Railroad News

Our Railroads
In a statement recently issued by Mr. C. H. Markham, President of the Illinois Central, Mr. Markham, calls attention to the economic unity and beneficial results of railway transportation today as compared with the early history of railroading. He states in part: "One hundred years ago our country was made up of isolated towns and villages with transportation limited to rivers which were difficult and dangerous to navigate and to roads which were frequently impassable. Our development as a politically united people, united in speech and in ideals, has followed closely the growth of the railroads, which have linked together the communities that comprise our nation and have provided channels of easy communication among them."

President Markham goes on to show how our social life has been improved, as well as our standard of living, due more to the progress of railway transportation than anything else, and that the progress of the railroads must not be hampered if our nation continues to grow, stating, "Ours is a country of great distances, with large areas accessible only by land; so above all other nations, the United States is dependent for its present prosperity, indeed, for its continued existence upon railway transportation. Railway transportation is woven into the very fabric of our national life. Recognition of the vital position which it occupies in the lives of our people ought to insure the maintenance of a constructive public attitude toward the railroads."

Excess Profits of Railroads
The Railroads paid to the government since 1920, in excess profits, that is, earning over 6 per cent, which, under the Transportation Act, is placed in the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission for its distribution, $5,683,337.42. The Interstate Commerce Commission is holding the money until such time as definite findings are made that specific amounts are due from the carriers found to have earned in excess of 6 per cent on values fixed by the Commission. The payments that have been made are based on values computed by the carriers, under regulations promulgated by the commission. Determination by the commission of values on which excess earnings are to be computed, is necessary before the fund can be put to such uses intended by Congress.

Heavy Car Loading

Car loadings in excess of 1,100,000 cars in a single week—like the weeks ending August 29 and Sept. 5—mean on the average of one car loaded for each 100 persons in the cars loaded for each mile of main-line track. If the car loadings of one of these weeks could be put in a single train, it would reach entirely around the boundary lines of the United States.

Something New in Accidents

A new species of grade crossing accidents is reported by A. Bernard of the Illinois Central, who records, in the Illinois Central Magazine, the breaking of a gate by an airplane. "The government has an air mail station on our line just west of Chicago," writes Mr. Bernard, "One of the mail-carrying planes leaving this field recently, failed to get up high enough before reaching our tracks and broke the gate at the twenty-second street crossing."

This accident was so surprising, Mr. Bernard continued, that the crossing flagman on duty failed to get the offender's number. We will have airplanes running into the sides of trains next, adding to all the little stunts which are making the careless automobilist so dear to the hearts of railway men.

Vice-President J. J. Pelley passed through the city, accompanied by his family, en route to Chicago from the south, the latter part of last week.

General Superintendent J. W. Heyron passed through the city, Tuesday of this week.

Supt. Williams made a business trip to Chicago, Tuesday of this week, attending the monthly expense meeting of the I. C.

Mrs. J. F. Williams, clerk in Division office has been quite ill for several days, but seems to be all right again, and has returned to work.

Mr. J. L. Harrington, traveling engineer, with headquarters at Jackson, Tenn., was badly injured while attempting to board a freight train at Oakfield, Tenn., last week, his foot having slipped on a rock as he started to catch the train, falling and cutting a gash in his head and fracturing two or three ribs. Information from the hospital at Jackson, Tenn., is to the effect that Mr. Harrington is recovering as rapidly as could be expected.

Mr. A. W. Ellington, trainmaster at Jackson, Tenn., has returned from the east where he has been spending his vacation.

Supt. Williams held a safety meeting with his staff as well as several train and engine service men Monday of this week, at which means for furthering the work along the line of safety were devised.

Mr. R. C. Britton, machinist at the Fulton roundhouse, has accepted a position under Roundhouse Foreman Bob White, at Centralia, Ky.

Mr. J. A. Collins, the freight agent at Fulton has returned from the Paducah hospital, and is reported doing very nicely.

John O. Hill Passes Away

The home of J. J. Hill, on Second street, was filled with grief Tuesday night when his father, Mr. John O. Hill, died at 10:15 o'clock. At the time of his death Mr. Hill was 80 years old. The Fulton Undertaking Company was called and took charge of the remains, preparing the body for shipment to Traftwood, Ark., where funeral services and burial were held Thursday.

The entire community join in sympathy for the bereaved.

Lions Club Awards Prizes

For Best Essays on the Constitution of the U. S.

Education and Americanism have a staunch ally in the Lions Club of Fulton, its last effort along those lines being the offering of three prizes to the students of the Fulton schools.

This anniversary fell on the 17th of September, and at the subsequent meeting of the Lions, the three winning essays were read and the occasion was made one of pleasure for both the members and the winners.

The first prize, consisting of a silver loving cup went to Paul Tucker of the South Fulton High School, where he is a first year student. He is the son of a farmer, Julius Tucker, and is a thorough student of the South Fulton school, never having attended any other seat of learning.

