POLICE CLAIM THAT PEACOCK DEMANDED MONEY FROM LINDY

COPS HINT CURTIS, JAILER IN DEFAULT OF BAIL, MAY HAVE WITHHELD "WHOLE TRUTH"

Hopewell, N. J., May, 18.—Hidden details, missing even in the confession of the Virginia boat-builder, were bared by the Lindbergh murder investigators tonight as they made John Hughes Curtis the target of a criminal action and moved to investigate further the "false" phase of the fantastic drama.

In an improvised courtroom at the Lindbergh estate, Curtis waived a hearing on a charge of giving false information and was ordered committed to jail in default of $10,000 bail.

The statute under which he was arraigned provides a penalty of three years imprisonment or $1,000 fine or both.

Primarily the directing heads of the relentless pursuit wanted to know whether Curtis had told "the whole truth."

They made public the hitherto unconfirmed information that Curtis' associate in his "fake" negotiations, Dean H. Dobson-Peacock of Norfolk, Va., once expressed his confidence in the "contacts" of Curtis and made a futile request that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh supply $25,000 for ransom purposes.

Police said the clergyman showed "no desire to co-operate with the authorities" and had indicated to them he did not know whether he could come here at all for questioning.

Dean Denies Part

At Norfolk, however, Dean Dobson-Peacock vigorously denied he had any knowledge of a request upon Colonel Lindbergh for money.

Colonel Schwarzkopf tonight said "we cannot legally compel" Dean Dobson-Peacock to come to New Jersey. In the same statement Schwarzkopf said a question as to whether there might be any grounds for criminal action in the clergyman's alleged attempt to have Colonel Lindbergh post $25,000 was being referred to the Attorney General of New Jersey for an opinion.

Arraignment of Curtis late in the afternoon climaxed a day during which he had been under the constant escort of a State policeman who was guarding against the possibility of a suicide attempt by Curtis. The police said information from Norfolk related that Curtis, who suffered financial reverses in recent years, had once sought to take his own life in the South.

It was emphatically and officially denied, however, that he had made any such attempt since his confession.

Union City, Tenn., May, 18.—Miss Virginia Smith was awarded damages of $750 in her suit against Harvey Caldwell for $5,000 damages as the result of an automobile accident in which she suffered injuries while riding with Mr. Caldwell last March. The three entered pleas of guilty.

Jackson, embezzlement; Bob Fields, murder; Willie Lee Davis, violation of age of consent law; Alex Long, bone dry violation; Will Long, possessing a still; G. G. Norton, bone dry violation; Willie Holmes, larceny and receiving stolen property.

Kidnap Bill Is Being Pushed

SUBCOMMITTEE O. M.'S BILL TO PROVIDE DEATH OR LIFE TERM FOR CRIME

Washington, May, 18.—(AP).—While the nation was learning more today of the Lindbergh baby hoax, a bill providing life imprisonment or death for kidnapers was given the approval of a House sub-committee.

A recommendation was made that the full Judiciary Committee submit the measure sponsored by Representative Cochran, Democrat, Missouri—to the House for action as early as possible. It would forbid the transportation of a kidnaped person in interstate or foreign commerce and leave to the discretion of a Federal Judge the imposition of the death penalty or a sentence of from one year to life. The full committee will act on the bill next Tuesday.

Meanwhile, Federal prosecution of John Hughes Curtis, confessed hoaxer in the Lindbergh case, seemed remote. It was said that the responsibility for taking whatever Federal action is possible rested with Paul W. Kear, United States Attorney at Norfolk.

PROPOSALS FOR TAX ON BEER SOUNDLY BEATEN

SENATE REFUSES TO LEGALIZE 2.75 OR 4 PER CENT BEVERAGE

Washington, May, 18.—(A).—The Senate emphatically refused today to legalize beer for revenue, and immediately afterward plunged into the dispute over whether the tariffs now in the billion dollar tax bill would be retained.

Amendments to the tax bill to legalize beer of 2.75 alcoholic content and of 4 per cent were overwhelmed by almost identical votes—almost 3 to 1.

The first beer tests in the Senate since National Prohibition showed the parties almost evenly divided on the issue. The roll call on 4 per cent beer was 60 to 23 and against 2.75 beer, 61 to 24.

Wort Tax Approved
In the brief lull between voting on the beer proposal and the resumption of debate on the much disputed tariffs in the bill, the Senate approved new taxes on brewer's wort and malt and a levy on grape concentrates.

