CERMAK TAKES OVER OFFICE AND STARTS HOUSE-CLEANING JOB

BIG BILL STARTS ON GOOD-WILL TRIP AS DEMOCRAT TAKES OFFICE

CHICAGO, April 9 (AP).—Anton J. Cermak became mayor today and immediately wished the brooms that bore his Democratic campaign slogan: "Clean out the city hall."

Forty-three hours after his election Tuesday, the successful Democratic candidate who defeated Mayor William Hale Thompson, Republican, by 144,257 votes, took the oath of office as mayor of America's second largest city, and ordered the dismissal of more than 2,000 city employees who held temporary appointments.

"This was Cermak's hour of triumph—and Thompson gave the Democrats a clean city for the celebration. Earlier in the day 'Big Bill' left with a party of business men for his Great Lakes to the Gulf waterway good will tour down the Mississippi, Illinois, Ohio, and Tennessee rivers.

Cermak was given the oath of office by County Judge Edmund K. Jurecki after slipping into the county building and eluding thousands of followers gathered in the lobby and corridors.

Effective at once the new mayor announced his resignation as president of the Cook county board, a post he had held for eight years.

Two civic leaders, advisors of Cermak in his campaign, were appointed in the cabinet: Col. A. A. Sprague as commissioner of public works, and Francis X. Busch as corporation counsel. Busch's acceptance was for a sixty-day period only.

Late in the afternoon Cermak met with the new city council, in which Democrats hold a ten majority, for approval of his bond and organization.

In his first official statement, Cermak ordered the city treasurer "not to honor any vouchers for temporary employees until it can be proved they worked for their money, and political work does not count. Under present conditions, unless actual savings can be effected, it will be difficult to carry on the business of the city for the rest of the year."

Mrs. Geo. Alley Passes Away

WELL KNOWN MATRON OF THIS CITY DIES IN PADUCAH HOSPITAL

Mrs. George L. Alley, well known young matron of this city, died late yesterday afternoon in the Illinois Central hospital in Paducah, death coming after a long period of illness. She was taken to the hospital in January, and rallied at one time sufficiently to be brought home. Growing worse, she was taken back a few weeks ago, and her life has hung in the balance for some time. Death was not unexpected, but her passing sent a wave of sadness over the entire city, for she was known and loved by a wide circle of friends.

The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at nine o'clock, from the home of Mrs. J. F. Royster, Rev. J. V. Freeman of Clinton, a former pastor here, and Rev. R. A. Wood, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will be in charge. Burial will follow in Fairview cemetery, in charge of Winstead & Jones.

The pall bearers will be as follows: L. J. Clements, Frank Carr, Jim Stone, Ben F. Evans, Dr. J. C. Scruggs and Julian R. Scates.

Mrs. Alley was 34 years of age, and the greater part of her life had been spent in this city. She was the youngest daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Bolling, a widely known Methodist minister, who held charges over this section of country. Dr. Bolling was pastor of the First Methodist church here from 1910 to 1913, and shortly after he was transferred to Clinton as pastor, his daughter was married to George L. Alley of this city, and came here to make her home. During the eighteen years of her married life she moved her quiet way among her friends, active in social and church work at all times. She stood ready and willing at all times to render her best to church and to her friends. Two children were born to her, and both survive. George Junior is sixteen, and Jane, the daughter, is ten years of age.

Surviving Mrs. Alley are three sisters and one brother. Mrs. John W. Fitzhugh of Memphis, Mrs. Dudley Porter of Paris, and Mrs. Helen Meade Ireland of Greensboro, N. C. are the sisters, and Randolph Bolling of Memphis is the surviving brother. The parents died some time ago. "The family had lived in many different towns during Dr. Bolling's long and distinguished pastorate, and many friends in many different places will be sorry to learn of Mrs. Alley's passing. Dr. Bolling held pastorates in Paducah, Paris and Memphis, as well as many other places, before coming to Fulton. Of the five children in the family no two were born in the same town. Mrs. Alley was born in Columbus, Miss.

