“Potater” Day

You're Goin’ Against Spud and the Potaters.

In the year 1841, about the middle of April, a day was set apart as a Potater’s Day, in the State of Kentucky.

The First County Court.

The First County Court, held at Frankfort, was on March 6th, 1848, which was the first time the name was given to this duty. It has been continued to the present time.

The Potaters. The name of the person who first made the law for the Potaters was James Stice, who continued to hold the office until the present time.

The justice continued to hold the office until the present time.

The First Monday in April.

We have been so crowded with readers at the store that we have been obliged to have them all read by the hour.

The store is now full of bags and boxes of potatoes, and a monopoly is formed. The potatoes on the first Monday in April are sold for the highest price of the year, and are considered worth half as much as a bushel of corn.

The first Monday in April has never been changed, but has been kept for the last 50 years.

When the potatoes are sold, they are considered worth half as much as a bushel of corn.

Paternal Duty
by J. C. Daniel

The father who plunges into business so deeply that he has no leisure for domestic duties and for the moral and religious training of his children is as bad a failure in the race of business as the man who through overwork has no time for the business at all. For in an equal degree he is neglecting his children. Nor is it in general to the interest of the child to have his father busy with worldly matters. They demand the acts of authority, or a surly time which God has allotted to his right can his family demand to live to their excellence of virtue, are as chased by the loss of every habit valuable a legacy as an inheritance in cases of pneumonia. Last winter my mother, who is 75 years of flannels. She is alive and well today. Your rem
