We are astonished that such a temperance woman as Mrs. E. Z. Hensley should make a speech as she did at the American Temperance Union. A new era seems to have opened her judgment, and she is again a candidate for circuit court judge. Such committee can be accorded with the great leaders of the party and do as the demands of the party and do as the demands of the party.

KINDNESS.

By "G. A. Valentine."

Would it not please you to think of a string of names, and place them in the order of your acquaintance, and pronounce them aloud, as you pass along the street. You will hear a voice within, saying, "This is a kind soul, and you would be well off to have her as your neighbor."

Think of the English people, and the expressions you hear in their conversations. "That's a fine gentleman," or "He is a most courteous young man." I am sure you will agree with me, if you will think of the names of your acquaintances, and see how far the English people, and the people of foreign lands in general, are sure to have heard of them.

You will feel happier when resting upon your bed, and your dreams will be more pleasant, if you can say to yourself, "What kindness have I done today?"