No death in recent years had brought more sadness to the people of Fulton than this one. For weeks and weeks the many friends of the family have hoped against hope that Mrs. Alley might be spared. Some time ago it was deemed best to inform her that she could not recover, and she told her loved ones that she was ready and willing to go. She asked that her children be spared the knowledge as long as possible, for she did not want them to suffer needlessly. In her passing the town loses one of its best women, her church loses a faithful and consecrated member and worker, and her family loses a perfect wife and mother. Deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved family by the entire town.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Smith left today for the I. C. hospital in Paducah, where Mr. Smith will undergo a medical examination. His many friends hope he will soon be improving.

BILBO'S WIFE AND SECRETARY FIGHT FOR SAME OFFICE

MRS. LULA WIMBERLY WILL OPPOSE MRS. BILBO FOR SECRETARY'S POST

JACKSON, Miss., April 9.—(AP).—Gov. Theodore G. Bilbo is on the griddle.

Two Mississippi women—the governor's wife and the governor's secretary—have indicated a desire of seeking the office of secretary of state.

Governor Bilbo so far has maintained an outward neutrality and is making no comment. Both prospective candidates supported him when he made his last campaign for governor.

Mrs. Bilbo says she toured the state in the interest of the governor's candidacy. Mrs. Lula Wimberly, the governor's secretary, worked in his campaign headquarters as assistant manager.

The wife of the governor gives as her reason for aspiring to the office her desire to keep the name of Bilbo in Mississippi politics.

The governor's secretary admits she dislikes the thought of retirement from the fascinating fame of politics this year at the end of the present administration.

Both seek to enter the August primary against Walked Wood, present secretary of state, who admits that he dislikes the idea of feminine opposition.

Strong Sermon Holds Crowd

La st night Mr. Smithson spoke to a fine crowd who had gathered in the rain to hear his discourse on Great Salvation Which Was First Spoken by the Lord Jesus Christ.

It was forcefully pointed out that the great salvation was neglected by people now. Stressing the fact that more people are going to be lost by the sin of neglect than most any other thing they do. It is so easy to neglect anything that in our duty to do. He said that neglect never did anything to the person that was good, but would always bring harm and ruin. He showed why the salvation was great. There is none that can be greater. Jesus is the author of it, for he spoke it first. It included all nations. It was to save the soul. Then it should not be neglected, for if it is then there is no way to save the soul.

"How shall we escape if we neglect so great a salvation?" is a question asked that has no answer in all the Bible. There is no way to save a man when he neglects the means and the way that saves him.

Mr. Smithson showed that Jesus spoke the great salvation when he had all authority or power given unto him in heaven and on the earth. It was given for all time and for all nations. He said there was no change made in the plan and all had to accept it as the way to be saved or they would be lost.

This plan is the Gospel of God, which was sealed by the precious blood of His Son. He showed who it was that neglected this salvation. It was both people in the world and those in the church. He showed what the terms of the great salvation were. They were GO AND PREACH THE GOSPEL to the whole creation; he that believeth and repents and is baptized shall be saved, and then observe all the things commanded, or to be a faithful Christian while you live. This instruction was given by the Lord and must be accepted as the plan to save. If people can be saved with less than that, then to do all of it would be safe any way. If to do less than that was to neglect the great salvation, then those who neglected it could not be saved. It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God, for our God is a consuming fire. Read Hebrews 10:31 and 12:29.

Suicide Pact is Police Theory

WIFE OF ARMOUR OFFICIAL IS FOUND DYING IN ARMS OF MATE

CHICAGO, April 10.—(By the A. P.).—Mrs. Franklin C. Simmons, wife of a branch manager for Armour & Company, was found dying today in her husband's arms, with a bullet wound in her head. Simmons said his wife shot herself accidentally, but police expressed the belief that the couple, grieving over the death a year ago of their three-year-old daughter, made a suicide pact and that Simmons was discovered by his wife's parents before he could kill himself. The wife's father, Alfred Grant of Dodge Center, Minn., said his daughter and her husband attempted suicide several months ago by taking an overdose of a sleeping potion, and later Simmons tried to end his life with gas.

