Pardon Asked For Father Of 10 Children

Mrs. Cliffee Davis of 284 Adolphus ave. and her 10 children were the object of much sympathy from Memphians of all races last week, and scores visited her during the week-end to offer material and financial aid. In photo at left, John Bradley, a member of the Tri-State Defender circulation department, is shown as he arrived with a bundle of clothing. As he was leaving, center photo, he was met by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Day, who brought a box of clothing solicited from various departments of Shainberg's Clothing store. In photo at right, Bryant T. Williams, advertising manager of the Tri-State Defender, is arriving with 11 chicken plate lunches prepared for the family by the King's Palace Restaurant on Beale. Mr. Williams devoted the weekend to making calls on persons who phoned for delivery of food and clothing to the needy family. A number of churches collected money for the family last Saturday. (MLR Photos).

Memphians Respond To Needs Of Davis Family

Efforts to have the father of 10 children on Adolphus Street released in time to join his family for Thanksgiving were begun on Monday after the wife contacted newly-elected Squire H. T. Lockard to try to arrange for the man's pardon from Mississippi from Squire Lockard said he did not know what the governor's answer would be, but that he would present the facts to him and attempt to have Sam Davis, Sr., united with his wife and 10 children by the holiday.

In the meantime, Memphians from all parts of the city were streaming to the aid of Mrs. Cliffee Davis and her children after having read the story in last week's Tri-State Defender about their need of food and clothing.

As of Monday afternoon, nearly $100 had been brought or mailed to the office for the family, and a number of articles of clothing was carried to her home.

One woman, who did not want her name mentioned, and whose husband is an official with the Big M Discount Store on Summer Avenue, said that a copy of the paper carrying the story was brought to her home by the maid, and she immediately went to the store and obtained food, clothing and other merchandise for the family.

The woman, who is expecting her second child, called at the Davis home and inquired as to why clothing was piled on the bed and learned that the family had to leave all of their blankets in Mississippi when they left, and piling clothing on them was the only way to keep warm. They only had sheets.

In addition to the blankets which she obtained for the family, the woman got them two stoves, shoes, layettes for the baby, and other items which she thought they needed. In all, she obtained some $290 worth of merchandise for them.

A second appeal for the family was made last Saturday at the Mississippi Boulevard Seventh Day Adventist church and the members and various organizations gave enough money to pay up all of the back rent owed by the family. A total of $58 has been donated by the Adventists along with a box of groceries contributed by members.

Two weeks ago the family's condition was made known to this paper after a woman called and asked that an investigation be made. A reporter found that Mrs. Davis had taken her last two dollars and bought a 24-pound sack of flour with it, "so that we could at least have some bread," she explained. She did not know where the next meals would come from.

But this week she is rejoicing that so many people have come to her aid. Both individuals and organizations have made her problems their concern, and the help keeps coming.

MAKING DELIVERIES
Bryant T. Williams, Sr., advertising director of the Tri-State Defender, was kept busy on the weekend answering calls from persons who had something to donate, but had no transportation to get it to the family.

One of the first to call was Mrs. Wright of the Wright's Grocery Store on Kansas St., who notified the paper that she had groceries and a contribution on the rent.

When Mr. Williams arrived, Mrs. Wright began loading up boxes from her shelves.

Mrs. H. O. Weakley, whose husband is recovering from injuries received in an automobile accident, asked someone to call at her home on Looney. She sent them blankets, Willie Bates of 1087 Firestone called early Sunday morning and asked for directions to 284 Adolphus street.

"HAD TO HELP"
"After I read the story in the paper," he said, "I just had to come by and do something." He made a personal contribution of seven dollars.

Stopping at her home at the same time were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Franklin of 1962 Swift and Mrs. Matilda Hughes of 1674 Ely, who left eight dollars for the family.

Before they could leave, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Day arrived with a box of clothing that was donated by the various departments of Shainberg's Department store.

ARKANSANS HELP
Rev. J. H. Swearingen, pastor of Pilgrim Rest Baptist church at Gennett, Ark., called for directions to the home on Monday and said he was carrying the family $13 which his church had collected for the Davises.

Following is a list of funds delivered or given to the Tri-State Defender:

Miss Blvd. SDA Church $58.00
Ellen & Alice Beauty Shop 11.00
Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church 14.30
Berclair Baptist Church Employees 5.00
Mr. and Mrs. Charlie D. Owen 5.00
Mr. and Mrs. Tommie L. Jackson 5.00
Anonymous 2.00
Mrs. H. Montgomery 1.00
Mrs. Cottree Phillips 1.00
Mrs. Pearl Oates 1.00
Mr. John Wesley 1.00

The Tri-State Defender does not have a complete list of the amount which has been given to the family at the home.

Carla Allen Is First 'Miss Social Belle'

Miss Carla Allen, a sophomore at Memphis State university, was crowned "Miss Social Belle" last Friday night in the Bruce Hall auditorium of LeMoyné college in the first annual contest for the title. It was sponsored by the Memphis branch of the NAACP.

Also appearing was Mrs. Catherine Johnson, the Terpsichoreans, and Miss Johnella Johnson, one of the contestants, who was presented in a piano solo.

"The branch is deeply grateful to all who did so much to make our first 'Miss Social Belle' presentation so successful," Mrs. Maxine Smith, executive secretary of the branch, said.

The financial report as of this week are:

Deborah Satterfield 63.75
Elsie Porter 61.25
Bettie Carter 53.42
Contributions 160.00
Ticket Sales At Door 28.05

The total amount raised was $4,693.65, of which some $1,600 will go toward expenses incurred.

Mrs. Smith said the net receipts will be sufficient to cover the expenses of students involved in the Religious disturbance case and who are now facing jail sentences and fines. Some of the money will be used also to help the national office overcome its deficit.

The group's Committee of Christian Action on Social Problems said, "We deplore the unwarranted attack made on the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr. by the director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, J. Edgar Hoover, that has caused a bitter protest from many sections of the country."

"The Rev. Martin Luther King's sympathetic answer to this cruel and unjustified attack added a new dimension to his Christian manhood. He was in this case as in all his efforts, like the Master he so faithfully serves, by reviling not when he was reviled."

The report from the committee was accepted at a meeting held last Monday at the Sarah H. Brown branch of the YWCA.

Dr. Peter G. Crawford, pastor of Avery Chapel. A.M.E. church, was a member of the committee issuing the statement.

Ministers Back King In Reply To FBI Chief

Members of the Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance of Memphis came to the support of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., and criticized FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover for his statement calling the recent Nobel Peace Prize winner "the most notorious liar in the country."

$25,000 FOR UNCF

United Negro College Fund President Dr. Fred Patterson, right, receives a check for $25,000 educational grant from the Standard Oil (Indiana) Foundation represented by John H. Lind, executive secretary. The grant is the latest in a series of educational contributions annually for the past 20 years, amounting to nearly $250,000. Founded in 1944, the UNCF is a federation of 32 independent, fully accredited colleges and universities in 11 southern states and include LeMoyné and Lane colleges as well as Fisk university in Nashville.

Keynoter Calls For More UNCF Support

Atty. H. T. Lockard, newly elected member of the County Court, called on Memphians to dig deeply into their pockets when giving to such worthwhile causes as the United Negro College Fund.

The Squire was keynote speaker for the United Negro College Fund campaign kickoff meeting last week on the LeMoyné College campus.

"It is time for us to take a new look at our values," he said. "We must improve in our giving even if it means spending less for social activities."

$2,657 REPORTED
The Memphis drive was launched with a report of initial gifts totalling $2,657, including $1,076 from LeMoyné's faculty and staff, $500 from the college's General Alumni Association, $831 received by LeMoyné for UNCF since last December, and $250 from a dance recital presented by youthful ballet and tap pupils of Miss Roberta Mai Ratcliffe.

The goal is $25,000 and the campaign will continue through Dec. 16.

George D. Clark Jr., general chairman of the drive and principal of A. B. Hill Elementary School, called on volunteer workers to make this a banner year.

Three additional workers volunteered this week as campaigners for the fund: Mrs. Eunice Snell of Tri-State Bank, Mrs. Hattie Mangum of Hanley Elementary School and Norvell Powell of Boy Scouts of America.

Weekly report meetings are held on Monday nights, 7:30, in the Brownlee Hall faculty lounge on the LeMoyné campus.

