ESTABLISHED 1898

FULTON, KY., WEDNESDAY, AFTERNOON, JANUARY 8, 1936.

VOLUME XXGVIII—NO. 16.

A NEW theatre is nearing completion at Clinton, Kentucky, same being owned by the owner of the Strand in Fulton. The new theatre, the only one in Clinton, will be open some time this month, and will have all modern and new equipment and sound system.

THE AMERICAN Legion Auxiliary will meet Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Log Cabin. Mesdames Horace Luten and Lawrence Shelton will be hosts. The President, Mrs. H. B. Houston will preside and urge a large attendance of members.

INVITATIONS HAVE been received by the Leader staff to the regular meeting of the West Kentucky-West Tennessee Dailies' Association, which will be held Friday night, January 10th, at 7 o'clock at the Lavy Crockett Hotel in Trenton, Tennessee. The Daily Bulletin, a weekly publication in that city, will be host at this meeting, which will include a banquet preceding the business meeting. These meetings are given once every three months for the purpose of the editors, publishers and those working on the staff of these newspapers exchanging ideas and discussing the problems which daily face newspaper men.

MY GOODNESS! You'd never dream that so many folks are interested in triplets. Those who can't contribute have expressed a desire to do so and a keen interest in the welfare of those three little babies who were born Sunday night near Walnut Grove and who did not possess the required number of garments with which to keep them warm upon their arrival, and who will want for lots of things unless the people of Walnut Grove and Fulton do not help them. And that they certainly are doing. The rural carrier who carries the mail out to the community where these triplets are, left here today laden with just lots of things for them, and when our call has been completed and we have received the gifts and contributions for these babies, on Friday morning they will open up their eyes wide and think Santa Claus has surely come to see them.

THE WOMAN'S Class of the First Methodist Church has the right idea. Flowers are nice after you're dead, all right, but they think they are much nicer while you are living. And so they have given their former teacher, Mrs. Redfearn, a bouquet of them which she will remember the rest of her life.

AMONG SOME of the good things being done for Fulton by the Illinois Central Railroad Company is the building of a good, cinder crossing near the Imhoff tank in South Fulton, just below the freight depot. As both the sewerage deposit tanks for Fulton and South Fulton are located at this spot, this is an accommodation to both South Fulton and the city of Fulton. Both cities requested this crossing from the Railroad Company and today men are at work putting in a good, cinder crossing, whereas it has been mainly a mud crossing.

THE LISTENING Post owes Clarence Pickering an apology, and hopes he will accept this as such. It was stated in this column yesterday that there had not been any serious accidents so far at the intersection of Third and Edgings street. We find today this was an error. Back in 1930 there was a smashup at this corner, not a serious one, mind you, just a little smashup. Two autos met rather suddenly and Mrs. Roper Fields, who was an eye witness to the accident, started screaming. Clarence, who lives a few doors down the street, heard the crash and then the screams and ran up to the corner to see how many good looking girls were injured. But—and this is where the "seriousness" comes in—on the way to the scene of the accident, he fell off the curb and broke his knee. We are sorry to have overlooked a thing like this, and will see that it does not happen again, we mean the omission he'll have to take care of his own knees.

CHANDLER ASKS EARLY REPEAL OF SALES TAX

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 7.—(AP).—A thirteen-point legislative program, including immediate repeal of the sales tax law, passage of a compulsory single primary election statute, enactment of a State-wide registration law, reduction of the gasoline tax, maintenance of county roads by the State and a slash in the State tax on real estate was outlined tonight by Gov. A. B. Chandler in his first message to the 1936 General Assembly, which convened at noon in regular session.

Other points in the youthful Chief Executive's legislative program were: An appropriation for "a comprehensive audit and survey of the State government and its affairs," legislation enabling the Governor to request from the Court of Appeals "advisory opinions" with reference to pending legislation; provision for the State to carry its own insurance; authorization of the use of convict labor "in taking over the county roads and in rehabilitating the State penal, charitable and eleemosynary institutions," passage of a liquor control act; enactment of "model laws sponsored by hunters and fishermen," and "cooperation with the Federal Government in its program to secure old-age pensions and a greater measure of social security for our citizens."

Passage of "these constructive measures," the Governor said, "should not require more than twenty days, and I am respectfully requesting that after the Legislature has considered during this time any other bills that the Legislature may itself be interested in or any members may desire to have passed or discussed, when you adjourn on January 31 you may adjourn sine die."