A GOOD MEETING AT CAYCE

A good meeting of the Cayce Home Makers Club was held Wednesday, April 8, at the Cayce school. We had twelve members present and four visitors. The visitors were Miss Zelma Monroe, assistant state leader of home demonstration agents, and Mrs. L. A. Rains, Mrs. Martin Bondurant and Mrs. Buford Campbell. We were delighted to have these women visit us and we welcomed an old member, Mrs. Lottie Kodice, back into the club. The roll call was answered by "An Improvement I am Making on my Porch This Spring," with some fine plans being given.

The lesson, Attractive Kitchens, the third of a series of lessons in the sub-project, Wife Saving Kitchens, was presented by Margaret Jones. Color was studied, pointing out its need in a kitchen and its best use to create a pleasing but restful room. A discussion was made of floor coverings, wall finishes, and window treatments, also the women showed much interest in working out a color scheme for their individual kitchens.

Miss Henning and Miss Monroe discussed the different projects of work that we can choose from to take up later and whether or not we should set a goal then plan a program of work to build up to the goal over some length of time.

An interesting contest, guessing at baby pictures, was directed by Mrs. Della Cruce, program conductor, after which we adjourned to meet May 13. The subject for study and discussion will be Step-Saving Kitchens.

A CHEERFUL, HAPPY HOME—OR LISTLESS, DEAD?

Tired eyes and improper lighting of the home go hand in hand. It is not through mere chance that people flock to the gay white way. Lights attract and make them feel keenly alive. You can create the same atmosphere at home—cheerfulness, gaiety, pleasant activities.

It is much easier to have too few lamps about the home, than too many. Check up every room in the house and see if the lighting arrangements cannot be improved. Make your home the center of pleasant activity evening after evening. Eye-strain fatigues the whole being.

COMMENT

By The Commentator
A STEADY BEACON.

"Henceforth wherever thou may'st ram,
My blessing, like a line of light,
Is on the waters day and night,
And like a beacon guards thee home."

We mortals strive in vain to understand the mysteries of life and death, but we can never understand. Some hidden law, working in a vast circle in a manner we can never fathom, operates in these things, and faith is the only answer that we have to this law.

Why is a young woman, mother of children, and a person who was accustomed to going about doing good, taken away from her loved ones? We can make no answer. We cannot understand, and the only thing that we do have to bring comfort is the simple faith of a child.

Fulton is bowed in sorrow today at the bier of one of the best loved young women of the city. The tears of many mingle with the bitter tears of husband and children and others who were close to her. To them the spring seems dark and a shadow lies heavily across their lives. For they have looked their last time upon one whom they loved and who loved them with the abiding love of a wife and a mother.

Yet though the loving heart is stilled, and although the friendly and steadfast eyes are closed forever on this world, much remains.
The young mother lived long enough to leave with her children a memory that will abide. During the years that are coming her brooding spirit will hover over these two, and her memory will remain with them with an eternal fragrance. Memories of her will color and make richer their lives wherever they may be lived, and will indeed be a "line of light" to them through the long years that are coming.

And I like to think and believe that every sorrow here is changed into a joy in that Other World. Few of us here do not have some over there who are waiting for us, and the reunion there must be as joyful as the parting here is sad.

Other springs and other Aprils will come and go. Other blossoms will come and fade. Other lives will be lived and other lives will come to a close. But when a good life comes to a close, no matter how sad the parting, no matter how bitter the tears and how torn the heart, one knows that such a life has left a beacon that will stand through all the springs and winters that lie ahead.

A NOTABLE JOB
Chicago ought to take a pride in what was accomplished in that city a few days ago. It was a great day for Chicago when William Hale Thompson, otherwise known as Big Bill, was retired to private life, and with him out of the way the big city on the lake ought to take a forward step in her city government.

