"CEASE FIRING!"

This order which echoed around the world on November 11, 1918, brought joy to countless nations. It brought to a close a great war, in which America was carrying her young manhood by the hundreds of thousands. Of these thousands who answered the call, many never returned from over there. It is to these brave souls that we pay most revered tribute.

We carry on that they might not have died in vain—that in some manner we may contribute to the ideal of liberty—the altar upon which they gave their all.
