Railroads Take in More But Pay Out More

In a recent statement issued by Mr. C. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central, he stated that the railroads have been handling the greatest volume of business ever known, and their average rate level is higher than in the years immediately prior to our entry into the World war. Because of the increased volume of business and the higher level of rates, the amount of money taken in by the railroads is, of course, greater than in our previous years. And yet the owners of the railroads, the stockholders, are not so well off today as they were then. Mr. Markham said that the amount of money taken in by the Class I railroads was $2,325,000,000 greater in 1924 than in 1916, but their payrolls were $1,260,000,000 greater; their locomotive fuel cost $187,000,000 more; their other material and supplies cost $580,000,000 more; their taxes were $183,000,000 greater.

Mr. Markham stated that "those who provide the facilities for transportation service must be allowed an equitable share in its rewards. The future of our nation demands that there be continued improvement and extension of railway facilities as business grows, and the money for this expansion must come, even more largely in the future than in the past from those who are willing to accept the risks of ownership. This means that the earning power of the railroads must be safeguarded. There is no other solution."

The Floridan to Go On October 18th

The Floridan, the Illinois Central Crack Train from Chicago to Jacksonville, will be inaugurated on October 18th, which is much earlier than heretofore. This due to the unusually early and heavy travel to Florida. The I. C. has been for several weeks, running two sections of The Seminole south of Jackson, Tenn.

Supt. Williams returned the first of this week from Atlanta, Ga., where he has been attending the Southeast Shippers' Regional Advisory Board meeting, of which he is a member. Mr. Williams represents the Illinois Central and the G. & S. I. Railroads on the board.

Big Crowds Attend Opening

Of Kentucky Hardware and Implement Company's Store on Church Street.

Opening day at the Kentucky Hardware & Implement Company's store Saturday, was indeed gratifying to the proprietors, Messrs. W. W. Batts, and Ben W. Shew. On this occasion great crowds filled the store where they were welcomed by the owners and sales force, assisted by I. W. Dobbins, Prof. J. C. Cheek, Messdames Bud Browder and Tom Butler.

Each visitor registered on entering the store. Mrs. Paul McAlister captured the handsome $35.00 set of silverware.

Each lady visitor was given a useful piece of aluminum-ware. After giving out 640 pieces, the stock was exhausted, but the proprietors assured the visitors who failed to get a piece, that they would get theirs as soon as the stock was replenished.

A guessing contest was indulged in also. A jar filled with corn. Mr. R. F. Butler guessed the jar contained 888 grains and was awarded a beautiful Gillette razor. The jar contained 889 grains. He missed it only one.

All who visited the new store were loud in their praises of the splendid stocks displayed. A feature of the Kentucky Hardware & Implement Company's display is the large show windows filled with useful articles of every description to be found in an up-to-date hardware establishment. Will Campbell, salesman of the firm, and Graham McDonald, representative of the Oliver Chilled Plow Works, are due the credit for their attractiveness.

Fulton now has four of the best hardware establishments to be found in any city of this size, with thoroughly experienced men at the head of them.

FLOWERS ATTRACT ATTENTION

In passing the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Shepherd, corner Third and Eddings streets, a few mornings ago, our attention was attracted to a morning-glory vine which had covered the trellis and crept into a nearby tree. The vine in full bloom, with its hundreds of blue blossoms of extraordinary size, covered with dew, fairly dazzled the eye in its tranquil beauty. Continuing our drive over the city, we noticed the front yards with hardly an exception, were models of neatness and blooming flowers.

The interest in the cultivation of flowers in the city has developed wonderfully in recent years. Some of the prettiest back-yard rose gardens in the State will be found in the rear of a number of Fulton homes.

Many of the pretty yards are no doubt due to the early training and encouragement given the children by the Magazine club years ago, when Mrs. W. Morris was president. Prizes were awarded and beautifying the home surroundings instilled in the minds of the growing children. Early training is a factor of first importance in making the home attractive.

COAL FACTS

The man who's coaled in summer—
Though strange the truth may sound—
Has little trouble keeping warm
When winter rolls around.

There is more truth than poetry in filling your coal bin before cold weather sets in. As a general thing, September is the last month of low prices. The first of October coal prices go to the maximum. You'll need coal soon and to order the winter's supply now means to save money.

Although the weather has been exceedingly hot, the City Coal company cut considerable ice in the coal trade. They are busy because the people appreciate good coal. They spend a great deal of time and effort in selecting the coal they think will please their customers. Their stock is now in prime condition and if they fill your bins you may wear a smile which nothing can remove. Before the weather changes from summer's smile to winter's frown have your bins filled.

The men at the head of the City Coal company are not new at the business. Chas. Huddleston, Gus Bard and Joe Davis can tell good coal as far as they can see it, and they sell only the best grades of Kentucky and Alabama coal, and those who have tried their coal say they want nothing better.

Mr. Huddleston is one of the oldest coal dealers in Fulton. For the past eighteen years he has supplied the trade with the best, and when he joined hands with Messrs. Bard and Davis, some six years ago, under the firm name of City Coal company, the organization was complete. This firm sells around 8,000 tons a year.

