NUMBER ELEVEN

TWILIGHT LEAGUE WILL START HERE SOON

At a meeting in the office of City Attorney Steve Wiley Tuesday night and presided over by the league president, Walter Evans, plans were discussed regarding the opening of the Twilight League of indoor outdoor baseball for Fulton this summer.

Due to the fact that several teams which were in the league last year will not be in the league this year and the possibility that others will soon join in the league, it was unanimously decided to hold another meeting, probably the early part of next week for the purpose of completing plans for the opening of the league.

The league will have stronger contenders this year than ever before due to the fact that so many new players of experience will be found in the lineups of the various teams.

Another big feature of the league this year is that the park will have exactly two times more illumination this year than last year since there will be two more flood lights up this year, and in each of these will be a 1500 watt bulb instead of 1000 watts, giving the park 12,000 watts of light as compared with 6,000 of the past.

TONS OF MATERIAL IN NEW BRIDGE HERE

Work is progressing nicely on the new bridge across the creek here at the intersection of Lake and Carr streets. The bridge proper is expected to be completed this week, and then work will start on the filling in with dirt on each side of the bridge, preparatory to pouring of the concrete for the approaches. The bridge will be open for traffic in about three weeks.

Many tons of material have been used in the construction of this bridge including 55,000 pounds of steel, 470,000 pounds of cement, 1,200,000 pounds of gravel, 800,000 pounds of sand.

SPORT FANS TURN OUT FOR BASEBALL SPECIAL

Tuesday afternoon as the Baseball Special rolled into Fulton, bearing the St. Louis Browns and the St. Louis Cardinals to their home diamonds from Florida, where they have been in winter training, the platform at the Illinois Central passenger station here was jammed with enthusiastic fans who were eager to see the "big leaguers" and especially their home-town boy, Big Jim Weaver, who is pitching for the Browns this season.

"Big Jim," or "Stork" as he is familiarly known here, dismounted from the rear platform of the last car to greet his mother, sisters and friends. On this special train were some of the country's best baseball talent, including Frankie Frisch, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals and Roger Hornsby, Rajah of baseball, and manager of the St. Louis Browns.

Weaver has played in several exhibitions games for the Browns this season, and is showing up well, according to Hornsby. Weaver pitched four innings recently in a couple of games, in which he did not allow a single hit or run. He is gaining national renown as the largest pitcher in the baseball world.

Weaver was reared in this community, his mother, sisters and brother residing on Carr-st in this city. Bob Weaver, another brother, is trying out with the Atlanta Crackers in the Southern League.

It was the pleasure of the editors of The News and many local people to shake hands with Roger Hornsby, Pepper Martin, Frankie Frisch, Paul and Dizzy Dean, and Buck Newsome all of whom, with Big Jim Weaver, autographed a baseball for the local Boy Scouts while in Fulton.

In brief business session with the outgoing president, Bob White, plans were laid for starting a membership drive next Monday. Every effort is to be made to obtain as large membership as possible.

This week and last week thousands of bushels of Missouri corn and wheat have been arriving at the Browder Milling Company here. The local milling company offered a market for the Missouri grain, so they were brought here by the truck load.

SCHOOL BOARD RE-ELECTS LEWIS MONDAY NIGHT

The city board of education met in regular session at the Fulton high school building Monday night, with all members present. J. O. Lewis, who has headed the local school system since 1920, was re-elected as superintendent for the school term of 1934-35.

Others chosen for positions for the ensuing term were: W. L. Holland, re-elected as principal of the High School; Mansfield Martin, principal of Junior High and Career Institute; Mrs. Jessie Lee Fleming, principal of Terry-Norman. Election of a principal for Milton colored school was deferred until the school board meets again, in May when teachers making applications for positions will be considered.

Salaries were not stipulated at the meeting Monday night, pending the action of the state legislature.

Last year the budget called for an expenditure of $33,837, with only $19,543 of this for salaries. It was pointed out Monday night that no further reductions can be effected in the school budget, unless it be by more reductions in salaries, which has already stood cuts of 33 1/3 per cent in the past three years. The school board has borrowed to the limit, and cannot continue to borrow money with which to operate. It is now up to the people to pay up their back taxes if they hope to continue their schools, it was stated during the board meeting, and immediate steps are expected to be taken to collect past due taxes.