Asks Md. Council To Expand Rights
BALTIMORE, Md. — (NPI)—Gov. J. Millard Tawes and the Maryland Legislative Council have been asked to expand the state's new public accommodations law to include bans on discrimination in employment and housing.

The request, coming from the Maryland Interracial commission, would bring the state law up to the level of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Under the Maryland law, approved by referendum in the recent Presidential elections, bias in lodging and eating places because of race or religion is prohibited.

Wherever this law overlaps the federal act, enforcement becomes the state's responsibility.

Youngsters who go to Pikesville are told that boys who escape may fall into the hands of hostile natives of the area, who are given rewards for any boy captured, and the offer is the same, dead or alive.

An 18-year-old Memphis youth who escaped from the State Training School at Pikesville got only 25 miles from the school last Sunday night before he was killed.

The victim was Raymond Porterfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Porterfield of 1062 N. Seventh Street.

According to Van Buren County Sheriff Perry Smith, a Mr. and Mrs. James Brown of Spencer, Tenn., heard a noise outside their home and later discovered the youth on their roof.

Mr. Brown reportedly told the boy to come down, and he threw what proved to be a pan of ice at him. He then shot and killed young Porterfield, who was serving an indefinite sentence at the time

MISS CARLA ALLEN

No New Trial For Killer Of Medgar Evers

JACKSON, Miss. — Byron De La Beckwith, outspoken Mississippi segregationist, will not be tried a third time for the murder of civil rights leader Medgar W. Evers unless new evidence is obtained.

William L. Waller, the district attorney who prosecuted the case through two trials which ended in hung juries, said he would not try the case again "until we get new evidence."

In the two trials, state witnesses testified that Beckwith attempts to match the Texans in touchdowns proved futile as Prairie View punched across 13 points in each the first and second quarters, added 14 more in the third, and completed this assault with 20 points in the final period.

Freshman quarterback Willie Johnson and end Frank Pitts combined on a 46-yard pass-run shenanigan and John Clayton booted the extra point to pull the Jaguars within a touchdown of front running Prairie View at 13-7 on the first play of the second quarter.

Jaguar halfback Robert Holmes bulled his way into the end zone from six yards out for the Jaguars' second touchdown which came in the third period, and again Clayton added the conversion, but Prairie View's lead at the time was cut to only 26-14.

A RUN-AWAY

Kerney scored on jaunts of 19 and 29 yards, then the senior All-American was on target three times to Taylor with scoring heaves of 10, 52, and 14 yards. Dick Seals scored in the first quarter on a 13-yard run. Fullback Eddie Hughes powered through on scoring thrusts of one yard in the third and fourth periods respectively and tackle David Kirkpatrick ran in from 18 yards out with an intercepted pass.

Clayton was wide on field goal attempts of 18 yards and 37 yards. In first downs, Southern posted 17 to 14 for the Panthers, but the Jaguars trailed the Panthers in rushing yardage 194-93 and in passing yardage 245 to 192. It was the worst whipping the Jaguars have received from Prairie View since 1936, the beginning of the series, but the score, it was opined, does not tell the actual story of the game.

The courageous young Jaguars played it close for the first quarter and the defensive forces, led by John Crockett, Gerald Pope, James Battle, Jeff Addie, Larry Rowley and Pete Barnes, literally stood the seasoned Panthers on their ears on more than one occasion.

NEW FINANCIAL WOES GO ON AND ON

The "Amsterdam News" (New York City) story that broke the news on the resignation of two vice presidents of the National Council of Negro Women because of alleged financial mismanagement is just a prelude to the uproar that will come from Delta Sigma Theta women if it turns out to be true that $5,000 of Delta money has been pledged to bail NCNW out of its financial straits.

This money could go in many directions, all of them needy: payment on old hotel bills; this year's convention at the Sheraton Park; Bannister date books, which according to court records is owed more than $1,200 to Internal Revenue.

Some insiders question whether Dr. Geraldine Woods, the president of DST, even knows of the alleged $5,000. Recently elected, Mrs. Woods is reportedly not within the Delta "inner circle" that has formed such a strong bond with NCNW, a bond that made the election of Miss Dorothy Height possible, and a bond that has kept her in office beyond the constitutional limits set by the organization.

MAY HURT PLANS

Meanwhile the scandal could cause the powers to be to decide that NCNW does not qualify to participate in the poverty program, i.e. recruitment of girls for the job corps centers. Such participation was suggested by Dr. Jeanne Noble, a recent member of the poverty corps task force and a former Delta president who is in the "inner circle" of Delta Sigma Theta.

While NCNW fights for its financial salvation, LBJ is weaving his own political web with his usual astuteness. Larry O'Brien can be postmaster. Ken O'Donnell can have John Bailey's job! Reason for Kennedy men getting such offers? The guests is it will keep them busy for LBJ in 1968 and not for Senator-elect Robert F. Kennedy in 1968!

LBJ TO SPEAK

The Urban League's Community Action Assembly

scheduled for D.C. for Dec. 10, 11 at the Sheraton Park hotel will have one of the country's most wanted speakers: President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Another brother makes a move: Sam Allen, former general counsel at USIA, now a GS-16 lawyer at the Commerce Department in the new Community Relations Service. It is expected that Richard K. Fox, another State Department biggie, will within the next few months head for an overseas assignment; he has done well stateside. Michigan's Dr. Broadus Butler, now in the Education office of HEW, is a name bandied about for something big.

WOMEN WINNERS

The political scorecard for women in the past election looks good: Mrs. Luther Glanton and Mrs. Daisy Lloyd, both of Indiana in the state legislature; Devine Calloway in the Lower House in Missouri; Shirley Chisholm in the New York State Assembly along with "oldster" Senator Constance Motley.

MAJOR MEMOS: Dr. Andrew F. Brimmer, deputy assistant secretary for Commerce, main speaker for Urban League Equal Opportunity Day in Springfield, Mass. . . . Azie Taylor of Austin, Texas, now administrative assistant to Governor David Lawrence (President's Committee on Housing) flew home to vote for LBJ via the President's plane. How's that for prestige? . . . One of LBJ's first calls to say "Thanks" was to the Rev. Martin Luther King . . . Dr. King will receive his Nobel Peace Prize in Oslo, Norway, Dec. 10. . . . Dr. Grace Howell, program coordinator for HEW, ill in a D.C. hospital.

Look for a brother, a California Ph.D. to take a deputy representative spot with the Peace Corps. . . . Atty. Gen. Edward Brooke, a Republican, is slated for the Senate's spot with the cooperation of Sen. Leverette Saltonstall. Wonder what happened to his plans to retire from public life for a lucrative private practice?

THE SUBJECT: JOBS

Three members of the Unity League of Memphis called upon Governor Frank G. Clement recently, and the subject discussed was jobs for Negroes as State Troopers, grain inspectors and highway employees. The delegation said the Governor told them to have a young man take the written and physical examination for the job as state trooper, and if he is refused on any grounds related to race to inform him and he will act. Standing, from left, are Rev. L. A. Blake, president of the Unity League; O. Z. Evers, chairman of the organization's board of directors, and Rev. James Smith, a member of the board of directors.

One Day, Projects NSF

WASHINGTON — (UPI)—The time may come when it will be simpler to grow a new heart than to repair a balky old one.

This prospect is suggested by the National Science Foundation in a report on research in cell differentiation, a mysterious process "basic to life itself."

"It is possible," the Science Foundation said, "that as scientists learn more about all differentiation, biological factories may be set up to manufacture large quantities of specialized cells to help repair damaged or diseased tissues."

And it may come to pass, the Foundation continued, that instead of resorting to costly and difficult transplantation of entire organs, "doctors of the future may be able to order heart tissue or kidney tissue from one of these factories and implant it in a diseased body where it will grow and develop into a normal, healthy organ."

Such wonders are, of course, "far, far over the horizon of present knowledge." But the fact that they are even conceivable explains why study of cell differentiation is one of "the most exciting research projects in biology."

Every individual was once a single fertilized egg cell. From that minuscule beginning, the foundation said, nature contrived to produce "a mature human being with a brain that thinks, eyes that see, legs that walk."

One cell develops into more than 100 different kinds of cells numbering in the millions and eyes that see, legs that walk. . . .

