Crowds Say County Fair Is Big Success

THEY'RE CALLING IT — "The biggest Little Fair You Ever Saw — And it is we think."

Hundreds Witness 1st. Day Events

Success marked the first hours of the Marshall County Fair with hundreds of people pouring into the gates to witness the first events.

The fair officially opened at 11:00 A. M. Wednesday morning with the Booths, Homemakers exhibits and livestock features attracting huge crowds.

The fair is complete with a large carnival as the center attraction. However, the Lions Club D-Nut Drinking drew huge crowds at all hours of the opening day and night.

The Beauty Contest which was sponsored by the Calvert City Lions club took the spotlight on Wednesday night when Doris O'Dell, master of ceremonies, announced the winners.

The Benton Homemakers exhibit was awarded first place with Maple Springs, Oak Level, Prentissburg and Calvert City finishing in that order.

Oak Level had the most entries and won most blue ribbons in the 4-H Club display. Gilbertsville was second in the number of blue ribbons received and New Harmony third.

Thursday morning marked the showing of Dairy cattle judging with team pulling contests drawing huge crowds despite the threat of rain.

Thursday evening a pet show will be held and judged and a parade of winners held. The chorus of the Paducah division of the SPEBSQSA will sing several numbers.

Hogs will be judged Friday morning with competition among Dueros, Hampshires, and Spotted Poland Chinas. Beef cattle will also be judged Friday morning.

All in all the Marshall County Fair should be a great success. As one writer put it, "Biggest Little Fair You Ever Saw."

Child Fatally Injured By Auto

George David-Jaco, 19-month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Jacob, of this county, was injured fatally Monday afternoon about five o'clock when he was struck by a car driven by Mrs. John Boatwright, on highway 68 three miles west of Benton.

The child was rushed to Riverside hospital at Paducah by State Trooper Billy Watkins, but died before arrival.

Mrs. Boatwright told Watkins that she did not see the child. According to Watkins, Mrs. Boatwright said she just happened over something and saw a child on the highway. She turned around then and realized what had happened.

No charges have been made, state police said.

The accident occurred in front of the Jacob home. The infant was playing at the home of a neighbor and the baby was told to go home. Instead of going directly home, the infant wandered onto the highway.

The body was carried to the Kennedy Funeral Home.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Union Ridge Baptist church with the Revs. T. L. Campbell and J. J. Gough officiating. Burial was made in the church cemetery.

TIMBER IS A PAYING CROP ON FARM OF SAM GOLD RYDER SAYS

Timber growing is a paying enterprise in the agriculture program on the Sam Gold farm, near Olive. He is growing enough timber on 38 acres, each year, to build a four room box house.

In addition to this he cuts a yearly average of 300 feet of lumber, 10 cords of fire wood and 10 fence posts for farm use.

Mr. Gold manages his timber as a farm crop along with his livestock, grain and tobacco. He finds it profitable to protect the woods from fire and to fence out the livestock. Only the mature and damaged trees are cut for harvest leaving the young healthy trees as growing stock. Before any timber is sold, salable trees are marked and scaled for board foot content.

His 38 acres of timber was cut over fifty years ago for ties. Since 1935 about 125 thousand board feet of timber has been harvested. Bob Rider, County Forester, who has been working with Mr. Gold, reports that there is still an average of 2750 board feet per acre left in growing stock. These trees are making an average growth of 160 board feet per acre each year.

The total annual growth on 38 acres is about 6000 board feet enough lumber to build a four-room box house.

If all the 30,000 acres of wood land in Marshall County were producing 150 board feet per acre about 5 million board feet could be harvested annually enough lumber to build 500 average size homes.

Looking At Life

By Urey Woodson Cross

If high speed living, atomic bombs and flying saucers worry you, go to the African bush country.

Anything like a flying saucer wouldn't concern the African natives, says Explorer Berry Brooks of Memphis.

"They'd conclude it was something they didn't know anything about — maybe black magic — and they'd dismiss it," said Brooks. "They're the happiest people I've ever seen. They don't worry about politics because the big tribal offices are handed down from father to son. Women are no problem — if a man has enough cows he can always buy another wife. No alarm clocks — no clothing problems — they're completely carefree."

Anybody want to volunteer to go to Africa and become a tribesman?

FAMOUS WORDS — Shun idleness. It is the rust that attaches itself to the most brilliant metals. (Voltaire)

A Chicago columnist claims three major parties are recognized in Washington: Democrat, Republican and Cocktail. Which brings up this thought: Wonder what Henry Wallace will do for a party now that he has quit the Progressives? He's also an ex-Democrat and an ex-Republican.

