THE LISTENING POST

THE WOMAN'S Club of Fulton is always busy with a new idea, but this time it's an old-new idea they are working on. Back in 1927 they got busy and compiled a cook book. Each of the members sent in their most choice recipe, and the result was a book from which any bride could learn to cook, and the old cooks could learn a new dish or two. Everyone liked this book; it was given for Christmas presents, birthday presents and on lots of other occasions when gifts were in order. History repeats itself—today this club is again working on a new and better cook book. They ask that not only each member of the club send in their choice recipes, but that every person in Fulton who knows a good one do likewise. Just send or phone them to Mrs. Gus Bard, Mrs. Jake Huddleston or Mrs. Ernest Fall. These must come in at a very early date, as the club is desirous of getting the 1936 edition of their cook book on the market before Christmas.

THE WEST Kentucky West Tennessee Dailies Association will hold its regular banquet and meeting Friday night, October 23, at 7:00 o'clock at the Irvin Cobb Hotel in Paducah. Editors and their staff, and their families, from the local dailies in this territory will be in attendance.

A MAN came into the office this morning with his face all beaming, and walking like a house on fire. We asked him what the big hurry was and he said, "O, I'm going to the circus in Jackson today." When a circus can do that to a man who is well advanced in years, what can you expect out of children when a circus comes to town. And Ringling Bros., too! They always pack the tent.

DID YOU know that the Fulton Woman's Club is one of a very few Women's Clubs in the state of Kentucky which maintains a public library with a paid librarian?

AND NOW I have another dog-story: "Bim" Chapman, educated dog of Mrs. Thomas Chapman, knows quite a few tricks for a dog. Mrs. Chapman tells me she even has to spell before him. Now will the owners of some of my other favorite dog-subjects come forward with one better?

THE NEW BOOKS recently put on the market are: "Wake Up And Live," and "Live Alone And Like It." Saw in the paper the other day where a man went into a bookstore and, getting the two confused, called for a copy of "Wake Up Alone and Like It."

NEVER BEFORE in many a year have Fulton citizens been so touched and horror struck as they have over the double tragedy which was reported here yesterday morning in which two Fultonians were instantly killed and one more still lingers at death's door. On every hand this morning, and since word was received here of the accident, folks are expressing deepest sympathy to the bereaved members of both families, and it has seemed to cast a pall over the entire city and community.

COMMISSION TO STUDY PETITIONS AGAINST CHANGE

STATE-WIDE CONTROVERSY IS THROWN OPEN AGAIN AFTER DAY OF TESTIMONY

Councilmen Bert Newhouse, Raymond Peoples and Kelly Lowe returned this morning from Frankfort, where they appeared before the Public Service Commission of Kentucky, along with about 700 other Kentucky municipalities, and protested the elimination of inter-exchange service.

Mr. Peoples acted as spokesman for the Fulton delegation, and went over the history of the local telephone company, gave a brief outline of the service rendered in Fulton County, and protested the increase of inter-exchange service the county is upled with the increase in telephone rates. He stated that when Fulton lost this service in 1928 that no objections were voiced, that Fulton had had an inadequate system for a long time, and that if the new rates are enforced, Fulton County is entitled to this service in the county.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 19.—(AP)—The Southern Bell Telephone rate controversy was thrown wide open again tonight when the Public Service Commission entered an order entertaining a group of petitions for rehearing on new rate schedules which were to have become effective November 1.

A technical question as to whether complaints filed by representative farmers, business men and other citizens could be considered as petitions for a rehearing was resolved when the commission agreed to so consider them.

At the end of a full day of arguments, in which spokesmen for a group of some 30 argued that inter-exchange toll rates granted in connection with general rate reductions would cost users up to $5,000,000 a year, Chairman J. C. W. Beckham of the commission said the matter of a rehearing would be taken under advisement.

The commission will meet informally tomorrow with representatives of complainants, heard by Walter B. Smith, Pineville.