When the person-to-be is still a microscopic cluster of identical cells, something happens, and these cells begin to manifest differences.

Some grow up to manufacture muscle or bone. Some become liver or kidney cells — and so on.

The Science Foundation, a government agency set up to support basic research, has awarded more than 50 grants in the past year to investigators seeking answers to such questions as:

"What made these identical cells begin to differentiate? How did they do it?"

The answers, when they come, may revolutionize medicine.

Researchers already have established that specialized cells, once differentiated from their fellows, can recognize each other and their proper environment.

If you mix kidney and liver cells they will reform ranks, the kidney cells to make a kidney and the liver cells to make a liver.

Hold Zimmer In Child Killing; NAACP Blasts 'Bungled' Job

TOPEKA, Kan. — As a balding 45-year-old railroad engineer was charged with murder in the death of a seven-year-old girl, the local NAACP, headed by Samuel C. Jackson protested the handling of the case by the sheriff's department.

Charged with first degree murder of Gladys Johnson is William Frederick Zimmer, 45, of Kansas City, Kan., who already faces a kidnapping count in the he escaped. He was found guilty of possessing burglary tools last January 4.

Three other boys, including Gene Coles of Memphis, broke out of the training school with him.

Some effort was made five years ago to have the training school brought closer to the center of the state, where boys could be visited by parents while in the school, but nothing was ever done about it.

The school is in an isolated part of the area and residents of the area are said to be extremely hostile to Negroes.

owned the rifle and telescopic sight found near the scene of Evers' death.

Beckwith has been free under a $10,000 bond since April. Evers, state field secretary for the NAACP, was shot in the driveway of his home shortly after midnight on June 13, 1963.

case. Anger has flared here because the child was abducted Nov. 14 on a residential street while standing on a corner with her little brother and sister and her frozen bludgeoned body was not found until this week, although a witness had called officers telling them that he saw a white man and a Negro girl in a car north of the city and the little girl was crying.

Jackson said in a letter to the sheriff the NAACP believed the "callous disregard of the child's plight of your deputy was prompted by the fact that she was Negro and her kidnapper, a white man."

Jackson asked that the officer who took the call, Steve Shutt, be dismissed by the sheriff's office. Reportedly two sheriff's officers have resigned over the handling of the case.

However, Shawnee County Sheriff Lewis H. Falley said he would stand behind an officer in his department, despite protests accusing the officer of mishandling the case.

Shutt received a call from the witness but said he could only take down the information and no action was taken.

Shutt is Falley's son-in-law. Falley said the officer did not know the girl had been kidnapped and no officers were available at the time the witness made the call.

Meanwhile, funeral services have been held for Gladys who was the daughter of Mrs. Albert Michaels.

In other developments Judge William R. Carpenter has overruled several requests by Sam Crow, Zimmer's court-appointed attorney. Crow had requested the court appoint an investigator for the defense and also asked that Zimmer be permitted to make bond.

Crow also moved that the defendant be discharged, contending that the court did not have jurisdiction. He said he would argue this point at the preliminary hearing.

Filing of the murder charge apparently cleared the question of which county would prosecute the case. Legal authorities from both counties spent the weekend studying the case, and the law, to determine who would take the official action.

Earlier Crow asked for a psychiatric examination of the suspect to determine if he "is capable of understanding the procedures at this stage of the case." Judge Carpenter took the request under advisement.

Phone Workers Give $460,947 To Crusade

Bell telephone employees have contributed $460,947 to the 1964 Crusade of Mercy, surpassing their 1963 gift by a 5 1/2 per cent, it was announced today by Walter C. Kottman, chief engineer for Illinois Bell Telephone's Chicago area. Kottman served as drive chairman for the Telephone company.

The gift represents donations by 18,350 telephone employees based in Chicago and in the immediate suburbs.

NAACP Aids Dentists In Blast Of N.C. Racial Dental Policy

RICHMOND, Va. — A Negro dentist, with assistance of the NAACP Legal Defense Fund, asked the U.S. Court of Appeals here to strike down discriminatory policies of the North Carolina Dental Society.

Acting in behalf of Dr. Reginald A. Hawkins, Legal Defense Fund attorneys told the appeals court that the "numerous activities of the North Carolina Dental Society make it the dominant force in regulating dentistry" in the state.

Exclusion of Negroes from the 1214 member North Carolina Dental Society, Legal Defense Fund lawyers argue, means that:

Negro dentists cannot effectively participate in selection of members to the State Board of Dental Examiners which regulates the practice of dentistry in North Carolina.

A Negro dentist cannot sit on the North Carolina Medical Care Commission which coordinates all federal monies earmarked for hospital construction in the state; nor can he influence selection of Commission members.

Negro dentists do not belong to the North Carolina Mental Health Council, which directs all mental institutions within the state.

In addition, the Legal Defense Fund attorneys point out, the North Carolina Dental Society performs other services for the state and federal governments. The Society's "Advisory Committee to the University of North Carolina is working to ward the establishment of a federally assisted research center at the University.

"The Hospital Services Committee inspects hospitals to determine whether their facilities qualify them for the teaching of dentists."

"The State Institutions Committee inspects the dental care facilities of mental hospitals and schools of correction."

Legal Defense Fund attorneys stress that the Society, along with the State Board of Dental Examiners, performs

the task of regulating the "public health, safety, and welfare."

SERVING 1,000,000 NEGROES IN THE TRI-STATE AREA

GOP Needs Overhauling

The new center of creative Republican activity should not be dominated by the candidates because the trust of this cause must be that it stands above politics as usual and surely above the internecine warfare among the 1964's moderates.

The above is the substance of a therapy that has been prescribed by high ranking party members as a means of restoring the GOP to its place as a major political organization.

Implicit in this prescription is the warning that the cause of progressive Republicanism must not be smothered by intra-factionalism as already exhibited by the unwarranted attack upon Gov. Rockefeller by Richard M. Nixon.

It is recognized by those who can still think that the revival of the party can only come by traveling the same long road from the precinct level that was traveled by the irresponsible minority under Barry Goldwater.

Republican faithfuls must accept the conclusion that there is no simple, part-time, inexpensive, or convenient way to save the Republican Party.

It will cost money, energy and patience to put the broken pieces back together. As columnist Charles Bartlett puts it: "There is no simple, part-time, inexpensive, or convenient way to save the Republican Party."

The GOP must be revitalized from within. It needs a new intellectual orientation as well as a new organizational technique. It cannot win elections by throwing overboard all realistic concepts of modern government, and by ignoring the realities of the present-day international relations. We cannot avoid crises, but we can prevent them from exploding into global conflicts. To continue to play up in every national election that "Communism is our greatest enemy" without suggesting alternative means of dealing with the Red menace, is to fall into the kind of insufferable sophistry of which Mark Twain complained in the famous epigram about the "weather."

Rather than seek a solution to the many crucial problems that the nation faces, Republican chieftains have strayed away from the fundamental questions for the sole purpose of being different. There lies the great fallacy in their strategy. To follow a parallel course of action in the treatment of domestic and foreign affairs is to them a sort of "Metooism" from which they have laboriously disassociated themselves.

There is no such thing as an all-exclusive Republican solution to national problems and international crises. If such a formula were possible, very few Democrats would have ever reached the White House.

Though the GOP needs fresh ideas, new orientation, it cannot continually cut loose from its moorings, embrace nihilism without disastrous consequences. Men like Eisenhower, Goldwater and Nixon who are afflicted with congenital myopia should be divorced from the GOP's high council, if the party's return to power is not to be a forlorn dream.

Put Them In Jail

There has been much public inquiry into the final disposition of the court proceedings against Mississippi's present Chief Executive and the former head of the "magnolia" state.

After the riots in 1962 over James Meredith's admittance to the University of Mississippi, Ross R. Barnett, the then Governor and Paul B. Johnson, who was Lieutenant Governor, were cited for criminal contempt by the United States Circuit Court in New Orleans.

A panel of Federal judges had enjoined Barnett and Johnson not to interfere with Meredith's efforts to matriculate. They deliberately and contemptuously ignored the injunction.

Barnett and Johnson pleaded for a trial by jury, not by the court. But, by a decision of 5 to 4, the United States Supreme Court turned down their plea and ordered them to face trial in a court of proper jurisdiction.

