The November Sky

In the November sky, there is a spectral beauty, a reminder of the fleeting moments of autumn. The leaves, once vibrant colors of red, orange, and yellow, are now softly falling, painting the landscape with hues of gold and crimson. It is a time of transition, a period that marks the end of one chapter and the beginning of another.

As the days grow shorter, the air carries a crispness that invigorates the senses. The sound of crunching leaves underfoot and the rustling of branches in the wind becomes a soothing lullaby, a melody that echoes the quiet beauty of the season.

This is a time to reflect on the past and anticipate the future. To savor the moments of stillness and the conversations of the heart. To cherish the warmth of familial bonds and the grace of nature's cycles.

Let us, then, embrace this time of November, this time of change and renewal, and find beauty in the quiet moments of the season.

See the New Improved Hexagon Slab Slate Shingle

This wonderful roof has been one of the leaders for many years. It is a standing seam, and has the same appearance as a standing seam, except that the edge of the shingle is not pointed, but has a reverse curve at the edge, giving it the appearance of a true slate shingle. It is laid in two courses, the first of which is laid parallel to the eaves, and the second perpendicular to the first. The second course is laid with a half inch space between the shingles, and is applied with a hammer or duty. A heavy tinfoil pattern is distinctive. Guaranteed not to fade. It is truly a wonderful roof for either new or second story, and we recommend this roof and guarantee your satisfaction.

A few of the many roofs of this kind, are:

The Hexagon Shingle, manufactured by the National Shingle Company, 131 West Main Street, is the product of the finest materials and labor. It is the result of years of research and development. It is the only roof that can give you the durability, beauty, and economy of a slate roof. It is made of ten different colors, each color being made of 25% slate and 75% pure copper. It is guaranteed for 50 years, and can be removed and reinstalled without damaging the shingles.