Hickman News

At a regular meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star last Friday night, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. Adrien Minitree, worthy matron; Judge W. J. McMurray, worthy patron; Mrs. Austin Voorhees, associate matron; Mrs. T. O. Stone, conductress; Mrs. J. M. Calvin, associate conductress; Miss Effie Bruer, secretary, and Mrs. Roscoe Stone, treasurer. Mrs. Minitree will this week appoint her Star Points and committees. On the 22nd of this month there will be a public installation of these officers, the first public installation that has ever been had by this chapter, to which the members as well as the families of the Eastern Star members will be invited. The Hickman chapter has a membership now of about 100 members and is a growing chapter. Mrs. E. Dobson is the retiring worthy matron.

The three cotton gins of Hickman, namely, the Bondurant Gin, Planters Gin and the Hammer & Bratton Gin, have made an unusual record in ginning this season. Up to Friday night they had ginned 744 bales, an unprecedented record in this city. These three gins represent eight of the gins in the entire county. All gins are running full capacity on day runs. At this time last year there had been no cotton ginned.

FULTON OFFERS BONDS

At a recent meeting of the city council, at which time Frank L. Wilcox, consulting engineer of St. Louis, appeared, the city council definitely decided to offer the $70,000 sewerage bonds at public sale on Sept. 28, 1925, this date being selected by the body and duly authorized in a resolution.

The matter of a right of way which would be through the lower part of the city, is being handled through sources, which it is assured will be granted the right to lay the line through. On this basis, the figures and plans are being prepared. These bonds were voted some time ago, but the matter of offering them had not been determined until the meeting last week.

AMERICAN CIGAR FACTORY BIG HELP TO FULTON

It is of genuine interest to the people of Fulton to note the splendid progress made at the American Cigar factory in the good payroll of today. Some of the girls who started on a meager wage are now earning $20.00 per week. Of course, the big majority of the 175 girls at work in the factory have not reached the $20 per week mark, but some have even exceeded it. During the This factory has truly been a blessing to the community. It has given many deserving girls employment. The work is not hard or tedious. It is really interesting, and everything has been provided to make it pleasant. "Making cigars is a pleasant pastime," said a girl today.

If you have never visited the factory it would really be worth your time to take a look on the inside and see the neatness of the premises, the modern conveniences, the dining hall, etc.

Only girls of the best moral character are employed. It is just like a big family circle. And you may rest assured that Manager McGinnis will allow no infringement beyond the portals of the factory doors.

Mr. Ben F. Shew of the Kentucky Hardware & Implement Company, has obtained a desirable residence on State Line street and will be joined by his wife shortly.

Lesson for September 20

PAUL WRITES TO THE THESSALONIANS

LESSON TEXT—1 Thessa. 2:1-12.
GOLDEN TEXT—"In everything give thanks."—1 Thessa. 5:18.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul's Love for His Friends.
JUNIOR TOPIC—How Paul Worked in Thessalonica.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Paul's Devotion to His Work.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Spirit and Method of Paul's Work.

While the lesson committee has selected this brief passage in the second chapter for printing, the intention was to present the message of the entire epistle. It was on Paul's second missionary journey that the church at Thessalonica was founded as seen in the last lesson. After crossing into Macedonia he preached the Gospel at Philippi, where he was imprisoned. From Philippi he went to Thessalonica. The people there were largely Gentiles.

I. The Salutation (ch. 1:1).
Timothy and Silas were associated with Paul in this missionary journey, and they are associates of Paul in this message.

II. Paul's Thanksgiving (1:2-10).
1. For Their Faith, Love and Hope (v. 2-4).

This triad of graces testified of their election of God.

2. How They Received the Gospel (v. 5).

It was in the power of the Holy Spirit.

3. Joyful Obedience (v. 6).

4. Exemplary Lives (v. 7).

5. Missionary activities (v. 8).

6. Turned From Idols (v. 9-10).

III. Character of Paul's Ministry (2:1-12).

It would seem from this defense that some of the Jews had called into question his ministry. He defends himself by showing the character of his ministry:

1. It Was Courageous (vv. 1-2).

His persistence in spite of shameful persecution proved his devotion to the Lord and His work.

2. Honest and Guileless (vv. 3-4).

As one sent of God, he faithfully ministered unto them, not courting man's favor.

3. Without Flattering Words (v. 5).

4. Without a Cloak of Covetousness (v. 5).

5. Did Not Seek Glory From Man (v. 6).

6. Gentle and Affectionate (vv. 7-8).

So vitally did he enter into the lives of the people that he displayed a gentleness even as a nursing mother with her children.

7. Unselfish (v. 9).

In order that his motive be not questioned, he labored night and day for his support.

8. Irreproachable and Blameless (v. 10).

He did not claim to be faultless, but he challenged them as to his blamelessness.

9. His Lofty Aim (vv. 11-12).

That they would walk worthy of God in keeping with their high calling.

IV. How the Gospel Was Received (2:13-18).

As the very Word of God.

