Careful Picking Pays Dividends

National Cotton Picking Contest Stresses Proper Methods In Harvesting

Cotton Producers throughout the 14 states which grow this vital crop are being encouraged to improve their harvesting methods through a program sponsored by the National Cotton Council and the War Food Administration.

"Extra care means extra cash" is the slogan being brought to the attention of thousands of cotton growers whose crops have a vital place in world needs.

This special program, which climaxes a 14-year plan for the growing of better grade cotton, is known as the "grade improvement program," with hundreds of thousands of dollars spent by the group in an effort to impress upon the farmer-producers, the importance of achieving higher quality when harvesting the crop.

"Pick your cotton as dry as possible" is one idea being hammered repeatedly.

"Pick before weather damaged" is another admonition which will benefit every cotton farmer who heeds it.

"Keep trash out" is one of the cautions brought out in the program designed to benefit all people connected with the industry, and finally growers are urged, when harvesting this year's crop to "keep good cotton separate."

National publicity given this program already has caused country-wide comment. As leaders in the cotton business realize it is the farmer upon whom they are dependent for the quality of the product, which will play such an important role in rebuilding world-wide commerce in this and past years to follow.

With the aid of nature, the foresighted cotton grower can produce a crop much more valuable than his neighbor who has the same assistance from Mother Nature, and who uses the same type of seed, but who fails to observe the proper care in harvesting, it is emphasized.

The National Cotton Picking Contest, to be held in Blytheville, Arkansas, on October 5th, goes hand in hand with this program.

The man or woman who is awarded the $1000 grand prize and the title of "World Cotton Picking Champion" will have picked the cotton clean and will have left the rows in good condition as well as having picked a large amount in the time allotted.

Judging is done on the 100 per cent basis, with penalties charged for failure to pick cotton clean. These penalties make deductions possible from gross weights.

The same rules, in effect since the national competition was started in Blytheville six years ago, have proved very popular both among the contestants and leaders in the cotton business, who endorse the contest.

Practically all of the more than 200 entrants in the contest have expressed approval of the rules because they realize the need for taking care of the boll remaining for a later picking.

Past champions have endorsed the grade improvement program and each year the quality of the picking has been improved.

Clinton P. Anderson, Secretary of the Department of Agriculture, will attend this year's National Cotton Picking Contest to personally encourage the grade improvement program.

Pvt. Long Killed In Auto Accident

He Was Killed Instantly; Two Other Fulton Boys Injured On Fulton-Union City Highway Saturday

After serving overseas in the South Pacific, Pvt. Virgil Howard Long, 23, home on furlough, was killed near the hour of midnight Saturday, four miles southwest of Fulton on the Union City highway, when the car in which he was riding and a truck collided. John Irvin and Melbourne Harris, both employees of Swift & Co., of this city, were injured in the wreck, and taken to the Union City Clinic for treatment. Irvin sustained a scalp wound, a broken nose and lacerations, while Harris had three broken ribs and head and face lacerations.

Irvin was driving the car in which he, Harris and Long were coming toward Fulton, when their machine ran into the back of the truck stalled on the highway. Irvin was blinded by the lights on an approaching automobile, and did not see the truck until it was too late to prevent the accident.

The truck was driven by J. B. Jones of Boaz, Ky., in which were twelve boys and girls enroute home from Union City. Ardie Speed, 24, of Milburn, occupant of the truck, was treated at the Union City clinic for a fractured shoulder.

Pvt. Long went over to Hickman last Saturday to sell his automobile, coming back by the way of Union City. Seeing Irvin and Harris, he asked for a lift home.

Funeral services for the young soldier were held Tuesday afternoon at Hornbeak Funeral Chapel, with military rites at Greenlee cemetery by the American Legion. Interment followed in the local cemetery.

War Relief Drive Starts Next Week

Quota Set Up For Fulton County At $6,500, With $3,500 From East End

Plans are complete for the War Relief drive to be conducted in Fulton next week, according to "Happy" Hogan, chairman, from the Young Men's Business Club, which is sponsoring the campaign in conjunction with the Lions, Rotary and other clubs. The Fulton county quota is $6,500, with $3,500 of this amount to be raised in Fulton and the east end of the county. Committees will call upon people in business district, residential section, and the rural districts to contribute toward this worthy cause.