Raps Newspaper Reports
Chairman Beckham, in a brief talk adjourning the hearing today, said he felt the commission had been done an injustice in newspaper reports which left the impression that the all sides of the case had not been considered. The commission had given more thought to the telephone case than to any other case since the present members took office, he said, and a rate expert from the Federal Communications Commission was brought here to study the evidence.

Yokel Row Tactics Banned In Chicago's Maxwell Street
Chicago, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Catch-as-catch-can salesmanship has been outlawed in storied Maxwell Street today—by order of the court.

Conventional methods of wooing trade were decreed for the market that is one of the metropolitan show places—a noisy, noisome lane crowded with small shops and a heterogeneous array of open air booths crammed with shoes, ham, sea food, fish, books, household furnishings, fruits, clocks, vegetables, jewelry, second-hand goods, frocks, stoves, suits, hats, overcoats and oysters.

Time was when no holds were barred along the short thoroughfare tucked away in the teeming Southwest Side.

He issued a permanent injunction restraining 36 merchants in the neighborhood from "standing upon the public sidewalks for the purpose of selling to pedestrians or passers-by or making any noise of any kind by crying, calling or shouting."

Palbearers will be: John E. Bond, Bailey Huddleston, K. P. Dalton, Walter Boaz, Gyp McDade and George Carter.

VICTIMS OF WRECK ARE NOW ON WAY BACK TO FULTON

FRED DUNN ABLE TO MAKE RETURN JOURNEY—DETAILS STILL MEAGER

The bodies of Mrs. Fred Dunn and Leonard J. Green, who were killed early yesterday morning in a highway crash near Pecos, Texas, were shipped this morning from the Texas city at 3:30, and will arrive here tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Fred Dunn, local police officer, who was slightly injured in the crash, will be able to return with the bodies. Mrs. Green, who was seriously injured, and who had not regained consciousness last night, and her twelve year old son, who was less seriously hurt, will not be able to return at this time. It was stated from the Texas hospital, they will be confined for some time. It was learned, Marvin Kirk, brother of Mrs. Green, arrived last night from Paducah, and with Mrs. Kirk left this morning for Pecos to be with Mrs. Green.

The bodies of the two wreck victims will be taken to the Winstead-Jones funeral home upon arrival here.

Details Still Meager
Details of the fatal crash are still meager, although it was learned that Mr. Green was driving the car and the crash occurred at 6:30 in the morning at Kent, Texas, a few miles from Pecos. The car struck crashed into a highway truck. Mr. Green was killed instantly, and Mrs. Dunn died in an ambulance while being taken to a hospital. Billie Cooper, son-in-law of Mr. Green's father, was with the coroner who held the inquest over the two bodies and was given this information. It was not stated whether any other persons were injured in the crash.

Mr. and Mrs. Green, and their son, with Mr. and Mrs. Dunn left Fulton Saturday bound for California, where they expected to visit relatives for a few days.

Dunn Funeral Rites Tomorrow Morning

Funeral service for Mrs. Cleve Dunn, age 44 years, wife of Fred Dunn of the local police department, who was killed in an automobile crash at Pecos, Texas, Monday, October 19, 1936, will be held from the First Baptist church this city at 11:00 o'clock a. m. Wednesday. Rev. Woodrow Fuller will conduct the service and burial will be in Greenlea Cemetery in charge of Winstead Jones & Company.

Mrs. Dunn was born and reared in Weakley County near Latham, and moved to Fulton in 1918. She was a devoted member of the First Baptist Church of Fulton, having moved her membership from the New Hope Church a good many years ago. She was also a member of the Missionary Society of that church and active in both church and missionary work. Before her marriage to Fred Dunn in 1913 she was Miss Cleve Brundidge. To this union one son was born, who survives.

Mrs. Dunn was loved by all who knew her for her sweet personality. Quiet and unassuming in disposition, she was a lover of her home and its duties, a loving and constant companion and mother, and her tragic death will be mourned by everyone with whom she came in contact.