The second prize, a ten dollar gold piece, was won by Emma Coleman, also a member of the South Fulton High, where she is a Senior. She also, is the daughter of farmer folk.

The third prize, five dollars in gold, was won by Robert Duncan, a pupil of Carr Institute. This winner was also raised on the farm, though now living in town.

It will be noticed that all three of these winners were young people who were obliged to do home work, which goes to prove what many educators now claim, that the best students are those who are compelled to do some work at home in addition to the studying of lessons.

Just why this should be the case is explained by educators in several ways, but the main reasons seems to be that children who have no home tasks are apt to put off their studies for amusement, while the others seem to have acquired a more thorough understanding of the value of time and work.

Pretty Drug Store

The store room at corner of Main and Church streets has recently been remodeled for the Evans-Boaz Drug Company, and with the new furnishings and drug store fixtures presents a handsome appearance. This is a model drug store with capable men conducting the business. The keynote of their success is service.

Initial Meeting of Woman's Club.

The first general meeting of the Woman's Club of Fulton for 1925-1926 will be held at the club rooms on Main street this afternoon with the president, Mrs. J. C. Brann, in her usual pleasing way, presiding. After several months rest the members have taken on renewed interest and this promises to be an unusually busy and prosperous year for the Woman's Club.

The new year books containing the programs of the various departments with interesting financial reports will be distributed.

A feature of this afternoon's meeting will be Mrs. Brann's report of the Council meeting of the Grand Federation of Woman's Clubs, which she attended at West Baden, Ind., in June. A musical program will be given.

OBSERVED DAY OF ATONEMENT FOR JEWS

L. Kasnow, Lake street merchant, attended services at the Jewish Temple in Paducah, Monday, while his brother, Joe Kasnow, who is associated in business with him here, visited his brother, Robert Kasnow, who is a salesman at Famous-Barr company in St. Louis, and attended services.

The observance of the annual Day of Atonement is one of the most significant and sacred days of the Jewish religious year. The day brings the people together, because they share the limitations of human nature and because they are equally aware of the fact that our careers, whatever they may be to others, satisfy or dissatisfy ourselves in accordance with our mortal or immortal interests. This holy day gives opportunity for earnest thought on the inner life. The difficulties men encounter in the course of a busy year may prove, after self-examination, to be not "decrees" of God, but instances of their shortcomings. The ancients frankly and humbly called them "sins."

The reminiscences of centuries cling to this day of days and make its lessons suggestive and impressive. In ancient times priests solemnly invested it with dignity and the persecutions of later times gave it pathos and intense fervor.

The Day of Atonement is a day for inner peace, and accordingly, the Jews reassert their loyalty to peace for themselves and for mankind.

GROWERS MEET IN MAYFIELD.

Corey, New York Finance Expert, Addresses Dark Pool Members.

The directors and advisory councils of the western district of the Dark Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association, composed of Henry, Weakley and Obion counties in Tennessee, McCracken, Marshall, Calloway, Ballard, Carlisle, Hickman, Fulton and Graves counties in Kentucky, met at the court house in Mayfield Saturday morning at ten o'clock, for a conference in regard to the Association, its work and its prospects for the coming season. This meeting was presided over by Robert L. Hill, field man, and J. R. Stewart, of Henry county, Tenn.

One of the important measures decided upon at the morning meeting was that in regard to the publishing of the grade price of the tobacco. By a vote of 32 to 22 the members of the councils present decided that the grade price should not be published, but that the bankers' price and loan advance should be published on each grade.

In the afternoon at 1:30 o'clock the court house was filled with members of the district to hear Merton L. Corey, of the law firm of Martin and Pleasants, of New York City, talk on co-operative marketing and to tell of the New York banks' plan in the financing of the pool for the crop of this year.

TREAT IN STORE FOR FULTON PEOPLE

Judge Kelly, of the Juvenile Court of Memphis, will deliver an address at the First Methodist Church at 7:30 Friday evening, October 2.

Judge Kelly enjoys a national reputation as an orator. Her excellent work in Shelby county has made her famous. The District W. C. T. U. is to be congratulated upon bringing Judge Kelly to our city.

The district convention of the W. C. T. U. will be held this (Friday) afternoon at 2:30 at the First Baptist Church. A large attendance is anticipated. The public is cordially invited.

Esq. W. O. Shankle has returned from Dwsos Springs and is greatly improved in health.

Good Money in Growing Potatoes

If Properly Handled and Marketed at the Right Time

The growers of sweet potatoes in McCracken county have formed an organization and filed articles for incorporation as the McCracken County Sweet Potato Growers Association. The organization is a non-profit cooperative marketing association organized under the provisions of the Bingham Cooperative Marketing Act for the purpose of marketing the sweet potatoes grown in that county.