Plans are being formulated here this week for the organization of a Booster Club in Fulton, for the purpose of promoting and maintaining an independent baseball team for Fulton this season. The Fair Grounds baseball park has already been leased, according to official announcement.

Details and committees are being worked out now for carrying out a systematic sale of tickets, which will be the principal source of revenue to maintain an independent club. Sale of tickets will be conducted in an entirely new and different manner.

All baseball players who wish to try out for berths on the independent team are urged to come to the Fair Grounds next Sunday afternoon when the first official try-outs will be held. WHEN GENERAL PUBLIC TALKS

An aroused public sentiment can sweep polluted legislative halls clean of corrupt politicians who have not the interest of the people at heart. And if we are to believe any part of the street talk we hear, as inaccurate as it is, many politicians in Kentucky and Tennessee are riding for a fall.

This street talk has reached a point where it is now a common thing to hear that no man can secure an important office in these two states, regardless of his personal qualifications, unless he buys in accepts substantial gifts from private individuals or corporations, or makes promises of concessions in the event of election.

If this is true it is bad, for the elimination of the intelligent individual of capacity, who is really equipped to render public service backed by personal capacity, is a step backward. The office seeker who makes one promise before elected, then departs ever so slightly from legitimate appointment, forfeits just that much freedom, and is the tool of the man or group who influence re solicits.

The wave of disregard for the law which has been sweeping the country in recent years can be traced to the lack of confidence with which the people regard their official heads. The people have been misled so many times that they are bewildered. After electing individuals they believed worthy of trust, time after time they have seen them become embroiled in "spoils systems" seek preferment and get mixed up in the political chicanery of their associates.

This same General Public second men defeated by political machines at the polls and in our legislative halls. So is it any wonder that many of our people do not respect laws made and sponsored by leaders in whom they have no confidence.

Thank goodness that we have a man in the White House, who has the confidence of the people because he has their interest at heart. An inbred spark of spiritual righteousness and statesmanship seems to guide our noble President, and his splendid leadership has brought us far along the road to recovery, with the economic depression definitely fading into the distance.

But all over the country, in Kentucky and in Tennessee, political machines are striving to hold their power, and keep the people under a yoke to their own liking. They intend to make the collar—and we wear it whether we like it or not.

What will decent, intelligent citizenship do about it? We predict that the time is coming, in this state and others, when the masses will more forcefully express their dissatisfaction with unsystematized and politically controlled governments.

CARING FOR GRASS

Proper care of the grass on lawns of residences and parks adds much to the attractiveness of landscape. Fulton people should be more careful in this respect for the smooth, even, well-kept lawn beautifies and gives an additional charm to the home and to the city.

The editor of a college newspaper recently remarked that he felt it necessary to print an appeal several times during the year to the students, that they should keep on the walks built for their use, and not across the grass. And particularly that they should not cut across the corners and angles of grass, so as to wear these out and spoil the neat appearance of the campus.

The same suggestion is needed in any community, to interest the people in keeping up the good appearance of their public spaces and home places. There is plenty of room for people on the walks provided for their use, and when they cut across corners and wear the edges of their grass plots, their town begins to look like the man with the frayed trousers and the ragged coat.

We hope this timely suggestion is taken for what it is worth by the citizenry of Fulton, and a concerted effort is made to keep the grass in neat trim on the public and residential lawns.

THEORIES

Money in the average man's pocket burns its way out. Prosperity too often brings discontent, and people begin to search for some imaginative haven of contentment and absolute happiness.

As with the individual, so it is with states and nations. People will struggle against adversity, and be drawn closer together by hardships. But when the necessity of self-preservation is removed, dissatisfaction, envy, jealousy and agitation creep in. Prosperity has a tendency to cause individuals and nations to be careless and disregard the humane side of life, and this very prosperity ultimately brings about misfortune and adversity.

Prosperity was the greatest danger our country faced before the crash in 1929. We had been unusually prosperous, we had had more money than the necessities of life required. The average American family had lived a life of luxury, if we compare the living conditions of our forefathers with those of the past decade.

The "cure-all doctor" with his caldron of steaming political theories offers us a remedy for our real or imaginary problems. Like the magician who can procure a bowl of fish out of a silk hat, he offers us laws to help this class or that class at the expense of another class. But when the curtain goes down on his act, he has our tax money, and we have had the pleasure of seeing him do his political tricks.