Crowded galleries and a filled chamber awaited the beer roll calls at 2 o'clock. A brief debate, with Senator Sheppard, of Texas, co-author of the Eighteenth Amendment, carrying the prohibition defense alone against the attacking beer advocates, preceded the vote.

The issue was drawn on the proposal of Senator Tydings, Democrat, Maryland, to authorize a loan of 2.75 per cent alcoholic content to help finance a $1,500,000,000 public construction bond issue.

Senator Bagshaw, Republican, Connecticut, got the first vote on an amendment to substitute 4 per cent for 2.75 per cent.

Both Republican and Democratic leaders, Watson of Indiana, and Robinson of Arkansas, respectively, voted against both prohibitions.

Twelve Republicans and twelve Democrats supported the 2.75 proposal, while twenty-nine Democrats and thirty-two Republicans opposed it.

The first of the four controversial tariff duties to be taken up was the import tax on oil.

Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, moved that the duty be stricken out. Connally, Democrat, Texas, opposed the motion and the dispute was on.

THE DAY IN FRANKFORT

Senator voted down amendment to revenue bill to legalize and tax 2.75 per cent beer.

Governor Eugene Meyer of Federal Reserve Board reiterated opposition to Goldsborough dollar stabilization bill.

Senator Borah, Republican Idaho, warned of third party possibilities if Congress fails to provide unemployment relief.

COLE ASSAILS HIGH COST OF PRESENT FEDERAL SYSTEM

TAXPAYERS NEED REDUCTION, L. & N. PRESIDENT SAYS IN RADIO ADDRESS

New York, May, 18.—One of the chief, if not the chief, deterrents to a resumption of a reasonable degree of prosperity is the failure to liquidate the high cost of government, Whitefoord R. Cole, president of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, said tonight in a National Broadcasting Company broadcast from Station WJZ.

Mr. Cole pointed to the increasing paternalism of government, its multiplication of bureaus, with their increasing number of employees. He asserted that the country cannot afford the luxuries of many of them, and that the taxpayer needs a sedative in the form of a tax reduction.

Increased Expenditures
Mr. Cole excoriated the selfish interests who protest against abolition of government bureaus when an attempt is made to curtail governmental outlay. He also turned his attention to mounting costs of State government and its subdivisions. Mr. Cole said the cost of all the combined activities last year was 17 per cent of the national income. The governmental expenditures in the current year have increased 32 1/2 per cent, as compared with expenditures for 1929, he said, in spite of a national deficit amounting at approximately $300,000,000.

Receivership Order Defied

MOVE SCORED AS OWENSBORO CENTRAL TRUST REORGANIZATION PROGRESS TOLD

Owensboro, Ky., May, 18.—Asserting that the depositors and stockholders of the closed Owensboro Central Trust Company of Owensboro will hardly stand for their money to be used in paying political debts, L. Freeman Little, chairman of the reorganization committee, today defied a receivership order to carry out his order to resume liquidation.

Mr. Little also indicated, he would resist an order of R. L. McFarland, special deputy commissioner, to the committee to vacate the premises of the closed bank where reorganization activities have been carried on for several weeks. Mr. McFarland's order called on the committee to vacate the bank's headquarters yesterday.

"Mr. Dorman cannot suspend our activities in trying to reopen the bank," said Mr. Little. "The law is specific on that point. The Central Trust Company belongs to its depositors and stockholders and nothing can prevent them from reorganizing."

Mr. Little added that the committee had already obtained signatures of depositors representing more than $1,000,000 of the deposits and that the percentage required was only $140,000 short. The bank closed January 2 with deposits of about $2,500,000.

MYER PLEDGES U. S. TO REMAIN ON GOLD PAYMENT STANDARD

STANDARD IS NOT IMPERILED, SENATE COMMITTEE TOLD

Washington, May, 18.—The United States is on the gold standard to stay, Eugene Meyer, governor of the federal reserve system, declared before the Senate banking and currency committee today.

Snapping back almost angrily at questions by committee members as to the possibility of the nation being forced off the gold standard, Meyer said: "There is not the slightest iota of doubt as to the ability or the intention of this country to remain firmly on the gold standard. No country ever went off that standard voluntarily, and no country ever wanted to stay off, once it had gone."

Ample Currency
"There is ample currency in the United States for all the needs of industry. The governors of the reserve banks already have discussed methods for making this capital more liberally available."

"Bankers are like all other human beings. They assume, when a trend sets in, it will continue forever. The chief problem is to get them in a proper frame of mind."

Meyer flared again when Senator Blaine Republican, Wisconsin, asked him how the people of the country were to answer the question.