It is a wise movement taken by the McCracken county growers and Fulton and adjoining counties should follow suit. There is good money in growing sweet potatoes if handled right. It is a crop requiring little work, compared with some crops extensively grown in this vicinity. There is hardly a farmer in this section but who has a few acres he could put in potatoes that would bring him cash money to tide on while his main crop was being made. And the cooperative marketing is the proper way to handle the crop.

MISS BINFORD SUCCEEDS MRS. DICKEY AS LIBRARIAN

Patrons of the Fulton Library have sustained a great loss in the resignation of the librarian, Mrs. G. H. Dickey, who has conducted the library since it has been taken over by the Women's Club, some three years ago.

Mrs. Dickey started with the library when it consisted of a small number of books and during her incumbency it has increased until it now numbers something over fifteen hundred volumes, and her interest in the work gave her what might be termed a personal acquaintance with every book in the cases.

Due to her intimate acquaintance with the contents of the library, she has been of great help to the numerous readers in selecting the books most fitted to the wishes of the patrons and her unfailing courtesy and willingness to oblige, has endeared to old and young alike.

"Miss Mayme" will be greatly missed by every patron, and particularly by the younger readers, who relied to a very great extent on her to help them select their reading matter.

She will leave Fulton shortly, to make her home in Milan, Tenn., where her husband is employed by the Illinois Central.

Miss Inez Binford succeeds Mrs. Dickey as librarian.

Teachers Meet Oct. 3.

These meetings are instructive as well as entertaining and are to be continued throughout the school term.

Church News

Doctor Boyd visited Arlington last Friday and held a short service and arranged for Communion Service, Tuesday, September 29.

After his service at Arlington, he intended to go to Columbia in the afternoon and across to the Island from there to the Missouri side to visit some of his parishioners, and then back to Columbus for services there on Sunday morning, returning thence to Fulton for the evening service, but he was taken ill at Arlington, and on reaching home, had to call in a physician. He was, however, able to hold services in Trinity Church Sunday night.

During the week Doctor Boyd planted four additional running roses in front of the church, which will help to shade the vestibule, next summer. These consisted of one white, one pink and two red roses of the everblooming kind that will add very materially to the appearance of the front of Trinity.

Mrs. Belle Ammerson of Arlington is in poor health at her home in that town.

Mrs. Lizzie Melton Kilgore, and her daughter, Anna Catherine, have moved to Louisville, where Mrs. Kilgore has accepted a position in one of the larger stores.

A letter from Dean Massie, of Lexington, Ky., to Doctor Boyd, informs him that the young people of the Cathedral there, gave a breakfast as a reception to the boys and girls attending the State University of Kentucky, at which Bob Binford and Fred Cardin, of Fulton, were present.

During the absence of Doctor Boyd last Sunday, H. S. Stansbury, assistant superintendent, conducted the exercises of the Church school.

Next Sunday being the first Sunday in the month, the vestry will meet in the parish house at 2:30 p. m. All members are requested to be present.

Farwell, treasurer; Miss Lorene Parker, Pianist General Department, and Miss Jane Dobbins, Pianist for the Primary-Beginners Department.

The tobacco acreage in this vicinity was cut short this year and well that it was, as more money will be made with other crops.

The epidemic of "Florida fever" has reached Fulton and many of our best citizens have left town.

Sidewalk skating has become a happy pastime for the children.

80,000 CHEER WHEN
P-N FLIERS ARRIVE

Frisco Gives Great Welcome to the Aviators—Want to
"Try Again."

San Francisco—Commander John B.
Rodgers and his crew of naval aviators of the P-N No. 1 set foot on American mainland again, willing and eager again to test death on the un-achieved air voyage to Hawaii.

The P-N No. 1 crew, Lieut. J. G.
Bryon H. Connell, Aviator Pilot
Skiles R. Pope, Chief Radio Operator Otis G. Stantz and Aviation Machinist's Mate William N. Bowlin, were met on the United States battleship Idaho, 15 miles west from the Golden Gate, by a tug with a party of newspapermen. Their first request when reporters came aboard
the battleship was for American newspapers.

Four hours later, at 10:30 a.m.,
the rescued birdmen had completed their return to the soil, which they left August 31, while the Idaho was entering the Golden Gate and coming to anchor in San Francisco Bay, the schools were dismissed, auto and trolley traffic was ruled off Market Street, horns tooted, whistles blew;
flags shot aloft, and 80,000 people
crowded down Market street to observe the points as near the pier as possible.

Rodgers and his crew were welcomed in the bay by navy, army, marine and political dignitaries and escorted ashore for a round of parades, feasts and speeches. On shore it was announced Rodgers was met with instructions from Washington, which caused him to cancel engagements to visit Los Angeles Harbor and San Diego, and which will take him to Chicago on his way to the national capital instead.

