RUSSELLVILLE

ded by Night Riders and Two Factories Burned and Other Houses Destroyed.

Russellville, Ky., Jan. 5.—The town visited by Night Riders morning between 12 and 1:30 p. m. and a destructive raid along the same line as those at Metton and Hopkinsville.

A body of men estimated from 50 to 75 entered the city from the Nashville road and after putting both telephone offices under guard proceeded to destroy the two independent tobacco factories of the town.

The L. W. Wake factory on Main street was burned and several other houses in its vicinity also went up in flames.

The American Snuff Co's brick factory on Bank street, of which Mr. Pitts was manager, a fine building covering a whole square, was also destroyed. The report is that dynamite was used to demolish the masonry.

Robertson & Brown's plaining mill and the livery stable of King & Proctor on Main street, caught from the Luckett-Wake fire and were burned. Also a grocery run by a negro man in the same vicinity. Three cabins occupied by negroes near the factories were also destroyed by the spreading of the flames.

One report is that 4 men were wounded by shots fired when they were ordered to run.

One citizen named Moseley was hit and Dr. Roberts, of Evansville, who was in the city, was wounded in the face. Also two railroad men whose names were not learned. None of the wounded men was dangerously hurt.

The raid itself was on a smaller scale than the one in Hopkinsville Dec. 7.

The property losses have not been figured up, but will not fall far below $75,000.

The Mr. Pitt referred to in the above article is a brother of P. H. Pitt, of this place, and a member of the firm of Griffin & Pitt, who have the Italian contract for this county.

Two More Towns.

Owingsville, Ky., Jan. 7.—A masked gang of Night Riders, numbering about one hundred persons, armed and mounted on horses, raided the towns of Bethel, in this county, and Sherburne, in Fleming county, last night and the early hours of this morning.

At Bethel, the raiders burned A. T. Robinson's tobacco warehouse and destroyed the general merchandise store of Peters Brothers.

The tobacco house contained about sixty thousand pounds of tobacco.

The Night Riders, after applying the torch at Bethel, galloped to the town of Sherburne, where they burned to the ground the large tobacco warehouse of Dougherty Brothers.

This house contained one hundred thousand pounds of tobacco. The tobacco losses by reason of the raids aggregate $25,000.

Tobacco Brothers loss is large. No shots were fired at either place.

An Elected President Prof. Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 7.—The caucus of the Democrats was held last night nominated W. J. BRADY, of Simpson, for speaker; and clerk, James E. Stone, of Russellville; assistant clerk, M. F. McNeely, of Crittendon county; and at-large, C. W. Longmire, of Lexington, doorkeeper, Q. C. Dunn, of Lincoln; enrolling clerk, Miss Amy Lyons, of Jessamine. All of the fifty-one Democratic members of the house were present and participated in the caucus.

The senate Democratic caucus last night nominated Conn Linn, of Calloway, for president pro-tem; William Cromwell, of Frankfort, chief clerk; Jesse Al-venson, of Stanford, assistant clerk; Miss Annie Nourse, of Hardin, enrolling clerk; Oscar Vest, of Owen, sergeant-at-arms; John Thomas, of Graves, door-keeper.

The Republicans of the house and senate held a joint caucus and nominated Wm. J. Bradley, for United States senator unani-mously. They will hold separate caucuses.

The legislature convened at noon today and the Democratic nominees elected in the caucus were elected. James F. Haswell was the Republican nominee against W. J. Gooch. Beckham is gaining ground in his race for the senate and his managers are confident of his election.

General store burned.

The general merchandise store of Johnson Hendricks at Rockcastle in Trigg county, was entirely destroyed by fire, together with all of its contents last week. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin and occurred after midnight. Only a few weeks ago a village of Rockcastle was almost wiped off the map by a conflagration and Mr. Hendricks was one of the victims of that fire. He opened up a new store in Rockcastle. He had no insurance.

Special Court at Hopkinsville.

The special term of circuit court of Christian county was convened at Hopkinsville last Thursday. The grand jury to investigate the raid of the night riders is composed as follows:

N. A. Barnett, foreman; Sam Miller, O. A. West, Lev. Rogers, J. H. Sergeant, D. J. McCord, W. H. Butler, Alex. Carpenter, Sam Wright, C. T. Yancy, John Kelly and B. P. Armstrong.

About half the jurors are members of the association. Only two are from Hopkinsville. The Circuit Judge's instructions were very lengthy, occupying an hour and a half.

