VOLUME IV.

BENTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY EVENING, AUGUST 3, 1892.

Thank the Lord! The auditor and treasurer at Frankfort say that the teachers of the state shall not be kept out of their money next October. The law says it is theirs, and they shall have it. The mistake of 1891 is not to be repeated in 1892. It has been the custom in the past—after all others were helped from the public crib, if anything was left—to pass it over to the teachers. This year the teachers are to have their pay, and if anything is left, then the others are to get it. Turn about is fair play.—Madisonville Hustler.

Salaries and fees of the commonwealth's attorneys under the new law will be $500 salary and 50 per cent of the fines and forfeitures, while county attorneys will receive 30 per cent in the fines and forfeitures in the county and 15 per cent of the fines when he assists the commonwealth's attorney in the circuit courts. These are good commissions and will satisfy the attorneys in such cases. The new constitution regulates the salary of the commonwealth's attorney and fixes at $500, but the present legislature will increase the commission on fines and forfeitures, from 30 per cent to 50 per cent, which in small districts is not too much.

The legislature is still battling away with a few important bills trying to get time to adjourn, but so far no day has been set to adjourn. It has been there a long time, and has done a great amount of hard work, more in fact than it gets credit for doing. The taxpayers always complain and many times justly too, but the work to be done this session was much greater than ever before and of greater importance and required more time and labor. Such laws as they have made so far have been good ones, if what the lawyers say be true, and many of the ablest attorneys in the state have examined them and pronounce them good. It will not be long until the most important laws will be rounded up ready for use.

The new election law will be a stunner to some of rural election officers and county judges. It will require some study and care in order to understand it, and it is the duty of our county officers to familiarize themselves with its requirements and instruct the people on it so that all may be able to vote intelligently and in accordance with the law. If people are not informed so they may vote as required there will be thousands of voters who will not be able to vote, as the polls open at 7 a. m. and close at 4 p. m. All of the voting precincts will contain not over 350 nor less than 300 voters or as near the latter number as possible, which will make large voting precincts and four hours shorter time to cast the vote in than the old way. The voters had as well prepare to vote as early in the day as possible or be left out.

It is really a great deal of fun to run a newspaper. The eyes of the whole community are watching the editor; his actions, his business and his papers are criticised to an extent almost incredible. He happens to go away from town on business, he is accused of neglecting his business and riding out his pass. If he never goes away, he is said to be too close to go away to learn anything for the benefit of his town, because he might lose a nickel at home. If he works all day at his office and spends his evenings at his books and getting "copy" he is called distant, cold and not in sympathy with the public interests of the town because he is never around. If he is around hunting locals and visiting with business men he is lazy and shiftless and undeserving of support, because he can never be found at his office. If he misses an item, the one interested in that particular item, says the paper never has anything in it. If he has the courtesy to give the W. C. T. U. or church or temperance people a small part of his space, he is a temperance crank and a fanatic. If he thinks it is better for the general welfare to license the liquor traffic instead of pro-

FORCE BILL.

An act to Prevent Force and Fraud in, and to Insure Lawful and Peaceful Conduct of, Elections.

That the chief supervisors of elections now in office, their successors, and such supervisors of elections as may hereafter be appointed under any law of the United States are charged, in their respective judicial districts and in such congressional districts of which are within their judicial districts, both in person and by and through the supervisors of election who may, from time to time, be appointed with the supervisors of elections at which representatives or delegates in congress are voted for, with the enforcement of the national election laws and with the prevention of frauds and irregularities in naturalization. In all congressional districts where the counties are equally divided in number between two judicial districts, or where they are within more than two judicial districts, that chief supervisor of elections is charged with duty hereunder in whose judicial districts there shall be, the counties which, by the then last national census, contained the greatest number of inhabitants.

The words "judicial district" where hereinafter used in this act, or where found in any law of the United States relating to elections in connection with the duties, rights and powers of chief supervisors of elections shall be understood to include all the territory over which jurisdiction is given to any chief supervisor of elections by this act.

