincides with the views of the president who said: It is my belief that exchanges have finite value to our commercial and agricultural life. Never the less it should be our national policy to restrict as far as possible the use of these exactions.
