PASTOR IS HELD ON CHARGE OF SHOOTING MEMBER

Jonesboro, Ark., Oct. 10.—(AP).—A burst of gunfire sent the Rev. Dale S. Crowley to jail tonight for shooting a janitor at the Jonesboro Baptist abnecale where he went with a court order and a pistol to take charge as its legal pastor.

Shot three times, the janitor, A. W. McMurdoo, 65 years old, who had been ordered to leave by Crowley, was in a critical condition.

In a statement to A. A. Tidlock, Deputy Prosecuting Attorney, McMurdoo accused Crowley of shooting him "in cold blood." Crowley, in jail with milling throngs on the outside, declared he shot in self-defense after the janitor had fired once at him.

The shooting climaxed a two months' series of turbulent episodes growing out of a dispute between Crowley and the Rev. Joe Jeffers, militant evangelist, over the pastorate.

Crowley had just won a long court controversy with the Jeffers faction in which the Chancery Court here recognized him as the legal pastor and restrained Jeffers' followers from interfering with his activities at the tabernacle.

With a half dozen of his followers Crowley, armed with a pistol because, he said, of threats against his life, went to the tabernacle this afternoon to take charge.

McMurdoo, who had acted as janitor of the tabernacle for the Jeffers faction during the court fight, had living quarters there. Crowley ordered him to get his belongings and leave.

N. M. BONDURANT DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Newton Miller Bondurant, age 52, Agent with the Prudential Insurance Company, died at his home on West Street here Monday afternoon at 2:18 after an illness of about 4 weeks. Funeral service was conducted Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the family residence by Rev. C. H. Warren, pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city and internment followed in Greenlawn Cemetery.

The deceased was born and raised in Fulton and was a valued employee of the Prudential Insurance Company for twenty-one years. Last year he was tendered a diamond locket, or 20-year service medal, in commemoration of his services with this company, at which time about thirty-five Prudential employees were present at the luncheon given in his honor.

Mr. Bondurant was married to Miss Hattie Morris on December 25, 1910, to which union one daughter, Mary Katherine, was born. He is survived by his widow, one daughter, on one brother, Ed, of this city. Pallbearers were the Prudential agents in this district as follows: E. C. Stienberger, Superintendent, Paducah, M. E. Hester, Mayfield, H. H. Vandergriff, Mayfield, E. B. Vaughn, Clinton, J. E. Smith, Hickman and G. H. Dooley of this city.

METHODISTS, ATTENTION

The second of the series of mid-week talks on How to Enjoy the Bible, particular study at this time will be, "The Bible as Literature." If you would increase your acquaintance with the Bible and make it a source of greater helpfulness in your life, you are invited to attend these services. This is also the service of the church in which high sociability is encouraged and enjoyed. Come.—G. C. Fain, pastor.

WEATHER

Cloudy with possible showers tomorrow.

THE LISTENING POST

THE FIRST meeting of the Junior Music Club will be held in the Chamber of Commerce Thursday afternoon at 3:30. This club has 21 members and any person who is now studying music is eligible for membership. Mrs. Joe Bennett, Jr., the leader, asks that as many members as possible bring their dues, 35c to the first meeting tomorrow.

A SHADOW was cast over Fulton Monday afternoon, and especially over the office and the home of N. M. Bondurant, caused by the passing on of two of Fulton's most loved citizens. Coming so closely on the heels of one another, their passing seemed more tragic. Word was received of the death of Mr. Bondurant who died at 2:18 Monday afternoon, almost in the same breath as the word of Mrs. Moore's death at 3:30. Both figures largely in Fulton's everyday affairs until health failed, taking very active and keen interests in anything pertaining to Fulton and its betterment. They will be sorely missed from our ranks and The Listening Post and many readers of The Leader wish to express their sincere sympathy to the bereaved family of Mrs. T. F. Moore, and the many friends of the late Newton Miller Bondurant of extending their sympathy to the bereaved family of Newton Miller Bondurant.

THE FULTON Second team lost to the second spring Tigers of Union City last night at the Fairgrounds by a score of 12-0. The first period was played on even terms, but the Tigers scored in the second and third periods, failing to make the extra point each time. Union City second team was the same team that played most of the game Friday when Union City beat Milan 67-0. Fulton's second team, having only about a week's practice and being extremely light, looked good. Union City showed themselves to have definitely more driving power.

