A TERRIBLE WRECK

Collision of Two Trains On Obion River Bridge.

WRECK OF ENGINE, CARS AND PART OF BRIDGE

Four Lives Are Lost, While Two Others Are Injured or Lost.

The bodies of Engineer A. H. Williamson, of K. & N. 184, from Memphian, Firer;n W. E. Smith, of No. 184, Ft. Bardwell, and J. H. Utley, of the same train, were brought to the city last night, and the only body recovered last night was Brakeman James Lewis, colored, of Memphis, who was on No. 184.

Fireman Cook, of No. 184, was on the engine also, and he leaped with it, the result that only a severely sprained ankle was the extent of his hurts.

Utley was the worst injured of the trio, his right ankle being very badly broken.

The wreck occurred at 6:30 yesterday morning, at a point on the railroad near backlight, Obion county. The engine was on the siding, and Engineer Armstrong did not stop, Conductor Milam, realizing the engineer had overlooked his signal, hastened back to his own wrecked train, and with the balance of the crew commenced trying to save the injured and dead.

WRECK STILL HAS STRONG HOLD AT MARY POINTS

A view of the wreck showed that the engine and rear portions of the cars had been completely flattened, the caboose and rear portion of the last car still being entirely intact. The cars were thrown across the track, and as the result of the collision, the (Mississippi Valley) Bridge was completely shut off.

No More Change

The yellow fever situation showed marked improvement being shown in the city, and the next several days will be a period of comparative calm.

J. T. Annearous, the city's health officer, said yesterday that the situation was hopeful, but that it would take a few more days to determine the exact condition of the fever.

Outbreaks are being checked, and there is a belief that the fever will be under control within a week or ten days.

A Nest of Cases. A train of engine and caboose was slid into a mass, the engineer and fireman being killed. The engine and caboose were thrown across the track, and there was a full gentleman's death in the engine. The engineer, who was on the engine, and also, the engineer and fireman, was the victim of the same. The engineer, who was on the engine, and also the engineer and fireman, was the victim of the same.

Lately, however, there has been a partial recovery, and the two men were taken to a hospital for observation. They were expected to recover completely, but it was feared that they would suffer from nerve shock. The engineer, who was on the engine, and also, the engineer and fireman, was the victim of the same.

J. T. Annearous, the city's health officer, said yesterday that the situation was hopeful, but that it would take a few more days to determine the exact condition of the fever.

Outbreaks are being checked, and there is a belief that the fever will be under control within a week or ten days.

The body of the deceased was taken to the morgue, and an exhumation will be made to determine whether there was any foul play.

Newspapers are a necessary part of the town, and the fact that the Register is a weekly is a decided advantage. It is not so steady in its business as a daily, but it has the advantage of being able to give more space to its columns and to cover a wider field.

The Register is the oldest newspaper in the city. It was established in 1840, and has been published ever since. It is owned and conducted by the same firm that has been in charge of it for over 50 years.

The Register is also a good newspaper, and it is read by a large number of people. It is not a partisan paper, and it is not afraid to speak the truth, even when it is unpopular.