"Unfinished Business" will be the slogan of the Kentucky War Fund drive for a goal of $1,406,375 which will be conducted from Sept. 20 to Oct. 20.

Challenging Kentucky to maintain its proud record of never failing our men in the armed forces, Dr. Frank L. McVey, State campaign chairman of the Kentucky War Fund, yesterday announced the opening of the third and last National War Fund campaign starting Thursday, September 20.

To our men on guard duty in occupation zones, in Germany and Japan, the war has gone stale, continued the chairman. They regard the job over and want to come home. To lift their morale, the military authorities have asked for an all-out expansion of the USO and USO-Camp Shows, and the United Seamen's Service for the American Merchant Marine. These are two of the service agencies dependent for support upon the success of the drive.

The return of 370,000 wounded men already in military hospitals here, has called for an expansion of USO Clubs and USO Camp Show entertainment in this country.

Referring to the American relief agencies for our allies countries in Europe and China; represented in the National War Fund, Dr. McVey said, "V-J Day has not ended the war-created shortages among our allies. Starvation still outstays the enemy."

Bulldogs To Open Season At Paducah

Fulton Bulldogs will open the football season with Tilghman Tornado at Paducah Friday (today) afternoon. Coach Goranflo has been putting the local team through some stiff paces in preparation for the season ahead. The first home game will be played at Fairfield park with McKenzie on September 28.

The football squad recently elected John Joe Campbell as captain, and L. C. Bone as alternate captain.

Prospects are far from rosy against the powerful Paducah Tornado, for the Bulldog aggregation is the smallest in years.

Jimmy Carter, John Joe Campbell, L. C. Bone and Billy Johnson, seniors, are the nucleus of the Fulton team, supported by some able players like Pal Boaz, 150-lb. junior, the blocking back.

THE WAR IS NOT OVER

The shooting has stopped, but the war is not over. President Truman demonstrates recognition of this fact in his decision to continue the draft, and Americans who want to prevent a World War III and a worse carnage than has yet occurred would do well to exercise caution.

Some of us are urging that the draft be discontinued, while some are urging that those who are overseas be allowed to return. That is only natural, and we are mindful of their feelings.

It would be impossible to grant both wishes. What would become of the peace won at so great a cost? Why take the scotch block from the wheel when the peak has been almost reached and let the loaded wagon roll to the foot of the hill? The American people have been told that certain members of the U. S. Senate defeated the hope of the World in rejecting President Wilson's League plan at the end of the last war, and yet the American people themselves may make even a greater mistake by playing the part of a boy who pulls the apple soon after it drops the bloom.

Some congressmen are advocating the discontinuance of the draft and recruitment by the volunteer system, and that plan would be advisable enough if we had assurance that a sufficient number of volunteers would take their places in the relay. However, we lack not only the assurance that the draft could be successfully replaced with a volunteer system, but also even the indication if it.

As to the second question, something must be said for the men who have been long away from home, and all is impossible should be done to hasten their release. However two glaring facts must be considered. First of these experienced men are essential to successful dealing with the defeated enemies. The Japanese, though formally polite, are alert to every opportunity, and their feeling is hostile. Already come stories of a Japanese Underground. In Germany, discovery of a well-organized plan for sabotage of communications and organization in the American Army of Occupation has been just made. Hence the conclusion that immaturity and inexperience in the occupying armies might entail serious consequences.

Another cause for a more gradual replacement of experienced service men with recruits arises from the unemployed condition at home. While the draft is taking many boys from the high schools and colleges an on-rush of released service men would only increase the bottle-neck pressure among the unemployed.

An efficient restraint on the enemies abroad and a necessarily gradual reconversion program in industry at home render a limited draft and a gradual exchange of personnel abroad, expedient.

JOBS

All of us believe in the future of America. We believe that the present uncertainty is only a temporary period between war prosperity and an era of peacetime plenty.

But believing is not enough. That, alone, is not the answer to unemployment and the other hazards of reconversion through which we are passing. The only solution for unemployment is—JOBS.

We, in this community, are fortunate. Of course, the national situation is bound to have some influence on each State and County of the nation, but by and large we have no reconversion problems here. Our farms and forests are producing commodities as necessary to the well-being of the country and urgently needed now as during the crucial years of war. A job is waiting for most anyone who wishes to work.