V. Paul's Desire for the Thessalonians (2:17-3:13).

1. He Endeavored to See Them Face to Face, but Was Hindered by Satan (2:17-18).

2. He Declared Them to Be His Crown of Rejoicing (2:19-20).

His hope of meeting his converts at Christ's second coming was his crown of rejoicing.

3. Timothy Sent to Them (3:1-10).

It was his report that furnished the information concerning this church.

4. He Prayed for Them (3:11-13).

VI. Sins Rebuked (4:1-12).

1. Unchastity (vv. 1-5).

2. Dishonesty (vv. 6-8).

3. Lack of Brotherly Love (vv. 9-10).

4. For Being Busybodies (v. 11).

5. Idleness (v. 11).

VII. Doctrinal Errors Corrected (4:13; 5:1-11).

1. Not to Sorrow Unduly (v. 13).

It was because of their misunderstanding of the meaning of the coming of the Lord that they were indulging in excessive sorrow.

2. The Reason Assigned (vv. 13-15).

(1) The departed saints will come back when Jesus comes (v. 14).

(2) Living Believers Will Be Caught Up With Them (v. 17).

3. The Time of the Lord's Coming Unknown (5:1-11).

The exhortation is "be ready," watch.

VIII. Concluding Exhortations (5:12-28).

Sin, Grace, Humility

No sin is so offensive to God, and so injurious to the soul as pride. No grace is so commended, both by precept and example, as humility.—Kyle.

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY SAVED BY LEAGUE

Both Pronounced on Way to Financial Stability—
Hears Report.

Geneva.—Austria will be relieved of financial supervision by the League of Nations at the end of the fiscal year, June 30, 1926, the league council decided, after accepting the report of its expert economist, Prof. Charles Rist of the Sorbonne, and W. T. Layton, editor of the London Economist. Lifting of control will take place by gradual stages. Dr. Zimmermann, the financial director, is expected to remain until the work is completed.

At the same time Jeremiah Smith reported conditions in Hungary were most favorable and said that instead of the expected deficit of 100,000,000 gold francs Hungary would have a surplus of 63,000,000 francs for the year ending in June.

Foreign Minister Unden of Sweden today asked the League of Nations assembly to establish a committee of experts to "examine the principles of last year's protocol relating to compulsory arbitration with a view to inducing all nations to accept the principle for settlement of disputes."

It is apparent that Foreign Secretary Chamberlain of Britain did not do a complete job when he "killed" the protocol at the council session last spring; there is still strong sentiment for the protocol, for which Britain would substitute security pacts. Unden's proposal is the first for constructive action at this session.

Both Premier Painleve of France and Chamberlain had outlined their government's policies regarding security and disarmament previously. Chamberlain reiterated the familiar Browning Street program. His speech may be summed up briefly thus:

"Our aim is not to punish the aggressor, but to prevent aggression. The Benes protocol (Foreign Minister Benes of Czechoslovakia drafted the Geneva protocol), tried to clothe all nations in the same suit, regardless of whether it fitted varying needs. Britain would proceed from generalities to particularities instead of vice versa. We pledge again our loyalty to the league and the covenant. Moral sanctions are as influential as force and act more surely in the long run."

Repeating the speech he made to the March council, Chamberlain said: "Our object is to supplement the covenant by making special arrangements to meet special needs. These should be purely defensive in character and should be framed in the spirit of the covenant, working in close harmony with the league and under its guidance. These objects we believe are best attained by knitting together the nations most immediately concerned whose differences might lead to renewal of strife."

All of which would be splendid if it had not developed that Leon Jouhaux's proposal to present a resolution to the assembly outlining broad principles upon which any and all regional pacts should be based has been summarily rejected by the British and consequently temporarily suppressed by the French delegation.

WHAT OUR PAYROLLS DO

(From I. C. Magazine)
The payrolls of the Illinois Central System are a valuable addition to the assets of the communities served by our lines. Our payrolls amounted, in 1924, to $92,000,000, or an average of more than $7,500,000 each month.

There are approximately sixty thousand employees of the Illinois Central System. Census estimates show that the average family consists of 4.3 persons. Upon this basis there are about 258,000 persons directly supported by the Illinois Central payrolls. But a far greater number derive an indirect benefit from the payrolls. Each of these sixty thousand families is an important purchasing unit. All those who supply the needs of these families, either in merchandise or in service, have an interest in the Illinois Central payrolls. The benefits derived from the payrolls of the Illinois Central System are spread in widening circles which ultimately reach every form of business and professional activity in the territory along our lines. The communities share in these benefits. Our employees are good citizens and take an active part in community affairs. Homes are built from their savings, their contributions help to support churches, and out of their taxes schools are conducted, streets paved and all the multi-form public benefits and improvements are paid for. The participation of our employees in these community activities is made possible by the sums they receive from the railway payrolls.

"The prosperity of the railroads is essential if their payrolls are to be maintained at present levels. Expenses must be curtailed when revenues decrease. Any action which tends to impair the prosperity of the railroads therefore, must inevitably affect the welfare of all who share in the benefits derived from the railway payrolls."