In justification of the decision,

Justice Tom Clark, himself a Southerner, cited an opinion handed down in Mississippi about a century ago: The ruling held that the power to punish for contempt was necessary to all courts, and that they could not exist without it.

We are unable to account for the delay in the trial of the defiant Mississippi officials. Now that the elections are over we can find no valid reason for the Justice Department's inactivity in the matter. Mississippi gave Barry Goldwater 87.2 percent of its votes — the largest percentage registered for either Presidential candidate in any of the 50 states and the District of Columbia. Thus for 1964, Mississippi became the most Republican state in the nation.

If politics was a deterrent to action against the Mississippi defiant lawbreakers, there is no reason now for cuddling Barnett and Johnson. If they are not "above the law," jail is where they belong.

On Being Late

No question about it, the meanest people in this world are those who are always late. Undoubtedly if these same people are employers they are the very executives who keep salesmen and applicants waiting.

Being late is the most annoying of all social habits. Apparently the folks who always come late are unafraid of gossip because nothing will inflame the folks more than the couple who forget the world has a clock.

Psychologists have suggested that the inability to keep appointments, the inability to make a train, the inability to be punctual is related to a childish impulse. Children, especially babies, think they are omnipotent since all their wants are quickly satisfied.

The child imagines it controls the world. The latecomers imagine they control time. It's as though they thought they owned it. The nerve of them!

When I was a young man, people thought it a charming feminine attribute if my date kept me waiting. Maybe I thought so, too. But I have since found out, it is charming to be late up until the time they are married.

Among married couples, the wife's desire to arrive every place late is a continual source of quarrel. A thousand cartoons have been penned, all of them showing an irate husband, teeth clenched, staring at a watch while a lady dawdles.

The curious thing about tardiness is why so much attention is paid to it. At Carnegie Hall and the Metropolitan Opera they pay no attention to it. Of course, in both places the management closes all the doors to the auditorium promptly the music starts and those who come late have to wait for the intermission. Maybe that's why very few people come late to the opera or the concert.

In the salons of Europe, dinner starts when scheduled and the servants close the dining room door. If Mr. and Mrs. Late miss the shrimp, they wait for the soup, and if they miss the soup, they come in for the beef.

The only remedial action the punctual can take against the offenders is to be just that, punctual. If you never tolerate lateness and do what you want to do on time, you make your point and win it.

HOW TO SAVE A MARRIAGE

Sometimes it's good, sometimes it's bad, hardly ever all good or all bad.

Sandra decided she couldn't stand Jack another minute and wanted a divorce. Jack said that suited him just fine, just go right ahead.

In a lawyer's office they read the papers the lawyers had drawn up. "The man set forth in these legal papers isn't Jack," said Sandra. "The woman who would sign these papers is a complete stranger to me," said Jack.

They went out arm in arm, the lawyer was pleased. He was Sandra's uncle, and knew many good marriages have sensitive moments when a healing can take place or a final destruction as each person becomes an adversary, bitterly ground through a court in an archaic procedure that does not allow for the humanity and the kindness with which every marriage had to begin.

Know The Negro

By AL DUCKETT

20th Century Judas

The fact that Judas Iscariot was not peculiar to his time was demonstrated dramatically in the last days of the recent divisive national elections.

Virtually on Election Eve, some black traitor, operating under his own perverted creativity — or worse still, performing as a puppet for some Charlie McCarthy with a full purse and an affection for Mr. Goldwater — attempted to deceive the Negro people.

As a result, an avalanche of spurious literature urging Negroes to write in the name of Martin Luther King for President, flooded the dark ghettos of the nation. Had this diabolical plot worked, hundreds of thousands of Negro votes would have

Jackie Robinson Says

Dick Nixon's Ambitions

It is somewhat saddening to this observer to see and hear former Vice-President Nixon staging a performance which he apparently believes will enable him to take over the wreckage which is the Republican Party.

In 1960, ignoring the advice and guidance of many of my friends, I allowed myself to be persuaded that Richard Nixon was sincere and dedicated.

Even though he gave a sorry performance, refusing to campaign in the Negro areas and allowing the late President Kennedy to outsmart him in demonstrable concern for Negro problems, I did not abandon my faith in the former Vice-President.

That is why, in 1962, I agreed to go to California to aid his candidacy for Governor. I did not begin to suspect Mr. Nixon of being any less than he appeared until I visited a meeting of some two hundred ministers to speak in his behalf.

I was amazed at the distrust and distaste with which these clergymen viewed Mr. Nixon. As I look back, it is now obvious that Mr. Nixon was as disliked by many Negroes as Barry Goldwater.

I myself began to suspect that personal ambition was the dominant drive behind this man. This conviction deepened as I saw him desert the forces of moderation to tour the country campaigning for the Arizona Senator. I felt certain Mr. Goldwater had promised him an important job if he were elected.

Now, it is my belief that Dick Nixon knew in his heart that Goldwater would be slaughtered. I feel Nixon believed that, by a show of allegiance, he could establish a claim to post-election party leadership. His blast against Gov. Rockefeller was on the same level as the attack he launched against the Governor because the latter stood by his convictions in San Francisco.

Millions Visit JFK's Grave

WASHINGTON — You'll remember the riderless black horse, the muffled drum, the seven big, gray horses pulling the flag-draped casket on the caisson.

You'll recall how the long procession last Nov. 25 passed the Lincoln Memorial, crossed the Potomac on Memorial Bridge, then ascended the slope below the former home of Gen. Robert E. Lee to the empty grave in Arlington National Cemetery.

President John F. Kennedy had been assassinated three days earlier at Dallas. That shocking and tragic event turned the spotlight of world attention on Arlington Cemetery.

During the intervening year, nearly 7,750,000 persons have walked past the simple white picket fence that surrounds the gravesite of President Kennedy, his stillborn daughter and son who died soon after birth.

The riderless black horse, named Black Jack, that walked behind the Kennedy casket with cavalry boots reversed in the saddle stirrups, has since performed that role in funerals of Gen. Douglas MacArthur and former President Herbert Hoover.

Of course, Goldwater was beyond help and yet, this is not the point. The point is that we still have among us petty hustlers, con men and charlatans who will barter their birthright for a mess of pottage. Of course, in this respect, we are not distinguished from other races.

Yet, somehow, it seems it should be terribly hard for a black man, no matter how unprincipled, to betray himself, his fellow black men and yet-to-be-born generations of his own race. In this case, the deal fell through — the plot failed. Even so, it would be a wonderful thing if the truth of this sordid attempt could be revealed, if the whores involved could be made naked to the world to shiver in their shame.

All too often, the American people shrug off despicable words and deeds and dismiss them as the expected garbage of politics.

One thing, we'll bet — and that is that the Twentieth Century Judas Iscariot involved got little more than 30 pieces of silver. Whoever he is, he is worth little more.

Merry Go-Round

By Mrs. Emogene W. Wilson

IN SPITE OF ALL THE DAYS OF LAST YEAR, there is one day that no one will ever forget. There is no moment of any day that is more indelibly imprinted in any one's mind than the moment one heard the news of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Yes, it was a dark, stormy, rainy day, that seemed only to become darker as the moments of suspense tightened. And so, last week marked the first anniversary of that shocking, frightening moment of history. A great many changes have taken place in that year, the dimensions of which we shall not know until a future time when history reflects. As a famous television commentator remarked, it was the jolt that made human beings stop, reflect and take stock of themselves after considering the image and stature of the man, and his philosophy . . . and comparing their own.

THE DEVOUE BRIDGE CLUB gave a brilliant cocktail party last week end at the Top Hat and Tails club house that sparkled with all the festiveness of a holiday ball! The sudden cold snap did not daunt the many congenial guests as they arrived early . . . and steadily . . . to be greeted by the charming hostesses wearing purple orchid corsages, attired in chic cocktail frocks.

A lively musical combo played cocktail music continuously all evening and a few lithe couples stopped long enough between glasses of champagne . . . and conversation . . . to step to the music.

The so attractive buffet table was laden with hors d'oeuvres of every description . . . and carried a steady crowd throughout the evening as the guests streamed back and forth to partake of the tasty food prepared by that popular cateress Mrs. Larcenia Cain and her assistants. Completing the party atmosphere were the pink champagne cut-outs decorating the ceiling.