FOR THE KIDS — To attract children, a New York restaurant printed a miniature menu especially for them and featured a vegetable and meat pie dish. But the kids didn't go for it. The owner finally hit upon an idea to give the dish a special name, and now it sells like firecrackers on July Fourth. Name of the dish — Hopalong Casserole.

SENTENCE SERMON — And now abideth faith, hope charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.

We don't remember where we read it, but we ran across this little verse recently and would like to pass it on to any readers who might suffer from insomnia. Here goes:

Now I lay me down to wake,
I pray the Lord my thoughts to take;
If I should die before I sleep,
I pray the Lord to count my sheep.

DID YOU KNOW—Drinking glasses are called tumblers after the early English glasses, which had no base upon which to stand. These had to be held in hand or else they tumbled over.

ADD TRIVIA — The fibrous portions of banana leaves can be woven into serviceable cloth.

PAINTING THOUGHT — This is no time for ease and comfort. It is the time to dare and endure. (Winston Churchill)

Kentucky On The March

By Ewing Galloway

A farmer asked me the other day if I knew anybody that wanted to buy a fresh cow. Another was looking for a pure bred boar. A third wanted ten tons of hay.

"Have you tried a classified ad in the Henderson Gleaner?" I asked all three of them. No, they hadn't.

"Three lines in three issues of the paper will cost you seventy-five cents. That's a lot cheaper than going about the county making personal inquiries by word of mouth, and your chances would be far better."

The classified columns in your local paper are the best business institution in your community. If you have something to sell, the chances are fifty to one there is somebody who wants it. It may be a farm or a town house or a pair of misfit pants. Whatever it is, try a want ad in your local paper.

I have been using classified ads in our local daily for fourteen years and nine out of ten have clicked. And every so often I have plugged for the want column in a column I write for Leigh Harris's Sunday paper. Ten years ago the paper had a column and a half of classified ads. Last Sunday The Gleaner had exactly 120 wants, some of them containing fifty words.

Four or five years ago I noticed the Union County Advocate had only three or four want ads. I asked Earle Bell, managing editor and man of all work in the office, how come.

"Well, it is a sad sort of story. A lot of people would telephone their want ads and forget to pay them. Billing got results sometimes it didn't. So we lost interest in the classified business."

"Why don't you tell them they must pay in advance?" I asked.

He did and the classified department in THE Advocate is paying off.

Most weeklies get one dollar for one insertion. That is a bargain rate.

But this piece is not primarily in the interest of Kentucky newspapers. It is to convince the readers of this and over 100 other newspapers that they can sell almost anything with a want ad.

CHEESE FONDUE IN TOMATO SHELLS

It's tomato time! Juicy, ripe red beauties decorate the vines and invite m'lady to make up treats galore. Try Tomatoes Fondue—tomatoes stuffed with delectable enriched yeast bread crumbs, egg and cheese.

TOMATOES FONDUE

4 large firm tomatoes
Soft enriched yeast bread crumbs
1 egg
1/2 cup grated sharp cheese
Salt and pepper
1/4 cup dry bread crumbs
4 teaspoons margarine or butter

Cut a slice from the stem end of tomatoes. Remove seeds and part of the pulp with a teaspoon. Measure and put into mixing bowl. Turn scooped out tomatoes upside down and let drain. Add to tomato mixture an equal amount of soft bread crumbs. Separate egg, beat white until stiff, yolk until thick. Add egg yolk and cheese to tomato-bread crumb mixture. Mix together thoroughly. Salt and pepper to taste. Fold in beaten egg white. Fill tomatoes with mixture. Sprinkle with dry bread crumbs and top each tomato with a teaspoon of margarine or butter. Bake in a buttered shallow pan in a moderate oven, 350°-375° F., about 20 to 30 minutes.

To Make Soft Bread Crumbs:

Crumble slices of fresh bread with fingers, or place two slices together at a time and cube with a sharp knife. Crumbs may be left on or removed, as desired. But never throw crusts away, they're perfect for dry bread crumbs.

To Make Dry Bread Crumbs:

Grind dry bread through a food chopper, using a fine blade, or run toasted bread through a food mill, or crush with a rolling pin. Or use packaged dry bread crumbs.

Blessed Woman
Lesson for August 27, 1950

A PROTESTANT Christian is essentially a Bible Christian. Among other things, this means he will form his ideas about Bible characters from the Bible itself and not from books about the Bible, not from legends long afterwards invented.

Some Protestants seem not to realize that even a reverent book like "The Greatest Story Ever Told" is as much fiction as it is fact. Yet Protestant Christians are sometimes inclined to go to the opposite extreme. In reacting against the tall tales, they overlook the facts.