She is survived by her husband, Fred Dunn, one son, Almon, of Fulton, three half sisters, Mrs. Walter Pettit, Miss Ada Pettit of Weakley County, Mrs. Wilfred Griffith of Detroit, two brothers, Sam Maxey of Latham, Tenn., and Will Maxey of Detroit.

Palbearers will be: John E. Bond, Bailey Huddleston, K. P. Dalton, Walter Boaz, Gyp McDade and George Carter.

Now is a good time to renew your subscription to the Leader.

Appreciation Days Held Every Wed.

Appreciation Days, sponsored by Fulton merchants, are held every Wednesday. Interest in the event increases with the increased fall and winter purchasing. A large crowd was here last Wednesday. Merchants are making every effort to make the event an even greater attraction and the Wednesday crowd is expected to soon be augmented by the Appreciation Day interest.

May Use Saturday For One Trade Day

A. G. Baldrige suggested last night to the Chamber of Commerce that at least one Saturday be used for a gigantic Trade Day. These days at present fall on Wednesday, and Mr. Baldrige believes that by having one on Saturday and drawing a huge crowd, the bargain days can be advertised more widely. The committee will attempt to work out this suggestion.

Mayfield, Oct. 19.—Britt Love, Fulton, Tenn., negro, was brought to Mayfield by police early this morning to answer a charge of malicious shooting with intent to kill, as a result of a shooting scrape in east Mayfield about 11 o'clock last night. Willard House, Mayfield, negro, was allegedly Love's victim, and he was treated at a local hospital for a bullet hole through his right arm between the hand and elbow. House also told officers that Love's father, Will Love, former Mayfield resident, hit him over the head with a bottle. No charge has been lodged against the elder Love. The defendant has executed $300 bond to await trial in Mayfield police court, which has been set for Friday morning.

TWO LADIES GIVE CHAMBER COMMERCE PROGRAM LAST NIGHT

MRS. J. E. FALL AND MRS. MARTIN NALL DISCUSS PROBLEMS

Mrs. J. E. Fall and Mrs. Martin Nall were on the program last night at the Chamber of Commerce and made thoughtful, interesting talks. The program was in charge of Joe D. Davis, who introduced the speakers.

Mrs. Fall spoke on the work of the Woman's Club, with special reference to the Garden Department, which for some time has been engaged in city beautification work. She spoke first of the Woman's Club, which is now fifteen years old, and has done splendid work in community development. The local club is the largest in the First District, and is one of three in the state which owns its own home. The Garden Department, which is the largest single department, has 60 members, and efforts have been made and will continue to make Fulton a more beautiful city. Mrs. Fall detailed the work that has been done and the projects that are still in progress.

Mrs. Nall, who is attendance officer for the city schools, spoke on the problems of her position. She gave a brief review of her duties, and the problems that came up when she visited in the homes of students who remain out of school. Pointing out that there are many reasons for non-attendance, she stated that at times it was not the best idea to force a child into school. Poverty is one of the underlying causes, she pointed out, adding that in many homes she found the child without sufficient clothing, and the family without enough food. Later Supt. J. O. Lewis spoke concerning this subject, and gave some reasons why the problems were difficult to solve.

Better Vision Is Subject Of Lecture

Robert Bard, who had charge of the weekly program of the Rotary Club, today, had as his guest Mr. Z. V. Pigue of the Kentucky Utilities Company, who presented "The Marvel of Vision" prepared by the Better Vision Institute. The program consisted of a series of slides, accompanied by a lecture by Floyd Gibbons. The lecture was filled with startling statements concerning defective vision. This invites the attention of every person when it is realized that 82 per cent of our impulses are received through vision. In other words, the eye gives us more than four times as much information as all the other senses.