Sec. 2. Any registration of voters prior to or for any election, general or special, at which a representative or delegate in congress is to be voted for, and any such election shall be guarded, scrutinized and supervised in the following mentioned places and in the manner in this act set forth:

First, in any entire congressional district;

Second, in any entire city or town having twenty thousand inhabitants or upward by the last preceding census of the United States, whether such city or town contain one or more congressional districts or part only of one or more congressional districts or part only of one or more congressional districts;

Third, in any parish, county, city, town or election precinct in any Congressional district.

Whenever the Chief Supervisor of elections for the judicial district in which such congressional district or such entire city or town having twenty thousand inhabitants or over is situated shall have received from such congressional district, city or town an application or applications from one hundred persons claiming to be citizens of the United States and residents and qualified voters in the city or town in the congressional district above mentioned, or whenever he shall receive from such parish, county, city, town or precinct in any congressional district an application or applications from fifty persons claiming to be citizens of the United States, and residents and qualified voters in such parish, county, city, town or election precinct, petitioning him to take such action as may be requisite to secure such supervision therein as is provided by the laws of the United States. Every person making application for such supervision shall subscribe the same and state his citizenship, place of residence, and that he is a qualified.

Remarked by R. C. Joiner, of Allen P. O., Hillsdale Co., Mich: "Nothing gave my rheumatism such quick relief as Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil—believe it infallible for rheumatism."

Force Bill the True Issue. The Post proposes to publish daily a section of the force bill, and every democratic paper in the south should do likewise. Tariff reform and the free coinage of silver sink into insignificance when compared with this question. Few people have read this bill in its entirety who have not risen to a personal with surprise its democratic voters to the will of the election satraps appointed by a republican judiciary.

It will bring ruin and destruction to ever southern interest and revive the horrors and the robberies of carpet-bagging. When the designs and means of this bill are understood in the south, there will be no democratic Judases to help the betrayal of our people.

On this one subject let every democratic orator make his best efforts. From the Atlantic to the Rio Grande, from the Ohio river to the gulf, let the provisions of this bill be discussed and repeated so that none can plead ignorance of the danger which threatens the people of this portion of our country.

This duty well done, this bill fully discussed, there will be no further trouble about any southern state voting for Mr. Cleveland. We will not only have a solid south, but a solid south, and when the votes are counted it will be found that with one voice, as one man, the southern people have risen up to defend themselves against this awful wrong, and to protect their liberties against this threatened assault and destruction.—Louisville Post.

The Testimonials
Published in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla are not extravagant, are not "written up," nor are they from disinterested parties. They are facts and prove that Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses absolute merit and is worthy the full confidence of the people.

The Rank and File Must Work.
Chairman Harrity is setting the democratic house in order for the campaign. He has undertaken a great work. No man in the country will have more need for the highest qualities of leadership. The masses must not rely on the men at the head of the party organizations to do all the work, but each voter must himself encourage the leaders and give every possible help in the struggle before his party. After all, campaigns like this are won not so much by what the officers may do, but how the privates may act, and the true strength of the democratic army is in the courage and devotion of the democratic voters. There is enough in this election to elicit the most earnest efforts of every citizen in these United States, and among the democrats let the plan be to so organize individual effort as to produce earnest work on the part of every individual voter, and when once the masses shall be thus moved, we will see a political revolution which will astonish the nation.

During the dog-day season, the drain of nervous and vital energy may be counteracted by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In purifying the blood, it acts as a superb corrective and tonic, and enables the system to defy malarial and other climatic influences.

Chicago women are right on top when it comes to business. Some of them are making plans to build an immense hotel for working women, and think 5,000 can find lodgings at the hotel during the time of the Fair at 30 cents a day. The use of the land has been contributed, and the other expenses are to be borne by issues of stock at $5 per share to women all over the country. Should there be any profits they will be shared by the stockholders.

Improvement, the Promise of Cure.

No array of words can give a dyspeptic one-half the hope that comes from the relief which always follows the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, and the promise of cure is never broken.

"Having suffered from dyspepsia for two or three years, I decided to try B. B. B. and after taking one bottle I found myself so much better I got another bottle and after taking that I had more need of medicine. Mrs. G. C. White, Taberg, N. Y."

Don't pay for daily bread and then groan with dyspepsia when a bottle of B. B. B. will give you relief. Repeated tests with uniform success prove that dyspepsia can

A WARM TIME.