Accused of Night Riding.

Herman Richard Crenshaw, a young farmer of Trigg county, was arrested at Hopkinsville on the charge of being a member of the mob which raided Hopkinsville on the morning of December 7. The warrant was issued at the instance of State Fire Marshal Mott Ayres on affidavits made by W. D. Hawkins, who claims he recognized Crenshaw as a member of a portion of the mob which took him prisoner. After seeing Crenshaw face to face Hawkins swore to a second affidavit of identification. Crenshaw, who was released on $2,000 bond, denies the charge.

Association Meeting.

MGR. EWING

Makes Glowing Report and Com- pletes Arrangements for Ad- vance Money.

Nashville, Jan. 1.—Judging from the reports that come from the dark tobacco district of Tennessee and Kentucky, the outlook for the new year seems bright for the members of the Planters' Protective Association in the successful fight which they are conducting against the tobacco trusts.

In the first place the statement made on the authority of Mr. Felix Ewing, general manager, that the affairs of the association are in good shape and that arrangements have been made for financing any solvent bank in the tobacco district which is in need of assistance in order to successfully move the new crop.

The movement of the 1907 crop has commenced and active operations will be conducted from now until the entire crop has been prized and sold. It is understood that out of the perhaps seventy-five banks in the dark tobacco district about half have signified their readiness to do their part in the way of advancing money with which to move the crop. The arrangements to assist banks in the tobacco district were, it is stated, made here in Nashville where an agreement has been made with local parties to let solvent banks which may require additional cash for the tobacco crop, at what they need. This is one of the most important movements in connection with the operations of the association and means that the farmers will get their money for the tobacco crops and that everything will run smoothly so far as the financial arrangements of the association are concerned.

Asks For Pardon.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 4.—Caleb Powers, a negro, came to Frankfort today and endeavored to persuade Governor Willson to grant him executive clemency.

Although they will make no statement about it there is a "hot tip" out tonight that both Powers and Jim Howard are to be pardoned as a result of the showing made in the former's case at Georgetown.

It is said that the Governor will not free the two prisoners until after the legislature has convened. The attorneys have taken over the entire case.

Guthrie, Ky., Jan. 1.—To the Banks of the "Black Patch":

In view of the financial stringency which is prevailing throughout the district, the association has actively taken up the matter of procuring necessary money for the planters, and has consummated an arrangement with the American National Bank, of Nashville, Tenn., by which any solvent bank throughout the district can procure funds.

The officers of this bank have been well known to the write for many years, and will be found thoroughly honorable and agreeable in their business methods. I invite your correspondence with this bank immediately.

Yours truly,
F. G. EWING,
General Manager.

New City Officials.

Last Friday night the old city council met in regular session for its final meeting before turning the city government over to the new board.

The session was devoted to winding up all outstanding business and transaction of routine work. In retiring the old council does so with a feeling that their labors have not been in vain. Taking charge at the time the city was in debt to the amount of about $1,250 they have seen this liquidated, streets have been improved, the City Cemetery placed in the most splendid condition ever known, ordinances requiring the construction of concrete walks passed, together with other public improvements. The old council retires leaving no indebtedness and a neat cash balance to turn into the hands of

WARNED

Night Riders Notify Henry Pace, of Kirksey, No to Deliver His Tobacco.

A note addressed to "Sam Pace" and signed "Night Riders" was found last Sunday morning tied on the yard gate at the residence of Henry Pace, one of the county's prosperous and well known citizens of the Kirksey section.

The note was wrapped around a large loaded rifle cartridge and contained three matches. The note, which has been turned over to County Judge Wells, was written with a pencil in a neat and legible manner and is as follows:

SAM PACE.—
If you deliver your tobacco outside of the association we will tend to you in a rough way for we don't aim for such scrubs as you to impose on the people any longer. Now we are watching you and if you sell this tobacco we will get you and your barns for we are tired of being fooled with by your kind.

On the reverse side of the note was a postscript saying:

"This will be your portion if you sell your tobacco."

Mr. Pace is a prosperous farmer and is not a member of the association. He grew a large crop of tobacco the past year and sold $7 and $12 and has delivered a part of the crop to the purchaser. He is a well liked citizen and as far as he knows has not a single enemy. He turned the note over to the county authorities the first of the week and expressed himself as being un-

the Planters' Protective association, who is in the city with the object of promoting the interest of his society, says he realizes that this must be done by peaceable and lawful methods and that those engaged in the fight against the tobacco trust who think that success may be won by defying the law must be brought to a similar realization.