Rubber Industry Urged

Manila—The question of rubber growing in the Philippines is occupying much space in the public prints and a number of measures have been proposed to encourage that industry.
In addition to recommending amendment of the land laws to allow of larger tracts of land to corporations and individuals, Gov. Gen. Wood has expressed approval of a bill providing free distribution of rubber seed to small farmers.

Portland, Ore.—Amendment to the providing for the establishment of

was postponed indefinitely.

most any kind.

divisions of the Turkish army, the

in addition the forty-first reserve division has received marching orders.

sympathy with the strikers.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT IN OBION COUNTY, TENN.

From present indications Obion county, Tennessee, will soon have a splendid network of improved highways. The total mileage of highway improvements now in progress in Obion county amounts to 33.38 miles as follows: Obion to Lane's Ferry, 14.75 miles;
Troy to Gladly Hollow, 12.63
miles; Troy to Obion, 6 miles.
On the first Monday in October the County Court will be called on to authorize the issue of bonds to the amount of $15,000, $10,000 for the road from Troy to Gladly Hollow and $5,000 for the road from Troy to Obion. These bonds are to be issued to match the work of the State Highway department
on a fifty fifty basis.

Another road project in Obi-
on county which means much,
and should be of great interest to the traveling public, is a new survey which has been made, starting in the suburbs of Fulton at the approach of the overhead bridge on State line road through to Union City,

a distance around ten miles.
This road will connect Fulton and Union City, shortening the distance of travel, at least 3 1-2 miles.

BOOSTING WITHOUT

In the column of a newspaper devoted to printing the views of the people is a letter from a citizen who suggests that holding booster parades is fine and that it accomplishes
some good, but that it is merely looking at ourselves in the mirror.

Instead of boosting within,
what more of us need to do is to boost without; tell others
about community and its good attributes.

It is a natural conclusion that everyone living here believes in the future of this community,
else they would change residence. On this premise then,
it is wasted breath to endeavor to convince any one that this is the best place on earth to live
and make a living.

The wisest course for the true booster is to tell others about the good qualities of his home, not boastfully, but intelligently and interestingly.

Some well meaning people are shy about mentioning the home town when away. The residents of some communities,
and in some instances states,
have a reputation for never failing to say a good word for home. And countless instances might be cited where they have been rewarded for their persistence.

BRAINS AT WORK

An active brain and a willingness to work will keep the wolf from the door. They form a combination that will do more. They will fill the family larder, provide all of the other necessities of life and a few of its luxuries.

Brains without ambition to accomplish something are handicapped. Industry without brains impotent.

Every boy has both, but mind
and hands are in a formative state and exceptional care and training are required to turn out a good citizen.

The boy who is constantly looking for excuses, who performs his tasks with the idea that they are irksome burdens placed upon his unwilling shoulders, is using his physical powers, but not making the best use of his mental powers.

But the boy who goes about his work in a cheerful and willing spirit, with an active interest in what he is doing, and with a determination to do it just a little bit better than the other fellow, is using his brains
as well as his hands.

The boy who displays these commendable traits will be a persistent and determined climber, and he will find his employers, or those with whom he labors, pushing him upward as rapidly as he is willing to climb.

A combination of brains and hands, when used coordinately,

is close to invincible.

Every boy has them, and he
he should be taught how to use them. The school teachers can't do it alone, though they may be of great assistance in showing the way. Boys need encouragement and direction
at home as well. As a rule,
they succeed in whatever measure they receive it.

A town good enough to live in is good enough to trade in.

MAKING THE COUNTRY DRY

Lincoln C. Andrews, prohibition enforcement officer, says that the nation will be dried up. Plenty of people are hoping that he knows what he is talking about. He points out that prohibition enforcement is as much essential to restore respect for law as it is to rid the country of booze.

Twenty-four new district administrators have been appointed. Eighteen of them were formerly state directors.

Gen. Andrews promised a new deal and the country is watching to see if he keeps his word.

Some fear is expressed that the same old methods will be in vogue if any of the old organization is retained. This is not an indication either, it is argued, that politics has been entirely eliminated from prohibition enforcement.

The fact that some of the old
state directors were continued
in the service is not prima facie evidence that graft will continue; neither, also, that politics
controlled their appointment.

General Andrews and his organization are on trial and both should be given a fair chance to back up their assertions.

Then the country will decide whether General Andrews is talking straight from the shoulder or through his hat.

POSSIBILITIES OF RADIO UNLIMITED

To take up your telephone receiver and listen in to the best radio broadcast programs without the trouble of tuning in
is a new sensation, but one which new and far-reaching developments have made practical. One may simply call Central and ask to be connected, then settle back in a chair and listen contentedly with the telephone receiver instead of the customary headphones.

But if the family as a whole wishes to hear radio music and possibly to dance to the strains of a popular jazz orchestra sent over the air, loud speaker service can be installed in the home, connected by special wires to the regular telephone cables. All the subscriber to this new public service has to do is to turn a switch. The radio set is in the office of the telephone company.