In reviewing the above facts, it should stimulate every citizen of this community to work for the best interests of the Illinois Central railroad, the main artery of our commercial existence.

BACK TO SCHOOL AGAIN

The school year has opened again and the schoolhouse door is beckoning to youngsters to return and partake of the knowledge that the community is offering them, free of charge that they may be able to compete successfully in the great struggle for existence when they become men and women.

School means much to children—more than they realize. It means an opportunity to learn not alone the facts that books contain, but how to live so that their lives will bear abundant fruit.

Some parents feel a sense of relief when school opens—that a great weight has been lifted from their shoulders. And this is where they fail as parents.

Responsibility does not end when the youngsters are returned to their instructors. Teachers may instruct and guide them while they are in the school room, but cannot follow them after they leave its doors.

To parents fall the obligation of sheltering and protecting them from the pitfalls of the street and the open, from the snares which to them appear to be but innocent pastime.

The responsibility of the teacher is heavy, but the parents' is infinitely greater.

The school authorities have worked out their program for the year and they are prepared to do their duty. It is squarely up to those outside the school organization to assist the authorities by fulfilling their part of the unwritten contract.

THRIFT INCREASES

The resources of all banks of the United States, including state and national banks and trust companies, have increased twenty-nine per cent during the past six years.

This fact was announced at the annual convention of the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks, yet there are people who complain that this country is going to pot.

An increase in bank deposits of more than two billion dollars a year for six years shows that somebody has been making more money and that some people have been saving more.

It is a simple case of mathematics. Some allowance, of course, has to be made for a growing population, but this is so small compared with the unparalleled advance in bank deposits that it is practically negligible.

Neither should it be forgotten that this unprecedented development has taken place during a period of so-called depression attributed to the reaction from the excesses of war.

There is nothing the matter with the country. Neither is there anything the matter with Fulton. Its future is brighter than it ever was. The only problem is to make the people look forward, who have formed the custom from long practice of looking backward.

ATTEND MEETINGS

The members of the Chamber of Commerce seemed to have been taken by surprise last Tuesday by the resumption of the meetings that were suspended during the hot weather and only a small number attended.

In previous years it has always been extremely hard to obtain attendance during July and August, due to the extreme heat, so it was decided to suspend meetings during those months this year, but now that the cool weather has come, it is expected that activities will be resumed with the same snap that characterized the meeting of the earlier part of the year, and members are urged to remember that the second Tuesday of each month is the date for the meetings and be present to assist in making the meetings a success and to help the officers elected by them to put through the work that is needed to be done to make Fulton a bigger, better and more homelike place to live and do business.

JAY WALKER HAS HARD LUCK

Owning an automobile seems to act differently on different people. Some owners seem to delight in offering the mere pedestrian a lift, while others never seem to see their acquaintances when walking. Still others seem to think that the whole of this palpitating earth belongs to them, and utterly disregard the rights of anyone on foot.

Last Saturday night, just after six o'clock, when it was raining its hardest, a big closed car deliberately drove close to the edge of the street, through a big puddle of water and thoroughly drenched a pedestrian with the wash from its wheels.

Just why the possession of a car should make a person, who, to all appearances is either a lady or a gentleman, act like the veriest "tough," is a riddle, and just because they consider themselves safe from reprisal, seems to make them "show their raisin," as our colored brethren say.

If I ever attain to the status of owning anything resembling a car, I hope that I will not forget the time when I had to walk, and take the other fellow's dust or muddy water.

A Jay Walker.

BORN TAILORS GUILD

The Origins of Fashions

WHERE do the most pronounced changes in men's fashions originate? London or New York? Are they decided upon at some tailors' convention or are they the whim of some Fifth Avenue dandy, as he strolls up and down the boulevard? None of these. The real despot on fashions in America today is the young fellow on the college campus. He demands color, variety, originality, and he usually finds them.

Perhaps it's the loud-checked flannel shirt, or the bright-yellow slicker which, covered with autographs and Greek letters, pervades the campus just as much on sunny as rainy days. It may be simply a fashion of wearing one's coat collar turned up or trouser cuff turned down; whatever it is the college youth claims it as his own only to find that in a few months or even weeks it has been adopted all over the country because it is "collegian."

The fad for bell-shaped, flapping trousers started at Oxford, as did the craze for flannel in pastel shades of rose, lemon and lavender.

Colored hat bands, Roman striped belts and emphatic four-in-hands all were born on the campus and later adopted throughout the country.

Carr Institute Notes
(By Pupils of 8-B Class)

The Beginning of a New School Year

When the leaves are beginning to change their colors of green, for ones of glowing brown, and red and yellow and, the first hints of autumn are in the air, the thoughts of all boys and girls are turned toward the opening of school.

With that thought in mind, the doors of Junior High School were thrown open last Monday to two hundred pupils, who were eager to pick up again those almost forgotten school books which the joys of a summer vacation had caused to be laid aside. Everywhere one could hear questions like these: Who has a spelling book that he will not use? Isn't it almost time for lunch? This morning has seemed so long, or possibly it was. Don't you like our new teacher? Isn't that a pretty dress? A day or two of confusion and questions like these, and then we settle down to find out what might be between the covers of those bright new books which look so mysterious. Each year we take up a new subject which, in addition to the old three R's, reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic, that our mothers and fathers studied in their school days, gives us enough to do.