This is undoubtedly the only battle-ground on which victory can be won by the tobacco growers. Their fight against oppression and monopoly justly commands general popular sympathy as long as it is made without infringing on the legal rights of others, but whenever any of those enlisted in this fight do violence to such rights they work more injury to the cause of the planters than it is in the power of the trust itself to work.

We believe the leaders of the growers organizations understand this, and, understanding it, they cannot better strengthen their own campaign for justice than by heartily co-operating with the authorities in putting down lawlessness. Courier-Journal.

The Ledger published in its issue of last week the regular quarterly statement of the Bank of Murray, at the close of business Dec. 31, 1907. This statement is one of the best ever made by this old and well established institution and shows a most prosperous condition of the bank.

Phone 32 is regarded among the best institutions in the state. It is evidence of the steady growth in business and of the confidence of the leading business men and individuals of this section. We invite your careful reading of the statement.

A strange dog afflicted with rabies was killed the past week at the residence of Rev. Humphreys. The animal's head after it was killed was sent to Nashville for analysis to determine positively whether or not it was suffering of rabies. Information was sent to Health Officer Graves after the examination was made to the effect that the dog was infected and advised that other dogs which had been exposed should be killed. These orders have been executed. A fine bird dog the property of J. Y. Mills also devoured rabies the last of the week and was killed. The city has had quite a severe and extreme precaution is advised.

The Calloway County Produce state that they can pay more to produce here than any other section this side of New York. This same concern is in business at Benton and at that place last Friday paid 5 cents for chickens and 16 cents for eggs. At this place they are paying 8 cents for chickens and 18 cents for eggs. Why is this? Farmers, is because there is no competition and as you know the natives are true to their word. The dealers here are the same as Benton. They pay top prices at all times and are a share of the profits. B. T. J. Hol-

Pool Room Re-Installed.

The pool room is again in full blast. Tom Banks and Emmett Holland went with Roy Waller to Paducah and purchased the outfit and had it shipped back to this place and at once opened up for business over Banks' cafe. Mr. Waller was prosecuted for permitting minors to play without a permit, and in the compromise settlement made with the county attorney and judge, was denied the right to sell the outfit here and agreed to ship it out of the city. The total fines and costs to Mr. Waller, including the cost of the license he was forced to forfeit, amounted to nearly $500. He was prosecuted in both the city and county courts and heavy penalties imposed in each court. The fine is regarded one of the heaviest cash fines ever imposed in the county.

Banks & Holland expects to run an orderly place and under no circumstance will permit boys under 17 years to enter the pool room or minors under 21 and over 17 years of age to play without a written permit from parent or guardian.

The financial statement of the Citizens Bank, at the close of business Dec. 31, 1907, was published in our issue of last week. This is the second oldest institution of its character in the county and since its establishment has rapidly forged to the front as one of the leading concerns of Western Kentucky. The statement should be read by everyone, and will thoroughly acquaint the readers with the splendid and prosperous condition of the bank.

MELONS IN STORAGE

HOW PEACE JUSTICE DECIDED COMPLICATED CASE.

Both Sides Seemed to Have the Law on Their Side, and the Judge Arose Sublimely to the Occasion.

Problems worthy of Solomon's acumen are often submitted to these rural arbitrators, justices of the peace in the Macon county (Mo.) archives is a case of this sort:

Timothy Kain, a farmer of Easley township, set out some watermelon vines which thrived so luxuriously that they trespassed upon the field of his neighbor, Felix Hopper. When gathering time came Kain's attempt to harvest his runaway product was rebuffed by Hopper, for whom the township was named, was asked to decide the ownership of ten watermelons worth 15 cents apiece. The lawyers for Kain read books to show that his clear title to the next county should travel so far. Hopper's lawyers produced equally sound reading to prove that Hopper was entitled by law to anything that camped on his premises. It wasn't Hopper's fault, they said, if the vines wanted to spread out and go visiting; he had the same right to them that he would have to a colony of honey bees that might get tired of being with Kain and concluded to move over and make honey for Hopper.