Of course, working on a farm or cutting pulpwood in the forests does not pay the swollen wages obtainable from some of the big city war industries before V-J Day. But living and working here does not cut wide gaps into a paycheck either, with everything from rent to recreation at inflated prices. In fact, taking all things into consideration, it is possible to live better and save more at current wages here than could be done with considerable higher big city wages.

Nor are current wages low. Current farm prices enable farmers to earn and pay good wages, while pay for pulpwood cutters and haulers and other workers in forest industries are higher than they have ever been.

If anybody wants, good living, doing healthy and invigorating work at good wages, he can find it on one of our neighboring farms or in cutting urgently needed top quality Pulpwood for one of our neighboring pulp mills.

There is no reconversion problem here.

THE GOOD ROADS PROGRAM

This newspaper hails the efforts of civic-minded leaders to bring about a wider good roads program in Kentucky. The voters of the state will have an opportunity to help push forward this movement when they go to the polls to vote in November.

Years ago when The News was founded, its publisher dedicated the publication to the task of assisting in every way possible the development of the county, and the Ken-Tenn territory. During these years the territory has made much progress, and we take pride in the fact that The News had a small part in that progress.

There remains much more to be accomplished, if the Ken-Tenn territory is to take its rightful place among the more progressive and prosperous sections of the country. For that reason we welcome any progressive movement on the part of any civic group or the citizens, and extend the aid of this newspaper, for it is the purpose of this medium to be of lasting service.

We pledge our sincere co-operation in all efforts for the betterment of this section.

Our American Way of Life is made up of many things—bath tubs and automobiles; big cities and small towns; farms and victory gardens; mammoth steel mills and village machine shops; colossal educational institutions and the little red school house beside the road; churches and hospitals; railroads and air lines; chewing gum and ice cream; department stores and crossroad general stores; specialty shops and beauty parlors; pool rooms and race tracks; Hollywood Broadway and the High School play; laughter and sorrow; eagerness and despair; and people—millions of all kinds of people—gathered together from the four corners of the earth, drawn by the magnet of Freedom, Opportunity and Justice.

Our American Way of Life provides each individual an opportunity to go as far and climb as high as his willingness to work, his skill, ingenuity and integrity will carry him.

Our American Way of Life recognizes that the individual has the right to work when and where he wishes, the right to worship as he pleases, to speak his mind on any subject, to meet with his fellow man for any peaceful purpose, to be secure in his possessions and to have his day in a free court. It recognizes that the individual is superior to the State, that our public officials are servants of the people and that they derive their just powers from the consent of the people.

These things taken together created the atmosphere of freedom and an economic climate which made possible in the United States the greatest production of wealth in the history of the world and the establishment of a standard of living which is the envy of all other nations in the world.

In short, the American Way of Life is the greatest blessing ever bestowed on mankind any place on the face of the earth.

A bill has been introduced in Congress recommended by the President, to pay unemployed persons $25 per week for 26 weeks. If enacted into law this would be nothing less than putting a premium on unemployment. A man would be foolish to seek employment when the government pays him not to work.

In very rare instances should anybody be paid unemployment benefits. Certainly those who have been employed in war plants at huge wages for several years could and should have saved enough to carry them through the reconversion period. Just such foolish actions as this will indefinitely prolong the reconversion period and cause manifold suffering in the depression which will inevitably follow.

Farmers have been paid for NOT planting crops; now it is proposed to pay workmen for NOT working! Perhaps the New Dealers have figured out a way for the government to get revenue from the crops the farmers didn't plant and from the products of industry which the workers fail to produce.

It is predicted that many strikes will occur during the reconversion period. There will be much rivalry between the CIO and the AFL when the change in American industry comes about. There will be many jurisdictional disputes. Critical days are ahead in industrial circles. The government looks on. The public looks on. The nation ponders what is ahead.

What the public seems to miss is that a legislator who proposes a law to "benefit humanity," at a cost which means more taxes, usually is a fellow whose income won't be hard hit by the law. Senator Wagner's champion of labor, is not an employer of labor. Legislators who sponsored unemployment compensation, and then increased its benefits, were not, so far as we have noticed, employers called upon to part with three cents on every dollar paid for wages—which is more than most investments are drawing in interest.

Not that Wagner's and the ideas of others to "benefit humanity" are not good. The trouble is they are TOO GOOD; they are launched with no thought of what each tax added to another does with the dollar—of both employer and employee. Reformers always ask for more than is needed.