School life, with all of its study, and hard lessons means too, that we can make good friends, for every one likes the boy or the girl who tries to do his or her work well, and let us remember that we must make a strong foundation upon which to build our later lines.

STELLA FEARN SCATES.

Mr. Myers' Talk in School
Mr. Myers spoke in school about Mr. Edison. He told of several of his inventions, and said, that he had made more than a thousand. He said, "Mr. Edison never thought of eating or sleeping. He worked for several days, and nights without stopping, on his invention of the electric light. He sent men to many places trying to find different things he needed to use."

Mr. Myers said that he visited Mr. Edison's plant and after going through several rooms he asked if he might see Mr. Edison himself. One of the men there told him he didn't know, that sometimes Mr. Edison was glad to see visitors, and again he wasn't, and after waiting for a while, he was told to go in, and there, at the end of a long table, sat the old inventor himself, Mr. Edison, with his coat off, his sleeves rolled up, dirty and greasy from the different oils, for he was often on or under machinery trying to see the whys and wherefores.

Mr. Myers told of the interesting talk he had with Mr. Edison. Among the different things he said were, that he never went home very often at night, but would work till he was so tired he could work no longer, then he would just lie down on the floor with maybe a book under his head, and sleep for a few hours, then get up, and go back to work. He said he knew what the children would study in the future, and other points of interest.

Mr. Edison also told Mr. Myers that a man came in to see him, and told him it sure was a fine thing for a man to be born with a great mind, and Mr. Edison answered that he was not born with a great mind, but that he had worked for everything he knew, and while everybody else was sleeping, he was working hard, and this man then told him he was old enough to quit work. Mr. Edison told him that he wasn't, but he would get a new suit, dress up and go out to entertainments when he was ninety years of age, but until then he would keep on working. Mr. Myers said Mr. Edison was always receiving invitations to dinners and parties, but he never even took time to write an answer to them, but would just say, "Tell them I'm too busy."

Mr. Myers concluded by saying that Mr. Edison was in the eighties, and his great grandfather lived to be one hundred and four, his grandfather, a hundred and one, his father ninety nine, and he hoped Mr. Edison would live as long if not longer than any of them.

Junior High School playgrounds are fixed very nice for children who enjoy playing before and after studying. Most all the children in the lower grades make it a practice of getting a swing or a see-saw, or something else to play on.

The grounds were cleaned off and new trees planted last year. Hedge was set out between the High School and Carr Institute. Flowers were planted to beautify the grounds so all the pupils might admire it, and keep it clean from papers and trash.

BEATRICE BROOKS.

ARBITRATION ISSUE IS REVIVED BY BONCOUR

Statenman's Great Speech Electrifies the World Laegue at Geneva.

Geneva—In a rhetorical effort never excelled and seldom equalled before the League of Nations, Paul Boncour of France raised again the standard of the Geneva protocol this evening before the assembly.

Although there is a serious divergence of thought in the French delegation, although the British have "buried" the Benes pact for the third successive time, and although the chances for success of security pact negotiations precludes definite action on the protocol, there is a possibility that gradually increasing momentum, the rank and file of the delegations, led by such statesmen as Boncour and Foreign Ministers Benes of Czechoslovakia and Unden of Sweden, may develop a landslide which will sweep the assembly along into redrafting the document regardless of the wishes of the powers interested in the security pact.

Boncour caught the psychological moment following proposal of a resolution by Mytisher Louden of Holland asking the council to create immediately a committee to prepare plans for a disarmament conference which could be called at the first opportune moment.

Out the chaos of the first few days of the assembly, now that the English, French and Belgian pourparlers are concluded, is crystallizing a spirit of action to outlaw war. While the primary issue may be clouded momentarily, it is significant that by a single speech such an orator as Boncour could tear down carefully constructed altars such as the British rejected, and stampede the assembly. Hardly had Boncour finished when the entire floor arose in a great ovation. Heads of delegations crowded around, standing in line to shake hands and congratulate him. The British, though applauding, remained glued to their seats.

Gain In Cotton Consumption

Washington.—The world mill consumption of cotton for the six months ended July 31, 1925, was estimated at 12,000,000 bales, in a cablegram to the Department of Agriculture from the international federation of master cotton spinners' association at Manchester, England. This was said to be an increase of 22 per cent over the half year ended July 31, 1924, and a seven per cent gain over the six months ended Jan. 31, 1925.

KENTUCKY BRIEFS

Lexington.—Charles M. Boyd, 8-year-old negro of Keene, Jessamine county, was fatally injured when struck by an automobile driven by C. B. Porter, held of Lexington.

Owensboro.—Miss Sophia Hazelrigg, 16, was declared by judges to be the most beautiful young woman in the beauty parade at the Davless County Fair and Exposition. There were fifty-two girls in the parade, all riding in automobiles.