THE ALUMNI Association of the Fulton High School held its regular meeting Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce. The ticket drive for the show Thursday and Friday was planned and the cooperation of everyone was pledged. A dance was planned for Halloween. Reports of the Chairmen of different committees were heard and a call for more members issued.

THE "FIDELIS" Class of the Baptist church met in regular session Monday night at the home of Miss Katherine Hall and elected following officers for this year: Katherine Hall, President, Catherine Cooke, First Vice President, Mary Belle Warren, second Vice President, Rachel Davis, secretary and treasurer. Group captains selected were: Rachel Parrish and Mary Moss Hales. After dismissal, the host served sandwiches and hot chocolate.

CIRCLE NO. 4 of the First Baptist Church met Monday afternoon at the church with all but one of the entire membership present. Mrs. T. S. Humphreys, the chairman presided. There was no im-

FIRST ACTION TAKEN AGAINST VIOLATOR OF BLUE EAGLE CODE

RESTAURANT PROPRIETOR
SAID TO HAVE HELD EMPLOYEES ON JOBS OVER-TIME

Washington, Oct. 10.—(AP).—Theodore G. Rahulis, Gary, Ind., restaurant proprietor, tonight was ordered by Hugh S. Johnson, Recovery Administrator, to surrender his Blue Eagle. This was the first action of this kind taken by the N. R. A.

At the same time Johnson announced that similar action would be taken almost immediately against flagrant violators of the President's re-employment agreement in other sections of the country.

The Recovery Administration said that every one of Rahulis' forty employees had complained that the restaurant was violating both the maximum hours and minimum wages provisions of his agreement. In one case it was charged that an employee was forced to work twenty-one hours in two days at a rate of 14 cents an hour.

Labor Board Criticized
Meanwhile a direct charge that the National Labor Board had hampered, rather than aided, settlement of a strike, was directed at the board today by the Berkeley Woolen Mills, of Martinsburg, W. Va.

The sharply worded brief was sent to the board by H. H. Emmert, president of the company. It asserted that the board not only exceeded its authority in taking jurisdiction over the Martinsburg strike but had acted in a manner prejudicial to the employees.

The Berkeley Mills, in its brief asserted that the Labor Board arbitrarily took jurisdiction over a matter not committed to it either by law or by order of the President of the United States establishing the board. Since "all of the acts of which the Berkeley Woolen Company was accused were on the face of the record committee before said company was operating under the President's re-employment agreement or a code of fair competition."

The board in its decision held that the company had violated the law by discharging workers for joining unions and had declined to discuss adjustments with spokesmen for the workers. It directed that an election be held by employees to choose their form of representation.

UNIQUE SHORT SUBJECT

Unique short subject at Warner Orpheum today and tomorrow. At last Pop-Eye, the sailor in the movies, in a big way, featured in "I Am What I Am", one of the best cartoons of the new movie season.

The feature attraction is "Stage Mother" featuring Alice Brady, Maureen O'Sullivan, and Franchot Tone. "Meet the Champ" and latest news events complete, another splendid program of Warner's Orpheum.

MRS. MARTHA J. MOORE BURIED THIS MORNING

MOTHER OF LOCAL PUBLISHERS
DIES AT HOME MONDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services for Martha Jackson Moore, aged 76, widow of the late Rev. T. F. Moore and mother of Robert and Hoyt Moore, editors and owners of this paper, who died at her home on Washington Street Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock after an illness of a few months, were held this morning at 10 o'clock from the family residence, Rev. C. H. Warren, pastor of the First Baptist Church, conducting the service. Interment followed in the mausoleum at Fairview, where her late husband is buried, in charge of Hornbeak Funeral Company.

The death of this beloved woman marks the passing of one of Fulton's oldest and best known citizens. A few years after her husband and sons, Robert and Hoyt, became the owners of this paper, she took an active part in the office routine of The Leader, contributing mainly to local or personal news appearing daily in its columns and in this manner broadened her acquaintance with the people of the community. This activity continued for the past ten years and up until about a year ago, when her health became impaired. She was a member of the Baptist Church of Riceville, where her late husband was pastor for the time of his death and where she took an active part in church work until recent years.