The Primary is Over, the Nominees Named and all is Calm and Serene.—Our Next President.

The primary election is over and of course with it goes the excitement incident to such elections, and now the people in this congressional district can content themselves to the ordinary avocations of life, at least until the coming national and state election approach the voting day in November. Elections either state or national, more or less, disturb the business and social relations of the country for the time being. The primary election was a very warm one and had as much to do in irritating and disturbing the average voter as do our regular elections, but it is over, and the nominees are named and the standard bearers are known and now business will settle down to its usual serenity for two or three months. Many hard and harsh things are said by enthusiasts in the heat of campaign, but as soon as the smoke is cleared away all political differences are marked out and good will and friendly relation, again exist between neighbors and antagonists. There will be a lull for at least two months, but the great battle is yet to be fought. It will take place in November, and at that election, where 13,000,000 of free men will cast their votes for the electors of the various political parties, a man will be chosen to preside over the destinies of this nation who is a democrat and his name will be Grover Cleveland.

A Big Structure.

One day last week there were within a score of 1,000 men working in one way or another upon one of the big structures at the World's fair grounds. A thousand souls—equal to the population of many a town in Illinois and Iowa, to say nothing of other states, that has its two or three weekly papers and per chance its daily, and that considers itself something of a star in the firmament of municipalities that go to make up its commonwealth. A thousand souls! men of all nations, Hungarians and Poles, Germans and French, Swiss and Austrians, English and native Americans—a polyglot collection that would rival the pay roll of the tower of Babel if they all with one accord commenced to speak in their native tongues.

And this manufacturing building is going to be a wonder. Nothing approaching it has ever been attempted before and the men who designed it and the contractors that are carrying out their designs venture the prediction that nothing surpassing it will ever be attempted in the future. All the towers, all the amphitheaters, all the other novelties that have from time to time—been projected as special attractions, on the side, to the one great event of next year, are dwarfed into insignificance by this monster triumph of architectural skill.

All the buildings proper of the Centennial exposition could be put inside of it, and yet there would be room and to spare, for its roof covers nearly thirty-one tion of one of the two great parties, for nearly a third of a million people could be seated within its four walls; but even if it remained standing after the Columbian exposition is a thing of the past it could hardly be utilized for any such patriotic purpose until the country has produced a race of orators with voices equal to a hundred Atlantic steamship fog-horns.

Dry statistics will afford no conception of the vastness of this great shell, for that is about all it is at the present time, but it may be told that when it is finished there will be within it and without it more than seventeen million feet of lumber and nearly that number of pounds of steel, that the steel arches average half a million pounds in weight, and that from the floor to the center span of the roof there is a distance of two hundred and fifty feet.

And yet, wonderful to relate, and affording a striking illustration of the universal interest manifested in the enterprise, every foot of space in the building that has been reserved or allotted for exhibits has already been pre-empted, and divided around among the nations of the earth.—Exchange.

It is what Hood's Sarsaparilla actually does that tells the story of its merit and has given it the largest sale of any medicine.

The highest viaduct in the world has just been erected in Bolivia, over the River Lea, 9833 feet above the sea level, and 4005 feet above the river.

At Hardin and Dexter.

We made a flying trip to Hardin and Dexter Saturday.

At Hardin we met a large crowd of the best people that live in the country surrounding attending the barbecue that was in session at that place. There was no speaking at Hardin, but the place was visited by several candidates for circuit judge and one for commonwealth's attorney.

Henry Burnett and Charley Thomas were there mixing among the people asking their support for circuit judge, while Oscar Kahn was playing the fiddle for the boys and girls to dance. The crowd was sober and peaceable and everybody seemed to have a good time and spend the day pleasantly.

At Dexter Dr. Wesson and W.

M. Reed addressed the large crowd in the church on the politics of the day. The doctor spoke one and one-half hours, while

Reed spoke less than one hour.

The speech of the doctor was made out of the same old cloth of complaints of which all of their speeches are made, kicking against the democratic party and devoting his time to faultfinding without showing or giving any remedy for any of them, and of course he never stopped until he had accused the democratic of keeping up and fostering national banks, after which Mr. Reed came to the stand amid a round of applause, and in less time than it takes to write this report, he knocked the weak props from under the doctor's argument and down came his platform with a thud upon the floor. Mr. Wesson insists that the democrats favor national banks, because their platform is silent on them and for the same reason Mr. Reed says the third party is in favor of the infamous force bill because it is not mentioned in their platform.