Frankly, I did not believe that Big Bill would be beaten. I hoped strongly that he might be, but it seemed to me that he was too firmly entrenched for defeat. I took heart from the fact that the gamblers were giving heavy odds against Thompson, for I know that gamblers are frequently pretty smart. Not many professional gamblers will bet on a thing when they are not more than ordinarily sure of winning. I could see that the professionals were sure that Big Bill was in for a trimming, and this was the first time I believed he could be beaten. Then I noticed that Thompson supporters were claiming victory by only 50,000 votes, and this was another sign of defeat. When a candidate claims victory by that small a vote, in a city the size of Chicago, you can rest assured that he sees a flood tide of opposition. On the other hand, the Democrats were claiming a victory by more than 100,000, and this was another straw which showed that a strong wind was blowing against Big Bill.

But I still felt uneasy, for I believed that Thompson could control the police department and if the race happened to be close could almost force a victory. I still believed that Thompson would win.
I did not regard the matter as a race between a Democrat and a Republican. The issues went deeper than that. Chicago has been pros-tituted on the altar of politics for a long time, and this defeat of Big Bill is giving notice to the world that Chicago is going to clean house. As a matter of fact, this housecleaning has been under way for some time, but it was crippled by the fact that Thompson was at the head of the city government. I do not know to what extent he allowed crime to have a free hand in the city, but I do know that crime could be put down in a city if it did not have a strangle hold on the governing body of the city.
In other words, Chicago has practically allowed lawlessness to reign in the city. Crime could have been stopped at any time if the law enforcing bodies could have been put to work honestly and decently.
It was only the other day that a gangster was convicted of murder, and this man, Brothers, received fourteen years only for a deliberate and cold blooded murder. If Brothers actually killed Lingle, as was charged, he should have been executed without doubt. Giving him fourteen years was a compromise verdict probably, and it hardly likely that he will ever serve the full term.

However, the defeat of Thompson by Cermak is the beginning of a new day in America's second largest city. There is little doubt in my mind that the new mayor will start a house cleaning that will rid Chicago of many undesirable citizens. Chicago must be determined to clean up, and if this determination starts at the city hall and goes all the way through the city the town will be cleaned up.

SAUERKRAUT SCORES
Like truth, sauerkraut crushed to earth will rise again. During the war it was almost high treason to mention it by name. It paraded as "French cabbage," a libel in that it was neither French nor cabbage. The armistice paved the way for its return to popular favor. Producers have made the most of the opportunity. To accept their opinions, it is now good for almost everything that may all one, as well as a most excellent preserver of health. It's juice has extraordinary properties, say the advertisers and makers, while the sliced cabbage itself is of very high value as a food. A Cornell professor has now discovered that raw sauerkraut is better than the standard article of commerce. Cooking, he says, injures the vitamins. Moreover, the raw vegetable, in his opinion, tastes much better than

After an absence of more than a half year, Norma Shearer returns to the screen in "Strangers May Kiss," her new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle, which opened at the Grand Theatre last night.

Adapted from the best-seller by Ursula Parrott, the new Shearer picture presents a daring vista of modern life with the stars enacting the glamorous role of a young woman, mocking conventions who takes what she wants only to find her happiness a hollow one when the man with whom she elopes so blithely tells her he already has a wife. Neil Hamilton is the man in the rose and shares leading man honors with Robert Montgomery, the heroine's devoted admirer, always waiting and wanting her back again.

George Fitzmaurice directed the film. The supporting cast includes Marjorie Rambeau, Irene Rich, Conchita Montenegro, Tale Hamilton, Ned Prouty and Albert Conti.
Miss Shearer is splendid in the difficult role and achieves a greater performance, in this re-viewer's opinion, than in her triumphant "The Divorcee."

MEN who think straight and talk plainly were the first to praise this new method of selection. Today, wherever refrigerators are sold, you will find prospects and buyers who have clipped the Scale from a magazine or newspaper, examining, asking questions, checking each element point for point before they buy. Follow their lead. Use the Scale yourself to get more for your money.