Mrs. Moore was born in Carroll County, Tennessee, her maiden name being Martha Jackson Dinning. She was married to Rev. Thomas F. Moore in 1875, and was preceded in death by him in 1926. Rev. and Mrs. Moore came to Fulton in 1909 at which time they purchased "The Banner," a weekly publication and later "The Fulton Daily Leader." Mrs. Moore took a keen interest and was at all times devoted to her newspaper work and her presence will be sorely missed by the staff of this paper and her many friends and relatives here. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Minnie Wheeler of Memphis, three sons, Thomas H. of Memphis, Robert and Hoyt of this city, one sister, Mrs. Alice Cowan of McKenzie, Tennessee, nine grandchildren and several great grandchildren.

The grandchildren are: Martha and Jack Moore of Fulton; Chas. Jr., Martin, Mrs. Leonard Fate, Mrs. Archie Henry, Miss Mattie Sue Wheeler, Frank Wheeler, Memphis.

Pallbearers were: Messrs. J. O. Lewis, Claude Freeman, Vodie Hardin, Joe Davis, Reuben Allen and Percy McDowell.

NEW TRIAL FOR KESTERSON DENIED

HICKMAN, Ky., Oct. 7.—Judge J. E. Warren in Fulton Circuit Court overruled a motion for a new trial for Leonard Kesteron, youthful phantom of the Mississippi River bottoms, convicted in this term of court for robbery in connection with the holdup of Beale Moore and sentenced to seven years in the State Penitentiary at Eddyville.

The motion was made by S. D. Stembbridge, defense attorney, who announced that the case would be taken to the Fulton County Jail here as Commonwealth's Attorney Flavius Martin expects to try him in Hickman Circuit Court at Clinton next week on indictments against him there. He is already under sentence to serve a two year term for grand larceny there, but broke out of the jail at Clinton before he could be taken to the penitentiary.

MAMMOTH CAVE

PROFIT $8,450

A profit of $8,450.23 for the month of September in the operation of Mammoth Cave was reported Tuesday to the Mammoth Cave National Park Association by W. C. Montgomery, Elizabethtown, treasurer of the operating committee. The sum of $4,868.25 was collected at the old entrance of

FAKE MONEY PLANT IS CAPTURED BY PADUCAH OFFICERS

2 MEN, WOMAN ARRESTED IN RAID BY POLICE CHIEF AND DETECTIVES

Paducah, Ky., Oct. 10.—With the arrest at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon of two men and a woman, and the seizure of a complete outfit for making bogus money, Paducah police believe they have broken up a counterfeiting ring that has been operating here, and in other Western Kentucky cities during the last six months.

The trio, giving their names as Gus Robertson, 37 years old; Iva Vincent, 25 and Joe Doyell, 35, are being held for Federal authorities. On the arrest slip at police headquarters the charges against them read "counterfeiting money." Police said the charge is placed against the woman to hold her as a material witness.

Tonight Chief of Police William E. Bryant said the detective department had communicated with John Malley, United States Secret Service Agent at Louisville. A Government agent left there tonight according to police, and is expected to arrive here early tomorrow morning.

Raiding the Robertson home, which police said was at 1202 South Fourth Street, Chief of Detectives Kelly Franklin, Chief Bryant and Assistant Chief of Police Gene Summers, who have been making an intensive investigation for some time, quietly took the men and woman into custody, and seized the outfit.

The equipment was described by the officers as being "small but complete." The paraphernalia included two "molds" for 25-cent pieces and a quantity of counterfeit quarters, produced by the outfit. The coins were good likeness but soon tarnished in circulation, it was said.

Although no large sums of the money have appeared here at any one time, many pieces have been circulated during the past six months.

The money, for the most part, has been given to merchants, in exchange for goods. Merchants turned over to the detectives $30 worth of the bogus coins at one time, after accumulating them in a short time, officers said.

The house where the outfit was seized is located in a quiet residential section of the city.

Doyell was arrested on Broadway after passing counterfeit coins today and had several of the pieces on his person, the detectives said.

UNCLE BILLY MILNER IS VICTIM OF LONG ILLNESS

Funeral service for William Fletcher Milner, age 87, familiarly known here by his many friends as "Uncle Billy," who died at his home in the Highlands about 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon following a lingering illness was held this afternoon at 2:30 at the Church of Christ, Rev. John T. Smithson, pastor of that church, conducting the service, and burial took place at Enon Cemetery near Fulton.