The co-ordination of the telephone exchange with the radio broadcast station to spread this form of entertainment more widely than ever has been effected by J. A. Gustafson, manager of the Fredonia Telephone Co., which operates an independent exchange at Fredonia, Kan. While this little Kansas town of 4,000 persons has been the first in the United States to inaugurate such a service for its customers, several other towns are now following suit, and the innovation promises soon to become widespread.

Belts Versus Suspenders

FOR several years belts have entirely replaced the old-time suspenders. Thousands of men never wear suspenders at all except with formal dress suits. Those who cling to the older fashion claim it is not good for one's health to draw the belt as tight as it is necessary to keep the trousers up, while belt enthusiasts counteract this hygienic consideration with a charge that suspenders tend to make a man round-shouldered.

The kind of belt that is worn, however, is attracting a good deal of attention from smart dressers. Belts are getting wider, more colorful and in a greater range of material than ever before. There are the usual belts of cowhide with smooth or pebble grain. These range from one to two inches in width and usually come in black, russet or cordovan. Leather belts may also be had in bright colors suitable for sports wear and with light flannels.

Silk and leather combinations are on the market, as are the webbing belts in an almost endless variety of regimental orders. In wearing multi-colored belts, select one of the colors as the key for socks, ties and bordered handkerchiefs and stick to it throughout in the matter of accessories.

Predictions are that suspenders will come back to effect the new straight-drape trousers which are to be the successor of the bell-bottomed "bags." Only by hanging on the eight buttonholes of the suspenders can this desirable straight line be obtained. A concealed suspender worn underneath the shirt is due to gain favor.

Hickman News

Hickman, Ky., Sept. 28.—H. V. Wells, well known here as "Doc" Wells, died at his home just east of this city Sunday afternoon after a few weeks illness of typhoid fever. He was 26 years old and a well known young farmer. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss May Hughes, and one little child. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 with burial at the city cemetery. He is survived by one brother, Johnie Wells, of near Cayce.

The Jordan Ginning Company is the name of the new gin at Jordan, Ky., ten miles from Hickman. This gin has been under construction for the past four weeks or more and is the only cotton gin in that immediate locality where much cotton is now being grown. Chester T. Bondurant, of Hickman, is the largest stockholder in this gin, and it is owned by Mr. Bondurant, Wayman Luten, of near Union City, Tenn., and Marshall Shuck, of the Jordan vicinity. The gin is known as a two-seventy gin, which is a gin of two stands with seventy saws to the stand, and is of the Continental type, one of the best known types of gin machinery. This makes the ninth gin in Fulton county, all of which will be very busy throughout the cotton season.

Up to last Saturday night, September 26th, there had been ginned at the three gins in Hickman 1298 bales of cotton, which is an unprecedented record for this time of the year for the Hickman gins. This would have been fully 1700 or more though had the weather of the past ten days been good for picking, but during the past week the local gins ginned only a hundred or so bales of cotton, whereas, they would have ginned five hundred. The heavy rains of the past ten days stopped much of the cotton picking, with only desultory picking. The fields are white with cotton ready for picking but during the past week there was some rain most every day. The past Saturday would have been a record breaking one if the past week had been good.

GOOD ROADS.

(Union City Commercial)

The people of the county will no doubt take a great deal of pride and pleasure in the road work that is being done in the county. The organization is fine, and no doubt fine results will follow. Improved roads to Reelfoot Lake and to the Dyer county line through the county from Union City will be a marked change in our system of roads, and a great help to our people as well as to the tourists.

What the county wants now, and what is particularly needed for tourist travel, is a road to the Fulton county line to meet the new West Kentucky highway from Fulton to Hickman. Then we will be tied up with highway construction leading to Cairo and from there improved highway construction is complete to all the Eastern territory.

Already provisions are being made to build improved highways through the Kentucky counties from Cairo to Fulton. This will give us an outlet with the world, and the other roads in the county now in progress of construction will take us south.

Hertherly Given Life Sentence

Slayer of Fulton County Sheriff Tried and Condemned in 15 Minutes.

Monroe Heatherly, the man who shot and killed Sheriff J. O. West on August 11th, was given a life term Friday afternoon in circuit court at Hickman. The case went to trial at 3:45 o'clock and at 4 o'clock, fifteen minutes later, the verdict had been rendered. When asked by Judge W. H. Hester if he were guilty or not, he plead guilty and no witnesses were called. The instructions to the jury were to give life sentence or death, and the jury gave their verdict in less than five minutes.

However, after a life sentence had been given, Heatherly stated to the judge that he had rich kinfolks who would help him and he would carry the case to the supreme court. His kinfolks, however, had not aided him in any way and court had to appoint a lawyer to defend him. Mrs. J. O. West, widow of the slain man, who is now Fulton county's woman sheriff, attended the trial. The court room was packed with spectators.