The dollar is like a man who can be robbed of his energy, through too much work, like a farm that can be made useless through draining its resources, like anything else that can take just to much—not to mention the Golden Egg Goose.

I have just finished reading "Passport to Treason," an inside story of spies in America, which is really an eye-opener about the varied and sundry foreigners who come to this country, for no other purpose but to undermine it. It tells how to train our own people in methods that can be used to track down criminals who hesitate at nothing to destroy America. It is a book of absorbing interest, and one that will arouse the most lethargic to the ever-present danger of the enemies in our midst.

"Passport to Treason" is a book for every patriotic American. In this after-war period the socialists, fascists, communists, and other groups foreign to the American Way of Life will do everything in their power to wreck our democratic form of government. In order to combat this danger every real American must be alert to the danger, vigilant and active in their efforts to preserve America. For that reason this book should be read by all, in schools, civic gatherings, etc. The menace to America is by no means licked.

DAIRY PRODUCERS SHOULD CASH C C C CHECKS

Farmers in Fulton County should make sure they haven't misplaced any dairy production drafts. If they find any such checks that haven't been cashed, H. M. Pewitt, Chairman of the Agricultural Conservation Committee, asks that the drafts be cashed promptly to help simplify the Commodity Corporation's bookkeeping.

Calling attention to the difficulty of keeping accurate records under such a Nation-wide program, Mr. Pewitt said that a recent report showed that over 32,000 dairy drafts issued before November 1, 1944, were still outstanding on June 30, 1945. A large number of the drafts issued to Kentucky farmers also were still outstanding as of that date. This means that some farmers have stored somewhere—perhaps forgotten—thousands of dollars' worth of ready money.

Almost 2 million farmers participated in the dairy production program last year. It would seem profitable for anyone who has forgotten whether he cashed his last dairy production payment draft to do as Mr. Pewitt asks, and "take a look around."

Hope ever urges on, and tells us tomorrow will be better. —Tibullus.

Only the man who can afford to lose money can afford to speculate.

Unwise buyers may find the farm that they have bought is "sinking sand."

Farmers much mind their p's and q's—"p" for production, "q" for quality.

Come Back Home Jobs Are Waiting

A LOT of our patriotic neighbors left home to serve their country, either in the armed services or in war industries.

If you are one of them, we want you to know there is a warm welcome and a job waiting for you here.

We hope you will come back to make your home here among your old friends and neighbors. This is a good town with a lot of fine people—and a fine future.

Plenty of Jobs Here

In addition to the opportunities here with which you are familiar, some new ones have developed during the war. For instance, a lot of people around here have been making good money working in pulpwood. The tremendous war-time demand for pulpwood will continue because of the civilian demand that has been piling up and the many new industrial uses that have been discovered. Pulpwood has no reconversion problem.

And that is typical of most of our business here. It runs along pretty steadily—no big ups and downs. You can enjoy security here and a nice way of living that doesn't cost every penny you make.

So come on back home to stay! We'll be mighty glad and proud to have you with us again.

Cut this out—Mail it to somebody you want to come back home

In time of peace...

With V-J Day officially declared, Kentucky brewers are continuing their unabated efforts, through the Kentucky Committee, to see that malt beverages are sold in licensed outlets in strict conformity with law, order and social demands.

With decreasing demands for supervising outlets in military training areas, their surveillance of all retailers of malt beverages throughout the State has been further intensified.

Through self-regulation and cooperation with all law-enforcement and licensing authorities, the Kentucky Committee of the United States Brewers Foundation is determined to keep the name of beer on the high plane it deserves with the thinking public—a beverage of real moderation.

HOMEMAKERS CLUB MEETS

With "Expansion" as the theme for the new club year, Fulton County Clubs should strive the harder to show everyone the merits of such Homemakers groups. In the September meeting with Mrs. O. E. Nanney, on the thirteenth, the several women of the Bennetts Club were privileged to have the nurse, Mrs. Cavender again demonstrate skillfully some of the most common needs of our homes so far as preventions and cures are concerned.

After having had the County Federation meeting recently and after having installed the new officers the groups are efficiently posed for the programs of work and study.

Who would not be proud to possess one of the pretty, practical booklets furnished by Miss Howard. "Everything from the programs to the blanks for reports are unique."