The deceased is well known here, having about five years ago when his health would not permit this activity. He is survived by his widow, Mesdames Ira Little, Dilton Boyd of Fulton are nieces of the deceased, and Mrs. Mollie Swigart of near Fulton is also a niece. He left no children. The Leader extends sympathy to the bereaved family and friends.

GUARDS PROTECT FEDERAL WITNESSES IN HEARING

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN TO GUARD
MAIL ROBBERY FIGURES
AFTER WINKLER SLAIN

Chicago, Oct. 10.—(AP).—Alarmed over the shotgun murder Monday of Gus Winkler, lieutenant of Al Capone, the Federal Government today ordered armed guards to protect witnesses in the $250,000 Chicago mail robbery of which Winkler's death supposedly was an aftermath.

"We've taken steps to protect our witnesses," said Assistant United States Attorney Edward A. Fisher. Orders were issued for special precautions to be taken for two score prisoners held in a half-dozen cities in connection with the robbery and disposal of the loot.

Kinkler was killed, both city and Federal authorities believe, because he "knew too much" and because other gangsters feared he might talk to police officers. They expressed open fears that more killings might follow.

Winkler Syndicate Head
As police pried through underworld sources they learned Winkler had more power than they had dreamed. All denied he had been a "stool pigeon," but they agreed he had control of a syndicate that collected millions of dollars from gambling casinos, saloons and night clubs.

Kinkler had been mistrusted in gangland, authorities said, since he returned $500,000 of loot taken in the "world's biggest bank robbery" at Lincoln, Neb. He had been an interstate worker for Capone and a suspect in the killing of seven men in the St. Valentine's Day massacre and other crimes, but always escaped prosecution through some unexplained protection.

CLAUDE FREEMAN PICKED PRESIDENT COUNTRY CLUB

The annual meeting of the Fulton Country Club stockholders was held jointly with the October meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at the Country Club last evening, which followed a banquet given by Paul Hornbeak's golfers, the losers in the recent golf tournament of the local club, to the winning team, W. L. Carter's golfers.

The ladies of the club served a delectable plate supper, which was enjoyed by about 50.

Immediately following the banquet, the Chamber of Commerce, presided over by its president, John Earle, held its monthly meeting at which time the main topic was that of organizing an NRA committee in Fulton. This matter was referred to the board of directors, who will meet for this purpose at an early date.

At the meeting of the Country Club, the president, Bob White, presided, and after the transaction of all other business, election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: Claude Freeman, president; Bill Ayres, vice president; Frank Carr, secretary, and L. O. Carter, treasurer. These officers are to serve one year and will be installed next Tuesday night.

It was decided that a membership fee of $20.00 would be charged for each single membership, and additional $10.00 for a family membership, which would mean $10.00 for all other members below the age of 21 years in addition to the wife or husband. The same board of directors was elected to serve another year.

OUT-OF-TOWN PEOPLE AT MOORE FUNERAL

Out-of-town people who attended funeral rites for the late Mrs. T. F. Moore which was held this morning at 10 o'clock at the family residence were: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Moore and son Chas., Mrs. Leonard Pate, Mrs. Archie Henry, Mrs. Chas. Wheeler, Sr., Memphis, Chas. Wheeler, Jr., Martin, Mrs. Alice Cowan and Mrs. Lillian Cowan McKenzie, and Miss Wash Reddick, Greenfield, Tenn.

PUSHING PLANS FOR ERECTION OF MANY LOW COST HOMES

PLANS DRAWN TO CON-SIDER LAND, BUILD AND SELL BANK
AID SPURRED

Washington, Oct. 10.—(AP).—Administration plans for reopening banks liberalizing credit and building lowcost homes moved rapidly under Presidential pressure today. Official word was given that an important financial announcement might be expected in a few days.

President Roosevelt sped the new phases of the rehabilitation programme in separate discussions with various Government heads and later laid the whole rough draft before his Executive council, including the Cabinet.

Secretary Ickes disclosed that he was considering plans for setting up a new corporation to handle construction, leasing and sale of low-cost housing projects on a vast scale throughout the country.

May Condemn Land
Articles of incorporation have been drafted, Ickes said, which would authorize the corporation to go into cities, buy or condemn lands and build houses to be built or rented, with the proceeds being used to repay the Treasury for the expenses involved.