It was clearly brought out that vision is composed of proper mechanisms for seeing and proper light. Man's progress today has come through ability to see. In the future the progress of man will depend upon his ability to see more distinctly. The human eye is the climax of nature's efforts to make man a superior animal. Therefore it is necessary that man should make every effort to care for the eyes. The greatest abuse results from insufficient or improper lighting.

In addition to Mr. Pigue, E. C. Hardesty, Mr. Travers and Edwin Cooke Rice were visitors. The Kentucky Utilities Company will furnish 25 projects to the schools which will be used to teach students the details of the mechanism of the eye, together with fundamental requirements for the preservation of same.

Other appearances will be interposed before his return to Hyde Park Thursday night. Yesterday he worked in the White House.

Chamber Of Comm. To Request Painting

PASSES RESOLUTION TO ASK RAILROAD FOR ACTION

By a unanimous vote the Chamber of Commerce voted last night to present a request to Illinois Central officials for the painting and repairing of the old railroad office in this city. This building, which stands at the head of Fulton's main business street, is in bad repair, and needs painting very much. It is hoped that Supt. Kern will be able to comply with the local request, for the building at present detracts from the appearance of the business section.

COMMENT

THOUGHTS ON WRESTLING

I'm one of those fellows that will try anything once, provided I have a free ticket. Which leads up to the fact that I recently saw my first wrestling match.

I had been reading about wrestling for some time, and judged that it must be a pretty rough game. I always had an idea that wrestling consisted of throwing a man down. That's the way I used to wrestle, when I was young and foolish, and when I was thrown down, or when I threw the other fellow, that was the end of that particular fall or fight. But I found on my visit to the wrestling emporium that what I did not know about wrestling would fill several large-sized books.

For wrestling is the most complete assault and battery and mayhem, with ambushes, tricks, prize fighting, sudden, unprovoked attacks, that I ever saw. How a man lives and prospers who follows this trade I cannot figure out. Understand, I am not leveling any criticism at these wrestlers, for Jack Thomas might take a notion to come to the office and do something about it, and I don't want that to happen. No, the wrestlers are a large and happy family, and I wish them well. But I don't want to mix up with them in the ring, and I don't even want to serve as referee, for on my visit there one referee had a large 250 pound thrown directly into his lap, and a 200 pounder back him into a corner and had to fight his way out, and later had to fight that particular wrestler in the dressing rooms. Even referees should grow large and wide and strong, and keep in good shape, for they are liable to enter into a match with a wrestler any minute. Even if not actually drawn into the match they frequently have to pry one loose from another, and this is not a gentle operation.

WHAT'S WHAT AT A GLANCE

WASHINGTON - WORLD

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, D. C.—American voters quite likely will be choosing a federal supreme court majority on November's election day, as well as a president, a house of representatives and one-third of the members of the senate.

The high court is predominantly conservative now.
But it is fairly certain to be largely made over in the course of the coming four years. If it is made over through appointments by a conservative president, undoubtedly it will stay conservative. If made over by a liberal chief executive, it easily can be given quite a liberal complexion.

WINNER WILL CHANGE IT
That is to say, November's White House winner probably will have the choosing of four, five or maybe six new justices before the end of his 1937-to-1941 term. Let him make liberal selections and the court, by that time, will be more than one-half liberal. Let him select conservatives and the tribunal's majority will remain as stand-pat as today, perhaps will have become even more so.

Seldom or never has a single president been called on to name more than two supreme court justices.

Therefore, changes in their total personnel have been very gradual. They started as an extremely conservative group—a group which has been somewhat diluted with liberalism, but only by the slowest of slow degrees.

In the next presidential period there is a possibility that this dilution will be greatly accelerated—to the point, in fact, of drowning conservatism out.

I did not see any knives or shotguns in the ring, but with the weapons that nature gave them, the wrestlers can inflict quite a bit of punishment on each other.