Squire Easley let the lawyers spout until they had read through all their books, then arose to his six feet and said:

"Mitchell has read books that make it absolutely certain that melons belong to Kain. I hadn't any doubt in my world about that till Guthrie here got up and turned Mitchell's law book side up. There's no question but what's there enough law in the books for both Kain and Hopper. The court ought to make 'em happy. The court decides, under the circumstances that the law deciding both ways, there's nothing to do but to hand out justice as he sees it. The judgment of the court is that those are Kain's melons."

"Thank you, your honor," said Mitchell, arising and bowing.

"But that he's indebted to Hopper 20 cents apiece for storage," finished the justice.

"But, your honor," said Mitchell indignantly, "you can't do that. They haven't filed any claim for storage, besides, you're allowing them more for melons than they're worth on the market."

"The court will take judicial notice of the defendant's rights, offset or no," said Squire Easley, with some asperity. "And your own evidence shows Hopper was diligently guarding Kain's melons."

"Guarding it?"

"Yes, Kain himself testified Hopper was with a shotgun when he climbed over the fence."—Kansas City Star.

A Definition of Success.

How have the hypothetical scientists and the exponent of unbelief benefited themselves or humanity at large by sowing the seeds of doubt broadcast in the world? The real scientists do not fall in this category, for they are believers in the real sense of the word; they know too much, they have seen too many mysterious manifestations of the Divine creative power. Now, those who have disposed of the Bible and all evidences of inspiration, have written a great many books and some of them have been called famous. According to the ordinary measures that are applied in such cases, they have been extremely successful, but real success means the benefit of humanity in some form or other. If no such benefit can be shown as the result of their labors, their success is not equal to that achieved by the direct poverty and the deepest ignorance.—Joel Chandler, in Uncle Remus Magazine.

The Gocart Should Go.

The Gocart is killing, says a writer in the New York Press. No man or woman could sleep in one; and it is a crime to make infants sit up ten hours a day in such contraptions. The infant should be allowed to lie down flat on its back and have a good snooze. Whenever I feel a little stupid on a hot afternoon and allow myself to sit in a chair and nod I feel a sort of tingling at my heart and am dazed on awakening. It is not healthful. The steepest of the equatorial regions is never enjoyed without. The scoria and the serena recline. They also relax. Their little sleep lasts about two hours and it is all sleep. Let the child lie down. It is better for it to have its feet above its head than its head above its feet. Get rid of the gocart immediately.

A Distinction.

"Gentlemen," said the prisoner, after acquittal, "I thank you for my vindication."

"Young fellow," replied the foreman of the jury, "you don't seem to know the difference between a vindication and a streak of good luck."

THINKS WHILE HE WORKS.

One Man Who Saves Money for the Firm.

There once was a man who did not do things. He was running a certain section of a certain large firm's business, and people began to talk of him.

"What's the matter with that fellow?" said they. "Do you notice how he does nothing? All he does all day is—nothing, or, not much, at all events. How does he manage to hang on?"

The other fellow made reply to the effect that "He does not hang on. He's anchored here. If he wasn't, he'd be let out. But he'll never get any further up. Watch him."

And everybody watched.

One day this certain firm happened to have a certain thing happen on its hands that stirred everybody up. It was a big contract, and there was something wrong with the wording, so the firm had to win a big lawsuit or lose a lot of money. And all the people in the firm, everybody who did things, began to run around and say: "What are we going to do? What are we going to do?"

And the man who did not do things sat at his desk and smoked.

Finally everybody had turned in their suggestions and the firm was going to begin to fight the case for some time. And then the man who did not do things spoke.

"Suppose I go over and see the other firm and try to frame up a compromise," said he. "We'll both lose money if it goes into the courts. They'll lose; we'll lose. Suppose we see if we can't make them see it in the same light."

The head of the firm threw up his hands and collapsed.

"Good heavens," he gasped, "why didn't somebody think of that before?"

And the man who did things made reply: "We've been too busy planning the fight to have time to think about it."

And the head turned to the one man and said: "How in the name of that profitable did you happen to have such an inspiration?"

And the man laughed.

"That's no inspiration," he said; "that's common sense. I simply have not back here—not doing things—thinking. And I know we can square it up."

And they did.

Moral: Don't do things—all the time. Think a little.

Atmospheric Changes.

Prof. Milne, the great British seismologist, has demonstrated that at least part of the weather and changes in the atmosphere's temperature seems to come from below instead of directly from the sun. He has been in the habit of leaving an ingenious photographic arrangement in quarries when examined later, was found to be marked from time to time by dark bands. Some of these markings occurred at the time of earthquakes, but by no means all. Scientists say that most minerals become luminous at frequent intervals. The cliffs of Dover have been seen suddenly to gleam and hilltops become visible in the darkness. The conclusion is that the disturbing forces which go on even at the very center of the earth are converted before they reach the surface into heat and light and make all manner of difference in climate and weather.