If some Christians overdo reverence for Mary, offering prayers and incense before her statues and even going to the point of saying we cannot come to Jesus except through Mary—an idea totally false to the Christian gospel—other Christians make the mistake of neglecting her memory altogether.

Surely we ought not to forget or under-rate the woman who of all the women in the world was chosen of God to be the mother of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Dr. Foreman

God Knew Her Heart

NAZARETH was a small village with no good reputation. Yet it was in that town that Mary grew to womanhood. Man looks on outward appearances, but God looks on the heart.

You might have not selected Mary for the mother of Jesus, or to put it in another way, you would hardly have expected Mary's child to be the person Jesus became. She was very young, for girls were engaged early in that climate and country—perhaps no more than sixteen. She could have had no great education. She was poor, as the whole story shows.

Yet it was not for her education or her social standing or her experience or any such thing, but because of her heart, her character, herself, that the angel came to her that spring day in Nazareth.

Mary's Song

THERE IS no room to tell all that can be known of Mary from the Gospels. We can know or guess much from that one song, the "Magnificat" as it is called from its first word in the Latin translation. (Luke 1:46-55).

We can tell from this that she was a woman who knew her Bible. Moffatt's translation of the New Testament uses italic type to indicate quotations from the Old Testament; and in this Song of Mary, of its sixteen lines all but two are printed in italics.

Words and phrases came to her in the familiar cadences of the book she knew and loved. Further, she was of a poetic turn of mind. This "Magnificat" has been set to music and sung in churches all over the world. Since Mary was herself a poet, it is not surprising to find that Jesus often spoke in words which sing with the beauty and rhythm of fine poetry.

Patriotism and the Poor

MARY WAS A woman who loved her country. We are so familiar with the "Magnificat" as a church anthem that we overlook it actually and originally was; a hymn of praise to God for his mercies to Mary's nation, Israel.

Her people, so long enslaved, were to be set free. It is a revolutionary hymn, too. Princes are to be dethroned, the proud cast down, the rich made empty; but God will give his help to the hungry and the poor.

Mary and Jesus

LOVE OF HER Bible, love of beauty, love of her country; and most of all, love of God. You could guess this from the words of the angel, but you can see it plainly in this song. It is an outpouring of joy and thankfulness to a God who is very real and near and loved.

Every mother lives again in her sons; in Jesus we can see the manner of woman Mary must have been. When the boy Jesus called God his Father, who had taught him that word? When the young man Jesus fought off temptation by using the Word of God, who had first guided him to do this? Where had Jesus learned Scripture except under his mother's roof?

By Frances Ainsworth

I've just heard some news that's too good to keep! I stopped in at our local department store to look for a new fall coat and Ann Jones, the coat buyer—a good friend of mine—said "Fran, I've got just the coat you've been looking for!"

And she certainly had—a coat that's warm as toast but not bulky, because it's lined with the completely new Milium—a fabric that utilizes our body heat and does away with heavy interlinings. The coat I selected was a casual brown and white check—what I've always wanted but felt I couldn't wear because the heavy interlinings have added so much apparent weight that I seemed to gain pounds when I tried on a check.

The secret of Milium's warmth is the application of a resinated metal-sprayed finish to one side of the cloth. As Ann explained it to me, the metal particles, like small mirrors, reflect back to the body much of the heat it radiates. She told me that any metal that flakes could be employed but that aluminum, because of its high reflectivity, has proven ideal, so that's what Deering, Milliken and company—the developers of this exciting new idea—have used.

Ann showed me several coats with this new lining... and said that later, the same idea might be applied to bedding and drapery. And, too, that military authorities were considering using the product for sleeping bags, and for Arctic and high altitude garments.

I think that most of you will find this news really exciting—at last a way to be warm and look slender at the same time. Even more remarkable, in hot weather the heat of the sun is reflected outward and Milium-lined coats have a thermos-bottle effect. Thus women will enjoy the same advantage which has caused the farmer to install aluminum roofs to protect poultry and livestock from summer heat.

Teen-Talk-

By John Batsel

Here is your news correspondent again rattling off the latest edition of the Benton news. In the order of the events of the week, you'd say that this has been a very busy week on the part of the teen-agers. At play, that is, something's been going on every night for the past week. Every since last Wednesday night when that gang got together, they've been doing something ever since. Thursday night Curtiss Grace had a hamburger supper for about 15 of us. Good of juicy hamburgers sizzling over an open charcoal fire. Um mm good! Then Saturday night, to the show at Mayfield. Sunday night (after church of course) to the show at Benton. Monday night, all over town playing kid games again! This time it was chalk arrow. Last Thursday it was the kick can! And of course there is still the skating rink at Paducah. It had the honor of being visited by two boys from Benton who were so intrigued by the smoothness and largeness of the floor that they plan to return at all possible later dates, and have one, maybe.