Owensboro.—Otto Dodson, 29, held in jail on a charge of possessing liquor, was formally charged with manslaughter in a warrant sworn to by Powers Leighton, whose brother, Joseph Leighton, died from the effects of drinking alleged poison liquor.

Paducah.—Eight back saw blades and a small knife which three prisoners in the McCracken county jail had been using in an attempt to escape from their cell were found in the cell after the men had been removed to the jail basement for breakfast.

Nicholasville.—A violent electrical and windstorm, accompanied by hail and but little rain, swept over the eastern section of this county blowing down barns, uprooting trees and breaking out windows. The total damage done by the storm is estimated at upward of $25,000.

Mt. Sterling, Ky.—John Hamilton, farmer, of near Slide View, this county, surrendered after a shooting affray in which he seriously wounded Oscar Tally, a neighbor. He has been released under bond of $1,000. An argument about a money account is believed to have led to the shooting.

Newport, Ky.—Attempts of two negro prisoners to escape from the Newport jail were frustrated by Jailer Edward Maider. Hearing suspicious sounds coming from the cell room, Maider investigated and discovered several kitchen knives that had been secreted by the negroes and fashioned into crude saws.

Mt. Sterling, Ky.—In Menifee County an automobile turned over on a curve above Frenchburg, falling down a 100-foot embankment. Morion Faulkner, 35, and a young son of Ben Jewett, 18, suffered fractured skulls and were otherwise injured. They were removed to the Presbyterian Hospital at Frenchburg, where they are unconscious and it is feared will die.

Lawrenceburg.—Crossing the Kentucky River at Clifton, the ferryboat carrying a five-ton truck and its cargo, a cow and several sheep, sank on the Woodford side of the river. The machine was the property of J. W. Rankin of Lawrenceburg, who was driving it. Rankin and Ed Wilson, owner of the stock and the ferryman, reached the shore safely. The truck and boat will both be recovered.

Lexington, Ky.—Col. M. F. Ekin, this city, State Macechesse commander, received word of the drowning of his friend, Dr. A. J. Irwin, near his home at Goschen, Ind. Irwin was preparing for a visit to Lexington. According to the report to Ekin, Irwin was fishing in Wasee Lake when a sudden wind arose, swamped his boat and Irwin drowned. Irwin was 60 and was recently nominated for mayor of Irwin.

Georgetown, Ky.—Scott County remains in the grip of a drought unprecedented in its recorded history. The water in Big Spring, Georgetown's source of drinking water, has reached a very low level and, while no immediate danger of a water famine is entertained by Manager S. L. Allen, the citizens of the town have been asked by Mayor Z. Y. Myers and the City Council to use the water as conservatively as possible.

Princeton.—Kinball Underwood, Jr., 4 years old, had a remarkable escape from serious injury here when he was struck by an automobile in front of the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kinball Underwood, Sr. The little fellow while crossing the street was struck and knocked down by an automobile, the entire length of the car passing over him. An examination by a physician showed that he escaped serious injury.

Paducah.—Fred Jones, 7 years old, son of a McCracken county farmer, mysteriously shot near the home of his father on August 25, has confessed to his father that the shooting was accidental. It was learned. The boy told his father that he picked up a shotgun cartridge, threw it against a tin can to see what it would do, and the shell exploded. The boy's body was peppered with the shot and physicians found it necessary to amputate two fingers.

Maysville, Ky.—Fire at Helfa, this county, destroyed the home of Best Wood, a blacksmith shop and an unoccupied dwelling owned by Mrs. Robert Cook, of this city, and an old house stored with tobacco. The loss is about $3,000 with no insurance.

Henderson, Ky.—Altho three men have been arrested and charged with robbery and arson in connection with the crime wave that has struck Henderson in the last three months, police are still mystified because of a $20,000 fire and a series of robberies lately.

RIGID DIVORCE LAW TO BE URGED

County Attorneys Will be Asked to Favor Act At Fayette Meeting

Lexington, Ky.—The County Attorneys' Association of Kentucky at its annual meeting here December 28 and 29, will be asked to adopt resolutions urging a more rigid divorce law, and the repeal of the law which requires counties to support their inmates in certain State institutions.

This action was decided here at a meeting of the association in session at the LaFayette Hotel. The time and place of the next meeting also were determined by the committee and the programme of the assembly mapped out.

Addresses of welcome will be made by City and County officials and members of the Lexington bar. Responses will be made by representatives of the county and Commonwealth's Attorneys' Association, these bodies being in joint session. Spencer S. Carrick, Fayette County attorney, president of the association will deliver the final address of the first day's session.

Gov. William J. Fields will address the joint meeting the morning of the second day while in the afternoon, reports will be heard from officers and committees, a member will discuss fiscal problems and officers will be elected.

The legislative committee agreed to ask the association to go on record favoring an amendment to section 2,119, Kentucky Statutes, making the divorce law more stringent and requiring divorce petitioners to present more definite proof or grounds than are now required. The association also will be urged to adopt a resolution favoring an amendment to the peremptory challenge law in order that prosecuting attorneys may have the same number of peremptory challenges to a jury that the defense attorneys have, favoring a repeal of a portion of Section 2,995 E, 13 A, regarding the support of inmates in certain State institutions and favoring a bill to regulate the fees of county and commonwealth's attorneys in certain classes of cases.