G. O. P. First on Ballot.

Mrs. Emma Guy Cromwell, Secretary of State, has notified county court clerks to give all Republican nominees first place on the November election ballots.

The notification followed an opinion by Attorney General Daugherty under section 1460, Kentucky statutes, citing that the Republicans had polled the largest number of votes in the last preceding election, that of November, 1924.

Good Woman Called To Her Heavenly Home.

Funeral services were held for Mrs. W. C. Croft Saturday afternoon at the residence on Walnut street, the Rev. J. V. Freeman, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiating; interment following at Chapel Hill cemetery.

The deceased was the widow of the late W. C. Croft, and a consecrated member of the Methodist church. Her passing away Friday morning brought sorrow to a large circle of friends who deeply sympathize with the surviving sister, Mrs. W. F. Fowlkes, and other relatives in their bereavement.

The Old Folks

Somewhere they are sitting—thinking. Resting in some quiet place, off the main road of life—waiting. Thinking of the good old days—thinking of you—wondering what you are doing. Waiting to hear from you. Wondering how you look now. Wishing they could see you. Have they a good portrait of you? But when was it taken? Not recently. Imagine them, with trembling hands, opening a big flat package and taking out a splendid likeness of you!

RESCUE DELAYED BY CHOPPY SEA

Two Crane Vessels Are Ordered Back to Block Island.

New London, Conn.—Advises here were to the effect that conditions of a choppy sea and weather at the locality of the S-51 were so bad that rescue operations had to be suspended for the time being.

The Century, 100-ton crane vessel, was ordered to move to Block Island and the Monarch, the larger crane vessel, was ordered to a harbor there under tow.

The Monarch, which got under way after spending a few hours in the lee of Block Island to escape the strong wind and waves, reached the scene of the salvaging only a short time before it was decided to discontinue work temporarily.

It is believed no attempt was made to get a sling from the larger crane about the stern of the S-51, which rests on the bottom in 125 feet of water.

Newport, R. I.—Divers have found one of the interior bulkheads of the sunken submarine S-51 bent, but not pierced, a radio dispatch received from the wreck said. The message did not make clear whether the compartment was forward or aft.

The compartment was described in the message only as an "interior bulkhead."

New London, Conn.—When informed by the Associated Press as he came on duty that the owners of the City of Rome had an affidavit which stated that the S-51, sunk 14 miles east of Block Island Friday night by that steamer, was commanded by student officers, Lieutenant Commander H. A. Flannigan, executive officer of the submarine base here, denied that any of the officers on the submarine at the time of the disaster was inexperienced.

Lieutenant Commander Flannigan in a statement to the Associated Press explained the work of the submarine school and gave information concerning the six officers aboard the S-51 at the time of the collision.

"The submarine training school for officers is established for the purpose of giving all officers detailed instructions in submarines before they are prematurely transferred to submarine duty."

"The students of the present class range from Lieutenant Commander E. W. Strother, with 21 years' naval service, including four years at the naval academy."

"No officer may enter the submarine school who has had less than two years' sea service since his graduation from the naval academy. And all officers, no matter what their rank or experience, must go through the submarine school before being ordered to permanent duty on submarines. In the last two years, captains, commanders and lieutenant-commanders have been students at the school as well as lieutenants, lieutenants (J. G.) and ensigns."

SHENANDOAH USED AS AIR TAXI, SAID CHIEF

Lansdowne Complained of Carrying Washington Crowd—Sensation in Inquiry.

Lakehurst, N. J.—Shortly before Chief Rigger James H. Collier dropped a bombshell in the Shenandoah inquiry here by stoutly contending the airship had been burst by her own gas bags when lifted above her pressure height, Rear Admiral Henry P. Jones of the naval court, was informed by Thomas L. Hill, president of the American Society for Promotion of Aviation, that, June 3, Commander Zachary Lansdowne of the Shenandoah had "expressed disgust at the way things were handled" and had ended by saying to Mr. Hill: "We are getting to be a lot of air chauffeurs, flying the Washington crowd, and friends about the country."

Lakehurst, N. J.—A failure of several of the helium gas cells in the airship Shenandoah before she began to break up was testified to before the naval court of inquiry by James H. Collier, chief rigger, who had supervision over these cells.

Collier's testimony was in sharp contrast to that of a dozen other survivors, all of whom declared that they saw no signs that any of the cells had failed under the enormous pressure to which they had been put when the craft reached an extreme altitude of 6,955 feet.

Despite this, the chief rigger was positive in his declaration, reiterating them time and again under direct examination by members of the court and a rigid cross-questioning by Lieut. Commander C. E. Rosendahl, senior surviving officer of the Shenandoah.

Collier said he was off duty and asleep when the airship was sucked into the vortex of the storm. When he was awakened he looked at number nine gas cell and saw that it was about 30 percent deflated and also saw that several gas bags forward were deflated probably equally as much. Number eight cell was "100 percent and then some full."