Smiling members greeted guests as they circulated . . . sometimes introducing out of town guests. They are: Mesdames OPHELIA BYAS, SALLIE BARTHOLOMEW, LEODA GAMMON, LEOLA GILLIAM, VICTORIA HANCOCK, IRIS HARRIS, IDA JAMISON, ESTALYN ROSS, ELIZABETH SIMON, EDITH THORNTON, ALLEGRA TURNER, LOUISE WARD and GRACE YOUNG.

The many guests included the A. MACEO WALKERS, the FRED RIVERS, the PHILIP BOOTHES, the H. L. LOCKARDS, the A.W. WILLISES (both couples were kept busy receiving congratulations all night); the THOMAS WILLISES, the JOHN OUTLAWS, the HOWARD SIMONS, the SAM McANULTYS, the LEROY TAYLORS (she a former DeVoue, both in town from Louisville for an insurance meeting); MRS. BERNADINE HOLMES, MRS. ROSALIND HAYS, MRS. IDA PAGE ADAMS, MISS GERTRUDE WALKER, MISS MAYDELLA REEVES, the NOBLE OWENS, the SAM QUALLS, the HENRY WHITES, the ROBERT LEWISES and his sister, MARJORIE PUGH who is home spending Thanksgiving with the family; the CHARLES PINKSTONS, the THOMAS HAYES, the TAYLOR HAYES, the HEYWOOD THORNTONS, the M. COPELANDS, the CLAI-BORNE DAVISES, the CHARLES TARPLEYS, the MARVIN TARPLEYS, the LONNIE BRISCOES, Mrs. RUBY GADISON, Miss ROSA A. ROBINSON, the HOLLIS PRICES, the I. A. WATSONS, the T. W. NORTH-CROSSES, the FRANK WILLIAMS, Mrs. JOHNETTA H-ZAY, Mrs. R. Q. VENSION, Mrs. ANN BENSON, Mrs. BETTY BLAND, the H. L. JACKSONS, the WILLIAM FITZGERALDS, the ANDERSON BRIDGES, the HARRY WAL-LACES, the WILLIAM WILLIAMS, the CHARLES FLETCHERS, the WILLIAM OWENS, the E. FRANK WHITES, the U. R. PHILLIPS Sr. and the UTTILUS PHILLIPS Jr., the A. B. CARTERS, Mrs. LEALER MASON, Mrs. LOUISE DAVIS, Mrs. Jewel G. HULBERT, DR. B. F. McLEAVE, the EDWARD WELCHES, MELVIN CONLEY, DR. W. O. SPEIGHT Jr., Dr. and Mrs. LYNWOOD WILLIAMS, the CLINTON RAYS, the LEON GRIFFINS, the W. W. GIBSONS and the WILLIAM TERRYS.

THE PASSPORT ROOM at the Airport was chosen by McDOLAH BURKE of 1431 Davis to celebrate his 50th birthday recently. A long awaited occasion, it was one he will long remember. The floral arrangements were attractively designed by a local florist who centered the table with brilliant red roses and bright golden chrysanthemums.

A table was set aside for the huge birthday cake and gifts which were beautifully wrapped. Cocktails were served before dinner. The menu featured prime rib roast.

Mrs. Burke was very charming in an after five frock as she greeted the guests with her husband. Guests included daughters BARBARA and FLOLINE (Mrs. Herman Scurlock); the honoree's brother and his wife, MR. and MRS. JACK BURKE of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. FRED BROWN, Mr. and Mrs. CHARLIE MORRIS, Sr., Mrs. ESTER WIL-LETT, O. D. HASSELL, THOMAS MARTIN, Mrs. WILLIE MAE MANNING, Mr. and Mrs. RICHARD BURNS, Mrs. TERESA WATSON, Mr. and Mrs. CLIFTON O'NEAL Sr., Mrs. EMADORA ADAMS, Mr. and Mrs. L. BROOKS, Mrs. ALICE HALDEN, Mr. and Mrs. BUSTER TATUM, Mr. and Mrs. HUNTER STINGER, Mr. and Mrs. CASSIE COLEMAN, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. GARNER, Mrs. THELMA HALL and Mrs. PEARL JACKSON.

UNIVERSAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY culminated its Miss Universal Contest held annually in November with a week end of gay social events. This year's winner was Miss Thelma Johnson of Compton, California. The contest is a competition among districts of the organization, with the four runner-up districts sending representatives along with the winning districts, to act as alternates to the winner. District managers and staff managers are also cited during these ceremonies.

All officers, members of the program committee and their guests were entertained on Friday night at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. GILLIAM, the vice-president and Agency director of Universal. More than sixty guests were on hand. On Saturday, a buffet dinner-cocktail party-dance was part of the ceremony held at Universal, during which time Miss Universal was crowned. All received elaborate gifts. Master of ceremonies for the occasion was G. T. Howell, assistant agency director. More than 500 persons attended this affair.

THE NONCHALANTS met in the lovely home of Mrs. OSCAR CRAWFORD, 1327 N. Bellevue. Plans for a bridge party at the Top Hat and Tails clubhouse were completed. Bridge was enjoyed by the members present who were Mesdames TAYLOR WARD, LORETTA KATEO, JOHN McKINNEY, W. McDAVID, HENRY WHITE, T.C.D. HAYES, FLOYD NEWMAN, JOHN F. WILSON, THOMAS McCLELLAN, JOHN PARKER, and Miss ELMYRA WILLIAMS. Prizes were won by Mrs. Hayes, McKinney and Newman.

MISS DOYCE DALE LEE

Doyce Dale Lee To Be Wed In December

Mrs. Lois H. Lee of Jackson, Tennessee announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Doyce Dale Lee to Harold Rogers Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Howard of Paris, Tenn.

Miss Lee is a graduate of Merry High School, Jackson, Tenn., where she was a member of the New Homemakers of America for four years. She represented the Merry High chapter in both the district and state quiz contests and won first place in each.

She received the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award, and served as vice president of the senior class, and was presented the outstanding student award by the Student Council. She was valedictorian of the graduating class of 1958.

Upon entering Lane College, she was elected as president of the freshman class. For four years she was a member of the Yearbook staff. A mathematics major, and French minor, she was affiliated with clubs in these subject areas.

AKA MEMBER

Miss Lee held the title of "Miss Pre-Alumni" and attended the national convention of the UNCF in Daytona Beach, Florida. She served as dean of pledges of Beta Chi chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority and represented her sorority on the Pan Hellenic Council. A charter member of Alpha Omega chapter of Alpha Kappa Mu Scholastic Honor Society, she was graduated Magna Cum Laude in the class of 1962.

Miss Lee is in her third year of teaching and is a mathematics teacher at Corry Junior High School, Memphis. She serves as an advisor to the Y-Teen club and is secretary for the Mathematics Section of the West Tennessee Education Congress.

Mr. Howard is a graduate of Central High school, Paris, Tenn. During his high school years he served as class president for two years. He was a member of the Honor Society for four years and valedictorian of the class of 1958.

BOTH LANE GRADS

He attended Lane College in Jackson, Tenn., where he majored in Biology. While there he was instrumental in helping to organize the Youth Council of the NAACP on campus and served as vice-president and president. A member of Beta Pi chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, he served as corresponding secretary and representative to the Pan Hellenic Council. Mr. Howard was senior class representative of the Student Council. He graduated Cum Laude from Lane College, May, 1962.

Presently, Mr. Lee is serving in the U.S. Army stationed at Fort Ord, Calif. Prior to going into service he was employed by the Chicago Transit Authority.

The couple is planning late December nuptials.

Say Police Inaction Aided Child Slayer

TOPEKA, Kans., (UPI)—Two patrolmen resigned from the Shawnee County Sheriff's Force because of what they called "a matter of conscience resulting from their superior's handling of the Gladys Johnson case."

Lt. Bob Inman, 29 and Lee Sipes, 23, announced their resignations after a meeting with Sheriff Lew Falley.

The pair said they quit because Falley failed to take disciplinary action against an officer who took the initial call from a witness in the kidnap case.

The officer, Steve Shutt, is Falley's son-in-law. Inman and Sipes said Shutt failed to act promptly on the morning the girl was abducted.

Falley said he thought the patrolmen acted hastily in resigning.

Falley said the department might have been lax in not dispatching an officer immediately to the site where a white man and Negro girl were seen parked in a car.