And it was on this line that Mr.

Reed went on to show that the doctor's party was worse than the republican party. The speaking passed off, everybody in a good humor with a nice little victory for the time-honored principles of the democratic party.

Mr. John Carpenter, of Goodland, Ind., says: "I tried Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, for diarrhoea and severe cramps and pains in the stomach and bowels with the best results.

In the worst cases I never had to give more than the third dose to effect a cure. In most cases one dose will do. Besides its other good qualities it is pleasant to take." 25 and 50 cent bottles for

THE SPEAKING.

Wesson and Reed Make Many Points, Which Were Well Received by All.

According to previous arrangements Dr. Wesson, of the Home Sentinel, and W. M. Reed of this place, met in joint debate at the court house in the presence of a large and enthusiastic crowd of the voters of the county.

At 1:20 p. m. the doctor took the stand and spoke for one hour and thirty minutes in his way of attacking the democratic platform.

The platform was attacked by the genial doctor in a way that led the people to understand that he was more familiar with the private diseases of the country than the political ills of which he complained.

He made a much better speech than he usually makes, because he had one of the best opportunities of his life. He had the pleasure of meeting one of Marshall county's most intelligent audiences, with the editor of the Tribune at his back to protect him against any danger of the democrats of Marshall county. He felt free and safe from all harm, so there was nothing to prevent him from making plain his wonderful political doctrine. He dwelt at length upon the dangers of national banks, but offered no remedy, or even suggested something better.

He spoke of monopolies of all kinds and warned the people against them, but offered no remedy or any way to get rid of them.

He denounced the republicans because they did not take all the money of the people at one time.

His complaints were numerous and his demands many, but his remedies were non est. If he cannot do a more effectual work for his party than to attack the democratic platform he would do well to work on the ice of the Arctic waters. His speech was ordinarily received by his hearers, but with no enthusiasm.

After his time was out Hon. W.
M. Reed came upon the stand to defend the attack of Mr. Wesson upon the platform of the democratic platform. When he arose before the house, rounds of applause greeted him, and to say that the democratic party was ably represented in the person of Mr. Reed, but half tells the tale.

Mr. Reed has not been in the political field as a speaker heretofore but he is in it now, and we think we are not mistaken when we say that he is a giant speaker and is to-day one of the ablest defenders of the great principles of the democratic party in this end of the state.

His familiarity with the history of all the political parties from 1826 to 1892 was surprising to his many hearers. After answering and demolishing the arguments of Mr. Wesson against the democratic party, he turned his attention to the platform of the third party and took it up and so criticised it that some of the third party men were heard to say his speech had not been beaten here this year by any of the speakers. We have not the time or space to give a full report of the speeches, but we can say that the joint discussion was one of the most friendly, and that both speakers treated each of them took a mint-julip. After this form had been gone through and repeated a few times, the business of the club was declared to be in a very prosperous condition and closed, and those who were able to do so adjourned.

Monday morning bright and early the club was ready to start.
The only trouble was they had no way to go—no horses, no wagons, no nothing. The ways and means committee had failed from constitutional inability to have the matter attended to, and this was the situation. What to do was the question. The question was one that could not be answered, for not a horse, wagon or anything else of the kind could be obtained for love or money. All were non-plused or at the end of their rope so to speak, when "Lookout" man or Steward Noble proclaimed that

on his place could be found an idle yoke of cattle and hay wagon.
"Just the thing!" exclaimed half a dozen. "Fill the frame with hay for we will need it for bunks." The wagon came and the outfit was loaded on the hay and all were ready to start, when another difficulty was discovered that neither Dr. Finley or Bill English could get upon the load on account of their ponderosity. Everything and every way was proposed; every mode of climbing was tried that had been in existence or that had been in use from the time of our forefathers, the apes, down to the present time, but they couldn't get up. Eventually with the aid of a ladder they were loaded.