BULLETIN from Benton: Curtis Lee Grace, well known inhabitant of the city of Benton, kindly informed me that he didn't have to do the same thing Tuesday night that he did Saturday night, because he stayed at home.

YE OLDE Musicals Roundups:—Newcomers to the popular field are Sam's Song—Vagabond Shoes—On An Ordinary Morning, all of them different. You might say his was in answer to Third Man Theme, but it might have been written before, it's the Fourth Man Rag, and is it good! Current favorite that came with a mole, is Baby, Won't You Say You Love Me. This is a boom season for new songs. There seem to be more coming out now than ever before.

If you hear a roaring noise at the edge of the city limits, do not be frightened. It is not a buzz bomb. It will be a couple of model airplane engines. Jerry Rose's and mine, that is if we can get them started.

Well, I'd best turn this in. I'll be here next week, will you? Adios!

Observations

(Old Kodger's Column)

AT A COCKTAIL PARTY Grandma was trying her first glass of beer after a few drinks of Manhattan. "Shay, that stuff tastes just like that medicine grandpa has been taking for the past 20 years."

AND, SPEAKING OF GRANDMA of the present type, the daughter says to the maid, "Those are my grandmother's ashes."

"Oh, so the poor old soul finally passed away," queried the maid. "Nope, she's just too lazy to look for an ash tray," came the reply.

ASK ALMOST ANY MAN IF HE is a man or a mouse, and he will tell you he is a man—His wife is afraid of a mouse.

OUR GAME AND FISH Conservationists in the law enforcement department are having a hard time trying to stop illegal fishing below the Dam and in the Lake. It is not our duty to try cases in this column, but we know that a lot of laws are being violated by unscrupulous persons who have no regard for the laws of the state, nor for the feelings of those who try to abide by the laws.

IF THERE IS NOT SOME WAY found to stop the wholesale slaughter of fish, many predict that it won't be many years until the fish supply will vanish and this type of sport will go to the quill, rabbit, and squirrel hunting sport has gone. A few stiff fines with jail sentences attached and made to serve by the offenders, would go a long way toward breaking up the practice.

CONFUSION SEEMS TO BE in the saddle and right now is riding like mad. A man points out one instance on our numerous misunderstandings road signs. He tells one of two signs down in Kentucky Dam State Park. One of the signs reads: "Speed Limit 60 Miles Per Hour," and in the same area within a quarter of a mile another reads:

Violations are not any worse than dozens of other methods of violating the rules of society. It could be another pin point in the ever growing disregard for any law that restricts the will of some who don't believe in enforcing the rules until he or she is harmed by another type of rule breaker. Not so many days ago THE LAW was called in in another county to investigate the robbery of several slot machines.

Mrs. Ramona Brandon Womack was honored with a house-hold shower Tuesday August 8 given by Mr. Henton Farley and Mrs. Will Ben Holland at the home of Mrs. Holland on R. 4.

Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Jim Harrison, Marvin Holland, Wm. Washburn, Truman Wyatt, Frank Henton, Paul Moser, Rip Fiser, A. Z. Farley, Jr., Lanis Wyatt, J. B. Holland, Herbert Jones.

Holland Henton, Ted Crouch, Gilbert Henson, Dycus Brandon, Harold Holland, Henton (Buster) Farley, James W. English, Cleve Collie, George Locker, Wayne Wyatt, Ollie Chandler, A. Z.

Brandon, of Ashland, Ohio, Miss Pat Holland, Johnnie Faye Farley, Ramona and Lona Lee, Marie and Marline Brandon, Betty, Sharon Sue, and Marilyn Wyatt, Alice Chambers, Pat and Sandra Faye Farley, Nancy Henson, Mrs. Broomfield, of Water Valley, Miss.

TOBACCO ROW

By: Homer Ellis, Gen. Manager Western Dark Fired Tobacco Growers' Association

Some less rain during the past ten days has improved the crop outlook somewhat; however it appears fairly certain that we will have another short crop. Most here and wildfire are taking their toll also. There is still time with favorable weather for the crop to look up.

Officers and directors of this association participated in a meeting representing all segments of the dark and burley tobacco industry August 7-8 at Kentucky Dam. Approximately two hundred people including delegates from the two other dark tobacco associations, the Kentucky and Tennessee tobacco growers' associations, together with buyers and dark leaf dealers, warehousemen and officials from Washington also attended.