"I knew the ship was done for then and there," he declared, adding that this was before he had heard any noise of the ship's structure giving away.

His declaration came with startling suddenness and immediately led to sharp questioning.

Mayville—The new R. J. Reynolds' tobacco stemming and drying plant opened, giving employment to 100 persons. The yearly payroll will amount to $300,000. Over 2,000 persons inspected the plant. The plant is the second largest in the world.

Owensboro—Eugene and Ellis Huskisson, brothers, charged with the theft of an automobile at Bloomington, Ill., and who were arrested in Owensboro, were taken back to the Illinois city in the car which they are accused of stealing. They agreed to return without requisition papers. They were taken back by the sheriff of Bloomington.

Glasgow—R. H. Glisson died while seated in his automobile here. He had been dead only a short time when found. It is believed that he dropped off to sleep while seated in his car, parked in the basement of a garage, and was smothered. He was a nephew of Judge Basil Richardson and conducted a pressing club. He leaves a wife and two sons.

Lexington—The Rev. Clyde Darsie, Cynthiana, was elected president of the convention for 1925 by the convention of the Disciples of Christ here. The Rev. Hayes Farish, Lexington, was named first vice president; the Rev. E. B. Motley Murray, second vice president, and Bruce W. Trimble, Mr. Sterling, was re-elected for the twenty-third time as recording secretary.

Elkton—Charles M. Moore, general manager of the Logan County Growers' Association, has sent out pledge cards to all Logan farmers, requesting them to pledge large acreage for melon, tomato, or potato crops for next year. Many cards have already been returned by the farmers. This step is the outcome of the Cantaloupe Association formed in the county last spring.

Elkton—Two 14-year-old boys were arrested in Russellville by Night Policeman E. B. Harton, after the latter was notified by Rochester officials that the boys were en route here. The boys were driving an alleged stolen touring car and were on their way to Chattanooga, Tenn., when captured. Both boys were placed in jail in Russellville and later were returned to Rochester.

Ashland—John C. C. Mayo and Alexander Cameron announced that the contract for the construction of their new half-million dollar arcade and office building has been let to C. Harrison Smith, contractor, of Huntington. More than sixty shop and store rooms of the arcade have already been contracted for. Mr. Cameron announced, and inquiries are being received daily regarding rentals.

Lawrenceburg—After many delays, work on the Federal road from this city to Alton will begin the first of the week. The Perkins Construction Company of Frankfort, was awarded the contract for the building of the road and the Kentucky River Stone & Sand Company of this city, with quarries at Tyrone, will furnish the rock. Three miles will be built this year. Forty-four deeds have been recorded in the office of County Clerk Robert Goodlet for the right-of-way for the road.

La Grange—John William Lee, 82 years old, who lost his left arm in the service of the Confederate Army, died here. A native of Knox county, Mo., Mr. Lee moved to Trimble county when a child. At the outbreak of the war between the States, he enlisted with the Confederacy and was wounded in an encounter at Marion, Va. On his return to civil life, he became active in politics, serving as County Clerk for twenty years and County Judge for twelve years. Mr. Lee moved here about 1910.

Fredonia—In a quarrel over wages a mine owner, living near here, was shot four times and probably fatally wounded at his home by an employee. The wounded man is Jack Boucher, 46 years old, owner of several mine holdings between here and Princeton, Ky., who, with wounds in the left lung over the heart, right side, arm and shoulder, is not expected to live. His assailant is Bryan Bennett, 30, who surrendered to Princeton authorities following the shooting. Bennett is a miner employed in Boucher's holdings. He is said to have become enraged over his employer's refusal to meet his wage demands and to have opened fire upon him.

Lexington—The resignation of Price Gaines as secretary of the Lexington Board of Commerce, was accepted. Mr. Gaines' resignation was unexpected. He said his private business would demand all his time.

Paducah—Advocating a bond issue as the sole means of building up Kentucky's highway system, State Senator White L. Moss, of Pineville, addressed the Paducah Rotary club. The present state revenues are inadequate to build the needed road systems, he declared.

MAN ELECTROCUTED AT KENTUCKY FAIR GROUND

Victim, Disconnecting Fixtures, Touches Live Wire on Pole; Body Hangs in Mid-Air.

Louisville—As he was engaged in completing his last job for the day, Clyde Thornberry, 22 years old, an electrician employed in dismantling fixtures at the Kentucky State Fair Grounds, met death by electrocution. Thornberry, with a crew of ten other electricians supervised by Harry Henderson, president of the Henderson Electric Company, 1804 West Market street, had been working in removing the wires and fixtures of the various concession booths on the grounds. Mr. Henderson told him to disconnect the wires on an auxiliary feed-pole near the livestock pavilion and "to quit for the day, after he got through."