Special session of the Legislature to enact reorganization and revenue measures would be called immediately after the Assembly finishes the first phase of its work, Governor Chandler explained. "In the meantime," he said, "the work of the Governor's advisory commission," headed by former Gov. J. C. W. Beckham, "will made as speedily as possible a report."

HARRY FIELDS DEZONIA IS ILL WITH PNEUMONIA Harry Fields DeZonia, well known former Fultonian now living in Memphis, is ill in St. Joseph's Hospital in that city with pneumonia. News to this effect was received by relatives of Mr. DeZonia here this afternoon, and his many friends here hope soon to hear news of his improvement.

KENTUCKY'S PRODUCTION INCREASES 22,329,360 GALLONS IN YEAR

Kentucky distilleries produced 53,839,479 gallons of whisky during 1935, compared to a production of 31,510,119 gallons during 1934, a report completed Tuesday in the office of Frank L. Boyd, Kentucky and Tennessee supervisor for the Alcohol Tax United shows. For the purpose of completing the report, the production of whisky during December of this year was estimated, the audit of accounts not yet being completed. The estimated production during December was 6,000,000 gallons an increase of 421,367 gallons over November.

KIDNAPED CHILD FOUND UNHURT

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 7.—(AP).—Three-year-old Ernest Paul May, Jr., was found unharmed here tonight two hours after he had been kidnaped by someone who drove away in his father's parked automobile. The distracted father, an employee of the Lexington utilities company, had borrowed an automobile and joined in a general police hunt for the kidnaper. The child's mother was shielded from questioning by authorities.

WINSTEAD & JONES GOES UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Garret are among the latest additions to Fulton, having moved here recently to become actively engaged with the Winstead Jones & Company, Inc., Funeral Home on Second street, replacing Mack Roach, whose duties as postmaster started on January 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson have come to Fulton from Dresden, Tenn., where they have been actively engaged in the funeral service. They are both graduates from Union University at Jackson, Tennessee.

Mr. and Mrs. Garrett, formerly of Beattyville, Kentucky, came to Fulton from Lewisport, Kentucky, where they have been active in funeral service also. Mr. Garrett had college training from Eastern Kentucky State Teachers' College and the University of Cincinnati. He is a graduate of the Cincinnati School of Embalming and has served as assistant instructor in this college, also has had special course and work in plastic surgery. He holds a license for Kentucky and Tennessee.

These two young men with their wives serving as lady assistants, will be able to render efficient service and to cope with any situation that may arise in the funeral and ambulance service. Fulton citizens are glad to welcome them to their city.

OBITUARY

In the death of Mrs. Sallie McDade, which occurred on December 26, at the home of a daughter, Mrs. J. J. Coffman, four miles east of the city, the community lost one of its oldest and best loved women. Mrs. McDade was born on the farm where death came to her, and her entire life was spent in that one spot. Her life, however, touched many other lives during the 86 years that she spent on this earth and through those other lives her spirit and her influence has lived on, and will continue to live.

Mrs. McDade, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Roberts, Sr., was born November 6, 1849, and had been a member of Mount Moriah Church since early childhood. She was married to N. G. McDade November 5, 1899, and her husband preceded her in death 18 years ago. Seven children were born to them, of whom four now survive. These are Mrs. Ora Coffman, Will, Mae and Gip McDade of Fulton. One brother, Jake Roberts, Jr., and two sisters, Mrs. Pete Ridgeway and Mrs. Parlee Bard, also survive, with six grandchildren and a great grandchild.

Funeral services were held at the home of Mrs. Will McDade, East State Line, at one o'clock, December 26, with burial following at Mount Moriah Cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. Morelock and Rev. E. M. Mathis. Music was rendered by the following trio: Mrs. Lois Hibdman, Mrs. M. W. Haws and Miss Ruth Fields. Burial was in charge of P. C. Jones of Martin Undertaking Company.

COUNCIL HOLDS SPECIAL MEETING LAST NIGHT

The Mayor and City Council met in special called session last night at the City Hall to discuss the contract relative to the street cleaning and garbage removal. It was discovered that the successful bidder had made a technical error in submitting his bid and the same did not comply with the printed form of the contract. This error made it necessary for the City to decline to sign the contract and threw the whole matter open for further consideration.

According to it was decided to re-advertise for bids on this contract, and at a future meeting of the Mayor and City Council the matter will come up for a final decision and the contract will be awarded.

FULTON PROJECTS ARE FINALLY GIVEN APPROVAL

Mayor Paul DeMyer received a letter this morning from Senator Alben W. Barkley stating that the widening of Lake street project and the bridge in Missionary Bottom project had been approved and will be good news for Fulton.