During the meeting we were reminded frequently of the progress made by the tobacco industry during the past twenty five years. Twenty five years ago we did not have parity price supports, acreage control, the grading service, or effective tobacco associations. We did have antitrust and all will between growers, buyers and other interests.

Perhaps no other farm group works together as well as the tobacco industry. 90% parity is one example of this united effort. For dark-fired tobacco at three fourths that of burley is another example.

Our United States Senators Chapman and Withers were present and participated in the program. Congressman Gregory and Underwood of Lexington, Kentucky, were also in attendance. Everyone enjoyed the hospitality of the park and were made more conscious of our good fortune in having Kentucky Dam and the two State Parks in this area.

As usual there was no encouragement as to the outlook for dark-fired tobacco, however it was pointed out by Mr. Hugh Taylor, Executive Secretary of the Burley and Dark Leaf Tobacco Export Association that the production and consumption of dark-fired tobacco were in balance. Mr. J. E. Thigpen, director of the Tobacco Branch, Washington, D. C. advised that prices are expected to be some higher this year.

Fish Are Still In Ky. Lake

Reprinted from the Murray Ledger and Times
By GENE ALLEN
"There ARE fish left in Kentucky Lake," and according to reliable reports from the lake front it is becoming increasingly easy to prove. After much questioning of known successful fishermen, telephone calls to Bill Nall at the park, and C. H. Ginslinger at the Irvin Cobb Resort, it seems reasonably safe to recommend a fishing trip. Bill Nall cited an example last week of what he calls "pretty good fishing." Bill said that several Bowling Green men left the park dock in a boat and went across several hundred yards of water (the exact location is secret) to a place where a tree full of willow files leaned out over the water. They anchored there and started making short casts directly under the tree with plugs that resembled shad. With in thirty minutes these men had caught 12 bass averaging about 1 pound. Bill said that shad were eating the Willow files and that the bass were eating the shad. Ginslinger, down at the Irvin Cobb, said that several times that week men had come in with nice strings of bass and a few crappie. Most of the fellows that do catch the fish are the type that go out with the express purpose of catching fish, stat- Ginslinger in effect. Both agreed that it is a lot easier to fall off a log than to catch fish now but that they are being caught, and caught in quantity, by fishermen who really work this fishing on the lake has been at it. For the past two or three months absolutely lousy and to many inexperienced fishermen, downright disgusting. Having spent time, money, and much effort toward obtaining a fish supper and everytime coming home to hot dogs, I can well understand fish in Kentucky Lake departed for other waters. Several times this year I have experienced the thrill of seeing a stripe or big mouth leaping gracefully out of the water and six hours later experienced the dejection of docking with only the wet lines and baits to prove that I had been out fishing. So far this year I have not had a hook with a fish to my knowledge. It is commonly accepted among my friends that to go fishing with me is to come home empty handed. On the many trips that I have made with friends, not one man has landed anything except a bit of brush and moss.

SAILBOATING, fishing, swimming scenes — all kinds of pleasure sights — are familiar now in fabulous around Gilbertsville.

Your Home

I've just heard some news that's too good to keep! I stopped in at our local department store to look for a new fall coat and Ann Jones, the coat buyer—a good friend of mine—said "Fran, I've got just the coat you've been looking for!"

And she certainly had—a coat that's warm as toast but not bulky, because it's lined with the completely new Milium—a fabric that utilizes our body heat and does away with heavy interlinings. The coat I selected was a casual brown and white check—what I've always wanted but I couldn't wear because the heavy interlinings have added so much apparent weight that I seemed to gain pounds when I tried on a check.

The secret of Milium's warmth is the application of a resinated metal-sprayed finish to one side of the cloth. As Ann explained it to me, the metal particles, like small mirrors, reflect back to the body much of the heat it radiates. She told me that any metal that flakes could be employed but that aluminum, because of its high reflectivity, has proven ideal, so that's what Deering, Milliken and company—the developers of this exciting new idea—have used.

Ann showed me several coats with this new lining... and said that later, the same idea might be applied to bedding and drapery. And, too, that military authorities were considering using the product for sleeping bags, and for Arctic and high altitude garments.

I think that most of you will find this news really exciting—at last a way to be warm and look slender at the same time. Even more remarkable, in hot weather the heat of the sun is reflected outward and Milium-lined coats have a thermos-bottle effect. Thus women will enjoy the same advantage which has caused the farmer to install aluminum roofs to protect poultry and livestock from summer heat.