Meyer told the committee "that there is a 'germ of a good idea' in the proposed Goldsborough and Fletcher bills, before the committee, each looking to a stabilization of the dollar so that commodity prices would be re-established at around the 1921-1929 average."

Opposed to Bill

He opposed the bills, however, saying they "go too far," and probably are impossible of execution.

"As long as we deal in international markets," he said, "it is impossible to really stabilize prices. No one country can stabilize world prices."

He said, however, that the federal reserve system has been conducting open market operations in an attempt to stem the tide of "deflation in commodity price levels."

These operations, he said, have resulted in the purchase of more than $645,000,000 in government securities from banks of the system, and that further purchases are being made at the rate of $100,790,000 a week. This probably will have some result on the commodity price level "indirectly."

COMMENT

By the Commentator

DIFFICULT TO UNDERSTAND

The amazing disclosure that Curtis, one of the mystery men in the Lindbergh case for so many weeks, had fabricated his story from beginning to end brings a realization that the story is a hoax.

aid of the nation, a broken man, a man who had relied upon, but one who had been a hoax. It required only a few days for police to break down the fantastic tale that Curtis had concocted after they had taken charge of the case. On the other hand, working outside the law, Curtis had deceived and taken in Lindbergh himself, high officials of the navy department and many other high personages. Probably all these people did investigate Curtis to a certain degree, but it required police procedure, with its careful checking up and balancing of fact against fact, to tear down the Curtis story.

Probably it was not difficult to deceive Colonel Lindbergh. One can understand his mental attitude. His child was gone and he was seeking its return in any way possible. To him, it seemed probable that the missing baby might be held on a ship off the Virginia coast—and no doubt he wanted to believe the Curtis story, anyhow. Had it been a case involving other persons, Lindbergh would have been more careful in accepting the story, but when it was his own flesh and blood, he was perhaps over-eager to believe. And the others followed Lindbergh's decision.

As it developed, the hoax had no bearing on the ultimate result, so far as the child is concerned. The baby was already dead, before Curtis entered the case, according to present belief. It may well be, however, that the time lost in following the Curtis imagination may have given the killers time to escape. If so, no punishment will be too severe for the Norfolk man.

It is difficult to understand why Curtis was willing to stage such a hoax. Here were Lindbergh and his wife, distracted and suffering agony, willing to do anything, pay any price, for the safe return of the child. They were willing to grasp at anything that seemed to hold out a ray of hope. Curtis enters the scene with a tale of being in contact with the kidnapers, and for weeks keeps Lindbergh following the phantoms that existed only in his own mind. Perilous trips on sea and in the air are made by many men, and then at the end the man confesses it was all a hoax and a sham; engineered by the hope of gain.

One can but wonder now whether the Condon angle of the case will turn out to be the same sort of a deception.

A CORRECTION

In justice to the First Presbyterian Church we wish to correct an error in the edition of the Leader of May 17 date in the report of the Bible contest won by Cammie Louise Mann. The honor was won by Cammie Louise but the contest was not sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church. THE SUNDAY SING, was organized about two years ago by Mrs. Sophia McFerran in a private home with a beginning of six little girls. The object of which is to teach the children and young people to sing religious songs, memorize the scripture, and bring them, in every way possible under the influence of the gospel. The organization soon grew too large for a residence and was moved to The First Presbyterian Church. A few months ago it was moved to the Chamber of Commerce where the attendance grew to such proportions the building was too small to accommodate them, so the spacious hall over Bennett's Drug Store was secured and is the present location. This movement which has now taken on the form of a Mission is not under the supervision of any single church denomination. It is non-sectarian, non-denominational, but Christian people of every denomination are welcome and are now actively engaged in the work. It is in no manner antagonistic to the church, but is specially reaching out after those who do not attend any church and whom any church can not reach. No one is so rich and none so lacking in this world's goods, none so good, none so bad that are not welcome. Come, clad in overalls and house dresses and bring the barefoot children. Every one on a class level. It was this Mission that sponsored the Bible Contest. An audience of more than one hundred persons heard the children name all the book of the Bible and recite the scripture when Cammie Louise Mann was accorded first place in the girls contest with Louise Ladd, second. Lealie Bryant was first among the boys and Leonard Davis, second.

One night each week a Bible study is conducted to which every body is invited. Come lets search the scripture together and find the way of salvation for "In them we think we have eternal life." "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet and a light unto my path."

We earnestly solicit the cooperation, good will and prayers of all denominations. Any assistance of any nature will be appreciated and thankfully received. Any pastor of the city who will make a short address to the children any Sunday afternoon, phone Mrs. McFerran at 260 and a date will be given you.