The letter from Senator Barkley read as follows: "My dear Mayor: I am in receipt of a letter from the Chairman of the State Highway Commission in regard to the widening of Lake street in Fulton, which reads as follows: 'Receipt is acknowledged of your letter of December 19th concerning widening of Lake street in Fulton. This project is set up as one of our Works Program Municipal Projects. $6500.00 has been allotted to this project. Plans have been received from the field and are now being completed in this office. It is expected that the project will be ready for letting by the latter part of January, 1936. There is one other project set up in the same program for the city of Fulton. It is for a bridge near the northeast city limit on the Mayfield road. $16,500.00 is allotted to this project.'

I am pleased to have had such a favorable reply, and I hope that these projects get under way without any unnecessary delay.

With kindest regards and best wishes, I am, Sincerely yours, Alben W. Barkley."

The matter of the change in the manner of collecting water rent was again discussed and it was proposed to collect water rent monthly instead of quarterly, with no change in the rates. All who desire to pay in advance may pay for as many months as they please.

It was decided to employ a man to check all houses in Fulton to see how many water outlets are in service. This man will also fix all minor leaks that he may discover, to prevent the waste of water.

In response to the call printed in yesterday's Leader, the people of Fulton have already started bringing in their contributions.

The first one to enroll was Will Gayle; the second was P. T. Jones. Following is the list of contributions received today:

Will Gayle ..... $1.00
P. T. Jones ..... 1.00
Fulton Daily Leader ..... 1.00
J. W. Shepherd ..... 1.00
Theodore Kramer ..... 3.00

TREE IS DEDICATED TO FORMER S. S. TEACHER

At a joint meeting of the Woman's Class and the Men's Bible Class of the First Methodist Church of Fulton, held Sunday, December 22, 1935, a beautiful tribute was paid to Mrs. R. M. Redfearn a former teacher of the Woman's Bible Class, following which tribute a beautiful Evergreen tree was planted on the north side of the entrance to the Church just opposite the tree presented to the Church by their late pastor, J. V. Freeman, and wife. The Woman's Class purchased and planted the tree in loving memory of their former teacher, who now resides in Oklahoma, but occasionally comes back to visit friends and relatives in Fulton.

The tribute was given by Mrs. Eunice Robinson, member of the Class, who expressed the sentiments of the entire class for their beloved teacher. It is as follows:

"There is something about a tree which appeals to the very best that is in us. For a tree is one of the noblest handiworks of God, and no person can gaze on a tree, with its roots thrust far below the surface of the earth, its topmost branches reaching toward the skies, and its shadows casting a restful pattern on the pleasant earth without a feeling of thankfulness to God for giving us trees. Those who are compelled to live in sections which are treeless always marvel when they come to a section which is blessed with an abundance of trees. There is majesty, there is beauty, there is magic in the sight of a single tree, or in a forest, and all of us sometimes feel these things.

"There is also beauty in friendship, and in the love that we bear for one another. Today those two elements have met here on this pleasant church ground, for we are here to dedicate a tree in tribute to one we have loved, and still love, and to one whose wise teachings have meant much to each and every one of us. We have not waited until this friend was gone, as is too frequently the case, but while she is still among us we are dedicating this Evergreen tree to her memory, and we hope that it will grow in this friendly earth, its life will endure after we have passed on, to remind those who are following after us of the goodness and the fragrance of the woman to whom this tree is dedicated.

"For more than a quarter of a century Mrs. Redfearn labored as a teacher of the Woman's Bible Class in this Sunday School. She gave her very best to this labor. She taught and inspired those who sat under her teachings. She made the way of the Book clear to groping minds, and her everyday life was an inspiration to those who knew her. Now that circumstances have caused her to live elsewhere, and we no longer have the benefit of her rich knowledge, we know full well what she really meant to the class, and to the community as a whole. And so today we are dedicating this tree to her memory. It symbolizes in three ways her work among us: Its down-thrust roots have taken firm hold on the rich earth in which they are embedded, as Mrs. Redfearn's