Mr. Carrick, Lexington, presided at the meeting. The members of the executive committee present were H. Church Ford, Georgetown; D. W. Ashcraft, Frankfort; J. L. Donaldson, Carrollton; William K. Miller, Owensboro and C. C. Malley, Eddyville.

Members of the legislative committee present were Herbert H. Moore, Winchester; T. G. Anderson, Pineville; A. M. Chaney, Bowling Green; Charles P. Morris, Frankfort and Charles Wooten, Hazard.

FORMER CONVICT SOUGHT BY DENVER POLICE

Man Pardoned By Governor Morrow Wanted In Pay-roll Robbery.

Lexington.—Police here were asked by police of Denver, Colo., to search for Frank Blair, 40 years old, pardoned from the Kentucky State Reformatory two years ago by Governor Edwin P. Morrow, although wanted at that time by federal authorities. Blair is charged by the Denver police with having held up the paymaster of the Kitchell Construction Company of Denver, as he was paying off workmen on the university stadium. A reward of $500 is offered for his arrest and conviction. The holding of the paymaster took place August 15, according to the Denver police. This is the first time Blair had been heard of here since his sensational and mysterious liberation from the Reformatory.

Negro Duelists Escape, But Unlucky Mule Dies

Louisville, Ky.—Two negroes fought a shotgun-pistol duel, but it ended in a draw, it was revealed by their arrests. Each fired once, one wounding an innocent bystander and the other killing a mule. There had been bad blood between John Keller, 23 years old, one of the negroes, and John Simpson, 27, the other, police said, so when Simpson saw Keller standing in the doorway of Sallie Kersey's home, Newburg Road, he stopped his mule. Keller fired a pistol and the mule fell with a bullet through its heart. Simpson fired a shotgun and John Francis, negro, 25, fell with wounds in his shoulder and head. Keller is charged with shooting and destroying private property. The mule, Simpson is charged with wounding Francis, who is in the City Hospital.

99 OF EVERY HUNDRED BACKING UP MITCHELL

Congressman Aswell Predicts Shocking Revelations in Aviation Scandal.

Washington.—Colonel William Mitchell has the backing of 99 out of every 100 Americans in his fight to clean up the air services of the government.

When the showdown comes between Mitchell and the higher-ups in the war department, if the powers in control grant him a fair trial, I believe the people will be shocked by his revelations.

President Coolidge must surely appreciate that the aviation scandal is as outrageous as the Teapot Dome scandal, and unless he cleans up the air service he will find the people against him in 1928.

We have seen enough of the inefficiency of the scattered air services. The proper solution would be to have a separate arm of national defense in which would be united all the air services.

As long as the air services are dominated by the present heads of the navy and army, we will never have an adequate air defense, for the new era that control these departments are too slow to give aviation its fair position in the national defenses.

Inefficiency, waste in buying supplies and training of aviation personnel, are bound to continue as long as the present bungling chiefs of the army and navy dominate aviation.

In the navy the old-line, non-flying officers insist that the battleship is superior to the airplane and they will not give it a fair showing.

I would follow Mitchell's program of having a secretary of defense, with three assistants. One assistant would be in charge of the navy, another the army and a third the air forces.

The wreck of the Shenandoah is but a sample of bungling by the officers in charge of the navy. The Roma was destroyed in 1922, but nothing was ever done to fix the responsibility. The disaster was passed up and the whitewash brush was used to clear every one.

These tragedies will continue as long as we have aviation distributed among a large group of non-flying officers.

Let us have a single head and make him responsible for what happens. When the finger of suspicion is pointed at him, I believe he will try to explain to the American people.

Congress should investigate Mitchell's charges. I do not believe the war department will give him an opportunity to present evidence to support his charges, because they are afraid he might expose incompetency of his superiors.

SKIPPER OF THE PN-9 PROMOTED

Rodgers Made Assistant Chief of Aeronautics—Praised by Admirals.

Washington.—The Navy Department, from Secretary Willbur down, was exultant over the finding of the navy plane PN-9, No. 1, and her crew, and lost no time in seizing upon the occasion to announce the promotion of the plane's pilot, Commander John Rodgers, to be assistant chief of the bureau of aeronautics.

The navy's hope for rescue had dwindled almost to the vanishing point as the nine days dragged by without sign of the flyers. Anxiety was made more bitter by Gen. Mitchell's accusation of incompetence.

To Commander Rodgers goes the credit for turning what seemed disaster into rescue. His promotion had been under consideration previously, but Secretary Willbur felt the moment opportune to make the announcement.

Rodgers relieves Capt. Alfred W. Johnson, who has requested sea duty. Secretary Willbur emphasizes that the promotion was "not only because of his sterling qualities as an aviator, but also because of his ability as a seaman and navigator. Admirals Eberle, Moffett and Shoemaker recommended the advancement."