It was indicated several hundred million dollars might be spent on this project with the object of making available thousands of low cost homes, abolishing slums and providing work.

Full details were forthcoming from the round of White House parleys, although it was disclosed officially that a proposed new Government institution to set funds in closed banks into the hands of depositors was one of the matters discussed.

Legal question confronting the new set-up was said by some of the President's callers to be delaying the bank reopening plan.

HOMEMAKERS WILL HOLD THEIR ANNUAL MEETING

The Homemakers Association of Fulton and Hickman Counties have just completed plans for their Annual Meeting which is to be held on Thursday, October 12 at 10:00 a. m. at Cayce High School Building. Mrs. W. V. Little, County President, will preside at the meeting assisted by Mrs. Burdie Pewitt, County Secretary and Mrs. Gus Browder, County Program Conductor.

Reports of work done the past year by the members of the clubs in Home Improvement, Clothing, Canning and Extension Beautification of the home will be given by the leaders of these projects. Reports from each club will be given by the club presidents.

The theme of the program is to be the Responsibilities of the Home maker. Mrs. Mike Oliver of Paducah, Ky., Counselor of First District of the State Federation of Homemakers Clubs will talk to the group on the responsibilities to the State. Mrs. Gus Browder will talk on "What the Homemakers should Mean to the County" and Miss Zelma Monroe, Assistant State Leader of Home Demonstration Agents will address the group on "Responsibility of Citizenship." Miss Myrtle Weldon, State Leader of Home Agents will talk on "The Challenge of a New Day."

A picnic lunch will be served at noon to Homemakers and guests. The afternoon program will consist of Stunts, skits and musical numbers by the various clubs. Approximately 150 homemakers and guests are expected to attend this meeting.

COMMENT

THE END OF A HOME

A home has come to an end after lasting almost sixty years. It has not been a home that existed that long in one house, for after all, a home is not always a home. This home has existed in many houses in many different localities. It was set up far back in 1875, in Carroll county, Tennessee, and through all these years it has continued to be in first one place and then the other. The head of the home was then starting on a career in the ministry that was to last for fifty years. The mistress of the home was a brown-eyed girl of eighteen, daughter of a farmer of Carroll county. The history of that family is of no more importance than the history of any other family, but because of the fact that it was my family and my home, I am impelled to set down these scattered and rambling thoughts.

Fifty-eight years! That is a long time for anything to endure in this changing world of ours. The odds are heavily against anything enduring that long. In 1875, when this home was set up, I have no doubt that the young minister and his bride hoped that the home might endure for many years, but they had little hope for that many years. The young minister remained head of the home for fifty-one years, and his departure brought the heaviest shadows that had ever fallen on the home. But its roots were deeply entwined, and it bore this blow bravely and continued to endure. The four children of the home knew full well that this end was near, but there came a period of Indian Summer, when for two or three brief years health seemed to come to the mistress of the home and there were periods of comparative happiness, even for her. And for us there was deep satisfaction in seeing the light in her fading eyes. That brief time was a happy one when all of us seemed to draw closer to each other.

But Indian Summer has gone, and now bleak winter is here. And so the end of the home has come. Today that brown-eyed girl is once again with the boy she married so many years ago; once again with the wistful eyed little girl who passed when the world was young and we, who sorrow over her passing, would not call her back. There is sorrow as we realize that she is gone, but the sorrow is tempered with full knowledge that she is once again happy and well. As we gaze upon her well-remembered features, we were struck with the look of peace and rest on the strong, serious face. It has been many years since the face showed so much of rest, peace and strength. We take it that this is an articulate message to us that all is well.

I have no desire to pay a tribute to Mother in this column, for she needs none. I need not say that she was the best mother any man ever had for after all, most mothers are good ones. There is something about motherhood that will not allow it to be otherwise. The only thing that I want to say—and I wish it could be said to her—is that all of us hope that what we were able to do in her closing years were somewhat of a recompense to her for all that she did for us in the early years of her life.

And now it is good-bye. Mother sleeps now beside the mate of her youth, and the book of life as we knew it up to today is closed. The old years are gone, and we must press forward toward the new years that may lie ahead of us. It will be lonely going, we know, but all of us are satisfied that she at last knows what real rest is. Good-bye, Good-bye!

ANOTHER VICTORY
For ten months federal agents have been tracking down participants and conspirators in a $250,000 Chicago mail robbery in which the bulk of the loot was in negotiable bonds.