IN MEMORY OF MRS. EXUM

Funeral service for Mrs. Ollie Ozora (Linton) Exum, wife of Thomas Exum, who died Saturday morning, January 4, 1936, at her home on Maple Ave., was held Sunday afternoon at the residence at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. E. M. Mathis and Rev. J. J. Owen conducted the service and music was rendered by the Methodist Choir, using "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Let The Lower Lights Be Burning." Rev. Mathis read the 23d Psalm which was a favorite of the deceased, using as a basis for his remarks a part of the first verse: "I shall not want...." calling attention to the various sayings of this psalm, which were an index of her life. The large crowd that attended the funeral and the beautiful floral display, expressed volumes of love and esteem, in which she was held by her loved ones, neighbors and friends. Pallbearers were: Honor. Messrs. Walter Boaz, Bob Boaz, H. H. Bugg, Leon Hutchens, Ardell Sams, Anron Butts, Earl Boone, Thront Jones. Active: Burgess Waltmon, Frank Wiggins, Robert Burrow, James McDade, James Leath, Melburn Simons. Acting as flower girls were: Gladys Simons, Maudelle Segui, Margaret King, Mildred Gibbs, Elizabeth Shankle, Myrtle B. McCollum. Interment followed at Fairview Cemetery in charge of the Hornbeak Funeral Company.

Mrs. Exum was born November 3d, 1883, and when a child she not only professed, but possessed, religion and united with the Methodist Church of this city. She was an active and faithful member until her health failed, twelve years ago. Although afflicted, she was ever mindful and devoted to her companion and children, doing what she could to make her home happy and worthwhile.

On May 22d, 1901, she was married to Thomas Matthew Exum and from that date to the close of her earthly pilgrimage she was a loyal companion and devoted mother. To this happy union four children were born, two girls and two boys. Their oldest child, Mozelle, passed away when a little more than two years of age. The following children, Helen, Milton, Thomas, one daughter-in-law, Nell, her husband, Thomas M. Exum, who had been a faithful and true husband, always forgetful of himself and doing what he could for her joy and comfort, survive her and were at her bedside at the time of her going. Two brothers, Clifton Linton of this city and Carlton Linton of Central City, Ky., one sister, Mrs. L. B. Newton, of Old Hickory, Tenn., Allan Cox, a devoted nephew of Chicago, Ill., besides a host of other relatives, are left to mourn her passing.

It is said by the husband, children, and friends that Mrs. Exum lived her life for others. When her health failed, her only complaint was: "I cannot do for members of my family and my friends as I once did and as I desire to do now." But she had been so faithful as a companion, mother and neighbor that by these she will always be called blessed. She labored here, she has an eternity of bliss in which to reap. We will not think of Mrs. Exum as being dead, but think of her as being free from pain and waiting for her loved ones in that happy land where the flowers fade not and where the sun shall never go down. As James Whitcomb Riley has said: "I cannot say, and I will not say That she is dead—she is just away. With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand, She has wandered into an unknown land."

NOTICE TO MERCHANTS By order of the City Council all purchases for the City of Fulton must be accompanied by requisition from Chairman of Department otherwise accounts will not be allowed. Mayor and City Council Adv. 16-4t.

ROOSEVELT STATES FARMERS MUST BE GRANTED PAYMENT

WALLACE CALLS PARLEY OF FARM LEADERS' WAGEMENT MOVE SEEN

Washington, Jan. 7.—(AP).—Surviving the ruins of his farm-aid program, President Roosevelt reported tonight his only decision so far is to ask Congress to reimburse farmers for suddenly-terminated A. A. A. contracts.

Secretary Wallace, however, called seventy farm leaders to the Capital for a conference Friday and Saturday "to discuss plans for agriculture in light of the Supreme Court decision." A joint farmer-labor movement to permit such measures as A. A. A. and N. R. A. was advanced as a possibility by President William Green of the American Federation of Labor.

Earlier in the day, Wallace warned in a radio speech against a return to farm conditions of 1932. All field activities of A. A. A. were halted. Employees here reported for work as usual, although the Treasury reported it had stopped writing checks for administrative expenses as well as payments to farmers under the invalidated law.

Congressional leaders tried to gauge the effect of the decision in the Nation, with no immediate conclusions. The effect on other with considerable head shaking. Wallace cleared up one question when he announced that in his department's opinion, provisions of the Adjustment Act governing sugar quotas were not affected.

Tired-eyed but still smiling, Mr. Roosevelt received more than 200 reporters at his regular press conference with the usual announcement that there as "no news." He ended the conference with the same declaration.

The President's only positive assertion in reply to eager questions was that he felt the Government had a moral obligation to reward farmers for performance under existing contracts through which they had reduced crop acreage.

PADUCAH ENDS WINNING STREAK OF BULLDOGS

The Bulldogs lost their first game of the season in a rough and roudy contest against the Tornado of Tighman last night at Paducah by a score of 24 to 19. The game was close all the way through although Fulton did not lead except once in the third quarter when the score was 14 to 12 in their favor.