But Falley said the department had no one to send out. "We could have notified the police department and got help there, or pulled a man off an assignment, but we just didn't know it would come to this," Falley said.

The department did not know Gladys was missing at the time of the call.

Charles C. Guillory, an airman from nearby Forbes Air Force Base made the call. He later picked engineer Frederick Zimmer's picture from police files as that of the man he had seen.

MR. AND MRS. WHITTIER SENGSTACKE were like any two doting parents when their daughter, Astrid Sengstake Lindsey arrived home last week bringing her charming young baby daughter, Pasha Alexandria Lindsey to see the family . . . also the Sengstackes were hosts to some friends here attending the special meeting of the NIA . . .

CHUCK DAVIS, former editor and advertising manager for the Chicago Daily Defender, now engaged in insurance work . . . CLARENCE SPELLMAN, an executive with the North Carolina Mutual in Philadelphia . . .

Heated competition has developed on LeMoynes' campus among the four attractive coeds seeking the college's title of "Miss UNCF." The winner will represent LeMoynes in the national "Miss UNCF" pageant at Dallas in February. The pageant is sponsored annually by the National Alumni Council of the United Negro College Fund. Winning coeds from 32 member colleges and universities participate in the colorful event.

Each young lady is engaged in fund-raising activities and all the money they raise will help swell the current UNCF campaign in Memphis.

GNOSIS GLINT CLUB

Gnosis Glint Club Gives Scholarships

The golden sunshine and the moderate temperature of Nov. 8 provided wonderful weather for the annual dinner of Gnosis Glint, Inc., held at the Holiday Inn on Union Ave.

Beautifully decorated tables featured attractive place cards. A tasty menu of turkey and dressing, green peas, baked potatoes, salad, hot rolls, coffee climaxed with ice cream and cake was enjoyed by everyone.

A short program followed the dinner. Rev. T. C. Lightfoot, Jr., pastor of Mt. Olive C.M.E. Cathedral addressed the club women and their guests. A dynamic speaker, he imparted much information valuable to all club women. Those present found his remarks both interesting and inspiring.

Miss Minnie L. Allen and B. T. James were soloists. Mrs. Una B. James was program chairman.

The club made its first presentation of scholarships, which it will continue by sponsoring a student next year. This year's recipients are Miss Brenda Jones, for whom Mrs. Rosa Fields accepted; and Miss Jepsie Lee, accepted by Mrs. Venesse Brown. Both are now in college.

Birthday cards and gifts surprised Miss Allen as they were presented to her. Her birthday fell on that date.

The group assembled relaxed in warm fellowship as the evening grew to a close, having also enjoyed the service of the establishment.

Clara Barton Scholar Presented At Meeting

The Clara Barton Health Club held its November meeting at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Hollingsworth, 1633 Lyceum Road with Mesdames Inez Johnson, Florence McPherson and Elizabeth Hollingsworth as hostesses.

Mrs. Deanie B. Johnson, chaplain, led the inspiring devotion. Presiding was Mrs. Zana Ward, the president.

Among the interesting committee reports was the presentation to the club by the scholarship committee, Miss Estolena Bradford, the petite and brilliant recipient of the club's scholarship award. Miss Bradford is a native of Bethel Springs, Tenn. She is reputed to have made a very high pre-entrance score upon her application to E. H. Crump hospital. She comes well recommended to the organization.

Another interesting report was from the Yearbook Committee. In establishing the history of the club, many fine women of yesteryear in the city took part in the club's activities, indicated that the women who now carry on are in possession of a rich heritage. From all indications the completed book will be a bit of philanthropic history that all can take pride in.

IN SEVERAL CITIES

One of the nurses to whom the club awarded a scholarship is on the staff of E. H. Crump Memorial Hospital, one at Le Bonheur, others variously in Chicago, Alabama, and other places. This committee is headed by Mrs. Emma Tom Johnson, who with her committee has done extensive research for this project.

Miss Cornelia Sanders, vice-president and principal of Douglass Elementary School was chosen unanimously to represent the club in the Woman of the Year contest sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. Miss Sanders meets all of the requirements for this honor. The group voted to give a donation to the NAACP in behalf of the "Miss Social Belle" contest.

Other members present included Mesdames Clara Hobson, Pearl Oates, Delora Thompson, Pearlina Saunders, Mary Bradley, Edith Scott, Cleve Walls and Bernice L. Maclean.

A gift exchange has been planned for the December meeting, with hostesses being Mrs. Willa Briscoe, Mrs. Deanie Johnson, Mrs. Cleve Walls and Mrs. Ethel Watkins.

Music Lovers 'Thrilled' At William Nabors' Recital

Memphis music lovers sat in rapt attention as William Grant Nabors was presented in a piano recital on Tuesday, November 17 at Bruce Hall, LeMoynes college, by the college's Cultural Activities Committee. Only their enthusiastic applause broke the silence.

It has been a long time since the public has had the pleasure of being entertained by a fine concert pianist. Perhaps too, they were remembering William Nabors, the boy, a budding young prodigy who had captivated the hearts and the imagination of a thrilled audience which had sat in wonderment when he performed here nearly a decade ago.

William Nabors, the man, now an accomplished artist who has since given concerts in Italy, Switzerland, Holland, England and Egypt, as well as in the United States, performed in a magnificent manner, exhibiting the refinement he has received from serious study and continuous concert work. His fine artistry was inescapable even to the untrained ear.

THE PROGRAM

The program was arranged chronologically in which the artist exhibited the development of style. He opened with a suite by an early composer, F. Couperin: "Vingt-Septieme Ordre" which included several pieces; moving on to a later composer, L. Beethoven and several works from his "Sonata in D major."

His final numbers were by Franz Chopin and included, "Barcarolle," op. 60; "Ballads in F major," op. 38; "Ballads in A Flat major," op. 47; and "Fantasie," op. 49.

His technique was that of a master, in that he exercised such remarkable control of his instrument . . . always showing respect for the style in which the music was written; using gradations of shading where it was necessary—playing forcefully at times and startlingly restrained at other times—but ever with ease and confidence.

The audience responded overwhelmingly after each number especially after the final number when he was called back onto the stage repeatedly.

Mr. Nabors is the grandson of E. P. Nabors, well known insurance broker in Memphis, and nephew of W. F. Nabors, manager of Foote Homes.

Annual Youth Day Observed At Bloomfield

Annual Youth Day was observed last Sunday at Bloomfield Baptist church, and the speaker was Rev. R. B. Bland, with members of his youth choir as guests.

Rev. Bland gave the Youth Message at 3. Present for the services were young people and choirs from other parts of the city.

A pre-Youth Day reception was given on last Saturday night with young people in charge of the service.

Mrs. Thelma Thomas was general chairman for the observance, and Mrs. Myra J. Hodges co-chairman.

Members of the Publicity Committee were Mrs. Margaret Foler, Mrs. Irene McGee and Miss Mattie Gray.

16 Attend Floral Club Meeting

The Community Floral Club held its November meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Minnie Exom, 1358 N. Decatur st. Hostesses were Mrs. Lucille Price and Mrs. Mollie Alexander.

Mrs. Pinkie Walker, chaplain, led devotion, and Mrs. Lottie Bigham, president, opened the business session.

The group was saddened to learn of the death of one of their faithful fellow members, Mrs. Mattie Cheatman.

Sixteen members were present. They found the menu of Turkey and trimmings topped off with home made pound cake very much to their liking. The next meeting will be December 11 at the residence of the president, Mrs. Rosa Miller is secretary.

Youthful Culprits

TSU Receives Grant For War On Poverty

NASHVILLE — Tennessee cember 1.

State University was given a half-million dollar plus grant in the Nation's "War on Poverty" today, according to Dr. W. S. Davis, University President.

The University's $641,755 experimental and demonstration manpower program was approved by U.S. Department of Labor's Office Manpower Automation and Training. Dr. Davis explained that this new program won Government approval along with an extension of the University's existing MDTA (Manpower Development Training) project.

Before the University's OMAT program could go into effect it was approved and coordinated with State programs by J. Howard Warf, Commissioner of Education; Mrs. Frank C. Scott, Bureau of Employment Security Commissioner and Henry Burkett, Employment Security Administration director.