In order to obtain a safe position at the cross-arm of the pole about twenty feet above the ground, Thornberry put his leg about a lead pipe which was fixed to the pole and which carried the underground cables. This pipe served as a "perforator ground" for a current of 210 volts which was used in the cross-arm wiring. The insulation of the wiring had been removed at the time the fixtures were set up in order to relieve the workmen of the necessity of insulating each time they made a connection on the pole, which was a "key-pole" to the various fixtures. Mr. Henderson said. All of the workmen had been warned of the condition.

Thornberry, it is surmised, accidentally brushed his neck against the wiring, and being subject to the "ground" of the piping, received the full charge.

As the current passed through his neck, his body catapulted towards the ground, but a suspender of his overalls was "snagged" by a projecting spike as the body reached the half-way mark of the pole, and held the victim in mid-air until Mr. Henderson and a fellow workman were able to fasten a rope about his waist and lower him to the ground.

Dr. E. J. Meyer, 1305 South Twenty-eighth street, who was on the grounds, worked on the victim until Capt. John Loran, head of the "lung-motor squad," arrived. Captain Loran used both the motor and resuscitation methods in an attempt at revival.

Thornberry, it was learned after the disaster, had intended to go to Florida in company with a fellow workman, L. Derringer, living at the Enterprise Hotel, Derringer, however, deserted in taking his friend's body from the pole on which it was suspended.

The victim, who boarded at 1507 East Breckinridge street, was a member of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, and is survived by his widow, Mrs. Bessie Thornberry; his mother, Mrs. Maude Thornberry; and three brothers, Floyd Thornberry, Roy Thornberry and Orley Thornberry.

SHALE DEPOSITS TO BE WORKED BY OIL FIRM

Geologist Estimates 100 Billion Tons Available For Distilling In Kentucky Areas Alone

Frankfort—An amount staggering the imagination, 100 billion tons, is conservatively estimated by scientists working with Dr. Willard Rouse Jilison, state geologist, as representing the outcrop shale areas in Kentucky. J. W. Wilcox, Sr., of Irvine, Ky., has just announced the first oil shale distilling plant on a commercial basis in the nation is to be built in Estill county, near Irvine. The plant, to start not later than next spring, calls for an outlay of $1,000,000.

Oil, gasoline, kerosene, gas, ammonia dye for silks, perfume, stove polish, shoe polish, sulphur, carbon black for painting automobiles, and other products will be taken from the shale.

Italy Claims Case Against Paducah For Damages

Paducah—Claim of the government of Italy against the city of Paducah for damages alleged due for taxes collected on tobacco owned by the foreign state and stored in this city several years ago, was upheld by a decision in the Court of Appeals.

As a result of what is regarded by legal authorities as one of the most unusual suits ever going through the courts of Kentucky, the Italian government recovered judgment of approximately $800 against the city. The suit was the first of its kind ever filed in the state.

The government of Italy, through Attorneys Wheeler and Hughes of Paducah, filed suit to recover the amount of taxes alleged to have been improperly collected. The plaintiff won a judgment in the McCracken county circuit court.

AUTUMN TEA

Mrs. Addie Nolen and sisters Mrs. Mattie Hopkins and Miss Annett Paschall gave a delightful tea Thursday afternoon from four till six o'clock at their home on Main street. The old colonial homestead with its traditional furnishings was a picturesque setting for the party. A yellow theme was beautifully developed in all appointments. The spacious porch and rooms were adorned with great baskets of golden rod and other autumn flowers. The guests were cordially welcomed in the library by Mesdames Frank Fleming, L. O. Bradford, I. W. Dobbins and Herbert Carr.

Mrs. Clyde Williams greeted the guests in the hall where delicious punch was served from a prettily decorated table by Mesdames Will McGhee and George Crafton. The three charming hostesses were graciously assisted in the living room by Mesdames J. V. Freeman, H. T. Smith, Boyd Bennett, Kelly Wood. In the music room where Miss Hattie Mae Godfrey rendered an attractive musical program were Mesdames Felix Bright, Aubry Nugent and Fred Paschall, while little Miss Mary Louise Paschall in all of her sweetness gracefully received the guest cards seated on a throne in a gilded chair. In the dining room Mesdames Tom Fields and P. R. Binford were assisted in serving a delicious ice course which carried out the yellow motif by three attractively gowned young girls.

Misses Louise Binford, Lela Osgood, Zuline Alexander. The massive table was covered with a handsome hand drawn Porto Rican cover, while a crystal vase held gorgeous dahlias for the center decoration.

One hundred and fifty guests had the pleasure of calling during the afternoon.

SUNRISE BREAKFAST

Miss Ivora Cantrell and her splendid class of twenty-two young boys of the First Baptist church "hiked" out in the woods last Saturday morning and just as the sun was rising, cooked and ate their breakfast. There were many games for diversion and late in the morning they returned home, tired but happy with the thought of having a teacher who understands what it takes to make little boys have a good time.