The United States is ripe for the "cure-all doctors." They can show us what is wrong with our present economic system, and how by adopting their courses of treatment we can put two dollars in our pocket where we now have one, and better yet, make "the other fellow" pay the bill.

Why should we worry about putting the expense of the government off on some one else, when eventually we must contribute ours to its upkeep. If we do not pay through taxes levied, we are compelled to give our part indirectly. So after all, what we should be most concerned in and thankful for, is the things we now enjoy, however small they may be, and keep down additional tax burdens by NOT adding more governmental expense to provide political jobs for "the gang."

AURORA DAM PLAN IS BEING PUSHED FORWARD

The drive for membership in the Aurora Dam Clubs of Kentucky and Tennessee is being pushed to afford the Lower Tennessee Valley Association greater man power; and already approximately 5,000 persons of the Lower Tennessee Valley are members of Aurora Clubs and thereby members of the LTV. The immediate goal of the Association is the construction of a dam on the Tennessee River at Aurora Landing, and this proposal has met with favor among TVA and other Administration forces.

A delegation sent from the two states to interview Dr. A. E. Morgan, chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, in Knoxville, reported contacts and conferences were successful and Dr. Morgan was found to be compiling far-reaching data on the project which is of vital interest to 1,500,000 people in parts of six states.

The fact is there is no such thing in this country, or in any other, Give the average man "personal liberty" and he will be in jail or at the undertakers in less than an hour after he is turned loose.

All Set For Recovery With Federal Loans to Industry

In recommending loans for industry, President Roosevelt said that $700,000,000 additional working capital would keep 346,000 persons in their present jobs and create employment for 378,000 others.

Thus the administration gives formal recognition and support to a policy of federal assistance for industry that we have been urging for months. And it recognizes what we have said all during this time: namely, that such assistance will protect and increase employment.

This comes at an opportune time for millions of Americans who have found partial employment in CWA, PWA and other government jobs, and who will soon lose this work.

Miss Doretha Murphy spent last Thursday night with Miss Kathryn Barham.

Miss Elizabeth Walker spent last Monday night with Miss Linda Mae Elliott.

We have frequently pointed out that unless industry was put in a position to absorb these workers when their jobs ran out, the federal sums spent to maintain them would have been lost.

The important thing now is to divert government loans into industry promptly, so that real recovery can be speeded as much as possible and no time lost in putting people to work. The President sees the problem exactly as we see it, and it has been quite apparent for some time that Mr. Roosevelt usually sees things in the light that is best for the American people.

As the President pointed out, individual working capital has been lost or seriously depleted in num-

STATE MUST MEET FEDERAL FUNDS FOR RELIEF

FERA is a thing of the past in Fulton, and in its place will probably be established the KERA, or the Kentucky Emergency Relief Administration, provided the state legislature matches the federal appropriation $1 to every $3 given by the national government for relief purposes in Kentucky.

The local relief office shows very little similarity to the once busy place it was a few weeks ago. Unless the legislature takes steps to meet the federal appropriation, relief work here will be practically nil. Officials at the relief office here believe that the new work program will be conducted by projects as has been the custom in the past, with a 24-hour working maximum of employment, graduated downward according to the need of the family supporter. Work will provide those in serious need.

AL JOLSON HAS ONE BLACKFACE SCENE IN "WONDER BAR"

No makeup specialist has ever been able to put blackface makeup on Al Jolson to the actor's satisfaction. When it comes time for the comedian to don burnt cork and a wool wig he shifts himself up in his dressing room and does it himself.

After more than 20 years of practice Jolson can put on or take off the black make-up at a record breaking speed. He dislikes to do it but has become resigned to the public's demand that he appear at least once in every stage and screen production in black-face.

In "Wonder Bar," his latest First National picture showing at the Orpheum Theatre April 22, 23 and 24, in which he appears with Dolores Del Rio, Kay Francis, Dick Powell, Ricardo Cortez and Hal LeRoy, he sings one song and works through one sequence in what he calls "the dark." He demonstrated his old time speed with the cork, while working on this sequence, a speed which enabled him when playing blackface roles on the stage, to appear in the finale in white face and formal clothes.