Honolulu, T. H. May, 18.—Gov. Lawrence M. Judd indicated today he would not pardon the four "honor slayers" of Jo Jo Kahahawai. Judd said he had explained his attitude to Secretary of the Interior, New Lyman Wilbur.

The four were convicted of manslaughter in the death of Kahahawai one of five asserted attackers of Mrs. Thalia Massie, daughter of Mrs. Porteus and wife of the officer.

DO YOU INHALE?

...wonder why cigarette advertising generally avoids this question?

ONE of the mysteries in cigarette advertising has been the apparent fear of the word "inhale." It seems rather foolish—for everybody inhales—whether they realize it or not... every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Think, then, how important it is to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure that you don't inhale certain impurities.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question... because when you smoke Luckies your delicate membranes get the protection no other cigarette affords. All other methods have been made old-fashioned by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? Of course you do! So truly this message is for you.

LESPEDEZA GAINS IN FAVOR AMONG KENTUCKY FARMERS

Three million pounds of Korean lespedeza seed were sown in Kentucky this year, according to estimates made at the College of Agriculture. Hundreds of farmers increased their acreages of this new and improved hay and pasture crop, while many more are trying it for the first time.

Practically all of this seed was produced in this state. Farmers cooperative associations formed to sell seed have disposed of most of last year's production. The largest association reports a carry-over of less than 10 per cent.

R. E. Giltner, Eminence, Ky., president of the Kentucky Seed Improvement Association, says that he expects practically all of the seed grown in the state last year will be sold this spring. Mr. Giltner received inquiries about seed from all over the United States and made sales to nearly every state in the central west and the south half of the country. Two hundred pounds were sold in the Hawaiian Islands.

Mr. Giltner pointed out that the low price of seed made it possible for large numbers of Kentucky farmers to sow Korean lespedeza seed this year. "We know of a large number of farmers who sowed several thousand pounds of seed each, in mixture with other grasses, for hay, pasture and fertility," he said.

More Korean lespedeza was sown in the Bluegrass counties this year than ever before. Large quantities of seed went into several central counties for sowing in pasture and hay mixtures.

Volunteer Korean lespedeza promotes full stands, in most regions, despite the March freeze.

KENTUCKY DRAINAGE PROJECT ATTRACTS NATIONAL ATTENTION

A cooperative drainage project whereby nearly 2,000 acres of rich bottom land along Elk Horn creek in Franklin county, Ky., were brought back into production, has attracted national-wide attention, according to the United States Department of Agriculture.

Encouraged by County Agent R. M. Henth, and assisted by Earl G. Welch, agricultural engineer from the College of Agriculture, five farmers cooperated to blast a ditch with dynamite. A manufacturer of explosives sent an engineer to do the actual blasting.

A mile of new channel was made and nearly two miles of old channel straightened and deepened. The completed ditch averaged two feet wide at the bottom and five feet wide at the top and three feet deep. The cost was about 2 cents per foot.

The reclaimed land, much of which had not been farmed for years, produced 65 to 75 bushels of corn and 1,500 pounds of tobacco to the acre. In some instances last year's crop more than paid the cost of the ditch, which should last for years.

AMONG THE COUNTY AGENTS

Fulton county land owners are cooperating in the live-at-home campaign by selling cows on the installment plan to tenants and share croppers.

Roy Cole of Willsburg community in Washington county, sold 7,000 pounds of Korean lespedeza seed this year, all of which was produced on his farm.

Miss Marguerite Rosenberger will represent the Jefferson county Utopia Club at the annual Junior Week at the University of Kentucky.

Six carloads of certified seed potatoes have been planted in Laurel county.

The Casey county fiscal court has voted to cooperate in testing rows for tuberculosis.

A fair apple crop is in prospect in Boone county, but most of the peaches were killed by the March freeze.

Fifteen farmers owning 1,000 sheep cooperated in building a dipping vat in one community in Nicholas county.

Wayne county farmers purchased 18,000 pounds of Korean lespedeza seed this spring.

One hundred Monroe county 4-H club boys will grow high quality tobacco according to the directions of the county agent.

Twelve Morgan county farmers are growing an acre of potatoes each, using methods of cultivation and fertilizing recommended by John S. Gardner.

Spencer county farmers are selling surplus milk to the cheese factory at Lawrenceburg.

Next Sunday, May 22, will be regular Decoration Day at Palestine, and all those who have an interest in this old cemetery are urged to take part in the observance of the day. 157-2t-ad