Another Kind of Infant.

She had been looking around the drug and toilet goods department of one of the big shops for some time when she suddenly approached her. "Haven't you anything harder than these?" she asked, holding up a rubber teething ring.

"None," responded the clerk, "these are the hardest that come."

"Oh, dear," said the woman; "he has chewed up three of those already."

"Chewed them up?" exclaimed the clerk. "I don't see how a baby—"

"Oh, it isn't a baby," she explained. "I want it for my little dog."

Errors of Lawmakers.

Some absurd clauses have found their way into certain acts of the British parliament. One statute enacted punishment of 14 years' transportation for a certain offense, and upon conviction the half thereof should go to the king, and the other half to the informer. Then there is an act of parliament for the rebuilding of Chelmsford prison which stipulated in one clause that the prisoners should be confined in the old prison until the new one was built and in another—an amending-clause, that the new prison should be constructed out of the material of the old one.

Money in Small Inventions.

The man who invented the common and necessary shoelace realized $2,500,000 from that alone. The man who patented the first patent on the umbrella realized $2,000,000, and different umbrella patents of other people have brought $10,000,000 altogether. The inventor of the metal hepatitis made $1,500,000 annually as royalty on his simple invention.

Preparing for the Future.

"So you want more wages," said the warden of the penitentiary.

"That's what I do," answered the cook. "This talk of punishing trust magnates is getting me more nervous every day. I've got to learn to cook cereals and lobster a la Newberg. I want more pay. And what's more, I want to be called a 'chef.'"

USEFUL HOME HINTS

SUGGESTIONS THAT HAVE BEEN FOUND VALUABLE.

Simple Remedy for the Annoying Chubbiness—Novel and Effective Manner of Cleaning Laces—Cure for Cold Feet.

A busy woman, employed during the day in sewing in other people's homes, sends the following useful suggestions:

1. Some one asked for a remedy for chubbiness. Here is a simple cure. Cut an onion in two, put table salt on the cut side and rub it upon the affected part. Do this a few times and the cure will be effected.
2. To clean draperies, use sawdust and ammonia. Put the sawdust in a tub and pour in enough household ammonia to soak it and let it stand the draperies or curtains free of dust. Put them into the sawdust and with a small white broom, rub the furniture well into the article to be cleaned. The dirt will disappear at once. Hang out of doors to dry and air.
3. To clean lace, get a large paper bag and put the lace into it. Pour in a quart or more of Indian meal, hard, but specially for some minutes. Do this several days, and four or five times a day. I cleaned a handkerchief in that way and it came out as white as snow.
4. Get rid of water bugs and ants, weekly, by reaching by washing shelves and floors with borax. I live in an apartment where there are 25 families, and I have not had a bug of any kind for years. I also clean my carpets every Friday with borax, and never had a moth. I sprinkle borax in my racks, boxes and drawers, and in my closets and under my bed. Turpentine is the good for washing wood and floors in closets and under my bed. Moths will not live in a place that has been washed with turpentine.
5. For cold feet and cramps, an old doctor told me once to rub the shinbone up and down until the flesh and bone are hot. I tried it and have never suffered from cold feet and cramps after doing it.
6. A common oyster shell is a durable pot-and-pan cleaner. I got my husband to drill a hole in the center of one and to put a lid knob in it. One may buy one knob at a hardware store for three cents, or two for five cents.
7. If I put a half cupful of water in the saucepan in which I am about to cook oysters, then pour the milk of one egg into the water, and let the water come to a boil, then add the milk or cream, or both. Then I let that boil before the oysters go in. I never need to clean burned milk from my saucepan.

Iced Coffee.

Pour one quart of boiling water on one cupful of coffee. Stir and let stand in a cool place, for 15 minutes. Pour in three quarts of water. Have also a quart of well heated milk, not boiled, and pour the coffee and milk mixture into a freezer. Sweeten with powdered sugar. Cover the freezer, place in a tub of ice and rock salt, and let it stand for an hour or two. Turn the handle of the freezer in different directions for five minutes, and serve in coffee glasses with powdered sugar, passed separately.

Clean Old Cloak.