"Wonder Bar" is the international famous musical drama in which Al Jolson starred for two years on the American stage. The picture is set amid the gay revelries of a Parisian night club with spectacular music and dances.

LAFFOON MAY CALL EXTRA SESSION OF LEGISLATURE ABOUT MAY 26 OR 27

In a statement this week the special legislative interim committee which was created to work out a program by which the state's budget may be balanced, reported that they would recommend enactment of a three per cent general sales tax and a personal and corporate income tax as the best means of obtaining the required amount of revenue.

Senator James H. Thompson, chairman of the legislative interim committee, says "there has been a favorable reaction to the sales tax program to the special session of the state legislature. The people, generally, recognize the necessity of giving proper support to the schools. They also regard the funding of the state debt a matter of good business."

As yet a definite date has not been fixed for the opening of the extraordinary session of the state legislature, but it is believed that Governor Laffoon will call it either May 16 or 23. The administration is prepared to put over the sales tax, which is bitterly opposed in some quarters, with many members of the legislature under oath to oppose the sales tax.

BOBBIE MATTHEWS WINS BY K. O. ROUTE

Bobbie Matthews, Fulton's ace leather pusher, met Burl Pickens of Eldorado, Ill., at the Hanger athletic club in Marion, Ill., Tuesday night, in a scheduled ten round main event. Although Pickens was slated as a tough mauler, Matthews put over a punch to the jaw in the fourth round which laid his opponent down for the count.

Matthews has been fighting several times recently, with other bouts tentatively arranged. He is a rugged hard fighter, who can either dish it out or take it, and his ring generalship is showing marked advances. He has a nice string of knockouts to his credit, and has fought some mighty good men in his division.

Really now, does any public official conduct his office "without fear or public favor," or is that just a campaign slogan?

HOMEMAKERS HAVE SUCCESSFUL TRAINING SCHOOL

Local leaders representing every Homemakers Club in Fulton-Hickman Counties attended the Food Leaders Training Schools held on Thursday, April 5th at the home of Mrs. W. R. Magruder in Clinton and on Friday, April 6th in the Hickman High School in Hickman. Miss Florence Inlay, Extension Specialist, in Food and Nutrition from the University of Kentucky, led classes in these meetings and the lesson was on cereals. Reasons for eating cereals, the food value received from them and ways of preparing were among the subjects discussed at the meetings.

A review of the lesson for the past month on the preparation of vegetables was given and reported. How that the women have been very much interested in the lesson on vegetables. The fact that meal consisting entirely of vegetables could be prepared and served in short time is an entirely new idea to most of the Homemakers. Many women reported cooking vegetables a short or length of time, learning to eat new vegetables and preparing vegetables in different ways, all of which are improvements in the method of feeding the family.

At the Cereal Training School hominy a la golden rod and crackles were cooked and hominy was made using baking soda instead of lye. The advantages of this method were discussed. This lesson is to be given by the leaders at the regular monthly meetings of the Homemakers Clubs in the county this month.

The leaders who attended these meetings and the clubs they represent are: Clarice Bonduant, Cayce; Mrs. W. R. Magruder, Mrs. J. H. Lawrence, Clinton; Mrs. Myrtle Weatherford, Mrs. Eunice Reece, Proley; Delma Moore, Mrs. W. V. Little, Critchfield; Mrs. E. C. 1934 FAIR $40,000,000 INVESTMENT

An investment of more than forty million dollars will be represented in the 1934 World's Fair at Chicago, according to the Illinois Central Magazine. More than fifty of last year's structures have been torn down and approximately $5,000,000 is being spent building new ones and remodeling old.

Last year's Midway will become an Avenue of Nations, with reproductions of foreign villages on both sides, and the new Midway will be along the boardwalk near the bathing beach. Spectacular water displays and colored light effects are being arranged.

The opening date of the 1934 fair has been advanced to May 26 for convenience of visitors planning to spend the Memorial Day week-end in Chicago. The railroads again will participate extensively, both by having exhibits and by offering attractive fares.

DICKENS' BROTHER ONCE RAILWAY EMPLOYEE

Augustus N. Dickens, brother of the noted writer, Charles Dickens, was employed first as a clerk and later as a correspondent in the Land Department of the Illinois Central Railroad at South Water Street, Chicago, from July, 1860 until his death on October 4, 1866.