Our only request is that you be sure to include Kelvinator in your survey of refrigerators. We urge this... selfishly...

method of judging will show just how far ahead ment. Phone or write

Kelvinator

- Is the refrigerator manufactured by a reliable company with proper experience in the electric refrigeration field?
- Has it plenty of food and shelf space?
- Is the cabinet itself well designed, sturdily built and properly insulated?
- Is there provision for the freezing of an adequate supply of ice cubes? (Quantity of ice rather than number of cubes, which may be of large or small size, should be taken into consideration.)
- Will the refrigerator constantly maintain a proper temperature for the preservation of foods?
- Can the freezing of ice cubes and deserts be speeded up when the need arises?
- Can this extra freezing speed for ice cubes be had without affecting the temperature on the food shelves? (Too low a temperature on the shelves will, of course, injure food.)
- Is there a place to keep ice cream, meat, fish, game, "quick frozen" foods or extra ice cubes indefinitely at a below freezing temperature?
- Are these various temperatures (a. extra fast freezing; b. fast freezing; c. below freezing for storage; and d. normal food preservation temperature) automatically maintained without any attention from the owner?
- Does the refrigerating unit operate often or infrequently? (The fewer "stops" and "starts" the longer the unit will last and the less it costs to run.)
- How long will the cooling unit continue to cool the refrigerator even though the current is shut off? (Refrigeration should continue for 10 or 12 hours.)
- Can the back parts of all shelves, even the lowest, be reached without kneeling or sitting down?
- Has provision been made for keeping vegetables fresh and crisp?
- Can the refrigerator top be used to "set things down for a moment" while the contents of the cabinet are being rearranged?
- Will the refrigerator add to the attractiveness of the kitchen?
- Has the experience of users over a long period of years proved the refrigerator long-lived and dependable?

EDITOR WHITE'S SON WINS NOMINATION ON HIS OWN
Emporia, Kan., (AP)—Young "Young Bill" defeated W. A. Glad, so long out of Harvard, has set a precedent for the William Allen White family by launching a political career.

And he was successful in his first start despite the fact nothing favorable to his candidacy appeared in the Emporia Gazette, his father's famous newspaper, of which he is associate editor.

"Young Bill" defeated W. A. Glad, former Kansas master farmer and president of the Lyons County Farm bureau, in the race for nomination as state representative from the east side of Lyons county on the republican ticket.

In November he will be opposed at the polls by T. R. Evans, democratic candidate. Lyons county is strongly republican.

Six years ago "Young Bill's" father was a candidate for governor on an independent ticket in the general election.

William Allen White did not contemplate a political career, however, and he didn't want the job, his candidacy being merely a protest against the Ku Klux Klan, which then was strong in Kansas. He was beaten by Ben S. Paulsen of Fredonia.

When "Young Bill" announced his campaign he hoped he would be unopposed. When opposition developed, however, he made a spirited fight for the nomination, part of which was a house to house canvass.

Young White—who signs his letters W. L. White, attended the Emporia schools, graduating from high school in 1918. He was a student at the University of Kansas for one year and then went to Harvard where he received an A. B. degree.

He has held nearly every job on the Gazette from carrier-boy on up, and January 1, 1928, became associate editor. He is unmarried.

DROUGHT MAY BRING NEW MEANS TO HELP CREDIT OF FARMERS

Washington, (AP)—This year's drought may be influential in the creation of additional credit corporations to serve the farmer, and to enable established federal agencies to function more fully.

The drought has served to magnify inadequate credit facilities for the farmer, whose credit already had been limited during the last two or three years by the closing of commercial banks in country districts and accumulation of frozen assets in other country banks.

The government's machinery for getting credit into the farmer's hands operates through the federal farm loan board and the federal farm board, but neither can deal with the individual except through his local credit corporation.

H. Paul Bestor, executive head of the farm loan board says the maximum usefulness of such corporations has not yet been employed.

It is the farm loan board which supervises the 12 federal intermediate credit banks, primary sources of farm credit for production and marketing purposes. The chief direct service the system has given the cooperative marketing associations has been through advances made on staple commodities secured by warehouse receipts.