It is not always necessary to send light cloth coats or cloaks to the cleaners whenever they appear a little soiled by smoke and dust. A successful method for removing surface dirt consists in rubbing the material with equal parts of oatmeal and whiting applied with a piece of flannel. The coat should be well shaken, and the same application repeated once or twice. After shaking it once more, it should be pressed on the wrong side with a warm iron.

Renovate Skirt.

An old black skirt may be successfully cleaned as follows: First of all, brush and shake it well to get rid of the dust, then brush carefully all over with a good hard clothes brush dipped in moist vinegar, using plenty of the vinegar. The skirt should then be hung out in the air for an hour to dry and then pressed on the wrong side over a damp cloth. The ordinary serge or cloth skirt will be found to look like new after this treatment.

Tutti Frutti for Invalids.

For invalids who are all-wet to eat fruit there is nothing more dainty and refreshing than the following: Take one box blackberries, wash and pound cherries, peel and cut four lemons, and powder with sugar to taste and mix thoroughly. Put this early in the morning and set on the ice to keep cold.

Luncheon Fads.

Among the new social fads is that of serving a poached egg on a small square of toast to each guest at luncheon and tea. This has long been in English custom and has lately been introduced in New York by society women who have just returned from London.

Put Up Preserves.

In putting up fruit in glass jars, should be taken to get fresh rubber each season. This is a comparatively small expense and will save worry from leaking jars.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It is to be considered that the primary and tender troubles are to be regarded, overlooking the enormous, overhauling error.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work. If the kidneys are weak, the blood is impure, and the body is diseased. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected, and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

DON'T WAIT.

Take Advantage of Kentucky Citizens' Experience Before It's Too Late.

When the back begins to ache, Don't wait until backache becomes chronic. Till serious kidney troubles develop.

Till urinary troubles destroy night's rest.

Mrs. L. B. Taylor, of 810 East Jefferson St., Louisville, Ky., says: "Several years ago I contracted a cold which settled in my kidneys. I suffered a great deal from pains across my back and loins and was also much annoyed by the too frequent action of the kidney secretions, especially at night. I steadily grew worse, began to be annoyed by dizziness and a feeling of languor and depression. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills and felt relief from the first. I continued the treatment and was soon cured. I gave a statement to this effect in 1900 and am glad to find the same at this time for my cure has proven to be a permanent one."

USE FOR OLD SHIRTWAISTS.

Discarded Garments May Be Utilized in Many Ways.

Discarded white shirtwaists are not the useless articles they first appear. One with a pretty front may be cut out in neck and arms for a corset cover. A child's gimp or a lady's chemise may also be cut from the portions of handsome waists, while turn-over collars are easily obtained from embroidered fronts. The edges are bound around with bias folds or narrow braid. A plain shirtwaist forms a good foundation for a chemise of sheer material, as it adds in holding article in place. The sleeves and neck are cut out, the armholes bound, and the chemise stitched into position. If desired, the tail portion may be cut away just above the waist line, doing away with extra bulk at that point. A narrow hem will do as a finish.

Buttered Rice.

A nice "made-over" entree for lunch is made by boiling rice, draining well, and placing white warm in a bowl or mold. The next day turn it out carefully upon a pie plate and set in a quick oven. When hot all through draw to you in the oven and butter plentifully. After this let in the oven until it browns lightly. Then butter again, stir over it a thick coating of cheese—preferably Parmesan—and leave in the oven until the cheese is melted. Then heap irregularly with a meringue of whites of two eggs, beaten up with a pinch of celery salt. Brown very lightly, slip a spatula under the mold, and transfer to a hot platter.

Cheese Pudding.

One cupful each of grated or chopped cheese, bread crumbs and milk, one beaten egg, one teaspoonful of butter, one-half teaspoonful each of salt and mixed mustard, one saltspoonful of pepper. Put cheese and bread crumbs in alternate layers in a buttered pudding dish, mix egg, milk and seasoning, and pour over and bake until firm, or about 15 minutes. Serve hot.

DIET FOR INVALID

DISHES THAT ARE BOTH NOURISHING AND TEMPTING.

Hot Weather Is Period Most Trying Both for Invalid and Nurse—Cold Broth Sometimes Better Than Hot.