Never a dull moment exists for homemakers — October finds the following activities coming: coming before we realize it's time. (1) Child Training meeting at Cayce, October 3. (2) Clothing Training School, October 4. (3) Bennett Club meeting October 11. (4) Annual Day October 17.

Besides the Health Lesson, Mrs. B. L. Austin and Mrs. M. E. Daws gave reports of goals for Reading and Citizenship, respectively. Mrs. Croft reported on Advisory Council and Landscape. Magazines were exchanged.

Mrs. Thomas Bruce was added to the club as a new member.

We now await the monthly news letter, then we convene again.

HYPHENATES

By RUTH TAYLOR

Woodrow Wilson once said that some Americans need hyphens in their names because only a part of them has come over.

We all know such people. They never seem to be able to tell to what country they owe allegiance—and, depending on the strength of their previous ties, they become half-citizens or even traitors.

But there is another type of hyphenate of whom not so much is said. This is the American by citizenship, and too often by birth, who pays a greater allegiance to his own particular group than to the nation as a whole.

These hyphenates have missed the whole point of the United States of America. They believe that freedom means their right to demand special privilege, that the Bill of Rights guarantees them the right to put their own interests first. They, in their selfish zeal, misrepresent the groups to which they belong. They are the ones who spread divisive thought, who are responsible for vitriolic cartoons featuring Capital as a blood-sucking monster, Labor as a low browed gangster, the farmer as a grasping narrow-minded trader—and so on down the line.

These hyphenates are just as dangerous as those whom we call subversive. Our law enforcement agencies are alert to the latter and fully capable of spiking their guns. But only public opinion and the self restraint of the individual can protect us from the first.

We cannot afford any kind of hyphenates in America. We must be one people, Americans all, facing our problems in an American way—regardless of country of origin, shade of skin, type of work, or religious adherence—first in our minds. No hyphenates are wanted here.

Our primary duty, our first allegiance is to our country and to its ideals of equal rights for all. We must have peaceful relations at home in order to have peaceful relations with the world.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Matter" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 23, 1945.

The Golden Text is: I have declared, and have served, and I have shewed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, that I am God." (Isa. 43.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof; but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever." (1 John 2:15-17)

SELF-REGULATION

In time of war...

Kentucky brewers prepared themselves for the contingencies of war long before we were drawn into conflict. In 1940, when Selective Service became effective, they augmented their efforts through the Kentucky Committee in all military training areas. Their effective work in helping maintain wholesome conditions in licensed retail beer outlets in those areas drew high praise from military and public officials, from the press and from civic leaders. Through its Army and Navy Cooperation Program, work in military areas was carried out diligently since its inception.

At the same time brewers did not relinquish their supervision of licensed retail beer outlets in non-military areas. Their self-imposed and far-sighted program of public service went on uninterrupted.

Mail Man lost 25 lbs. Regains 21 On Retonga

He Can Eat Anything Now
Sleeps Like New-Born
Babe, Says Mr. VanArsdall.
No Longer Doubts
Merits of Retonga.

"I am no longer a doubting Thomas when it comes to Retonga, for it has given me more worthwhile relief than everything else I tried put together," declares Mr. V. R. VanArsdall, for twenty-eight years a Rural Mail carrier at Auburn, Ky. Mr. VanArsdall is a Mason, a member of the Methodist Church, and attends the Rural Mail carrier's convention practically every year. Discussing his happy experience with Retonga he gratefully continued:

"I was badly underweight, very nervous, and it seemed to me that every meal I ate tortured me with acid indigestion. My nerves were badly on edge, and after meals so much gas formed in my stomach it tortured me for an hour or more before I could get relief. I think I used almost every laxative I ever heard of, for sluggish elimination & always felt chock full of toxic poisons. I lost twenty-five pounds in a few months.

"Retonga relieved all this distress far beyond my hopes. I have regained 21 pounds and I feel better than I have for many years. I give Retonga one-hundred percent credit for it."

"Retonga relieved all of this distress due to Vitamin B-1 deficiency, constipation, insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, and loss of appetite. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at DeMyer's Drug Store.

Part 2 of a grand homecoming...
Part 1 is up to us!

Long before his troubles vanish in her warm embrace... long before he sees home again, he can be there—if you will help him.

The first thought of thousands of weary men, now landing in the South, is to rush to the telephone and call home.

What a disappointment if they find all long distance lines busy and they can't get their calls through.