The score at the end of the first quarter was 6 to 5 in Tighman's favor; at the half 10 to 8 and at the end of the third quarter 19 to 17.

Beadles, captain of the Bulldogs, was high point man for Fulton with eight points. Alderson, lead for the opponents.

The lineup for Fulton was: Peeples rf; Powers lf; Hummel c; Beadles rg; Nanney lg; Sub. Genung.

The second team lost their game by a score of 22 to 13. Dunn was high point man for Fulton with 6 points. Ashmore and Nance each made five points for Paducah.

COMMENT

THE RECEPTION IN LIVERPOOL

"A dozen newspaper and motion picture automobiles raced after in pursuit." One cannot help being struck by that detail in the account of Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh's landing at Liverpool. The mobilization of whole battalions of British newspaper men to cover every possible and impossible aspect of the arrival, the solid lines of police which had to be formed to defend the fugitive family as it rushed to the automobile waiting "with motor running;" the wild cloud of rumor which filled the British press for two or three days before the landing, and the fact that the respectable "Sunday Times" as well as the Rothemann press gave prominent display to the photograph of Jon Lindbergh, the taking of which was partly responsible for the family's flight—these things may somewhat mitigate Americans' sense of shame over the exile of its distinguished citizen. Few reputable American newspapers would touch that particular achievement of Mr. Hearst's enterprising photographers. Evidently the vulgarity of modern news-gathering methods is not unique to the United States, and the old dignity with which the British once surrounded the private affairs of famous personages seems to be wearing thinner, even if it has not yet been destroyed with the ruthlessness which we permit to our sensational gutter Journalism.

The British cannot take too much satisfaction to themselves. Only in Paris, it is said, can a celebrated man pass without attracting notice, partly because the French press is differently organized, partly because only Paris has seen so many of them come and go that celebrity no longer matters much. On the other hand, there is little doubt that when the first day's excitement passes the Lindbergh family will find a security in Wales, both for their persons and their privacy, which was denied them here. And there is some truth in the British suggestion that Colonel Lindbergh's own excessive secretiveness about his plans invited yesterday's demonstration, just as his sensitiveness toward publicity here was partly responsible for the way in which our yellow newspapers hounded him.

Had there been less secrecy about the Liverpool landing there would have been much less notoriety; and had Colonel Lindbergh not been so obstinately reticent about his private affairs here there would have been less curiosity about them. This does not excuse the hounding. Indeed, it amounts to saying that the colonel should have submitted to a kind of blackmail upon his privacy in order not to lose it altogether. But the hard truth is that fame of the stupendous sort which he achieved is a blackmail. It is all the more reason why the public sense of taste should be aroused to keep her exactions within bounds. — New York Herald Tribune.

WHAT'S WHAT AT A GLANCE WASHINGTON WORLD

Central Press
Washington Bureau
1200 S. Street

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Congress meets with its Democratic membership in a frame of mind to adjourn as soon as possible, which is just what President Roosevelt wishes. Republicans want to prolong the session all they can, lambasting the New Deal from the vantage point of Capitol Hill.

Being in so large a majority, the Democrats can have their way if they can avoid falling out among themselves. However, they are pretty badly split. The Republicans, on the opposite hand, are tolerably solid. They have their progressive dissenters, but the group is smallish.

MAJORITY A LIABILITY

The administration doubtless will be able to control the senate. It may save trouble in the house of representatives. It will find its difficulty with lawmakers who were elected in 1934 as Democrats in normally Republican territory. There are senators who were elected thus, but their seats will not be at stake in 1936. The representatives, so elected, will be candidates next November. They desire, above all things, to win—whether with the administration or otherwise. If they considered the administration as tremendously popular today as when they won, they still would be its loyal supporters. But they recognize that the New Deal has "slipped," consequently no longer are as dependable as they were.

The Democratic majority, in short, is too large to be manageable. If the present situation it almost is a liability rather than an asset.

SUBJECTS FOR ACTION

The soldiers' bonus is a worry. There will be bitter disagreements over neutrality. Social security legislation will have to be practically made over.

The utility act must be amended. The Frasier-Landis bill threatens to raise an issue between congress and the White House.

New labor laws and the AAA are in danger.