The chronic invalid or convalescent particularly an object of pity in mid-summer. The appetite is less capacious in cold weather than in hot, and unfortunately for the household is less inclined to put forth special effort at the very time when the invalid is most exacting. As the convalescence or the effort of the invalid member of the household depends so much upon the diet, the effort to supply food of nourishment and appetizing must be sustained. Plainness is extremely important in serving food for an invalid. This, undecorated china and glassware, a liberal use of the inexpensive paper doilies, and garishness of fresh parsley, cross and silver of lemon will help along the good work of tickling the faded appetite.

Read, the staff of life, is always a problem in serving the invalid. When toast fails, try pulled bread for a change. This can be made in connection with your regular baking day, kept in a dry place and heated as needed.

Pulled Bread.—Bake ordinary yeast bread in the shape of long, narrow French loaves. When cool, but not entirely cold, cut lengthwise through the center, then with two forks scoop or pull the bread out of the crust and still using the forks, pull it apart in strips six or seven inches long and an inch, or an inch and a half in width and thickness. Line a large baking pan with brown paper and arrange the strips of bread on this, rough and crinkled edges uppermost. Set in the oven with the door partly open until it dries out thoroughly, then close the door until the bread turns a golden brown. Warm each time before serving. This is much like zwieback, but its odd shape appeals to the invalid.

If broths must be served as nourishment, try them ice cold instead of hot. The nutritive qualities are there just the same and, if properly seasoned, ice broths are just as good for the patient as the hot ones, and infinitely more tasty. Here are two recipes for chicken and clam broth. Serve either in a dainty cup, topped off by a spoonful of whipped cream.

Clam Broth.—Buy a dozen small clams in the shell, arrange them in a pan or tray and pour boiling water over them. As fast as they open turn clam and liquor into an enameled stew pan. Add as much water as you have clam liquor. Steam gently for 10 minutes and skim off the scum that rises. Season with a little butter and pepper. Use salt according to taste, but sparingly, as the clam liquor is apt to give a salty taste to the dish. Strain through a very fine sieve and set away to chill.

Chicken Broth.—Cut the fowl into quarters. Lay in salted water one hour. Remove and place in three quarts of water, bringing it very slowly to a boil. Boil gently until liquor has diminished one-third. Remove chicken. Season the liquor, bring to a boil and strain. Stir in a cupful of hot milk slowly into two beaten eggs, then add the mixture to the broth, stirring slowly. Half of this quantity is sufficient to serve an invalid two or three times a day.

PEACH MOUSSE AND RUSSE.

Recipe for Two of the Most Popular Dessert Dishes.

"Fruit Recipes" gives the following for peach mousse and russe: To each cup of peach pulp (fresh or canned) allow a heaping teaspoon of gelatine (two cups of pulp make a generous quantity). Dissolve gelatine in one-third cup of cold water, then pour over steam to dissolve, and strain into the peach pulp. Sweeten well, add a tablespoonful of lemon juice and a little raspberry or strawberry syrup. Coat the lining of a fancy mold with a tablespoonful of melted gelatine, then pour in the mousse, pack well, cover with ice, and freeze six hours.

Make the russe in similar manner, but fold in at the last a pint of whipped cream and the grated rind of a lemon instead of the lemon juice. Use also a little almond flavoring.

Cleaning Down Quills or Pillows.

Down quills and small feather pillows which have become soiled can be washed at home, with very little trouble or expense. First choose a good day, for the drying is half the battle, and you need plenty of sunshine and a gentle wind. Lay the warm water—of course—on the soaps that are in the line, and avoid a washboard, or recover the help of any help and it on the pillow. Rub thoroughly with the "Comino" tub thoroughly with the "Comino" tub and patting with a dry towel. Rinse in two or three times the water, and hang up to dry in a sunny place. A dash of salt in the water will keep the colors from fading.

Spinach a Fine Tonic.

Spinach should put in a frequent appearance on the table as it is a wonderful tonic. It is a very wholesome vegetable and has a beneficial effect upon the digestion.

It is frequently recommended by the doctor to those in middle and advanced life. It is light and laxative, and wonderful properties have been ascribed to it.

It is useful in cases of rheumatism, though, in this respect not so valuable as celery which all gouty subjects should partake of, not raw, but cooked.

Pineapple Vinegar.

Pineapple parings should never be thrown away, as there is no finer vinegar in the world in flavor and coloring than that made from pineapple. The fruit parings (fruit may also be added) should be placed in crocks and covered with water, sugar or syrup being added in quantity according to the condition of the fruit. Allow this to ferment thoroughly, and when this has been accomplished, the vinegar must be strained from the fruit and placed in jars or bottles.