Your telephone company is doing all that is humanly possible and you can help, too, by skipping all unnecessary calls—and by cutting short the essential ones.

If you find this inconvenient, just remember what that first call home means to returning service men.

BIG RAILROAD CIRCUS COMING

TO FULTON SEPTEMBER 25th

Not so many years ago everyone turned out during the early morning hours to watch the circus unload. It was almost as great a thrill as the circus itself and it was a disappointment to many when practically every circus turned to motor transportation in recent years.

Residents of Fulton and Vicinity will have ample opportunity to witness the unloading and erection of a large railroad train of Dailey Bros. Three-Ring Circus arrives in the railroad yards here. The circus, one of America's largest traveling by railroad this year, will present performances at 3 and 8 p. m. at the Old Fairgrounds at the end of Browder Street, Tuesday, September 25.

Spectators will have ample opportunity to watch workmen as they go about the many tasks incident to erection of a large railroad circus. Tents will be erected to shelter the many animals, cage wagons and equipment. Elephants will be seen assisting in the many tasks connected with this huge job.

The Dailey Bros. herd of 10 elephants, the groups of stallions, palomino and pinto horses, cage wagons of wild beasts—all well be seen on the showgrounds during the morning hours.

The circus management welcomes spectators both in the railroad yards and at the showgrounds where these fans will see many sights not included on the circus program.

The two-hour program will feature the herd of elephants in a realistic baseball game with pretty Norma Devenport, at 14 the world's youngest elephant trainer, as the umpire. A sensational wild animal act will see lions, tigers, bears and leopards performing in the same arena. Raring aerial acts and intricate drills are among highlights of the program. The circus also presents a corps of clowns in original rib-tickling antics.

Doors will open one hour before show time to allow ample time for inspection of the large free menagerie of elephants, lions, tigers, zebras and many other animals from the far corners of the earth. An elaborate horse fair, which includes many blue ribbon winners, is a feature of the menagerie.

"I DON'T mean just your old job in the K. U. line gang. That's waiting, too, of course. Old Mike will be mighty glad to have some of you young fellows on the job after putting up mostly with us oldtimers so long. But we kept the juice moving, Lad, and don't you forget it.

"Lots of the stuff you used over there was made right here in Kentucky and we gave 'em all the power they called for. We didn't slight anybody else, either. Every store, office, farm and home got all the electricity it needed. Many's the time we worked hours in rain and sleet, day and night, living up to that old K. U. trademark: 'Dependable Service.'

"We took as much pride in that as you did in beating the Huns and Japs.

"Now maybe that sounds a little bit like bragging. Well, I reckon we've got a brag coming, me and my company both. They've treated me right all these years and they're treating me right now that the time for my pension is here.

"Like I said, you've got to do more than just take the old man's place. This great old state of ours is going places now. New factories are moving in. Good, dependable electric service at low rates is helping bring 'em.

"That's where you come in, Son. You have a great tradition to live up to—the service tradition of the K. U. Organization. You're helping Kentucky grow. In This Hour of TRIUMPH

Behind us lie 3½ years of deadly struggle in which, with God's help, we have prevailed.

So, today, we celebrate a victory.

After the celebration, what lies ahead?

For most of us, the outlook is a bright one. If we will simply use the brains, the will, the energy, the enterprise...the materials and resources...with which we won our war, we can't fail to win the peace and to make this the richest, happiest land the world has known.

For most of us, the years ahead are bright with promise. But for others of us—and, ironically enough, their part in bringing victory was a major one—the years to come must bear a different look.

In America today are hundreds of thousands of injured men. Men with neatly pinned up sleeves and trousers. Blinded men. Men with clever iron hooks instead of hands. Worst of all, men with hurt and darkened minds.

These men need our help. Helping them will cost a great deal of money. We can help them by buying Victory Bonds.

Far away from America today are millions of Americans. As we would be, they're on fire to get back—to their wives, to the children some of them have never seen, to their jobs.

These men need our help. Helping them will cost a great deal of money. And we can help them best by buying Victory Bonds.

This is our day of triumph. But it's theirs too—the injured men, the men who are still far away.

Let's not forget them, in our just rejoicing. And the one way we can help most to care for our wounded...to bring our veterans home...to give them a fresh start in the country they fought for...to care for the families of those who died before the Victory was won...is simply this:

Buy all the Bonds you can. Keep all the Bonds you buy.