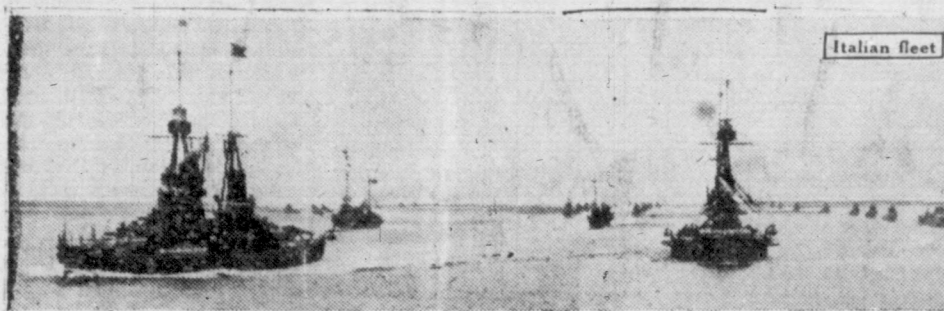

It's not too safe to forecast a short session with so many highly controversial questions pending.

The fact is that the New Dealers have worked too fast hitherto. Even such of their enactments as are justified on constitutional grounds are found to have defects in them, which they themselves admit must be remedied. This job will take time and involve friction, not only with conservatives but between Democrats.

where the Warner Bros. picture was shown for the first time locally, and brought with her the biggest cargo of laughs heard here in many a long day.

A quartette of the screen's best fun makers, made up of two blonde nemeses, Joan Blondell and Glenda Farrell, and Hugh Herbert and Allen Jenkins, headed the cast with Joan and Glenda again teamed as a pair of wise-cracking gold diggers. They play the parts of two chorus girls, stranded on the Pacific Coast, and running a concession in an amusement park at a naval base in the hope of getting enough money to pay their way back to New York and jobs.

They go completely broke, however, when the champion prize fighter of the navy puts them out of business by his skill as a canringer. But the cane ringer, falling in love with one of the chor-Joan, and when a wily promoter starts a beauty contest, he sets to fight the local pug and give the winner's prize, 5,000 votes, to him.
But his own pal falls in love with Joan, which leads to some riotous complications and winds up in a thrilling, through laughal climax, in which there is a kidnapping, a wild motor boat chase and a free for all hair pulling match.

Never have Joan and Glenda who have been teamed together in many pictures, appeared in a fun-nier comedy. It gives them the opportunity of their careers to exhibit their fast talking, wisecracking talents, and they kept the audience in an uproar from beginning to end.

STEEL INDUSTRY IS
STARTING BIG YEAR

Cleveland, Jan. 6.—(AP)—The magazine Steel predicted today a year "at least 10 per cent better than 1935" for the steel industry in 1936.

It said the Lake Superior iron ore industry was in "the most favorable position since 1929."

STRAND THEATRE
ON LAKE STREET

"Crime and Punishment," a picture you'll regret missing if you do not see it today or tonight at the Strand, is one of the leading pictures of this type, and one you'll thoroughly enjoy.

It tells of Roderick Raskobnikoy, a brilliant student who goes to St. Petersburg to make his fortune. But fortunes are not so easily made, and he soon finds himself ragged, hungry and behind on the rent of his garret apartment. Raskobnikoy is an ardent student of the criminal mind. Anonymously he writes for a popular magazine and article on criminology that attracts nationwide attention. The money he receives for it he sends home to his mother and his out-of-work sister, for whom he has great affection. But it is when he feels that he can commit the perfect crime and get by with it that the story really starts. It's a thriller from start to finish.

Child Who Holds Breath Is Trying to Get Own Way

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

HOLDING the breath, banging the head, eating dirt, night terrors, tantrums in general, when they occur in infancy, all have very much the same basis.

This basis is a psychological and emotional, and not physical. It usually is a means to an end. The baby has found out that if he holds his breath until he is blue in the face, the parents are very much alarmed and will do anything he wants. He, therefore, does it again whenever the same situation arises. As a matter of fact, the fear that the condition may go on to a state of unconsciousness beyond control is entirely unfounded.

The baby addicted to crying spells is cock of the walk for a while, until somebody has nerve enough to shove him off the sidewalk. Just one period of paying no attention to him whatever during one of these spells, sitting calmly by and making no remonstrance, is sufficient to break up the entire scheme. It is very important that it should be broken up, because the child is likely to turn into a spoiled and unsocial member of society.

The head wobbler or head lagger is very much the same kind of a baby. He accidentally develops some queer head movement with a tendency to roll or bang the head and nod. He has a good time doing it, but it nearly drives his parents crazy. No one has an improper feeling are likely to get into the habit. Babies with rickets will the head