The only trouble we experienced on the way to the pond was trying to keep English and Finley from tumbling off, as it is a known fact that these gentlemen are as active as a sack of meal. After unloading them and the rest of the plunder, some went to catch minnows, some to putting the tent in order, and before a great while they were all out in the boats fishing. John Lander caught the first fish, John Lander caught the second fish, and by the beard of Mohamet John Lander caught all the fish that was caught that evening amounting to two dozen or more, except one little dirty, nasty perfectly black one that Dr. Finley caught. The like of it was never seen before by any member of the club. No one would touch it, and the doctor was afraid of it and could not get it off his hook until some one suggested it was a black republican. Then the doctor smiled a smile, took it off his hook, put it in his pocket, took it to camp skinned it, cooked it himself, as no one else would, ate it and now has the skin stuffed and at his office for all to see labeled, "The only republican fish ever caught out of Clear Pond." After supper night came and the time was pleasantly spent in telling fish yarns, hunting stories and hair-breadth escapades and other lies, until the "we sma' hours" of morning, when the whole camp was thrown into terror by a terrible, horrid unearthly noise down near the edge of the lake by the boats.

The boys were dumfounded and looked at each other as to ask what it was and what to do; some magnificent fishing it was. Dr.

Finley and Will Freeman took the lead. They caught 35 fine fish in one hour. We all caught fish; the water seemed to be alive with them. From that time on we had plenty of fish. Having accumulated so many of the funny tribe we could not use them, we sent the wagons to Calvert City after the families of the members of the club. They came and brought with them baskets of provisions and spread the finest dinner ever eaten on the banks of Clear Pond.

In the afternoon the ladies went on the lake and spent a pleasant evening fishing, and are now loud in their praise of the Calvert City Hunting and Fishing club.

John Lander is the best posted on fishology that ever caught a rock bass.

Dr. Finley can write a prescription that just suits the boys.

Bill English has patience, but is not always rewarded.

Capt Ann Holland was on hand with his riot lines.

English, Finley and Holland are heavy weights; it takes a cause to hold each one.

and repeated a few times, the busi-
able to do so adjourned.

early the club was ready to start.
The only trouble was they had no
way to go—no horses, no wagons,
no nothing. The ways and means

that could not be answered, for

for love or money. All were non-
so to speak, when "Lookout" man

idle yoke of cattle and hay wagon.
"Just the thing!" exclaimed half a

difficulty was discovered that
neither Dr. Finley or Bill English

While the editor was wondering the other day where he could buy some good fruit, she sent him some of the finest peaches we have seen this year, from her orchard, which is filled with the choicest fruit in this county. Think of it! large, ripe, juicy peaches. If all ladies could anticipate the want of poor editors like Mrs Barry their lives would be much happier especially during the peach season.
Many thanks to Mrs Barry.

PARIS, TENN, May 9, 1888.
I was cured almost instantly of a very severe attack of Cramp Colic with a dose of Wear's Rheumatic Liniment. It is certainly an excellent preparation and I do heartily recommend it.

Mrs. MARGA WILLIAMS.
A very enthusiastic revival has been in progress at Birmingham for ten days in which great good is being accomplished. The preaching has been done Rev Joe Miller and A J Bennett, formerly of the Tribune staff. So far there have been 15 conversions, and many more are expected. This meeting is of the sanctification tendency, and many of the citizens of the town are professing it and taking it for their guide and monitor in life. The meeting will likely continue for some time yet and we hope with increase good results.

MURRAY, KY, Feb 11, 1888.
Having been familiar for a number of years with Wear's Rheumatic Liniment and knowing what it is composed of, I have no hesitancy in recommending it as a valuable remedy for internal and external use in the diseases for which it is recommended. M. H. EAKER, M. D.

The commissioners, J A Clark, W M Foust and John Stringer appointed by Judge Dupriest to lay the county off into new magisterial districts according to the new law, met Friday and Monday and completed their work, making five districts in the county; two on this side and three on the other side of Clark's river. They did the work with an eye single to the convenience of the people the territory and population which we think will give nearly entire satisfaction to everybody. Five districts are enough for this county and will have a tendency to better officers and more business in such counties. It now remains for the county judge to say how many voting precincts will be in the county and where the voting places shall be. He is now at work at that business and we hope by our next issue to be able to give all the information needed.