His body lies beside those of his wife and three children, triplets, in an unmarked grave in Graceland Cemetery, Chicago. His was the nickname, "Boz," later adopted by his distinguished brother.

Augustus, drawn to Illinois by the "land rush" of the 40's, established and edited the first weekly newspaper in Amboy, Ill., before moving to Chicago.

YOUR HEALTH

by C.W. CURLIN M.D.
FULTON, KENTUCKY

HOW AND WHY TO EXERCISE

For the human body to be healthy and function normally its muscular system must be exercised properly. When and how each person should exercise, depends upon your daily life. The laborer needs no additional exercise, while the brain worker or business man must exercise if he expects to maintain a healthy body. Children should be active during all of their waking hours, and will be if allowed. They should not be cramped in the school room for too many hours daily. That their bodies be healthy is really more important than their brain development. A healthy body first, other developments secondary, should be the goal of every person.

This article will apply to those of sedentary habits, whose daily life does not give the body the necessary amount of muscular exercise. On rising in the morning, just after getting out of bed, take your "Daily Dozen." Work the arms and legs, stretch full height on toes, bend, squat and twist the body, do this until slightly fatigued.

Now for a shower bath if possible and take several long full breaths, expanding the chest and lungs to their fullest, exhaling completely. This exercises all of the muscles of the chest, lungs and breathing apparatus, at the same time renovating the residual air kept in the lungs during ordinary breathing.

Now for a shower bath if possible if not a shower a tub or sponge, tapered off with a cool sponge and a brisk rubbing of the skin with a coarse towel. You are now ready for breakfast and a good day's work.

In the afternoon or evenings take a brisk walk, a game of golf, swimming or any other exercise that will bring the general muscular system into play.

The above regime consistently executed will make the body much more healthy, banish pessimism, abolish brain fog, change the vexing problems of the day to matters of small moment, and make you feel that life is worth living.

to serve waffles. They're such a joy for they are so very easy to make and if you have an electric waffle iron they are sure always to have the golden tenderness that is the mark of all successful waffles.

The next time someone dreams of an evening of bridge, don't rack your brains for an idea of how to stretch one can of sardines and a few olives into an impromptu supper. Just stir up the batter for the pecan waffles below and serve them with maple syrup, honey or just melted butter, with piping hot, amber coffee as a complement and your evening will be a complete success.

Gingerbread waffles served with hard sauce or whipped cream is a dessert to be eaten with joy and remembered with pleasure. Try them the next time you want to serve a really impressive dessert.

Below are just a few impersonations of versatile waffle. With these as a working basis you will be able to develop all sorts of new and delicious ways of serving them we're sure.

PECANS WAFFLES

1½ cups flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon soda, 1 cup thick sour milk, 2 eggs, 4 tablespoons melted butter, ¾ cup pecan meats.

Sift together flour, salt and soda; add finely chopped pecan meats; combine slightly beaten egg yolks, milk and melted butter. Add liquids to dry ingredients, folding mixture together lightly. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour 1 tablespoon of batter in each section of the waffle iron and bake until brown, or no steam emerges from iron. Makes a temptingly crisp waffle.

CREAM WAFFLES

2½ cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1½ cups sweet cream, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs. Combine the cream and slightly beaten egg yolks. Add to sifted dry ingredients and lightly fold in well beaten egg whites. ½ teaspoon vanilla may be added if desired. Bake at once. Finely chopped ham or bacon may be sprinkled on batter before baking.

SOUTHERN WAFFLES

2 cups milk, 1 cup boiling water, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, 1 cup cornmeal, 4 tablespoons melted butter. Pour boiling water over cornmeal. Sift dry ingredients together. Add milk, butter and slightly beaten egg yolks to cooled cornmeal. Sift in dry ingredients. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake at once in hot waffle iron.

GINGERBREAD WAFFLES

2½ cups flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1½ teaspoon ginger, 4 tablespoons melted butter, 1-2 teaspoon allspice, 1½ teaspoons soda, 1 cup molasses, 1 egg 1-2 cup sour milk.

Combine molasses milk and slightly beaten egg yolk. Add to sifted dry ingredients and stir lightly until mixture is smooth. Add butter and fold in stiffly beaten egg white. Bake in hot waffle iron and serve with sweetened whipped cream.