I was seated next to a right pretty good looking girl, a stranger to me, and a couple of two hundred pound men were straining and groaning and puffing and blowing, and everything was as quiet as the night before Christmas. The girl next to me was smoking a cigarette, and looking very bored. Suddenly one of the wrestlers gave a mighty heave, lifted his opponent over his head and then crashed him down with a mighty smash on the floor. The girl next to me rose to her feet, and I think she swallowed her cigarette, for it disappeared suddenly, and let out a wild, appalling shriek. Truth to tell, I almost yelled, too, for I thought the man was dead. But we had our fears for nothing. The big wrestler breathed heavily for a moment, then rolled over and came up just like a cat, and proceeded to throw the other man in exactly the same manner. So I guess that was just being playful.

Then I found out that throwing a man down was just the easiest and simplest part of wrestling. It's after the two men get on the floor that the real fun and wrestling starts. For one must pin the other man's shoulders to the mat, and in doing this there are many and varied tricks and stratagems to be employed. The fingers can be twisted, the hands can be bitten, the neck can be beaten, the legs can be pulled and twisted, the head can be squeezed between a wrestler's legs, and believe me, two wrestlers get themselves into some uncanny positions. It looks strange to see a couple of mighty giants, rolling about the floor, and suddenly see one twisted, grimaced face peering out from between the other man's gripping legs. And one can tell by the expression on the man's face that those mighty legs are doing some tight holding. Then, suddenly, the pinioned man will do something unseen, and the other man will let loose with a howl of pain, and then the match will start all over again.

Another thing that came as a surprise is the fact that quite a bit of boxing comes into wrestling. A

The Farm And Home

Moths are numerous in the house during the fall months, and may fly about and lay eggs most of the winter. Woolen coats and blankets, should be brushed, beaten and sunned frequently to dislodge eggs that may have been laid in them.

In substituting honey for sugar in recipes it is necessary to reduce the amount of liquid used. If medium-thick honey is used in cakes or quick-bread, reduce the liquid a fourth. If honey is substituted for all the sugar, reduce the liquid one-half.

Sulfate of ammonia or nitrate of soda is used on lawns in the fall at the rate of a pound per square rod. It is best to make the application just before rain, as its use in dry weather may burn the grass. Mixing with sand or dry soil makes for even distribution.

If no other form of animal protein is fed, laying hens should consume skim milk or butter milk at the rate of a gallon daily per 25 of the general purpose breeds or 30 Lebborns. Omit water when feeding this amount of milk.

Black locust is one of the fastest growing hardwood trees. Under favorable conditions, it yields durable fence posts in 10 or 12 years. Seedlings may be planted in the fall, although spring is considered the best time to plant locust.

The value of mulching is generally not appreciated. It prevents leaching, preserves moisture, suppresses the growth of grass and weeds, and supplies nitrogen and other nutrients. It is especially beneficial to flower gardens and vegetable gardens. A heavy winter mulch helps to make a mellow, rich soil in the spring.

COMMUNITY CHEST DOES GOOD WORK

Rev. J. S. Robinson, reporting to the Chamber of Commerce last night regarding the work of the Community Chest, stated that he believed good work had been done, and added that careful investigation was being made of all cases before action was taken. He also stated that the doctors of Fulton had been very kind in treating many cases without any pay, and this had helped the Chest organization materially. "Heavier demands will come with the season," Rev. Robinson added, "and we may expect more and more demands as winter comes on."

A Star Performer!

Outstanding performance in flour, as in football, is the result of a careful selection of material, painstaking preparations and expert supervision.

Back in 1907, when football stars thought less about news reel cameras. Browder Milling Company began its operation. Housewives quickly noticed the outstanding performance of our flour. They found it to be a "Star Performer" in the field of baking.

Grid Fans Hurt As Balloons Explode

San Francisco, Oct. 18.—(AP).—An undetermined number of persons were hurt, some of them seriously, when scores of gas-filled rubber balloons exploded over spectators at the St. Mary's-University of San Francisco football game today, spreading a sheet of flame across Kear Stadium.