GENTS:—My youngest boy has had a severe and deep-seated cough for the past two or three winters, so much so that we became alarmed at his condition, and never found any thing to give relief till I ordered one bottle of your medicine. He has only used about one-half the one bottle, and is entirely free from cough. I at once got S. H. Winstead, druggist, corner Poplar and Washington streets, Paducah, to order a lot of your medicine so as to have it convenient when wanted, and to benefit the suffering of this community. Yours respectfully, W. W. HINKLE.

Referring to the above, I would say that I also ordered one bottle of your medicine a year since, which cured my wife of a severe cough.
She did not use a whole bottle.

It is a bad thing to let ourselves drift into the ruts of life. All agree that to brighten the lives of others constitutes our greatest happiness, but we sadly fear our model wives and mothers frequently misconstrue this excellent motto and eventually fall into the erroneous idea that brightening stew pans and generally upholding a pink standard of household perfection is the only way to insure the comfort of their loved ones. Far be it from us to cry down such praiseworthy notions, but we would advise a happy medium. So many women mar the harmony of their homes and families by devoting all their time and energies to this end.

Do not sacrifice to household discipline the secret companionship of husband and children, and above all, avoid becoming synonymous with brooms, mops and dusting pans. In your great ambition to preserve an immaculate regime from garret to cellar, be careful to brush away those mental cobwebs which accumulate from time to time and are apt to entangle the rest of your faculties.—Womankind

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. (15-231) W. A. NOYES, 820 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y.

"After a half dozen attempts to quit smoking," said a gentleman yesterday, "I finally succeeded by aid of chewing gum. Every time I have sworn off previously the temptation has been greater than I could stand, but on the advice of a friend I began chewing gum every time I felt a special longing for a cigarette. The argument advanced was that a man smokes because of a nervous, irritable feeling which makes him anxious to do something to distract his thoughts in addition to his regular work. Acting on this idea, and following up the treatment closely, I found I could do without tobacco entirely, and in a few weeks I had overcome the craving. It might of course be argued that the remedy is worse than the disease, but I never acquired any taste for chewing gum, and was only too glad to drop it as soon as I considered myself cured."

SPECIMEN CASES.

(S. H. Clifford, New Cassel Wis.) was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his kidneys were affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him. Edward Shepard, Harrisburg, Ill. had a running sore on his leg of eight years standing. Used three bottles of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Seeker, Catawba, Ohio, had five large Fever sores on his leg, doctors said they were incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by J. R. Lemon.

There is a woman in Key West, Fla., not yet forty years old, who is a great-grandmother, said C. W. Smith, at the Laeade. "She is a Cuban, and her name is Cortessio. When four teen years old this daughter gave birth to a daughter, and the latter has discontinued the performance of her ancestors by becoming the mother of a lusty son at the tender age of twelve. The Microphone as a Detective.

The old saying that "Walls have ears" is about to be illustrated in a fin de siecle manner in Russia. A Germany socialist organ complains bitterly of the uncompromising methods adopted by the various governments for securing evidence of the secret proceedings of socialistic bodies, and is especially indignant that a large number of microphones, that have been ordered from an electrical firm in Berlin by the government authorities in St. Petersburg, are intended to be fixed in the walls of cells in prisons, so that anything spoken by the prisoner in any part of the room can be either heard by the officers of the prison or automatically recorded.

Dr. Hale's Household Cough Cure

While the Farmers Home Journal does not hesitate to question and even condemn the methods by which the striking workmen at the Carnegie mills undertook to enforce their demands, it must by no means be expected to defend a tariff so high that both the capitalist and laborer quarrel over a division of the spoils. Incidental protection is all the consumers should be called upon to bear. We are for no such protection, as puts millions in the pockets of mill owners at the peoples expense, and for no such division of will give common workmen in mills five dollars a day, as the investigation discloses, while the poor, patient, plodding farm laborer—be he hired or owner—cannot earn more than an average of sixty or seventy five cents. Let the people study this question in the light of congressional legislation.—Journal.

Almost every day large quantities of Paints and Wall Paper are sold at Lemon's drug store. He has built up a very large business in such goods.