But the navy is not going to risk another such adventure right away. Contrary to first reports, Secretary Willbur announced definitely that the PN-9, I would not try any non-stop flights to the Pacific Islands until after all danger of equinoctial storms passed.

That means a delay until after this month in any event and probably until warm weather next spring. This decision was taken on the recommendation of the flight arrangement commander, so Secretary Willbur pointed out rather tartly, in view of the charges that the Shenandoah has been ordered out over Commander Landowne's protests.

Mitchell Lauds Fliers

San Antonio, Tex.—Promotion of John Rodgers, commander of the PN-9, No. 1, to Assistant Chief of the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics, was warmly applauded today by Colonel William Mitchell, Eighth Corps Area air officer.

"Rodgers is a capable and courageous flyer, and his promotion comes as a just reward for the perils and hardships he has so miraculously survived," Colonel Mitchell said.

"America can not spare men of his type, and should place them in positions where their knowledge will be of the greatest service."

"News of the rescue of Commander Rodgers and his companions is the best news I have received in many days."

Dynamite Plot Foiled

Harrisonburg, Va.—An attempt was made to dynamite the shops of the Chesapeake Western Railroad at Stokesville, 5 miles south of here, it was revealed here.

Officials of the road refused to discuss the explosion, but revealed for the first time that its tracks had been dynamited on May 31 last when explosives were stolen from a warehouse at Castle Hill. The railway is owned by W. E. D. Stokes of New York.

Japan Suppresses Journal

Tokio.—A recent issue of the Waseda University Journal was suppressed by the police on the grounds that some of the articles it contained were dangerous to public peace. This is declared to be the first time the police have suppressed a Japanese school publication.

This wonderful roof has been one of the leaders for many years, was 12 1/2"x32", now made 12 3/4"x36", making a full THREE thickness roof when laid. Comes in four colors—Red, Green, Blue Black and Autumn Blend. Easy to lay, does not have the waste that most patterns do on the hips and in the valleys.

Its heavy tile-like pattern is distinctive. Guaranteed not to curl. It is truly a wonderful roof for either new work or over old wood shingles. We recommend this roof and guarantee your satisfaction.

A few of the many roofs of this kind, on new jobs, are: The Pickle Filling Station, Bungalow of H. W. Williams on Green Street, The Christian Church. Over old wood shingles: M. C. Payne home on Park Avenue, Dr. T. F. Thomson home, Eddings and Fourth.

COLORFUL AUTUMN PARTY

In the Hughes home on Second street, a pretty social complement was paid a charming visitor Friday afternoon when Mrs. Lloyd Emery, of Paducah, who is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Anna Hughes, gave a tea in special courtesy to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Urban Hughes of Vernon, Texas, who is also a house guest. Many exquisite gift flowers graced the spacious rooms, and the colorfulness of the beautiful costumes were as decorative as the flowers. Mesdames Chas. Brann and R. S. Williams cordially greeted the guests at the door, and they were graciously received by Mrs. Emery, the charming honoree and Mesdames Norman Terry, Boyd Bennett, Curtis Ledford, Edward Redderson of Chicago, Herman Cole, George Crafton, J. D. Davis.

The dining room was the real scene of interest. In the center of the massive table set on a covering of lace, was a large silver basket filled with Premier and Russell roses. Four winsome young girls, Misses Sara Catron Smith, Odessa Shankle, Mary Elizabeth Beadles, Mary Neil Carr served a delicious ice course.

Others assisting were Mesdames Anna Hughes, Clyde Williams, Will Whitnell, Edd Kelly, Miss Mary Webb.

Misses Cordelia Brann and Dorothy Ford presided at the Edison during the afternoon.

Mrs. Emery was effectively costumed in a white lace heavily beaded in blue and white beads, while Mrs. Hughes wore a blue crepe with vari-colored embroidery. The hospitality included one hundred and fifty guests.

MRS. BRADFORD ENTERTAINS

One of the most attractive of the series of complimentary hospitalities was the afternoon bridge given Friday by Mrs. L. O. Bradford at her home on State line street, for Mrs. Edward Redderson, of Chicago. The rooms were artistically decorated with autumn flowers, and four games were enthusiastically played. Smart favors for high and low score were given and the honoree received a dainty memento of the occasion.

At the close of the afternoon pleasing refreshments were served.

SPLENDID RAINS AND COOL WEATHER

The refreshing rains during the past week have been a great blessing to the country. Stock water is plentiful and vegetation somewhat revived. A tinge of fall weather is being enjoyed after the hottest dry spell ever experienced in this section of country.

Dinner Party

The house was attractively decorated with brilliant flowers. The dining table had for its center decoration a low bowl filled with various colored flowers; covers were laid for twelve when a beautiful three course dinner was served. The evening was pleasantly spent and the three young men left on the midnight train for Cincinnati to re-enter the Electric Medical college.

They are members of two of the leading families of that section.

Miss Lorraine Bruce, of Paducah, has returned home after visiting relatives in the city, while here she was a favorite guest at several social functions and her visit was a delightful pleasure to her large circle of friends. Miss Bruce is reporting on The Sun, Paducah's popular afternoon paper.