A count at the scene showed ten persons burned, some of them seriously.

Dr. J. C. Geiger, city health director, said eleven injured had been received at a nearby emergency hospital and still more were enroute in ambulances. He said some of the injuries were only superficial, but that at least two were badly hurt.

'Dream' Sets New

Film Standard Experiment Declares

If you happen to have a little book published in London in 1600 by Thomas Fisher, and containing what is presumably the original text of Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream," lying around your house, there is the tidy sum of $25,000 waiting for you.

According to Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach, president of the Shakespeare Association of America, and himself a noted collector of books, there are only eight known copies of the quarto in existence, five of them being in the United States. "A Midsummer Night's Dream" was first produced about 1591 by a company of actors known as the Lord Chamberlain's Servants, but it first saw the light of print nine years later, and is included in the collection of Shakespeare's plays that is now so eagerly sought by collectors.

The "Dream," which opens at the Orpheum theatre on Sunday for 2 days at regular prices, has started, in Dr. Rosenbach's opinion, an entirely new vogue in motion pictures.

What Educators Think "To me, the production is the play of Shakespeare's imagination," Dr. Rosenbach declared after seeing the film. "It is produced in a manner he would like to have seen, but which was impossible on the Elizabethan stage, or in fact on the stage of the modern theatre."

It will arouse in youth of today a keener interest in the plays of Shakespeare and a desire for a finer type of film, a consummation devoutly to be wished. I have written Mr. Will Hays that it is an extraordinarily fine film that deserves the support of all Shakespeare enthusiasts."

Should Be Seen Often Prof. G. B. Harrison, noted Shakespearean authority of the University of London, summed the matter up as follows: "A Midsummer Night's Dream" is as important an event in the educational as in the film world. It should be seen at least three times. The first sight is so full of surprises and unexpected twists that half of the subtleties are missed. A second visit will bring out new telling significances which have been overlooked, especially in the opening minutes. Only in the third sitting will one be able to gain a complete impression of the whole."

June Is a Fritter Fiend

Young Hollywood Star Gives Favorite Recipes

By Mabel Love

JUNE TRAVIS, who has been winning new laurels by her performance in "Jailbreak," is one of the most charming members of Hollywood's group of younger screen actresses. She is also what might be called a fritter fiend. When it comes to making fritters she claims that she is a real authority, and to prove it she stands ready to take on all comers who think they can out-do her in the fritter line.

One of the favorite recipes of this young Warner Brothers star is for a pineapple fritter which she says is particularly good when served with chops, ham or veal steak, or a curry dish. Here is her recipe for it.

Royal Fritters

1 No. 2 can Hawaiian pineapple sliced in spear-like shapes
1½ cups all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
¾ to 1 cup milk
2 tablespoons powdered sugar

Drain and dry the pineapple slices with absorbent paper or a fresh tea towel. Sift flour, salt and baking powder; stir in well-beaten egg and milk. This batter should be just thick enough to coat the pineapple.

Heat fat (about 1 quart in a deep, flat bottom pan) to 360 or 375°F, or until a cube of bread will brown in about 60 seconds. Then dip pineapple in batter and fry in deep fat 2 or 3 minutes until a golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Sprinkle with powdered sugar before serving.

Just for good measure, June also gives a recipe for a sauce which she says is delicious for serving either with fritters or puddings.

Pineapple Sauce
2 cups canned Hawaiian pineapple juice
Lemon rind
8 tablespoons sugar
Juice of 1 lemon
2 teaspoons cornstarch
1 tablespoon water

Boil the pineapple juice with a piece of lemon rind. In another pan melt the sugar to a golden brown color, then add the pineapple juice and boil for a few minutes. Mix cornstarch with water and stir into sauce to thicken it. Boil for 5 minutes. Add lemon juice, and strain. This sauce may be served hot or cold.