The project, scheduled to last for one year, will be directed by Dr. Henry L. Taylor and Dr. Nebraska Mays as deputy director. The Directors will begin recruiting selected participants for the program within two weeks. The program opens for business De-

Explaining the project, Dr. Taylor revealed, "The program is specifically designed to improve the employment prospect and overall life condition of approximately 400 unemployable rural and urban adults in Tennessee."

Special features of the OMAT project include (1) community councils on economic opportunities to aid in recruiting the hard core unemployable; (2) a Mobile Unit within the environs of the unemployable, as an approach to recruiting trainees; (3) skill training in occupational areas similar to the selectee's background and interest, and (4) an experimental program in counseling and basic education designed to increase the selectee areas of employment.

Four groups are immediate targets for the University's program. They are: (1) adults 19 years or older, (2) unemployed heads of households or members of a household whose head is unemployable, (3) persons ranging from one to seventh grade in general education skills, and (4) those who are seriously disadvantaged vocationally and economically (an annual net income of $1,200 or less).

HE FINALLY BAGGED THE BUCK

Karl Volz of Melville, Mo., displays the head of a 27-point buck he shot near St. Genevieve, Mo. The buck's weight was estimated at 300 pounds and its age at 9 to 12 years. The animal's teeth are worn almost to the gums. Volz said he believed he had shot at the same deer about 5-years ago and that he knew several other hunters who had shot at it. He killed the animal with a shot through the neck. (UPI Telephoto)

Avery Chapel Women Plan For Pre-Xmas Tea

Women of Avery Chapel AME church elected Mrs. Andrew J. Dancy president of the Loyal Ladies League of the church at a recent meeting. Named co-chairmen of projects were Mrs. Mamye Tugle and Mrs. Nellie Larry Counts.

The club's pre-Christmas Tea will be held on Dec. 20 at Flora's Flower shop.

Mr. Aline Leftis and Mrs. Mary Castle have been chosen to preside over a group of 20 that will share in the support of the annual budget of the church. The Loyal Ladies League presented a hat bazaar last Saturday night with refreshments at no cost.

Dr. Peter G. Crawford is pastor of the church.

Negro Killed By Farmer In Tenn.

SPENCER, Tenn. — (UPI)—A Negro youth who had escaped from a state training school was shot to death by a farmer who discovered him on his roof.

The victim was Raymond Porterfield, 18, of Memphis. He and three companions had escaped earlier in the day from the state training school for Negro boys at nearby Pikeville.

Van Buren county sheriff Perry Smith said Porterfield's three companions were found hiding in a barn and were returned to the school.

Smith said the farmer, James Brown, said he and his wife went outside to investigate the noise and discovered Porterfield on the roof.

"I told him to come down or I would shoot," the sheriff quoted Brown. "He threw something at us and I dodged but it nearly hit my wife. I shot him."

Smith and his deputies found Porterfield's body sprawled on the roof with a bullet wound in the head.

TEEN TOWN SINGERS

Choral music for the "Miss Social Belle" contest was furnished by members of the Teen Town singers, under the direction of A. C. Williams, producer of the talent show preceding the crowning of Miss Carla Allen as

"Miss Social Belle." Mr. Williams is seen standing in front of group. The choir is composed of students from all high schools in the area.

Plane Crashes In Rome; 44 Die

ROME — (UPI)—A Trans World Airline jet plane with 73 persons aboard faltered on take-off, skidded 1,500 feet into a steam roller and exploded in flames. Forty-four persons were killed.

TWA said of the 29 survivors, some were in critical condition. Many of the passengers and crew were Americans.

A complete check was difficult because many bodies were burned beyond recognition, and because victims were taken to four different hospitals near the airport.

The pilot, who survived the crash, sensed something wrong as the Boeing 707 thunderbird down the runway at Rome's Fiumicino Airport. He tried desperately to halt the plane but it skidded onto an adjacent runway closed for repairs and hit the steamroller. The right wing tanks exploded when the wing hit the construction machinery.

UPI photographer Giuseppe Di Giambattista who saw the crash said:

"There was a big explosion—not sharp like a gunshot but rumbling like something volcanic, and an enormous spurt of fire. The plane just wasn't there anymore. I don't see how anyone could have lived through it."

Yve-Ning Gowns?

The glamorous array of gowns and dresses worn by the beautiful Sophia Loren, star of ABC-TV's hour-long special, "Sophia Loren In Rome" (Thursday, Nov. 12) were designed especially for her appearance on the show by famed French designer Yves St. Laurent.

THREE TOP CONTESTANTS

Following the coronation ceremony, the three top contestants pose for photographer. From left are Miss Janet Horne, sponsored by Jack and Jill, Inc.; Miss Carla Allen, "Miss Social Belle," who was backed by the St. Cecilia Guild of Emmanuel Episcopal church; and Miss Patricia Mayweather, sponsored by the Memphians.

Masked Men Beat Union Official, Declares War On Ku Klux Klan

LAUREL, Miss., (UPI) — Officials of a union whose assistant business manager was beaten by masked men vowed to arm themselves against possible attacks from the Ku Klux Klan.

Union officials issued a warning to the Klan after one of them, Assistant Business Manager Otis Matthews, was kidnapped with masked men and beaten with leather straps.

Officials blamed the incident on the Klan and said it apparently was prompted by the fact that some Negroes had been given supervisory jobs.

BASKETBALL PREVIEW

The Prep League basketball season swings into action with a full slate of games carded for Monday night. Lester, league king pins for the past two years, will find it hard defending its title against the determined efforts of three challengers.

Any of three teams could be the new champions for the 1964-65 campaign. Carver, Melrose and Washington have veteran teams returning while Lester has only one starter to count on to help improve upon last year's 12-2 record. Bertrand, Douglass, Hamilton and Manassas can look to successful seasons by breaking into the second division.

The opening night schedule finds Manassas visiting Douglass, Carver invading Washington, Bertrand playing hosts to Melrose and Hamilton journeying to Lester. For Wednesday's card Douglass, Washington and Manassas play away games against Carver, Bertrand and Melrose in that order. Manassas plays at Lester and Bertrand travels to Douglass Friday night to close out the first week of league activity.

Additional physical education gym space construction at Manassas and Washington is just about completed at Manassas but the Washington home games are scheduled for Porter Junior High until Blair T. Hunt Gym is ready.

ONE SURVIVOR

Charles Williams is the lone survivor from Lester's starting five of a year ago. The Lions have some good replacements but the lack of experience should take its toll when the Binghampton crew takes the floor against the more seasoned teams. Richard Jones, Charles Paulk, and Bennie Price have since departed and are playing in colleges in Oklahoma and Illinois. Jones, who holds just about all existing records at Lester, is on the freshman team at the University of Illinois. According to some Illini observers Jones is the best prospect the Big Ten school has had in some time. The irony of the choice of Illinois is quite strange when he made it known that he would like to play for Memphis State.

Perhaps MSU Athletic director Eugene Lambert will invite Illinois to play in its holiday tourney in 1965 so Jones as a sophomore can help fill the Mid-South Coliseum. Or perhaps those at Memphis State responsible for passing up the former local 6-7 star cager would like to just forget the blunder.

Paced by Bobby Smith who has kept the strings burning for the past four years, Melrose is expected to make a serious bid for their first Prep League crown. The Golden Wildcats lost a top rebounder in Willie Gilliland but should find adequate replacements from their reserves to once again maintain pressure on their opponents.

WARRIORS STRONG

Also blessed with the returning of several sturdy performers Washington could take it all if the Warriors can come up with an answer to the problem left when L. C. McCoy vacated his center position via graduation. Washington can make a run for the championship with the shooting of James Johnson and Eugene Taylor playing vital roles.

loss of leading point producer Wesley Mitchell, the Tigers don't figure to be much of a threat. Douglass with a height problem, and Hamilton will be among the second division teams fighting for tournament berths.

MEMPHIANS IN NEWS

Coach Bob Lee of Southern University has really had his ups and downs this season. After defeating Texas Southern and dropping a close decision to Grambling in the first two games, Lee's Jaguars hit a scoring drought until a fine showing three weeks ago in a losing effort against Tennessee State. Southern followed that defeat by scoring 39 points against Wiley and an unbelievable 43 in an upset over highly rated Florida A&M.