The suicide of a Chicago night club owner on the eve of his indictment for handling the loot brought a revelation from the government that 22 persons have been arrested over a widely scattered area in connection with the robbery and subsequent disposition of the stolen bonds. The 22 include an attorney, salesmen, second-rate politicians and ordinary gangsters. In cases of this sort the government rarely asks for indictment until it is sure of the actual guilt of its suspects. The conviction of a majority of those involved in the Chicago expose can almost be anticipated.

Government agents are dealing telling blows at organized crime. Success of the Chicago mail robbery investigation rivals that of the Urschel case.—Exchange.

MARTYR TO SCIENCE
Dr. William Hope Fowler, one of the world's foremost radiologists, died last week at London a martyr to the science in which he had done such brilliant work. He was only 57, and next year was to have been the British delegate to the International Congress of Radiology at Zurich.

Practically all of his professional life has been devoted to radium research, a field in which he made a number of important discoveries for medical science. For the past seven years he had done nothing else but experiment with radium. And that cost him his life. He first lost a finger. Then another was amputated. Then he lost part of the arm. Last year what was left of it was amputated. Since then his decline has been persistent. Had he been less brave, less anxious to contribute to society's well-being, he would have quit when his experiments began to demand a price. He stopped only when he died.

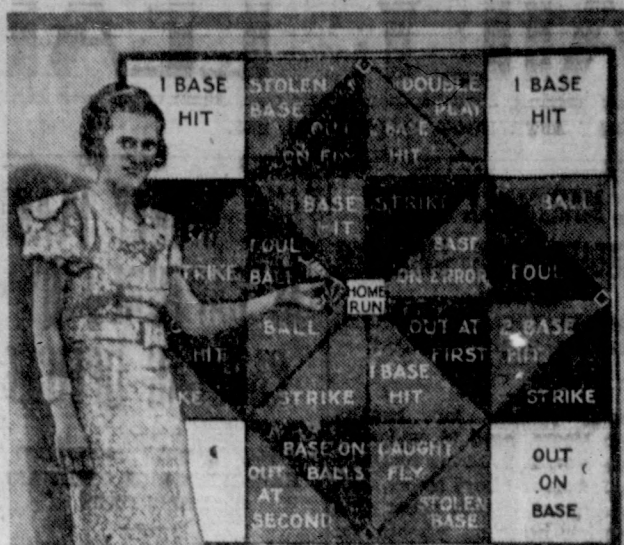

And another illustrious name has been added to the roll of those who have given their lives for others.—Commercial Appeal.

CANNOT BE OVERLOOKED
Among the suggestions which Attorney General Cummings will make to Congress relative to the manufacture and control of firearms will be one for the negotiation of treaties with foreign governments with a view to preventing smuggling of forbidden weapons. Machine guns are particularly in mind. No domestic regulations affecting the manufacture and distribution of lethal weapons can be made effective unless there are corresponding regulations affecting illicit importation.

The easiest method of controlling undesirable imports is in the country of origin, and it can best be done through treaties. The international narcotics code is a splendid example of what can be done to control commodities dangerous to public welfare. It is quite likely an effort on the part of the United States to get other nations to enter into an arms agreement, particularly relating to arms used by criminals, would be friendly response.—Exchange.

BOYLE COUNTY MAN BUILDS GOOD HERD
The herd of Guernseys owned by J. D. Erskine of Boyle county averaged 7,870 pounds of milk and 399 pounds of butterfat per cow in 1932. In 1928 this herd averaged but 326 pounds of butterfat per cow, making an increase of 73 pounds of butterfat per cow in five years. Monthly production cost and feed cost records have been kept for Any number of persons can play on each team.

The game-board, which is four feet square, is easily made of a piece of wood-fiber insulation board. All that is necessary is to give it several coats of filler and then paint in the spaces and the lettering, though it is advisable to frame the edges with a wood moulding. Darts can be purchased at almost any toy store.

In the East where dart baseball has become a popular game, teams have been organized by Sunday schools, American Legion posts and other organizations.

each of the five years. These records show that in 1932 cream and feed prices each cow returned $39 above feed cost in 1932, while at the same prices the 1928 herd would have returned but $28 above feed cost per cow. The increase in production, therefore, has made a difference in income above feed cost of $11 per cow.