Celery and Orange Salad.

Select firm oranges, which are not very sweet and cut into sections, removing all inner skin and seeds. Cut crisp celery into small pieces and mix the two in equal quantities with juice in a substituted with lemon. A few nut meats may be added to advantage. Serve on a bed of water-cress. Make a French dressing with a level teaspoon of salt, one-fourth spoon of paprika, six tablespoons of olive oil and three of vinegar or lemon juice.

Use for Old Kid Gloves.

Cut off the hands and save the arms of your long kid gloves. Use them for polishing silver, mirrors, etc. old tan or olive gloves you can make charming bags for carrying opera glasses, etc. Cut the kid to the same pattern as is used for silk or velvet bags, line with silk or any pretty color, and trace your initials on the outside in water color or with embroidery silk.

HOW TO SERVE BLACK COFFEE.

Neither Cream Nor Milk Should Be Added to the Beverage.

Black or after-dinner coffee is usually made exactly like that taken for breakfast and made by filtering, steaming or boiling, save that double the proportion of the beans is used. Two heaping tablespoonsful of coffee to each cup of water. It should be strong and perfectly clear. Serve in small cups with black sugar.

As after-dinner coffee is used as a digestant, neither cream nor milk should be added. There is a growing fancy for making the regular Turkish coffee for the Sunday dessert, but it is extremely "puttery" work, as only small cups are made at a time. The essentials for the Turkish coffee are one of the Turkish coffee mills of brass that grind the bean as fine as powder and one of the tiny Turkish coffee pots that can now be found in any of the housefurnishing stores.

To make the coffee in these, put a pot containing freshly boiled water on the fire with two or three lumps of sugar. Add two teaspoonfuls of coffee powder to the water, which is just enough for two after-dinner cups, stir well and let the pot boil up four times. Between each boil the pot is taken from the stove and tapped gently on the bottom until the froth appears on the top. Then return to the fire until it boils again. It requires very close watching.

After the last boiling, pour off the coffee from the sediment first into one cup then in another so as to divide the froth evenly.

Have more boiling water in readiness and repeat the operation until all are served.

An alleged fragment of the gospel of St. Mark, giving a new saying of Christ, was read to the session of the Archaeological Institution in Chicago by Prof. H. A. Sanders, of the University of Michigan. The fragment is part of an old Bible, dating back to the Moslem conquest of Egypt.

The finest Coffee Substitute ever made, has recently been produced by Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis. You don't have to boil it twenty or thirty minutes. "Made in a minute" says the doctor. "Health Coffee" is really the closest Coffee Imitation ever yet produced. Not a grain of real Coffee in it either. Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted cereals or grains, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert—were he to unknowingly drink it for coffee. Sold by W. W. McElrath.

Speaking of his good health and extreme old age, Mr. Brock says: "After a man has lived in the world as long as I have, he ought to have found out a great many things by experience. I think I have done so."

"One of the things I have found out to my entire satisfaction is the proper thing for ailments that are due directly to the effects of the climate. For 19 years I have withstood the changeable climate of the United States."

"I have always been a very healthy man, but, of course, subject to the affections which are due to sudden changes in the climate and temperature."

"As for Dr. Hartman's remedy, Pe-ru-na, I have found it to be the best, if not the only reliable remedy for these affections. It has been my standby for many years, and I attribute my good health and extreme old age to this remedy."

"It exactly meets all my requirements. It protects me from the evil effects of sudden changes; it gives me strength; it keeps my blood in good circulation. I have come to rely upon it almost entirely for the many little things for which I need medicine."

"When epidemics of the grippe first began to make their appearance in this country I was a sufferer from this disease."

"I had several long sieges with the grip. At first I did not know that Pe-ru-na was a remedy for this disease. When I heard that the grippe was epidemic catarrh I tried Pe-ru-na for the grippe and found it to be just the thing."

In a letter, Mr. Brock writes: "I am well and feeling as well as I have for years. I would not be without Pe-ru-na."

Yours truly,

Isaac Brock.

A letter dated July 5, 1906, written by Mr. Brock by his wife, Sarah J. Brock, states:

"Last winter I had just gotten up out of a spell of sickness, when I commenced taking Peruna. I think it improved my health very much."

In a postscript, Mrs. Brock adds: "He receives a great many letters inquiring about what Peruna will do. I do not answer them all, as I think they can get a bottle and try it."