The farm board makes the supplemented loan, an amount determined more or less by what it believes the commodity to be worth above the primary loan advanced by the intermediate credit bank.

Production credit is obtained by a little different route. It is in this field that the greatest need is felt for development of additional credit corporations.

In many instances the drought has made it necessary for farmers to borrow money to feed livestock and to plant their next season's crops. Corporations must be formed to underwrite loans obtained for those purposes.

The intermediate credit banks are authorized to advance production credit, but the service has been handicapped by lack of sufficient security.

Legislation bearing on a general revision of the farm loan act is expected to be asked of the next congress by several national farm organizations.

BLIND, MAIMED, UTAH MAN SEEKS SEAT IN CONGRESS

Salt Lake City, Utah, (AP)—Nymphas C. Hanks, who worked his way through three universities without sight or hands, is an aspirant for congress from Utah.

The candidate's political ambition was conceived while a student of Leland Stanford University, Cal., when Dr. David Starr Jordan was its head.

Hanks was 21 years old when a dynamite explosion blinded and maimed him. A business education he had planned was out of the question.

Undismayed, he took up the study of oratory and in seven years committed to memory about 50,000 words of classical literature. From the return of lectures Hanks gave, he said his teacher and financed a university education.

"I was not satisfied to use memorized things," he says, "so in 1913 I went to Stanford."

He studied business, international conciliation, history, political science, Bible literature, and German. Later he took courses in international law at Harvard and educational psychology at Columbia university.

Hanks has delivered more than 5000 lectures, many of them before college classes. Despite his handicaps, he dresses and cares for himself, is an enthusiastic fisherman and makes his way unaided over the country. His wife died several years ago.

He is a candidate for the republican nomination for representative. He has held no other public office.

RARE SWEET POTATO SEED MAY HELP IMPROVE PLANT

Washington, (AP)—Bigger and better sweet potatoes may have been made possible by the government's acquisition of seed for experimental breeding.

Rarely, except in tropical and subtropical regions, does the sweet potato produce reliable seed. It is propagated in the United States by draws or slips, the seed-producing habits having disappeared before the plant was adopted for cultivation.

SHE'LL RESENT IT

Give the wife a cook book and she'll resent it, and probably tell you that she'd rather have a cook than a cook book.

One thing that won't be resented is price modesty and we always provide it at this store. But more important than that is the absolute dependability of our prescription work. You know that any prescription filled here will fill every expectation of your family physician and speed the process of remedying your ailment.

ESCAPES MAYFIELD JAIL

COY THOMPSON SOUGHT BY WESTERN KENTUCKY OFFICIALS

Mayfield, Ky., April, 8.—Local officers tonight enlisted the aid of authorities in several western Kentucky counties in search for Coy Thompson, Benton, who escaped in a jail delivery here last night. Thompson and Tom Lattimore, Graves Countians, fled shortly before midnight after sawing a lock of their cell and using bed sheets as a rope to scale down the county jail building.

Lattimore was captured by Mayfield police a few minutes after the jail break, but Thompson boarded an Illinois Central train. A man answering Thompson's description was seen on a Louisville bound freight train early today, it was learned here.

BANKER WHO EMBEZZLED MILLION DOLLARS IS GIVEN 110-YEAR TERM IN PRISON

West Point, Neb. April, 8.—(AP). A 110-year prison sentence today was imposed on Paul Wupper, bigamist-banker, who immigrated from Germany to become president of the Beemer, Neb. State Bank, which collapsed in 1928.

He pleaded guilty in district court to ten forgery offenses, each of which contained two counts. For each offense he was fined $500. For the first offense he was sentenced to 29 years in prison, and for each of the nine others ten years. The sentences will run consecutively.

The state charged Wupper embezzled approximately a million dollars from the bank before he disappeared in September, 1928. Martial troubles in Philadelphia, where he was held for bigamy, led to his return to Nebraska. His second wife charged him with bigamy and he admitted to officers that he was wanted in Nebraska in connection with the bank failure.