Five cows with the lowest records were culled from the herd and replaced with heifers from cows with good records. Nine of the 15 cows in the herd last year were raised on the farm. One of the cows whose heifers were kept in the herd averaged 419 pounds of butterfat per year for the five years. Her 3-year-old daughter produced 419 lbs. of butterfat and her 4-year-old daughter 444 pounds last year.

The nine young cows in the herd were all sired by the same bull. They averaged 416 pounds of butterfat for a 10-month milking period while their dams averaged but 332 pounds of butterfat. Mr. Erskine was able to sell this bull for breeding purposes when he was eight years old because of the good records of his daughters.

This herd has received a grain mixture with small amounts of bran and cottonseed meal. Legume hay is used as the principal roughage during the winter. The progress made with this herd is an example of what may be accomplished in using production and feed cost records as a guide in feeding selecting heifers, culling cows and proving the value of a herd bull.

UNION'S HOMECOMING TO BE HELD OCTOBER 27

Jackson, Tenn., Oct. 10.—Elaborate plans are being made for a Homecoming Celebration at Union University, Oct. 27, according to Russell Reed, Field Representative of the College. Dr. John Peter Hunt, President, is working on the program.

During the morning a special program is slated for the chapel exercises, including the fraternities, sororities and society. It will keep "open house." Class reunions will be held in the afternoon.

The outstanding event of the day will be the Union-Tennessee Tech. game at Union Field, beginning at 8 p. m. All lettermen in so far possible to obtain their addresses, are being given special invitations to be present in a body.

The entire evening celebration will be in honor of one of Union's aggregations, probably a team played on by one of the favorite Tigris.

TWENTY-FOUR-HOUR SERVICE

ALBERT SMITH
PROPRIETOR

AT THE ORPHEUM THEATRE

Last time today! My wife and Alice Brady. Elected shorts. Tomorrow and Friday, Edw. G. Robertson and Kay Francis in "I Loved a Woman" with selected shorts.

Two of the truly great dramatic artists of the time are for the first time brought together as screen lovers in "I Loved a Woman," the first National picture which comes to the Orpheum theatre Thursday and Friday.

They are Edward G. Robinson and Kay Francis, each of whom has been starred separately in many pictures—in all of which they have given unforgettable characterizations.

With George E. Stone, they play unique parts in the amazing love triangle of "I Loved a Woman." Miss Tobin is cast as the vindictive wife of the hero—content to wait a lifetime to avenge her wrongs.

As the rising operatic star, Miss Francis fires Robinson, as a wealthy young meat packer with her own ambition to gain power. Both in their own ways are utterly ruthless in battling for world conquest. Strangely enough Robinson is later inspired by hatred for his inamorata instead of love—when he finds he himself is but one of her many lovers. Outside of the romance the story reveals the dominating forces in the growth of the meat packing industry in the last forty years.

There is a notable cast in addition to the principals which includes J. Farrell MacDonald, Henry Kolker, Robert Barratt, George Blackwood, Murray Kinney and Henry O'Neill. The screen play by Charles Kenyon and Sidney Sutherland is based on the story "Red Meat," by David Karsner, author of "Silver Dollar." It was directed by Alfred E. Green.

provided for in President Roosevelt's Executive Order issued March 27. The agencies to be consolidated under the new Administration include the Federal Farm Board; the Federal Farm Loan Bureau which has jurisdiction over the Federal Land Banks, Joint Stock Land Banks and Intermediate Credit Banks; the regional agricultural credit corporation of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and the Crop Production Loan Division of the U.
S. Department of Agriculture.

The Farm Mortgage section of the Farm Act makes it possible to lower the interest rates on both old and new loans, and to permit borrowers generally to extend payments on the principal of their loans from the Federal Land Banks and to loan money directly to farmers in districts where there are no National farm loan associations through which applications may be accepted. It also provides for Farm Loan Commissioner's Loans to be made direct to farmers from agents of the Farm Loan Commissioner located in each of the 12 Federal Land Bank districts.

Applications for information or loans under the new Act, the Farm Credit Administration says, should be made to the secretary-treasurer of the National Farm Loan Association in the county in which the applicant's farm is located, or to the Federal Land Bank serving his State. In the absence of a loan association, farmers should get in touch with their County Agricultural Agent.

The Federal Land Bank for this district is at Louisville, Ky.

