One Interest.
It must be remembered that the State can have no interest in the management of its convicts adverse to the interests of the people. The State and the people who make up the State are one, and therefore can have in this affair but one interest. To say that the State for the sake of consistency should persist in a policy which is manifestly damaging the interests of the people of Pulaski county is equivalent to saying that the people should commit suicide for the sake of consistency. The people, always obeying the law, have the right to demand that their interests shall be protected everywhere, and that no contractor shall be granted the power to use convict labor so as to endanger the welfare of any community.

A Daring Daylight Robbery.
Monday morning about 9 o'clock Frederick Harlacher, a stone-cutter in the employ of Andrew Hall, stepped into C. W. Ducker's carriage factory on Virginia street, and while the blacksmith, Mr. Duncan Buchanan, was temporarily absent in the rear of the building, deftly abstracted $45 from the pants pocket of the latter, which was suspended on a rack near the door. Harlacher remained in the shop several hours after having perpetrated this bold theft. Buchanan on preparing for dinner discovered that he was a victim of a mysterious robbery. After a thorough and searching investigation Mr. Buchanan disclosed the fact that Harlacher had no money previous to the robbery, but subsequently had a heavy purse and what more, had given Hopkinsville a wide berth. C. W. Ducker telegraphed to police headquarters at Nashville, giving an accurate description of the fugitive, demanding his apprehension on the charge of grand larceny. A few hours afterwards detective Casteen, while walking up Cherry street, intercepted the party wanted, who acknowledged his former home as Hopkinsville, but denied the charge alleged to have been committed by him, and further stated that his destination was Atlanta, Ga., but however, the experienced officer checked further progress or avenue of escape, by remanding the accused to the station house. A second dispatch confirmed his identity, adding that Harlacher was arrested for carrying deadly weapons. The penalty for such an offense in Tennessee is $50 and three months in jail. When searched, the prisoner had $22 in cash on his person.

Standing on Benches.
The audiences which attend the trial of exciting cases in the City Court room occasionally become so deeply interested that they cannot keep their seats. They stand up on the benches and crane their necks eagerly over each other's shoulders. Sometimes half a dozen stout men put their whole weight on a single bench which is subjected to a strain of half a ton. Sometimes the interest of the crowd is so great that many mount upon the backs of the seats balancing themselves like circus riders. The consequence of these acrobatic performances is seen in the remains of several broken benches which have given away under the excessive strain. The wonder is that serious and fatal accidents have not occurred before this, under the circumstances, and that men will thus risk their limbs when they could hear and see much better by keeping their seats. It is only a matter of time when some one will be carried out of the City Court with a broken arm, leg, or possibly neck. The Court should put a stop to this folly.

Convicts in the Mines.
While the press throughout the State condemns all attempts to violate the laws of the State at Greenwood, or elsewhere, by bodies of men who consider themselves wronged by the competition of prison convicts with their daily labor, there is manifested by the same newspapers a decided and unmistakable opposition to the leasing of prison labor in mines which have furnished employment to thousands of hard-working laborers heretofore. There is an instinctive repugnance to any disposition of convict labor which would place it in competition with that of honest and true men who are trying to earn an honorable living for their families in work which is useful to society at large. There is a universal disposition to side with the free laborer against the prison laborer, and to oppose any scheme whose actual operation is to take employment from the hands and food from the mouths of the toiling masses. The use of convict labor in the mines is the virtual banishment of all but convicts from the districts where they are located.

More Pay Demanded.
The striking brakemen on the Gould railway system say that their wages are too low. They want $70 instead of $60 per month. Some 2000 freight cars are standing idle in the yards at St. Louis alone. Nothing but mail trains are generally run. A few passenger trains are run with difficulty because there are no men to do the work. Engineers will not touch an engine until it has been prepared for the trip. Since Friday over 300 brakemen and firemen have joined the Knights of St. Louis. Boardinghouse keepers generally refuse to board men who are hired to take the place of the strikers.

Tobacco.
The tobacco sales Wednesday were well attended by a full board of both buyers and sellers. Prices about the same as last week, with probably a little more animation in the bidding. The farmers are not very free sellers yet, as the believe in higher prices after awhile. We hope they are right as it does seem very low. The improvement made in sweating will no doubt add from 50c to $1 per 100 lbs. to the price of the weed.
Nashville American, March 10: Buyers to-day bid with more freedom and gave something like buoyancy to the market. Lug values are strong, while prices through all the grades are strengthening. The general inferiority of the crop is the one great cause of the depression. Good, well handled and marketable tobacco sells readily at outside figures. Upon the whole there is a better feeling among all classes of handlers.

Syrup of Figs.
Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co., San Francisco, Cal., is Nature's Own True Laxative. This pleasant California liquid fruit remedy may be had of Mr. H. B. Garner. Sample bottles free and large bottles at fifty cents and one dollar. It is the most pleasant, prompt, and effective remedy known to cleanse the system; to act on the Liver, Kidney and Bowels gently, yet thoroughly; to dispel Headaches, Colds, and Fevers; to cure Constipation, Indigestion and kindred ills.

An Apothecary's Palace.
The old drug house of Gish & Garner enjoyed a widespread reputation and trade in this place before the great fire which swept away almost the whole block on the west side of Main, from Seventh to Eighth streets. When it crumbled to cinders and ashes it left behind it an enviable fame for enterprise and integrity. In such a case the public are pleased to see a Phoenix rise from the flames in the shape of a worthy successor. The Phoenix, as everybody knows, was not only a bird of magnificent plumage, but of matchless wisdom in regard to drugs, spices and perfumes. Mr. H. B. Garner, the junior member of the firm, and a thoroughly trained druggist, assumed the role of the Phoenix and determined that the Phoenix should have a grander nest than ever, filled with all manner of potent drugs and "medicinal gums," for the healing of diseases, and all kinds of perfumes, flavors, unguents, balms, with a thousand and one other articles for kitchen, toilet, household and artists' need in bright and endless variety. Work-day goods, holiday gifts, bric-a-brac, curios, parlor and chamber novelties are all arranged around this Phoenix nest, with elegance and splendor rarely seen outside of the largest city drug stores.

Arbitration of Labor Grievances.
There is one prominent principle announced in the declaration of the Knights of Labor which will be warmly approved by every intelligent person. It favors the passage of laws to provide for the arbitration of differences between employers and employees, and to enforce the decision of the arbitrators. This declares the superiority of a peaceful and friendly adjustment of all labor controversies, in the light of facts and sound reason, over violent methods. It recognizes the necessity of friendly compromise. If corporations on the one hand try to lock out their employees and starve them into submission, or if, on the other hand, laborers make use of incendiary threats, boycotting and sudden strikes, which involve serious harm to the community, the consequences either way must be disastrous and demoralize society. Strikes, boycotting and locking out within the past few years in this country have entailed enormous losses upon both laborers and capitalists.