THINK IT OVER

THE WHOLE SCHEME

"The whole scheme of Christianity is to teach men to prepare for death," is the opening sentence of a writer of an article in a church paper that came to my desk the other day. Farther along in the article the writer makes another rash statement when he declares, in an attempt to prove a point, "every book in the Bible teaches us of God."

The writer is full of prunes and his last declaration, no less than the first, shows his ignorance of the Bible and his lack of comprehension of the teachings of the founder of the Bible. His declaration that "every book in the Bible teaches us of God," is not true. The Book of Esther contains no reference to the Supreme Being, the word "God" is not mentioned in the entire book. But his ignorance of the Bible fully qualifies him to teach others all about the great Book and makes him a leader of men. The world, especially the religious world, is full of such ignoramuses. Like the poor, we have them with us always.

The whole scheme of Christianity is not to teach us how to die, but rather how to live. Our complex modern life brings to us all sorts of problems. Life itself is a problem in this life we are constantly faced with all kinds and characters of responsibilities and the eternal question of right and wrong is before us constantly. These we must decide, each for himself, and the teaching of Christ is the only standard of measurement we have in our decision.

The whole of the teachings of the Bible is for this life, not for the hereafter. Life is NOW and we know it, the hereafter is something we know nothing of or about, but if we live right here, we need have no fear of the beyond.

If you would "prepare for death," as so many religious speakers and writers urge, you must first of all be prepared to live. I have no sort of patience with the religious enthusiasts who go into a frenzy over the spectacle of death and try to scare their hearers and readers of the holy men. If these self-constituted leaders would urge men and women to live right, there would be no fear of death. But in that case possibly the would-be leaders would lose their jobs. You're not compelled to agree with this thought but—think it over.

My son, remember this—you never will have much "luck" doing that which you don't like to do, while on the other hand you will generally be "lucky" doing that which you like to do.

Perhaps others do not think as you think because they think more intelligently. Dig ever think of that?

Is a waffle merely a waffle to you? Just something to serve for breakfast Sunday morning? Have you really any idea at all just how versatile the waffle is? Piled high with creamed chicken or tuna fish it becomes a delectable main course. Made with cornmeal and served with baby sausages it becomes a breakfast fast dish that's fit for kings. And with a scoop of ice cream placed between two crisp sections it becomes a dessert that any hostess would be proud to serve the most discriminating guests.

I have been using Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills for thirty years. No matter what kind of pain I have, they stop it almost instantly. Never without them in the house.

Chas. W. Webb,

As a household remedy I have never found anything that equalled Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills.

I never found anything that was so good to stop pain as Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills. I have told many about them and I find they are all using them.

I have been using Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills for years. I keep them on hand all the time. I can certainly recommend them for pain.

DR. MILES' ANTI-PAIN PILLS

You're The Loser

WHEN you allow Headache, Neuralgia, Muscular, Rheumatic, Sciatic or Periodic Pains to keep you from work or pleasure.

You can't go places and do things when you are suffering—and the work or good times won't wait for you.

Why allow Pain to rob you of Health, Friends, Happiness, Money?

DR. MILES ANTI-PAIN PILLS have been used for the relief of pain for more than forty years. They taste good, act quickly, do not upset the stomach, nor cause constipation, leave no dull, depressed feeling.

Thousands have used them for twenty, thirty, forty years, and still find that nothing else relieves pain so promptly and effectively.

Why don't you try them? Once you know how pleasant they are to take, how quickly and effectively they relieve, you won't want to go back to disagreeable, slow acting medicines.

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT

The closing date for the signing of corn-hog reduction contracts will be on or about April 30th, 1934. Between now and then, the sign-up in Fulton county must be completed and the survey of all non-signers made. Accordingly a special sign up week has been arranged for April 16 to 21. All corn-hog producers who have not signed contracts must do so on Tuesday, Wednesday or Saturday at Fulton, and on Monday, Thursday, Friday or Saturday at Hickman—next week only. Those who are unable to fill out work sheets, should call on one of the committeemen to assist them. It is urged that all corn-hog men sign up next week or some may be left out. The program choruses were practiced by the entire department. Refreshments were served to the members and two tea guests, Mrs. Murphy and Miss Mary Swann.