Engineering SAYS QUALITY HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH THE SIZE OF THE CAR

LOW PRICE CARS are driven as hard as any cars. They are subjected to the same kinds of strains and wearing-out conditions. Your Plymouth will withstand any service conditions that any higher price car will withstand. It's got the Quality—UNUSUAL Quality!

The Plymouth has FULL PRESSURE lubrication for correct engine protection.
The crankshaft rides on FOUR large main bearings and has an impulse neutral-izer. The universal joints move frictionlessly on ROLLER bearings.

The Plymouth has more anti-friction bearings than any other low-price car.
It is the only low price six with valve seat INSERTS—they reduce the frequency of valve grinding. It is the only low price car with an oil FILTER, although this is a feature of recognized importance.

In field tests the Plymouth axle and transmission have been proved to be the equal of those in any car at any price and the finest in the low price field.

CHALLENGE BY GLASS TO N. R. A. IS PREDICTED

VIRGINIA SENATOR IS EXPECTED TO ACT WHEN CONGRESS MEETS AGAIN

Washington, Oct. 10.—Storm warnings were hoisted in the path of the Blue Eagle today.

Senator Carter Glass, Democrat, Virginia, who refused to become President Roosevelt's Secretary of Treasury, is preparing to challenge the constitutionality of the National Recovery Act when Congress meets.

The diminutive banking expert of the Senate voted against the recovery act last spring, and his working thus far has only confirmed him in his original position.

This development came, on the heels of a declaration before the American Federation of Labor by Senator Robert F. Wagner, one of the authors of the recovery act, who said that the N. R. A. program had to be made stronger to bring real recovery. He said that wages would have to be made higher and hours shorter than they are under existing codes to absorb the idle, which still number more than 10,000,000, according to his estimate.

Word of the forthcoming opposition of Senator Glass developed when inquiry was made concerning the absence of the Blue Eagle from his two newspapers at Lynchburg, Va.

"My papers are not flying the Blue Eagle," Glass said. "My newspapers, seven months before the N. R. A. was proposed went on a five-day week basis, and my wage scale is much above the requirement of N. R. A.

"As I understand it, no newspaper code has yet been adopted. I decline to sign any blank agreement, to let anyone run my business. When the code is adopted I will then consider whether to observe it or not."

POLICE JAIL MASSEUR FOR DEATH OF GIRL

CRIMINAL OPERATION LED TO HENDERSON SUICIDE HOAX

Fleetia Benson, attractive 18-year-old Henderson, Tenn. high school girl, died in a taxicab a few minutes after an illegal operation had been performed at Jackson, Tenn., Friday afternoon by Ira E. Horner, masseur. Near death with convulsions, the girl was placed in the cab by Horner and taken to a spot 30 miles southeast of Jackson, where acid was poured into her mouth to give the appearance of suicide before she was tossed out. The masseur has been charged with murder.

Horner admitted last night to Jackson police that he performed the operation, and told of placing a towel over the girl's head and hurrying her off to a taxicab when she began to have convulsions. He also admitted hiding the body, but evaded any admission of whether he was the one who poured acid on Miss Benson's mouth to make her death seem suicide.

He said that the girl had visited his office four times, pleading that he do something for her and help save her reputation before he finally consented to perform the fatal operation.

INDIANA BANKS LEAD RUSH FOR INSURANCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—

Indiana State banks lead the race to qualify for membership in the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, Walter J. Cummings, chairman of the board, revealed today in announcing that 2,171 of the 8,857 State institutions invited five weeks ago to apply have done so. Of the applicants, 182 were from the Hoosier State.

Mr. Cummings said the State banks "have shown remarkable speed."

At the same time he appointed 47 national bank examiners as supervising examiners to ascertain if the banks are eligible to become members of the corporation.

Federal Reserve member banks automatically become members when the new deposit insurance provision of the Glass-Steagall Act becomes effective on January 1. Deposits will be insured in full on accounts up to $2,500.

State bank applications blanks were sent out September 17 and directors' meetings were necessary for decision.

An additional 799 examiners have been selected to help the supervising examiners investigate the banks. It is intended that they shall be familiar with conditions in the States to which they are assigned.

Appointments announced today included: Ross M. Burt, Denver; Thomas Vance Saylor, Frankfort, Ky.; and James J. Byrne, Nashville.