While preparing for an old nemesis, Prairie View, last week, the bottom started to fall from all the good deeds. First Memphian Rudy Myers was among several players arrested for an alleged assault on a Southern coed. If that wasn't enough the tough Panthers buried the Jaguars under a 60-14 avalanche last Saturday.

Walter Bell, 1963 Melrose graduate and quarterback on the winless grid team of that season, found the goings a little more desirable in the Armed Forces. Bell was scheduled to lead his Chicks and Chicks with an 8-1-1 record against the 9-0 mark of the Rhine Main team in the All European Armed Forces Championship in London.

Alabama State Will Face Magicians Here

Coach Jerry C. Johnson's LeMoyné Magicians get their first test of the season Tuesday night, Dec. 1, at 8 in Bruce Hall when they face an Alumni aggregation composed of some of the college's most recent basketball standouts.

Robert Nelson, Verties Sails, Cleophus Owens and possibly Robert Hambric, now in Chicago, from last season's Magicians, will team up with Sam Parks, Willie Herenton, Chester Collins, Marvin Doggett, Charlie Williams, Edward Thornton and Curtis Mitchell to provide alumni competition for LeMoyné's varsity.

Following Tuesday night's contests, the Magicians will get ready to take on the Alabama State quint Saturday night, Dec. 5, on the Bruce Hall floor.

LeMoyné games this season: AT HOME—Alumni, Dec. 1; Alabama State, Dec. 5; Fisk, Dec. 9; Lane, Dec. 15; Parsons, Dec. 16; Tuskegee, Jan. 4; Benedict, Jan. 7; Dillard, Jan. 11; Miles, Jan. 15; Alabama A&M, Jan. 30; Philander Smith, Feb. 3; Allen, Feb. 8; and Bethune-Cookman, Feb. 16.

Away—Alabama State, Dec. 10; Alabama A & M, Dec. 11; Tuskegee, Jan. 23; Benedict Jan. 26; Allen, Jan. 27; Talladega, Feb. 4; Miles, Feb. 6; Philander Smith, Feb. 13; Fisk Feb. 19; and Lane, Feb. 20.

Fifteen of LeMoyné's games will be against Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference competition.

Know Your Negro History

Abraham Lincoln, in 1858, declared that he was opposed to "bringing about in any way the social and political equality of the white and black races."

Virginia's official state song, "Carry Me Back To Old Virginia," was written by Negro composer James Bland.

W. C. Handy was, by 1940, netting $25,000 yearly for his composition, "St. Louis Blues."

Golfing With Lil By Mrs. Cornell Wolfe

The new layout of the Riverside golf course was a breeze for Pleas Jones as he fired a blazing 66 to win the Sam Qualls golf club Turkey Tournament. Second place went to Dollar Sanders with a creditable 71. First flight winner was Wade Scott.

Second flight winner was I. Brent, and Third flight Turkey winner was Lonnie Wilson.

In the ladies division Odessa Dickens was first prize Turkey winner, FLORENCE SCOTT second and Sallie Rogers third.

The lucky winner of the big live Turkey was Mrs. ESTELLA JOHNSON of 1698 Brookins.

Sam Qualls golf club meeting is Thursday November 19 8:30 P.M. 787 David Street. Turkeys will be issued come to make your claim.

PILED UP YARDAGE—Jim van Gordon, Eau Claire, Wis., State University quarterback, has just about clinched the 1964 N.A.I.A. total offense title with 2,331 yards. He led his team to a 7-2 record this year.

Texans Whip Jaguars 60-14 To Take Title

By BENNIE THOMAS
PRAIRIE VIEW, Texas — Plagued by costly fumbles and interceptions, and the scoring antics of quarterback Jimmy Kerney and end Otis Taylor, Prairie View blitzed Southern University 60-14 to take sole possession of the Southwestern Athletic Conference Title here Saturday afternoon.

Southern trailed the Panthers 26-7 at halftime and all James Buchanan, Jackson, Tenn. business man, was named "Citizen of the Year" by Omega Psi Phi Fraternity at the annual achievement program given by Theta Iota and Kappa Sigma chapters on Sunday, November 15, in the chapel of Lane college.

Mr. Buchanan's family to help him share in the award included his wife and ten children, three of whom are in college. A native Mississippian, he has lived in Jackson a number of years as a grocer. He is an active member in the local and state PTA holds offices in both groups and is forceful in the fight for civil rights, working with the NAACP and other civil rights groups. He has backed parents who participated in the "planned absenteeism" of children in the Jackson City Schools during the holiday scheduled for the Fair.

N.Y. Post Says Hoover Owes King Apology

New York, (UPI)—in an editorial critical of FBI director J. Edgar Hoover's remarks about integration leader Martin Luther King the New York Post said it is "time for fresh and loyal leadership at the FBI."

The editorial referred to Hoover's press conference last week in which he called King "the most notorious liar in the country" for saying the FBI had been lax in handling Civil Rights cases in the South.

Hoover also challenged the Warren Commission's finding that the FBI had not kept the Secret Service informed about Lee Harvey Oswald. Hoover said in addition that many criminal court judges were too lenient in passing sentence.

The Post editorial said: "Almost a week has passed since Hoover's outrageous blast at the Warren Commission, Dr. Martin Luther King and 'bleeding heart' judges and still there is no retraction or disavowal."

"Did the recent campaign to insure Washington to invective and vituperation that the head of the nation's investigative service will be allowed to defame one of America's outstanding men, without an apology from him or a rebuke from his superiors?"

MERIT RECIPIENTS

Other Jackson citizens receiving certificates of merit were Mrs. Mattie B. Merry, Mr. M. D. Merriweather, Miss Genevieve Brooks, Mrs. M. B. The speaker for the occasion was Dr. J. H. White, Darnell, and Mr. Frank Walker.

president of Mississippi Valley State college at Itta Bena, Miss. who served as president of Lane College for two years after leaving Allen White High School in Whiteville, Tenn. where he is well known.

He gave a challenge to those who will come in the line of future citizens. He said that we blame too much on circumstances. "The only free man is one who is prepared to do the job. You can give a man a fish and you give him a meal. Teach him how to fish and you feed him for life."

The Quettes (Omega wives) sat in a body and were graced with the presence of President White's wife, Mrs. Augusta White.

Mrs. Essie M. Perry, department of education on the campus of Lane College, was named chapter mother for Kappa Sigma chapter. Miss Ludia Roe was named Kappa Sigma sweetheart with maids Joan McCullar and Regina McCloud. Odell Kinnon was recipient of Kappa Sigma chapter's "Omega Man of the Year."

Colts 'Untouchables' After Taking Division

LOS ANGELES, (UPI) — Happiness can't buy money as comedian Joe E. Lewis says, but Baltimore Colt coach Don Shula insists it can help make a winning football team.

The Colts are a mighty happy club today—they've got the National Football League Western Conference title wrapped up by reason of their 24-7 win over the Los Angeles Rams. The crowd of 72,137 was the highest for a Ram home since 1960.

This was the Colt's 10th consecutive victory—since their opening loss to Minnesota—and with only three games left to play no one can touch them.

The victory over the Rams proved once again that quarterback Johnny Unitas is not just a great passer—he can beat you in many ways.

Unitas was stymied in the air by a tough Ram defense for most of the game so he made some fancy calls on ground plays that spelled victory.

In the dressing room afterwards, coach Shula—dripping wet after his happy players shoved him into a shower—said: "It's been a helluva year—there's no other way to say it. Since training camp, this has been a happy club."

The loss dumped the Rams from a second-place tie into a and then finish out the season against San Francisco and Green Bay.

Coach Harland Svare tried to take the Colt loss in stride—the Rams were nine-point underdogs.

"The Colts have too much," said Svare. "They've got a great defense... a great offense... a running game... and a great kicking team."

The Rams defense held up well until the final period when the Colts scored 10 points.

CAGER TURNS GRIDDER

Sam Walton was invited to take part in the early season football drills at East Texas State just to get in shape for the coming basketball season but as it turned out Walton, a Memphian, is undecided on whether he will try to continue as a cager. When asked Sam chuckled, "right now I am capable of playing basketball physically." Walton has an unusual sense of cat-like balance for a man of his size. He can perform all sorts of gymnastics in order to reach the passer from his tackle slot and is usually in on more tackles than the records show. The 6-4, 225 pound freshman had never played an organized game of football in his life until the East Texas-Texas A&I clash October 14th in Commerce.
